A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

STORIES OF ANIMALS.

SOME OF THEM MAY BE TAKEN WITH A GRAIN OF SALT.

Chickens That Know a Thing or Two—Mocking Birds as Dancers—Ways of the Crocodile—Towed For Miles by a Shark.

Dr. Wilcox caught a shark not long ago in the gulf near Grove City, Fla., which gave him a very interesting and exciting fight before he captured it. The doctor is a great fisherman, and the abundance and great variety of the fish on this part of the coast give him all the amusement needed in that line. One great trouble he has to contend with in fishing in the pass on the gulf is the shark, as they take his best bait, and generally his hook and most of the line, says the Florida Times-Union.

Tiring of that trouble, he procured a shark hook and fifty fathoms of rope suitable for the business, and on Wednesday dropped anchor at his favorite ground just outside of Stump pass. He fastened one end of his rope to the mast, baited his hook with a couple of mullet and threw it over. Almost before the hook reached the bottom the rope began paying out rapidly. The doctor caught on to the rope, but his weight did not stop its headway at all, and when the rope was all out the boat—a twelve-foot skiff—began to drag the anchor.

As the fish was heading for the bay, the doctor hauled in the anchor, thinking the fish would go inside, where in shallow water he could more easily capture it. By the time, however, he had got the anchor in and cleared the deck for action the fish changed its course and started down the pass for the open sea. It kept in the pass still near the outer bar, when it crossed the reef where the water was only about five feet deep, and on which a heavy sea was rolling. The boat was going like a thing of life, and the doctor does not know whether the swells rolled over the boat or the boat dived under the swells, but he does know the boat filled and everything except the anchor was floating. He caught a bail bucket just as it was going overboard, and when the boat got into deep and smooth water he began the double duty of bailing and divesting himself of such raiment as would be a hindrance in a long swim.

He soon relieved the boat of most of the water, and the fish not showing any sign of changing its course, he began to take in the situation. In going over the reef he saw it was a very large shark, and, wanting just such a specimen, the doctor, who is a fine swimmer, and all-around athlete, determined he would stay in the race and trust to luck. The fish never changed its course or slackened its speed till it had gone about four miles in the gulf, when it began to show signs of weakening and commenced to circle around. The doctor then began to take in slack whenever he could, using the anchor as a windlass. After an hour of the hardest work he succeeded in getting the shark near enough to the boat to use his pistol on it. He unloaded a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson in its head, under the effects of which it gave up.

Looking over the boat he found his sheet ropes broken, the sail torn, blocks gone, together with one of his oars, and he four miles from shore, with the wind off the land and the tide running out. He had been jerked around till he was sore, bruised and tired, but his only chance was to work with one oar and tow that shark so as to hold his own till the tide turned which he did, reaching home just five hours after he had hooked the fish. It measured 11 feet 4 inches in length and 47 inches around the body. It was of the spotted or leopard variety, and a vicious-looking specimen. That species is said to be very dangerous and is rarely seen on this part of the coast.

He Fished With a Blacksnake.

Fairley Truthful, who you know, goes to church regularly and hasn't told a lie in thirty years, relates the following remarkable fishing adventures, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He was out shooting, and, while eating his lunch, he carelessly tossed a piece of bread into a small stream at his feet, when he was surprised to see a perfect swarm of trout fighting for the bread. Searching eagerly through all his pockets, he was greatly disappointed that he had nothing in the way of fishing tackle, as the trout was evidently hungry, and if only he had a hook and line, he could easily catch all he wanted.

While trying to evolve a plan for the capture of some of the trout, the gentleman noticed an immence black snake lying on a stump sunning itself, and immediately he recalled that his father had told him a good many years ago, how expert black snakes were in catching trout. After a little thought on the subject, Mr. Truthful determined to try it, and, picking his way cautiously to the stump, he grabbed the snake by the tail.

The black snake evidently didn't understand at first just what was wanted of him, and for some time after he had been soused into the water he continued to twist and squirm and tried to get away. But finally the snake spied a big trout peeping out from behind a stone, and, like a flash, the reptile darted out and seized the fish in its mouth. The instant the snake grabbed the fish Mr. T., who held the snake by the tail, pulled and landed his trout, the snake letting go as soon as it was hauled out on the bank.

The next time he stuck the snake into the water it seemed to understand better what was wanted and very soon grabbed another trout. By the time half a dozen trout had been taken the snake had entered into the sport in dead earnest and in the course of an hour Fairley had captured with his queer tackle over forty fine trout, and, not caring for more, he let the snake go, gathered up his fish and went home.

It was about a week later that Mr. Truthful passed by the spot where he had captured the trout and while he was standing on the bank looking at the speckled beauties as they darted through the clear water he felt something rubbing his leg. Looking down he was surprised to see his old friend the blacksnake. The snake had seen and recognized him, and, backing up to him, had stuck about a foot of its tail up against his leg as an invitation for him to go fishing again.

WAYS OF THE CROCODILE.

Peculiar in Its Methods of Capturing Man or Fish for Food.

There is little in the animal kingdom that can look so dead and be so much alive as a crocodile. The number of unsuspecting persons who have taken him for a log and have failed to discover their mistake until it was too late to be of any benefit to them will never be known, says the New York Mercury.

In ancient times, several years prior to the British occupation of Egypt, some of the people of that country worshipped the crocodile as a god, there being nothing else like him. They fed him on dainties and togged him out with jewelry. In other parts of Egypt, however, the natives looked upon him as a devil. Having no firearms, they did not fill him with lead, but they managed to immolate him successfully with such weapons as were fashionable at the time.

The crocodile is not so numerous in the Nile as he was in the days of the Rameses family; in fact, he rather shuns the river now below the second cataract on account of the annoyances inseparable from tourist traffic. It seems impossible for a tourist to see a crocodile without trying to plug him with a revolver, and to a reptile that is fond of a quiet life this sort of thing is simply insufferable. He will not molest a man unless he can take him at a disadvantage, and so long as a man does not unthinkingly step on him, the crocodile will go his way and calmly await his opportunity.

He feeds on fish, but for a course dinner he would rather have humanity, black preferred, which shows that there is no accounting for taste even among reptiles. His methods of capturing large game are plural as well as singular. Sometimes he will lie on a river bank, partly covered in sand, or mud, until an absentminded native wanders within reach. Having grabbed his prey he will waddle into the river and there drown the struggler. He will then drag his victim ashore and bury him in sand or mud and wait for days before he gorges himself.

Mocking Birds as Dancers.

The power of the mocking bird to amuse folk is not confined to its abilities as a rich-voiced singer. The more birds are studied the more the students wonder what they can do, says a writer in the Popular Science Monthly. Birds with some marked characteristics are sometimes neglected in other respects than their peculiarity, and so it happens that the mocking bird is better known as an imitation singer than as an original one, and that it was a dancer as much almost as a heron or crane few were aware.

The mocking birds dance methodically, like woodsmen in a square dance, rather than with the wild gyrations of a darky hoedown. They keep their bodies stiff, with head and tails erect, their wings drooping and feathers flattened out, something like the English sparrow when hopping about before its sweetheart; but the sparrow's feathers are thrown out usually instead of being flattened against the body.

Two of the mocking birds make a set, and they bound along, jumping rather high, but not far, going from one end of the playground to the other, one behind the other about a foot, and each one at the end of the playground turns in a circle slowly and with dignity and goes back again. Sometimes they stop and look at some distant object, day dreaming, apparently, then away they go again.

Mr. Blake tells about a hen that was disturbed by the actions of a pair of mocking birds in their dance, whereupon she left her brood of chickens and charged the couple with clucks and fluttering feathers. Up went the mocking birds with true mocking bird talk, scolding and spluttering at the hen until they fairly drove her away.

Chickens Know a Thing or Two.

Chickens are not generally supposed to possess any great amount of intelligence, but a Kensington man tells a story which seems to show that occasionally they are up to a trick or two. Next to his house there is a vacant lot covered with a rank growth of weeds. These weeds bloom periodically, bearing a yellow flower. At such times the lot is crowded with fowl which devour the blooms greedily. One afternoon a short time ago the Kensingtonian saw two chickens enter the lot, evidently looking for something to eat. There was nothing in sight save a solitary blossom, which had withstood the onslaught by reason of its height. After a few vain attempts to reach it by jumping, the birds desisted and appeared to hold a consultation. Then the first, leaping up, caught a leaf on a stalk and pulled it down, thus bringing the flower within reach of its comrade. The latter approached, ate what it considered a fair share, and then relieved No. 1, which immediately finished the remainder of the blossom.—Philadelphia Record.

Shakespeare's Law.

The writer of a recent book of legal anecdotes has unearthed some curious testimony as to William Shakespeare's knowledge of the English law of his time, says the New York Journal.

Lord Campbell, a former lord chief justice of England, in the year 1859 published a book entitled "Shakespeare's Legal Acquirements," in which he submitted three-and-twenty of the thirty-seven plays to a somewhat close examination, and deduced therefrom a large number of examples illustrative of legal knowledge or acquaintance with technical terms on the part of the author. Abounding as are these law phrases, points and metaphors, the marvel is that they are always accurate and appropriately used. There is never a mistake. "While novelists and dramatists," says Campbell, "are constantly making mistakes as to the law of marriage, of wills and of inharitance, to Shakespeare's law, lavishly as he propounds it, there can be no demurrer, no bill of exception, no writ of error."

Results of an Experiment.

Experiments with plants tend to show that in clear weather the evaporation by night as compared to that which takes place in the day appears to be in the ratio of one to five.

Mr. E. W. HAZLETT, Reeve of Chatham Township, Kent County, Ont., says: "My daughter has been very weakly for some years; she was very pale and always felt tired; she was prevailed upon by a friend, to try a box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. I must say it was a good investment; she at once began to improve. The colour came to her cheeks, she got stronger rapidly, and now is quite well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill druggist.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD
Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

EAST RIDING ANNUAL SUCCESS.

other, even though it entails more expense and trouble to cover the distance and put up their exhibit. Mr. Conway, the manager of the Peterborough store, and his staff are hard workers, and are reaping the reward which their push and perseverance deserve. Their trade from this section has grown rapidly, and their customers in Norwood, Havelock, Belmont, Methuen and Dummer are repaying them for the pains they have taken to introduce their clothing in this thickly populated eastern portion of the county. This year they have been represented at all the fairs in every section of the county, and their tireless efforts to push their goods has been felt and appreciated by the thousands of friends who have helped to extend their business. Such success has no doubt been due as well to the confidence which the buying public have in the reliable quality of their clothing. At all events the four thousand who saw their fine display of clothing at this Fair could not be otherwise than favourably impressed with the character of their stock and the moderation of their prices. The leading styles for men, young men and boys' wear, suitable for autumn and winter wear, showed up in their exhibit. Overcoats and ulsters in honest looking fabrics, well lined and carefully put together; suits in sacks, cutaways and frocks, well-finished and tailor-made; and boys' and children's clothing, reefers, ulsters and two and three-piece suits were effectively displayed. The firm secured, as usual, a prominent position on the grounds near the main building, and their tent was profusely decorated with flags, banners, &c., which enlivened the artistic display. Throughout the show grounds the name of Grafton & Co. was everywhere to be seen. Fences, buildings, judges' stand, highways and bye-ways all told of Grafton & Co.'s clothing.

HOWARD'S HASTINGS HARNESS.

By far the best display of harness at the fair was made by Mr. Thomas Howard, the live harness maker of Hastings. Every year Mr. Howard's harness "takes the cake," and he certainly deserves every advantage he is entitled to. It seems a little strange that the Norwood harness shops are so shy of competing with Mr. Howard, but all the same, his harness is hard to beat. The superior quality of leather used, and the excellent workmanship put on his manufactures, entiles them to rank favourably with farmers and horsemen. As usual he was awarded a number of red tickets.

THE WIDE AWAKE GOUGH BROS.

The magnetism of a name is irresistible. The dauntless Gough Bros. never sleep on their oars. The same far-sighted policy which has made this firm's business grow bigger and bigger, year after year, is the same policy still. They plan months ahead of time, and with every new season, at every township and county fair, the planning is on the same scale of progression. Nothing seems impossible with these Provincial levellers of high-priced clothing—the wide-awake Goughs.

The firm made their attractive display of clothing in a tent close to the official headquarters. Farmers especially showed by their interest in Goughs' clothing that they were quite as much concerned in good warm clothing as they were in Jersey cattle or the breed of horses. It put hope and courage in a man to look and learn from the low price tickets how comfortably and respectably he could be dressed for a little money. Whatever there may be in the present low prices for grain and roots to depress the farmer, it was a lesson of encouragement to all to run their eyes over the "rock-bottom" figures marked on Goughs' new fall and winter suits and overcoats displayed at this fair. Strong, heavy, wool trousers, which looked as if made out of frost proof material, were marked at the extraordinary low price of 98c. The mystery was how they were ever sewed for the money. It must have convinced the most thrifty housewife that she was wasting her strength trying to save a shilling by making up the old man's or boy's clothing at home. Suits were shown marked at a price which seemed to be about the cost of the raw material at the mill, the trimmings and making evidently being thrown in. The immense amount of money which workingmen, farmers and business men have saved since Gough Bros. years ago broke the high-priced combination on clothing has proved that people can save if they only get a chance. One of the best judges on the ground, speaking to the enthusiastic young man in charge of Gough's exhibit, remarked that farmers ought to be able to save money in buying clothes at Gough's this winter. "Money to be saved at Gough's!" said Gough's loyal man, "why, that's stale news—everybody ought to know that by this time; and if anybody hasn't caught on yet it must be because these fellows may be able to earn money but don't know how to save it!" This display of clothing was effectively arranged by Mr. Wm. Tyrrell, one of the salesmen in their mammoth Peterborough store, assisted by Mr. Bert Lee, and the knack they had of showing off clothing to the best advantage, under a tent, entitled them to diplomas.

TURNER & SONS' TENTS.

The best claim that a manufacturer can have for his goods is the constant general demand of the public for them. In this respect the splendid large marquee tents manufactured by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, of Peterborough, seem to take the palm. All over Canada Turner's tents are known and owned by thousands, who have written their personal satisfaction with them. Some of the largest exhibits at this fair were shown under Turner's make of tents. The fine large roomy and cosy tent erected by the English Church people for a refreshment booth and dining room which did such a rushing business all day was one of Turner & Sons square wall tents and gave every satisfaction and convenience for serving a large number of meals at once, just like a portable canvas house. Gough Bros. big clothing exhibit was also shown in one of Turner's tents—the fine high open front, allowing every chance for displaying the exhibit to advantage. Others preferred this firm's tents to any other way of showing their exhibits, combining as they did, convenient facilities and at the same time safe protection from inclement weather. Turner & Sons have issued a new illustrated catalogue of their tents, camping goods, folding cots, waterproof horse covers and clothing camping outfits, camping stoves, etc., which they will mail free to anyone asking for one.

NOTES.

The dust on the grounds was a great interference to enjoyment, but it was much better than mud.

The western limit of the race course has been provided with a new railing, an admirable improvement. But in respect of race tracks generally it is desirable as far as possible to exclude the public from access to the track. Accident would thereby be prevented.

The Norwood brass band presented good music during the day and the ladies of St. John's church, Norwood, had a dining tent on the grounds, and it is a pleasure to say that it received a liberal patronage.

There was an absence of what is known as "skin" games on the grounds, though there was no dearth of commercial enterprises of various kinds.

Turner's tents were conspicuous monuments of the enterprise of the firm.

Eighty-five visitors went down by C. P. R. to Norwood yesterday. The special was a great accommodation to the public, and Station Agent Bamford is to be heartily thanked for his good offices in this connection.

STABBED HIS COMPANION.

An Affray at the Falls in Which the Late Jack Dempsey's Cousin Suffered —Italian Killed - Other Notes.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—A stabbing affray occurred at Niagara Falls South early last evening between two strangers named Frank Dempsey and Bob Casey. The two men are of rough character, and appearance, and had been engaged for a short time as pickers by Dave DeFew, who is shipping large quantities of apples to England. At the time of the trouble they were wandering around the street looking for cheap drinks, and began quarreling over some money matters. Words led to blows, and Casey drew out a large jackknife and stabbed his companion in the side, making a deep but not fatal wound. Dempsey was taken to an hotel and put under the doctor's care. Casey walked about town some time after he committed the cowardly deed, but no attempt was made to arrest him until he had gone across the border. He has not yet been captured. Dempsey is a lineman, whose home is in Hamilton. He is a cousin of Jack Dempsey, the pugilist.

The Hockey Club will be organized on Friday evening in the Council chambers.

A large flock of wild ducks flew into the river gorge just below the cataract early this morning. About 50 of them have been shot on both sides of the river.

The local police received word to-day that George Smith, the boy who is serving a sentence for stealing a bicycle here, is wanted in Goderich for a similar offence.

An Italian laborer at work on the construction of the new steel arch railway bridge was killed this afternoon. The man was in the employ of the Bridge Company, and was working under the immense false work which is under construction, when a block fell from the top and crushed him beneath its weight. He was picked up and sent on a flat car to the hospital, but died on the way. The man's name is unknown. He went by "No. 68."

Albert H. Barton, the man who committed suicide off Prospect Point on Monday, is not known to the police of Oil City, whence he is supposed to have come.

The management of the American Express Company's office here changes to-day. Mr. Alex. Wills, for some time past chief agent, has resigned, and Mr. John Green of the Toronto office has been placed in charge. Mr. Green was formerly assistant agent here.

The frame dwelling owned and occupied by Tayfield Ellit, a laboring man, at Niagara Falls South, was totally destroyed, with a large portion of the contents, by fire, at an early hour this morning. The origin of the fire is not known. Loss, about $500; no insurance.

The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association have not been idle since they have been in town. Last night the session lasted until 1 o'clock, and another was called early this morning. The afternoon session commenced at 3 o'clock. Business will probably be completed to-morrow morning, and the balance of the day spent in sightseeing.

A New Plant That Cures Asthma.

Medical science at last reports a positive cure for asthma in the wonderful Kola plant, a new botanical discovery found on the Congo River, West Africa. Its cures are really marvelous. Rev. J. L. Combs of Martinsburg, W. Va., writes that it cured him of asthma of fifty years' standing, and Hon. L.G. Clute of Greely, Iowa, testifies that for three years he had to sleep propped up in a chair, being unable to lie down night or day. The Kola plant cured him at once. To make the matter sure, these and hundreds of other cures are sworn to before a notary public. So great is their faith in its wonderful curative powers, the Kola Importing Company of 1164 Broadway, New York, to make it known, is sending out large cases of the Kola compound free to all sufferers from asthma. All they ask in return is that when cured yourself you will tell your neighbors about it. Send your name and address on a postal card, and they will send you a large case by mail free. It costs you nothing, and you should surely try it.

Why He Is Called "The Devil."

This is the origin of the naming of a printer's apprentice as "devil:" Aldus Manutius, a printer in Venice for the holy church and the doge, employed a negro boy to help him in his office. The boy was believed to be an imp of satan and went by the name of the "printer's devil." In order to protect him from persecution and confute a foolish superstition, Manutius made a public exhibition of the boy and announced that anyone who doubted him to be flesh and blood might come forward and pinch him to make sure. The mistaken impression was removed; but before this time the name "printer's devil" had been attached to the boy, and was thenceforth applied generally to the boyish assistants in a printing office.

LINING UP

AFTER THE FAIRS.

Our Prize Clothing.

Our Clothing has had the call at all the Fairs. It was nothing new to find the Directors decorating our display with the Red Prize Tickets. It would have been a surprise if we didn't capture First Prize—not because competition was weak, but because the Clothing could not be bettered in Canada. The reputation of the big store was at stake, and we're more than proud to have deserved the good opinion of the directors as well as the thousands of men folk at the Fairs.

Now we're lining up for a rattling big fall business. We've had a good start already, but the price cards are becoming a more interesting study every day, and the figures startling enough to bring us the trade of the masses.

There's Wisdom In Economy

And there are different sorts of economy. The economy which "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bung" is worse than no economy at all. The truest saving is to buy the best your pocket-book will afford at the lowest price for which it can be sold. We buy the best of everything. We sell in such a close margin of profit that our customers feel confident that bottom has been struck. Hence the active, progressive look of things which some people wonder at. It's very simple this honest shop-keeping, when you know how and the trading public will always p'n their faith to an establishment of this kind.

THE HOSIERY SECTION

Is at the height of its usefulness. Note the busy throng of busy buyers, as they come and go. Want to make a hosiery customer of you. We keep the honest wearable sorts you know.

JACKETS AND CAPES.

A room full of them, and a room full of customers, admiring and buying them. You don't need a pocketful of money to be properly Jacketed and Caped here. Your interests are ours and we're here to please you in every way.

CARPETS ARE GOING TO BE HIGHER.

Wool is higher, labour costs more. We tell you this so you can save by buying now. We will have to make the advance when the time comes So will everybody else, whether they say so or no. You can save a dozen dollars or more by not delaying in buying that Carpet now of us.

Doing

AS WE PROMISE.

Good advertising does not encourage prevarication in prices. Quibbling or deviating from the plain path of truth and fair dealing, is an abuse which brings its own retribution.

PRICES without anything behind them, have very little meaning. But when they are fixed with care, are not misleading, and really represent something, they bring good buyers.

Dress Novelties.

So many of the pretty things have been picked up up in such a hurry that we've had to repeat orders—and to-day new lots are opened up in some of the best novelties.

Very Stylish Dress Effects, only 50c a yd.

Fancy Mohair Boucles, black and coloured, combinations, splendid range of styles, 75c yard.

Fancy Crepon Effects, most stylish goods in town, only 85c yard.

Ladies' Cloths, all shades, 50c, 85c, $1, $1.25 yard.

High Crown Hats.

We have passed into stock a lot of New Walking, Sailor and Dress Hats, in Felts and Camel's Hair—the very latest ideas in High Crown Hats. Prices are going down instead of up.

When people want to pay extravagant prices for their Millinery, there will be no need for our store. But the dawn of that day is yet in the future. This store is the saver of the incomes of all—rich and poor.

A LIBERAL POLICY

Will be Observed Regarding Mining Machinery.

MUCH OF IT IS NOW DUTY FREE

Railway People Slow in Making Their Returns—The B. C. Salmon Pack—Messrs. Mulock and Fisher Looking Into Charges of Offensive Partisanship—Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—A serious misapprehension appears to have arisen in the minds of manufacturers of mining machinery in England that they cannot find a market for their product in this country, owing to the high rates of duty. Under the Canadian law, until July 14 next, mining machinery of a class or kind not manufactured in Canada is admitted duty free. A question may arise as to the interpretation of this item, but every case is dealt with on its merits, and it has been the custom of the department to adopt a liberal policy.

According to advices received at the Department of Railways and Canals the machinery of the Soo lock is working like a charm. The new lock on the American side is at work again after being closed several days for repairs to the operating machinery. Ever since the opening of that lock in August the machinery has worked very unsatisfactorily. As a consequence, many vessel owners have greatly criticized this feature of the new lock and they state that they can get in and out of the Canadian canal in half the time that it takes them to get through the American one. All of which is a tribute to the Canadian engineers who designed and contractors who built the lock on the Canadian side.

According to a report received at the Fisheries Department, Inspector McNab, in charge of the British Columbia fisheries, estimates the total salmon pack in the province this year at over 600,000 cases, of which 249,850 cases were put up on northern rivers, Skeena, Naas, etc., and the balance on the Fraser River. The inspector confesses that he was very much surprised at the big catch this year, owing to its being an historical off-year. There has, it is true, been a decline in the Fraser catch since 1893, but nothing like the sliding scale of previous off-years. The total pack for four years previous to 1893 was 76,000 cases, and four years previous to that 69,000. The great improvement is undoubtedly due to the Government hatchery. There are now thirty-five canneries on the Fraser and twenty up north, a total of fifty-five. Mr. McNab says not so many sturgeon are caught now as three years ago, but the present season was far better than last. The sturgeon industry only commenced three years ago, and, as there were no restrictions, an American company were having things all their own way in New Westminster and would have fished out the river if they had not been prevented.

Minister Fisher, it is said, is now after the scalps of some of his officers. Among others, he has recommended that the services of Dr. Duncan, quarantine officer at Williams' Head, Victoria, B. C., be dispensed with. Dr. Duncan is accused of having permitted, during the late general election, a suspect with his guardian to leave the hospital, where the suspect had been recovering from smallpox, to go to vote for the Conservative candidates in the city of Victoria and of otherwise taking part in the contest on behalf of the late Government. Dr. Duncan was also Health Officer for the city of Victoria. His conduct at the time of the election formed the basis of a discussion at the city council, but he managed to retain that office by a narrow vote. Later on he resigned in favor of his brother.

There was considerable comment to-day over the action of the C. P. R. in dismissing from its service one of its despatchers here. The telegrapher dismissed is Mr. T. Brown, who has been a servant of the company for upwards of ten years. There was a little trouble between himself and the company prior to the recent strike. When the strike was ordered Mr. Brown went out with the other men. Since the settlement of the strike trouble he has resumed his duties here. The old sore has been reopened and Mr. Brown received his blue envelope.

Although the annual return by the railway companies of the Dominion, giving particulars of the traffic over their lines, including both freight and passengers, number of miles traveled, quantity of rolling stock, etc., is by law to reach the Department of Railways and Canals by Oct 1, less than one-fourth of the companies have so far complied with the statute. The result is that the compilation of the annual statistics of the department is delayed. It is stated that the department will resort to radical measures to enforce compliance with the statute.

It is currently reported that the stone which Mr. A. Stewart, one of the contractors for the Soulanges Canal, was prevented by Mr. Munro, the superintending engineer, from putting into the work, meets with the approval of Mr. Joseph Hobson, the well-known engineer, who was asked by the Minister to look into the matter. The contention was that the stone did not comply with the specifications.

It is reported that the Minister of Railways and Canals, before finally deciding about the stone for the Soulanges Canal, will ask Dr. Dawson, Director of the Geological Survey, to examine it.

The Postmaster-General is investigating a charge against Postmaster Farrow of Brussels, Ont., of offensive partisanship during the last general election. Mr. Farrow has not been dismissed, as stated by a Toronto newspaper.

"Doc" Johnson has been requested by the Postmaster-General to explain his conduct during the recent general elections. Mr. Johnson is mail clerk on the Erie & Huron Railway, and it is said that he was given three weeks' vacation at the time of the election, and that he spent this time working in the interests of the Conservative candidate in Kent.

Suit has been entered against the Canada Accident Insurance Company to recover a $5000 policy on the life of the late Peter McRae, who was drowned in Lake Deschenes last summer by the capsizing of a boat. The company object to pay the policy on the ground that deceased did not fulfil a clause in the agreement, by which it is provided that the insured shall not voluntarily endanger his life.

The Electric Railway Company is having a 200 horse-power locomotive constructed for the purpose of hauling lumber from Edwards' Mill at New Edinburgh to the Central Depot yards. The locomotive will run by electric power and will be used only at night, being run on the Sussex-street tracks.

Dr. A. E. James, veterinary surgeon of this city, has been appointed by the Department of Agriculture to inspect all sheep shipped from this district to the United States, in accordance with the United States regulations governing the importation of sheep and other animals.

A representative of a French Asphalt Company of Montreal, which laid the asphalt and mastique pavement on Parliament Hill last fall, was here to-day settling up the contract which he received from the late Government. Before any further pavement is laid there will be a published call for tenders.

Hon. A. G. Blair, who yesterday went to Montreal for the purpose of looking over the Lachine Canal, arrived in the Capital to-day.

There was a meeting between the Manitoba Ministers and some members of the Government to-day, but on account of the absence of the First Minister there will be nothing important done till to-morrow.

Hon. Dr. Borden intends going to his home in Nova Scotia shortly.

Sir Richard Cartwright returns to the city to-morrow.

Mr. Barron, ex-M.P., says he knows nothing about the rumor that he is to become Deputy Minister of Justice.

Mr. Tarte entertained the Manitoba delegates to dinner this evening. Besides Messrs. Cameron, Watson and McMillan, Messrs. Blair and Fielding were present.

Hon. Mr. Davies has rented a house on Metcalfe-street for the winter.

Hon. Wm. Paterson left for Toronto to-day.

Mr. A. Blue, Superintendent of the Bureau of Mines for Ontario, was in the city to-day.

By the death of Mr. Lewis Cartwright, the arrangement made by Sir Richard for his family taking up residence in Ottawa immediately will not be proceeded with, Lady Cartwright remaining in Kingston until next spring.

The Premier returned to the city to-night.

The assessment on the mains of the Ottawa Gas Company has been increased this year from $10,000 to $50,000. An appeal has been entered against this assessment.

Mrs. Lens Demands $40,000.

Constantinople, Oct. 15.—United States Minister Terrell has lodged with the Turkish Government a claim for $40,000 indemnity on behalf of Mrs. Lens, mother of Frank Lens, the Pittsburg bicyclist, who was murdered by Kurds while traveling through Asiatic Turkey in 1895.

British Steamer Ashore.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 15.—The British steamer Palestrina, Captain Harder, from Rotterdam, Oct. 3, via Sunderland, 5, for Baltimore, in ballast, ran ashore at Bay Bulls, ten miles from this city, at daylight this morning during a thick fog, and it is feared she will prove a total wreck. Her crew are safe. The Palestrina is a steel vessel of 2187 tons. She is owned by Jameson, Taylor & Co. of Sunderland.

SPAIN WILL GIVE UP

If She Cannot Subjugate Cuba by March 1.

WILL MAKE A DESPERATE EFFORT

And if Not Successful Will Let the Island Go—That is What a Spanish Officer of Rank Told a Newspaper Man—An Enormous Debt.

New York, Oct. 15.—A special to The Herald from Cadiz, Spain, says an officer of rank in the Spanish army has made the following statement: "If Spain has not put down the insurrection in Cuba by the first of next March, it is the intention of the Government to give up the struggle and let the island go."

This view of the situation outlines clearly the policy of the Spanish Government and tends to show that it is massing its troops in Cuba in the determination of making one desperate effort to crush completely the Cuban forces.

W. G. Foster, the manager of the Eastern Telegraphic Company here, speaking of the situation, said to me yesterday: "There is no question that the government is trying to use the Philippine troubles to distract the people's attention from Cuba. There is no doubt that Spain intends to do her utmost to crush the Cuban insurrection between now and March. Failing that, I am informed that she will give up the struggle.

"An important issue is the fact that Cuba has a debt of some $500,000,000, and that if Spain puts down the insurrection Cuba will have to pay that debt, whereas if Cuba wins the payment of the debt will fall on Spain, who contracted it on behalf of Cuba.

"Naturally, the planters who have been driven from their half-ruined plantations, however loyal they may appear to be to Spain, really want to see the Cubans succeed, as in that case they would not be taxed by Spain to pay the interest on the debt, and could then start again under more favorable auspices.

"Meanwhile, every one is talking about Cuba, and little is said of the Philippine Islands, although the latter comprise 115,000 square miles, as against 40,000 for Cuba. In point of population the Philippines have 5,630,000, as against a population of 2,276,000 for Cuba and Porto Rico combined. I am satisfied that Spain will either have won in Cuba by March 1 next or have given up the struggle."

SPANISH TROOPS WHIPPED.

Philippine Insurgents Routed Them—Unpleasant Sensation in Madrid.

Madrid, Oct. 15.—General Blanco, Captain-General of the Philippine Islands, reports the repulse by insurgents of 400 Spanish troops who had been sent to assist an outpost at Talisay. The troops lost 18 killed and 23 wounded. Two battalions afterwards rescued the outpost. The rebels occupying Talisay compelled General Blanco to alter the route of his own advance towards Lipa Catanges to stop the advance of the insurgents.

Offered All the Troops He Wanted.

London, Oct. 15.—The Standard's Madrid correspondent telegraphs that the Spanish Government will immediately prepare several fast steamers to convey several thousand troops to Manila. The Government has telegraphed to General Blanco, offering him all the forces he requires for the suppressing of the insurrection. The despatch adds that the news of the defeat of the Spanish forces has caused an unpleasant sensation in Madrid.

HARVEY WITHOUT BAIL.

The Ex-Treasurer of Guelph Will Stand His Trial in the Royal City on Oct. 31.

Guelph, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—This afternoon at 4 o'clock the court house was filled to its utmost capacity by ratepayers and others, all eager to get a glimpse at the defaulting treasurer Harvey, and to hear what he had to say when brought before the judge. The crowd was badly disappointed, as the prisoner was taken by way of the County Court Clerk's office and smuggled up to the judge's chambers, where he appeared before Judge Chadwick. Besides the prisoner and counsel, the reporters were present. After being questioned Harvey pleaded not guilty to all the charges and elected to be tried before the County Judge without jury, the trial to take place on Oct. 31, at 10.30 a.m. E. F. B. Johnston has the case in hand for the Attorney-General and A H Macdonald, Q. C., for the prisoner. Mr. George Edwards, accountant, Toronto, was present, but his services were not required. Charles L. Nelles, one of Harvey's bondsmen, was also present to encourage him. Some seven or eight charges will be tried, and if these are not sufficient to convict the crown authorities say others will be brought up. Harvey looks well, notwithstanding his incarceration, and when breathing the sweet air of freedom he familiarly greeted the reporters. The crowd in waiting vowed vengeance on the authorities for not having the proceedings conducted in the court room.

Mr. Macdonald applied for a reduction of bail, but was informed by Mr. Johnston that he had no authority from the Attorney-General to accept bail, and in the meantime Harvey will be an inmate of the jail.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

Adolphus Cohen Coles, Who is Alleged to Have Stolen Half a Million Dollars.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—Adolphus Cohen Coles, formerly a banker at 211 Canal-street, New York, and an alleged absconder, was arrested this afternoon in the Broad-street station of the Pennsylvania Railway. It is alleged that Coles got away with $500,000, which belonged to 135 Italian banking houses in New York and Pennsylvania, two years ago. Coles was committed to await the arrival of requisition papers from New York. He said the only thing he will have to defend is that he failed for $18,000. He denies that he embezzled $500,000.

An Immense Cargo

Duluth, Oct. 15.—The steamer Queen City has broken all grain-carrying records by taking 134,000 bushels of wheat and 42,000 bushels of rye, equivalent to 176,000 bushels of wheat. This big increase is made possible by the increase of water at the Sault Canal, allowing boats loaded up to 16 feet to pass. The new draught is cutting a big figure in lake commerce, as the average increase of carrying capacity is about 15 per cent.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"OLD SCRATCH" is a playful name for his Satanic Majesty, whom the political situation has brought to the fore in South Essex. The candidates in the bye-election are Auld-Scratch, Liberal and Conservative, respectively.

"The members of the City Retail Dealers' Association," the Globe suggests, "will never destroy departmental stores by excluding the press from their meetings. Publicity means life to agitation as well as to business." What do our city fathers think of their star chamber committee meetings in relation to this?

THE Germans have, it is rumoured, decided to exclude American canned beef from their country. The Germans must be a people of little faith, for it requires a very robust faith to swallow the meat and at the same time swallow the doubt as to whether the animal die from crowding in a cattle car, or fell by the butcher's knife.

SENATOR JONES of Chicago predicts that Bryan, the silver-tongued spouter, will be elected. He is to get 279 of the Electoral College votes, while McKinley with only 81 sure, is defeated, even if he gets all of the 86 doubtful votes. Senator Jones may have faith in his figures, but the difficulty will be in persuading the people to keep them up to the mark he has set.

REV. DR. LANGTRY is advocating a movement which will permit of the possibility of a poor man affording to die. He is agitating the organization of a society to lessen the expense of funerals. Custom is a very tyrant, and the demand that the funeral shall be of a certain standard of expensiveness and display, is a serious burden upon the survivors of many a poor person. Money is spent on costly caskets and incidental expenses of funeral parade, that is badly needed by the survivors.

GENERAL KITCHENER'S arrival with his staff in Cairo within three weeks of the occupation by his troops of the distant province of Dongola speaks volumes, the Montreal Witness says, for the completeness of his victory, the thorough organization and discipline of his expedition, and also for the confidence he has in the ability of the officers who served under him, and toward whom, it is said, he has not displayed great generosity in his despatches. Dongola is distant from Cairo about a thousand miles as the crow flies, and the rapidity with which his journey has been made shows that the transportation facilities must be very perfect.

MUCH fault is found with the Hymnal Committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly because it is having the new hymnals printed in England. This is done because the work is done more cheaply than it can be done in this country. The "kick" comes from Toronto, which is noted, under the playful title of "Hogtown," for a slight degree of selfishness. The cheaper the books the more can buy them. If our good Presbyterian brethren will use the new hymnals to "sing with the spirit and understanding also and give the difference in price to missions, the Hymnal Committee will feel justified in their course of having the books printed where they can be done the most cheaply.

THE Grand Trunk Railway Company is erecting at London, Ont., new car shops which, when completed, will be a credit to the enterprise of the company and a great benefit to the district. These shops will be thoroughly modern in every particular, no expense being spared to make them suited to the purpose intended, while the comfort and convenience of the men have been regarded in the internal arrangements. There will also be scrap shed, dry kiln, stores and offices—the whole representing a floor area of 165,000 superficial feet. The walls will be built of white brick, and the roofs covered with slate.

THE Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Mr. Fisher, is a hust'er, even if he is a "hayseed," as the irreverent yclep the farmer. Accompanied by Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner, he is busy interviewing the steamship men and exporters of dairy products in regard to the cold storage scheme he intends to put into operation next spring. He is asking the big steamer owners to co-operate with him by providing ample cold storage accommodation. Here is where it will be found advantageous to have a practical farmer as the Minister of Agriculture. He can decide as to the merits of the questions involved on his own personal knowledge. He is not like the lawyer ministers who served under the late Conservative Government, and who had not an inkling of practical knowledge of the great industry their department was intended to minister to.

THE FIRE UNDERWRITERS.

Close of the Association Meeting at Niagara Falls Officers Elected.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The business of the Fire Underwriters' Association was finished this afternoon, and most of the members have left town, although a few are remaining over sight-seeing. Yesterday the Electrical Committee were over the Q.V.N.F.P. & R. and Gorge routes. An expert has been hired by the association to inspect "sprinkled" risks, and all the companies will make this a specialty. All the special and scheduled rates have been revised, and the new tariff will be published immediately and placed in the hands of the agents. No change was made in the lumber rates, although the matter was under lengthy discussion. The president and vice-president were appointed a committee to prepare a letter of condolence for the friends of the association's late secretary, Robert McLean. The grand banquet to have been held last night was postponed. At this afternoon's meeting the subject of discontinuing the Hamilton Board was brought up, and it was felt inexpedient to make any change at the present. At the December meeting of the association a committee will report on rearranging the board and introducing the stamping system, which has been found to work so successfully in Toronto. The constitution was amended so that hereafter, instead of two branches meeting monthly in Toronto and Montreal respectively, the association will meet as a whole every two months, the meeting alternating between Toronto and Montreal. The subject of municipal appliances and the reclassification of a number of towns was laid over until the meeting in December at Montreal.

The following officers were elected: Mr. F. W. Evans (Aetna), Montreal, re-elected president; Mr. P. H. Sims (British America), Toronto, and Mr. E. A. Tilly (London Assurance), Montreal, re-elected vice-presidents; Mr. Alf. W. Hadrill, Montreal, secretary, and Mr. W. Robins, Toronto, assistant-secretary.

The experiment of holding the annual meeting outside of Toronto and Montreal was felt to be a decided success, and will be repeated for the future. The session and convention closed at 5 o'clock. A large number of the members will attend the funeral of the late Robert McLean to-morrow.

DISTRESS IN INDIA

The Drought Has Caused a Rise in the Price of Wheat Acute Famine Will be Averted.

Simla, Oct. 15.—At the Vice-Regal Council to-day the Minister of Agriculture stated that the local authorities of a large portion of India reported that distress was expected, as a result of the drought and the consequent rise in the price of wheat. But the Minister said the construction of Government works and the importation of wheat from California would prevent acute famine.

VATICAN FAVORS M'KINLEY.

But Does Not Approve of Archbishop Ireland's Letter on the Campaign.

London, Oct. 15.—The Daily News will to-morrow publish a despatch from Rome, saying that the Vatican, although favoring the candidacy of Mr. McKinley for the Presidency of the United States, does not approve of the recent letter of Archbishop Ireland, supporting Mr. McKinley, because it mixes religion and politics, which the Vatican thinks should best be kept separate in the United States. It is feared that the letter will displease eastern and southern Irish Catholics, who support Mr. Bryan. The despatch adds that instructions will perhaps be sent to Mgr. Martinelli, the Papal delegate, concerning the attitude of the Catholic clergy in the Presidential campaign.

A Young Composer Dead.

New York, Oct. 15.—Alfred S. Baker, organist and choirmaster of St. James' Church of this city, died at Princeton, N. J., on Tuesday. Mr. Baker was a musical composer of growing renown, and his anthems, church services and hymns are well known in musical circles. His latest work was an academic overture, written by request of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration of Princeton University. He was graduated at Princeton in the class of 1890.

Her Cargo Was for Canada.

London, Oct. 15.—The Norwegian barque Tamerlane, Captain Evensen, from Fleetwood, for St. John, N.B., with salt, which put into Queenstown in a leaking condition, has been docked for repairs.

A small upturned vessel floating level with the water and forming a dangerous obstruction to navigation is reported to have been sighted on Oct. 4, in lat. 42 N., long. 36 w.

HE AILED MANY YEARS.

Kidney Trouble of Some Kind—Lame Back and Weakness—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 12 (Special.—As stated by Mr. Wm. A. Stagg himself, the facts of his quite recent perfect recovery from weakness and ailments many years suffered are as follows:—To a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I owe my complete cure from weakness and lame back, which had clung to me for many years. As soon as I decided that the cause might be from derangement of the kidneys I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that only a few boxes were taken before I was as well as ever.

A Buffalo Bank Suspends.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Withdrawals from the Bank of Commerce of this city have been recently quite large and at a meeting of the Board of Directors it was deemed expedient to place the bank in the hands of the banking department for examination, which will be made at once. Pending this examination the directors have decided to suspend business. The directors expect that the bank may be able to resume in a short time.

OUR EXPORTS TO THE ANTIPODES.

A Great Deal of Grain and Flour Have Gone Out There This Year—Bicycles and Typewriters Going Now—Hawkesbury's Ambitions—A Bride's Presents Stolen.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—Your correspondent had an interesting conversation to-day with Capt. J. W. Lawrence of the Australian Line from Vancouver, who is proceeding to Newcastle-on-Tyne, where the company's new steamer, the Aorangi, is being refitted with new triple expansion engines and will be ready to take her place on the route between Sydney and Vancouver by the first of March. Mr. Lawrence states that the new steamer, which is 500 tons larger than the two now on the route, will give a four weeks' service between Canada and the Island Continent. He says that a great deal of grain and flour have gone out of Canada to Australia this year, and now hundreds of bicycles and typewriters are being exported. The Captain was born in Australia, and, this being his first visit to Canada, he is delighted with the New Dominion, and says that with a fast service on the Pacific, and, above all, a fast Atlantic line between Canada and Great Britain, this will become the great highway for passenger travel between Europe and the Antipodes.

There is a great deal of interest being developed just now in Hawkesbury over the question of the union of the Parry Sound and the Great Northern Railway systems. Yesterday Messrs. Scott and Chateauvert of the Great Northern directorate were at Hawkesbury and asked for a bonus from the municipality. It is proposed to build a bridge across the Ottawa from Grenville, on the Quebec side, to Hawkesbury, in Ontario, that is estimated to cost $360,000, and which will be one mile and over in length, including approaches. The council decided to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers, granting a bonus of $10,000 to assist the undertaking, and it is probable that the vote will be carried. Hawkesbury hopes, in fact, that when the railway is completed the town will become the seat of extensive flour mills and other enterprises, wherein the splendid water power of the Long Sault will be utilized. It is likewise said that when the Archdiocese of Ottawa is subdivided, as now proposed, the Counties of Prescott, Argenteuil, and Labelle will constitute a new diocese, and the Episcopal seat will be located at Hawkesbury, where a new church, to cost $30,000, is being erected.

In face of the above Sir Oliver Mowat's fellow-adviser declares that he did not know from what source the money had come.

Hon. Louis Beaubien, Commissioner of Agriculture, sues Placide Houle, merchant of St. Perpetue, Nicolet County, for $10,000 damages for having said than in the general provincial elections of 1892 he (Mr. Beaubien) had induced, for a monetary or other consideration, Mr. Monfette, ex-M.L.A., to retire in his (Mr. Beaubien's) favor, after having been nominated, which enabled Mr. Beaubien to secure an election by acclamation. Some sixty witnesses have been subpoenaed, and the hearing is coming off before Judge Bourgeois at Three Rivers to-morrow.

Yesterday while Mr. George Cains and Miss Cowan were being united in matrimony in the Erskine Church, robbers broke into the Cowan residence and carried off a great many valuables, including a good many articles that had been given to the bride.

ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

It is Only On a Small Scale and is Not Likely to Cause Serious Complications.

London, Oct. 15.—The marriage of David Wells, second secretary of the United States Embassy, to Miss Marietta Ord, daughter of a prominent London physician, was celebrated to-day at St. George's, Hanover-square.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, plain corset and bodice, with collar of pearls, embroidered on lisse, pointed back and front and edged with deep frill of Point de Flandres lace. The tulle veil was fixed to the hair by a diamond and sapphire sword pin. Two hundred guests and relations of both families were present, as well as the whole staff of the United States Embassy.

A reception was subsequently held at 37 Upper Brook-street, the rooms of which were draped with English and American flags. In the course of the afternoon the newly-married couple left for the south and will spend the honeymoon in England. The pair will sail for the United States in November.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

An Englishman Was Handcuffed by French Police, While Tynan Was Treated With Consideration.

London, Oct. 15.—The Daily News will to-morrow print a despatch from Boulogne-Sur-Mer contrasting the treatment of Tynan with that of a British subject who had fallen into the hands of the French police. The Englishman was conducted handcuffed to the Folkestone boat yesterday by officers, and expelled from the country on suspicion that he was an anarchist. He had been confined in prison for 96 days, but the authorities were unable to prove anything against him.

The Daily Mail will to-morrow print a despatch from Boulogne-Sur-Mer giving an interview had with Tynan. He indignantly disclaimed connection with any dynamite plot. He proposed to return to America, where he would resume his ordinary vocations. Although he expected to be released his actual liberation greatly elated him. While driving to a cafe he repeatedly cried: "Long live France," to which the bystanders replied by repeating the cry.

He Won't Talk

Boulogne-Sur-Mer, Oct. 15.—Tynan refuses to discuss his relations with his alleged fellow-conspirators Bell, now under arrest in London, and Kearney and Haines, who were arrested and subsequently released in Rotterdam. All he will say regarding them is that they had a mission to accomplish, and this they have done. After visiting Paris Tynan will go to Cherbourg, whence it is expected he will sail for New York on the Saale.

APPLES AND HOPS.

Michigan Has a Surfeit of the Former—Best Fruit at 35 Cents a Barrel—Hops Languishing.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Department of Agriculture reports that the average condition of apples has remained practically stationary during the month of September. The crop is represented as being heavy and of fine quality in the northern tier of States and prices extremely low. This is particularly the case in Michigan, where the markets are glutted. Fine packed fruit is selling in that State as low as 35c per barrel, and evaporating stock at 10c per 100 pounds.

The October returns received by the department relating to the yield per acre of hops shows an increase in the States of New York and Wisconsin and a heavy decrease in the Pacific States. The general remarks of correspondents show a languishing condition of the hop growing industry, particularly in the latter region.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA

Are Able to Work in Concert in Many Respects in Regard to Turkey and Armenia.

Glasgow, Oct. 15.—Right Hon. George N. Curzon, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, in his speech here last night said that England had no profound or permanent disagreement with Russia. "Our relations," he said, "are those of cordiality and friendship. As far as the Armenian and Turkish questions are concerned, we are able to work with her upon common lines in many respects."

A SCOUNDRELLY ATTACK.

The Brutal Treatment Administered to a Lady at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Thomas Powell of Rochester met with brutal treatment in this city last night. She arrived at the north end on a late train, and went to a near-by hotel, where she said her business was to find her husband, who came here to obtain employment some time ago. A man told her he would assist her in her search, and he conducted her about the streets for some time. Then he took her to an out-of-the-way place and assaulted her. She fought desperately and in the battle received serious wounds. She repeatedly called for help. Her cries were not heard, but they frightened away her assailant, and she dragged herself to a policeman and made a complaint. Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning Daniel McCarthy was arrested and taken to police headquarters and locked up.

Crop Conditions Favorable.

Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—The Price Current summarizes the crop conditions for the past week as follows: The week was a favorable one for the new wheat crop, the plant securing a splendid stand. The area has likely been increased. There has been no reason for lowering the estimate of the harvested crop below 450 million bushels. Corn husking and cribbing is progressing favorably, but drier weather is needed. The yield is not exceeding expectations.

NO STAY FOR BOYD.

Local Courts at Winnipeg Would Not Grant It—Effort to Call Off the Petition Against Dr. Roche.

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The local courts have refused Nat Boyd, M. P. for Macdonald, a stay of proceedings in the petition to unseat him. Mr. Boyd asked for a stay until he appealed to the Supreme Court at Ottawa on the preliminary objections.

The Conservatives have applied to the courts to quash the petition to unseat Dr. Roche, M. P. for Marquette. The application is based on the fact that the petitioner for the Liberals has admitted on oath that when he signed the petition he did not know the allegations it contained were true.

Condie, the absconding Oak Lake Dominion Express agent, got away with $5000. Detectives cannot trace him.

A despatch from Macleod, N.W.T., yesterday, stated that an Indian on the Blood reserve had shot dead another Indian and wounded Farm Instructor McNeill. Another despatch to-day states that the murderer also slew his squaw and their children. He is now hiding in the bush, heavily armed, and surrounded by a posse of Mounted Police. He may not be taken alive, but he will be taken.

Manitoba wheat prices are now considerably above an export basis. The farmers of this country are getting a benefit through the keen competition of eastern millers, who want Manitoba wheat to mix with Ontario wheat.

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

A Morning Runaway.

A runaway took place from the Dickson Company's saw mill, Ashburnham, this morning about 11 30 o'clock. It appears that a team of horses were standing at the mill while the wagon was being loaded with lumber, and became suddenly unmanageable. They made for the Hunter street bridge, where one of the horses in its wild career had its skull nearly smashed open by coming in contact with an iron upright. Freeing themselves, the team proceeded over the bridge and turned into the slab yard on the C. P. R. spur line, where the came to grief. The waggon was demolished, as well as the harness. The shoes were torn from the horses' feet. It is very fortunate that there was no vehicle on the bridge at the time, else very serious consequences might have been the result.

OBITUARY.

Sudden Death of Mrs. George Brownlee, This Morning.

The very sudden death of Mrs. George Brownlee took place some time during the night at the family residence, No. 247 Aylmer street, at the advanced age of 84 years.

Mrs. Brownlee has been a sufferer from rheumatism for over thirty years and has been also a subject of heart trouble for some time. Sometime during the night she was evidently taken with a sudden attack and quietly passed away, as when the servant went to awake the old lady this morning it was found that she was sleeping the sleep that knows no awakening in this world.

The deceased was the widow of the late George Brownlee. She was born in the North of Ireland, emigrating to Canada in 1821 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Boates. Residence was immediately taken up in Peterborough, the other families settling here at the same time being the Dunlops and Stewarts. After living here two years the family moved to Emily, where there is now an English church erected on the homestead farm near Fowler's Corners. The deceased moved into Peterborough again in 1842. She was twice married and leaves four children, Mrs. B. Mowry, of Gravenhurst, by her first husband, and Mrs. R. N. Roddy, Mr. John Brownlee, and Mrs. David Henthorne, by the second. Mrs. Brownlee had also a great many relatives living in Emily.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, conducting the service.

DIED IN TORONTO.

Death of Mrs. O. Ellsworth.

This morning a telephone message was received, stating that Mrs. O. Ellsworth, of London street, who was on a visit to Toronto, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. J. W. Flavelle. No other particulars as to her illness have been received. Mrs. Ellsworth was a daughter of the late Wm. Thompson, of Peterborough, and widow of the late Rev. O. Ellsworth, a minister of the Methodist church. She has been a widow for many years, and resided for a long time on the corner of Lake and Elizabeth streets, Ashburnham. The only surviving children are:—Mrs. James Holden, of McAllister, Texas, who returned home but a few weeks ago from a visit to town; Mrs. J. W. Flavelle, Toronto, and Mr. Orin Ellsworth, of Texas. The deceased was about seventy years of age. The body will be brought to Peterborough for interment, the funeral to take place from her late residence, 199 London street, probably on Monday. The exact date and hour will be given later.

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

The Corporation in a Position to do This Work.

THE EXAMINER has been requested to publish the two appended clauses from the sewer contract in order that the public may have a full understanding regarding the connections, which will be put in by application to the town council:

And it is distinctly declared and agreed by and between the parties that from the time any of the sewers are completed and ready for use past any point of connection, the same may be used for the purpose for which it is intended and at any time the corporation may connect or cause to be connected therewith all drains or sewers that they may deem it proper or requisite to connect.

The work will include the lengthening, deepening, reconstruction and connection with the new sewer of all sewers intersecting it, all gullery, house or other drains connected with any old, open or covered sewers or box drains, which may be met with in the execution of the work, whether or not shown on the drawings or elsewhere referred to in this specification, the private drains connecting with the old sewer must be taken up, relaid and made good to required grade from the line of sidewalk kerb to connection of new sewer.

BASEBALL BANQUET.

The Park Nine Boys Spend a Pleasant Evening.

The Park Nine Baseball Club held their first annual banquet last evening at the restaurant of Mr. Ed. Welsh, Hunter street.

The tables were laid for sixteen in Mr. Welsh's private parlours upstairs, and the chair was taken by Mr. G. J. Horkins, whilst Mr. H. R. H. Kenner graced the other end of the board.

The oysters were in prime condition and the feast was greatly enjoyed by all present. Afterwards all formality was thrown aside and speech, recitation and song followed one another rapidly.

The toast of "The Officers" brought to their feet Messrs. G. J. Horkins, president; H. R. H. Kenner, vice president; Chris Graham, captain, and Bert Dolan, vice captain. The rest of the programme was as below:—

The Host and Hostess...Mr and Mrs Ed Welsh
Recitation.....Mr G J Horkins

During the evening the opinion was expressed that next year would find the Park Nine in the field as a senior team. The players would be more fully developed by the season of 1897 and with such splendid material to work on would be able to give Peterborough a winning team which would deserve the hearty support of the public.

During the past year the team has played almost a dozen games and has been victorious in each and every one of them. Clubs have sprung into existence in all the towns around and it is no longer a great expense to get a nine here, as the distances are all short. In the old days the baseball clubs in Peterborough all laboured under the disadvantage of having to bear the cost of bringing a team from Toronto or Kingston when they wanted a good game. It is different now and with a schedule of good games the Park Nine should, at a small expense, be able to provide the baseball enthusiasts with lots of sport during the coming year.

Opera House, Monday, Oct. 19th.

"The Heart of Chicago," a powerful melodrama, all the scenes of which are laid in Chicago, will be the next attraction at the Opera House. It is said to contain a strong plot and to be well put together. Scenically "The Heart of Chicago" is said to be very strong. Realistic representations of the great Chicago fire; the Masonic Temple Roof Garden at night; a panoramic view of the South Side, showing all the important streets and buildings between Madison and 12th streets, and from the lake to the river, and an absolutely new railroad scene are among the scenic accessories employed.

PETERBOROUGH RIFLE ASSOCIATION SCORES.

THE DAY ALMOST TOO BRIGHT FOR GOOD SHOOTING.

Mr. F. Bartlett Wins the Aggregate Match by Making the Best Scores in the Cox and Bankers' Matches—Outsiders Present.

The annual matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association were held yesterday at the ranges, with an attendance which was hardly as large as usual. A large number of the veterans have dropped out this year, for some reason, and a great many familiar faces were missed from amongst the marksmen. The nursery match had a big list of entries and a large number of new men appear to be going in for rifle shooting.

The weather was superb, but the day was almost too bright for the marksmen.

The outsiders were present in force and carried off a number of good prizes—notably the first and second awards in the bankers match.

T. J. Ritchie was pushed hard for the Cox Cup by F. Bartlett, only winning by one shot. Mr. Bartlett came out on top in the aggregate scores of the Bankers' and the Cox matches.

The result in the different matches was as appended:—

A NEW WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—We have in this town associations of various kinds composed of women—Women's Missionary Auxiliaries, Girls' Guilds, Women's Christian Temperance Union and Young Women's Association, etc. In sympathy with these organizations permit me to nominate another association, this time of old women since all the other organizations are composed of comparatively young and vigorous ladies. I would suggest that the members of the town council be named the "Old Women's Civic Association." This is in view of the manner in which they look after the streets. The other day while driving over George street from Brock to Hunter I got knocked about so severely that I broke a corset steel. My husband says the streets of this town are in simply a disgraceful condition. He told me as I was writing this letter that there's a deep trench—very deep for the chief business street of the town—on George street nearly opposite Adam Hall's, which has been there for several days and that the street for days has been covered with stones. He says a man in an hour would rake the stones to one side and make it possible for something else than an ox cart to use the street. Its very hard on the merchants and especially on the poor horses that have to deliver freight to the shops. Why can't something be done to have the street even temporarily put into half decent shape? When I'm having my house cleaning done I don't keep my house tumbled up for weeks—I keep it in some kind of order while the work is going on. I commend the barbarous condition of our streets to the attention of the "Old Women's Civic Association."

Yours sincerely,
A WOMAN.

THE BANDAGING COMPETITION.

The Prize Goes to a Belleville Young Lady.

Miss Edith Johnston, of Belleville, was successful last evening in winning the bandaging prize offered in competition in connection with the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses. There were four contestants embracing the members of the graduating class of 1896 and although the competition was close, Miss Johnston was unanimously selected as the winner by the judges, who were Drs. Clarke, Pigeon, Scott and Carmichael.

CURLIANA.

At a meeting of the Orillia Curlers, on Tuesday evening, plans were submitted for the erection of a new rink and also an offer to re-build and enlarge the old one. Nothing definite was decided upon, but the club is very enthusiastic and curling will probably boom in Orillia this year.

LACROSSE.

It is not at all probable that Peterborough will ever be in the Canadian Lacrosse Association again and with her the whole eastern contingent will drop away. Toronto and the west is determined that the championship will never come east and the boys have given up the hope of ever being able to force their way through the opposition which meets them at every time from the solid west. Hereafter it will be a solid east.

It is the same thing not only in lacrosse, but in hockey and bicycling, and at the annual meetings of all these associations, unless the east gets a sufficient representation on the Executive Committees to ensure them fair play, it will force matters to an issue and the dividing line between Eastern and Western Canada in regard to sporting matters will be drawn at Toronto.

As an encouragement to the lacrosse teams of the east to secede and form a new organization of their own, exclusive of western clubs, Mr. C. LeBrun offers a $50.00 trophy to be played for and to become the permanent property of the team winning the most games during the season of 1897 in the new league.

It is altogether probable that in the beginning of the year a meeting of representatives from the various towns will be called for the purpose of organizing such a league, which could embrace the clubs in Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope, Millbrook, Cobourg, Campbellford, Tweed, Madoc, Sterling, Marmora, Norwood, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Prescott, Perth, Almonte, Pembroke and other eastern towns.

FOOTBALL.

A first-class game of Rugby football will be played to-morrow afternoon at the P.A.A.A. grounds between the crack team from Upper Canada College, Toronto, and the local fifteen. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

A WARSAW WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Minnie Robeson and Mr. Wm. Wasson.

The Salem Methodist parsonage, King street, Colborne, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday last, when Minnie, the third daughter of Rev. J. E. Robeson, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Wasson, merchant, of Warsaw. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride. The happy couple took the six o'clock train for Toronto.

STOOD AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

Miss Greenwood and Dr. Ross Allen Married.

Wednesday's issue of the Kingston Whig contains the following reference to the marriage of Dr. Ross Allen, brother of Alderman G. A. Allen, of Kingston, formerly of Peterborough :

"Who can paint the joy unspeakable, which links in tender bonds two faithful hearts," was the thought uppermost in the mind of every guest at a delightful wedding at high noon to-day, when the kindest and the happiest pair that eye ever beheld or poet sung of sweetly in song were united in Hymen's gentle fetters. Miss Bertha Greenwood, the bride, has always been regarded as one of Kingston's most charming young ladies.

The groom, Dr. J. Ross Allen, son of Rev. H. I. Allen, Columbus, Ont., and brother of Ald. Allen, is well known here, where he has a wide circle of friends. He is a graduate of Queen's college, and shortly after securing his diploma located at Olean, N.Y., where, by the thorough knowledge of his profession and his careful attention to its exacting duties, he quickly gained himself an extensive and remunerative practice.

The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's brother, Union street west. The parlour was beautifully decorated, a bank of flowers obscuring the entire eastern wall. Garlands of smilax and bright-hued blossoms were grouped overhead, forming a canopy or bell, beneath which the bridal party stood. Rev H. I. Allen, Columbus, Ont., assisted by Rev. Dr. Ryckman, pastor of Queen street Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The blue-eyed bride was becomingly gowned in ivory satin, with point lace trimmings and wore orange blossoms. A veil of the finest material completely enveloped her figure. A simple boquet of pure white roses was carried in her hand. The bride was assisted by Miss Bertha Irvine, of Brownville, N.Y., sweetly attired in a pale green silk gown, with white chiffon overdress. The maid of honour was a little neice of the bride, Bertha White, aged three years, dressed in pale pink with spotted muslin, and carried a beautiful bunch of flowers. Ernest H. Allen, Belleville, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen left for the west for a short bridal tour prior to settling down at Olean, N.Y.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Smith street from Water street to the bridge is being water tabled and graded.

—Mr. R. M. Roy prognosticates that there will be a snowstorm with the next 48 hours.

—The merchants on George street between Hunter and Simcoe streets, are complaining bitterly about the way in which the street has been left by the Electric Railway Co. It is impossible for a carriage to cross the street in any place.

HASTINGS FAIR.

What up to Tuesday evening had indicated a most successful Fair was dampened by rain, which continued all the following day, stopping coming visitors and keeping back many of the exhibits that would have appeared. As it was, the exhibits were many and of the best quality. The hall was well filled and the exhibits could hardly have been beaten outside of Toronto Fair. A finer lot of fruit, field roots and grains could not be gathered together, while the ladies' department was well sustained. The number of horses, cattle, sheep and swine were not only numerous but of the highest grade. The poultry, numbered about two hundred entries, but on account of the rain, only some ninety cages made an appearance. There is no question as to success had the day been fine.

Among those who figured largely in pure bred stock and added much to the interest of the exhibition, in horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, are Messrs. R. Honey, J. B. Ewing C. H. Curtis, and George Campbell, Percy; Wm. Stillman, Seymour; F. Birdsall & Son, John Breakenridge, George English, Adam Humphries, H. Humphries and D. Campbell, of Asphodel, besides contributing largely to other departments.

Buy the best, buy it for the least, then you'll buy at Oak Hall.

The Advance in Hops.

The cable advance of 3c. per lb. in the price of English and German hops two weeks ago has had its effects upon this market, sales of choice Bavarian having been made at 25c. to 26c. per lb., delivered here duty paid, although the same description was sold at 19c. to 20c. a few weeks ago. A choice lot of Oregon hops was placed at 15½c. delivered here duty paid; but to-day they cannot be had here under 17½c. As regards Canadian hops, there have been sales at 9c. to 11c., according to quality, fancy parcels being held at 12c. There is a large supply of yearlings of good quality, which attract a considerable portion of the demand at about 6½ to 6¾c., and until these are worked off no very material advance may be looked for in the new Canadian hops, although prices may be expected to hold firm in view of the strong tendency of the foreign markets. Further cable advices from London report English hops advanced 5s. with a more active enquiry, which is equal to 1c. per lb. —Montreal Trade Bulletin.

WHEELMEN'S PRIZE LIST.

A SPLENDID LIST OF AWARDS FOR THE ROAD RACE.

The Merchants of the Town Stand by the Wheelmen Nobly and Donate Gifts Sufficient to Make a Splendid Prize List.

Appended will be found a list of the prizes which will be "hung up" for competition amongst the wheelmen who ride in the big road race on Monday next. The list may be regarded as incomplete as yet, as several valuable prizes have been partially promised some of which may yet be received to swell the list which is already one of almost gigantic proportions, and so arranged as to give every rider a chance to land a good prize.

As mentioned before the race will be held on Monday and will start and also finish at the market square, the route being from there to Lakefield, (on the west side of the river), where a barrel will be placed in the middle of the main street as a turning point. The return trip will be over the same road. Spectators on the streets are requested to remain on the sidewalks and to do their best to keep carriages from crossing or driving along Water street after three o'clock, at which hour the first batch of riders are sent off, the remainder following at intervals until a quarter past three, when the fastest of the lot will be started and make an effort to catch their slower brethern who have been given a start.

As the expenses in connection with getting up the race have been somewhat high, a subscription list has been opened in order that a sufficient amount may be raised to defray the cost of purchasing a few of the larger prizes, etc.

It has been decided that any balance which may remain in the treasury shall be donated to the Children's Aid Society.

Such a list of prizes should cause the entry list to swell to over fifty and in order that arrangements can be made for the handicapping, it is urged that the entrance fees be sent in as soon as possible. None will be received later than Saturday evening. All entries should be made with Alf. Terrill at the EXAMINER office which will be open until ten o'clock Saturday evening to receive any which have not already been filed.

The list of prizes will be found appended together with the name of the donor :

OBITUARY.

Hastings Star.

Again are we called upon to record the demise of another of those who link the past with the present. This time in the person of Bridget Mullhern, beloved wife of Francis Killoran, of Percy, who departed this life on the 30th ult., at the ripe age of 77 years. She was a native of Ireland, born in the county of Sligo, in the year 1819. In 1837 she was united in marriage to her now sorrowing husband. In 1841, with her husband, she left her native land and came to Canada, settling in the township of Seymour, where they resided up to 1875 when they moved to lot 13, con. 10, Percy, and where they have since resided. She was the mother of 12 children, five girls and seven boys, all of whom live to mourn her loss except two. Those living are, Catherine, wife of Edward Coveney, Seymour; Bridget, wife of T. Kennedy, Peterborough; Mary, wife of M. Keating, Percy; Ann and Honora, at home; Patrick and Francis, of Marmora; and John, James and Lawrence, of Percy. Mrs. Killoran was a woman of very kind disposition, generous and obliging, a good neighbour, a loving wife and indulgent mother. For over a year she has been a great sufferer, most of which time she has been confined to her bed. Well may husband and children mourn the loss of wife and mother for she was worthy of all their affection. She was a consistent member of the Roman Catholic church. The remains were brought to St. Mary's R. C. church, Hastings, on Friday, 2nd inst., where they received the rites of the church, after which they were taken to Campbellford R. C. cemetery for interment, followed by a large cortege of friends and neighbors.

AMATEUR CYCLIST.

Wants Bicycle Riders and the Public to Know That he was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, (Special) Oct. 5.—People generally, who take an interest in cycling, as well as amateurs and professionals everywhere, will remember a name familiar in sporting events.—Mr. Louis H. Bounsell, who resides at 573 King street east, this city. Bicycle riders will be especially pleased to learn that his reappearance this season in good form is due to his entire recovery from serious kidney trouble which had for a long time been interfering with his work. He desires all his friends as well as the public to know that his recovery is entirely due to using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

On Friday and Saturday—Tie Sale at Crafton & Co's, regular prices 25c to 35c, Tie Sale price 10c.

NEAT JOB PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING DONE CHEAP AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. Worry and work and care and anxiety count for nothing against the smoothly dainty, clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Nothing equals that—nothing compensates for the loss of it. The woman who has not borne a child has never come to the real fullness of womanhood. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It serves but one purpose. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates. Thousands of homes have been made happy by its use. Thousands of letters like this one from Mrs. W. P. Cain, of Clinton, Allegheny Co., Pa., who writes: "I was affected with all sorts of female trouble. I tried three doctors, and several kinds of patent medicine, and found no relief. My husband said 'try Dr. Pierce's medicine.' I told him I might as well throw his money in the fire as to try anything more. I had lost all hope. I had not taken more than half a bottle when I could eat and sleep well. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and several vials of his 'Pellets.' One year after I gave birth to a fine baby girl. I got along so much better than when my other child was born. Three of my friends are taking your medicines, and are improving." Yours truly.

Mrs. W. P. Cain.

TAILOR-MADE GOWNS

Are Not to be Banished this Winter.

The tailor-made girl is not to be banished this winter at least, judging from the numbers of chic tailor-made costumes offered for inspection. Any of the heavy cloths are chosen, especially the double-faced effects in cheviot. Some of the pretty, soft tints of green make up beautifully, and when toned up with a touch of black are wonderfully fetching.

A gown of this tint is shown in the illustration, made up in a severely plain style, with all the seams strapped over with narrow black cords.

The short coat is a jaunty little affair, barely covering the hips, and boasting a wonderful fulness at the back, where it is arranged in clusters of small plaits, caught in at the waist by loops of the cord and black horn buttons. There are tiny little pockets and smart revers all set off with the black cord.

The sleeves display only a slight bouffancy at the top, and fit the remainder of the arm snugly. With this suit is worn a flaring hat of black braided felt; around the crown is arranged a twist of gobelin blue velvet, with a heavy cluster of black plumes at one side, caught by a big rhinestone clasp.

Another chic tailor-made gown is in heavy cheviot, showing a check in blue and gray. The box coat has a pointed yoke of blue broadcloth laid over with Honiton lace in grayish tint. The buttons are large ones of silver, beautifully carved and framed in dull blue stones.

Entire suits of black are as much in vogue as ever, and many of the new ones are extremely fetching in cut and finish.

An Altered Gown.

A favorite gown of silk, challie or any figured or striped material, after its original service has expired, may be made to do excellent duty as a tea-gown. The bodice should be cut off neatly at the belt line and renovated, if needed, in any simple way by a jabot of lace or revers of velvet from some other discarded gown. The skirt is then ripped carefully, linings all taken out and sponged and pressed if need be, and from the best of it four straight widths, hemmed all around except across the top, prepared.

These are to be fitted to the waist, two at the front and sides and the other two laid in small plaits to join the back waist line. All fly open from the waist, the polonaise for such being worn with an old black silk skirt. A very dressy house gown made from a challie that had a red flower in it was produced in this way, and a skirt of white albatross whose waist was useless was combined with it with a most happy effect.

A twist of ribbon is passed over the seam of waist and skirt tabs, ending in loops and flying ends in front. Of course new materials should not be purchased unless a remnant of ribbon is picked up, but this model will be found very helpful to combine and restore to service parts of two or three dresses that are apparently useless. If the sleeves of the bodice have given out, a pair may be made from the combining skirt material.

Confusion as to the choice of a blood-purifier is unnecessary. There is but one best Sarsaparilla and that is Ayer's. This important fact was recognized at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893, being the only blood-purifier admitted to be placed on exhibition.

PURPLE TO THE FORE.

This Royal Color Will be Much in Evidence for Fall Wear.

Purple, a veritable royal color, is to the fore once more, and forms the basis of many of the charming gowns. A certain gown ready for the early fall wear is made up of royal purple canvas cloth over taffeta of the same shade; imparting a wonderfully silky look to the goods.

The skirt is en Paqnin, with only a slight modification of width, and is perfectly plain. The bodice is fitted smoothly over a silken foundation with as little fulness as possible. A pelissed frill of the canvas cloth flares from the throat over the shoulders overtopped by broad revers of white satin caught down in the center by full choux of royal purple velvet. A narrow girdle and stock of the velvet completes the costume, with, at the top of the stock, a standing frill of the cloth.

A jaunty little hat is worn with this gown, straight and stiff of brim, edged with crushed Parma violets and topped off by a wide bow of crisp white taffeta ribbon. A lot of the violets crushed in at the back tip it well over the face.

Every woman loves to wear a touch of brilliant color about her costume, on a fall day, when all nature seems sleeping, and the whole earth dreary. Soft tones of brown are chosen always as a fall color, perhaps because it so resembles the naked branches of the trees bereft of their leaves. Dark, warm, navy blues, brightened with reds are also standard combinations.

This season there are many new colors and novel combinations; claret red, a vivid crimson, finds its way into material for handsome street frocks, while the warmer toned geranium pink and pale vermilion are liked in the millinery.

A young girl is a pretty sight in one of the jaunty little scarlet coats, made double-breasted, just short enough to cover the hips, and provided with an enormous flare at the back to set out over a small bustle All the seams are overlapped and stitched in rows; the shoulder and sleeve tops are ornamented with rows of small smoke-pearl buttons set on in groups.

Big pearl buttons to match ornament the front of the coat. With such a jacket may be worn a smart little turban of black felt, faced along the brim with velvet, piped with a satin cord. At the back, where the broadened brim rolls up is nestled a cluster of black violets, and at the side is a clump of nodding black ostrich feathers.

Cycling Attire.

Accordion pleated knickers have for some time been in favor, but now fine serge skirts are being accordion kilted for cycling wear. Accordion pleating and cycling do not seem to go well together, for the former always suggests the luxurious ease of dainty teagowns or the silken loveliness of dancing dresses. Much more generally worn, however, are full knickers, divided skirts or short skirts with long gaiters, accompanied in some cases by well-cut sac-backed coats; or, more generally by smart little Zouaves, opening over finely tucked shirts.

But nothing looks so cool and fresh, and generally attractive, as a fine serge or mohair skirt, wedded to a simple cotton blouse bodice, belted with a silver-buckled leather band, and finished with a turned-down collar and cuffs, the accompanying headgear being a sailor hat trimmed in simplest fashion with a band and bow of ribbon and a long quill; while it is also interesting to note how the ceinture is having its effect even upon bicycling costumes, for, made in pique, and cleverly boned, it holds in most of the cycling jerseys with their striped yokes and sleeve tops, and gives to them a trim smartness which nothing else would ever make possible.

A Handsome Bodice.

A woman who bought at a sale six yards of brocade in pale electric blue with a gold pattern found her investment to be rather a white elephant until she thought of making it into a pretty dinner bodice. It is made in the Lois Seize style with squared revers and a full pointed basque; the puffed sleeves are creve or slashed showing plain satin in electric blue. The waistcoat is of the same plain satin, crossed over and fastening on the left side. The wide revers and collar were stiffened with tailor's canvas, and edged with a ruching of tulle in the same shade of light electric blue. In addition to the six yards of brocade which she had by her, this woman invested in three yards of plain satin to match, and four yards of tulle. The effect was excellent.

Don't You Remember Long Ago?

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past. School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enchantment of distant views. The old school and church, the boys and girls we romped with, father's voice, mother's smile, the joy of the holiday—no pleasures of the present can compare with those enjoyed in the days now locked up in the eternity of the past. In a similar way we recall the old time tested friend of the past—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—that never failed us then and is just as sure to serve us now Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure safe, and painless. Use no other.

New Style of Dressing the Hair.

Writing on dressing the hair, Isabel A. Mallon, in September Ladies' Home Journal, says that "a pretty and absolutely new coiffure is the one that, while it rather gives the blouse effect, really consists of three deep waves that turn back, and which are, of course, made by the iron. At the back the hair is arranged in a double eight twist that shows well at the sides, but does not rise above the top of the head. Women who have very little hair can tie it close to the head, fasten the switch by a string drawn through its loop, which is the best way, and then, pinning down their own hair close to the head, arrange the switch to form the double eight. Elderly ladies, especially those whose hair has grown entirely white, wear it oftenest in a Pompadour roll, which requires a small pad under it, and then in the back have a plaited switch carefully pinned to the hair in a loop-like fashion. Many ladies who have reached middle age or passed it adhere to the coiffure selected as becoming when they were young, and it must be confessed that there is a certain dignity about this."

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philanthropy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various forms resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble, Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 29TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

CRUISE OF "THE FOX"

MOST ASTONISHING OCEAN VOYAGE IN A ROWBOAT.

George Harbo and Frank Samuelson Pull Their Stout Little Craft All the Way From New York to Havre, France—Wrecked Off Newfoundland.

The most wonderful voyage ever made across the Atlantic was concluded August 7 at Havre, when George Harbo and Frank Samuelson arrived there in the little boat Fox, in which they had rowed from New York. Only the bare facts of their arrival were given in the cable dispatches at the time.

But letters which the daring navigators have written to friends arrived in this city last, says the New York Journal. These letters tell of many perils encountered during the fifty-two days' voyage from the Battery to the Scilly Islands, and they describe minutely one thrilling adventure off the banks of Newfoundland that nearly cost the two occupants of the little boat their lives.

The first night at sea was an uneventful one. Harbo slept and his companion steadily rowed the boat to the eastward.

The first day at sea they saw a few sails in the offing and made good progress. Had they spread a sail they might have made better speed and saved their strength, as a fair wind was blowing. But the Fox was not rigged to sail, and the agreement was that they were to make the voyage from New York to Havre by rowing all the way.

Thus, taking turn and turn about in sleeping, and by working together about sixteen hours per day, the first week was spent. Occasionally they saw a sail upon the horizon, and some schools of huge porpoises were passed.

On June 16 the two daring voyagers for the first time heard human voices since leaving New York, ten days before. The smoke of a large steamer was seen on the horizon, and soon her masts and funnels were raised.

Then her hull came into view. At the same time it seemed as if the steamer had sighted the little open boat drifting apparently helpless in the ocean, so far from land, for she slightly changed her course and bore down upon the Fox.

Harbo and Samuelson lay upon their oars as the great steamer approached, and when she got nearenough they could plainly read her name on the bow. She was the Fuerst Bismarck, of the North German Lloyd line.

On the bridge were the captain and his subordinate officers. They slowed down the engines and hailed the Fox. Harbo gave the name and asked to be reported.

The captain of the Fuerst Bismarck offered to take him and his companion to New York. This invitation Harbo cheerily declined, declaring his intention to continue his voyage, and waving his hand as the great steamer slowly got under way again.

The passengers on her deck crowded aft and waved handkerchiefs and hats, and in a short time the steamer was only a small speck on the horizon. Then for two weeks the two adventurous sailors had no more intercourse with human beings.

They worked steadily at the oars. Even on this little vessel a sort of discipline was maintained, for each took the amount of sleep permitted in the "regulations" and was awakened by his companion on the very stroke of the hour.

On July 11 the schooner Leader was encountered and spoken, and Harbo and his companion were offered a free trip to land if they cared to abandon their voyage. This invitation was declined with thanks and they continued on their course.

A week later the Fox was well off the Banks of Newfoundland when a heavy gale sprung up from the west. The sea began to rise ominously and the hardy sailors realized that they were in for their first encounter with the elements.

They put on their oilskins, stowed away many portable articles within the boat and got the sea anchor ready. This was a framework over which canvass could be stretched and so weighed that it would float vertically in the water.

The gale continuing to increase, the sea rose accordingly and soon began to break over the gunwales of the Fox. While one man bailed the other worked at the oars in an effort to keep her head to the wind.

In spite of this the boat continued to fill. Then the sea anchor was thrown overboard and allowed to drift.

At the end of about thirty fathoms of rope it was made fast in the bow. This kept the head of the boat to the wind and allowed both men to work at the bailing.

This furious gale continued for three days. During the whole of this time the men were wet to the skin. They had to abandon sleep and give up their hot meals.

Such food as they took was eaten "between waves," when a temporary lull in the sea gave time for a hasty bite at a sea biscuit. With the continuance of the gale, the sea rose steadily and on July 10 it seemed to be running mountains high.

Great green combers of enormous force and size rushed upon the tiny boat as if to swamp her. She was tossed about among them like a cork, but owing to her peculiar construction and the skillful handling of her crew she rode triumphantly throughout the day.

At 9 p.m. that evening, however, the very event for which Harbo had prepared occurred. That was the capsizing of the Fox by a giant wave, which rose under her starbord bow and turned her over in spite of every effort of the oarsmen.

This occurred in the darkness, and neither of the men could see the other. They were both washed out of the Fox and the boat drifted away from them.

She did not drift far, however. Each man, when the storm began to rise, had lashed himself to the Fox at the end of about thirty feet of stout rope, which was carried under the armpits and around the waist.

When the giant wave washed them out of the boat on the night of July 10 the men felt themselves sink beneath the water and then there was a mighty pull on the rope which attached them to the Fox. Each grasped the rope and hauled himself hand over hand to the boat, which was floating bottom up.

Harbo hailed Samuelson and bid him keep a light heart, as the boat could soon be righted. This was no easy task, however.

Wave after wave swept the two men clinging to the bottom of the upturned boat, and at times it was almost impossible for them to hold on in the face of the deluge of water that was pouring upon them. Finally, however, they succeeded in righting the boat.

By bearing down their weight upon one side the other rose in the water. Care was taken at this time to keep her head to the sea.

As the boat, when filled with water, had no buoyancy, she was in danger of being again upset or turned end over end by the huge waves which swept her. But Harbo and Samuelson clambered into her and began to bail her out.

This was a long and arduous task, as their bailer had been washed away. A hasty examination of the boat in the darkness also showed that everything which had been firmly lashed had been carried away and was hopelessly lost.

The signal lights, cooking utensils and a considerable quantity of provisions had thus disappeared, as well as a couple of ash oars. By using part of their clothing for bailing the men succeeded in lightening the boat. The more she rose from the water the stiffer she became and the more easily she rode the huge waves.

In this way the night was spent. By daylight the boat was nearly free of water.

In the cold gray of the early morning the two men shivered in their wet clothing, and with the loss of their cooking utensils the prospect before them was indeed cheerless. With the break of day, however, the wind began to moderate and the sea to fall.

The hardy sailors then resumed their work at the oars, of which they had carried two extra pairs in case of just such an accident as this. They had nothing with which to cook hot food, however, and they had to get along as best they could on cold canned meats and biscuits.

Horba discovered as soon as the weather had moderated sufficiently that his small water-tight compartments for the storing of food had worked perfectly and that not a drop of water had leaked into them. The oil and fresh water tanks were intact, and not a break had been made in the air tanks, which had saved the boat when she was swamped.

For five days now the men had to wear their wet clothing and do without a fire. Then on Wednesday, July 15, they sighted a large bark which was speeding along under a full spread of canvas before a twelve-knot breeze.

Upon seeing the little boat, now far out in the Atlantic, the bark changed her course and bore down toward the Fox. Both Harbo and Samuelson were delighted to find that she was a Norwegian, and they decided to board her.

She turned out to be the Norwegian bark Cito, from Quebec for Pembroke. Harbo and Samuelson rowed alongside and climbed aboard the bark, where they were welcomed by the crew.

They explained who they were and what privations they had undergone, and the captain offered to supply them with food and cooking utensils. They were gladly accepted. That day, for the first time in nearly a week, they had a good, hot cup of coffee and hot soup, and under the influence of the dinner, with a drink of rum and a smoke, the prospect before them became more cheerful.

On board the Cito they obtained their latitude and longitude and found that one-half of their voyage was already accomplished. While on board the bark they dried their clothing and her crew gave them a cheer as they went over the side to resume their voyage.

During the next week the two men kept steadily at work at the oars. They had fair weather and made good time, averaging about sixty five miles per day.

Nine days after boarding the Cito the chart showed that they were 400 miles from the Scilly Islands. The same day they spoke the Norwegian bark Eugen, from Halifax for Swansea, and from her obtained a small supply of bread and water.

Early in the morning of Saturday, August 1, land was sighted, and they knew that their extraordinary voyage was nearly at an end.

The land which they had sighted was the highest point on the Scilly Isles.

They rowed steadily and by 11 o'clock were opposite the signal station, whence the news of their arrival was flashed to New York. Exactly fifty-two days after leaving New York the two men put foot on the Scilly Isles.

There they rested for a couple of days and resumed their voyage to Havre, where they arrived August 7. They were both in good physical condition, but slightly exhausted, and each gained in weight during the rest on the Scilly Isles. They will now place their boat on exhibition and deliver lectures about their trip.

FOOTBALL TRAINING.

HOW YALE COACHES DRIVE THE CANDIDATES ALONG.

They Make Veritable Slaves of the Men For the Glory of Old Eli—Hard Training and a Vivid Description of the Same.

This is a story of the trials and tribulations of forty or more young men who assemble daily (Mondays excepted) on Yale Field, New Haven, Con, U.S.A. There are great goings on on Yale Field these bright days, says A. H. C. Mitchell in New York Journal, as there are also on many other college football gridirons. But this story relates particularly to the youths of Old Eli, who dress in queer suits of clothes, who find it convenient to go three months without a hair cut, and who take more "cussing" in that period of time than do the deckhands of a Mississippi River steamboat.

Just stop to think of it a minute. Forty or more young men willing to be made slaves, willing to be bruised and "bunged up," not so much to get their names in the papers as in order to "make the team" and die their hardest for the sake of old Yale. Some of these forty-odd have been going out to Yale field for the past four years. They have never made the team nor come anywhere near it, but they show up in their football clothes as soon as the captain issues a call for candidates. They are given a trial and are soon told that they stand no chance against their more skillful rivals. One by one they shed their sweaters and canvas jackets, padded breeches and football shoes, and show themselves on the campus with a hair cut. This is a notification to all whom it may concern that they are out of it as far as football is concerned. But next year they appear on the field again, hoping against hope that some strange freak of fortune will thrust them into a seat at the training table and enable them to travel with the mighty football men.

The day before yesterday Yale Field was deserated at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The baseball diamond was unkempt and the grand stand was gray with dust. But a few yards further on the white goal posts of the football field loomed up like light-houses, and the green grass and the freshly marked chalk lines showed that the gridiron was ready for its season of rough sport. Presently Captain Fred Murphy, attired in a blue sweater, with a white Y, came through the gate on a dog trot. Behind him were the forty or more young men from whom the eleven will eventually be chosen. Every third man carried a new football. On they came, across the diamond to the gridiron beyond. Sweaters were discarded and the boys began to pass the ball to and fro.

Captain Murphy selected a dozen men, and, taking them off to a corner of the field, lined them up and made them go through the motions of advancing the ball to the music of a set of very simple signals. The ball was snapped back, the line broke into "interference," the men moved forward a dozen steps, stopped, and formed again for another fake scrimmage. These manoeuvres were continued until the line had moved away beyond the boundaries of the football field.

In the meantime the balance of the squad learned some solemn truths from the lips of Coachers Thorne and Butterworth.

"Line up there in front of those goal posts!" yelled Thorne.

"Come, step lively; you're not out here for your health!" added Butterworth.

The boys scrambled to one end of the field, while Thorne stationed himself fifty or sixty yards away.

"Now, then," said Thorne, "two of you stand out and catch these punts."

Boom! and the ball sailed up in the air, twisting like an electric fan. Alas, for the unfortunate youth who attempted to catch it! It slipped through his hands like a knife through boarding house butter.

The remarks of Thorne here recorded were not made for publication, but they are words of an energetic Yale coach, who wants to teach his scholars how to play football Yale style.

"Oh, rotten!" he yelled. "Who said 'I'll take that ball?'"

"I did," answered the humble muffer.

"What's your name?"

The unfortunate youth told Thorne his name. He was a substitute on last year's team.

"Well, you ought to know better than that. Now, try another," and another ball came sailing through the air. Another muff.

"Aw, catch 'em on your gut. This isn't baseball. This way"—and Thorne went through the motions. "Look out for those double twisters! Run up on it; don't stand there like a fool!"

Nine balls came over, and all were muffed. Finally one was caught.

"Well, that's one out of ten. Next pair," said Thorne. Two other players stepped forward on the gridiron to be roasted. This pair was not much better than the first, and Thorne got very red in the face, shouting his criticisms and comments. Pair after pair followed along, and muffs were recorded with alarming frequency. At last Thorne became exasperated and yelled in very sarcastic tones:

"I suppose you all know that this is a regular farce?"

The poor, perspiring candidates said nothing, but looked very sheepish.

While all this was going on Butterworth was stirring the boys to greater action, making them run after and fall on the balls they muffed.

After ten minutes of this kind of work two elevens were formed and a short game was played. Thorne stood behind one team and Butterworth stationed himself behind the other. They kept the men at it like slave drivers, yelling one continual stream of criticism and direction so loud that the signals of the quarter-backs could scarcely be heard. The teams played very hard football for five minutes, and they they were given a short rest, after which they were driven to work again.

Then all hands put on their sweaters and climbed aboard two trolley cars that were waiting for them near the entrance to the field. Two or three ran the distance to the gymnasium—about one and a half miles—but the remainder were too tired. Later on this special trolley car will be dispensed with, and runs to and from the field will be a part of the training of the team.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see— to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

Sold by James Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street, Peterborough.

Mrs. D., says: "For years I have been nervous and weakly. I took one dollar's worth of Miller's Compound Iron Pills, and am now quite well and strong." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

"How to Cure all Skin Diseases."

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, etc., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents.

ROBINSON GOT OFF.

He Was Charged With Having Had a Hand in Robbing Smithville Postoffice and Was Acquitted.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 15.—John Robinson was on trial before Judge Senkler to-day on the charge of robbing the Smithville postoffice on Sept. 20. He is a well-dressed, respectable-looking fellow. He stated to the judge that he was unable to secure money from his friends to employ counsel, and he would "leave it all to Your Honor."

The Smithville postmaster was called to the witness stand and told the circumstances in connection with the robbery. Witness could not identify the prisoner. There was no evidence against Robinson except that he was with the other man, Alex Watson, when he was arrested, and the judge acquitted him without calling for the defence. Alex Watson, on whom the stamps were found, will get his trial at the December sessions.

FIFTY-SIXTH OPENING.

Queen's University Marked a Momentous Occasion Yesterday—Ian Maclaren in the Limestone City.

Kingston, Oct. 15.—This afternoon the fifty-sixth opening of Queen's University occurred. Chancellor Fleming, C.M.G., presided. Addresses were made by Prof. Nicholson and Prof. Glover, the newly appointed Professor of Classics. He was heartily received. To-morrow is University day. The students have their annual sports, and a bumper procession in the evening. Saturday night they will attend "Ian Maclaren's" lecture.

M Henrietta, who deserted from "A" Battery last spring, was captured on the streets here, and will be court-martialled for his offence.

Rev. John Watson ("Ian Maclaren") will be the guest of Principal Grant, and will be asked to dine on Saturday evening with Mrs. Lewis at the Archbishop's residence. He is an old friend of her great work in Paris.

FROM NIAGARA FALLS.

A U. S. Firm Removes Its Factory From Canadian Limits—Dead in Bed.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The plant of the Canadian Elastic Web Company, a branch factory of a large American firm, which for some time past has been offered for sale, will be moved in the course of a few weeks to Chelsea, Mass. The factory has been built and in operation here for eight years and employed on an average 50 hands. The manager stated that the lowering of the tariff two years ago knocked the bottom out of their Canadian business, and consequently the plant will be sent back to the States.

Officer Kimmons brought in two men named John Stanley and James Reece from St. Catharines this morning, charged with stealing two dressed lambs from the slaughter-house of Messrs. Pew & Pew, butchers, last Monday night. The prisoners appeared before Magistrate Logan to-day and were remanded until to-morrow morning.

The Clifton House will close to-morrow.

The Collector of Customs has not as yet received instructions regarding the appointment of the new customs officer who is to succeed Officer Pew, who left his post to-day. An officer has been placed in charge pro tem, and in the meantime a number of the local Liberal pushers are squabbling for the position.

John Crompton, employed as hostler at Ben Gould's Hotel, at Niagara Falls South, was found dead in his bed this morning. The deceased was a middle-aged man of Irish birth and without relatives in this country. He was subject to nervous ailment, and was under the influence of liquor when he retired last evening. He is supposed to have died in a fit. It is not likely that an inquest will be held.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—A private cable from Liverpool to-day says there was no change in the market as compared with last week. Freights are 40s to 45s, not insured. Shipments of cattle from this port will be small this week.

English Railroaders Lunched.

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—A luncheon was given this afternoon by the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad to General Manager Frederick Harrison and party of the London and Northwestern Railroad Company. This evening they continued their journey to New York, and will sail for England on the Majestic, Wednesday.

Effort for Shipman's Release.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Shipman, wife of Charles Shipman, who was sentenced here to seven years in the Kingston Penitentiary two years ago for shooting Charles Fitzsimmons of Rockport, is circulating a petition in Gananoque, praying the Minister of Justice for the prisoner's release. The petition is being numerously signed by influential citizens.

The Petrel is Causing a Flutter.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 15.—The Canadian Government steamer Petrel is on fishing grounds off this port, and reports are current that several of the Erie boats have been captured. The tug Boyd is missing at noon.

Tell the Deaf.

Mr. J. F. Kellock, Druggist, Perth, writes: "A customer of mine having been cured of deafness by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, wrote to Ireland, telling his friends there of the cure. In consequence I received an order to send half a dozen by express to Wexford, Ireland, this week."

There's Wisdom . . In Economy

And there are different sorts of economy. The economy which "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bung" is worse than no economy at all. The truest saving is to buy the best your pocket-book will afford at the lowest price for which it can be sold. We buy the best of everything. We sell in such a close margin of profit that our customers feel confident that bottom has been struck. Hence the active, progressive look of things which some people wonder at. It's very simple this honest shop-keeping when you know how and the trading public will always pin their faith to an establishment of this kind.

THE HOSIERY SECTION

is at the height of its usefulness. Note the busy throng of busy buyers, as they come and go. Want to make a hosiery customer of you. We keep the honest wearable sorts you know.

JACKETS AND CAPES.

A room full of them, and a room full of customers, admiring and buying them. You don't need a pocketful of money to be properly Jacketed and Caped here. Your interests are ours and we're here to please you in every way.

CARPETS ARE GOING TO BE HIGHER.

Wool is higher, labour costs more. We tell you this so you can save by buying now. We will have to make the advance when the time comes So will everybody else, whether they say so or no. You can save a dozen dollars or more by not delaying in buying that Carpet now of us.

Doing

AS WE PROMISE.

Good advertising does not encourage prevarication in prices. Quibbling or deviating from the plain path of truth and fair dealing, is an abuse which brings its own retribution.

PRICES without anything behind them, have very little meaning. But when they are fixed with care, are not misleading, and really represent something, they bring good buyers.

Dress Novelties.

So many of the pretty things have been picked up up in such a hurry that we've had to repeat orders—and to-day new lots are opened up in some of the best novelties.

High Crown Hats.

We have passed into stock a lot of New Walking, Sailor and Dress Hats, in Felts and Camel's Hair—the very latest ideas in High Crown Hats. Prices are going down instead of up.

When people want to pay extravagant prices for their Millinery, there will be no need for our store. But the dawn of that day is yet in the future. This store is the saver of the incomes of all—rich and poor.

Harmonious Conference Over the School Question.

NO OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

But the Premier Says There is Going to be "Peace, Harmony and Everything Pleasant"—The James' Bay Region Heard From—General News From Ottawa.

The following despatch to the Toronto World, is given at its "face value":—

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Cabinet has had one of the lengthiest sittings to-day since the formation of the Government, the Ministers being in council from 11 a.m. until 6 o'clock p.m., with a very brief intermission for lunch, which was served in the anteroom adjoining the Council Chamber. The all-important school question was under consideration. At the close there was no official announcement, but the indications were that the meeting had been a most satisfactory one. The Premier greeted your correspondent with his usual urbanity, and said, in reply to a question, that there was going to be "Peace, harmony and everything pleasant."

WITHIN THE CHARMED CIRCLE.

At 3 o'clock Messrs. Watson, Cameron and McMillan, the Manitoba delegates, were admitted to the Council Chamber, and were closeted with the Ministers for three hours. Several gentlemen who are interested in the settlement of this question were about the precincts of the Council Chamber. Among them was Father Corbeil, an intimate of L'Abbe Proulx. Neither the Ministers nor provincial delegates to-night will speak of the result of the day's negotiations, and it is possible no official announcement will be forthcoming until the Manitobans have returned to Winnipeg. Judging from the Premier's remark, however, everything is looking lovely.

A leading Liberal said to-night he understood that the sum and substance of the proposed settlement is the allowance of half an hour each day for the teaching of religious doctrines by a minister of any denomination, and in school districts where the Catholics predominate the preference is to be given to Catholic teachers.

A delegation from Toronto, representing the Loan Mortgage Company's Association, and consisting of Messrs. Geo. A. Cox, J. Herbert Mason, S. C. Wood, R. H. Tomlinson, C. E. Clarke and A. G. Rutherford, interviewed Mr. Fielding to-day for the purpose of securing modifications in the conditions under which debentures of loan companies will be accepted by the Government as deposits by fire and life companies.

Ministerial papers confirm your correspondent's statement regarding the tariff investigation. The Free Press to-night says: "The Government has decided to send a small committee of Ministers to four or five of the main centres of population in Ontario, and later on to the cities of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, to secure the representations which the mercantile interests may desire to lay before them on the subject of the tariff revision. The bulk of the work will, of course, be done in Ottawa, but it was considered only fair that the Government should take the general sense of the interested parties on the subject."

The Minister of Militia has decided that some of the newly-purchased guns shall be mounted at Kingston. The people of Kingston have petitioned for a new drill shed, and the Minister looked over some desirable sites and investigated the need for a new armoury this week.

Dr. Borden and Major-General Gascoigne have been invited to attend a banquet to be given next week in their honor in the Quebec Garrison. They have accepted, and while in the Ancient Capital will avail themselves of the opportunity of enquiring into the state of the fortifications that engaged attention at Kingston.

A protest has been received from the Montreal corn exchange against the present state of the Lachine Canal, which, it is said, greatly impedes navigation. It appears that there has been a good deal of dredging done and that in some cases this has temporarily impeded navigation, but the reports from the Government engineers show that the contractors are doing all in their power to get the work completed quickly.

Dr. Bell of the Geological Survey has returned home from his season's exploration of the country in the vicinity of James Bay. Dr. Bell says that at Hudson Bay posts on the river all kinds of cereals are cultivated. Wheat, barley and oats are grown and matured, also all kinds of garden vegetables. The country he visited is located in about 50 latitude, or about the same latitude as Winnipeg. Dr. Bell found traces of valuable mineral deposits, but declines to speak of them, except in his official report to the department.

It is stated that Mr. Laurier has promised that the country will recognize the services of the volunteers who opposed the Fenian raids in 1866-7. The Imperial authorities will probably be asked to award medals and the Dominion will give land grants on condition of settlement.

Isaac Campbell, a prominent Winnipeg Liberal, who contested the city against Hugh John Macdonald a few years ago, arrived here to-day and joined the provincial delegates who are here on the school question. Mr. Campbell had an interview with Mr. Laurier.

The Goodwin case comes up in the Exchequer Court on the 27th instant. Mr. Goodwin has been notified by the department that if he does not proceed with his work on the Soulanges Canal within a certain number of days the contract will be cancelled.

Mr. Arch. Blue, Director of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, and Mr. Thos. Southworth, Provincial Clerk of Forestry, who have been here for two or three days, left for Toronto to-night. They have just made a trip over the Irondale and Bancroft Railway and its proposed extension. About 45 miles of this railway has been constructed east from Bancroft. Mr. Southworth says that it passes through a wild section, sparsely settled, but rich in minerals, offensive partisanship in connection with his mining duties, and Mr. Southworth was looking up the chances of renewing the timber growth of the country, which is badly burned out. The country is poor for farming, and those not engaged in mining, Mr. Southworth states, are making a very poor living, and would be much better settled somewhere else. Mining development has been carried on in a small way, but with fairly satisfactory results.

Premier Laurier informed me to-day that it was hardly likely he would go to England this fall.

Dr. Watson (Ian Maclaren) lectured here to-night to a large audience. The Premier presided and highly eulogized Dr. Watson's literary work. Nearly all the members of the Cabinet attended the lecture.

Dr. Bryce of Toronto, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, and Dr. Vaux of Brockville, a member of the board, were here to-day making an inspection of the outlets for the proposed main sewers.

A meeting of the Treasury Board was held to-night, after Dr. Watson's lecture.

R. B. Rogers, chief engineer of the Trent Canal, was in town to-day.

Dr. Montague and family left for Dunnville to-night.

H. B. D. Bruce, an officer of the Interior Department, dropped dead to-night. For a couple of days he had complained of not feeling well.

J. B. Tyrrell, the well-known geological surveyor, returned to Ottawa to-night. He spent the summer in the Nelson River district.

Tenders are being called for a new bridge over the Rideau Canal at Smith's Falls.

Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., has completed his labors in Ottawa, which kept him busily employed up to this week. He left for home last night.

Mr. George Baskerville of the firm of Baskerville Bros. is dead. He went to Colorado a few weeks ago to see his son, and contracted a cold, which developed into fever, and dropsy ensued, causing death.

OUR HAY SELLS WELL.

And Apples Will Be the Same in England If Shippers Take Care to Send the Right Quality.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Agent Down, at Bristol, reports to the Trade Department that Canadian hay is realizing good prices in England. He suggests that good prices can be realized by the apple trade, provided shippers take care that a good quality of stock is sent over.

SIX CHILDREN BURNED.

Father and Mother Went Away Leaving the Little Ones at Home and the House Took Fire.

New Whatcom, Wash., Oct. 16.—During the absence of J. S. Miller and wife of Linden, yesterday, their house was destroyed by fire and their six children were burned to death. Another child and a man named Frank Boise were seriously burned.

Savings Institute Suspends Payment.

Willimantic, Conn., Oct. 16.—The Willimantic Savings Institute suspended payment of deposits to-day, requiring the four-months' notice allowed by law. The officials of the bank are among the wealthy and solid citizens, and it is believed payment will soon be restored and the bank found, as the officers declared, in a solid condition.

British Steamer Aground.

London, Oct. 16.—The British steamer Assaye, Captain Carruthers, from London bound for Dantzic, is aground at Rewa. The British barque British-American, Captain Campbell, which sailed from Runcorn for Mobile, Sept. 30, has put into Belfast, having lost sails.

HE DIED FOR LOVE.

Preston Bookkeeper Suicides In Toronto.

JUMPED FROM ROSEDALE BRIDGE

He Went to the City to Consult Dr. Clarke as to His Mental Condition—Death Was Instantaneous and Many Bones Were Broken by the Fall of One Hundred Feet.

Toronto, Oct. 17.

Austin W. Clemens, 22 years of age, a bookkeeper from Preston, Ont., jumped from the notorious Rosedale bridge yesterday at 1 o'clock and killed himself.

The deceased, with his mother and sister, came to Toronto Thursday evening for purpose of consulting Dr. Clark of the Asylum relative to his mental condition. They were stopping with a relative, Conductor Anderson, 20 Beaconsfield-avenue.

Clemens was employed by the Preston Furnace Co. He was forced to give up his position through ill-health. His engagement with a young lady was also broken off. His troubles threw him into a state of despondency and melancholia, from which it was impossible to rouse him. It was on this account that he came to Toronto to consult Dr. Clark.

Young Clemens left Mr. Anderson's house before breakfast yesterday morning, and as he had not returned at noon, his relatives became anxious and consulted Dr. J. O. Orr, who had been treating him for a few weeks. He had not called on the doctor, and the first news they had of him was that he was dead.

About 12 o'clock Clemens met a man named Smith, who is employed at 581 Jarvis street, and asked him the location of the bridge from which others had jumped. The only one who saw him take the fatal leap was a Miss Dundas, a school girl. She ran to Mrs. Becher's house near by and gave the alarm. The jump was about 100 feet. The suicide struck on his head. His neck, ribs and arms and skull were broken. On his person was found a note addressed to John Anderson, 20 Beaconsfield-avenue: "I die for love. I entertain no ill-will to anyone."

The body was taken to the Morgue and subsequently removed to 20 Beaconsfield-avenue. Coroner Young issued a warrant for an inquest, but afterwards withdrew it.

A BLOODTHIRSTY FIEND.

John Imboden Brained His Sister and a Man Who Went to Defend Her—Hacked His Sick Brother.

Piedmont, N.Y., Oct. 16.—John Imboden, aged 23, of Reynolds County, killed his sister, brother and an old man who made his home with the Imbodens, on Wednesday afternoon.

Imboden brained his 15-year-old sister with an ax, and when Jacob Wilhem interfered, he was brained with the same weapon. He then entered the house, and finding his 20-year-old brother sick in bed, struck him on the head with the ax and hacked his body to pieces.

Imboden then attacked two young sisters, but they escaped and ran to their father who was at work in a cornfield. The father spread the news among the neighbors, and the constable and a posse of farmers found Imboden in the yard. He defied arrest, but was finally caught.

Last May Imboden's wife and two young daughters died suddenly. It is now believed they were poisoned by the bloodthirsty fiend.

THREE FIREMEN DEAD.

Montreal Has a Conflagration Which Causes Loss of Brave Men's Lives and Much Property.

Montreal, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The Montreal Fire Department suffered severely to-day, as two of the best men of the corps are lying dead beneath the debris of a down-town warehouse, and a third expired soon after being taken out. A fire having broken out in the premises of Gilmour Bros. & Co., wholesale fancy dealers, 31 St. Peter-street, the entire brigade was soon on the spot, and 16 men were fighting the fire on the third storey. Suddenly the flooring gave way, precipitating the brave firemen and all the lower floors to the basement below. Men hurried to the rescue, when it was found that two firemen, King of No. 1 station, and Charpentier of No. 7, were buried beneath the ruins, and up to the time of writing their bodies have not been recovered, while the third fireman, Paporte, was likewise killed by the fall. Nine other men were taken to the Hospital, more or less injured, but all but one, named Bennett, have since been taken to their homes. The remainder escaped unhurt. Messrs. Kearney Bros., tea, and Goldstein, cigar makers, next door, had a great deal of stuff damaged by water. The total loss may be $40,000.

The bodies of King and Charpentier were recovered at 11 p.m. and taken away in the ambulance.

Rev. Father Toupin, who for almost half a century was the zealous coworker of the late Father Dowd at St. Patrick's Church, died at 10 o'clock this morning, aged 82 years. Although a French-Canadian, Father Toupin's work had been almost exclusively among the Irish Catholic population, and his death is universally deplored by that element. He was a member of the Sulpician Order and leaves a large estate, which he inherited from his family. Father Toupin was charitable to a fault, and in his death the Montreal poor have lost a kind friend.

Memorial Dedicated.

Gapland, Md., Oct. 16.—The army correspondents and artists memorial was dedicated on South Mountain this afternoon with military, civil and social ceremonies. The monument is a battlemented feudal gateway 50 feet high and 40 feet wide, and through its open arches it affords extensive views of the battlefield country towards Washington, and of Antietam and Harper's Ferry.

Four Men Killed.

Van Buren, Ark., Oct. 16.—Four men were killed and several seriously hurt by an explosion of dynamite at Kennedy's camp, on the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf Railroad this morning. Contractor Kennedy was seriously injured. The accident occurred while workmen were blasting.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

AT the luncheon on the Canada Wednesday, Mr. Fielding went to the root of the steamship question when he said that one of the first essentials of success in the case of the Canadian fleets was that they should carry return cargoes from European ports to Canada. It will the part of the Liberal Government, says the Montreal Herald, so to adjust the tariff as to bring about that desirable end.

The plant and good will of the Montreal Herald have been purchased by a new and strong company, of which Mr. J. S. Brierley, publisher of the St. Thomas, Ont., Journal, is to be managing director. Mr. J. E. Atkinson, late of the Globe, is to be editor. The reorganisation of the enterprise has been already begun. The new management is determined to re-establish the Herald upon such lines as will shortly render it a journal of the highest class. The new management will have to "bustle" to improve the Herald, which has been in the recent past a most effective exponent of Liberal principles.

THE last great railway enterprise to be put on foot is the Parry Sound and James' Bay Railway. The most active promoters of the scheme, for which a charter was granted last year, are Messrs. Geo. A. Cox, W. Mackenzie and Geo. H. Bertram, of Toronto. When such men as these are at the head of the enterprise there must be something in it. It is claimed that the new territory that will be opened by this line is composed of extremely fertile farming lands. Parry Sound, the southern end of the line, is the terminus of a branch of the G. T. R. and of the almost completed Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway where the line runs through Wahanapitae district, where there is such promise of gold. The building of this line will represent, it is said, the opening up of a large and fertile area of the Province of Ontario, excellently adapted to purposes of settlement.

THE Ministers of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet are not merely ornamental personages who regard their offices as sinecures, with the bulk of the work of the department done by deputies. Yesterday we pointed out how Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, was applying his practical knowledge to practical investigation and arrangement, in the matter of cold storage, etc. Hon. Mr. Tarte is going through the Northwest, and Hon. A. G. Blair is putting himself in personal touch with the interests of his important department, that of Railways and Canals. On Wednesday he returned from a tour of inspection, in company with Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, and next week he will go over the route of the Trent Valley Canal system. He will be accompanied by Mr. Schreiber, and we have every reason to expect substantial practical results from the visit.

COLD STORAGE.

The Laurier Cabinet is engaged at present in maturing plans for the cold storage system, which it intends to adopt for next season. It will shortly enter into contract with several steamship companies for a trans-Atlantic cold storage service, subject to the approval of Parliament. The first industry to receive attention will be that of butter-making. Bonuses will be granted for the establishment of creameries throughout the country. A creamery which is established in 1897 will receive $100, of which $50 will be paid the first year, $25 the second, and $25 the third. Creameries established in 1898 will be bonused only to the extent of $50, and those established in 1899 will be helped to the extent of $25. By this means it is hoped to give the creamery business a good impetus at the start. When this has been got under way, attention will be paid to the shipment of fruit in the cold storage, but before the details of the system are determined the trade will be consulted. Most likely the fruit growers will be asked to establish cold storage stations in the various districts, which will be assisted by bonus or in such way as may be agreed upon after consultation. The trade in eggs will be taken up and trial shipments made by way of experiment. It is expected that in a few days the details of the arrangements for the butter business will be agreed upon and made public.

This is agreeable intelligence, and it is to be hoped the best success will attend the Government's efforts to grapple with the various trade wants which Canada is in the worst way in need of.—Commercial Gazette.

Czar and Czarina.

Palmer and Buckner's Campaign.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 16.—The southern trip of the National Democratic candidates, Generals Palmer and Buckner, has thus far been a marked success.

The Porte's Request Refused.

Constantinople, Oct. 16.—The embassies of the powers have sent an identical note to the Porte, refusing its demand to be accorded the right of searching foreign vessels in Turkish waters for Armenians.

Horse Burned to Death.

London, Ont., Oct. 16.—Incendiaries set fire to a stable at the corner of Piccadilly and William-streets, owned by D. Ashwell, early this morning, and but for its discovery a couple of lives might have been lost by suffocation by the smoke which entered an adjoining building. The inmates were gotten out in a stupefied condition. The stable was destroyed and a horse burned to death. Loss $900. This was the second attempt to fire the building.

Confusion as to the choice of a blood-purifier is unnecessary. There is but one best Sarsaparilla and that is Ayer's. This important fact was recognized at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893, being the only blood-purifier admitted to be placed on exhibition.

THE ALLEGED DYNAMITERS.

Tynan Starts for Paris and Kearney and Haines Reach New York.

Boulogne, Oct. 16.—P. J. P. Tynan, the alleged Irish-American dynamiter, who was released from imprisonment here last evening, started for Paris at 12.30 p.m. to-day. He will sail from Cherbourg for New York on Sunday on board the steamer Basle.

Tynan refuses to discuss his relations with his alleged fellow-conspirators, Bell, now under arrest in London, and Kearney and Haines, who were arrested and subsequently released in Rotterdam. All he will say regarding them is that they had a mission to accomplish, and this they have done.

Home Again.

New York, Oct. 16.—Kearney and Haines, the Irish-American suspects, recently released from prison in Rotterdam, were passengers in the second cabin of the steamer Werkendam, which arrived last night. Both men were well. Kearney was met by his wife and two children at the pier, and went to his home, No. 677 Washington-avenue, this city. Kearney was on the passenger list as John Williams, and Haines as Henry Smith.

CAMPANIA TOSSED.

The Big Cunarder Had a Tempestuous Voyage to Queenstown.

Queenstown, Oct. 16.—The Cunard Line steamer Campania, which sailed from New York Oct. 10, for Liverpool, arrived here at 12.59 p.m. to-day. She reports having experienced heavy gales throughout the passage, after leaving the banks of Newfoundland. At 5.34 o'clock yesterday morning the Campania passed an American line steamer eastward bound, which it is presumed was the Paris, from New York, Oct. 7, for Southampton, which is making the passage with her starboard engine disabled.

THE MOST WONDERFUL CURE

Of Epileptic Fits Ever Told of is Related in the Following Sworn Testimony—Hundreds Know the Case.

Samuel Duffin, farmer, West Missouri, county of Middlesex, was subject to epileptic fits since 1883, and during the past two years these fits visited him every week. He had the best medical advice that money could command, and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief, but all was of no avail. He had to be constantly watched, his nights were sleepless, and he felt that his life was gradually ebbing away. His condition could not possibly have been worse.

The day on which he began taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure was the turning point in his life, and with deep gratitude he now adds his testimony, under oath, to the wonderful power of the medicine. The fits have ceased, his appetite has returned and he sleeps well. Once or twice only since he commenced the medicine he has felt a slight dizziness, but this has soon passed off. His entire appearance has undergone a noticeable change, and hundreds of people in his vicinity can testify to the new lease of life given him.

The above facts are given in a sworn declaration made before C. G. Jarvis, Notary Public, and dated London, Ont., April 15th, 1896.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

SOME DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS

Sell Imitation Dyes for Their Own Benefit.

Diamond Dyes Benefit the User and Consumer.

If the enterprising druggist or merchant is desirous of cultivating a reputation for first-class goods, will the handling and occasional sale of crude and inferior dyes conduce to this end?

We know of some druggists in Canada who have lost the regular custom of hundreds of good buyers, owing to the fact that they have, for the sake of extra profits, sold imitation package dyes that have wrought ruin and destruction to the goods that people attempted to dye, and that gave general dissatisfaction.

The reliable druggists of the country handle and sell only the Diamond Dyes, and are therefor in a position to guarantee every package sold.

Inferior, crude and deceptive dyes would soon disappear if women insisted upon examining each package that the dealer handed to them. Imitation dyes are sold only for the benefit of greedy merchants. Diamond Dyes are sold to benefit and bless the user, and every woman should see that she gets them.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE EFFECTED BY PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Mrs. Bradford Was a Patient in Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal—Left the Institution After Sixteen Days of Treatment No Better Than When She Entered—A Patient in the Hospital Suggested Paine's Celery Compound to the Afflicted Woman—A Clergyman's Remarks.

Mrs. J. Bradford of Outremont, Montreal, was marvellously rescued from the grave by Paine's Celery Compound. She states her case as follows:—

"I was dreadfully sick, weak and completely broken down in health, and entered Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, but left after sixteen days of treatment, the doctors not knowing what my trouble was. While in the hospital the doctors did all they could for me, constantly giving me the very best attention.

"When I left the institution referred to I was no better, I had no appetite and could not sleep more than five minutes at a time. This condition of sleeplessness had continued for weeks. When I did sleep for a few minutes I would wake up in a terrible fright and find myself in a dreadful perspiration; then I would take chills. My temperature was often 100 degrees and over, while my pulse would be extremely weak.

"A girl patient in the hospital recommended to me Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and after using five bottles I am enjoying better health than I have had for years; my appetite is healthy and natural, and I sleep and rest well.

"I thank you for your valuable Compound; it accomplished wonders for me, and is worthy of all praise."

Rev. G. I. Campbell says: "Mrs. Bradford is a member of my church, in good standing, and her testimony may be relied on."

The above testimony in favour of Paine's Celery Compound, and its indorsation by a well known clergyman, should fill the sad heart of every sufferer with courage and new hope. It shows clearly that physicians may fail, but Paine's Celery Compound knows no failure in its work of life giving and building up the broken down system. If you are weak, run-down, nervous, sick and diseased, be assured that life and health will be your reward if you make use of Paine's Celery Compound. To-day it stands alone and unequalled in the world as a health-giver for the thousands who suffer.

ECONOMY THE WORD

Kingston Penitentiary to be Investigated.

MESSRS. MEREDITH AND NOXON

Now at the Capital Getting Their Instructions—The Status of Nelson, B. C., From a Customs Standpoint—New Regulations for the Militia Trade With Trinidad.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Messrs. Meredith and Noxon, the two Commissioners appointed to enquire into the affairs of the Kingston Penitentiary, are here receiving their instructions. They are enjoined more particularly to report upon more economical management of the institution, if that be possible. The basis upon which they will proceed is the Central Prison, Toronto, and the report will be virtually a comparison of the methods and management of the Federal institution with the provincial prison in the Queen City.

Enquiry at the Militia Department to-day elicited the statement that nothing had been done in the matter of the command of the Queen's Own Rifles, the position being the same as during the session of Parliament. The Minister, however, will take up the case shortly.

According to returns received at the Customs Department, the total mineral exports from the port of Nelson for the month of September were valued at $294,315. In view of the rapid development of that section of country, the Controller of Customs has instructed Inspector Clute to proceed to the Kootenay country and specially report on its needs from a customs standpoint.

A militia general order was issued to-day. It includes the regulations for the examination of candidates of the Royal Military College, Kingston, which will commence at the district staff office at the headquarters of the several military districts in which candidates reside on the 15th of June, 1897. It also makes some striking changes in the staff uniforms. For instance, staff officers of infantry will hereafter, in place of a blue patrol jacket, wear a blue serge jacket of similar pattern to the scarlet jacket. Saddle cloths have been discontinued as part of a staff officer's horse furniture, and, except in the case of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, the bearskin flounce will also be discontinued. Garments and articles about to become obsolete by to-day's order may be worn until Dec. 31, 1896.

Commercial Agent Tripp, at Trinidad, writes to the Department of Trade and Commerce that the subsidised lines from St. John and Halifax are regularly on time, but that if Canada must get the full benefit of the West Indian trade, faster boats must be put on. Eighteen days from St. John or Halifax is too slow, and one-third of a recent cargo of potatoes was found to be rotted on arrival at Trinidad. The time from New York is only eight days.

LAID IN THE TOMB.

Impressive Services at Canterbury Cathedral Interment of the Remains of the Archbishop.

London, Oct. 16.—The funeral services over the body of the Most Rev. Edward White Benson, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England, were held in the Cathedral at Canterbury this forenoon. The great edifice was crowded with people, among whom were the Duke of York and Prince Charles of Denmark, as the representative of the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, Duke of Cambridge and a host of ecclesiastical, political and social dignitaries.

There were several distinct services, the first one beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. The coffin containing the body of the deceased Archbishop was covered with a white and gold embroidered pall and was placed in front of the altar surrounded by lighted tapers. The Very Rev. Wm. Farrar, D.D., Dean of Canterbury, opened the series of services by celebrating the function of Holy Communion. The weather was extremely disagreeable, a heavy rainfall, accompanied by high winds prevailing, but this state of things had no effect in keeping people away from the Cathedral. Everybody present wore deep mourning, and the Primate's throne was heavily draped with black.

At 12 o'clock the funeral procession was formed in the cloister of the Cathedral, the clergy attached to the diocese leading, followed by the members of the House of Commons, members of the House of Lords, bishops and members of the convocation. Then came the Most Rev. Wm. D. McLagan, D.D., Archbishop of York and Primate of England; the Most Rev. Wm. C. Lord Plunkett, D. D., Archbishop of Dublin; Very Rev. F. William Farrar, Dean of Canterbury, and the Rev. Hugh Benson.

Next came the coffin, with the pallbearers, the Earl of Cranbrook, Lord Ashcombe, Lord MacNaghten, the Dean of Lincoln, Sir E. M. Thompson and the Chancellor of Truro.

Within the Cathedral the family and relatives of the dead Archbishop, the family of the Archbishop of York, and other representatives of private mourners occupied places in the rear of the choir.

As the procession reached the nave the choir sang Gounod's "Send Out Thy Light," and afterwards a special anthem composed by Sir Herbert Stanley Oakley, composer to Her Majesty in Scotland, and Professor of Music in the University of Edinburgh.

The clergy who officiated at the interment comprised Canon A. J. Mason of Canterbury; the Right Rev. Randal T. Davidson, Bishop of Winchester; Rev. Hugh Benson and the Archbishops of Dublin and York.

The interment took place in the vault of the Canterbury Cathedral.

To remove the constipated habit, the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

AWFUL SUFFERINGS

Which Were Endured by the Crew of a Vessel That Ran Into the Hurricane—A Gallant Rescue.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 16.—Among the passengers on the steamer Gate City, which arrived this afternoon from Savannah, were Captain Smith, his 15-year-old daughter Edith, and six seamen of the wrecked schooner Lelia Smith of Machias, Me., who owe their lives to the gallant conduct of the crew of the Gate City, who rescued them from their sinking vessel at the risk of their lives. Captain Smith says that he loaded a cargo of lumber at Wilmington, N.C., and left that port Sept. 26 for Beverly, Mass. Saturday, Oct. 10, when in the vicinity of Fire Island, he ran into a hurricane. The vessel soon began to leak. Sunday at 8 o'clock the vessel was full of water. The cargo in the hold alone kept the vessel afloat. The cabins were gutted by the waves. All the provisions and fresh water, together with the personal effects of himself, his daughter and crew, were swept into the sea. "I lashed my daughter to the quarter rail, she being clothed only in a thin skirt, the weather being bitterly cold, and the waves drenching her to the skin repeatedly. The crew and myself soon after lashed ourselves to the same rail and for the next 36 hours were without food. We suffered hardships that it would be impossible to describe. We had long given up hope of rescue when succor arrived in the shape of the steamer Gate City. The steamer hove to near us and, although the sea was running mountains high, she lowered a boat and, manned by some of her crew, they rescued us without accident."

Kidney Trouble of Some Kind—Lame Back and Weakness—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 12 (Special.—As stated by Mr. Wm. A. As soon as I decided that the cause might be from derangement of the kidneys I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that only a few boxes were taken before I was as well as ever.

SIR OLIVER BACKS THEM UP.

Kingston Penitentiary Officers Not Blamed for Shooting Convict Howell.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 16.—Yesterday the officers connected with the penitentiary were assembled by order of the warden, who read them a communication from the Department of Justice in reply to the report of the recent shooting of a convict. The officers were praised for their bravery and for the close observance of the duties devolving upon them, also for the manner in which they endeavor to fulfil orders given them to execute. The letter further said discipline must be enforced at any cost, and that convicts must be given to understand that if they attempt to escape, attempt violence to fellow-convicts or officers of the institution, they do so at their peril.

Family of Six Lost in the Storm.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 16.—The death list of the recent storm is being increased. It is reported that six corpses have been discovered on the coast between Tampa and Cedar Keys. The bodies are those of Mrs. Paul Hewitt and family. The party left Tampa for Cedar Keys in a boat, but were caught in the hurricane and lost their lives.

It Killed Him This Time.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 16.—William Weir was struck and instantly killed by a light switch engine as he lay drunk across the rails in the Erie yards, near Eighth-street, early this morning. Just about a year ago Weir was struck by the same switch engine, manned by the same crew, in an almost exactly similar manner, the accident that time resulting in fracturing his skull. He was a hard drinker, and leaves a widow and several children.

Seamen's Wages Reduced.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 16.—The Shipowners' Association has reduced wages for seamen $5 per month for lumber vessels and $2.50 per month for colliers. This rate only applies to Pacific coast ships, the owners alleging poor business. Much dissatisfaction prevails among the sailors and a strike probable.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Three Young Ladies Seriously Injured This Morning.

This morning as the Misses Johnston, who live about eight miles out of town, in Cavan, were driving along Aylmer street, together with another young lady, one of the shafts of their buggy suddenly dropped, just opposite Mr. Wm. Logan's blacksmith shop.

The horse sprang forward, throwing Miss Johnston from the vehicle on her head; the other shaft then dropped and, catching in the ground, upset the buggy, precipitating the other two young ladies to the street.

All three were picked up and carried into the residence of Mr. R. Norton, corner of Bethune and Brock streets, where it was sometime before the elder Miss Johnston recovered consciousness, having received a severe shock by falling upon her head. Her sister had both wrists sprained and the other young lady had a badly twisted ankle, as the result of the accident.

The buggy was repaired and during the afternoon the victims of the accident sufficiently recovered as to be able to drive home.

A VERY SAD DEATH.

A Whole Family Stricken Down with Typhoid Fever.

The death of John J. Hatrick, eight year old son of E. Hatrick, took place this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital of typhoid fever.

The case is a particularly sad one, as the boy's mother died only two weeks ago of the same disease, and the father and a sister are at present lying unconscious in the wards of the same institution—victims of the fever.

The first in the family to contract the disease was a nephew, and as he recovered the others were struck down. Two trained nurses were employed, and every effort was made to check the advance of the fever, but without avail, and immediately after the death of Mrs. Hatrick the other three members of the family were removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, the husband being too ill to attend the funeral of his wife.

The homestead is on Lansdowne avenue, and it is thought that impure water in the well may have disseminated the germs of disease among the family of Mr. Hatrick.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at one o'clock p.m., from the Hospital.

Monday Night's Attraction.

The fire scene in "The Heart of Chicago," which comes to the opera house next Monday night is said to be the most complete thing of the kind thus far accomplished. It is a representation of a section of the great Chicago fire, the localities chosen being the vicinity of State and Madison streets. Old timers of Chicago will readily recognize the buildings which have been reproduced from photographs. Pumping fire engines, the hose, cries of excited throngs, rushing cabs, great streams of leaping flames, flying debris and occasional explosions, serve to make this stage counterfeit a good imitation. Seventy-five people are on the stage during this scene.

NICHOLLS HOSPITAL GRADUATING EXERCISES.

The '96 Class of the Training School for Nurses.

MISS FANNIE DIXON READS THE VALEDICTORY.

There was a Very Large Attendance of Visitors Present in the Oddfellows Hall Last Evening to Witness the Presentation of the Diplomas and Medals to the Graduates.

The annual exercises in connection with with the presentation of diplomas and medals to the graduates of the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses took place in the Oddfellow's Hall last evening.

There was a large attendance of those interested in the work which the hospital is doing and as the long line of nurses filed in and took their places upon the platform they presented a very attractive appearance. The graduating class this year was composed of four young ladies—Misses Edith Johnston, Mamie Nattrass, Fannie Dixon and Reta Irwin, but the latter was unfortunately unable to be present on account of illness. The remainder of the class with Miss Bolster, Lady Superintendent, and Miss Bolster, head nurse, occupied chairs on one side of the platform, whilst opposite to them were seated the young ladies who are at present in training at the hospital. Mr. Richard Hall, President of the Hospital Board, occupied the chair and around him were seated Doctors Carmichael, Pigeon, Fife, Clarke and Caldwell of the Hospital staff.

The platform was beautifully decorated with plants brought from the Hospital hot-houses for the occasion by Mr. James Head.

In a brief chairman's address Mr. Hall expressed his pleasure at

THE LARGE ATTENDANCE.

He stated as an evidence that the hospital was being appreciated that the number of patients being treated was steadily growing larger each year. Last year there were 309 patients and this year showed an increase of 41. Seventy-five patients had been successfully operated upon in the surgical ward — an increase of fifteen over last year. Not one of these patients had been lost, which he considered was ample guarantee of the fact that surgical operations could be fully as skilfully treated in Peterborough as in any of the larger centres. The total expenditure this year was $8 412 00. The revenue amounted to $9,899.00, made up as follows:—Pay patients, $2,072.00; Ontario Government grant, $2,555.00; endowment, $5,072.00. With the increase in the number of patients, Mr. Hall explained, the Government grant became proportionately larger each year.

The hospital is badly in need of a new wing, to be used as an isolation ward for infectious diseases, and Mr. Hall thought the least the citizens of Peterborough could do was to come forward and voluntarily give the amount of money required to defray the cost of the addition, as they were able to enjoy the benefits of the hospital free of charge. The medical staff deserved thanks for giving their services for nothing to those unable to pay, and the people should show their appreciation by their liberal support in regard to the establishment of the new ward. (Applause.)

The chairman then called upon Misses Edith Hall and Ethel Wrighton to open the musical part of the programme with an instrumental duet. A brilliant interpretation of the duet "Il Trovatore" was given.

Dr. Pigeon was then asked to present the prize for bandaging to of Belleville, who was successful in winning it in the competition. He stated that the young lady had won it so meritoriously by her artistic bandaging that it was a pity all could not have witnessed her admirable work. In speaking of the establishment of the Nicholls Hospital, the Doctor stated that at first there was an atagonistic feeling exhibited towards the institution amongst the citizens, but he was satisfied that this was a thing of the past, as the most wealthy and influential class now patronized it. Any one, he stated, could receive equally as good attention as in any hospital in Ontario. The nursing was everything that could be desired, as care, diligence and cleanliness were exercised. In handing the prize to Miss Johnston, Dr. Pigeon expressed the opinion that the young graduate was a credit to the institution to which she belonged, and that the staff was proud of her work.

Another musical number was given by Miss Roxburgh, of Norwood, who contributed that beautiful solo "Sing to me the Auld Scotch songs." Little Lola Ostrom gave one of her interesting recitations entitled "The Waifs of London," which was liberally applauded.

To Dr. Fife fell the pleasure of presenting the diplomas and medals to the graduates. He spoke of the grand example set by Florence Nightingale, and exhorted the class to endeavour to follow in her footsteps and profit by her lesson of self-sacrifice. He told that they had now, in assuming the positions of general nurses, to assume a responsibility which was hitherto not theirs. The world was sending them forth into the world well grounded in the principles of their chosen calling, and he admonished them to cherish the disposition to work for suffering humanity. They could only succeed by being actuated by the highest motives. Their duty lay by the bedside of suffering, and when hope was gone to them fell the duty of soothing the pillow of the dying. Be true, said he, to your patient. Be true to your doctor; follow his instructions faithfully, see that nothing is left undone, second his efforts by all the moral force you possess. Inspire your patient with hope and those help him on the road to recovery. Do not inspire him with a distrust of his physician, as the results in this event might be most disastrous.

The members of the class then took the solemn affirmation to do their duty as nurses, after which the diplomas were presented and the medals bearing the motto, "Deo et humanitati," pinned to their uniforms by the Lady Superintendent.

Miss Sophie Cameron then contributed the vocal solo, "The Flight of Ages," in her clear soprano voice, after which Mr. W. D. Parker gave a most amusing Irish reading.

THE VALEDICTORY

was read as follows by Miss Fannie Dixon:

Once again has the time come for the members of the graduating class of nurses to take their departure from the Nicholls Hospital.

We cannot allow an occasion, fraught with so much importance to us, to pass without recalling in ever-grateful remembrance the kindness and attention bestowed upon us, by those who have had our training in their charge.

To the trustees, who have never ceased to do all in their power to carry out the beneficent purposes of the founders of this hospital, our acknowledgements are due, for having by their able management given us so excellent an opportunity of acquiring a competent knowledge of our profession.

To the medical staff of the Nicholls Hospital we are grateful for their constant desire to aid us in becoming versed in all the branches of the art of nursing. The courtesy and consideration shown to us by the members of the medical profession will always be amongst the most pleasing memories of our hospital experience.

To those who have had the direction of our lectures, demonstrations and examinations we would especially say that we feel that to them we are under no ordinary debt of gratitude for the time and trouble expended by them upon our preparation; and how shall we fitly thank our Superintendent and Head Nurse for the patience and industry displayed by them in the management of the details of our training. They have made the time of our probation no less pleasant than profitable by good advice and kindly sympathy.

We have in common with all those connected with the hospital, to mourn the death of Doctor Yelland, in whom we all recognised an able and rising man.

We also regret exceedingly that our friend and a faithful nurse, Miss Irwin, is detained from being with us, through sickness.

Stepping, as we are, from the threshold of the training school into the arena of the public service, we are sensible of the responsibility that rests upon us. An attentive nurse, realising the duties of her high calling, may do much to render efficacious the skill of the physician and to lessen, by care and timely sympathy, the suffering of the patient upon the bed of sickness.

We ask you, therefore, one and all, to accept these words of valediction as a grateful acknowledgement of the skill and attention which has been bestowed upon us, and though we are to take our departure from amongst you we feel that the time of parting is not one of separation, marking, as it does, merely the end of our apprenticeship and the beginning of our life work.

This concluded the programme for the evening and the exercises were finished by the singing of the National Anthem.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The Annual Convention to be Held at Millbrook.

The second annual convention of the Epworth League of the Peterborough district will be held in the Methodist church, Millbrook, on Tuesday, Oct. 27th.

In the morning the Executive Committee will meet. The programme for the remainder of the day will be:—

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The President, Mr W J Gardiner, B.A., in the chair.
2.00—Opening exercises, conducted by Rev T S McKee.
2.15—Appointment of Nominating Committee.
2.30—Reports of departments.
3.00—"How to Enlarge Missionary Interests," Rev D G Harrison.
3.15—"Advancement in the League," Miss M Mason.
3.30—"How to get More Young Men into our Societies," Rev W H Young, B.A.
3.45—"How the League and Sunday School may help each other," Mr S R Armstrong.
4.00—Collection.
4.05—"Personal Effort," Rev R N Burns, B.A.
4.35—Report of Nominating Committee. Introduction of officers elect.

EVENING SESSION.

The President elect in the chair.
7.30—Song service.
7.35—Opening exercises, conducted by Rev L Phelps.
8.00—Address, subject to be announced, Rev D C Day.
8.15—"What the League would like in its Pastor," Mr McIlduff.
8.30—"What the Pastor would like in his League," Rev J J Rae.

8.50—"Perils and Possibilities," Rev R N Burns, B.A.
9.30—Question drawer, conducted by Rev W H Young, B.A.
9.45—Closing consecration service in charge of Mr H P Kennedy.

All young people throughout the district are urgently invited to attend the convention.

The number of delegates that each League is going to send, and also the length of time they will stay at Millbrook should be sent to Miss Elena Eyres, Millbrook.

Besides local talent Mr. James Browne, tenor, of Peterborough, has been secured aid in the musical part of the programme.

Mr. W. J. Gardiner, B.A., Millbrook, is the president of the District League, and Mr. J. H. Beer, Ashburnham, secretary.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Gospel and song service at 8 to-night.

Bright Gospel talk and good singing at 4.15 meeting to-morrow.

Early prayer meeting at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning and workers' training class at 9.

Building Committee meets at 7 p.m., Monday.

Rev. Mr. Potter is absent from the Bible Institute on Tuesday, but his place will be suitably filled.

SCHOOL ADVERTISING.

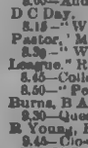
To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—School advertising is illegal. No teacher can of his own authority even allow it in his school, nor can he allow the pupils under his charge to be assailed by advertising agents while coming to or going from school. It would seem from recent occurrences that more than one person in this town who act as advertising agents are ignorant of the law on this point.

A good deal of harm is done the order and discipline of the schools as well as the morals of the pupils by this wholesale distributing of advertisements among them, and especially of fake matinee coupons or tickets for the opera. It is to be hoped the practice will cease at once.

TEACHER.

Variety the Spice of Life.



But when variety and cheapness are combined, as they are in our "Wonder"-selling "A. H. S." writing tablets, no wonder we keep ordering by the thousands. The "Wonder" contains 100 sheets ruled paper for 5c.; the "Record-Breaker," 100 sheets fine cream note for 10c.; the "A.H.S.," in ivory, white, cream, Osgoode and pure vellum, ruled or plain, for 15c. Letter sizes, the same, acknowledged the best tablets in the world; for 25c. A. H. STRATTON & Co., Peterborough Bookstore.

NEW PARLOUR ELECTRIC CAR.

Sumptuous Drawing Car Built by the Canadian General Electric Co.

There is now completed and awaiting shipment at the Canadian General Electric Company's works Park street a motor car built to fill an order from the Hull Electric Company, of Ottawa.

This car is designed, built and furnished to meet the requirements of special parties who may desire to have at their disposal an electric car provided with the same luxurious appointments as are found in the drawing room car service of steam roads. It is also the purpose of the Hull Electric Company to put this car in regular service whenever the crowded condition of their other cars make it desirable to furnish seats to parties who are willing to pay a small advance on the usual fares for the extra accommodation furnished.

The car is 30 feet long by 7 feet 6 inches wide, and is arranged in plan so as to give one main drawing room in centre and a vestibule at each end. The sides of the car are so formed as to bring one large window in the centre of the drawing room and three smaller windows at each side of the centre. The vestibules have each four windows arranged in the semi-circular framing forming the front of the vestibules and the end of the car. Entrance to and exit from the car are provided for on what is popularly known as the accelerator plan. This plan consists in arranging the main door, opening into the drawing room from the vestibules to one side of the centre of the car, and towards the door opening from the vestibules to the steps at the side of the car. This arrangement brings both the main and vestibule doors so near together as to make entrance to and exit from the car a matter of greatest convenience.

The exterior of the car is finished in solid mahogany, carefully filled, rubbed and varnished, thus dispensing with all painting except on the roof canvas and under parts of the car. The exterior decorations are of the simplest character, executed in gold. On each side of the car is the name, "Hull Electric Co." and below this the words "Parlour Car," which is also repeated on the front of the vestibules.

The interior decorations and furnishings are rich in character and in keeping with the exterior appearance of the car. The drawing room floor of the car is covered with a five frame Wilton carpet, neat in design and rich in colouring. The windows are provided with wool tapestry shades and rich silk draperies which contribute largely to the elegant appearance of both the exterior and interior of the car.

The seating is composed of 14 large arm chairs of a handsome willow pattern, and two stationary end seats. These are all provided with luxuriously upholstered cushions and backs covered with Nile green plush.

The ceilings are of quartered oak veneers, beautifully figured and decorated with richly carved and embossed mahogany mouldings.

The windows and door glass is ¼ inch polished plate with beveled edges; and, situated prominently in the end finish of the car, are beveled mirrors which reflect the interior finish and arrangement in a pleasing manner. The whole design and finish of this car is of a high order and a credit to the Canadian General Electric Company.

Electrically, the car is equipped with a complete outfit of the latest improved appliances and when it arrives on the tracks of the Hull Electric Company, it will be ready for immediate service.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—First snow storm of the season.

—The C.P.R. time table changes to-morrow.

—Master Gussie Arlidge, son of the late organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's, will sing at both services to-morrow.

—To-morrow will be Sunday school Sunday at St. John's. Services and sermons will have special reference to the occasion.

—The roof of the new Y.M.C.A. building is now in place and is being shingled. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupation about the month of March next.

—One of the horses which ran away yesterday morning at the Hunter street bridge had to be killed to-day on account of the injuries its received.

—Mr. R. M. Roy barely saved his reputation as a weather prophet. To-day during noon hour the clerk of the weather squeezed out a few hesitating snowflakes to technically fulfil Mr. Roy's prediction of a snowfall within 48 hours. But it was a snowfall on the instalment plan.

—October is not the nicest month in the year. It is the transition month. It is too late for summer clothing, and too early for winter clothing. It is hardly time for furnaces and stoves, and yet houses are too cold without some artificial heating. It is in fine the month of "melancholy days" and shivery nights.

—The largest transaction in eggs that has been made for some time in Montreal, says the Trade Bulletin, was a purchase by a leading dealer of 50,000 dozen, consisting of 25,000 dozen of held fresh, and 25,000 dozen of choice fall stock, at 12c. per dozen for the lot. The market has a firm and upward tendency, owing to the large quantity that has been shipped to England.

—It is interesting to learn the amount of food and forage required to feed the volunteer corps and horses at the recent camp held at Kingston, as submitted to the Government by the supply clerk, was as follows: 12,550½ pounds of bread, 90,144 pounds of meat, 9,056 rations of groceries, 151 bushels of potatoes, 17¾ tons of hay, six hundred weight of straw, 717 bushels of oats, 33 cords of wood.

AMATEUR CYCLIST.

Wants Bicycle Riders and the Public to Know That he was Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, (Special) Oct. 5.—People generally, who take an interest in cycling, as well as amateurs and professionals everywhere, will remember a name familiar in sporting events.—Mr. Louis H. Bounsell, who resides at 573 King street east, this city. Bicycle riders will be especially pleased to learn that his reappearance this season in good form is due to his entire recovery from serious kidney trouble which had for a long time been interfering with his work. He desires all his friends as well as the public to know that his recovery is entirely due to using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cleaning Soiled Books.

Ink stains may be removed from a book by applying with a camel's hair pencil a small quantity of oxalic acid, diluted with water, and then using blotting paper. Two applications will remove all traces of the ink. To remove grease spots, lay powdered pipe-clay each side of the spot and press with an iron as hot as the paper will bear without scorching. Sometimes grease spots may be removed from paper or cloth by laying a piece of blotting paper on them and then pressing the blotting paper with a hot iron. The heat melts the grease and the blotting paper absorbs it.

THE HASTINGS ROAD RACE.

Local Boys Participate and Ride Well.

The Hastings twelve-mile road race was held yesterday, and Messrs. Will Lytle and Bruce Rickey participated.

Lytle was the "scratch" man and Rickey had two and a half minutes start of him. There were twelve men in the race, Rickey came in fifth and Lytle seventh. The former made twelve miles in 39 minutes, and Lytle did it in 37. Lytle won the time prize, consisting of a clock and pair of trousers. Both men had to do their own pacing both ways, which accounts for the slow time.

Two of the Hastings men have entered in the Peterborough road race, which takes place Monday afternoon.

The official score at the finish was as follows:—1st place, S. Bailey, handicap, 12 min., time 42½ min.; 2, Frank Hill; 3, R. Morrison; 4, Geo. Hill; 5, B. Rickey; 6, B. Dulmage; 7, W. Lytle; 8, P. Lancaster; 9, H. Lambert. Lancaster and Lambert got bad falls, which ruined their chances of winning. Last year Lancaster won in 38 minutes.

PERSONAL.

Miss Sophie Cameron is up from Port Hope for a few days.

Mrs. Grassett is very much improved after a somewhat serious illness.

Miss B. Roxburgh, of Norwood, who is now teaching in Keene, is in town spending a day or two with Miss Cameron, George street.

A son of Hon. Mr. Patterson, Minister of Customs, who is a theological student at Knox College, Toronto, is seriously ill. His father went to the city last night.

The Port Hope Guide says,—Mrs. Harry Rush, Peterborough, who has been in poor health, spent several weeks visiting friends in town and returned home to-day, greatly benefitted by her stay in the most healthy town in Ontario.

The Lakefield News says,—Mr. W. H. Wrighton, of Peterborough, visited the Lakefield cheese factory on Tuesday last, and congratulated Mr. Kline on his fine lot of cheese, it being as fine a lot as he had seen for some time. The factory will ship their cheese on Monday.

Mr. J. W. Johnston, Principal of the Ontario Business College, Belleville, came up to Peterborough last evening to witness the graduating exercises in connection with the Nicholls Hospital Training School for Nurses. He had the pleasure of seeing his daughter, Miss Edith Johnston, receive her diploma and medal, and also the special prize won in the bandaging competition. He was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Wm. Johnston, Inspector of Weights and Measures.

The Bishop of Huron has been pleased to appoint Rev. Carl Smith, Curate of St. John's Mission, to the parish of Berlin, county of Waterloo. Rev. Mr. Smith has accepted the appointment and although he will be generally missed by the parishioners of Peterborough, yet all will be pleased to hear of his advancement. He came to Peterborough from Lindsay only a little over a year ago, but during this time he has won the confidence and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

"The Canadian Mute," a journal published at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville, says: John Crough was pleasantly surprised a few days ago to receive a visit from his papa, who was accompanied by a lady friend. John showed his visitors through the industrial departments, they having arrived too late in the afternoon to visit the classes. The boys asked John if he did not think that nice lady was a prospective new mamma, he owned up that he thought and hoped she was, and so it proved, for as they left John's father told him that they had been married that morning. Congratulations then flew around.

CURLERS ORGANIZED.

PETERBOROUGH ROAD RACE.

Intending competitors in the Peterborough road race are again reminded of the fact that they cannot start in the race unless their entry fee of fifty cents is paid into the hands of the secretary by this evening.

THE WHEEL.

The handicap road race held Thursday under the auspices of the Cobourg Bicycle Club, developed keen interest in that section of country, and the streets of Port Hope and Cobourg were crowded with people to see the race. The course was from Cobourg to Port Hope and return, distance 16 miles. Twenty-five riders entered. The time prize was won by J. Webster, in 48 minutes; Foot, 2nd. The first place prize was won by Harry Holland, with H. W. Laird a close second. The other riders came in in the following order:—3, Crozier; 4, Johns; 5, Delaney; 6, Score; 7, Rorabeck; 8, H. Hawley; 9, Hillier; 10. Pearse; 11, J. Webster; 12, Tait; 13, Foote; 14, Staples; 15, Mitchell; 16, Floyd; 17, Haynes; 18, Phillips; 19, Baker; 20, Woods.

From Producer to Consumer

What makes Sutcliffe's so distinctively Sutcliffe's is the spirit that actuates the merchandising—all the time striving to serve our customers better and better, shortening the road from producer to consumer and saving to patrons every penny of cost. Two buyers have been in the English and Continental markets during the Summer months securing the right things for Fall, and they were supplied with the cash to enable them to take advantage of every concession, to get the choice of stocks and, in some cases, dictate prices. Whatever we offer you at any time, at any price, you may be sure is right, else we couldn't offer you "money back if you want it." If you buy your goods by mail order, drop us a card, and we will mail you samples of anything sampleable and also send you free our New Catalogue for Fall and Winter. 16

OFFICE—FURNITURE WAREROOMS

NOWADAYS, when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops.

Working in this way has manifold evils. As an old colored Aunty used to say: "There's always somethin' the matter. If it isn't one thing it's two." The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

There is no human ailment that so saps the energies, so deadens the ambitions, as that coming from the bowels forgetting their vocation, or the liver only working about eight hours out of the twenty-four.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

MRS. ROSANNA M. BLISS, of Colaise, Osswego County, New York, says:

"I had suffered much with dizziness, sometimes faintness from too much mental work. Over exertion physically caused constipation of the bowels. I tried liver pills. They gave temporary relief. Two years ago I began using Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have, at intervals, used three bottles, and I am now enjoying uninterrupted good health."

Yours truly,

Rosanna M. Bliss

A FAMINE IN INDIA

Is Inevitable Unless Rain Falls Shortly—Calcutta Merchants Selling American Wheat.

London, Oct. 16.—The Viceroy of India has cabled to the Government that owing to the lack of rain the crops in Northwestern India in several districts of Central India and in Upper Burmah have been seriously damaged, and that unless rain falls shortly a famine will be inevitable. There is some local feeling in the unaffected districts, owing to the exportation of wheat to the districts in which the crops are damaged, and this has caused a rise in prices. Merchants in Calcutta are now selling American wheat, the importation of which is expected to favorably affect prices, but the present dearness is the cause of the Government granting some immediate relief to the sufferers. A grant of ten lakhs of rupees has been sanctioned for the construction of temporary wells in the northwest and other relief works if necessary.

It is far easier to prevent than to cure the serious forms and complications of kidney disease.

We don't say this because we doubt the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but it is better to avoid the wear and tear by curing at the minor stage with a single box.

The dangers of every sufferer are of a three-fold nature:—Not to know what ails; to neglect when he knows; and to despair when everyone says he is going to die.

If you are not posted in the symptoms of kidney disease write to the Dodd's Medicine Company, Toronto, Ont., for their Calendar for 1897. It will cost you only a postal card and is worth a hundred.

If you suffer and neglect kidney disease; remember that nineteen out of every twenty deaths result from this disease and that every such death is prevented by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

To those who suffer and despair of cure, we briefly say: We have never yet heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills failing to cure. We have letters from more than a thousand who were cured when given up by physicians and friends. We have published many scores of such letters and the writers are still living in health and comfort.

Over one hundred thousand persons in Canada have been cured of kidney disease in its simpler forms—cured by from one to three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure any kidney disease. If in need of kidney treatment don't permit yourself to buy anything short of the original and genuine. Why should you try experiments to benefit those who say they have something "just as good?"

CONVOCATION AT M'MASTER.

The Baptist University Opens This Year With the Largest Number of Students in Its History.

Toronto, Oct. 17.

McMaster University held its annual convocation in Bloor-street Baptist Church last night. The statement made some time ago that the classes in this infant university were larger this year than ever was verified last night when the body of the church was packed with undergraduates in theology and arts. In the front rows were the lady undergraduates, and with them the Moulton College girls. There were a good number of friends of the university in the gallery.

ON THE PLATFORM.

The Chancellor, Rev. Dr. Wallace, presided, and with him on the platform were: Prof M S Clark, Dr J H Raud, Rev C A Gaston, Drs D M Welton, A H Newman and C A Goodspeed, Profs James Ten Broecke, J S Campbell and A B Willmott, Messrs J W Russell, W H Piersol, W Findlay and W S McFey.

The proceedings were opened by the audience singing heartily the 79th Hymn. Dr. Raud read the first 11 verses of the first chapter of Philippians, and Aev. Chas. E. Easton led in prayer.

In delivering the opening address, the Chancellor spoke encouragingly of the present outlook for the university and affiliated colleges, Moulton and the Baptist College in Woodstock. In the two latter the attendance this year was about the same as that of last year, but in the university the registration was really beyond the accommodation of the building. In the entering class in theology there are 10 graduates in arts, the like of which has never been known in the history of Baptist theological education in Canada.

The university expects to graduate 27 in arts next spring. This speaks well for an institution that has graduated but four classes. In the faculty of the university no changes have occurred during the year, except that Prof. McKay has leave of absence for a year of special graduate study at Cambridge, England, in mathematics, and Mr. J. W. Russell, B.A., is lecturing in his stead, and is assisted by Mr. Wm. Findlay, B.A., fellow in mathematics.

Dr. Wallace then called on Prof. Farmer to deliver the address of the evening, on "The Relation of McMaster to the Theological Trend of the Age." In giving this address, Prof. Farmer clearly showed that he had a clear grasp of the tendencies of the present century, and that he would be no mean disputant in theological controversies.

He said the opening of a university at any time and in any place was a noteworthy event, but the founding of another such institution in Toronto right under the shadow of the great mother of universities was something that challenged attention and invited enquiry. Why was McMaster founded? In the words of the charter, it was to be a school of Christian learning. This did not mean a mere varnish of Christianity. McMaster was founded on the principles of Christianity as laid down by Christ himself, and the reason that it would not enter into confederation when asked a few years ago was because it was feared that this foundation would be interfered with, and too much secularism would creep in.

The speaker then went on to show that the trend of the age was agnosticism and infidelity. This had begun soon after the Reformation broke Catholicism. In the 18th century rationalism was rampant in England. From there it went to France, but its strongest hold was in the philosophic mind of Germany, where it was seized upon by court and university. An attempt was made to reconcile this denial of the supernatural with religion. Dislike for the supernatural became a malaria, which attacked all alike, until philosophy, science, literature and art were pervaded by it. The result was that the masses became affected with it, and religion in a short time became a weak factor in German society. It soon spread to England and America, where it took the form of what is called higher criticism among the educated, as it had done in Germany, but among the rank and file of the people it sowed the seeds of dislike for the Gospels, and a tendency to look upon them as being not unlike other pieces of literary art.

Coming now to the duty of McMaster, Prof. Farmer said it was to knock down this corroding scepticism and to teach people to accept the truths of the Bible in their original intention. The tendency of the age is to implant in the minds of people a desire to constantly want something new, not only in the material things of life, but also in their theological teachings. The duty of McMaster was to check this and make people satisfied with the plain truth which the Gospels imported. One thing God demanded from his followers was obedience, and this McMaster must teach her students or she would fail in her mission. The men who have become the most distinguished in life have been men who have obeyed, and obedience must always be kept before the public eye.

The Chancellor brought the services to a close by pronouncing the benediction.

Steamer's Cargo on Fire.

London, Oct. 16.—The German steamer Europa, Captain Bothe, from Antwerp for New York, previously reported as having put into Plymouth on Oct. 10, in a leaking condition and with her cargo shifted, has met with further disaster at Plymouth, her cargo having caught fire and been damaged to the extent of several thousand pounds.

Scattered the Rebels.

Havana, Oct. 16.—Gen. Molins reports that while on his way on the gunboat Contra Maestre, in response to a request for assistance by the Spanish troops on account of the recent engagement with the rebels at Rio Hondo, near Trinidad, he discovered a number of groups of insurgents on shore. He landed with a party of marines and dispersed the rebels, capturing 500 rifles, a quantity of ammunition, a gun carriage, stores of medicines, etc., with two ships' boats, bearing the name "Dauntless."

TWEED TOPICS.

Mrs. James Davenport Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Davenport is well-known in Tweed, and this is how she spoke to our representative concerning Doan's Kidney Pills. Said Mrs. Davenport:—

"I have suffered for some years from dizziness, puffing under the eyes, pains in the side and back, sleeplessness, poor appetite, and, in fact, was in a bad state generally.

"I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at P. K. Newton's drugstore, and experienced immediate relief from their use.

"I am now very much better indeed; appetite improved, pain almost disappeared and I feel stronger and healthier in every particular.

"I can heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

A STUPENDOUS WORK.

It Has Cost the U. S. Government a Million Dollars to Establish the Trans-continental Arc.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The coast and geodetic survey has just concluded its labor in the field upon the most stupendous geodetic survey ever undertaken in any country, and which gives the United States the longest base line upon which to establish subsequent surveys, in existence in the world. It is known as the trans-continental arc, and lies along the 39th parallel of north latitude, extending from ocean to ocean. Its eastern end is at a point on the Atlantic ten miles south of Little Egg Island Lighthouse, below Cape May, and its western end is six miles north of Punta Arenas Lighthouse, on the Pacific, above San Francisco, several miles. According to the radius of the 39th parallel, as given by Bessel, the famous astronomer of Konigsberg, Germany, who first calculated the diameters of the earth and measured the distance from the earth to 61 Cygni, the nearest fixed star, the length of the arc as measured by the coast and geodetic survey officers is 111 feet in error; and, according to the radius of the same parallel as fixed by Sir Andrew Clarke of Glasgow University, the error is 98 1-2 feet. But General Duffield, superintendent of the survey, declares that these variations from the heretofore established standards show error in them and not in the calculations of his scientists.

By the measurements made on the line and which have been aggregated in the office here, the arc, at sea level for the entire distance, that is following the curvature of the earth's surface, is 2625.8 miles in length. The establishment of the radius of the 39th parallel from these measurements is a matter for further calculation. The work was inaugurated by the survey nearly half a century ago, and has cost the Government about one million dollars. Russia and China are the only other countries on the globe wherein a base line of anything like equal magnitude is possible, and in neither one is it likely to be surveyed for many years.

A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

FINISHING TOUCHES.

Little Things That Add Much to the General Appearance.

A lady never appears in soiled garments, and pays the strictest sort of attention to the small adjuncts of her toilette, namely, her shoes, gloves, neck lingerie and headgear. Her gown may be of extreme plainness, but it will be of good material, it will be well cut, and perfectly suited to her in every detail. Her shoes will be of the trimmest build, fitting her to a T, not cramping her in the least, nor so loose as to be slovenly. They will always be the glossiest of the glossy, and the blackest of the black, unless they happen to be russet, and if they are you can see your face in them. Her gloves are a perfect marvel of neatness, and fit as easily as does her boot; there is never the vestige of soil on them, every button is in place, and all the fingers well drawn on, so there are no provoking ends at the tips, staring at one, telling of a hurried toilette.

The neck rigging follows the latest fad in that line, is always made up of the best material, well made, and daintily worn. It may be no more than a billowy ruch of black chiffon or tulle, but it is so full and fluffy that one would prefer it to a more expensive article.

Her hats are the refinement of good style and are always becoming. Just at present small toques obtain largely, as they always do in the "off" season. Sometimes they are made up of bright yellow straw heavy with black pinnes and big jet ornements; sometimes they are all black, a soft mass of billowy tulle, in which are tucked clusters of purple violets.

The day for roses has passed, and surely everyone is glad, for the majority of hats have become such a tawdry mass of faded roses that one wishes the flower would never be produced in cheap materials again.

The plain skirt is certainly on the wane, although most women are loth to see it go; one can be sure of never looking the dowdy in a plain skirt, but the same cannot be said of the decorated affair, for not all modistes know where to stop when trimming a skirt—most of the trimming takes the form of panels either plain or lace covered.

The term panel suggests straight lines, and rather uncouth cutting up of the skirt to admit of the insertion of these straight bands; but there are panels and panels. The most popular form is in the shape of small fans of accordion pleated material set in at regular intervals along the foot of a skirt, reaching to the knees. These give the skirt an unusual width and flare, so that it is ent much narrower than if it is to be untrimmed.

This bouffant foot-decoration will not admit of being worn by a short figure; here the long, straight side panels obtain strongly and are far more becoming. When actual panels are not set in, they are simulated by bands of braid, velvet, or any sort of narrow edgings laid on in rows Sometimes a broad rever is laid back on the skirt and trimmed with buttons; in this case they spread widely at the foot and graduate to a point at the waist

A fancy for decorating the skirt seams shows itself occasionally, and has the effect of creating a dressy skirt from a plain one. Pipings of velvet or satin are mostly employed in this manner, the same idea being carried out in the bodice and sleeves.

PYNY-PECTORAL

Positively Cures
COUGHS and COLDS

In a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Garceau of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. C. McComber of a long-standing cold.

MR. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 598 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

The Housewife.

The good wife is the most invaluable person to be found on earth. Of whatever station she may be, there is no woman's work she cannot do. As a housekeeper she is always active, but without bustle or fuss. She holds her domestic team in hand and drives them steadily along the highway of life.

Her eyes are everywhere, and nothing escapes them. The spiders in the corners, the dust on the ledges, the dull surface of the glass, the powdery look of the carpet—she sees it all, and her servants soon begin to understand that trying to hoodwink her is labor in vain, and that they had better do their work with thoroughness if they want peace in their lives or length of days in the lady's service.

She is an admirable cook and can train her young servants as well as any institution of them all. She is great in invalid cookery, and when her beloved are ill trusts their food to no one else. She prepares all with her own hands; and then she knows what she is about, and how both material and cooking are as perfect as human honesty and skill can make them.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

Cherry Stone Curiosities.

There is a cherry stone at the Salem (Mass.) museum, which contains one dozen silver spoons. The stone itself is of the ordinary size, but the spoons are so small that their shape and finish can only be well distinguished by the microscope. Dr. Oliver gives an account of a cherry stone on which were carved 194 heads, so distinctly that the naked eye could distinguish those belonging to popes and kings by their mitres and crowns. It was bought in Prussia for $15,000, and thence conveyed to England, where it was considered an object of so much value that its possession was disputed and it became the object of a suit in chancery.

Hint Worth Remembering.

When bed clothing is not sufficiently warm, two or three newspapers spread between the blankets will secure a comfortable night. This is a hint worth remembering by those who travel much, and who do not carry about a supply of rugs.

Heart Disease Relieved in 30 Minutes.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gives perfect relief in all cases of Organic or Sympathetic Heart Disease in 30 minutes, and speedily effects a cure. It is a pearl remedy for Palpitation, Shortness of Breath, Smothering Spells, Pain in Left Side and all symptoms of a Diseased Heart. One dose convinces. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

To Improve Watermelons.

The plan adopted by Mr. Swink, perhaps the most famous of Colorado's commercial melon growers, if not new, is certainly commendable. When picking in the field at any time during the season, he would, when a specimen of his ideal melon was found, pick it, mark it by scratching a cross on the skin, and send it in with the load, where it was laid aside, and the seed from these selected melons was the following season planted in a separate patch from the market field. This was his seed patch, and when the melons were matured in it, all were saved for seed to be planted in the field and used to supply the demand for seeds of this variety, which soon became known in the country around as the Swink melon, and to the outside world as the Rocky Ford melon. This seed patch was always planted on a new piece of land each year, and grown from seed of the ideal melon, in the selection of which every detail was taken into consideration, including the color of seed, thickness of rind, shape, color and arrangment of mottling on skin, etc.

Bottled Breath.

Mountain climbers will be interested to read of the successful experiments of Dr. Berson, of Strassfurt, who, by means of "bottled breath," has been enabled to ascend to great heights, both on land and in balloon. The doctor, when endeavoring to get further above the level of the sea than any one else has ever climbed or flown, carries along a cylinder of compressed oxygen, fitted with a tube for breathing. Whenever he experiences discomfort on account of the rarity of the atmosphere a few whiffs from the cylinder suffices to restore him. Dr. Berson, by means of this device, recently ascended to an altitude of 31,800 feet which is 9,000 feet higher than the summit of Mount Everest.

A Place to Stay In.

"Kind sir," said the well-dressed stranger to a resident of the city, "is there a home for the friendless in this place?"

"Yes, there is; but you don't look as though you were forced to seek such a refuge."

"You must not judge by appearances, sir. I am a baseball umpire."

Don't You Remember Long Ago?

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past. School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enchantment of distant views. The old school and church, the boys and girls we romped with, father's voice, mother's smile, the joy of the holiday—no pleasures of the present can compare with those enjoyed in the days now locked up in the eternity of the past. In a similar way we recall the old time tested friend of the past—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—that never failed us then and is just as sure to serve us now Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure safe, and painless. Use no other.

A Delicious Spanish Drink.

And at this hour the town belched forth beggars, and every boy demanded to be our guide. But it was unaided we found our way, now to the beautiful doorway of a plain yellow-washed house standing in some silent, remote little square, and now to an old Moorish courtyard, its graceful arches disgraced and dishonored; now to an angle in the street overlooked by a high balcony gay with Moorish tiles; to a church hot and sweltering, as if it had never had time to cool, the silks and jewels of Christ and the Virgin gleaming from half seen altars; or to hanging gardens of palms as luxuriant as they should be in the town where was planted the first palm that ever grew from Spanish soil; or to whatever chance loveliness there was in the monotonous perspective of low, white houses. Nor did we need a guide to show us the way to the cafe, where we drank the most delicious cooling drink that was ever yet made. It is worth while to be thirsty in Spain; for its helada, or crushed ice flavored with lemon or orange or banana, is the daintiest device with which this thirst could be quenched, and there is no town in Spain where it is to be found in such perfection as at Cordova. But you must be fairly boiling to appreciate it.—"Midsummer in Southern Spain," by Elizabeth R. Pennell, in the September Century.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. LXXIV.

Our Boys.

Last week this subject was dealt with and the conclusion appeared to be that the boys were made or unmade by home influence and training. Let us examine this a little more fully and see the process of turning out bad boys. If home is well regulated the children at night will draw around the table to study their lessons, and after study retire to bed. Their thoughts are on their school work. They may play heartily at proper times but their minds are directed in proper channels. Ambition is aroused. They are interested in things that are wholesome; and vicious thought, unnatural excitement and vagrant habits are kept aloof. And so from school life they turn to their life work. But look at the other side of the picture. The father is himself indifferent or selfishly indulgent and leaves the care of the children to the mother. The mother is overtaxed with work or is unequal to the responsibility. Perhaps there are slovenly or vicious habits indulged in. The children find more comfort out of the home than in it. Then it may be taken for granted that if all the best children are in the house, those who are out are not the best but the worst. "Evil communications corrupt good manners" and the children soon pick up knowledge and habits that are evil. Then boys learn to indulge themselves in many ways, sweets, gum, playthings, etc., they require money to procure these and they manage to get it

IN DOUBTFUL WAYS.

The walls of the town are covered with flaring pictures, minstrel bands play and the boys must go to the show. Have you noticed how many ill dressed and ill kept boys are there, and have you not wondered where they got the money for their tickets? These terrible shows are a prolific nursery to crime. The boys are weaned from healthy, simple boy life, and their minds excited by the presentation of unnatural, unreal and vicious ways. More and more the simple, plodding, industrious efforts so necessary to educate boys for life's great battle become distasteful. More and more idleness, vicious, self-indulgent and criminal ways become natural. Now the pool room, the bar room, and worse places, are resorted to, and your bad boy is a finished article. Go back again to the beginning, and you find the responsibility is with the parents. The child rebels at the breast, and the mother's authority must be exercised and the baby conquered before it is weaned. The mastery obtained must never be lost. There must be firmness, but it may be combined with gentleness and love. If the child is not conquered the mother is. If mother fails the child is ruined, and her heart is broken. Is there any training of mothers? We educate and educate, but where is the school to teach girls to be mothers? The daughters of a good mother will themselves be good mothers, but if there is a bad foundation, what of the future? I have come to the conclusion that the most prolific source of crime is ill-tempered, ill-controlled and injudicious mothers. "Every wise woman buildeth her house, but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands."—Prov. xiv, 1.

Our Girls.

And now, what about our girls? They do not appear in the police court, but they do appear on our streets; there they are tried and judgment passed upon them. That judgment is not favourable. I refer to the hundreds of girls who on summer nights walk up and down George street, up one side and down the other, tricked out in finery and fancy clothes "gotten up to kill."

Poor girls! If they only knew how sensible men pity them and grieve to see all this effort to make a vulgar show in order to catch the eye of the young men, or in the equally foolish attempt to rival their sisters, they would abandon the habit. The last shilling is spent on clothes of gaudy, flimsy texture, unfit for the street and wholly out of keeping with the station and means of the wearer. Many of these foolish creatures are sadly wanting in good honest stuff for their every-day vocation. Everything is sacrificed for this street parade. Alas! the sacrifice is frequently more than money will buy. In large cities girls thus exhibiting themselves would at once be classed as fallen ones, and, if treated ungallantly, would have themselves to blame. I am sure of our town little dream of impropriety in this parade business, but if they will seriously look at it they will realise that they are holding themselves too cheap and placing themselves where they may be often unjustly considered. Where girls have such false estimates of the importance of dress, such false judgment as to the dress which is becoming them, they make too great sacrifice to gratify this morbid taste and thus unfit themselves for the honourable and dignified life which they should fill as wives and mothers. The parade business has become a nuisance and a crying evil and we would urge upon the girls that proper self-respect and sensitiveness about their good name which would cause them to shrink from putting themselves in a position where they are indistinguishable from those whom they blush to think of. In the case of birds nature gives the gay plumage to the male and he flutters and struts and disports himself before the modest little hen bird that he may charm her and win her favours, but in mankind in civilised states the male is modest in his attire and the license of ornament is permitted to the female, yet no sensible man is favourably impressed with the girl who makes a "holy show" of herself, and a poor man is afraid to think of marriage with a girl whose clothing suggests injudicious expenditure and a bad use of his earnings. The girl who has the good judgment and good taste to dress in clothing suitable to her station, and in style simple and neat, will be much more attractive and inviting than one decked out in loud and shoddy attire.

A LIFE OF MARTYRDOM

ENDURED BY THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM CONSTANT HEADACHE.

One Who Suffered Thus for Over Twenty Years Relates Her Experience, Which Will Prove Valuable to Others.

From the Tribune, Mattawa, Ont.

Among the residents in the vicinity of Mattawa there is none better known or more highly esteemed than Mr. and Mrs. R. Ranson, who have been residents of this section for the past fifteen years. Mrs. Ranson has been a great sufferer for years, her affliction taking the form of dissiness and violent headaches, and the attacks would come upon her so suddenly that she could scarcely reach her bed unaided, and would be forced to remain for three or four days, unable to take any nourishment and suffering more than tongue can express. She was but seventeen years of age when these attacks first came upon her, and the doctor who then attended her, said that in his opinion her life would not extend over a few years at most. But more than a score of years have since passed during the greater part of which, it is true, Mrs. Ranson was a great sufferer. But that is happily now past, and she is enjoying better health than ever she did. To a reporter of the Tribune Mrs. Ranson told her story, adding earnestly that she hoped her experience might prove of benefit to some other sufferer. She said: "The spells of dissiness and intense headaches would attack me every three or four weeks and would last from two to four days at each attack, and with each attack my suffering appeared to grow more intense. I had good medical advice, and tried many remedies, but with no beneficial results. In the spring of 1895 my appetite began to fail, my hands and feet would swell, and my heart palpitate violently. I was utterly discouraged and felt that I would not live much longer. One day my daughter urged me to give Dr. William's Pink Pills a trial, but I had taken so much medicine with no benefit that I refused. However, she went to town and got four boxes, and to please her more than from any hope of benefit, I agreed to take them. I did not find the first box do me any good, but by the time I had taken the second my appetite began to improve and I could sleep better. I then began to have faith in them and as I continued their use found myself constantly getting better. When I had finished the fourth box both myself and friends were surprised to find that had not had a headache for more than six weeks, the action of my heart had become regular, and I could sleep soundly all night. I was still weak, however, and decided to continue the use of the pills, which I did until three more boxes were used. Since then I have have become stronger than at any time for years and have not had an ache or pain. I can do my work, have a new interest in life and feel ten years younger. I feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do for others what they have done for me, and believing this I am glad to make my story public in the hope that it will be of value to some sufferer.

Mrs. Ranson's husband and mother were both present and say that they look upon her recovery as miraculous. They further said that many and many a night they had had sat up keeping hot cloths on her head, that being the only treatment that had helped her, before she began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

This great remedy enriches and purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and in this way goes to the root of disease, driving it from the system, and curing when other remedies fail.

Every box of the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has the trade mark on the wrapper around the box, and the purchaser can protect himself from imposition by refusing all others. Sold by all dealers at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2 50.

Apoplexy in Summer.

During the extremely warm days it is not unusual to find a hen dead under the roost from no apparent cause. It is seldom that this happens to pullets or growing chicks, but mostly with hens. It is caused by high feeding and especially when grain is allowed in summer. It cannot be prevented after the fowls are fat except by shutting off the food and allowing plenty of fresh water, a cool and shady location being also provided. It is sometimes the case that the healthiest hens are the ones that die suddenly, as apoplexy does its work quickly and without warning.

Washing White Silk.

To prevent white silk handkerchiefs turning yellow when washed no soap should be rubbed on to the silk, no soda should be mixed with the water, and the handkerchief should on no account be boiled. A hot, thick, soapy lather should be used for cleaning the handkerchief, which should afterward be freed of all soap by rinsing in plenty of cold water. It should be dried if possible in the sun.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in:—

Why Not?

The professor is very punctilious about the use of language. His youngest daughter has learned to ride a bike, and the fact is very evident in her conversation. Now and then he moved uneasily in his chair, but he made no comment. After a time he said:—

"Lucia, would you mind closing that door? I am getting as cold as an ike."

She rose to obey, and then turned with a puzzled air and inquired:—

"As cold as a what, father?"

"As cold as an ike."

"I don't understand you."

"That is very strange. It seems to accord with your theory of verbal expression. If a bicycle can consistently be called a bike, I see no possible objection to my alluding to an icicle as an ike."

There's Wisdom . . In Economy

And there are different sorts of economy. The economy which "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bung" is worse than no economy at all. The truest saving is to buy the best your pocket-book will afford at the lowest price for which it can be sold. We buy the best of everything. We sell in such a close margin of profit that our customers feel confident that bottom has been struck. Hence the active, progressive look of things which some people wonder at. It's very simple this honest shop-keeping when you know how and the trading public will always pin their faith to an establishment of this kind.

Doing

AS WE PROMISE.

Good advertising does not encourage prevarication in prices. Quibbling or deviating from the plain path of truth and fair dealing, is an abuse which brings its own retribution.

PRICES without anything behind them, have very little meaning. But when they are fixed with care, are not misleading, and really represent something, they bring good buyers.

Dress Novelties.

So many of the pretty things have been picked up up in such a hurry that we've had to repeat orders—and to-day new lots are opened up in some of the best novelties.

Very Stylish Dress Effects, only 50c a yd.

Fancy Mohair Boucles, black and coloured, combinations, splendid range of styles, 75c yard.

Fancy Crepon Effects, most stylish goods in town, only 85c yard.

Ladies' Cloths, all shades, 50c, 85c, $1, $1.25 yard.

High Crown Hats.

We have passed into stock a lot of New Walking, Sailor and Dress Hats, in Felts and Camel's Hair—the very latest ideas in High Crown Hats. Prices are going down instead of up.

When people want to pay extravagant prices for their Millinery, there will be no need for our store. But the dawn of that day is yet in the future. This store is the saver of the incomes of all—rich and poor.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

Only a Few Minor Details Left for Settlement.

THE TERMS OF THE COMPROMISE.

Half an Hour a Day for Religious Instruction—Provincial Control Recognized—Unfair References to Sir Oliver Mowat—The Seal Fisheries—General Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Saturday's conference on the school question was harmonious, and it is understood the compromise has been agreed upon. The Manitoba Ministers, however, remained over in order to wind up some minor details at another meeting, which is to take place to-morrow. A slightly different version is given to-night of the main provisions of the compromise. It is said it provides for the employment of Catholic teachers in schools where thirty Catholic children attend, with half an hour for religious instruction at the close of the day's teaching. Provincial control of the schools is recognized. The details of the settlement will be handed out simultaneously here and in Winnipeg.

The reflections made by certain newspapers against Sir Oliver Mowat in connection with the gazetting on Saturday of Hon. Mr. Peters as a Queen's Counsel, are wholly beside the mark. Sir Oliver had nothing whatever to do with conferring the silk upon Mr. Peters. The order-in-council creating the Premier of Prince Edward Island a Queen's Counsel was passed at the instance of Sir John Thompson on June 8, 1894. Until a barrister so honored pays the customary fee, $20, for his commission, he can hardly claim the rank of precedence of a Queen's Counsel, or when a commission is issued due announcement thereof is made in the Canada Gazette. The reference in the official Gazette of Saturday to Mr. Peters means that the country's finances are augmented by $20 at his expense. It will be seen from this explanation that the charge that Sir Oliver Mowat has, in Mr. Peters' case, gone back on his cherished principles regarding power to appoint Queen's Counsel, is unfounded.

Complaint is made that settlers in the States of Dakota and Montana are perpetually making raids across the frontier, and in those Canadian lakes contiguous to the boundary are playing havoc with the fish by the unscrupulous use of nets. The mounted police have been asked to exercise vigilance in watching for these marauders in the same way as they have done for timber thieves from the States.

A prominent Quebecker who was in town to-day, talking to your correspondent, said much as the Quebec people were anxious to see the St. Lawrence bridged at Quebec, he despaired of any such consummation for very many years. A bridge at this point would cost at the very least $5,000,000, towards which the Federal Government, following out the policy adopted towards similar works, could not afford to pay more than 15 per cent. in this case, or $750,000. The city of Quebec and the Provincial Government might each give half a million dollars, making altogether $1,750,000. Where the remaining three millions and a quarter was to come from no one had yet been able to suggest. He was satisfied that the railway companies would never pay anything for the structure, as they were not asking for it. It seemed to him that the Government realized that a bridge would not be built, as they were making arrangements to put up a handsome Intercolonial station at Levis, which it was estimated would cost from two hundred thousand to a quarter of a million dollars. Were the bridge built the I.C.R. Station would of course be in the city of Quebec instead of at Levis. During the past session $40,000 was voted for commencing a new station at Levis.

Prof. D'Arcy Thompson of the University College, Dundee, agent for the Foreign Office, to collect statistics of seal life in Behring Sea, arrived here today. Prof. Thompson reached the American seal rookeries at the Pribyloff Islands on July 8, and with the exception of a short visit to Komondorfski Islands, on the Russian side of Behring Sea, remained at Pribyloff until Sept. 8. Dr. Jordan, President of Stanford University, California, the head of the United States observers, was at the Pribyloffs with Prof. Thompson. Associated with Prof. Thompson was Mr. J. M. Macoun, of the Geological Survey Department here, who remains at Pribyloffs for a further stay of some weeks. Mr. B. Hamilton, a London barrister, has been at the Russian Islands for several weeks on behalf of the Home Government. Andrew Halkett of the Marine and Fisheries Department spent nearly the entire season on board the Canadian sealing schooner, Dora Sieward, and what he now knows about sealing would easily fill a book. He also returned home to-day. The object of all the investigations was to determine as to the force of the American demand for a revision of the Paris regulations governing sealing in Behring Sea, the contention of our neighbors being that unless pelagic sealing is forbidden for a term of years the seal herd will be entirely exterminated. Prof. Thompson was not privileged to inform your correspondent of the result of his enquiries, his report being a confidential one to the Home Government, but an admission of Dr. Jordan's at Seattle that he did not expect to find so many seals at the rookeries as were actually there during his visit, seems to indicate that there is little value in the American contention.

The Court of Revision is likely to have an interesting point to decide. Some time ago the sisters who conduct the Church of England school, and known as the Kinburn Nuns, made application for exemption from taxation on their building on Albert-street. The Court of Revision refused the application. Barrister J. F. Orde has appealed against the assessment, and to make the case as strong as possible has also appealed against the exemption of Coligny (Presbyterian) College, the congregation of Notre Dame and the congregation of the Precious Blood on Gloucester-street. These two Roman Catholic institutions have been exempt from taxation on the plea that they are incorporated societies for the purpose of education. It is claimed that if this claim is a good one the Kinburn Nuns have just as good a right to exemption. The institutions named are about the richest in the city and will make a strong fight against the appeal.

An investigation has been opened at the instigation of Acting Crown Attorney Lees into the death of Robert Lynch, a child of eight months, who, it is alleged, died under mysterious circumstances at the home of his grandparents on St. Patrick-street over two weeks ago. It is stated that the mother and daughter were quarrelling and that while blows were being exchanged between them the child was hit by a chair.

The logs and timber taken from the Ottawa district on the Quebec side during the season of 1895-96 was as follows: Logs, 2,800,000; flat timber, 14,000 pieces; square timber, 13,000; railway ties, 75,000 pieces; long cedar, 9000 ties; dimension timber, 75,000 pieces; 12,000 cords of pulp wood. The logs represent 300,000,000 feet.

According to advices received here many of the miners who have been operating in the Yukon country during the past season do not propose to spend the winter there, as in former years. Seventy-five came out of the country recently, some of them bringing as high as $8000 of hard won earnings.

In all the Anglican churches to-day appropriate reference was made to the death of the Primate of England.

Rev. R. R. McKay, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, informed his congregation to-day that he had decided to accept a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Woodstock. The intimation came as a great surprise.

The annual church parade of the militia corps took place this afternoon to Christ Church Cathedral. The Guards, 43rd Batt., P. L. D. G. and Ottawa Field Battery took part. The turnout was a most creditable one.

J. M. Courtney left for New York on Saturday.

Mr. Tarte came up from Montreal with his wife and daughter and Miss Robillard, who accompany him on his trip west.

Mr. Davies left for Prince Edward Island yesterday and Mr. Blair for New Brunswick.

Sir Oliver Mowat goes to Toronto to-morrow for a couple of weeks.

Mr. Edward Griffin, for many years a boarder at the Russell House and an extensive property owner in the city, died to-day.

The annual entrance examination for Royal Military College candidates will be held at the headquarters of the several military districts on Tuesday, June 15, medical examinations to be held the day previous.

A new postoffice has been opened at Weinsley, in Addington County.

ROSEBERY'S RETIREMENT.

The Rumor Revived That There is a Lady in the Case and That the Queen Has Been Appealed to.

New York, Oct. 18.—A London despatch to The Sun says: A number of English newspapers this week plucked up courage to refer to the romantic reason for Lord Rosebery's retirement from the leadership of the Liberal party, recently mentioned in The Sun. The lady's name is not mentioned, because that would involve the risk of incurring royal displeasure. Here is a paragraph now going the rounds of the London provincial press: "It is said that Lord Rosebery approached the Queen some time ago to obtain her consent to a marriage which he was anxious to contract. The Queen distinctly declined to give her sanction as long as the noble Lord remained an active party politician. There are revived indications of interest in the affair which may suggest that the step just taken is a prelude to another conversation on the delicate subject. It would be imprudent to say more than this, or to mention the name of the lady in whom Her Majesty has taken so deep an interest. The attachment is declared to be of some duration and to be mutual in character, as well as within the knowledge of several high-placed personages. Elaborate efforts have been made during the week to obtain an authoritative confirmation or contradiction of this story, but without success."

WHEAT IN CHICAGO.

A Genuine Boom With Everybody Buying.

PHIL ARMOUR RIGHT IN THE GAME

A Ten-Cent Profit is a Good Thing to Take Said the Great Packer, as He Sold Out—Many Others Sold and are Buying Again—The Boom Likely to Remain.

Chicago Inter Ocean, Oct. 17.

There was excitement in the wheat pits the world over yesterday.

Liverpool started the ball by advancing 4 cents, and took all the wheat in sight here and at seaboard. Australian and Indian buyers also secured several cargoes at San Francisco, and advanced prices there 4½ cents.

Prices here advanced nearly 2 cents above Thursday's close, getting to the highest point on the crop, 72¼ cents—an appreciation of 15 cents for December and 13 cents for the cash property in the past five weeks. There is no stopping the upward movement.

Nearly everybody you meet on the street is amazed at the advance, and the belief that wheat is going to 80 cents before election is common talk everywhere, and there are more who confidently predict $1 before next spring than were 50-cent bears two months ago. It is fashionable to be a bull these days, and the market looks as though it was getting back to the time that the old traders talk about, when the bulls had all the money and the bears were not in it. The latter are very scarce these days, and are afraid to sell short, as they have been severely punished and find that it is one thing to sell wheat and another thing to get it back without suffering a loss.

This change in sentiment is the result of a shortage in the world's wheat crop, bringing the supplies down to a normal condition, so that there is not a large surplus anywhere, and foreign buyers are taking the cash property as fast as they can get it. No one ever expected that Australia and South Africa would buy cargoes in New York, but they took 100,000 bushels yesterday.

They have secured all the freight room at the Atlantic coast for the next three months, and some have engaged sailings as far ahead as March. Yesterday 10 cents per bushel was paid from New York to Liverpool for prompt shipment, and there was little to be had at that figure. This room is not entirely for wheat, but is for corn, oats, rye and barley. These grains are going abroad in unusual quantities, owing to the shortage in feed crops in Europe, and the extremely low prices. There is more going out in a day from the Atlantic ports than there was in a month last year.

In the past three months we have exported 41,635,000 bushels of wheat and flour, an increase of 18,000,000 bushels over last year. At the same time we have sent out 20,500,000 bushels of corn, 9,033,000 bushels of oats, 1,780,000 bushels of rye, 4,749,000 bushels of barley, an increase as compared with last year of 15,000,000 bushels of corn, 8,800,000 bushels of oats, 1,785,000 bushels of rye and 3,477,000 bushels of barley. We have also sent out 70,000 barrels of corn meal. These products have not only materially benefited the Western farmer, but have also caused Europe to part with its gold, which is now coming over at the rate of several million dollars per day, and is likely to continue until after election.

Not in years has the grain business of Chicago been as large as during the past three weeks, about 30,000,000 bushels having arrived here, and this week we received 12,131,000 bushels. Most of this was corn and oats, there being 4,442,000 bushels of corn and 5,000,000 bushels of oats. The wheat movement was also significant, aggregating 1,410,000 bushels.

Six months ago the grain receivers on the Board of Trade were complaining about the elevator men having captured their business. For the past thirty days every receiving house on the floor has had about all it can conveniently attend to, and the elevator people have received more grain than their men were able to unload, which has resulted in a temporary blockade at a few houses. Country shippers who have not been heard from for three years have suddenly sent in grain to be sold, and the commission men are actually working nights to keep up. This change is due largely to the low rates on grain from the West, giving the small shippers the same advantage as the large ones.

It is easy to trace who the winners have been on the advance in wheat. Cudahy has taken a profit of 10 cents on a bushel. W. H. Linn, W. T. Baker, C. A. Muir, Arthur Orr, C. J. Singer and a few others have all taken from 5 to 10 cents out of the market on lines ranging from 200,000 bushels to 3,000,000 bushels. P. D. Armour has sold several million bushels within a few days, and says "a 10-cent profit is a good thing to take, as he is not a wheat trader."

There are a half dozen big wheat traders at St. Louis who have made nearly as much as any of the Chicago operators, as they got in at the bottom and had no incumbrances in the shape of Match and Biscuit deals. The foreigners have raked in the pot. They started at the bottom and are still at it. Some of them have sold out, and have gone in again, and are now buying heavier than ever.

PICKED UP AT SEA.

A Halifax Schooner's Crew Had to Abandon Their Vessel and Cargo.

New York, Oct. 18.—The Clyde line steamer Delaware, which arrived this afternoon from Haytian ports, picked up Capt. Watts and several men, the crew of the Halifax, N.S., schooner Southern Cross, which was abandoned in a sinking condition on Oct. 16 in lat. 32.15, long. 75.52. The Southern Cross was bound from San Blas for New York with a cargo of cocoanuts, and she left the former port Sept. 13. The weather was fine until Sept. 24, off the west end of Cuba, when a violent northeast gale was encountered, lasting five days, and driving the schooner 125 miles back into the Gulf of Mexico. The weather then continued fine until Oct. 10, when a hurricane from the northeast struck the vessel and hove her down on her beam ends, and it was found necessary to cut away the foremast in order to right her. The rigging was also carried away. The schooner then righted, but it was found that the rudder was broken and some of the seams had started, so that she was leaking. Oct. 12 she was spoken by the German steamer Austral, from New Orleans for Newport News and Bremen, but it seemed possible then to save the ship, and assistance was declined. Afterwards the hopelessness of the situation was impressed upon all hands, and when the Delaware hove in sight on the morning of the 16th, she was signalled, and Capt. Watts and his crew rowed to her in their own boat.

The Southern Cross was built in 1890. She was 134 tons burden, and hailed from Halifax, N.S. She was supposed to be insured.

Famine Threatened in Ireland.

New York, Oct. 11.—A special cablegram from London reports that great injury has been done in the west of Ireland by floods and rain. The crops are practically destroyed in some districts, and everything threatens a winter famine in certain parts of Ireland unless speedy relief is given.

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become exervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do yon is equally beyond question. Remember that

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Mail and Empire says that "thousands of patriots are looking to Ottawa for jobs." The Tory organ stops short. It should have added—"and thousands of 'patriots' who got office by the Tory Government are hanging on to them like grim death to a defunct party." There is indeed a difference; while according to the Mail and Empire the Conservative patriots got office, the Liberals are only looking for office—getting is quite another affair, unless circumstances indicate their services are needed and will be worth their salaries.

WHEN the late unlamented Conservative Government reluctantly resigned the reins of power last summer, wheat was unsteadily wobbling about sixty cents per bushel. On Saturday the Mail and Empire's quotations for wheat ranged for 73c. to 83c. Reverse the conditions and have the Conservatives coming into or remaining in power and this rise—not a bad attempt at reaching $1.00 per bushel—would have been attributed to the influence of Conservative principles, especially the beneficial operation of the "National Policy." No Liberal journal will be found so hair-brained as to say that the rise in the price of wheat is due to the advent of a Liberal Government. It is due to the same general law that should regulate all commercial operations—the law of supply and demand. While the demand for wheat is normal the supply is short—unusually so in India, to which great wheat exporting country, owing to a failure of the crop, wheat is being exported from San Francisco.

THE ROAD INSTRUCTOR.

When Mr. A. W. Campbell was appointed Provincial Road instructor by the Ontario Government some objection was offered by those who professed to represent some sentiment in the rural sections. If there is anyone in this district who is not yet satisfied that the appointment is a good one, they will have the opportunity of forming a more correct judgment about Mr. Campbell and his work by coming to hear him at the public meeting which he will address here on Monday evening, the 19th inst., or at Norwich village on the afternoon of the following day. Mr. Campbell's work is exciting a great amount of interest throughout the country. He has been very warmly received wherever he has been, and practical reform in methods and results has followed his footsteps. It will be remembered that he had charge of the splendid exhibit of road machinery at the Industrial Fair, which his Excellency Lord Aberdeen, Mr. Fisher, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, and many other eminent men, with thousands of visitors from all parts of the Province, inspected. His Excellency paid the Road Instructor a high compliment when in St. Thomas—of which city Mr. Campbell was engineer for many years. Lord Aberdeen is reported as saying:—

"He had opportunities of visiting many places in Canada, and with St. Thomas he was much pleased, being specially struck with the charming arrangement of the grounds, and the more important, the excellent modern roads. The road of the principal street was not so good, he was told, as you desired to make it, but it was better than the principal streets in many places he had been. The roads, he was glad to learn, were made by your late excellent City Engineer, Mr. A. W. Campbell, now the instructor of roadmaking for the province. It was only yesterday at the Toronto Exhibition that he had the pleasure of inspecting a piece of road of which he was the special exponent."—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Human life is held to cheaply when the individual who needs a tonic for his system, seeks to cover his wants by purchasing every new mixture that is recommended to him. Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-earned reputation of fifty years standing.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly. I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

ALFRED TROUX, Montreal, Que.

THE FIRE HAS DIED OUT

Money Could Not be Raised Among the French-Canadians to Educate Rebel Riel's Child.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Mr. H. Beaugrand, ex-Mayor of Montreal and proprietor of La Patrie, received during the month of July last a letter from Madame Riel, mother of the ill-fated Metis leader, in which she asked assistance for her son's children, the small amount which friends had collected for them having been engulfed in the wreck of La Banque Nationale. A copy of the lady's letter appeared in The World a short time since, and Mr. Beaugrand's reply, after having been unable to scrape together $300, is a good indication of the real value of the so-called wave of patriotism which swept over this province following the execution at Regina:

"This, Madame, is the result of your appeal, the sum of $298. Of this amount Mr. Jacques Grenier subscribed $100; I would have again given $100, with promise to double the subscription of La Patrie's employes, $32, which brought the sum to $232, the balance, $66, being the total result of the sense of justice, patriotism and generosity of our compatriots, great and small, rich and poor, Minister and deputy, priests and beadles, bishops and monsignors. Have the kindness, Madame, to conserve the list I send you of the few subscribers who have contributed to the souvenirs of 1870 and of 1885 of Fort Garry and of Regina. This sum of $298 would be more than a failure from a financial point of view—it would be worse than national dishonor. I will not offer it to you, but will return to each subscriber the amount offered, and thank them in your name for their souvenirs and their good will. The interest on $298, admitting that we obtained 6 per cent., would be but $18 per annum, a sum scarcely refused to beggars who make their regular visits every Monday morning. From the windows of the City Hall—I was Mayor at the time—I saw thousands of patriots assembled in the Champ de Mars crying with rage and swearing vengeance against the Ministers at Ottawa against the assassins of Louis Riel. Political necessities and secret ambitions dried the tears of some, calmed the rage of others and filled with holy horror those who were afraid to invite the bloody spectre of the Metis chieftain. History will repeat, Madame, that these same men, who forgot themselves for an instant to shed tears over the fate of your son, said and published, eight days later, that Sir John Macdonald, whom they had burned in effigy in the Champ de Mars, had rendered the country a great service in ridding the country of a poor fool. There were at that time three Ministers, colleagues of Sir John, three English knights, with French names, Sir Hector Langevin, Sir Adolphe Chapleau, Sir Adolphe Caron.

"England has the reputation of paying liberally for services rendered, and more especially when these services are the price of bloody parchments. The others—the nationalists as they were then called, for some beadle had proscribed the name of Liberal—blazed up a little longer, just long enough to gain power at Quebec by scrambling upon the scaffold at Regina. The total sum of regrets of the Province of Quebec figures up to two hundred and ninety-eight dollars, scarcely enough, Madame, to heat the residence of a Minister or deputy, a banker or a manufacturer during the winter. My health forces me to seek a milder climate and a more generous people, the South of France, but in the meantime I take the liberty, Madame, of offering to become responsible for the instruction and education of Louis Riel's son. If it is impossible to-day I will go to Manitoba next spring in the hope of coming to an understanding with you that will permit me to pay in part at least the debt of blood that every French-Canadian owes to the victim of Regina. H. Beaugrand."

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

Unfortunately Expressed.

"I was going from Memphis to Louisville," said a gentleman whose talk is reported by the Washington Star, "when I fell into conversation with a white-haired old lady. We became friendly, and by and by she told me that she was going to Louisville on a visit to her son, whom she had not seen for two or three years.

"He had written to her a few weeks before, urging her to come, and naming a certain hotel. She naturally expected him to meet her at the railway station, but he did not appear, and seeing how troubled she was, I offered to go with her to the hotel mentioned.

"I took her to the parlor, and then went in pursuit of the son. The clerk had not see him, but gave me a letter for the lady. I carried it to her. She opened it hurriedly, read one sentence, and dropped in a faint. I rang for a physician and picked up the letter. The opening sentence was:—

"'My Dear Mother—I am now in the penitentiary.'

"No wonder the woman had fainted. But the writer continued:—

"'I have a good position with the contractors, and it is impossible for me to get away. Come on to Frankfort.'

"It took us an hour to bring the dear old lady to, thanks to the thoughtlessness of her affectionate son."

BRITISH ISOLATION.

Triple and Dual Alliance Against Her.

GERMANY PARTICULARLY BITTER.

The Three Great Questions in England Now are Who Will be Archbishop of Canterbury, Who Liberal Leader and Who President of the Royal Academy.

New York, Oct. 13.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Tribune: Sir Edward Clarke has referred to the Venezuelan question as a matter of more immediate and serious importance than the Armenian massacres. Apparently, he was justified in taking this view, since the Chancellor of the Exchequer, a few nights before, had declared that Russia, Austria and Germany were pledged to prevent English interference in Turkey's affairs. If it be true that both the Triple and Dual Alliances are against English intervention, then Europe is united against England, and the Armenian question might as well be dropped and the Venezuela dispute taken up and settled. Sir Edward Clarke discussed the latter question more seriously than anyone else has done for a long time. There are many rumors respecting the final conferences between Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Julian Pauncefote on the eve of the departure of the ambassador for Washington, but it is idle to consider them in detail. Lord Salisbury is an old-time diplomatist who does not conduct negotiations in glass houses. His recent lack of success in European diplomacy increases the probability that he will make strenuous efforts to clear off all old scores with America while Cleveland remains in office, especially as he knows with certainty that any equitable method of settlement and scheme of general arbitration will be welcomed in England as a triumph of statesmanship and a sign of the progress of civilization.

London is dull and torpid under the depressing effects of the most inclement weather known for many years, but whenever two or three are gathered under the same umbrella within close touch of sensitive rheumatic elbows there are three questions which are asked: Who will be the next Archbishop of Canterbury? Who will be the next Liberal Prime Minister? and who will be the next President of the Royal Academy? Dr. Davidson, who is the Court favorite, may be named to succeed Dr. Benson, the veteran Archbishop of York may be transferred to Canterbury, thus keeping a place warm for the Bishop of Winchester, or the Queen and Lord Salisbury may make an independent choice by appointing the Bishop of Peterborough or the Bishop of Ripon, either of whom possesses qualities of mind similar to those of Archbishop Benson. Dr. Davidson has been barely a year at Winchester, and is the youngest bishop on the bench.

The question of the Liberal leadership has been dropped almost as quickly as it was raised. Sir William Harcourt is in the Commons, where alone the duties of the leadership in Opposition can be exercised. He will not shirk them. The leadership of the Liberal peers is a trivial matter, and the mortality among public men is likely to be considerable before a Liberal Prime Minister is again in power. Sir William Harcourt has said nothing except to deny the rumor of his withdrawal from public life; but his silence has been more helpful to the Liberal party than Lord Rosebery's elaborate speech, explaining nothing and unsettling everything.

The Presidency of the Academy remains an open question after having served to advertise the claims of nearly every Academician. Marcus Stone is still believed to have the best chance of succeeding Millais.

Nothing that occurs in Europe excites so much displeasure in England as the undertone of bitterness and suspicion with which the German press discusses every question in which she is directly interested. French dislike and Russian resentment have been accepted with indifference for many years as a matter of course, but German criticism of English policy causes intense irritation and a feeling of distrust. Mr. Woodall, who has recently been investigating the technical schools of South Germany, has made an address in Leicester and sounds a loud warning against destructive competition based upon superior training. He shows how large are the expenditures of the German states on technical education and explains how completely German merchants are qualified for competing with English merchants in the markets of the world by the attention given to modern languages and commercial subjects in the schools of the Fatherland.

The danger from famine in India is now regarded as imminent, in consequence of the failure of the ordinary rains in the Punjab, Oude and half the Northwest Provinces. The official report of Mr. Woodburn at Simla shows that relief work on a large scale will be necessary in the district, which has 30,000,000 population, and that the importation of an immense stock of wheat from America and Europe will be required. A large increase in the shipments already ordered from California may be confidently predicted. With a shortage in the ordinary European crop the world is largely dependent upon America for its food supply of wheat, and the price of wheat continues to advance and to refute the Populist argument.

The London County Council has resumed operations after a prolonged vacation, and metropolitan questions are again receiving public attention. The Licensing Committee has heard with impatience the protests of the Puritanical fanatics who advertise the music halls, and convict themselves of indecency by a strained interpretation of dull songs and living pictures. These critics, always more nice than wise, have been so indelicate and meddlesome this year that they have been disavowed by former supporters. The committee has renewed all music hall licenses, and has merely cautioned the managers to exercise greater care in the selection of songs.

THE FEAR OF WAR

Looked Upon by Some People as an Invitation to War—German Bitterness.

New York, Oct. 18.—The Sun's London special says: Except for paper war of almost unprecedented bitterness between Great Britain and Germany, peace reigns in Europe, and the beating of war drums for the moment has ceased. The national temper of this country was beginning to give way under repeated warnings from the followers of both Lord Salisbury and Lord Rosebery that England must not do this and must not do that because of the danger of war. The idea is beginning to creep into the popular mind that this timid fear of war is itself an invitation to war.

It would be unfair to say that the Armenian agitation is subsiding on account of popular terror inspired by the war bugaboo, but it is undoubtedly dying out and giving place to widespread and hopeless disgust over the whole situation, and over the manner in which it is being dealt with by British statesmanship. It will require very genuine alarm to reawaken popular interest in the eastern situation, but it is generally believed in diplomatic circles that important events in that quarter are close at hand. Meantime there is evidence that a portion of the anti-Turkish indignation is turning into hatred of Germany. It is true that the chorus of abuse of England by the German press during the past few weeks has been peculiarly virulent and persistent. The reason is not readily apparent, but there is no question that it has significance. The German official policy is becoming daily more antagonistic to Great Britain. The Zanzibar incident is only a trifling indication of this fact. England is now openly accused in the German press of trying to seduce Italy from the Triple Alliance and of endeavoring to turn the new Dual Alliance in anti-German directions. In fact, England has become Germany's bete noir.

This country is at length giving evidence that Germany's feelings are cordially reciprocated. Even The Times has declared it this week in language as strong as its somewhat heavy dignity permits. The German press today replies with a fresh storm of protest. The North German Gazette easily pierces The Times' armor with the sneer that "If the organ of Cecil Rhodes and his accomplices can recollect its own attitude at the beginning of the troubles in South Africa it will not have far to seek for the reason why the German press has adopted a less friendly tone towards England." This war of words is no new thing, but it has reached a point where such outbursts of international bad feelings are beginning to have serious political significance and effect.

The news comes to-day that the orders to put the Russian land forces at Odessa and other points within striking distance of Constantinople upon a war footing are being obeyed with the greatest energy. It is also announced from Constantinople that diplomatic relations between the Porte and the Ambassadors of the Powers are practically suspended. It is understood that the policy of making futile paper protests has been definitely abandoned. It is therefore hoped, if not believed, that the moment is at hand for executing whatever policy or modus vivendi the powers have decided upon. Those who protest loudest against intervention now admit that the present regime at Constantinople is in its last days.

WEYLER CALLED DOWN.

He Has Been Killing Too Many People and Attracting Too Much Attention.

New York, Oct. 17.—Senor Manuel J. Moran, who was deposed by Gen. Weyler from the editorship of La Discusion of Havana because of his alleged too free treatment of events in Cuba, arrived to-day on the steamer Ciudad Condal. In an interview with a representative of the United Associated Presses, he said: "If the plans of General Gomes have not miscarried an advance guard of 1500 patriots is to-day crossing from the Province Santa Clara into the Province of Matansas, and the main body will in a few days strike what is expected to be the decisive blow in the campaign. With Maceo in the east awaiting this movement, and Gomez pressing forward, the Spanish forces will be sandwiched. It will be the great and in all probability the final stroke for freedom. Not until this struggle is ended, and the people of Cuba attain their independence will the world know how the truth has been systematically suppressed.

"Under existing circumstances it is impossible to send out the truth concerning any victory or advantage gained by the insurgents, so strict is the censorship. Should the editor of a newspaper publish news disastrous to Weyler he (the editor) is called upon to disclose the source of his information. Refusal means imprisonment.

"Betrayal of the author of the information means similar punishment for that person. The prisons are now overflowing. There are fewer executions than there were two months ago. Within the past week Weyler was notified by Premier Canovas not to kill so many, as it was attracting attention. Whatever executions now take place are in secret. The Spanish commanders under Weyler are beginning to show the white feather. The Royal troops in the Province of Havana are never moved in bodies of less than a thousand. They are afraid to venture out with a smaller number. General Weyler now proposes as his coup de grace to surround the impregnable heights held by Maceo and wait for the Cuban general to come down. No one knows better than Weyler that Maceo cannot be dislodged from his position. The advance guard of Gomez, I have no doubt, is at this moment in the Province of Santa Clara or on its border, and the most important engagement of the revolution is not far off. The Spaniards must meet them, and it will be the Waterloo of the Spanish army on the continent of America."

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

WHAT IS MEANT WHEN WE SAY THAT

Mason & Risch Pianos

ARE THE INSTRUMENTS OF THE CULTURED.

WE MEAN . . .

That they are found in the homes of the most refined and cultured people throughout the land.

That the Principal Musical Institutions in Canada use MASON & RISCH PIANOS.

That the President of nearly every University or large Educational Institution in Canada has bought a MASON & RISCH PIANO for his own use.

That MASON & RISCH PIANOS have been supplied to more Clergymen and Doctors than all other makes combined. We have sold so many Pianos to the members of these two professions that we have published a book exclusively filled with their names and addresses. It forms a unique testimonial. Write us for it. We mail it free.

People of the refined classes buy them because of their Pure Tone, Flexible Action and Unrivalled Durability. We put it briefly and let the Pianos say the rest.

THE NEW COUNTY COUNCIL.

Mr. Warden Middleton Preparing the County for the Contest.

Mr. Warden Middleton and other members of the county council delegation in regard to the Trent Valley Canal inspection by Hon. Mr. Blair, were in town on Saturday.

As the election season is approaching Mr. Middleton was spoken to by a reporter of the EXAMINER in reference to arrangements for the first election of a county council under the new law:—

"Mr. Middleton have you taken any steps as to the selection of "nominating officers" for the different county council districts?"

"Well, I may say I have given the matter some attention and have made up my mind as to the selections to be made; but as yet, I have given the parties no official intimation. But it is my intention to do so early in the week."

"Would you mind mentioning their names?"

"O, no, certainly not, and while I am at it I might give you the places where the nominations will be held:

"In No. 1 district, James Drummond will be the nominating officer, and Keene the place of nomination.

"In No. 2 division — or Bridgenorth division—the officer will be Mr. F. J. Bell, and the place Bridgenorth.

"No. 3 division — Lakehurst — James Cairnduff will be nominating officer, and the place, Burleigh Falls.

"No. 4 division—W. R. Roxburg is the officer and Norwood the place.

"No. 5 division—Samuel Edwards will be the nominating officer, and Warsaw the place."

[For the information of those who may have forgotten the composition of the several divisions it may be stated that No. 1, or Otonabee division, includes Otonabee; No. 2, or Bridgenorth division includes North Monaghan, Smith and Ennismore; No. 3, or Lakehurst Division, includes Galway, Cavendish, Harvey, Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos; No. 4, or Norwood Division, includes Asphodel, Norwood, Havelock, Belmont and Methuen; No. 5, or Lakefield Division, includes Lakefield, Douro and Dummer.

"Well, Mr. Warden, is it your intention to be a candidate for the township or the county council?"

"O, I think I shall ask the electors of Bridgenorth division to send me to the county council."

This concluded the interview. Mr. Middleton has had a large experience in municipal matters, having been for the past score of years associated with the township council of Smith. This is his sixth year in the county council. It seems probable that the electors of No. 2 division will have a practical appreciation of Mr. Middleton's experience and decide that his presence in the new county council will be an important element in the organization of the new system.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Arrangements Completed for Entertaining the Minister.

The joint committee of the town and county met on Saturday evening in the town clerk's office to make arrangements for the reception and entertainment of Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, on the occasion of his forthcoming visit to this district.

In case of the visiting Minister, as is probable, beginning his tour of inspection at Trenton, he will be met by the Peterborough delegation at Hastings by steamer, North Star, and be conveyed to Peterborough, where, in the evening, he will be tendered a complimentary banquet.

The following morning he and his escort will be driven in carriages over the route of the canal to Young's Point. Here the steamer Esturion will be placed at the disposal of the Minister and party by Mr. M. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, where Mr. Boyd has kindly offered to assume the relation of the host to the visiting minister.

From this point, it is understood, Mr. Blair will proceed by steamer as far as possible, and conclude his tour at Lake Simcoe. It is said that the town of Lindsay will offer its hospitality to the minister and that the people of Orillia, Barrie, etc., will take charge of the trip of Mr. Blair when he reaches Lake Simcoe.

DEATH OF EDWARD HATRICK.

The Third of the Family to Die Within Two Weeks.

News of the death of Mr. Edward Hatrick will be received with sadness by the entire community. The announcement is doubly sad as the deceased is the third one of the family to fall before the Great Reaper within the last couple of weeks.

Death has resulted in each case from typhoid fever, and two members of the family are still ill from the same cause in St. Joseph's Hospital, where they are under the skilled care of the Sisters, but both are convalescent.

The deceased came to Peterborough about two years ago from the vicinity of Hiawatha, and has carried on a butchering business here. His eight year old son was only buried yesterday.

The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2 o'clock, from St. Joseph's Hospital to St. Peter's Cathedral.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

The initiatory game of Rugby of the season was played on the P. A. A. A. grounds Saturday afternoon between a fifteen from Upper Canada College, Toronto, and the Peterboroughs.

The visitors were successful in defeating the local team by the score of 19 points to 11.

The extreme coldness of the weather was responsible for the small attendance, as it requires a good deal of enthusiasm to stand and watch a football match when the temperature is such as to permit a few flakes of snow to fall at intervals.

The Peterborough's had it all their own way at the start, but in the second half the superior staying qualities of the College boys enabled them to outplay the local fifteen and easily make up the seven points which they were behind and add eight more to them. In fact Peterborough did not score at all in the second half.

There is no doubt that there is material to make up a first class local team if the boys could be induced to turn out and practice. McRae played a fine game for the Peterborough's, and his splendid dash down the field was the feature of the match. After such an exhibition of speed and skill the college boys watched the veteran "Chick" very closely and he did not get another chance.

Through their constant practice the college team are in superb condition and played a very fast game in the second half. Peterborough's lack of training sadly handicapped them as the game progressed. The new team also seems to have forgotten the splendid work which the team of '95 did, through the accurate manner in which they passed back. There was none of this seen on Saturday.

The Peterborough's are not in the least cast down by their defeat and are confident that they will be able to reverse the score in a return game later in the season. The match seems to have given the game the required impetus, and hereafter the members of the club will doubtless put in their practices regularly.

The teams were composed as follows:—

U. C. C.		Peterborough.
Aylesworth	Back	Montgomery
McDonald, Hills	Halves	McRae, Adams
Darling		LeFevre
Wright	Quarter	C Graham
Gouderham, McGaw, Rutter	Scrimmage	Macgachen, Hollingshed, Wilgar
McKenzie, Boone, Simpson, Foster, Wetmore, Dennison, Lynch	Wings	Tytler, Pope, Stevenson, Thorne, Davidson, Mudge, Collins
Mr Miles	Umpires	Mr W D Parker

Referee—Mr R Sproat, of Toronto.

The game began at five minutes to three. Peterborough started off with a rush, and though the College scrimmaged the ball back several times, the visitors were soon forced to rouge to save a touchdown, thus giving Peterborough the first point.

Shortly afterwards McRae made an extraordinary long throw from the side line to Lefevre, who froze to the ball, and was able to dash behind the goal line, counting four more points for Peterborough, and at the same time securing the privilege of a try. Lefevre kicked the try, "converting" it. The score now stood 7—0 in favour of the Peterboroughs.

Peterborough again made four when McRae made the most brilliant play of the day in a long run down the field, in which he dashed through the visitors' wing men, and successfully dodged their backs, finally scrambling across the line for a "touch and try. Lefevre failed to kick the goal, but the score was now 11—0 in favour of Peterborough.

The strain now began to tell on the local men, who were not in shape through lack of practice.

By hard work the College boys steadily pushed the play up into Peterborough territory, and by a tackle in goal secured four points before half time was called.

In the second half the college had to make seven points to tie and as they slowly accumulated the necessary points the excitement ran high. A touch and try, the latter of which was neatly converted into a goal, gave the visitors six of their required points and by forcing Montgomery to rouge a moment later, they tied the score.

Then ensued a battle royal for the next point, but Peterborough had not the staying power and Monty was again forced to rouge to save a possible touchdown. Another touchdown and well kicked goal gave the visitors 18 points and before time was called a faced touch made their score 19, thus giving them the game by 8 points.

Peterborough has a great line of half backs and as soon as the wings and scrimmage get into shape and develop their staying powers some first class games may be expected. On Saturday the wings of the visitors were able to get around on the Peterborough quarter before he had time to kick the ball. This should not be.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Charlie Tucker is in town for a day or two.

Mr. Gus Hay is back in town again after a pleasant visit in Barrie.

Mr. T. H. Hamilton went to Port Hope on business this morning.

Mr. Gussie Aldridge is in town spending a few days with friends.

Mrs. W. H. Meldrum has returned home after a three weeks' visit to New York.

Miss Carrie Hoyt has returned to town after spending several months in Campbellford and Whitby.

Mr. J. A. Aldridge, of Toronto, formerly of town, who as a boy was noted for his beautiful soprano voice, sang in St. Paul's church twice yesterday. He has developed a fine baritone voice of exceptional quality and sings with excellent effect and good enunciation. His selections were Adams' "My Galilee" and "Shepherd of the Fold."

A Charleston, South Carolina, exchange contains the following item of interest:—"The latest addition to Charleston's already fine circle of musicians is Mrs. W. J. Morrow. Mrs. Morrow comes from the West to make Charleston her future home. Those musicians and critics who have heard and witnessed Mrs. Morrow performance on the piano are delighted and have warmly welcomed her among Charleston's talent. The lady is creating quite a furore by her playing and she is pronounced by the best of judges to be one of the finest pianists ever heard in the city. Mrs. Morrow received her musical education at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, where she studied the piano under Prof. Carl Faelton, voice under Prof. O'Neill and harmony under Prof. Long. She was also a pupil of Frederick Boscovits, the celebrated Hungarian pianist, and of Prof. Dr. Davies, of London. Besides possessing remarkable ability and skill as a teacher of and performer on the piano, Mrs. Morrow has a voice of rare sweetness and teaches singing. Her home at No. 6 Doughty street will undoubtedly be the scene this winter of many delightful musicales.

FIRE IN BELLEVILLE.

As the Peterborough train pulled out of Belleville this morning one of the principal business blocks of the city was in flames. Mr. Teddy Doyle, the mail clerk, discovered the fire and sent in an alarm just as he was starting for the train. It originated in L. W. Yeoman & Co's big wholesale and retail drug store, which was destroyed.

A later despatch says that the loss will be $25,000 to $30,000. The saddest part of the affair is that in some manner, which may never be learned, Mr. Youmans, the head of the firm, lost his life in the fire. He was about 52 years of age, and one of the most prominent and most highly respected residents of the city. He was an alderman and a member of the Executive Committee.

THE ROAD RACE.

The Handicaps which have Been Arranged.

The handicappers for the big road race met on Saturday night and drew up the appended schedule. Some dissatisfaction is expressed at the result in certain quarters, but as the speed of each and every man who entered could not be estimated to a nicety, the task was not by any means an easy one.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equaly interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should toe ache not be agreeable instead of painful; Why should so many fraudulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless. Putnam's makes no sore spots. Use Putnam's painless Corn Extractor.

By particular request a number of the ministers yesterday delivered sermons on Parental Authority and appended will be found a brief synopsis of those given :

IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

the Rev. Jas. G. Potter, B.A., preached from I Samuel, 2 13 :

"Because the sons of Eli made themselves vile and he restrained them not.'

The message put into Samuel's mouth was one of sorrow, woe and punishment. Because of the indulgence of parents, "the children's teeth are set on edge." Because of the terrible wickedness of Eli's sons he is now called upon to answer for their sins. We cannot shirk the responsibility that rests upon us as leaders, parents or guardians. The sins of which Eli's sons were guilty, and from which he did not restrain them, are found to be the sins of which many sons and daughters are guilty to-day, and to which many parents are too indifferent.

1. Abuse of Privileges. The word of God ; the sanctuary, kind, loving, and indulgent parents, wise counsel and means of spiritual and mental culture.

2. Profanation of things sacred. Bad boys can be the ruination of any home and of any Sabbath school. Among some of the sacred things profaned to-day are : the Sabbaths, the sacraments, the Bible, the name of God, etc.

3. Serving their lusts with the offerings of the Lord. How sad to think that to-day so many parents are themselves guilty of spending on their own lusts and carnal desires, the offerings of the Lord. Let us be faithful stewards of God's gifts.

4. Dishonouring an aged father. The young life left unrestrained will yet give cause of disgrace and shame upon the lenient head.

5. Degrading womanhood.—The sons of Eli were filled with selfishness and as long as they were satisfied they cared not who were destroyed. This may be made applicable to the sons and husbands, who, through appetites satisfied, cause womanhood to be disgraced.

6. Disobedience and disregard, which not restrained, led on to all acts of vileness. Implicit obedience to a leader all must learn in every department of life, and specially in the home, which has been, from the beginning, instituted by God—of prime importance—in the true progress of the world; and which has ever been a type of Heaven. To every man is given the realm of his own home, and what is most needed is moral courage. The character of church and state depends upon the character of our home religion. There are reasons why parents do not exercise authority in this regard :

1. They are professors of religion but are not living right—and the boys know it.

2. They are careless and indifferent and are honest enough to know that if they restrain they must themselves show a better example.

3. They have good intentions but are too lazy to put them into practice.

4. They are afraid of breaking the children's temper. Far better to break the temper than for hearts to be broken and lives lost.

5. Some leave the correcting to the mother ; and, the father busy all day, and engaged by night, scarcely ever has an opportunity to meet with the children.

6. Some leave it to the teachers in the Sabbath School or to the pastor, but in many cases in the Sabbath School there is a strange exhibition of ignorance of duty at home and of loose home religion.

7. Some want their boys to be good and live right and get along in the world but they are not Christians and have no desire to be.

8. Some are bound in sin, and for the sake of their children they would not give such a life up. They cannot restrain.

9. No example in prayer—in the study of God's truths. No regard for the things of God, and in consequence life is made a continual drudgery. The proper training of the children God demands. You may be good and pious, yet what awful results will follow the sending down to generations a destructive and corrupting force. We need love, hope, firm trust in God, sanctified common sense, caution, and a cheerful spirit, with a character that commands respect.

The preacher then pleaded for the recognition of the boys in church and home. Many were adrift to-day because we overlooked the fact that there is actually no line dividing those who are in the Master's service from those whom we expect soon to take their place in the progress of the world. Let parents use the hour after each evening meal in a time of recreation with the children, let the parlours be used for this grand and helpful occasion, and let this be the state occasion when our best shall be used, and the children will soon learn that there is indeed "no place like home," and when a parent's voice shall be respected and obeyed. Fire restrained can put into operation immense machinery, but unrestrained will prove a most destructive agency.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Rev. J. J. Rae took his text from Luke i., 17 :—

"To turn the hearts of the fathers to the children."

The appalling increase of juvenile offenders against law and order in this town, which is, perhaps, neither better nor worse than other towns in this respect, is enough to startle every worker for the promotion of moral living, and to call into exercise every agency which can help to remedy the evil. The first call must be to the home, and the responsibility of parents is of first consideration, for all other effort must be unsuccessful if this co-operation is not secured.

The parent stands with the child's life in his hands. He is responsible for that life and for its future. That life has been begun; what will be its course? What, its end? These questions the parent must largely help to answer. We have the fact that the homes which are least capable of successfully answering the question are most largely responsible for their being asked, and the great relief agencies are called into existence because of this.

The parent is responsible for the home life and its influences. That home life should be virtuous, not vicious ; intelligent, not ignorant ; pure, not polluted ; independent, not restrictive ; it should lead to the personal development of the child, physically, mentally and morally—to full manhood and womanhood. Some children may break away from the influences of home, becoming either better or worse, but this still is the result of training and depends largely on the trend of home life.

The parent is responsible for personal character, which means positive, helpful example. He must have a vision of God like a Jacob at Luz, and must be fitted to be the minister of God in the great office of home administration.

How many ads are given to the discharge of this responsibility! Every little child in the innocence of childhood reflected out a divine appeal for sympathy sustenance protection and help. Parental love, blest relic of Eden, stands guard over childhood. The institution of the family is a means for the exercise of every grace and adornment of God's agencies for the ultimate regeneration of society.

Then the civil laws of this country, while much more was needed, did much to protect the parent in his place and assist him in the discharge of his responsibility. The many reformation organizations stood to do their part, and perhaps, best of all organizations of late years, the Children's Aid Society seek to keep pure and sheltered the early years of the uncared for and fit them for lives of usefulness and power.

There are many questions in the sphere of social and family life which are only in the early dawn of solution but resting firmly on the foundation of the word of God, of human nature and of human history, and these then are one in the stable truth that a true home and a consequent true father and mother hold the keys of progress and away the upward destiny of the race.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Ecclesiastes xi., 6—"In the morning sow thy seed and in the evening withold not thine hand for thou knowest not whether shall prosper this or that or whether they shall both be alike good."

After a short exegesis of the text and context Rev. Mr. Young proceeded to apply the teaching of the passage to the relation of parents to children. Using the figure of the text, that of a sower scattering the seed, the subject was treated under four heads.

1. The seed bed. This was child life with its inherited tendencies and germinal powers. Many of the traits of moral and mental nature of the present showed themselves in the child and should be considered in the education of the child. These might help to success or might be a barrier to be overcome are success was won. The seed bed was productive. It was not a barren soil but one capable of producing a harvest.

2. The seed.—This was the word of God. Reference was made to the word of God as taught in the Sunday School and in the church, but the seed that was most likely to take root was the word taught by the parent at the family altar or woven by the mother in the simple story whispered to the child. No public system of teaching can take the place of the word taught by the parent. This word should not only be taught but lived by the parent, the power of example. The Godly life of father and mother would prove a sheet anchor to the child amid the storms of skepticism and infidelity.

3. The cultivation of the seed thus sown. This opened the broad fields of parental anxiety and care. Many mothers are like Rizpah of old, anxious to keep the birds of prey and wild beasts of evil from their children. It also opened the somewhat broad field of parental discipline. Here, the speaker said, he trod with greater hesitancy than he did some years since, inasmuch as experience had taught him that many theories were utterly impracticible and unworkable. Two sceptres were wielded in discipline, the sceptre of love and the sceptre of force. The judicious blending of these two would bring about the practical illustration of Gladstone's principle of good government, to make it easy to do right and hard to do wrong. Punishment, he believed, should never be inflicted in anger and the parent should feel as keenly the fact that he had to punish as the child that he was punished. The fact of so many children in the police court during the past year showed that discipline and care were neglected in some quarters.

4. The harvest—We all hope that our children will succeed in life. That the harvest will be in proportion to the seed sown and the care exercised. In the majority of cases this will be so, but there are many exceptions. How often children of the greatest care turn out badly, but they are after all the exception. And even here the parent who has faithfully sown the seed and cared for the growing plant has the satisfaction of knowing he has done his duty.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Rev. J. C. Davidson took for his text :—

"Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

After speaking of the nature of responsibilities in general, Mr. Davidson went on to speak of the greatness of that of training children both in body and in mind. It was recognized that definite habits and training had to be decided upon for the child by those to whom it was entrusted, and upon a proper selection and faithful carrying out of these, depended the result—either for weal or for woe. The same principle held in respect to character, the greatest possession of a child. A good sound character would no more come by chance than would a robust body or an educated mind. And yet when it came to character and its training power—religion—parents too often said, let the child choose for itself. Instead of this parents should use their responsibility—should choose, decide and act firmly. Reference was then made to the urgent need in town for united action in this respect. It was time for all citizens to look earnestly into the question and take a strong policy. First, the children must be trained to habits of implicit obedience. If parents could not do anything else, they could at least insist not harshly, but firmly and kindly, that their children should obey them. Secondly, not only obedience, but reverence to God and respect to man were to be inculcated. From the fifth commandment it was learned that physical health was involved here—"that thy days may be long upon the earth." The third essential feature to be earnestly impressed was honourable conduct. Conduct that was cleverly deceptive or sharp or mean should never be laughed at or applauded, but steadily frowned down. The glory of the old British character of honour should always be dwelt upon. Then, lastly, the preacher urged that the child should be trained to love, showing itself in acts of kindness and courtesy. Boys were too often encouraged to place before them an ideal of hardness and roughness ; they went on from one rough act to another until thoughtlessly, perhaps, they were led on to wanton damage of property, thus suddenly placing themselves under the ban of the law. In conclusion Mr. Davidson considered the persons to whom this responsibility was given. First and foremost the parents, to whom we looked to support the authority of themselves, and also the teachers and clergy. Next the Sunday school teachers, and lastly, and perhaps most important, the preacher urged that the school teachers of the town shared the responsibility to a very serious degree, and that the issue lay largely with them. This might not be formally placed upon the curriculum, but nevertheless it was a leading feature of practical education. The preacher believed that the people of Peterborough had a right to look to the public school teachers to take advantage of the numberless opportunities open to them by virtue of their position, to inculcate in their scholars, sound healthy morals and kindly courteous manners. If they would unitedly set this object before them the teachers would prove in the future even greater benefactors to the people of Peterborough than they had been in the past.

ST. JOHN'S SOUTH WARD MISSION.

Rev. Carl Smith, in St. John's South Ward Mission, spoke from Luke II, v. 51 :

And he went down with them and came to Nazareth and was subject unto them.

From this incident of our text our minds are carried to the house at Nazareth where Jesus passed from infancy to youth and from youth to manhood.

Around that home life there about which Scripture is so strangely silent, Christian fancy would fain weave a fair picture. More fully in keeping with the truth of that life is the dream of the saintly bishop who sees the holy family in the quietness of their humble daily task, living the simple life of the Eastern peasant, than the baseless traditions of the apocryphal gospels, where we are told that Jesus carries the split water in his robe ; pulls the short board to the required length, throws all the clothes in the dyer's vat and then draws them out each stained the requisite colour. These and many other like stories are told of his early years and against these the consciousness of Christendom revolts. The home at Nazareth was the ideal home for humanity. With Joseph to guide and support it, with Mary to hallow and sweeten it, with the youthful Jesus to illuminate it with the light of heaven, we may well regard it as a field of asphodel. In that home as in all Jewish homes parental authority reigned supreme. As has been said, "what Jewish fathers and mothers were, what they felt towards their children, and with what reverence, affection and care the latter returned what they received, is known to every reader of the Old Testament. The relationship of father had its highest sanction and embodiment in that of God towards Israel, the tenderness and care of a mother in that of the watchfulness and piety of the Lord over His people." In this home the rule of pious and loving parents was fully exercised. The words of Mary and Joseph were the laws of the life of the Son of man. What an ideal for every home to-day.

In the Jewish family all the early training of the child fell upon the parents. Beginning his life by dedication and prayers to God at his circumcision, the child was surrounded with an atmosphere of religion which made a holy, happy, God-devoted life a possibility. From his mother the first impressions would be received. The Sabbath meal, the lighting of the Sabbath lamp, the setting apart of a portion of the dough, the folded piece of parchment upon the door post bearing Jehovah's name, which those who passed in and out touched with the fingers, and then kissed them in reverence, would be the first thing to attract his attraction. Then again the great feasts and festivals, Purim. The Passover, the feast of weeks, the feast of the New Year, the solemnity of the Day of Atonement, all would tend to fix upon the minds of the young the great central thoughts of the Jewish religion. The father, too, was bound to teach his children, the liturgy or Jewish creed. Select passages of the Bible, the wise sayings of the sages, the festal Psalms, the birthday text, which the youth would weave into his daily prayers. Then at the age of five the children were sent to the synagogue to be further instructed in the Law and the other portions of the Old Testament. Thus with the greatest care the Jewish children were trained up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

To-day, when we are perplexing ourselves over the question of more religious instructions for the young, can we not learn something from the life of a Jewish home? If to-day the parents would exercise their authority in the spirit of righteousness ; if they would realize their duty and responsibility and try precept and try example, do their part in teaching their children the true principles of a religious life, something would be done to accomplish the ideal every true man and woman must have ever before them, the building up of a nation which has impressed upon it it the image, the character of Christ.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

Rev. H. Symonds took for his text, Psalm cxliv, 12 :—

"That our sons may grow up as the young plants, and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple."

In such beautiful words the Royal Psalmist expressed his aspirations for the children of his people. Such should be the aspiration of all parents for their children. The question was : "How can we train up our sons as goodly plants and our daughters as polished corners of the temple?"

1. First, go to the root of the matter and observe how the Bible teaches that the family is a Divine institution. Marriage is ordained of God, and children are an "heritage and gift that cometh of the Lord." The early chapters of the Bible are all about families. The family is the primal church. Upon all this Jesus Christ set his seal by coming into the world as a little babe and growing up in a family.

2. Hence religion has its own place in the family. There is danger in our modern tendency to group all our religion round the Church. "I wish plainly to say, that whilst greatly honouring those who have the disposition and the time to work for the Church, it must not be admitted that what we call church work is more sacred or more blessed, than the due performance of our home or daily duties done in the same spirit of self-consecration to God."

3. There is a general feeling that parental authority is diminishing. So many child convictions in Peterborough in one summer! Children, says Chief Rossel, from eight years and upwards swarming on our streets at night, not only boys but girls. Where does the responsibility lie? On the shoulders of the parents.

4. The parents are showing a tendency to shift their responsibility on to the state or the Sunday school. But nothing can take the place of home influence. Upon the fathers in particular three points were urged.

(a) The importance of home example. How can children respect a drunken or foul mouthed father?

(b) Sympathy with the children's lives, especially their pleasures and games.

(c) The fathers should come to church with the children.

In wholesome, cheerful, contented, harmonious and truly though quietly religious life, lies the fundamental condition of all genuine happiness and prosperity.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Torrance spoke from I Samuel, iii., 13 :—

"For I have told him that I will judge his house forever for the iniquity, which he knoweth ; because his sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not."

Dr. Torrance opened with the quotation : "A wise son maketh a glad father ; but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother." The happiness of parents, said he, depends more upon the wisdom of their sons than it does upon riches or honour or any earthly good. These who live to see the members of their families occupying useful positions in the world are more to be envied than the most favoured sons of fortune.

The subject suggested by the text is : Parental restraint the safeguard against youthful wickedness—"Because his sons made themselves vile and he restrained them not.

I. Consider the sad possibility of boys making themselves vile :—

(1) They are liable to do so because of the evil in their hearts. They have been born in sin and they now give evidence of this. St. Augustine says : "I myself have seen and known an infant to be jealous though it could not speak.

(2) They are liable to do so from evil companionship. One leads another on to do wrong. St. Augustine speaks of having robbed a pear tree in his youth. He says :—"Yet by myself alone I would not have done it. I recall what my heart was. Alone I could not have done it. I loved them in it, the companionship of my accomplices with whom I did it."

Tests are different forms which this vileness assumes (e. g.) falsehood, profanity, impurity.

II. Consider the duty of parental restraint. God has invested the parent with authority over the child. Love should be the incentive to exercise this authority aright. Parents often neglect this. Some, as in the case of Eli, from feebleness of character, others, as in the case of David, from over indulgence to their children. Others, because their time is taken up with outside things.

ADVERTISE IN "THE EXAMINER."

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its die; and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder that if left to itself will go on and on till it develops seriously.

When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. The time to cure a disease is at the beginning and better than all is to so watch your health that disease will never come. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold.

That is the principle on which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood; it puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order. Makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health.

"I got a cancer on my tongue and had it cut out. I consulted fifteen different physicians without deriving any benefit. At last I turned to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I persisted in its use and my health is better than ever before. Formerly every accidental wound I received began to fester, would not heal; now, such lacerations heal themselves."

Respectfully yours,

Peter J. Shocker

REVEILLE ON SHIPBOARD.

The Bugle Calls All Hands to Lash up the Hammocks.

Let us spend the day on board of a man-of-war and see how this is done. Let us suppose that she is in port. We take our place on her deck very early in the morning. The heavens are bright with stars, and about us masts and rigging, smokestacks and ventilators rise up in shadowy outlines, while the big guns loom ill-defined and ghostlike. In the gangway sentinels are pacing; on the bridge a quartermaster keeps his lookout; and back and forth on the quarterdeck paces an officer, alone. By the light of a lantern he presently consults a book for the "morning orders," which have been written by the executive officer the night before; and then he directs the quartermaster to call the boatswain's mate, the hammock stowers, the master-at-arms and the bugler. Then passes a period of ten minutes, during which a few shadowy figures appear on deck and take their stand beside the long, trough-like places in the ship's bulwarks known as the hammock nettings, opening them up and preparing them for the reception of the hammocks. Then, at the time assigned in the morning orders, the officer of the deck gives his first routine order: "Sound the reveille! Call all hands!"

At once there ring out in the hitherto silent ship those merry bugle notes known to almost all of us. To them have been fitted the words:—

I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up in the morning.

I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up at all!

The captain's worse than the sergeant;
The sergeant's worse than the corp'ral;
The corp'ral's worse than the private;
But the major's the worst of all!

I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up in the morning.
I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up;
I can't get 'em up at all!

The last note is followed by the shrill whistle of a boatswain's mate and the prolonged, hoarse cry: "A-a-a-ll ha-a-nds!"

Then on the decks below you can hear the master-at-arms rushing from hammock to hammock, giving the sluggards a slap and a shake and repeatedly crying:—

"Heave out; heave out and lash up!"

Run below and watch the feet and legs dangling from the swinging hammocks; see the sailors drop from them to the deck like bats from the limbs of trees, then neatly fold their blankets, roll them up with the mattress in the hammocks and pass around the latter seven times a rope lashing until each resembles a huge sausage. Then, unslinging them from the hooks overhead, they carry them hastily on deck to the nettings; for in ten minutes after that bugle call of reveille every hammock must be stowed away, and anyone who comes later with his hammock is reported for punishment by the officer of the deck to the captain.—Lieut. John M. Ellicott, in St. Nicholas.

NEW SLEEVES.

A Number of Novelties for Fall and Winter Wear.

In fall fashions, so far as the world of sleeves is concerned, there are a host of novelties offered. The sleeve determines much of the style of the present gown, and has lavished upon it decoration enough for a dozen ordinary gowns.

The favorite sleeve for a plain cloth gown, which admits of little garniture, has the arm fitted quite snugly almost to the shoulder, narrowing down to absolute tightness over the hand in two deep points. The only fulness of the sleeve puffs out at the shoulder, smartly, not at all in a drooping way, but aggressively stiff, as if making up for the lack of quantity. Often this style of sleeve is made up in velvet for a cloth gown, and finished at the wrist by a soft frill of yellow lace. A far more dressy sleeve is shown here, a style suitable for a handsome dinner or reception gown, where more or less elaborateness is employed. Over a tight lining of silk is puckered thin mousseline de soie in black or white, from the puff which tops the shoulder to the frill finishing the wrist. The puff is made of the dress material, and is made to stand out as stiffly as possible, finished oddly by a huge loop and long end of the silk stuff caught at the top of the shoulder by a fancy button, and allowed to flutter away at the back. Twists of velvet, fastened with fancy buttons, finish the bottom of the shoulder puff and the wrist.

A novel sleeve to be worn on an evening gown when cut decollette resembles a squash in shape. It consists of a huge, flattened pouff, very much depressed directly at the shoulder by a succession of fine shirrings drawn tightly together, from below which the enormous fulness springs out. This sleeve is especially handsome when made of velvet, the seams intersected with creamy lace, edged with frills of the same standing out over the velvet.

Quite as dressy a sleeve is shown for a fancy blouse when something more than the plain gigot sleeve is required. It has a tight lower arm extending nearly to the top of the shoulder in a sharp point, from which the puff perks upward. The wrist is cut long and hollowed out in tiny squares to set over the hand, set off by the usual lace frill. A twist of velvet finishes the point at the top of the arm, while small choux of velvet are placed immediately below it. From them fall two flots of yellow lace to the elbow.

Whenever the material will admit of the combination, the lower arm of the new sleeve is set in a succession of deep wrinkles from wrist to shoulder, where the fulness seems drawn out in the opposite direction to form the necessary puff. On a few gowns, always tailor-made, the narrow coat sleeve appears, but it is early to predict the degree of favor with which it will be received.

The elbow sleeve is worn upon all possible occasions by women with pretty arms, and is, moreover, a dainty mode which everyone admires. An extra amount of bouffancy is allowed the elbow-sleeve, or the smart effect is spoiled.

A pretty idea of decorating the elbow sleeves of a black gauze evening frock is to scatter glittering gilt sequins as thickly over it as possible, and edge it, top and bottom, with sequin sewn gauze.

A great deal of attention is given to the finishing of the wrist of all new sleeves; they are seldom left plain, but slashed into all sorts of odd fashions, according to the fancy, hollowed out to fit the palm, and allowed to fall over the back of the hand in all sorts of peculiar ways. Narrow puffings of silk matching the linings are crushed in here; and as many lace frills as the hand will admit of. Even the plainest of the points must be neatly faced with silk matching the goods, or the effect is spoiled.

In the great Paris houses there are especial sleeve designers, who never touch any other item of dress than the sleeve, and from these clever brains emanate many of our most telling modes. When the skirt changes in style the sleeves must change, or appear outre by contrast.

By and by, when skirts shall have collapsed, we will all be ready to welcome the tight sleeve, but while the present mode permits sleeve decoration we will all gladly follow. Beyond doubt, the best sleeve lining is silk, a thin, crisp, taffeta.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

Sold by James Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street, Peterborough.

Tobacco Heart.

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 289 George Street.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate and cure constipation.

Setting Strawberries in Autumn.

I set most of my strawberry plants in the fall, usually in September, and have good success from this method. I prefer it to spring setting. Last season I planted 8,000 strawberry plants the latter part of September. They were cultivated once a week as long as the ground would permit of culture, and as soon as the surface was frozen a light covering of stale manure was applied. In the spring, as soon as the frost was out of the ground, the covering was raked off and cultivation begun. The cultivation has been kept up all season, and a fine crop of berries was picked in June. The plants now cover the ground and a good many of them will have to be taken out. I firmly believe that strawberries cannot be produced unless there are plenty of vines for them to grow on. Set the plants six inches apart. In the fall, the ground is in much better condition than in the spring. A large root growth is made before freezing weather sets in and the roots will go down deep, ready to promote thrifty development in the spring. With but very little extra labor the plants will be far ahead of those set in the spring. In my opinion it is advisable not to let the plants fruit the first season after setting.

Others have found health, vigor and vitality in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it surely has power to help you also. Why not try it?

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentry, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

A SPECIFIC
—FOR—
La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs,
AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

BLACK GOWNS.

No End of Lovely New Stuffs in Black.

There is something very attractive to most women about a black gown; even though its somberness may be unbecoming, every woman wishes she might wear it and look as fetching as her blonde friend.

Every season brings out no end of lovely new stuffs in black. It seems, sometimes, as though more attention is paid by the manufacturers to black goods than to any other. It is safe to say that this is so, since the large majority of womenkind go robed in black.

There is no more appropriate nor becoming mode of dress for those past their youth. It often changes a really dowdy woman in colors to a chic picture in black, simply because before she let her fancy run riot with her good taste. Half the women in the world are possessed of the most shocking taste, which is not in any degree remedied by the advice of their modistes or milliners. To such, I would say (if they are conscious) wear black.

The rage for black and white gowns has resulted in leaving us the most stable of the two as a standby for all the season. Young and old are including at least one black gown in the wardrobe, and very often the entire costume—hat, coat, furs, gloves, etc. All the big shops carry a full line of made-up gowns in black. Many are the calls upon them, in cases of emergency, such as death, and then it is found most convenient to supply oneself with the necessary mourning outfit at a moment's notice.

Mohair reigns among the black goods, both figured and plain, and of so fine a texture as to be distinguished from silk with difficulty. Crepons are out again in new forms, all lovely and fascinating enough to make them a leader among black goods.

Canvas cloth, homespun and smooth-faced cashmeres are also seen in abundance, while a wide variety is indulged in in the matter of decoration. Braid is a favorite and is applied to the gown in genuine military fashion, the general style of the gown when thus trimmed being extremely severe.

A smart gown just completed for a young matron is made up of canvas cloth of rather a heavy weight, over rustling black taffeta. The skirt measures five yards, and is gored as much as the summer ones have been. The flare is pronounced by the frou-frou frills set inside the foot.

The bodice fits the figure like a glove, and is a little longer than usual, coming just below the belt, in a pretty curve. It has no seams at the back, and sets out over the small bustle in two tiny points. Bands of black silk braid are arranged across the front, military fashion, while the same mode of trimming adorns the collar and wrist.

With it is worn a wide-brimmed hat of heavy tuscan braid, in dull black, tipped high at the back and adorned with masses of creamy roses and tall loops of stiff black taffeta ribbon. If the day is a bit chilly, la mistress will snuggle about her pretty throat a thick boa of tabbet, and cuddle her dainty hands in a huge muff of the same.

A handsome black gown, tailor-made, is an object of joy to every woman. It sets off every curve of a lovely figure, and gives the wearer an air of stateliness no color ever does.

Another wonderfully attractive black gown is made up in velvety broadcloth, as thick as a board. The wide skirt has three bands of narrow black silk braid set flatly at the foot and a lining of black and white striped satin, to set it off. The bodice has a smart little bolero jacket, flaring over a tightly fitted waist.

Rows of braid, set in clusters of three, ending in tiny loops, cover the entire jacket, while a triple row of black cloth-covered buttons adorn the front of the bodice, from throat to belt. There are no seams at the back, save those under the arms. A narrow, braided belt finishes the waist, from under which flares a smart postillion, giving an air of bonfiancy at the back. The sleeves are moderately large and puffy at the shoulder, tapering into a slender lower arm.

The crepons are more fancifully made and more elaborately trimmed, generally with black taffeta ribbons, chiffon and jet.

A fetching gown of cashmere that will please the woman who desires simplicity as well as good style, has a perfectly plain wide skirt. The bodice is slightly blousey at the front, with a smooth, plain vest, set directly through the center, over which flares, on either side, a broad box plait of the goods, adorned with a half dozen wide hand-run tucks. The fulness at the back is drawn softly into the waist, and held in place by a twist of black taffeta ribbon, with a smart bow at one side. The tight sleeves are made broad-looking at the shoulders by the double frills of black, set on together.

Slow Milking and Butter Fat.

"Dr. Babcock found, in some experiments he tried regarding this matter, that slow milking had a very decided effect in reducing the butter fat in the milk, there being an average decline of over 11 per cent in his trials as a result of slow milking, while there was also a decided diminution in the quality; though in a prolonged trial with cows naturally going dry the differences tended to disappear. The total result over a season, however is beneficial to the milk yield in the case of quick milking not to speak of the saving of time.

"We do not yet know all about the secretion of the milk in the udder, but we are getting on that way. We now know that it is wholly through the result of nervous action that the blood, lymph and cells of the tissue of the udder become 'metabolized' into milk; and we further know that this formation of the milk largely takes place after the operation of milking has begun. This is why the gentle treatment of the animal has so much to do with her milk yield; if she is hunted with dogs to begin with, and afterwards roughly treated in the milking, the nervous excitement reacts on the tissues of the udder, and prevents the secretion of the milk, and, in common language, she does not 'let it down.' Anything that excites her and ruffles her temper has the same effect, and she has not of herself the power to either let it down or hold it up, and the milk will only flow readily when she is treated in such a way as to make her pleased and contented.

"Prof. Stewart compares the secretion of milk to the secretion of tears; the latter only flow when there is mental excitement of a painful nature, while milk secretion requires mental excitement of a pleasurable kind; or it may be compared to the sudden development of saliva in the mouth of a hungry man when he encounters the smell of roast beef with the usual 'fixings.' The pleasurable sensation in the case of a cow is due to having her teats handled in a way similar to the sucking of the calf, to the chewing of her cud, and generally to being in a pleasant and contented frame of mind. Gentle, kindly treatment conduces to this, while rough usage of any kind tends to the contrary, and the cow unknowingly 'holds up' her milk and goes down in yield.

"Milking should be done quickly, quietly and thoroughly. There should be no milk left in the udder, as doing so tends to dry up the animal, and for this reason am I an advocate of stripping out—some responsible person going round after the others and squeezing out the last drops. I need hardly tell you these 'strippings' are the richest part of the yield while the plan ensures the animals being milked dry, and thus having their yielding power developed."

Duties of Butter-makers.

First, a buttermaker should be physically all right. Their five senses should be perfect. It is a known fact that any man afflicted with rheumatism would be considered almost a suicide to work in a creamery where they are continually exposed to sudden changes from heat to cold and in a damp atmosphere nearly all the time.

It is also a fact that their hearing should be perfect, as it is in that that any change in the running and speed of the machinery is detected. And next of importance is the sense of smell, which ought to be cultivated so it would be like

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various forms resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathise with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal in Its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Verdict Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kincardine, Ont., had made himself a hopeless invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever." Samuel Elya, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of Renfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Paisley, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through la grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, 'I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known bailiff of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but, thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians did not help me. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say that I am a new man."

A shrewd observer of human nature has said: "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." How important it is, then, that health and strength should be made the lot of the mothers of this country. The women of Canada are ready by scores to tell of the benefits that have come to them through the use of South American Nervine. Mrs. R. Armstrong, of Orillia, wife of the colporteur of the Bible Society of that town, suffered for six years from nerveus prostration. Medical assistance did not help. "In all," she says, "I have taken six bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say this is the one medicine that has effected a cure in my case." Mrs. John Dinwoody has been for 40 years a resident of Plesherton, and has reached the allotted three-score years and ten. Three years ago her system sustained a severe shock through the death of a daughter. Nervine was recommended. She perseveringly took 12 bottles of medicine, with the result that she is to-day again strong and hearty. Hundreds of women suffer from impoverished blood and weakened nerves. "All vitality," says Mrs. J. Ballis, of Brampton, "seemed to have forsaken my system. I was unable to get relief from any source until I commenced taking South American Nervine. The results are most satisfactory—greater far than I could have hoped for." It came within the way of Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, to treat under the best physicians, both in Canada and England, for heart disease and nervous debility, but she failed to get any relief. "I was advised," she says, "to take South American Nervine, and must say I do believe that if I had not done so I would not be alive to-day."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

HUMAN CRAZY QUILT.

A WONDERFUL CASE OF SKIN GRAFTING IN CALIFORNIA.

A Very Large Portion of the Surface of a Young Woman Who Was Terribly Burned Covered With Foreign Cuticle.

Here is a case of skin grafting which outdoes the wildest dreams of the man who first suggested the process.

The girl this story tells of is a human crazy quilt. Her skin is made up of scraps from the cuticles of hundreds of people, and in gratitude she has had the names or initials of all the contributors tattooed by an Indian woman on the scraps of skin they gave.

There is a young woman in California who has been operated upon many times for skin grafting successfully, and who now lives as a curiosity in the medical world.

A HUMAN CRAZY QUILT.

This young woman on the 5th of last June was seriously burned along one entire side of the body. She was lighting the gas in her father's home at dusk, and had reached the chandelier in the hall. It was too high for her, and she stood upon a chair. Taking a match from several that were in her hand, she scratched it upon the sole of her shoe. It was one of those poor matches that cannot retain their brimstone, and the head flew off lighted.

The girl had on a dress of some light stuff, and the lighted head of the match flew in her lap, instantly setting her ablaze. The girl gave a frightened scream and clutched for the wall, tipping over the chair on which she stood. Down she fell to the floor, but sprang to her feet and fled across the parlor, with her dress blazing up around her head.

The family were sitting down to supper, and a brother, who happened to be in the house, seized the rug off the floor and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until his sister was terribly burned up the entire side.

When the surgeons were sent for they found the girl moaning in great agony, while to the shreds of clothing torn from her there hung pieces of raw flesh, charred black with the flames. Portions upon the arm and leg were burned to the bone.

It was thought the girl could not live, and morphine was given, as in most cases of burns, to ease her dying moments. But, to their surprise, she became conscious between the doses of morphine, and conversed rationally with her family. She expressed a determination to get well, deplored the foolishness of her accident, and declared that, though suffering greatly, she knew by her innermost feelings that she was in no danger of immediate death.

The girl's pluck inspired the physicians with hope, and, though three-fourths of the body was burned, they decided that she had a fighting chance for life. There was nothing they could do but apply the usual remedies and nourish the system and keep off fever and delirium. But this they did for three weeks, working faithfully, and during the fourth week she was well along toward convalescence.

When it became known that pieces of skin were needed to patch out the exposed surface upon the body of this plucky girl recruits were not scarce. Friends freely offered themselves to the doctor's knife, and strangers came as well, begging that they be allowed to contribute bits of skin. Soon there were enough volunteers to graft a surface many times as large as the exposed flesh.

With perfectly antiseptic forceps the surgeons would lift portions of skin and clip them off with scissors, which were also dipped in antiseptic fluid. To be perfectly sure that there was nothing of a foreign nature, all the instruments were previously boiled and then dipped in the antiseptic.

The flesh meanwhile was prepared by an antiseptic for the new piece of skin. Quickly it was applied and chip after chip of flesh added until a large area was covered. As long as the patient could stand the forceps and the pain the sharp little scissors would go on clip, clipping away the minute particles of flesh.

And so the skin grafting went along until there was a new skin upon the entire burned portion of the girl. After that she recovered very rapidly and is well to-day.

The most curious part of it is that this girl felt deeply her gratitude toward those who had suffered for her, and when she got well she used to look upon the grafted bits of flesh and say: "Well do I remember the day that Maxey stood there so bravely and let them cut her arm for me." "And Charley was just sixteen that day."

After awhile some one suggested to the girl that she could perpetuate the memory by placing tattooed marks upon the pieces of borrowed skin. At first the physicians strenuously objected to having the foreign skin tampered with, but seeing that all was normal they could not sustain their objection, and the tattooing was done. An Indian woman was hired to place the marks upon the skin in small colored letters, and day by day the work went on. It was painful, but so great was the girl's enthusiasm to have it done that she did not seem to feel the pain. When all was completed she was as curious a specimen of a tattooed girl as was ever seen.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in:—

BACON WON THE MILE.

Uncle Sam's Champion Beaten by 30 Yards at Bolton—The Englishman Was a 7 to 1 on Favorite.

London, Oct. 17.—The second of the series of three events between Frederick E. Bacon, the English long distance running champion, and Thomas P. Conneff, the Irish-American champion, for the International professional championship and $500 a side on each event, took place at Bolton, near Manchester, to-day, and, as in the case of the previous three-mile contest, which was run on the Ball Bridge grounds at Dublin on October 3, was won easily by Bacon. The distance of to-day's race was one mile, and the contest was won by the English champion in 4 minutes 35 3-5 seconds. Conneff was beaten by 30 yards. The third race, distance two miles, will probably take place in Glasgow.

The weather was not at all favorable, a drizzling rain falling, but despite this fact 7000 persons assembled to witness the races. It was almost a foregone conclusion among the experts that Bacon would defeat the American and consequently there were virtually no wagers laid on the event. Offers of 8 to 1 and 7 to 1 on Bacon were made but found no takers, notwithstanding it was reported that Conneff's condition had improved since his recent race at Dublin. Both men received an ovation when they appeared on the track, the crowd being impartial in its cheering of the contestants. When the signal for the start was given Conneff dashed off in the lead and was soon a couple of yards ahead of Bacon. The American covered the first quarter in 1 minute 2 seconds, the half in 2 minutes 9 seconds and the three quarters in 3 minutes 20 2-5 seconds. Conneff retained his advantage for three quarters of a mile, but it was seen that Bacon was running well within his power and was holding back to make a hot finish. Almost immediately after passing the three-quarter pole Conneff began to slacken his pace, but Bacon made no attempt to pass him, keeping in the rear until Conneff was 100 yards from home, when the Englishman let himself out and dashed to the front. Conneff was run out and was unable to make a spurt when Bacon passed him. The latter had been running easily up to that point, but he now ran faster and won the race in the easiest possible manner.

About Musical Instruments.

Of all the numerous instruments employed in our time, the oldest and most widely known are the drum, harp and bagpipe. The first of these, simple as its construction is, has literally played an important part in music. It originated in the north of Asia, and was for more than 2000 years the only instrument known to the rude and roving Tartars.

THE MONTREAL CATASTROPE.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—The terrible catastrophe on St. Peter-street, by which three brave firemen lost their lives, is the talk of the city and the sad event was referred to to-day in many of the Catholic and Protestant churches. It has been decided at the City Hall to give Capt. Laporte and Firemen King and Carpentier a public funeral, which will take place Tuesday afternoon, and which, no doubt, will be very largely attended. The victims leave three widows and seventeen children, and all of these will have to be provided for. Each family will receive $1000 from the Firemen's Fund, and no doubt private donations will be forthcoming.

Hon. Mr. Tarte's adversary, Mr. W. A. Grenier of La Libre Parole, who is alleged to have seriously libelled the Minister of Public Works, was yesterday committed to stand his trial before the Court of Queen's Bench, and it is quite likely this cause celebre will be heard during the November term.

Le Progres de Woonsocket calls upon Hon. Mr. Laurier to spend $100,000 annually in bringing 200 families back to Canada, either settling them in the Province of Quebec or in the Northwest Territories.

There's Wisdom . . In Economy

And there are different sorts of economy. The economy which "saves at the spigot and wastes at the bung" is worse than no economy at all. The truest saving is to buy the best your pocket-book will afford at the lowest price for which it can be sold. We buy the best of everything. We sell in such a close margin of profit that our customers feel confident that bottom has been struck. Hence the active, progressive look of things which some people wonder at. It's very simple this honest shop-keeping when you know how and the trading public will always p'n their faith to an establishment of this kind.

THE HOSIERY SECTION

Doing

AS WE PROMISE.

Good advertising does not encourage prevarication in prices. Quibbling or deviating from the plain path of truth and fair dealing, is an abuse which brings its own retribution.

PRICES without anything behind them, have very little meaning. But when they are fixed with care, are not misleading, and really represent something, they bring good buyers.

Dress Novelties.

So many of the pretty things have been picked up up in such a hurry that we've had to repeat orders—and to-day new lots are opened up in some of the best novelties.

Very Stylish Dress Effects, only 50c a yd.

THEY SHOOT WOMEN

Awful Stories of Cruelty From Cuba.

COWARDLY DOINGS OF SPANIARDS

The Insurgents Show Humanity in Their Dealings With Spanish Prisoners Who Fall Into Their Hands—The Deadly Shot of a Brave Cuban Woman.

Havana, Oct. 19.—In the fight which General Melguiso had with Gen. Maceo's forces a short time ago, Melguiso captured 40 rebels, whom he ordered shot on the spot, and in the recent engagement between Maceo's troops and the Spaniards, under General Bernal, the latter caused 22 prisoners to be shot, including a very beautiful young girl and two older women. Bernal says he saw one of these women hidden in the bush near by and he paid no attention to her at first, believing she was a refugee, but after the fight was over a stray shot picked off one of his soldiers, when they all rushed on her, she killing 11 before she was captured and killed.

This statement is positively true, as the facts were heard from the lips of Gen. Bernal in person, when he was interviewed on his arrival in Havana, and confessed them without shame to all the reporters, who silently listened to his "exploits."

With the 40 men killed by Melguiso there were four women and a child, but he does not know whether the child was abandoned in the woods or killed. They tried to force the women to tell them the whereabouts of Maceo and his plans, but the only words they got out of them were that the Spaniards were cowardly dogs, and this so enraged Melguiso that he ordered them shot immediately, they all dying with the cries of "Vive Cuba Libre."

This affair and that of Bernal shooting 22 captives clearly show that the Spaniards continue their relentless butchery and do not pardon a single man captured in the field, while the Cubans pursue an exactly contrary course, as the following recent case gives evidence: Perico Delgado, commanding one of Maceo's brigades, in a fight, captured a lieutenant-colonel named Penichet of Cuban birth, with 19 soldiers of the line and seven volunteers. The lieut.-colonel, on account of his extraction, and the seven volunteers were killed, but the 19 regular Spanish soldiers were returned to Major Dois of Melguiso's staff, after being disarmed.

THEY HAVE STRUCK LUCK

Mr. Boas of St. Hyacinthe and Mr. J. N Greenshields of Montreal Secure English Capital for Their Business

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Messrs. F. Boas, manufacturer of St. Hyacinthe, and Jas. N. Greenshields, Q.C., of this city, are in luck. They own the Granite Woolen Mills at St. Hyacinthe, where 950 hands are employed, and also a promising asbestos mine at Danville, Que. Some time ago Mr. Boas proceeded to England with a view to raise capital to carry on the enterprises above mentioned on a much larger scale. News has just been received to the effect that Mr. Boas has met with complete success in the money markets of the Old World. Your correspondent learns that the capital of the St. Hyacinthe mill will be increased to $1,000,000, thus permitting the employment of two thousand operatives, while the asbestos mine at Danville will be transferrd to a company with a capital of $2,000,000, Messrs. Boas and Greenshields still having control.

Mrs. Frank Sheer died yesterday, and a warrant is out for the arrest of her husband, charging him with having ill used deceased.

The Mayor has subscribed $150 to the Firemen's Relief Fund and The Star a like amount. The bodies of King, Laporte and Carpenter are now lying at No. 1 Police Station, and the funeral will take place to-morrow morning.

KILLED HIS WIFE AND SON

A Drunken Farmer in Kentucky Used a Corn Knife With Awful Effect and Then Lied About It

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 19.—Marion Kennard, who lived on Badger Creek, Wise County, killed his wife and 14-year-old son last night. He failed to injure his young daughter. The weapon which he used was a large corn knife. Kennard had been drinking heavily for weeks. He went home after dark last night. The family had retired, but he awakened his wife and a quarrel followed. Kennard then went to the porch, where he took down the corn knife. Returning, he struck his wife, almost severing her head; then, with a blow, he instantly killed the son.

After sleeping off the effects of the liquor, Kennard told his neighbors a tramp had murdered his wife and child, but the daughter, who escaped, related the facts.

DEATH OF DR. MANLEY.

The Venerable and Respected Physician of the Township of Derby Passes Over to the Majority.

Owen Sound, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Dr. Henry Manley of this town, county jail physician and one of the oldest practising physicians in Ontario, died last night at his residence in the Township of Derby, about two miles from town, after a considerable illness, aged 78 years. He was born in Devonshire, Eng., and received his medical degrees at Bristol in 1843, coming then to this country and residing at Toronto. Shortly after his arrival at Toronto he was appointed resident physician of the Toronto General Hospital, at the end of a year being appointed as attendant physician of several bands of Indians in this neighborhood. He moved to Owen Sound, where for the past 47 years he has resided and actively practised his profession. About 25 years ago he was appointed county jail physician, which he has been ever since. The deceased doctor was widely known in this vicinity, not only on account of his success as a physician, which his skill and long experience had enabled him to attain, but also because of his many excellences of character and his genial and kindly disposition. A widow and large grown up family survive him, among whom are W. J. Manley of Wiarton, Henry Manley of Meaford and Arthur Manley of this town, all druggists. The funeral is to take place to-morrow.

MARY M'LEOD FREE.

Her Serious Illness Interfered With Her Trial and When Able She Will Go Home.

Toronto, Oct. 19.

On account of the severe illness of the girl Mary McLeod, who confessed to stealing from Mrs. Fred Mossop, the Crown has withdrawn the charges against her. The girl is still in the General Hospital and is gradually improving. Her brother is in the city and will take her home as soon as she can stand the journey. The news of her arrest was a surprise to her parents.

Gone to Get Married.

Cettinge, Montenegro, Oct. 19.—The Crown Prince of Naples and the Princess Helene of Montenegro started for Italy to-day, accompanied by the prominent members of the Montenegro royal family, who will be present at their marriage. The route to the station was lined by the army. A royal salute was fired, and the Prince and Princess were enthusiastically cheered.

Prominent Mason Dead.

Sydney, C.B., Oct. 19.—Lewis A. Tremaine, Judge of Probate and Inspector of Weights and Measures, died to-day, aged 32. He was a Royal Arch Mason and a past-high priest of the order, being a member of St. John's Lodge, Halifax.

WHEAT STILL CLIMBS

And All the Earth is Agitated About It.

MANY PEOPLE MAKING FORTUNES

Canadian Farmers are Reaping the Benefit of the Boom—It Means Millions of Dollars for the Northwest, Where Deliveries are Very Heavy Just Now.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Wheat is all the rage here, as elsewhere, and a visit on 'Change will convince anyone that several of the Montreal dealers have made a great deal of money out of the rise and are in to make a great deal more. It is estimated to-day that 4,000,000 bushels out of Manitoba's new crop of say 12,000,000 have been sold, and that no less than $2,750,000 has already gone into the pockets of the Prairie Province farmers. From all that can be gleaned here, W. W. Ogilvie has purchased 1,250,000 bushels and the Lake of the Woods Co. a round million more. When prices started upwards these two great milling concerns went in to buy, as their stock was short, and all admit that their courageous action has been the means not only of stiffening the market generally, but placing the Western farmer upon most advantageous grounds, and both Ogilvie and the Lake of the Woods Company have purchased on a fast rising market, yet at to-day's prices these enterprising concerns stand to salt away at least $150,000 each.

Mr. Hugh McLennan is, however, the wheat king, as far as profits are concerned, for, with from two to three million bushels already on the way to the sea from Chicago, Duluth and other lake ports, the general belief is that this gentleman is worth more by a full quarter of a million dollars than he was four week ago.

"He has cleared $200,000 this time, if he has made one cent," was what a well-posted member of the Board of Trade said to The World correspondent to-day. There is another pleasing feature in the case, and it is being commented upon all round, viz., that the Manitoba farmer has been getting a higher price for his grain than his brother agriculturist on the south side of the line.

Coming back to the Montreal men, the correspondent learns that several more snug fortunes have been made in our midst. Mr. Adam Thompson has cleared from $50,000 to $80,000, and the friends of Mr. Jim Carruthers are declaring that he would not take a cheque for either of the sums just mentioned for his profits on wheat. Mr. Alex. McPhee has likewise, it is claimed, made $50,000, and Mr. Alex. G. McBean from $40,000 to $50,000. Mr. James R. Campbell, who is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, is credited with having added $15,000 to $20,000 to his capital in the same manner, while the boys says Mr. Edgar Judge has cleared $10,000 in several wheat and flour speculations. This speculation has not, however, been confined to the well-known names given above, and it is probable that as many as a dozen other men have made profits all the way from $1000 to $10,000, so it is not at all surprising that smiling faces should be the order of the day on 'Change. They are all good fellows, and no one grudges them this latest streak of good luck.

NINETY-THREE CENTS A BUSHEL

Did the Farmers at Neepawa Get for Wheat on Saturday.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The Ogilvies and Lake of the Woods Milling Companies are engaged in a bitter war, but while they cut each other's throats, Manitoba farmers are largely profiting by the scrap. How bitter is the fight can be gathered from the fact that Saturday at Neepawa the rival buyers outbid each other until farmers got 93 cents a bushel, or 20 cents more than it was worth at Chicago. At nearly all points, as high as 65 cents is being paid. The result is that wheat deliveries are coming faster than it can be moved and all the elevators are full.

WITH A BULL ROAR

The Wheat Market Started the Week in Chicago Yesterday.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The wheat market started in this week with a bull roar and three cents higher than it concluded last Saturday. The session, whilst showing a net gain for the day, was nevertheless not so strong at the close as it was at the opening. This was due entirely to the heavy selling by longs, which took place. Liverpool, London, Berlin, Paris and Antwerp all quoted sensational advances, and, as the foreign contingent appears to rule the situation at present, there was nothing for Chicago to do but follow the direction of the markets mentioned. The export demand was said to be good. Statistical items of news were scarcely heeded, the pit conditions being paramount in defining the action. December wheat opened at 78⅛c to 79½c, sold between 79⅝c and 77⅛c, closing at 77⅜c, ⅛c higher than Saturday. Cash wheat was strong, selling at 3c advance, but closing nominally easy, with the futures.

A Wild Scene.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—[Later.]—In the midst of a scene of wild excitement, such as veteran traders recall in war times, December wheat opened on the Chicago Board of Trade to-day anywhere from 78¼ to 79¼ cents, after closing officially on Saturday at 75⅞ cents. It was an average three-cent jump to begin with, and in its startling suddenness and effect it came like a bomb on the board. Eighty-cent wheat was missed by a quarter of a cent only, the top notch of the sensational session being 79⅝, but the market was not all upwards. It oscillated between Saturday's closing price and the top, reacted to 78⅜ cents, then went to 79⅝, and dashed all around this point with a bewildering assortment of changes. The December future broke towards the close, the last official price being 77⅝ cents, but that was 1¾ cents above Saturday's closing. Before the commission in the pit began, the English cables posted on 'Change told the feverish crowd that more wheat was wanted by the United Kingdom. London, Liverpool, Paris and Berlin contributed their quota of bull news and served to tune the excited crowd to the pitch of a three-cent rise at the opening. Traders on both sides of the market realized it was not a local one, which was shown by the prices remaining firm in the face of heavy selling of long lines by holders to get the profit. A feature of the day was that everybody was making money. Paying business came to the brokers from Tacoma to New Brunswick. P. D. Armour was a heavy buyer, and there was a report that John Cudahy sold big lots of his wheat holdings, but it was not supposed he sold all of his long line. The boisterous opening of the Minneapolis market, where the opening price was almost 5 cents above the closing Saturday, was taken as evidence of the strength of the Northwestern market. Strong as the demand was locally, wheat could only be got when men were found who were willing to be scared be satisfied with their profits. For once were made in an hour.

FALL HINTS FOR DAIRYMEN.

H. H. DEAN'S ADVICE TO CHEESE AND BUTTER MAKERS.

"Cleanliness Next to Godliness" Applies Specially to the Dairy Industry—Good Care of Cows Pays Well—Preparations for Next Season.

The following is contributed by Mr. H. H. Dean, who is in charge of the Dairy School, Guelph. It is worthy of careful study by all interested in the Dairy Industry.

TO PATRONS.

SIR.—1. Special care of the dairy cow is needed at this time of the year. Do not allow her to remain out of doors exposed to cold wind, or rain, or chilling frost. Where this is done it means loss at the milk pail. The cow stable should be prepared for the cows now nearly every night and every cold day. Stop any cracks in walls, floor or manger. They all mean loss.

2. Beware of turnip tops and rape. A good deal of our fine fall cheese and butter is injured by allowing cows to feed on these strong-smelling foods. The cheese or butter maker may be able to "doctor" the milk so that the home buyer will not be able to detect the turnipy flavour, but the person who consumes the cheese or butter later on will likely know of it, and the reputation of Canadian Dairy Products will suffer accordingly. Don't be angry with the maker if he returns such milk. It is in the interest of the factory and to your own interest to have a maker with backbone enough to reject such ill-flavoured milk.

3. Do not neglect to feed the cows well at this season. Very little can be got from the pasture field now. The cow must depend upon stable feeding. We would recommend mangolds, corn silage or cut corn stalks, clover, hay, bran, and meal in such quantities as the cow can profitably use. At the present price of grain it will pay better to market it in the form of butter and cheese, through the dairy cow, than to sell it to grain merchants. Try selling a few bushels to the dairy cow, and see what price she will pay you.

4. Aeration of the milk in a clean place is important now. Too many think that in cool weather milk does not need any aeration. This is a mistake. Keep the milk stirred to prevent the cream rising, thus insuring a higher test at the factory and less loss of cream on top of the vats of milk at cheese factories. The flavour will also be improved. Look out for airing milk in a place where there is any bad odor. Aeration under such circumstances is worse than useless.

FOR BUTTERMAKERS.

5. Makers in cream-gathered creameries will need to be on the lookout for flavours in the cream which will spoil the butter. If any of the patrons set milk in shallow pans, these are the days when the shallow pan and the golden cream are removed from the cellar or milk-house to a place near the kitchen fire—usually to a pantry or a table where the air is not very pure. Instruct the drivers to be watchful on these points. The supply of ice for deep-setting cans is likely to be low at this time of year, and patrons are apt to think, "Oh, well, the cream will rise anyway now, it is so cool!" Not so. It is more difficult to secure all the cream now than earlier in the season. The longer the cows have been milking, the less readily will the cream rise. High tests with the oil-test churn usually indicate much loss of fat or butter in the skim-milk. Take an interest in your patrons. It pays.

6. Makers in in separator creameries will need the nose whetted to extra sharpness these autumn days when Messrs. Turnip, Rape & Co. possess the pasture field and tempt the hungry cow. The temperature for separating will need to be increased to about 90° to 95° in order to secure thorough creaming and smooth cream. Milk is more difficult to cream at this time of year. Do not crowd the machine quite so fast and give the bowl an extra 100 turns to the minute unless you are now at the safety point. Look out for skim-milk with over one-tenth of one per cent. of fat in it. You cannot afford to waste over the tenth. Use the Babcock tester freely on skim and butter-milk.

7. Butter for home markets will show a "quicker" and a higher flavour if washed but slightly and not salted too high. Try a tub, following the Danish practice of adding about 10 per cent. of water to butter and butter-milk while the butter is in the granular form; add one-half ounce of salt for each pound of butter; work properly and send to one of your best customers for comments.

8 Prepare butter neatly for market and put your best brain and skill into every pound and tub of butter. There is a demand for brainy, skilful buttermakers.

P. S.—Before creamery closes for the season, have everything in good order—floors, vats, churns, etc., should all be clean and ready for next season's business.

FOR CHEESEMAKERS.

9. The close of the season of 1896 is very encouraging for the knights of the cheese vat (a most honourable body); but in their desire to profit by the returns of good prices, patrons are liable to overstep the bounds of careful feeding, and careful handling of the water pail. A practised eye, a keen sense of smell, and a taste not blunted by the use of tobacco, etc., are needed at this time. Encourage patrons to produce all the lawful milk possible, but admonish the erring ones in a gentle spirit. If they will not heed your admonitions, call in the factory committee or the inspector.

10. A small percentage of "starter" of good flavour will aid in ripening the milk and curd, and also aid in smoothing the ruffled feelings of the "boys" who are putting in their first fall's term at the cheese vat, and who chafe against bandaging cheese by the light of the moon, or a dingy old lantern. A temperature above 90 degrees will materially assist the B's in mellowing the curd. Cold chills them so that they are unable to work very fast. Assist them with a pail or two of hot water under the curd.

11. The curing room needs looking after just now to see that the temperature is kept up to 65 degrees to 70 degrees. Green cheese placed in a cold curing room are apt to develop bitter flavours which are sometimes difficult to get rid of. The writer is inclined to favour quick-curing on the start and slower curing after 3 or 4 weeks in order to produce the finest flavour, texture and body.

12. While the "hands" are waiting for the milk or curd to ripen, set one or two of them, who are possessed of feminine instincts and habits, to wash the windows, doors, etc., of the factory. The whey tank may need a "scrub." Now is a good time to get it done. Choose a mild October day for "washing" jobs. Before leaving the factory for the winter make everything as clean and tidy as possible so that if you do not return next year, your successor may have your good example to follow. The poet's advice about leaving "footprints behind you" is not to be followed when leaving the factory for the last time in 1896.

FOR PATRONS AND MAKERS.

13. May I ask what you intend doing this winter to improve yourself and prospects for the season of 1897? Some of you—I wish there were more—will continue producing milk or making butter or cheese all winter, but many will be doing very little towards self-improvement. You have been busy all summer and have not had time to read all the good things which have appeared in your local papers, or in the agricultural and dairy press. Read them now, together with the reports of the Dairy and Creamery Associations, Bulletins, etc. Make arrangements to attend at least one of the annual conventions of our dairymen. It will do us all good. If you can spare the time and $30 to $40 attend one of the Dairy Schools, of which there are three in Ontario. Those who have taken a full course at the Canadian schools may take a run over to Uncle Sam's schools and see how our cousins do. It will broaden your knowledge of dairy matters, and you may gain many valuable hints.

TIME ABOUT UP SO HE THOUGHT.

Taken on Time Dodd's Kidney Pills Save a Life Once More.

THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH

It Was Diabetes and Thought Incurable—But When the Proper Treatment Was Used the Patient Recovered.

Barrie, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Your correspondent had no difficulty in locating Mr. Frederick Stokes, of this town, as he is well known and enjoys the confidence of all who know him. The particulars of his recovery still excite enthusiasm as marvelous cures everywhere do. When found at his business he said:

"It was about a year and a half ago that I began to suffer with lameness of the back. I soon began to run down rapidly in flesh, becoming in a short time also very weak.

In misery, and unable to work, one of the best doctors in town when consulted told me that my trouble was diabetes. Meanwhile I had lost forty-five pounds in weight, and his medicine was doing me no good.

I thought my time was about up until a friend told me that he knew of several cures of cases similar to mine by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This gave me hope though I felt ashamed to let the doctor know that I had changed my medicine, however I was encouraged by the help I got from the first box and so kept on.

To shorten the story: all I have to say is that four boxes have completely restored my strength and I have recovered my lost weight with something added. In short I feel better than for years and perfectly cured.

The successes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have been won in just such contests as the above described—in hopeless cases.

When the sufferer lets go his hold on other remedies and realizes the fact that this great kidney treatment has never yet failed, then he demonstrates its value by using it and getting well.

In hundreds of cases of Dropsy, Bright's disease, Diabetes and Paralysis, when friends had given the sufferer up to die, Dodd's Kidney Pills have promptly saved the patient.

With such power to cure in extreme cases, can it be doubted that the small beginnings of these diseases will yield promptly to the virtues of Dodd's Kidney Pills?

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 289 George Street.

A BAD SCHOOL TEACHER

Found Guilty of an Oscar Wilde Crime and Sentenced to Two Years' Imprisonment—Boy's Eye Gouged Out.

Quebec, Oct. 19.—A school teacher of Riviere du Loup named Davis has been sentenced by Judge C. Panet Angers to 24 months' imprisonment for a horrible crime. The prisoner, who pleaded guilty, was read a severe lesson by the judge, who told him that but for the medical certificate as to his health he would have imposed the lash and have given him a longer period of incarceration. He based his sentence also upon that inflicted in the case of Oscar Wilde.

While looking through a knothole in a fence a boy named Renaud had his eye gouged out yesterday by a comrade, who pushed a twig through the hole into Renaud's eye.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

The Two Jones Brothers Charged With Maltreating Albert Hacker After a Lodge Meeting.

Thomas Jones, 163 York-street, and his brother Robert, 107 Elm-street, were arrested yesterday on a charge of assault. Bail was accepted for $1000 each.

It is claimed that the two brothers assaulted and brutally beat Albert E. Hacker, a printer in the employ of Hunter, Rose & Co., who resides at 93 Walton-street. He had been attending a lodge meeting and smoking concert of the P.P.A. at Yonge and Alice-streets. Hacker's jaw is fractured, his nose broken and his eyes so badly injured that he may be blind for life, and there is a probability that he may not recover. Hacker is married, and is secretary of the new Liberal Club, recently organised at Terauley and Elm-streets.

WITH DETAILS OF THE AGREEMENT

A Britisher in South Africa Wants Our Government to Establish a Line of Steamships and Push Trade With That Country — Northwest Butter in England.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Messrs. Watson and McMillan, members of the Manitoba Government, left for Winnipeg this afternoon, carrying with them the details of the proposed agreement on the school question. Before their departure they had a lengthy conference with Mr. Laurier.

A communication was received at the Department of Trade and Commerce today from Mr. Thomas Moffatt, a leading produce merchant of Cape Town, South Africa. Mr. Moffatt is an ardent Britisher. He desires to see inter-imperial trade extended. He thinks Canada is neglecting her opportunities in that she does not endeavor to secure a footing for her products in South African markets. Three lines of steamers ply monthly between New York and the Cape; there are none from the Dominion. Mr. Moffatt urges the Government to take steps to establish a direct steamship line between Canada and South Africa. He believes it would pay, as the Cape folks would prefer to send their products to and buy from sister colonies.

The Minister of Agriculture has arranged to visit the branch Experimental Farm in the Maritime Provinces within the next few days. On his eastern trip he will be accompanied by Dr. Saunders, and a special examination will be made into farming conditions in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Fisher takes a lively interest in agricultural matters, and has promised to address three meetings of farmers in Prince Edward Island between October 28 and November 3.

The life of the men on board the Canadian cruisers is not altogether a happy one. Captain Spain, the officer in charge of the fishery protection fleet, reports that while the Government cruiser Osprey was doing patrol duty off Liscombe, N. S., a boat's crew went ashore for the purpose of preventing illegal fishing. While the boat was returning to the vessel the crew were fired at, but fortunately the range was so great that the shot inflicted wounds not of a very serious character. A searching enquiry will be made into the circumstances surrounding the affair.

A delegation of over three hundred citizens waited upon the Premier, Hon. Mr. Scott, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Tarte to-day and urged Government assistance to the construction of the proposed interprovincial bridge between Ottawa and Hull. After several gentlemen had spoken Mr. Laurier said the Government considered this project not as a local one, but as a national one. The Government was pledged to aid in the construction of the work, but it was not possible to make a grant last session because it was definitely understood beforehand that no legislation would be introduced. Government assistance to this bridge would be apart altogether from anything that the Government might do towards carrying out the Washington or the North Idea. He promised a substantial grant next session.

The latest returns received by the Agricultural Commissioner respecting shipments of butter from the creameries of the Northwest Territories to Great Britain are of a very satisfactory character. The prices realized were within half a cent a pound of those brought by the finest Danish butter. A little more exertion and Canada should be able to secure the highest prices in the London butter market.

Judge Mathiot gave judgment in Hull to-day in an interesting case, that of the Massey-Harris Company versus Frank Thomas, an action affecting farmers and agricultural machinery manufacturers. The Massey Company sold a reaper to a brother of defendant, payment to be made on three notes. Subsequently Thomas failed, being seized under a bailiff's warrant, taken out by a merchant. At the sale the reaper was sold to the plaintiff, Frank Thomas. The Massey Company took action to recover, claiming that the defendant had no right to buy what he well knew was never paid for. The judge gave a verdict for the defendant, claiming that the sale was strictly valid, and people at auction sales were not supposed to know whether the goods offered were paid for or not.

The nets seized by the cruiser Petrel in Lake Erie last week have been ordered by the department to be sold. They were taken from a tug hailing from Erie, Pa., which was poaching in Canadian waters.

The Fisheries Department has been informed that, owing to the destruction of the fishway on the Alberni River, B. C., thousands of salmon, which were not able to ascend the stream, have been destroyed by Indians. The Indian Department has been asked to prevent such depredations in future.

Prof. Robertson lectures at Spencerville on Wednesday evening this week on food products from farms.

Sir Henri Joly has returned to the city. He is accompanied by Lady Joly, who will remain here some time.

Mr. Blair was not able to get away to New Brunswick on Saturday, and may not now leave for some days.

Mr. Tarte found it necessary, on account of pressure of business, to postpone his departure to the Northwest until Wednesday.

The Western Board for the selection of grain standards meets at Winnipeg on Wednesday, when it is expected that the vexed question of No. 1 hard will be settled for this year at any rate.

Ex-Chief McVity has addressed the Police Commissioners and City Council, asking that in view of his 30 years' service on the Police Department he be granted a retiring allowance.

The Bronson and Weston Lumber Company has sent a letter to the City Clerk protesting against the proposed main drain for the western portion of the city emptying into the water works tailrace.

Captain David McCrea from the retired list has been appointed Lieut.-Col. of the reserve militia for the regimental division of Centre Wellington.

A meeting of council was held this afternoon, at which a number of routine matters were disposed of.

Annie Harriston in Jail.

Chatham, Oct. 19.—Annie Harriston, the mother of the child which is alleged to have been murdered near Rothwell on October 5, has recovered sufficiently and was brought to the county jail on Saturday.

MAKE NO MISTAKE.

Your Case Demands the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

Imitations and Substitutes are Dangerous to Yourself and Others.

See that you make no mistake when you are making efforts to regain lost health. At this particular time safety, care and vigilance will insure a large measure of your success.

Your case demands the use of the best medicine that science has produced. The acknowledged triumph of medical research is Paine's Celery Compound, the only sure and permanent cure for all nervous diseases, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, run down system, rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and blood diseases.

An error made at this time by the use of common medicines, imitations and vile substitutes may lead to complicated troubles and serious results.

Thousands in this land of ours have thrown off the shackles of disease and suffering by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. It waits to do the same good work for you. There is no experimental work with Paine's Celery Compound; do not fear defeat or disappointment; this great medicine cures and builds up every man and woman even after the doctors have given them up.

See that you get the genuine Paine's Celery Compound from your dealer; look for the name "Paine's" and the stalk of celery.

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly. I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in :—

THE CROP CONDITIONS.

Prospects for Potatoes in Ireland Better Than for the Past Nine Years—The General Outlook.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The Agricultural Department, from the October returns, makes the following report upon the crop conditions: Except in the year 1891 and 1895 the prospects of the Irish potato crop are better than in any year since 1888. A feature of the present outlook encouraging to the producer is the prospective shortage of the European crop. In Germany, a heavy producer of potatoes, not more than half a crop is likely, and with shortages in other states an increased demand for export trade will probably arise.

The general condition of tobacco is lower than that of 1894 and 1895 by 8.4 and 4.2 points respectively.

Of the wheat market in Great Britain the European agent of the department writes: "Great Britain is the principal outlet for the superfluous wheat of the world, and her markets during the past month have presented a study of peculiar interest and value. It was known at the opening of the month that the Russian and American crops were short. There was practically nothing available from other exporting countries except a few cargoes of last season's wheat from Argentina, and stocks were low both in Great Britain and on the Continent. The Russians declined to sell except at enhanced prices and their shipments fell far behind the usual average for the time of year. The only source of supply was the United States and it might reasonably have been expected that we should have reaped the benefit of our position by obtaining enhanced prices. Our financial position appears, however, to have precluded our taking the full advantage of the situation, and our new wheat came forward in great quantities at going rates. The month ends with an improvement of 6c to 7c a bushel, but it is the general opinion of the members of the grain trade in London and Liverpool that the advance might have been doubled and brought about earlier had the United States been in a position to hold back. It is practically certain that the end of the current harvest year will see no great surpluses, and it is reasonable to suppose that we shall see no further reduction of wheat areas, such as have been observable in the records of the last few years."

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

Children's Aid Society.

The man who recently lost his wife, and whose sick children have been in the care of the Children's Aid Society, has found it necessary to transfer three of them to the Society for adoption. One of them, a bright healthy girl of ten, is still awaiting a home, homes having been found for the other two.

New Arrivals.

On Sunday morning a party of eighty-three little girls arrived from England at the Barnardo Home in charge of Mr. Owen, of the Boys' Home, Toronto, and Mrs. Brown. All arrived feeling well, although sea sickness kept many of them below decks for the first few days on the outward trip. The party came out on S. S. Scotsman, Dominion Line.

Railway Notes.

The Grand Trunk authorities have started to work erecting temporary storm fences along the line so as to do away as much as possible with the great delay that was experienced last year during the heavy snowstorms. It is the intention of the company to make every effort to keep the track clear this winter, and snow fences will be erected at all the bad spots. This work is at present going on west of Toronto and along the line of the Northern Division.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Preparations Being Made in Trenton to Welcome Hon. A. G. Blair.

Trenton, Oct. 19 (Special).—A meeting of citizens, irrespective of political faith, was held in the town hall here on Friday evening for the purpose of making arrangements for the reception of Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, who has announced his intention of making a tour of inspection of the Trent Valley Canal. Mayor Morrison presided, and there was a large and enthusiastic gathering of business men and citizens generally. The principal business transacted was the appointment of a representative committee, who are already busy making preparations for the important event. This visit of the minister is the outcome of a recent delegation, who waited upon him at Ottawa and in which Trenton was ably represented. It is to be hoped that the occasion will result greatly in the town's interests. Trenton people should, one and all, leave no stone unturned to give the visitor a royal welcome.

A STRANGE INTRUDER.

A House being Entered Regularly Every Evening.

The residents of a certain house on Bethune street have been strangely disturbed for the last four nights by the entrance of a stranger into the house at about midnight. Just how he gains admittance cannot be surmised unless he possesses a duplicate key.

Each night the furniture down stairs is knocked about and a great uproar is made Half a dozen blank cartridges were fired off by the inmates last night and if the intruder shows up to-night a charge of shot will greet him.

Two boys are keeping bachelors hall in the residence which is thus nocturnally disturbed and it is thought that perhaps someone is playing a practical joke on them.

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Excellent health throughout the village and surrounding country.

Farmers are busy taking up their root crops.

The yield of grain is so far satisfactory, but lesser wheat than other grains, which causes regret owing to advancing prices in this line.

Large numbers from this section attended the Peterborough market on Saturday.

The annual excursion to Midland was largely attended. About twelve coaches filled with passengers reached here at 9.25, and were joined by a large number from Omemee. The trip to Midland was quickly made, without any casualities. That place is highly spoken of by many, having a very picturesque appearance at this season of the year.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church, Omemee, take place next Sunday. Services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Mutch, of Toronto, morning and evening, and by Rev. J. Ewing, the retired pastor, at 3 o'clock p.m.

Mr. J. D. Thornton, fire insurance agent, reports very few losses so far from fires out of the large number of risks taken, and tenant farmers are busy looking for places to rent, whilst many owners may have to negotiate loans.

THE BIG BICYCLE ROAD RACE RUN OFF.

BORLAND COMES IN AHEAD AND LYTLE TAKES THE TIME PRIZE.

Wasson Turned the Barrel at Lakefield First—A Full List of the Prizes Won and the Winners Thereof.

The great Road Race is over, but it will form a lively topic of discussion for some time to come, not only amongst the wheelmen but in every circle it town, as almost everyone was out to set the boys rids.

The course was straight up Water street from the market square, and the sidewalks were lined for blocks, and when a popular rider went by he generally got a cheer all along the line. On every corner all the way out to the Auburn Mills there was a big crowd congregated, and the event excited interest even in the country, as at the different cross-roads between here and Lakefield enthusiastic knots of spectators were gathered. Lakefield, too, was roused up to quite a pitch, and the villagers turned out in hundreds and shouted encouragement to the riders as they came dashing up the main street, where they turned at a barrel placed just in front of Dr. Fraser's.

Ernie Wasson got a great cheer as he rounded this point first, closely followed by Borland, McPherson, Frank Bradburn, Reggie Dixon and Will Ackerman.

The riders made far better time in the majority of cases on the return trip than they did going out, as a well defined path was packed down through the mud by the time the thirty odd riders had passed through it going out.

On the homeward trip Wasson led until he reached Nassau, when Borland joined him and taking the lead shortly afterwards won by about a block and received a monster cheer as he swept over the line on his Gendron. Wasson's victory on a Redbird was also a most popular win, as attested by the shout which welcomed him home. Little Frank Bradburn came riding in very strong just a minute and 20 seconds later to the surprise of those who have not been aware of the fast work of which this rising young rider is capable. Great credit is due him for staying so closely on the heels of the winners.

Appended is a scheduled list of the winners, followed by a list of the prizes to which they are entitled and for which orders will be issued to them by the secretary, Alf. Terrill, at the EXAMINER office:

Scorers—At Lakefield—E. A. Tanner and Myles Henry; at Peterborough—H. R H. Kenner, J. Jeffries and R. J. Fife.

NOTES OF THE RIDE.

There were few indeed of the riders who came through it all without a fall in the mud.

Not a single bad accident to report.

A number of the riders took cramps on the trip, and Gordon had to dismount and take a rub-down before being able to go on.

There was some misunderstanding about riding on the sidewalks, which occasioned a slight loss of time to some of the riders. The race is over now and the matter should never have been made the subject of a "kick."

Wilson and Andrews paced each other alternately throughout and finished well up in the first bunch.

The handicapping was not so far out after all.

Lytle and Little were the last men to start. They kept together as far as Phelan's corner, when the former pulled away.

No Toronto riders came down.

Lytle made a grand ride for the time prize, which all expected him to win. On good roads he could have undoubtedly cut ten minutes off his time. His was a popular win.

Young Lancaster, of Hastings, rode gamely and landed the second time prize. He did not have a fall.

Reggie Dixon was a "dark horse." He made fast time for a young rider. Ackerman also finished well up to the front.

E. Rutherford only went out as far as the mills when he waited and came back with the first bunch.

For a man who has only had a wheel for a couple of weeks, Frank McPherson rode very strong. He was third around the barrel at Lakefield.

Bruce Rickey had some nasty falls. He went under the railing and over the bank on Carnegie's hill.

Riley complains that his wind gave out!

Dawson Richardson had no less than seven falls, but Bert Giroux claims to hold the record for tumbles, and places the number of his hasty descents somewhere up in the hundreds.

Wilgar is a rider who met with rather unjust treatment at the hands of the handicappers, as consideration was not taken of the fact that he has been ill all summer.

Lytle actually twisted one of his handle bars off when trying to raise his wheel suddenly out of a rut near Lakefield. This held him back a great deal.

Although teamsters were requested to keep off of Water street while the race was being run off, everyone who could possibly manage it seemed to be there with a horse and wagon.

A collie dog pulled Ernie Wasson off his wheel out in the country. When the accident happened he was fully a quarter of a mile in the lead.

A big mastiff caused a lot of trouble up near Smith street. More than one rider came to grief through it.

Alf. Terrill's grey hound brought Dick Young to the ground on the corner of Simcoe street. Dick's calf was too good a mark to miss.

Roly Glover took the nicest tumble of the day, landing exactly in a pool of water on his face.

Billy Ackerman got a bad fall in Lakefield, where he struck a big hound when going at top speed.

Lakefield citizens took care that no rigs got in the way, and there was quite a blockade behind the barrel when the last rider turned.

Orville Shortly and Andy Thompson took a rest in Lakefield and came in a tie for last place.

The EXAMINER bulletin of the road race was greatly appreciated.

A number of matched races will be the result of differences of opinion as to how the ending would have been affected in case the roads had been in better shape and there had been no falls.

LASSWADE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Jennie M. McColl, of this place, and Mr. George Mace, of Anstruther, were joined in wedlock on the 14th at the residence of Elder Gould. Miss Maud Dingman was bridesmaid, while Mr. A. McColl, brother of the bride, assisted the groom.

The mines at the head of Stony Lake are doing good business. A number are getting steady employment. Mr. Charles Wease has been hired as cook. Mr. A. Nichols is engaged hauling ore to Norwood.

Mrs. Simpson has gone with her sister to Rawdon on account of illness. We hope to see her back soon improved in health.

Grain is turning out well in this part where the grasshoppers were not too bad.

Potatoes are not so good as they were last season.

Miss Maggie Bullied is home from Apsley. As she is not feeling well, we hope to see Maggie's cheerful face around again soon.

Mr. Joseph Johnston and family were visiting at Mr. J. McGinnis' a few days last week.

Mr. G. McGinnes shot a bear some time ago on a marsh. It struck off in the woods and it being near night he could not find it. A few days ago Mr. MacLean ran across it two hundred yards from where it was shot, but it was too dead to skin.

400 TONS PER DAY.

Sandon's Milling Capacity Will Soon be Increased to 1000 Tons—Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company Interested.

Rossland, B.C., Miner, Oct. 9th, says:—The success of the lead-silver properties at Sandon and Cody has been assured by the recent contracts for two large concentrating mills let to the Edward P. Allis Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., the contracting parties being the Reco Mining and Milling Company, and the Noble Five Consolidated Mining and Milling Company. These two new mills, each of 120 tons daily capacity, together with the mill of the Slocan Star or Byron N. White Company, which was also built by the Allis Company, will give Sandon a milling capacity of nearly 400 tons per day.

Mr. Robert J. Cory, the general western manager of the E. P. Allis Company, with headquarters at Butte, Montana, who secured these contracts is at present at Rossland. We were pleased to note last week that this great manufacturing company which make specialties of all that relates to machinery for mining purposes, has established relations with the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company at Peterborough, Ont., for the manufacture of the Allis machinery, so that in the near future mining companies in Canada can take advantage of this fact and equip their mines with really first class machinery without paying the excessive duties now prevailing on American made machinery. Mr. Cory thinks it probable that an agency may be established in Rossland for the new Milwaukee-Peterborough Company, thus putting us in close touch with the largest mining machinery company in the world.

FRATERNAL SYMPATHY.

Bridgenorth True Blues Sympathize With the Parents of Their Late Brother, Mr. Geo. Paul—A Card of Thanks From the Bereaved Parents.

The following address of sympathy and condolence and card of thanks show how practical is the bond of sympathy between members of the Loyal True Blues:

To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul, Lakefield:

DEAR PARENTS,—At the last meeting of Victoria Lodge, No. 56, Loyal True Blues, Bridgenorth, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that inasmuch as it has pleased the All-wise Ruler of events to remove your affectionate son, Geo. Paul, by the hand of death on the 31st August, inst., we, his brethren of the above lodge, desire to tender to you our heartfelt sympathy in your loss. In mourning for the loss of an affectionate son, we hope you may have consolation of knowing that your loss is his gain, and, that he had made his peace with God, and had the assurance of all those who die in the Lord.

We hope and trust that the sustaining grace of a sympathising Father may fill your hearts with His comforting words and encourage you to look forward to a grand reunion in our home above prepared for us from the foundation of the world.

No words of ours can express the loss sustained by our society by the deaths of our three young and faithful workers, and while we deeply regret their early removal and mourn with the relatives in their sad bereavements, we are consoled with the thought that although they cannot come to us we can go to them.

On behalf of the above Lodge, we remain in the bonds of F. F. F. Signed,

E. R. MANN, W. M.
W. PETHICK, D. M.
C. H. MANN, F. S.

A CARD OF THANKS.

To the Officers and Members of Victoria Lodge No. 56, Loyal True Blues, Bridgenorth:

DEAR SIRS,—Kindly accept these few lines as a token of our sincerest thanks to you for your kindness during the sickness and death of our late son, George Paul, who was a member and secretary of your lodge. Also for the amount of one hundred dollars, this being the benefit provided by your association in the case of sickness and death.

Hoping that you and your lodge may be long spared to carry on your grand work, and that when you and we have ceased to labour and and meet on earth, that we may all meet in the Grand Lodge Room above, with the Most Worshipful Grand Master of all masters.

We remain, yours respectfully,
MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH PAUL,
Lakefield.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

The report was adopted.

SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Best, chairman, presented the report of the Sewerage Committee, recommending that the sewer on Charlotte street be laid 22 feet from the north side, instead of in the centre of the street, and that the contractor shall not be entitled to charge extras on account of such change; that the sewer be continued west as far as Louis street, in compliance with the petition of Mr. T. E. Bradburn and others interested, and that the committee have power to place under creek bed a steel pipe, and one extra manhole, if the engineer thinks it necessary.

The report was adopted.

POLICE COURT REPAIRS.

Mr. Phelan, chairman, presented the report of the Property Committee, recommending that the contract for the repairs and alterations to the police station, according to the plans and specifications of Mr. Belcher, town engineer, be let to Mr. Thos. Rutherford at $185, his being the lowest tender.—Adopted.

POLICE CLOTHING.

Mr. Sawers presented the report of the Committee on Appointments, reporting that the committee had been authorised to ask for tenders, and award the contracts for overcoats for the police force, and also for three helmets and a cap.—Adopted.

The matter of the new contract with the Peterborough Light and Power Company was brought up, and a draft contract read by Mr. Chairman Mills, which after some desultory discussion was referred back to the committee.

A SEWERAGE BYLAW.

The council went into Committee of the whole on the second reading of a bylaw to provide for sewerage connection, etc. The bylaw provides, that on the passage of a resolution by the council defining a sewerage area, that all premises, when it is deemed necessary for sanitary purposes, shall be connected with the sewer, and that all privy vaults, cesspools, etc., shall be closed. The bylaw further provides, when such sewer is constructed no premises shall be drained into the creek. The engineer shall file at the office of the town clerk a plan of sewer connections and the cost thereof—and any person applying for connection shall deposit a sum representing the cost of such connection. No private parties, unless authorized by the council, shall make connections with any such sewer.

The bylaw received its third reading and was passed.

A resolution was adopted requiring the collector to return the roll within one week.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Street and Bridge Committee to purchase gravel from Hugh Regan in No. 4 Ward, at the rate of 5 cents per cubic yard, to be taken this year or next.

A resolution was also adopted declaring it necessary for sanitary purposes, that the provisions of of Section No. 1 of the above bylaw, relating to connections with sewers, shall be in force in the following streets and portions of streets—George street from Brock to King; on Charlotte, Simcoe and Hunter streets from George to Water streets; and declaring that it is necessary for sanitary purposes that said section one and the provisions thereof shall be in force.

UNITED PULPIT APPEALS

In Support of Parental Authority.

Owing to the demands on our space yesterday the following summary of the sermon by Rev. W. C. Beer, pastor of the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, is given to-day as a continuation of the series. The reverend gentleman took for his text, Genesis xviii., 19:—

"For I know him that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him."

Rev. Mr. Beer first called attention to the general principle that law, order and government prevail through all the works of God. The material universe is kept in perfect order and harmony by the laws which God has established. He is the great law giver and governor. This was illustrated by the beautiful harmony that prevails in the solar system, the planets being kept in their orbits by the operation of the law of gravitation. All civilized countries have law, order and government, and obedience to properly constituted authority is necessary to the peace and prosperity of any nation.

The same principle should prevail in the home. God has constituted parents the moral guardians and governors of their children. They occupy this position by divine right, and are required to command their children and their household after them. Obedience should be inculcated as a religious duty, "Children obey your parents in the Lord," "Honour thy father and mother," etc. When children are taught early to obey their parents and grow up with the habit of obedience they will easily be led to obey God. Parents should be agreed in the management of their children. A wife cannot weaken the authority of the father without undermining he own, so the father should be careful not to lessen the authority and influence of the mother.

Our homes should be made attractive by the presence of music, suitable reading matter and innocent amusements, and children should be kept from the streets at nights and parents should insist that all the members of the family should be in the home at a seasonable hour every night. Parents should set before their families a godly example and strive to be what they would have their children be. Parents should daily pray with their children and for them, ever keeping in view the great end of all proper home training and government, the leading of our family to Christ and training them in the knowledge of Christ.

FINANCE IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday School needed money and Mr. Smart, the Superintendent, had a new way of getting it.

He proposed giving each boy half a dollar. At the end of a month the principal, together with what it earned, was to be returned to him.

The scheme was good, but it didn't work quite as Mr. Smart had anticipated.

The fourth Sunday found the Superintendent ready to audit the profit and loss accounts, and he commenced with Jimmy G's class.

"How have you done, Jimmy?"

"My half-dollar has earned another one," said Jimmy, with the air of one having an option on a halo.

"Good," said the Superintendent, "not only is Jimmy a good boy in helping the school, but he shows business talent. Doubling one's money in a single month requires no common ability. Who can tell but what we may have another budding Geo. A. among us? Jimmy, you have done well.'

"And now, Harry W., how much has your half-dollar earned?"

"Lost it," said Harry.

"What, not only failed to earn anything but actually lost," said Mr. Smart. "How was that?"

"Please sir, I tossed with Jimmy," was the reply, "and he won."—Tableau.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

Collingwood, Oct. 19.—This afternoon the Orillia and Wiarton lacrosse teams played off for the championship of the Northern and Northeastern Districts in the Town Park here, and despite the cold weather a large crowd of spectators witnessed the game. The grounds were not in good condition, being covered with soft slush.

At 2.41 o'clock the two teams lined up as follows:—

Orillia—C Frost, goal; R Wert, point; M O'Connor, cover-point; T O'Connor, G Armstrong, W Dunn, defence; J Blaine, centre; R Lunan, W Black, B Quinn, home; D Quinn, outside home; W Peard, inside home.

Wiarton—A Richards, goal; G Ewing, point; G Harper, cover-point; W J Hamburgh, D Myers, J Scott, defence; F Shupe, centre; J Forrester, H Waimesley, C Herman, home; M Brush, outside home; F Bryan, inside home.

The clubs played exactly two hours. The match was decidedly in favour of Wiarton from the fifth game. Orillia scored the first, fourth and ninth games. The times of each game were: 1, 2¼ minutes; 2, 4 minutes; 3, 2½ minutes; 4, 11 minutes actual playing, 1½ minutes lost; 5, 4½ minutes; 6, 9½ minutes; 7, ½ minute; 8, 8 minutes; 9, 6½ minutes; 10, 10 minutes. Wiarton, 7; Orillia, 3.

The last game commenced at 4.43, and was not concluded at 4.46, when time was called. A. Hackett was field captain for Wiarton, and M. P. Tudhope for Orillia. The umpires were McFarlane and F. W. Tims of Stratford. Mr. J. A. McFadden, of Stratford was referee.

The Wiartons made the trip to Collingwood by boat in a blinding snow storm, and it was feared that sea sickness would prevent them from putting up their usual game.

Wiarton having won the semi-final game from Orillia, the President of the C. L. A. has ordered Wiarton and Georgetown to play the final intermediate championship game at Stratford on Saturday afternoon next, Saturday's game will complete the C.L.A. contests for this year.

A man may dress as well as his own good taste, judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" as regularly as the most conscientious water-cure doctor may dictate; but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation.

Worst of all, his temper is as ugly and unwholesome to live with as is his person. A man who has the least appreciation of what he owes his family and friends, to say nothing of himself, will make an effort for health.

The quickest, surest, easiest way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many years' study and practice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless or a spurious article. Send for a free sample. If you would know yourself and the Doctor better, send 31 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay customs and postage only, and get his Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages profusely illustrated.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For sometime I had used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for constipation with most satisfactory results. The winters have always been very hard on my husband. He too tried the 'Pellets.' They have made a new man of him. We have used in all, six bottles." Yours truly,

SILK SHIRT WAIST.

A Useful Article of Dress for Summer or Winter.

Among the most sensible adjuncts of the toilette is the silk shirt-waist, which is being made up in varieties of silk, and with various new things to recommend it as a useful article of dress, for winter as well as summer wear. The style of the cotton summer waist is repeated in the richer material, but they are often decorated in a manner to remove all suggestion of plainness or severity. Sometimes a wide pleat extends the length of the front, box-plaited, or triple box-plaited; sometimes edged with a narrow frill of yellow lace, or with the newer trimming of quilled ribbon to match the silk.

However, the severely plain silk waist is the handsomer, and possessed of far more chic than the decorated. The changeable taffeta waists are very much liked, and are worn with broad collars and cuffs of white linen, fastened with small pearl studs, and a long tie of white mull, drawn down to the belt and tucked in. The shops are showing these waists in a variety of mixtures, the most popular being the peacock combination of blue and green, silvery green and rose pink, brown and yellow, yellow and white, and black and gray. They combine smartly with any handsome cloth skirt, and in them one feels well dressed, and still not too much so for ordinary wear.

So many women find the linen collar far more becoming than any other mode of neck fixing that they welcome anything which admits of their wearing it. Narrow bow ties of black satin are worn with these waists when one does not wish to wear a white one.

NEW STOCKINGS.

The Latest Styles in Hose and Garters—The "Sporting Buckle," Etc.

It is surprising to learn that the newest patterns in stockings are made not from silk, but from fine lisle thread and even cotton, says the New York World. Fashionable hosiery runs more to extravagance of design than to richness of texture. Doubtless the riotous conceptions that have been embodied in bicycle and golf hose have made the ordinary designs seem so tame and sombre in comparison that a creation toward gaudiness was inevitable. But whatever the reason may be, the newest stockings are flamboyant in the extreme. A background of canary yellow, with odd designs embroidered in black or red is only a degree more striking than a brilliant affair of sapphire blue, banded crosswise with white.

Clocks have, of course, been in fashion for some time, and embroidery of various styles has been brought into vogue by them. This fancy adds to the elaboration of the stocking—and to the expense, for nobody need imagine that because stockings are made of cotton they are cheap. On the contrary, it is possible this year so spend more money in this direction than ever before, and the woman who has bought enough varieties to feel fully up to the times in this department of fashion will have spent a small fortune

Another novelty is the striped stocking. Horizontal—or in some cases vertical—bands of contrasting colors make a very effective stocking, particularly when an elaborately embroidered clock is added. When the stocking is to be worn with slippers or ties the stripes often extend but half way round, or perhaps fill in a diamond-shaped space. Hose of which the upper part is of some bright color, those that are polka dotted and those that are striped and sheathed in a hundred fantastic ways are among the other novelties that are to be worn this fall.

As plain silk stockings have come to occupy a subordinate place, so plain garters and garter buckles are also passing out of date. The garter should be of a color or colors to match the stocking, and the buckle, so far as possible, should also harmonize in hue. Some of the new designs in buckles are worthy of mention.

Probably the newest is what, for want of a better name, may be called the sporting buckle. Its foundation is of gold and it is covered with mosaic of many colors arranged in a more or less elaborate design. Golf, tennis, yachting and cycling are a few of the sports represented. The golf garter buckle bears a miniature representation of the golf maiden clad in the appropriate costume and expressing as much animation and enthusiasm as a mosaic portrait can assume. In the same way, the tennis girl wields her racket and the bicyclist rides her wheel in mosaic colors, and on the tiny space of a garter buckle.

The craze for garter snakes has brought about a revival of serpents in jewelry, and a coiled snake is one of the latest fancies in garter buckles. Jewels, particularly amethysts, are also popular, and a single amethyst an inch in diameter forms often the only visible portion of a fashionable buckle. Smaller jewels, set in gold, are, of course, always in demand, though this style of buckle is not so new.

Another pretty fancy much in demand is a slender hoop of jewels, usually pearls, set in gold. This ornament is, indeed, almost too dainty for so obscure a function.

WHERE FISHES SWIM.

This Tells How Any Bright Boy Can Make a Waterscope.

If you go to the lakes or to the seashore this summer you should take a waterscope along with you.

A waterscope is a device which will enable you to peer down to the bottom of a lake or stream and see the seaweeds, with the fish resting among them. Any boy can make one of them very easily, and he can have no end of fun using it.

The waterscope consists of a lung, narrow box, covered at one end with glass—ordinary window glass. To make it, get four pieces of smooth, straight-grained pine wood, one-quarter of an inch in thickness, 20 or 24 inches long and 2½ inches wide. Have these pieces made true and exact in measurement. Carefully tack them together with brads in the form of a long box. It may be well before joining them to daub on a little white lead paint, so as to make the joints watertight. Now cut a piece of glass the size of one end of the long box. You can readily cut glass with an old pair of shears by holding it under water. Fasten this piece of glass to the end of the tube by means of a few small tacks driven close to its edges. Then putty it carefully round, and when the putty is thoroughly dry, paint the box and putty, taking pains to fill all the cracks. This is necessary to make the box watertight.

In a day or two your waterscope will be dry enough for use. On some bright sunny afternoon push your boat out on the lake or stream where you wish to experiment. Thrust the glass end of the waterscope well under the surface of the water and place your eye at the other end. You will find that you can see through the water with great distinctness, often to the hiding places of fish among those forests of the lake bottoms, the seaweeds. The object of the waterscope is to cut through the disturbed surface of the lake where your boat stands, and also to protect your eyes from the reflection of the sun on the water. Of course it does not act like a telescope, and you cannot see to the bottom where the water is very muddy or where it is very deep.

But you will be astonished at what a fairyland of beauty the waterscope will reveal along the edges of some of our clear lakes on a sunny day. Often you can see a big clam, with his mouth wide open, waiting for his dinner to drop into it, or a lazy pickerel or a sun fish resting near the bottom, and sometimes you will see lost objects of various kinds, including trolling hooks and lines and other things of a similar nature. The writer once knew a man who found a watch he had dropped into the lake by means of a waterscope.—Chicago Record.

New Method of Fruit Preserving.

Details of a new process for keeping fruit in a fresh condition have recently been received from France. A scientist noted that pears and apples kept for several months in an atmosphere saturated with vapors of water and alcohol, and he resolved to carry the experiment further with a view to learning the possibility of reducing the scheme to the requirements of every day needs and methods. With this object in view the operator placed a variety of fruit, including grapes, together with a bottle containing 61 cubic inches of alcohol at 96 degrees in a brick receptacle from which the light and air were excluded by a common wooden door. In two similar receptacles, the door of one being left open and that of the other closed, but the alcohol being absent from both, other fruit was placed, and they were placed in a deep cellar, the atmosphere of which registered about 50 degrees. Twenty days later the contents of the two last named chambers were found to be absolutely worthless, but the receptacle in which the bottle of alcohol had also been placed presented a very different spectacle. Not only were the grapes firm, full and entirely free from mould, but the bloom upon them was found to be as fresh as though the bunch had just been taken from the vine. The chamber was then closed for another month, and at the end of that period everything was still as fresh as formerly, and the freshness was evident equally as much in the taste as in the appearance. These experiments have certainly added to our method of fruit preserving, a process which is not only inexpensive, but exceedingly useful.—Home Builder, Barbados, W. I.

$60,000 IN THE TRUNK.

Left in a Chicago Hotel by a Man Who Did Not Pay His Board Bill.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—When George Craft, a follower of the race track, left the Saratoga Hotel two or three years ago he left his trunk in lieu of a $36.40 board bill. He never came back and yesterday the trunk was opened to see if there was anything of value in it. Apparently, at first, there was nothing much, and Manager Sebree left what there was for the waiters to divide amongst them. Charles G. Brown of 178 Halsted-street was one of these men, and while rummaging through some old papers at the bottom of the trunk he found $60,000 in railroad securities, which seem to belong to one J. L. Schoolcraft. The papers were turned over to the police, who think that is the name of the man who left the trunk and that he has been made away with.

LOSS OF VOICE

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

A FIRE EMERGENCY.

Remedies to be Applied in Case of Accidents by Fire.

If a woman's clothes catch fire the best thing to do is instantly to roll her upon the floor. Seize any one on fire by the hand, or some part of the dress which is not burning, and throw her on the ground. Slip off a coat or shawl, a bit of carpet, anything you can catch up quickly; hold this before you, clasp her tightly with it, which will protect her hands. As quickly as possible fetch plenty of water; make everything thoroughly wet, for though the flame is out, there is still the hot cinder and the half-burnt clothing eating into the flesh; carry her carefully into a warm room, lay her on a table or on a carpet on the floor—not the bed—give her some warm, stimulating drink, and send for the doctor.

Gently remove the clothing. There should be only three people in the room —one on each side of the patient, and one to wait upon them. Use a sharp knife. There must be no dragging or pulling off. Let everything be so completely cut loose that it will fall off; but if any part sticks to the body let it remain, and be careful not to burst any blisters.

An Ornamental Screen.

A screen is of no end of value in the furnishing of a room where ugly corners or homely pieces of furniture must needs be hidden from sight. The fancy framework is no longer considered good taste, the newer models inclining toward the empire. A pretty screen is covered with a novel material, for screens at least. Denim, in a dull, soft green, is used for the body, with delicate wreaths and scrolls of embroidery in white and shades of yellow. Flat, gold-headed nails ornament the edge. The back and seat of the chair shown in the sketch are ornamented in the same manner.

True Household Economy.

No "sundries" are admitted as an item of well-kept household accounts. It is both a check and a help to keep a thorough account of one's personal expenditure; for prices may be compared and lessons learned from experience. Large savings are generally effected in little sums. Few people make a large purchase without due consideration, and yet many people spend as much in unconsidered trifles in the long run. It is the pennies and halfpennies that lie loose in the pocket which are not properly appreciated. If they were there would not be so much pecuniary embarrassment in the world as there is. Little savings are mostly made in personal expenditure. What is spent in the household is generally needed; but small personal luxuries are not. Money saved thus should not be mixed with the spending fund. Keep it apart as savings, and you will be surprised how it will grow.

There are many ways of saving. One is to buy provisions in large quantities and take proper care that they are not wasted; but this last must be attended to. Another is to pay ready money for everything.

It is a false economy to provide bad or insufficient food for a family. By so doing you incur a doctor's bill. The things to save in are shams, false appearances and self-indulgences, not necessaries. Many people, unfortunately, are more ready to dispense with necessaries, which make no show, than to curtail extravagances, which afford an opportunity for display.

For Weak Backs, Lame Backs, Painful Backs or any kind of Bad Backs, Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is the Great Back Strengthener.

Wm. Rogers, 5 Ottawa Street, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"For a number of years I have been troubled with a lame back. Some of the doctors I consulted called it Lumbago; others, Kidney Disease. I received no benefit from their treatment. Nine months ago I was lucky enough to try Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, and, after taking two or three bottles, the pain entirely left me, and I have had no return of it for 8 months now."

Treatment of Tan Shoes.

When tan shoes get dusty or muddy and become water stained, the best thing to do, if they are very dirty, is to take a soft rag, some soap and water, and wash them thoroughly. Don't let the water sink in. Wring the rag out until it is rather dry, rub on a little soap and wipe the shoes thoroughly. Take another cloth and wipe them as dry as possible and then apply some russet shoe polish, and one is about as good as another, for they are all made of gum and acid. The acid is what removes the stains and the gum gives the shine and also counteracts the bad effect the acid would have on leather.

When you have no polish on hand, lemons and bananas come in handy. Lemon is excellent for removing stains from tan leather, and after doing this it can be beautifully polished with a banana skin. Rub the skin all over the shoe, then polish it with a strip of cloth just as the boys do. Dressing tan shoes every day will make them a much darker, richer color, and it preserves the leather by making it dust and water proof after a time. Dust is really worse on shoes than water, and should be carefully removed at every opportunity.

Dust and cold are the two great enemies of patent leather, for cold cracks the leather, and dust gets into the cracks, and cannot be removed. Dust should be removed by wiping the shoes with a wet sponge while they are still on the feet, and then they should be briskly rubbed with a dry cloth. Some people use olive oil, others vaseline, for polishing patent leather. Vaseline preserves the enamel, but it dulls it, and cottonseed or olive oil is not as good as common kerosene.

Hats on Shipboard.

It should be needless to say that all millinery eccentricities are out of place on board an ocean steamer or yacht. There is often a very solid and sensible reason underlying fashions and customs, and in the present instance that reason is that elaborate hats would be quickly spoiled. Trimmings of tulle, for instance, would in a sea fog be speedily reduced to pulp. The saddest sight I ever saw was a lady on board a little river steamer in Maine in a drenching downpour of rain. She had donned a straw hat, trimmed with scarlet poppies, and looked well enough when we started, but by-and-by when the weather changed the dye in the poppies oozed out, and rippled in crimson streams down her nose and cheeks. I was very sorry for her, but no mortal alive could help smiling, once they got over the first shock, and realized that it was not her life blood that was ebbing from some hidden wound. Plain sailor hats with a simple ribbon band are best, yachting caps, or "Tam O'Shanters" The two latter go best with serges and flannels, and the first with duck or linen costumes.

Pretty Sleeves.

Sleeves are the most important detail in the creation of our bodices; and within memory, no season has passed where, like the last, so many different designs and shapes in sleeves have puzzled the dressmakers, or, rather, their clients.

We have not quite lost the drooping shoulder effect in the latest sleeves.

One chosen for blue serge has a white braid finish, and it is quite suitable for two color sleeves or silk and material and also makes a charming child's extension.

One of the prettiest sleeves graces a gown of striped black gauze over white silk. The skirt is perfectly plain, but white silk, plentifully bejewelled with jet, creates a lovely pointed basque bodice, with chiffon front. White chiffon tucked to the elbow, then a puff of the gauze with band of the embroidered satin, cuts it into a pouf and heading. This is the favored sleeve, and a very pretty one it is, too.

Coming Skirt Styles.

Amusing indications that hint at autumn styles are skirts ornamented around the foot by narrow bands of velvet put on flat. Others are encircled by similar bands to the height of six or seven inches. This fashion of velvet on worsted goods promises to be a winter feature, for still other skirts are seen having quilles and points of velvet, likewise on bodices, in the form of square or round boleros, and motifs variously disposed, with lace or embroidery composing revers or flat coquilles. In fact, velvet ornamentation of costumes both dark and light seems to be the one thing that is fully decided with respect to cool weather wardrobes. The newer form of sleeve, in which a tight, close portion is opposed by a bouffant arrangement, gives an excellent opportunity for combination of goods.

They do not Despair

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of Consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream,

Tobacco Heart.

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

Has a Shark for a Pet.

G. W. Fife, of Tacoma, Wash., has a curious pet tied up in his boat house by a chain cable. The collar is not passed around the pet's neck, as might be supposed, but is about its tail. Mr. Fife was on the bay of Tacoma in a boat when he saw a shark, and he harpooned it and towed it to the pier. The shark was not seriously injured, so he passed the collar around its tail, fastening the chain to the pier. The creature is now feeding heartily, according to the Sportsmen's Review, and seems accustomed to its stern fastening.

Sparrows and the Bicycle.

A curious thing about the sparrow has often been noticed by wheelmen. When bicycle riding first became common the birds used to hop up in the air and fly away before the wheel was within 20 feet of them, plainly being very much frightened. But now, even with the increase in the number of bicycles and the speed at which they are ridden, the birds show little or no fear. They wait until the very last moment before getting out of the way, and then they hop aside only a few inches.

The Age of Niagara Falls.

The savants are having a very interesting time in determining the age of Niagara Falls, and from the most recent papers on the subject it is quite evident that great diversity of opinion exists among those who have made it a matter of investigation. Life is full of problems. The diversity of our common nature suggests equally interesting questions. Why are things so? Why not otherwise? Now for instance the minor ailments that afflict us. Why should toe ache not be agreeable instead of painful; Why should so many fraudulent and flesh-eating substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor be imposed upon the people? Putnam's is sure. Putnam's is safe and painless. Putnam's makes no sore spots. Use Putnam's painless Corn Extractor.

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 28TH JULY, 1896.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

You are weak, "run-down," health is frail, strength gone. Doctors call your case anæmia—there is a fat-famine in your blood. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is the best food-means of getting your strength back—your doctor will tell you that.

He knows also that when the digestion is weak it is better to break up cod-liver oil out of the body than to burden your tired digestion with it. Scott's Emulsion does that.

STICKS TO HIS GUNS.

Mr. Gladstone Still Thinks British Interference in Turkey Should Not Provoke the Other Powers.

London, Oct. 19.—A meeting called for the purpose of protesting against the Turkish atrocities was held in St. James' Hall, London, this evening, under the chairmanship of Right Rev. Edward Stuart Talbot, D.D., Bishop of Rochester. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity. A letter from Mr. Gladstone was read, in which the ex-Prime Minister declared that it would be a wild paradox to say that the enforcement of British treaty rights to stop the systematic massacres in Turkey would provoke hostilities from the powers. He added that it would be abandoning duty and prudence to advertise beforehand for the ears of the Great Assassin that British action was limited to what the most backward of the six powers deemed sufficient. If the fundamental disgust of Great Britain and the belief that she is pursuing a selfish policy in the Eastern Mediterranean caused some of the powers to be backward, that was a matter that deserved to be gravely considered.

THAT BLOOD INDIAN.

He Has Escaped From the Mounted Police After Shooting a Bullet Through Inspector Jarvis' Helmet.

Winnipeg, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The McLeod Indian who murdered several Indians on the Blood reserve last week was tracked by a detachment of Mounted Police to a thick brush Saturday. The Indian was fully armed and kept up a fire, which stood the police off till night fell, when he escaped in the darkness. One of the bullets went through the helmet of Inspector Jarvis.

KILLED BY THE TROLLEY

Mrs. Charlotte Truckle Meets an Awful Fate While Trying to Save Her Little Grandson From Death.

Guelph, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The first fatal accident on the electric street railway occurred this afternoon at the foot of the Dundas-road hill, in which a widow, Mrs. Charlotte Truckle, about 50 years of age, was instantly killed in trying to catch her little grandson, who was attempting to cross the track in front of the car. She was struck and knocked under the wheels, taking the child with her. Mrs. Truckle's back and one leg were broken and her head badly crushed. The child received a severe scalp wound, besides other injuries. He now lies in a precarious condition. Both were dragged between 50 and 60 feet before the car was stopped. The car was in charge of Motorman Bleeman and Conductor Collyer. An inquest is to be held.

The inquest was adjourned till tomorrow evening.

LYMAN IS NOT IN IT.

The President of the Irish National Alliance Warns Irishmen Against the "Irish Republican Federation."

New York, Oct. 19.—President Lyman of the Irish National Alliance furnishes the following statement to the United Associated Presses:

To Irishmen at home and abroad: A circular is being sent broadcast throughout Ireland and Great Britain by a body styling itself "The Irish Republican Federation," calling for subscriptions and asking Irishmen to sign a pledge subscribing to its principles and expressing a willingness to take up arms.

My name is set forth as president of the Federation, in which a man calling himself Patrick Feeney seems to be the prime mover. I have not given authority to any person to so use my name, and I hereby warn Irishmen to have nothing to do with this Irish Republican Federation. It appears to be either another stupid scheme of the British Home Office or the work of some unwise person.

Big Provision House in Trouble.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 19.—The assignment is announced of one of the oldest and most reputable firms in this city, Hall & Fairweather, provision merchants. The assignment was made to S. S. Dearest and G. Wetmore Merritt, head of the firm of Merritt Bros. The liabilities are estimated at $60,000. The Bank of New Brunswick, the Goldies and other western millers and the assignees are the principal creditors.

A Present From Italy's King.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Baron Fava, the Italian Ambassador, appeared in the White House to-day, and delivered in person to President Cleveland, from the King of Italy, a work consisting of fourteen handsomely bound volumes, relating to Christopher Columbus and the discovery of America, which had been compiled from official sources under a royal commission.

Another Parnell as Leader.

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Mail will to-morrow say that Michael Davitt, M.P., will aid a movement among the Parnellites, Dillonites and Healyites to unite under the leadership of John Howard Parnell, M.P., brother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell.

TORONTO MARKETS.

The receipts of grain, and especially of barley, were large this morning. Prices continue steady.

Wheat—Firm, 600 bush selling at 77c to 78c for white, 76c to 77c for red and 56c to 56½c for goose.

An English Boom.

The new world is not the only place where mushroom towns spring up. In England several considerable cities have been created by new railroads.

Of these Crewe is perhaps the most notable. Fifty years ago it was an insignificant and unprogressive village with about a couple of hundred inhabitants. To-day it is an important and thriving town with a population of some thirty thousand. What may fairly be called its creation was entirely due to the London & Northwestern Railway Company, whose works cover about thirty acres and employ from seven to eight thousand artisans.

Another remarkable instance is that of Barry, in Glamorganshire. As late as 1886 it was the habitation of a few fisher families, numbering some fifty souls. The construction of a railway and dock was then commenced for the purpose of the conveyance and shipment of coal from the Rhondda Valley. Barry is now a town of 25,000 inhabitants.

WHEAT STILL CLIMBS.

due to strong foreign market. Liverpool showing an advance of 6 cents a bushel. Great Britain wants our wheat, but it is absurd to talk of wheat being shipped to Argentina."

Wild at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—There was a wild scene on change here this morning when wheat advanced six cents within an hour, and there was a great scramble of shorts to cover. It is said some of them will not be able to raise the money to cover their margins.

Heavy Deals at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—Excitement in the local wheat market continues unabated. At the opening of the call board session on the produce exchange at 10.15 a.m. the first sale of December wheat was at 1.52. It rapidly rose to 1.54¾, finally closing at 1.53¾, an advance of 7½c over Saturday's closing prices. May wheat opened at 1.54¾, advanced to 1.57½, and closed at 1.56¾, a gain of 8½c over Saturday. Brokers predict still higher prices. The transactions were heavy.

EXCITEMENT IN NEW YORK.

The Operators at the Produce Exchange Seemed to Have Gone Crazy.

New York, Oct. 19.—Wheat took another upward bound to-day. On the produce exchange there was great excitement. The brokers gathered about the wheat pit, and when the opening for December wheat was recorded at 87⅞c, a volley of shouts arose that would have done credit to the stock exchange in its wildest moments. It was a rise of 4½c from Saturday's closing, and the brokers seemed, to the uninterested observers, of whom there were many in the galleries, to have gone suddenly crazy. There was little business done in any part of the exchange. For the rest of the day the wheat pit was a mass of struggling, excited men, who yelled as though their lives depended upon their lung power. In the hour and a half up to noon, the transactions in futures were 11,045,000 bushels, representing gains or losses, on the 4-cent rise, of roughly $400,000.

December wheat went up steadily in the morning until it reached 86½c to 86⅝c, a rise of 22c since Sept. 8, when active operations in December futures began. It fluctuated about the .86 mark all morning.

AFFECTED WALL-STREET.

Stock Brokers Go Slow When Money Gets Locked Up in Wheat.

New York, Oct. 19, 2.30 p.m.—The sensational rise in wheat was the chief topic of discussion in financial circles this afternoon and operators were paying more attention to the fluctuations in the cereal than to the security markets. The jump in wheat had a demoralizing influence on the sterling exchanges and posted rates were put down to 4.80½ and 4.84. Actual rates were also reduced materially and the supply of commercial bills drawn against prospective exports of wheat and corn was greatly increased. Money continued to command full rates, and this, with the weakness of sterling exchange, means additional gold imports in the future. Still, despite the heavy influx of the yellow metal, brokers and speculators are disposed to go slow. The former are finding it difficult to secure accommodations and are accordingly advising customers to pursue a conservative course. The tightness of the money market is reflected in the frequent bills for buyer sixty options on various stocks at prices ⅛c to ⅛c above those current in the regular way.

OCEAN RATES SHOOT UP.

The Rush of Grain to Europe Makes Ship Brokers Hustle.

Baltimore, Oct. 19.—The rush of grain to Europe has caused ocean freight rates from this port to jump at a lively rate. To-day's quotations to Liverpool are two cents a bushel higher than those offered a few weeks ago. Shipbrokers say that more business at the higher rates is being offered than at this season for several years past. Vessels have been chartered at good rates as far ahead as next March. As a result of this activity, every available steamer and sailing vessel has been pressed into service, and several representative shipbrokers say the supply of vessels is still unequal to the demand. For the two months which ended Oct. 15, there were 132 vessels cleared from Baltimore for foreign ports, against 93 for the corresponding period of last year. Most of the vessels carried grain.

At San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Upon continued strong news from other parts of the world, the local wheat market recovered at the opening to-day from the setback at Saturday's close, and went higher than before. At 9.15 May wheat opened at 1.55½ and rose to 1.58, but toward the close of the call there was a sudden drop to 1.56¾. December opened at 1.55, and all the sales were at that price. At 11.15 to-day the prices were more firmly sustained, but failed to get back to the highest points of the morning. December opened at 1.54⅝, and declined to 1.54. May opened at 1.56½, rose to 1.57⅝ and closed at 1.57¾. Spot wheat was strongly held for the time being and may be quoted at 1.45 to 1.50. Ming closed at the afternoon session at 1.57 and December fell to 1.53¾.

Consternation in London.

London, Oct. 19.—The Times, commenting to-morrow upon the state of the London market, will say that the rise in the price of wheat in America caused something like consternation, and when the American opening cables were received there was a scene such as is not usually seen except in time of war. The paper adds that the advance appears to be chiefly due to the sale of American wheat for India, which frightened the speculators a great deal. Cautious observers think that a rise of five shillings per quarter in a week fully discounts the effect of the abnormal Indian demand.

The Liverpool Market.

Liverpool, Oct. 19.—Wheat to-day opened 3½d dearer, and after an exciting trade continued firm at 5½d advance. Later the market gave way somewhat on realizations and closed nervous at an advance of 3d over Saturday's closing figures. The sales to-day amounted to 285,000 quarters.

India's Products Dwindling.

Matthew Marshall writes in The New York Sun: The shipment of large cargoes of wheat from California to India, now going on, is another of the ruthless facts which make havoc with plausible theories. How the decline of 5 cents an ounce in silver since July 1, coincident with a rise of 25 cents per bushel in wheat, disposes of the mossy fallacy that silver and wheat are indissolubly linked together in price, we have already seen. Now comes the turn of the kindred fallacy that the growth of wheat in India, stimulated by the fall in silver, has already depressed the world's market for the cereal, and is destined to depress it still further. Not only has India ceased to export wheat, but she has begun to import it, and, although her present imports are due to crop failures in certain of her provinces, they show that the surplus of her wheat production is not of the vast proportions attributed to it, but is too small to resist any increase of home consumption.

The truth is that India's wheat exports began to dwindle several years ago, and have reached a point where, even without the drawback of a crop failure, they ceased to be of any importance. In 1891 India supplied Great Britain with 15,000,000 hundred weights of wheat, in 1892 with 12,500,000, in 1893 with 6,200,000, and in 1894 with 5,300,000. In 1895 the quantity rose to 8,800,000 hundred weights, but for the first nine months of this year it was 1,936,000 hundred weights, and for the rest of the year will be next to nothing. Since the total imports into Great Britain of wheat and wheat flour are from 90,000,000 to 100,000,000 hundred weights a year, it will be seen that if India could produce the export to the extent and with the profit which it has been asserted she can, it is not the want of a market which has prevented her doing it.

Doing

AS WE PROMISE.

Good advertising does not encourage prevarication in prices. Quibbling or deviating from the plain path of truth and fair dealing, is an abuse which brings its own retribution.

PRICES without anything behind them, have very little meaning. But when they are fixed with care, are not misleading, and really represent something, they bring good buyers.

Dress Novelties.

So many of the pretty things have been picked up up in such a hurry that we've had to repeat orders—and to-day new lots are opened up in some of the best novelties.

Very Stylish Dress Effects, only 50c a yd.

Fancy Mohair Boucles, black and coloured, combinations, splendid range of styles, 75c yard.

Fancy Crepon Effects, most stylish goods in town, only 85c yard.

Ladies' Cloths, all shades, 50c, 85c, $1, $1.25 yard.

High Crown Hats.

We have passed into stock a lot of New Walking, Sailor and Dress Hats, in Felts and Camel's Hair—the very latest ideas in High Crown Hats. Prices are going down instead of up.

When people want to pay extravagant prices for their Millinery, there will be no need for our store. But the dawn of that day is yet in the future. This store is the saver of the incomes of all—rich and poor.

THE BASIS REACHED

For Settlement of the Vexed School Question.

HALF AN HOUR A DAY FOR RELIGION

Teachers to Impart the Religious Instruction—Children Who Not Wish it Need Not Take It No Federal Interference—Government Inspection and Proper Certificates.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—It is stated semi-officially that the basis of settlement of the school question is on the lines mentioned by your correspondent a few days ago. There was considerable discussion on the clause relating to religious exercises in the schools. By allowing half an hour each day for this purpose, the schools will close at 3.30 p.m., instead of 4. All children who do not desire to remain can leave after 3.30. Those who remain will receive religious instruction from their teachers. As the Roman Catholics have taken the ground that no teacher who is not a Roman Catholic is competent to impart the religious instruction of the church, it is provided that in all schools where 30 or more Roman Catholic children attend, a Roman Catholic teacher shall be employed, whose duty it shall be to impart religious instruction. All teachers, however, must be properly certificated. The schools will be under Government inspection. The inspection will be uniform and in this way the general efficiency of the schools will be maintained.

To provide for the education of all children there is a bi-lingual provision, so that children who cannot speak English may be taught to do so by the use of the French language. It is understood that no Dominion legislation will be necessary to give effect to the agreement. It will be adopted by order-in-council by both Governments, and then the Legislature of Manitoba will pass an act at its first session, giving it the force of law. It was felt that, before making the arrangements, public, the Manitoba Government should have the opportunity of scrutinizing it, so that in a matter of such importance there can be no possibility of a misunderstanding between the parties to the compact.

THE CABLE CONFERENCE.

Sir Donald Smith and Sandford Fleming Will Represent Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Sir Mackenzie Bowell having resigned the position of Commissioner for Canada at the Colonial Office Conference on the Pacific Cable question, it is understood the Government has decided to associate Sandford Fleming with Sir Donald Smith as representatives to the conference. The meeting has been fixed for November 9th at Mr. Chamberlain's office in Downing-street.

Official information reached Mr. Wm. Smith, ex-Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, that the Board of Trade in London had decided to reduce the proposed new sound signals at sea from nine to five, thereby simplifying navigation. Last year a committee sat in London to revise the rules of road at sea, and it was decided to increase the sound signals from three to nine. The shipowners immediately protested that great confusion was likely to arise from this proposed change, and at the request of the Canadian Government Mr. Smith, who was then in London, joined in these representations on behalf of Canadian shipowners. The Board of Trade has now seen its way clear to simplify the rules, and as soon as all the great powers have signified their assent to them they will be promulgated, and will of course affect Canadian shipping.

Advices received here indicate that counterfeit Canadian 50-cent pieces, bearing the date of 1892, have been placed in circulation in British Columbia. The bogus coin is of good color and well executed, but is considerably lighter in weight than the genuine coin. The Commissioner of Dominion Police states that no complaints have been made to him of late respecting the circulation of counterfeit coin in the eastern portion of the Dominion, but it is his intention to look into this particular complaint.

The Government has decided to present a gold watch, suitably inscribed, to Stephen Bradley of Miller Lake, Bruce County, and a silver watch to Henry Hughes for their gallant conduct in rescuing the captain and crew of the barge Severn, which was wrecked in Boat Cove, Bruce County, on the 8th October, 1895, when on a voyage from Ashtabula, Ohio, to Owen Sound. The rescue of seven persons was effected at great personal risk, when the seas were running very high, and it is felt that some recognition is due the two men for their gallant exertions.

Recently there appeared in The Ottawa Citizen a communication referring to Mr. William Buckingham, who was removed from the office of Deputy Minister of the Interior by Sir John Macdonald in 1879. This communication charged Mr. Buckingham with active political partisanship during the time that he was private secretary to Mr. Mackenzie, and also with making himself generally offensive by seeking to "boss" all the departments of the public service. Mr. Buckingham writes to The Citizen from Stratford a pretty sharp reply, in which he refutes the statements of The Citizen's contributor, and invites any of the gentlemen who were in charge of public departments at the time he was private secretary to Mr. Mackenzie to say whether or not the statements made against him are true. Mr. Buckingham says he is not seeking notoriety at this time, but feels when his character is assailed that the ought to defend himself. All he asks is to be let alone. Mr. William Smith, ex-Deputy Minister of Marine, who came in close contact with Mr. Buckingham from '74 to '78, stated to-day that he always found him to be a gentleman in every respect, and considers that the communication which appeared in The Citizen is entirely unwarranted by the facts.

The Minister of Finance has taken steps to terminate the contract which has been held for a number of years by the British-American Bank Note Company of Ottawa for the engraving and printing of Dominion notes and postage and inland revenue stamps. Circulars have been issued, inviting tenders for a five-year contract from July 1, 1897, such tenders to be received by the Department of Finance up to noon on Nov. 23. The contract is a large one, amounting to over $100,000 per annum.

The Government has been advised that the Canadian route is to be utilized by the Imperial authorities for the new parcel post service between England and Japan. The first parcel mail under the new arrangement leaves England on Thursday. Postage rates on 3lb. parcels from England to Japan will be 44 cents; from 3 to 7lbs. 84 cents; from 7 to 11 lbs., which is the limit of weight, $1.25. Canada's action three years ago in establishing direct parcel post with Japan has undoubtedly influenced the Imperial Government to follow a similar course, the Dominion gaining by the utilization of her route.

The Supreme Court resumed sittings to-day. The first case taken up was the Columbia will case, Adams v. McBeith. Moss, Q.C., for appellant; S. H. Blake, Q.C., for respondent. Niagara District Fruit Growers' Company v. Walker will be argued next.

Lieut. Hardie of this city, who has been appointed to a position on Indian staff corps, leaves for England by the Mongolian on Saturday.

The Department of Railways and Canals has been informed that, owing to heavy rains in Nova Scotia, several washouts have taken place on the I.C.R. One is 70 feet long by 18 feet deep.

Senator T. R. McInnes of British Columbia is still in the city. It is generally conceded that he will succeed Hon. Mr. Dewdney as Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, when the latter's term of office expires next year.

The Premier and Mme. Laurier leave for Arthabaskaville to-morrow.

Sir Oliver Mowat goes to Toronto to-morrow.

Sir Richard Cartwright will leave for Toronto to-morrow.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper leaves for the Pacific coast to-morrow, where he is to enter upon his duties as counsel on behalf of the sealers before the commission that is shortly to sit in Victoria, B.C.

The fisheries on Lake Winnipeg this season have proved a failure. The open season has been very stormy and cold. When good catches of fish were taken in nets they could not be hauled up on account of bad weather.

Several memorials from boards of trade on the subject of penny postage have been received and placed on file in the Postmaster-General's office for future consideration.

Commander Spain has gone to Magdalen Islands, where he will look into a case of illegal oyster fishing. When he returns to Nova Scotia he will follow the fleet till the mackerel run is over.

Sir Adolphe Caron was asked what had been done in regard to the calling of a Quebec Conservative Convention, and replied that the date had not yet been fixed. The matter will shortly be determined.

Sir Charles Tupper returns from Nova Scotia in a few days.

BY OVER A THOUSAND.

The Bye-Election in South Essex Resulted in a Heavy Majority for the Liberal Candidate.

Essex, Ont., Oct. 20.—The election to-day to fill the vacancy in the Ontario Legislature, caused by the death of Hon. W. D. Balfour, resulted in a sweeping majority for Mr. Auld, the Government candidate, over Mr. Scratch, Independent Conservative. Mr. Auld's total majority is 1087.

The Czar Welcomed.

Wiesbaden, Oct. 20.—The Czar, Grand Duke Sergius and the Grand Duke of Hesse arrived here at 1 o'clock this afternoon and were received at the railway station by Emperor William, who wore a Russian uniform. They drove to the castle in a carriage drawn by four horses. The route thereto was lined with troops and the crowds present accorded to the Russian Emperor an enthusiastic welcome. The Czar will return to Darmstadt this afternoon.

WHEAT STILL BOOMS

Advanced Another Cent in Chicago Yesterday.

MANITOBA FARMERS ARE HAPPY.

Commissioner Miall of the Inland Revenue Department at Ottawa Has Something to Say About Short Crops in Other Countries—Latest About the Markets.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wheat closed today at the highest point thus far for the year. Early indications gave no intimation whatever of the boom which was seen in the closing half hour. Some indifference abroad was disclosed by the cables, and especially those from Liverpool. America looks to Europe for direction in the present instance, and when a decline at the place mentioned was reported the enthusiasm underwent modification. Bradstreet's was expected to announce a big increase in the world's stocks, and on that prospect a few of those people who have not yet been convinced of the legitimacy of the advice were tempted to sell a little wheat short. When it was learned that the report would not be made public to-day there was a change of front, no one caring to remain short over night. Then when sales of 300,000 bushels at New York for export to Lisbon were reported, together with heavy gold importations the sentiment rapidly assumed a bullish appearance, and from that time until the close it was only a question of how high prices would go. Berlin, Paris and Antwerp all quoted advances correspondingly with ours of yesterday. December wheat opened at 77 7-8c to 77 1-2c, sold between 78 3-4c and 78 5-8c, closing at 78 3-8c, 1c higher than yesterday.

At Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 20.—Spring wheat closed higher. No. 1 hard spot, 84 3-8c; do. new, 83 7-8c; No. 1 hard, spot, 84 3-8c; do. new, 83 7-8c; No. 1 Northern, 83 3-8c; do. new, 82 1-8c; No. 2 Northern, 80 7-8c, spot; No. 1 Northern, c.i.f., 80 1-8c. Winter wheat closed higher. No. 2 red and No. 1 white, 86 7-8c; No. 3 red, 81 3-4c, store; No. 2 red, 88c, track.

FARMERS TO GET GOOD PRICES.

Commissioner Miall Shows How Canadian Farmers are in Luck.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Not unnaturally the advance in the price of wheat has attracted some attention here. Mr. Miall, Commissioner of Inland Revenue, who, in his capacity as Commissioner of Standards, has had occasion to study the wheat problem, says that, according to advices, which have reached the department, there is a falling off this year in the wheat crop in Russia, Argentina, and India. India is actually importing wheat today, while Australia has had to look to California to make up her requisite stock of wheat for home consumption. Canada also has sent some cargoes of wheat to the Antipodes. At the very outside it is not expected that there will be more than 10,000,000 bushels of Manitoba grain available for export. It is acknowledged that the combination of Manitoba hard wheat with the soft wheat of Ontario makes the very finest flour and there will undoubtedly be an increase in price to a certain extent as the outcome of the keen rivalry of the Canadian milling companies to secure the requisite supply of Manitoba wheat for home consumption.

PROSPERITY IN MANITOBA.

The Farmers are Receiving Advanced Prices for Their Wheat.

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Wheat prices throughout Manitoba are maintained to a figure away above the export value, through the war between the rival milling concerns. The result is that farmers are profiting largely, and business in all lines is greatly benefited. Manitoba was never in better shape than just now, and there are signs of prosperity on every hand, all due to the unexpected rise in wheat prices.

AN OFFER TO MR. GLADSTONE.

Mr. William Pritchard Morgan, M P. for Merthyr Tydvil, Wales, Wants to Give Him His Seat.

London, Oct. 20.—William Pritchard Morgan, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Merthyr Tydvil, has summoned a meeting of his constituents for the purpose of discussing the question of his resigning his seat in Parliament in favor of Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Morgan's aim is to initiate a movement to bring Mr. Gladstone back into politics. The Liberals comprising Mr. Morgan's constituency are enthusiastic in their approval of Mr. Morgan's idea, but are doubtful whether the Grand Old Man will give a favorable response to Mr. Morgan's movement.

TRUE BILL AGAINST LADY SCOTT.

Lord Russell's Mother-in-Law Must Stand Trial at the Old Bailey.

London, Oct. 20.—The Old Bailey grand jury to-day returned a true bill against Lady Tina Scott, the mother of Countess Russell, who was arrested on Oct. 9, at the instance of her son-in-law, Earl Russell, upon a charge of having criminally libelled him. Lady Scott was arraigned on Oct. 10, and again on Oct. 12, and committed for trial under bonds of £2000. True bills were also found against Frederick Kast, a groom, and John Cockerton, a marine engineer, who were also arrested and held for trial in connection with the case in the sum of £500 each.

A Nova Scotia Bryanite Dead.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Robert T. Swallow, a well-known local labor leader, who has of late been making speeches for Bryan, was found dead in the Cook County Democratic headquarters this morning. The gas was turned on full force, but not lighted, and the supposition is that Swallow committed suicide. No cause for such an act is known. Swallow was a native of Nova Scotia.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. SETTLING THE NORTHWEST.

THE one great need of Canada is population. This country contains nearly 200 million acres of land area and supposing that even one half of this is tillable—it is capable of sustaining an immense population, a dozen times our present population. If we had our great Northwest demesnes populated as plenteously as even Ontario, we should have a grand market for the products of our manufactures and as a consequence our population would be greatly increased. The new Liberal government seems determined to address itself to the task of improving settlement in the Northwest. We know that the conditions have not been favourable for the encouragement of settlers in peopling the country. Speaking in reference to the prospects of immigration Sir William Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, says:—"The prospects for immigration will depend upon the action of the new Government a good deal. I confidently look for the present Government taking hold of the question in a sensible way. There has been no Governmental effort in this direction for several years. The C. P. R., I may say, will do all reasonably required of it in the promotion of immigration in co-operation with any action the Government may see fit to take." And it may be depended upon that the action the Government will take will be an action in the direction of the development of the country and not for the promotion of the interests of any land corporation or individuals.

IT is said that the Western United States farmers are almost solidly in favour of the silver heresy, and no wonder. There condition is so desperate that their resort to desperate remedies is quite natural. Statistics show that in the States of Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Illinois, out of a total of 929,946 farms, there are 647,689 ornamented with mortgages. No wonder these mortgage burdened agriculturalists are anxious to pay a dollar debt with fifty cents.

NORTH HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

It seems as if things were going to be lively on Squaw river this winter. Mr. McEvoy, of the Rathbun Company, was down there last week and it is reported that he was letting jobs for the cutting of wood. The company, it is expected will be putting in a camp for the cutting of the logs. Mr. D. Montgomery has also commenced cutting timber for Mowder of Lindsay. Taken allogether, the outlook for the men who follow the business is brighter now than was expected some time ago, but the wages are very low with no prospect of a raise, as men are plentiful.

We had a considerable fall of snow on Saturday night—about five inches fell. Next morning it looked very wintry indeed, but the snow melted fast and left the roads very sloppy, as those who walked to church found to their cost.

Miss Lena Harris, who has been home on a visit, has returned to Lindsay.

Miss Eda Strachan, of Southampton, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Beatty.

Mr. James Thibadeau has removed his family to Bobcaygeon.

Mr. John Kimdal has moved to Emily, and Fred Read has rented the farm that he vacated.

Miss Aggie Crowe, who was home on a visit, has returned to Peterborough.

Miss Sarah Findlay is visiting at James Oliver's.

Miss Dollie Trotter, of Bobcaygeon, paid a short visit to her uncle, Q. Moore.

Mr. F. Bennet, of the Buckhorn Road, is hauling considerable hay to Bobcaygeon. This doesn't look as if feed was scarce in that quarter.

ARMENIANS EXTERMINATED.

Fugitives Who Escaped From the Kurds Say the Massacre at Van Was an Awful Butchery.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—The Vidomosti publishes some details of the latest massacre of Armenians at Van that were obtained from fugitives who have arrived at Etchmiadzin. The Kurds who perpetrated the massacre openly declare that they fulfilled the will of the Sultan. The story is the same as those that have been repeatedly told during the past two years. The Kurds butchered the men in cold blood, kidnapped the prettiest women, buried the children alive, outraged the priests and desecrated the churches. The work of the murderers was thoroughly done and there now remain no Armenian peasants in the vicinity of Van.

HE'S A VERY BAD MAN.

The Celebrated Lone Highwayman Who Has Murdered and Robbed for Years at Last Caught.

Denver, Col., Oct. 20.—The "Lone Highwayman" who has held up 23 parties in and around Denver, protecting himself from capture by the free use of his revolver, proves to be, by his own confession, a California murderer. He also committed the murder of Joel Ashworth in Denver, which raised great excitement at the time of the crime, and which was ascribed to jealousy of a woman. His name is Albert H. Downen. He was hauled in a police dragnet last evening and broke down. He stated that in 1885 he murdered a man in St. James' Park, San Jose, Cal., who resisted his attempt to rob him, and a few days later killed a woman whom he tried to rob. He was at one time an inmate of San Quentin Penitentiary in California. He was engaged in robbing Southern Pacific trains previous to this. He went to Montana after his release from San Quentin, and then drifted to Cheyenne and Denver. He says he will plead guilty to murder when arraigned in court.

TWO TRAINS CAME TOGETHER.

A Bad Collision on the Grand Trunk in the State of Maine.

Portland, Maine, Oct. 20.—A bad collision occurred on the Grand Trunk last evening at 6.45 o'clock, three miles east of Berlin. Two special freight trains were running on orders from the train despatcher. In some way a mistake was made, and the two trains came together head on; a brakeman on the eastbound special was badly hurt. No one else was injured. Twelve cars were thrown from the track and the road was blocked all night, but was cleared this morning.

FIGHTING THE RAILROADS.

Montreal Board of Trade is Up in Arms Over the Matter of Winter Freight Rates—An Extension Demanded.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The Montreal Board of Trade is up in arms against the increased winter rates of the several railways coming into force so soon. A meeting was held to-day, Mr. Robert Bickerdike occupying the chair. The secretary read the correspondence which had passed between the railways and the Board of Trade in reference to the subject under discussion. The correspondence showed that the railways, both this and last year, had refused to extend the date of the operation of the winter freight rate later than November 2. Mr. James Crathern presented a resolution, asking both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. to withdraw their joint notice, making the winter rate effective on Nov. 2, and to prolong the present rates until Nov. 19, inclusive, or until the close of navigation. The resolution also asked that both railways would consider, with a view to its adoption in Canada, the United States system of the same freight rates summer and winter. The seconders of the resolution were Mr. David McFarlane, Mr. F. H. Copland, Mr. John Fairbairn, Mr. Henry Miles and Mr. J. B. Learmont. Mr. George W. Stephens, M.L.A., moved that the resolution, which had been adopted unanimously, be presented to the representatives of both railways by a delegation appointed for the purpose. Mr. McMaster seconded this resolution, which was also unanimously carried.

WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

AT THE WALKER HOUSE IN TORONTO

Ontario Curling Association in a Flourishing Condition—The Plan of Grouping—International Bonspiel to be Held at Toronto on Jan. 12—Officers Elected.

Toronto, Oct. 21.

That some of the outside clubs had grounds for grievances was evidenced at the semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association yesterday afternoon at the Walker House. After the regular business had been disposed of, C. C. Dalton of the Granites suggested that, as the association was in such a good financial position, the fees for outside clubs in the Tankard finals be reduced. It was unanimously agreed that visiting clubs were taxed rather heavily, and, on motion of Mayor Wardell of Dundas and J. D. Flavelle of Lindsay, the fee was abolished altogether.

Mr. Dalton suggested that the general fee for individual members be also reduced, and Mr. Flavelle gave notice of motion to this effect. Here Messrs. Wardell, Baird and Simpson spoke against a further reduction, and the motion was withdrawn.

The financial statement showed that there was a surplus of $100, with no deficit and no liability.

A letter was read from David Foulis, secretary of the Grand National Curling Club of America, in reference to the international match. It was Buffalo's turn to get the quinquennial event, but owing to the uncertainty of ice there, they waived the advantage and suggested Toronto. Mr. Foulis would be glad to entertain Canadian curlers at Van Courtland Lake, N.Y., but the ice was even more uncertain there.

The report of the Executive Committee was read and adopted.

The following committee was appointed to co-operate with the Grand National C.C. of America in arranging the international match: Badenach, Woodyatt, Carlyle, Harvey, Dalton and Davidson. Tuesday, Jan. 12, was selected as the date for this important event, which will be played at Toronto. The new curling season will be entered upon shortly with bright prospects, says the report.

The following new clubs were admitted to membership: Niagara-on-the-Lake, Penetanguishene, Barrie, Glencoe, Glanford. This makes 13 additions for the year, and several more are expected before the year is over.

In the absence of President McGaw, Vice-President Woodyatt occupied the chair, and proved himself a most capable presiding officer.

Messrs. G. R. Hargraft and T. C. Haslett were appointed scrutineers, and the following representatives duly accredited:

Ancaster Thistle, John Harvey; Bowmanville, R Simpson; Berlin, W R Travers; Brampton, J Golding; Brantford, T Woodyatt; Chatham, Dr J S Bray; Churchill, D Carlyle; Cobourg, G R Hargraft; Collingwood, W T Toner; Detroit, G N Matheson; Dundas, T A Wardell; Embro, W F Davison; Fenelon Falls, J D Flavelle; Forest, G N Matheson; Galt, G A Graham; Galt Granite, C Turnbull; Guelph, A Congalton; Guelph Royal City, Rev R M G Glassford; Hamilton Thistle, T C Haslett; Hamilton Asylum, Dr Russell; Hamilton Victoria, D Dexter; Harriston, G G Eakins; Keene, J S Russell; Lindsay, J D Flavelle; London Forest City, C W Davis; Meaford, J S Russell; Markham, G R Vansant; Niagara, R L Patterson; Niagara Falls, James Barry; Paris, A H Baird; Parkdale, A F Jones; Peterboro' Granites, E B Edwards; St. Mary's, T O Robson; Sarnia, W F Davison; Scarboro', A Fleming; Seaforth, T G Williamson; Simcoe, T R Atkinson; Stratford, T O Robson; Thamesville, R Ferguson; Toronto, G McMurrich; Toronto Caledonian, W D McIntosh; Toronto Granite, C C Dalton; Toronto Prospect Park, J W Corcoran, J G Gibson; Woodstock, D W Karn; Penetanguishene, J F Beck.

The plan of grouping was adopted, with a few changes:

Group No. 1—Belleville Club, Cobourg Waverley, Bowmanville, Whitby, Oshawa. Umpire—Capt. Colville, Port Hope Club.

2—Millbrook, Campbellford, Keene, Port Perry, Fenelon Falls. Umpire—Judge Weller, Peterboro' Granite.

3—Peterboro' Thistle, Lindsay, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Orillia. Umpire—J. A. Vance, Millbrook Club.

4—Collingwood, Meaford, Churchill, Barrie, Penetanguishene, Waubaushene. Umpire—W. M. Harvey, Orillia Club.

5—Aberdeen, Scarboro', Markham, Brampton, Milton, Orangeville, Aurora. Umpire—John Bain, Toronto Club.

6—Toronto, Prospect Park, Parkdale, Port Hope, Scarboro' Maple Leaf. Umpire—Dr. Carlyle, Toronto Granite.

7—Toronto Granite, Toronto Caledonian, Hamilton Thistle, Peterboro' Granite, Galt. Umpire—D. Carlyle, Toronto Prospect Park.

8—Hamilton Victoria, Hamilton Asylum, Dundas, Ancaster, Paris, W. Flamboro' Glanford, Stamford. Umpire—M. Leggatt, Hamilton Thistle.

9—Buffalo, Niagara, Thorold, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls. Umpire—D. Dexter, Hamilton Victoria.

10—Galt Granite, Ancaster Thistle, Brantford, Ayr, Ingersoll, Guelph Royal City. Umpire—W. D. Hepburn, Galt Club.

11—Seaforth, Plattsville, Berlin, Stratford, Goderich, Preston. Umpire—T. O. Robson, St. Mary's.

12—St. Thomas, Simcoe, London, Forest, Woodstock, Petrolea. Umpire—R. Reid, Jr., Forest City.

13—London Forest City, Chatham, Bright, Thamesville, Embro, Glencoe. Umpire—T. G. Davey, London Club.

14—Sarnia, Detroit, Toledo, Bay City, Edgetown, Wallaceburg. Umpire R. Ferguson, Thamesville.

15—Guelph Union, Walkerton, St. Mary's, Fergus, Harriston. Umpire—J. Kennedy, Guelph Royal City.

16—Owen Sound, Southampton, Lucknow, Kincardine, Durham, Chesley. Umpire—J. Meiklejohn, Harriston Club.

The North Bay, Sudbury, American Soo and other associated clubs in that locality will play for a district medal.

As usual, the officers went up one, with the exception of the place of second vice-president, which goes to A. F. Maclaren, M.P., of Stratford, a new man to the association, but an enthusiastic curler. The elections were all by acclamation.

Patron, the Earl of Aberdeen; hon. president, Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick; president, T. Woodyatt, Brantford; first vice-president, Judge Dartnell, Whitby; second vice-president, A. F. Maclaren, Stratford; chaplain, Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, Guelph; sec.-treas., J. S. Russell, Toronto.

Executive Committee—The president, vice-presidents, secretary-treasurer, past presidents; John Wright, Toronto; D. D. Dexter, Hamilton Victoria; C. C. Dalton, Toronto Granite; D. B. Simpson, Bowmanville; T. A. Wardell, Duncas; D. Carlyle, Toronto Prospect Park.

Standing Committees—On Appeals—E. B. Edwards, W. B. McMurrich, A. Congalton. On Arrears—J. S. Russell, W. D. Davison, jr. Auditor—T. G. Williamson, C. Moffill.

A vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. John Wright, and a hope expressed that he would soon recover from his lengthy illness.

After the new officers present were formally inducted, and complimentary speeches were delivered, the meeting was over.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in:—

Railroad Secures Millions.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—By a decision of the Court of Appeals just rendered the Oregon and California Railroad has secured the right and title to over 3,000,000 acres of land lying in and adjacent to the city of Portland, Oregon. The land is worth several million dollars.

HE AILED MANY YEARS.

Kidney Trouble of Some Kind—Lame Back and Weakness—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 12 (Special.—As stated by Mr. Wm. A. Stagg himself, the facts of his quite recent perfect recovery from weakness and ailments many years suffered are as follows:—To a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I owe my complete cure from weakness and lame back, which had clung to me for many years. As soon as I decided that the cause might be from derangement of the kidneys I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that only a few boxes were taken before I was as well as ever.

THE GRAIN STANDARDS.

Toronto Delegates Reach Winnipeg—If the Government Remains Stubborn the Grain Trade Will be Demoralized.

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The board to fix grain standards will meet to-morrow. The eastern representatives, who include J. L. Spink, C. B. Watts and M. McLaughlin of Toronto, have arrived. Every effort will be made to persuade the Dominion Government not to make the changes in classifications now being gazetted.

Dr. Bown of Winnipeg, who for many years was private secretary to the late Sir John Schultz, was badly shattered in health by the shock of Sir John's death. His mind is said to be affected, and his sister, Mrs. Ferrie, of Hamilton, Ont., has petitioned the courts here to declare him insane, and appoint a committee to look after his estate.

The new Grand Opera House of Winnipeg will be opened Monday night with a performance of Il Trovatore, under the direction of Signor D'Auria, late of Toronto, with Madame D'Auria as prima donna.

Charles Turley, a prominent resident of Brandon, and Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias in Manitoba, is dead.

Winnipeg is determined that the improvement of Red River navigation shall no longer be delayed, and the Board of Trade and City Council are waiting for Hon. Mr. Tarte's arrival to impress him with this. They think if he is going so extensively into public works this point should not be neglected.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Barton Did Not Come From Titusville as Was at One Time Thought.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 20.—It has now been learned here that Albert H. Barton, the man who committed suicide by going over the American Falls in this city one week ago, was not a resident of Titusville, Pa., as was announced in this city on Saturday. A despatch from Daniel McGrath, Chief of Police of Titusville, Pa., yesterday stated that Barton is unknown there. This information places the mystery as deep as ever. The body has not yet been recovered.

Three Sealers Drowned.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 20.—The sealing schooner St. Lawrence, which arrived to-day after nine months' cruising off the coast of Japan, in which she secured 8000 sealskins, reports that on Aug. 5 three members of the crew, John Juan of Seattle, James McNutt of Juneau and Fred Williams of Sitka, Alaska, were washed overboard and drowned.

Vanderbilt's Granddaughter Married

A Big Catch of Trout.

Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald has just returned from a fishing expedition to Ketchecum, Bottle and Sucker Lakes, and as the result of a four days' trip brought home 180 magnificent mountain trout. He used live minnows as bait and though his skill with the rod is proverbial this last catch places all Mr. Fitzgerald's previous performances in the shade.

Honourably Discharged.

Michael Hefferman, who was arrested last week charged with taking a pin from the tie of an old man in the street, has been honourably discharged by the Magistrate, as the evidence procurable as to the prisoner's previous good character was very strong. Hefferman was urged by the Magistrate to abstain hereafter from indulging in strong drink, and his narrow escape was impressed upon his memory by a few words.

ANOTHER PRETTY WEDDING.

Celebration of the McKee-Fitzgerald Nuptials, Yesterday.

Rice is liberally distributed on the side walk and roadway in front of the residence of Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, No. 159 Aylmer street, as the result of a very pretty wedding which took place there yesterday, when his second daughter, Miss Louisa Fitzgerald, was wedded to Mr. W. L. McKee, of Reidsville, Marshall county, Kansas, formerly of Smith.

The ceremony took place during the afternoon and was performed by Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth, in the presence of a number of the relatives and intimate friends of the family. The bride was given away by her father, and was most becomingly costumed in a gown of cream corded silk with a garniture of lace. She wore a bridal veil, caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a superb bouquet of cream roses, tied with a large bow of cream satin ribbon. Miss Fitzgerald was assisted by her cousin, Miss Bella Taylor, of Douro, who looked most attractive in a costume of cream silk crepon, trimmed with lace and ribbons. The little maid-of-honour was Miss Bella Elliott, daughter of Mr. Edward Elliott, of Smith, and neice of the bride. She wore white muslin, trimmed with lace over pale blue, and carried a basket of pink and white roses.

The groomsman was Mr. John Fitzgerald, of Smith, brother of the bride.

The parlours were most artistically decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and smilax, and, as the bridal party entered, Miss Edith McKee, who was seated at the piano, played the wedding march.

Messrs. Long Bros. served a most elaborate wedding breakfast at the conclusion of the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. McKee left for their new home in Kansas on the afternoon C.P.R. express. On their way west they will visit a number of the principal American cities.

The bride, as a travelling costume wore a handsome olive green gown, trimmed with fawn.

A large number of most beautiful wedding presents was received, the young couple being unusually lucky in this respect.

THE HUNTERS RETURN.

Ducks are Reported to be Still Very Scarce.

THE RAY CAMP.

The Ray party broke camp early yesterday morning and arrived in town in the afternoon, after spending a couple of weeks in the vicinity of Gold Lake.

The party was composed of Messrs. Sam Ray, Jee Yelland, Arthur Blade, Harold Jewett, G. M. Roger, Herb. Snowden and Dickson Jewett.

Very few ducks were shot and the party did not seem to have struck the right season in that locality for mountain trout, as they did not bite at all freely. Partridges, however, were plentiful and quite a few rabbits were also shot, as well as several owls and cranes. A number of deer were seen but the party were not sufficiently hungry for venison as to be willing to run the risk of having to pay a dollar a pound for it, through the medium of a fine.

The Value of Advertising.

One of the largest advertisers in London says: "We once hit upon a novel expedient for ascertaining over what area our advertisements were read. We published a couple of half column ads. in which we purposely misstated half a dozen historical facts. In less than a week we received between 300 and 400 letters from all parts of the country; from people wishing to know why on earth we kept such a consummate idiot who knew so little about English history. The letters kept pouring in for three or four weeks. It was one of the best paying ads. we ever printed, but we did not repeat the experiment, because the one I refer to served its purpose. Our letters came from school boys and girls, professors, school teachers, and in two instances from eminent men who have a world-wide reputation. I was more impressed with the value of advertising from those two advertisements than I should have been by volumes of theories."

A Discreditable Action.

Attention is directed to the statement in another column made by Mr. H. P. Lindsay, District Agent for the Temperance and General Life Assurance Co. in reference to a malicious anonymous pamphlet which has been put into print intended to misrepresent this solid financial Life Assurance Company. Money and Risk, an insurance and financial journal, speaking of this disreputable action, says:—"We cannot too strongly condemn the use of such anonymous circulars. This one is a most dishonest and misleading production. If the parties who produced it can be discovered, their exposure should lead to their prompt dismissal from the service of any company claiming public confidence." A prominent agent of a Canadian Life Company also writes as follows:—"I have received the enclosed anonymous pamphlet entitled, 'The Temperance and General Life Assurance Company of N. A. How it treats its Policyholders,' in a plain envelope, addressed in a disguised hand and bearing the Toronto postmark, and I enclose it to you in the hope that you will condemn the pamphlet and its author as it deserves. Personally I can say unhesitatingly that I believe the Company, which this pamphlet has been deliberately designed to misrepresent and injure, is in every way a credit to the business of life insurance in Canada. Its record is such as to reflect credit on its management, and should, where it is understood, secure public confidence. I have no interest in this company, but I believe every honourable agent should condemn such dishonourable work. The man who will use such productions, either to injure a company or to gain business, is a mean, dishonest man, and should not be trusted."

THE SEWERAGE CONNECTION BY-LAW.

The Responsibility of Citizens in Respect of Connecting Their Premises.

The by law passed at the last meeting of the council provided for making sewer connections, and the essential clauses are given as follows:—

1.—Upon the construction of a common sewer upon any street or portion of a street in the town, in respect of which the council shall, by resolution or by-law, declare it to be necessary, for sanitary purposes or on account of danger to health, that the provisions of this section shall be in force, all cellars sinks and water closets upon any town lot, fronting upon such street, upon which such sewer is constructed, shall be drained into such sewer, provided the same can be so drained without carrying the drain through or by the lands of any other owner of property, and from and after a time to be named in such resolution or by-law no person shall have or use, or suffer to be or remain on his land or lands occupied by him on any town lot, fronting on such street or portion of a street, as aforesaid, any cesspool, earth-closet, privy or privy vault. And every person having any cesspool, earth closet or privy vault upon his land, or upon land occupied by him on any town lot, fronting on such street or portion of a street as aforesaid, shall fill up or remove the same from such land within ten days after the service of notice upon him, signed by the town clerk, requiring him to fill up or remove the same, and on default of the work being done by such person in accordance with such notice, the Chief of Police or Sanitary Officer or other person, if any, appointed by the council shall procure such work to be done at the expense of the person in default, and the expense thereof may be recovered with costs by action or distress; and in case of non-payment the same shall be recovered in like manner as municipal taxes.

Section 2 provides that after the construction of such sewer, and the passing of a bylaw or resolution, no person shall drain or discharge into such sewer or allow to be drained any sink or water closet into the creek flowing through the town.

Section 3 provides that the town engineer shall deposit in the office of the town clerk a plan showing the connections of such sewer, and shall prepare an estimate of the cost of constructing a proper connecting pipe from such sewer to the limit of the street on each side of the sewer, and the cost for each section of street according to the variations of soil, depth, etc., the estimate to be made as if in all cases the sewer lay in the middle of the street, and the estimated cost shall be shown on the plan accompanying the same. Any person desiring a connection made shall deposit with the Town Treasurer a sum sufficient to cover the cost according to the engineer's estimate, and such moneys shall be entered in a separate fund to be called the Sewer Connection Fund. The work shall be done by the Town Engineer "with all convenient dispatch," and the cost shall be paid out of the "Sewer Connection Fund" upon the certificate of the Town Engineer.

Section 4 prohibits any person from digging or opening up any street or public place except by the employees of the corporation, or contractors engaged by the corporation and authorized by the beforementioned bylaw or resolution.

Section 5 provides for the punishment of breach of the sewer connection bylaw, that is to say a fine not exceeding $50, or in default of payment committal to gaol for a period not exceeding 21 days.

THE MANDEMANT.

The following resolution, bringing into force the first section of the above bylaw, was passed at a meeting of the council on Monday night:—

A resolution was also adopted declaring it necessary for sanitary purposes, that the provisions of of Section No. 1 of the above bylaw, relating to connections with sewers, shall be in force in the following streets and portions of streets—George street from Brock to King; on Charlotte, Simcoe and Hunter streets from George to Water streets; and declaring that it is necessary for sanitary purposes that said section one and the provisions thereof shall be in force.

NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

Reorganized for the Ensuing Year and Officers Elected.

The Natural Science Association met last evening in the Collegiate Institute for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following were the fortunate ones;—

Hon. President—Rev. Mr. Symonds.
President—Mr. J. A. Fife.
Vice-President—Mr. L. R. Keogh.
Secy.-Treas.—Miss Mark,

An executive committee was also appointed to look after the programmes for open meetings of the Association. Members—the Hon. President, President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer and Mr. Sorsoleil. The membership fee was raised to 50c, and the work of the Association arranged for the next few months.

Considerable enthusiasm was evident and the Natural Science Association is now without doubt on a firm basis.

The thanks of the members are due Rev. Mr. Symonds, who introduced the Rev. C. H. Shortt, of Toronto, a member of the Astronomical and Physical Association of that city. Rev. Mr. Shortt gave a very interesting and instructive talk upon the aims of his society, and the methods of investigation pursued, by its members. He also explained their scheme of affiliation with other scientific associations throughout the province, and the benefits to be derived therefrom. It is very probable that the Natural Science Association will shortly affiliate.

The next meeting will be on November 10th, when the president will deliver his address, and the various members will report progress.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Collegiate Institute Organization Elects Officers.

At a meeting of the upper forms of the Collegiate Institute, on Friday, October 16th, the Literary Society was re-organized and the following officers were elected:—

Honorary President—Mr. C. Fessenden.
President—Mr. H. Cragg.
Vice-President—Miss L. Meharry.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. P. Clark.
Editor—Miss M. Yenney.
Assistant Editors—Miss E. Brodigan and Mr. F. Bear.
Programme Committee—Misses Primeau, Kendry, Brown and Messrs. W. Beer, Campbell and Zimmerman.

It was resolved:

(1) That the society should have a journal.

(2) That the officers should wait on Mr. Kenner to decide on a classical name for said journal.

(3) That a monthly fee of five cents should be levied, in order to meet current expenses.

(4) That the assistant editors and committee be changed monthly, and that the other officers should fill their positions throughout the term.

Mr. W. Campbell acted as secretary during the meeting.

MARKET BUILDING ACCOMMODATION.

Now that we have the sewer completed on George street, it becomes the duty of the council to see that we get the advantage of the large expenditure and of the great inconvenience the public have been subjected to while sewer-building operations have been in progress. On Monday night the council passed a stringent by-law compelling citizens in a specified district to take advantage of the sewer, by making connections with it; and it is proper that the public should demand of the council that they should meet the spirit of the by-law they have passed, compelling the compliance of citizens with its requirements. When the new market building was under construction, provision was made for water closets and similar conveniences. The work was begun, but for some reason, known only to the corporation, was not carried into effect. A sufficient sewer has been constructed, and it is not too much to ask that the council should finish the accomodation mentioned, so that the convenience of frequenters of the market, both buyers and sellers shall be met in a manner somewhat in accordance with the size and importance of the town and the requirements of the many patrons of the best market in the Midland District. Here is a chance for the council to be consistent and to show that they do not expect from citizens a compliance with sanitary regulations, by which they themselves are not bound. By all means let the accommodations suggested and in part provided for, be as speedily supplied as possible.

HON. A. G. BLAIR'S VISIT.

The Lindsay Town Council Takes Action Regarding it.

The projected visit of Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, to this section, in connection with his inspection of the Trent Valley Canal system, was discussed at last night's meeting of the council, and the importance of arranging to have the minister visit Lindsay was generally recognized.

It was decided that the council, or as many of that body as could conveniently spare the time, should combine with the county council representative and members of Parliament and meet Mr. Blair at Bobcaygeon on his way up the lake. Mr. M. M. Boyd, we understand, has generously offered to place the steamer Esturion at the disposal of the minister and party, and Lindsay will probably be visited before going on to Rosedale.

Owing to the probability that many years will elapse ere Lindsay has a railway service to Bobcaygeon, the importance of maintaining an uninterrupted water communication with the lower lakes cannot be too strongly urged, and no doubt the need of a new lock at Bobcaygeon will be brought to Mr. Blair's attention, as well as the necessity for a grant to improve the river channel at Lindsay between the Wellington street bridge and the lower wharf. The Ontario government has expended in all considerably over $100,000 on our river in recent years, and a grant of say $5,000 from the Dominion government would give Lindsay the full benefit of this large expenditure by making it possible for steamers to approach the town wharf at the season when tourist traffic is heaviest, instead of having to land near the town boundary.

THE GOLD MINES OF HALIBURTON.

Investors Looking to the Mineral Fields of Eastern Ontario—Mines at Tekada Island—The Prospects at That Point Good—Prospectors at Work East of Sudbury.

Toronto News.

Local investors are now turning their attention to the mineral fields of Eastern Ontario. W. H. Lockport Gordon, of the legal firm of Gordon & Sampson, has been visiting some gold locations in Haliburton, in company with Chas. E. Goad, C.E., and F. Strathmiller.

"We first examined the deposits in Belmont Township," he said to a reporter. "They are situated north of Crow Lake, near the town of Warlston, in Hastings County. The deposits are extensive and the ore is of a high grade.

"From the iron mine we passed over to the Ledyard gold mine, also in Belmont. A good deal of development work has been done. The main shaft has reached a depth of 70 feet. As it went down the width of the vein increased, so the engineer told me. It is now about four feet in width. A number of pits have been recently sunk on the property, some of which contain very rich ore and ar particularly strong in sulphurets. The ore on this location is a sugar quartz and is not arsenical. A crusher has been erected and several barrels of sulphurets were in the mill awaiting shipment. Several specimens which we picked up were panned for us and we could see the gold dust in the tailings distinctly.

"At Bannockburn we saw the ten stamp mill and small smelter owned by Mr. E. Strathmiller. The vein at this mine has been traced for about three hundred feet and a shaft has been put down some sixty feet. I got a few samples of free gold at this mine. It has yielded a quantity of gold since work has been started, and about $10,000 has been expended in developing it."

A Good Thing.

One of the cleverest novelties in the way of advertising is the automatic chair. The advertising feature of the chair lies in the clever attachment of simple mechanism under the broad arms with which each chair is provided. In either arm of each chair is cut a square hole into which a pane of glass is fitted and beneath it worked automatically by the action of the rocking the mechanism does its clever work. The machinery contains an endless ribbon, upon which are printed the cards of advertisers, and as the rocker oscillates with every movement a new card advertisement flashes into view. The square space under the glass where appears the advertisement is about three by three by three inches and every capable advertising man knows how much may be effectively said in a space of that size. Three of these chairs are to be placed in Peterborough as follows,—one at the Snowden House, one at the Morgan House and one at the Oriental. A local representative will solicit cards from our business men in a few days.

CORPORATION NEGLECT AND CARELESSNESS.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

DEAR SIR,—I notice by your report of the council that the council has to pay $3 for the breaking of a buggy spring in the trench on George street opposite Mr. Adam Hall's premises. And I noticed that the day after the council had thus wasted the people's money the trench was repaired by a corporation workman, the job not taking him ten minutes. Now the trench, left there, I am told by corporation councillors, was there two weeks before it was fixed. In addition to the utter and needless waste of $3 we had the inconvenience of such a hole for a fortnight. And still George street is left littered with big cobble stones and loose blocks of crossing cedar material, and the public have to submit to the inconvenience. Our streets are wretchedly mismanaged and I quite agree with a recent correspondent who dubbed the town council "The Old Women's Civic Association." How long will the merchants on George street stand this sort of thing without kicking and kicking hard?

Yours, etc.,

INCANDESCENT ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—Now that the town council has postponed dealing with contract for lighting the town, advantage should be taken of the postponement to consider the question of the character of our incandescent lights. Some arrangement should be made that would insure the customers of the company getting the full benefit of the current they pay for and not have the machine so over-loaded that the individual lights are dim and inefficient and not many degrees in brilliancy below the notoriously dingy gas lights that are offered to the public. Let us have better incandescent lights.

Yours, etc.,

A BARE-FACED ATTEMPT

TO INJURE

The Temperance and General Life Assurance Company.

TO THE PUBLIC :—

An anonymous pamphlet, entitled "The Temperance and General Life Assurance Company of N. A. How it treats its policy holders," has been put in circulation, deliberately designed to misrepresent and injure the prosperity and standing of this Canadian Company. It is undoubtedly the work of a dismissed former servant of the Company, actuated by a spirit of vindictiveness at the loss of his position, who was justly punished by being cashiered.

The pamphlet is a most dishonest and misleading one, and if the efforts now being made to prove the guilt of the malicious author, and bring him within the arm of the law, succeed, exposure and punishment will be as prompt and just as the courts will permit.

Regarding the Temperance and General Insurance Co :

1. It has DONE MORE BUSINESS this year than ever.
2. It has a SMALLER DEATH RATE.
3. It has a LARGER INTEREST ACCOUNT per thousand.
4. It has done a LARGER VOLUME OF NEW BUSINESS.
5. It has been paying back LARGER PROFITS to its Policy Holders.

GOOD WORDS FROM OTHER COMPANIES.

A prominent member of a Canadian Life Co. writes as follows :

"Personally I can say unhesitatingly that I believe the Company (The T. and G.) which this pamphlet has been deliberately designed to injure, is in every way a credit to the business of life insurance in Canada. Its record is such as to reflect credit on its management, and should, where it is understood, receive public patronage."

An Ontario agent of the Canada Life, writes :

"I find upon investigation that the Temperance and General Life is SOLID financially, that its investments are well placed, and that large profits are being paid and have been paid to policy holders and shareholders."

Any one who has received any impression from this anonymous pamphlet, that the Temperance and General is unsound and unsafe, should be satisfied with the above, and can be further satisfied by communicating with the undersigned. Agents of other companies are warned against using the said anonymous pamphlet to the prejudice of this Company.

PETERBOROUGH PRIME CHEESE.

The Last Meeting of the Board—6,366 Boxes were Boarded.

At the meeting of the Cheese Board yesterday the following buyers were in attendance :—W. Cluxton, W. H. Wrighton, Whitton, Madden, McCargar, Spence, Fitzgerald, Hodgson and Jones. There were 6,366 boxes boarded.

It was resolved that two pounds be allowed off all cheese of the last half of October, which is shipped before the 10th of November, and one pound be allowed off for cheese shipped between the 10th and 15th of November. These allowances are mane for the shrinkage of the green cheese.

There was considerable discussion on the point of when the make of the first half of October would be shipped. It was decided to ship within fifteen days of the make in this latter case, provided the cheese was sufficiently cured.

Mr. Cluxton brought up the question of bringing cheese into Peterborough during wet weather. He urged that oilcloth covers be procured to shelter the cheese as much as possible, and stated that for wet cheese he intended making a reduction for every box brought in to him.

Mr. Galvin asked if Oakdale was prepared to sell its cheese. It boarded regularly but refused to sell, and the Board objected, he understood, to having a discussion on this matter on the occasion of every meeting.

Mr. Cluxton suggested that the matter be laid over until the annual meeting and reminded the members that the good prices hitherto obtained resulted from the Board abiding by the rules.

The factories boarded as follows :—

Melrose Abbey boarded 83 Septembers, Young's Point 50, Daisy D 74, and Darlington Union 175.

Mr. Fitzgerald opened at 10 cents for selections. Mr. Spence raised to 10 1-6 cents, and Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10¼, Mr. Cluxton went to 10 3-10, Mr. Fitzgerald to 10½, Mr. Cluxton 10 5-16. Mr. Cluxton chose Keene, Warminster, Shearer, Central Smith, Cherry Grove, Warsaw, Lakefield, Lakeview, Cavanville, Benefort, Westwood, Norwood, Peterborough and Otonabee Union.

Mr. Whitton offered 10 5-16 for further selections, and took Orono, Kendall, Hope, Perrytown, Fleetwood, Crown and Pine Grove.

Darlington Union refused, as did Lang.

Mr. McCargar offered 10 5-16 for further selections, and took Melrose Abbey, Daisy D. and Ormonde.

Mr. Fitzgerald bid 10 5-16 for further selections, taking Trowern, Lang, Fraserville and Missing Link.

Mr. Madden took Maple Leaf and Oakdale at 10 5-16.

Mr. Whitton offered 10½ for the remainder of the Board and secured North Dummer and Young's Point.

Mount Pleasant, Myrtle, Cedardale and Stony Lake refused to sell at this figure.

Messrs. Edwards and Cluxton moved a vote of thanks to the town council for the use of the board room.

Mr. John Riddell suggested that on the last day of shipment the buyers and salesmen meet and spend a half day or so in the discussion of cheese matters in general and the idea met with a most favourable reception.

The Board then adjourned.

—Races at the Driving Park to-morrow.

—A lady's purse found on the market on Saturday can be had at the police station.

—Severe frost during the past couple of nights has caused the leaves to fall thick and fast. From present indications the trees will be bare by the end of the week. In some places the vari-coloured leaves are piled up to a depth of six inches forming a soft bed of autumn's glory.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, ASHBURNHAM.

Boys' Brigade Organized—Officers Elected.

A meeting of the boys was held in St. Luke's school house last night at seven o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Church Boys' Brigade. Rev. H. Symonds introduced Rev. C. H. Shortt, of Toronto, the successful organizer of the Brigade in Canada, who took entire charge of the meeting. A company, to be known as St. Luke's Ashburnham, No. 37, was formed with the following officers :

Captain	Claude Rogers
1st Lieut	Sidney Tivey
2nd Lieut	Robert Long
Col-sergeant	Frank Eden
1st Sergeant	Percy Jameson
2nd Sergeant	Matthew Edwards
3rd Sergeant	Harold Graham

Mr. Wesley Edwards has kindly consented to act as drill instructor. The motto of the Brigade is "Sobrietas, Puritasque, Reverentia, (S. P. Q. R.), Temperance, Purity, Reverence.

Rev. Carl Smith with the ten members of the South Ward Mission Company was present, and all were heartily welcomed by Mr. Symonds and the Ashburnham boys.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Shortt visited the Natural Science meeting, and addressed the members on the subject of affiliation with the Physical and Astronomical Society of Toronto, of which he is a member.

THANKSGIVING MISSIONARY MEETING.

The Annual Occasion Celebrated in St. Andrew's.

The annual thanksgiving meeting of St. Andrew's Foreign Missionary Society was held last night. There was a good attendance and a fine programme was presented. This consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. H. Jones and Mrs. Potter and Miss Edmison read interesting papers on "Thanksgiving." Mrs. Porter gave a recitation. A liberal collection was taken.

At the close of the programme excellent refreshments were served, and a very successful anniversary occasion was brought to a close.

A DAINTY WAIST.

A Useful Adjunct to the Winter Toilette.

Navy blue is to be one of the favorite colors for the cold season, just as it has for ages past, and is likely to be for many more. It drops into disuse every little while until some even-minded woman, who knows its worth, comes out in a stunning new rig of it, and starts the world of fashion anew after gowns of navy blue.

It is such a ready color to combine with others, and may be as dressy or as plain as one wishes. All summer seashore gowns of navy blue and white figured silks were worn, and so, gradually the shade has crept into the affections once more.

For service a skirt of navy blue canvas cloth, of broadcloth, or serge, nothing can equal it; while for dressy wear a smart skirt of navy blue crepon, or canvas cloth over silk, is beyond compare. White or scarlet, or a touch of gold brightens up a gown wonderfully, and is used as a color point on many of the new fall gowns.

One of the prettiest of these blue gowns I have seen is made up of a soft-faced serge, with a perfectly plain, wide skirt, interlined with white taffeta. The bodice is in blouse effect, with the fulness at the back drawn smoothly into a narrow ribbon belt of white taffeta.

A smooth vest of white taffeta is set in at the front, between two wide tucked box plaits. A folded stock of white taffeta is finished at the back by a full bow. The sleeves are snug to the shoulder, and closely wrinkled; the tight effect is taken away by the flaring of two wide ruffles set in at the shoulder, lined with white taffeta.

Another chic blue gown has the entire bodice laid over close rows of scarlet, gold and white braid, and a mass of tiny brass buttons at the front.

There is no more useful adjunct to the winter toilette than some sort of a fanciful waist, not silk necessarily; it may be of some airy, light stuff over silk (one grows so weary of uncovered silk) or of some dainty cloth, prettily trimmed. These pretty waists are an item in which the middle-aged woman may delight, and something which gives her a wonderfully youthful look.

One of these dainty waists, made for a sweet-faced woman of 50, whose frame of silvery hair sets off the brilliancy of her coloring, is made up of pale chiffon drawn smoothly over a body of deeper toned violet silk, just to soften the color. It is rather blousey at the front, though drawn in tightly at the back, and fastened under a twist of violet finished with two small pointed bows.

All across the waist, both back and front, are rows of butter colored lace, three inches apart, set on frill fashion, so as to stand out. The full bishop sleeves are treated in the same fashion, resulting in an unusually pretty bodice. A wide, stiff stock of velvet sets off the neck.

This mode of trimming is becoming to a figure which has retained its slender girlishness; crosswise lines will never answer for the form given over to embonpoint, but even for such the bodice may be trimmed, and with frills too, only they must be placed in perpendicular lines from throat to belt, and instead of the belt of velvet or ribbon, lengthen the bodice into a point, both back and front.

Curls on the Water.

The main terror of her who ventures down to the sea in ships is the too often realized dread that the hair will come out of curl. What can be done to avoid so dire a catastrophe I know not, nor does anyone else, that is if the hair is of the sleek kind that no dampening with cold tea suffices to make it stand up for itself. I fear when hair is of this kind, there really is nothing for it but to invest in a neat fringe of naturally curling hair. Do, for goodness sake however, if driven to this extremity, make sure that the fringe is firmly hairpinned on, and adopt the additional precaution of wearing a veil, for where breezes blow they have a playful habit of disheveling, disagreeable enough with one's own hair, but fatal with bought or borrowed tresses. Of course, this advice need only be taken when afloat, for the softest hair can be made to curl ashore in dry weather. Those who do not like to take it at any time, had better give up all attempts at curling, and let their locks lie sleek, else they will only look untidy.

Prevent sickness and save doctors' bills at this season by keeping your blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

NEWEST COLLARETTE.

Of Colored Melton Lined With Rose Pink.

Some light protection is needed for the shoulders before it is time to don the wrap or coat. One grows so weary of furs, that it's best not to put them on until one is compelled to, and then, with the charming novelties in the way of collarettes, there is small need of furs.

If one is an adept with the needle one of these contrivances will be as easy as rolling off a log. One needs a good pattern, something with all the flare possible; and by flare, I do not mean fulness. A chic little collarette is made of mode, colored melton, as heavy as a board, lined with rose pink, Dresden taffeta, and trimmed or finished with strapped pieces of the broadcloth, and sets of tiny, flat pearl buttons. This, with the high flaring collar is sufficient protection from early chills, and is a smart addition to any toilette.

Pretty ones are made of velvet, preferably black, with large ruches of black tulle and ostrich feathers, so arranged as to stand up high at the back of the head.

A fetching collarette in black is made of dozens of frills of chiffon set on double, as close together as they can be placed, with a tall Marie Antoinette collar, composed of the same.

With such a collarette may be suitably worn one of the broad-brimmed, tip-tilted hats in black, either a fur-felt, or velvet massed with ruches of black tulle or chiffon, and bristling with spiky blackbird's wings.

Early Autumn Fashions.

White and black combinations in millinery for dressy wear will be very prevalent this autumn. Some such combinations as black and white laces, aigrettes, ostrich tips, black velvet ribbon overlaid with white lace insertion, black and white satin-striped ribbon, black velvet loops lined with white satin; and tiny evening toques of soft velvety white French felt garnished with black and white tulle, doves' wings, white birds with black wing-tips and breast plumage, white satin bows and white velvet poppies with black hearts.

Out of 10 costumes imported for handsome day wear that were recently opened to view, seven were made with either a bolero jacket or else simulating one by the arrangement of fabrics and trimmings on the bodice front. This jacket fad is likely to increase as the autumn season advances, and to last, in some guise or other, through the entire winter.

The new seven-gored skirt differs from the last season's shapes in being much less flaring on the fronts and sides. The fulness flowing toward the back is shaped by gores set "straight to bias," with a bias seam down the back. The skirt measures about five yards around the lower part, and requires 4½ yards of double-width material. It fits the hips snugly and can be made to fall loose from the lining or be seamed on with each separate gore.

English serge is holding out its claims as a strong rival to the mohairs and brilliantines so widely popular this summer past, and already, both here and abroad, some extremely attractive and stylish costumes have been made of the darker shades of serge of super-fine quality. There never has been and probably never will be anything to surpass this fabric for wear provided the best quality is selected. For hard wear the purchase is advised of a light rather rough all-wool serge rather than the smooth-faced variety. For other uses a softer surface proves most pleasing; and it is wonderful what satisfaction and service can be gained from either sort. Gowns of this material often outlast a dozen other dresses, and yet look fresh and wearable after even years of service if carefully brushed and cared for.

The season's new faced cloths are exceedingly fine in texture, light in weight and come in handsome shades in green, blue, russet, dahlia, opal gray, fawn, browns innumerable, and in one or two beautiful dyes in street heliotrope. Stylish and serviceable costumes of mohair, alpaca and silky canvas-patterned wool appear in weaves less coarse than those popular last spring, although these heavier fabrics are still in great vogue abroad. A gown of this description has a bolero jacket of velvet turned back to display a vest of richly plaided taffeta silk, with a girdle of velvet matching the jacket. The sleeves are close to the arm with broad loops of the dress material lined with velvet falling on the top of the arm.

Vandykes in both large and small points, bands of black lace insertion, plain or jetted, slight Marie Antoinette draperies, velvet ribbon, both wide and narrow, festooned lace flounces, or those of accordion-pleated mousseline de soie, tiny ruches, triple frills and milliners' folds, all appear on new French dress skirts for the fall and winter.

Fall Coats.

A new fall coat has been specially worked out with a checked material in view, the revers and collar faced with a plain cloth. It is an eminently simple design, the back fitting the figure closely, while the fronts are shaped with a single dart carried to the edge of the coat. At the back there is just sufficient slope below the waist to account for the skirt fulness, and that is all.

One of the new shapely little coats, which we are told, will be all the vogue, boasts a trifle more fulness in the basque, while the fronts are shaped directly into the figure an inch-wide banding of plain cloth bordering all the edges.

Human life is held to cheaply when the individual who needs a tonic for his system, seeks to cover his wants by purchasing every new mixture that is recommended to him. Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-earned reputation of fifty years standing.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate and cure constipation.

Frock for a Child.

Here is a frock for a child of from four to six years of age. The foundation of this little dress really consists of a yoke, upon which the skirt is gathered. The outer yoke and sleeves are in one piece, and the tucks which run across the yoke itself flare out upon the shoulders and form the puff which really becomes the sleeve itself. A lining to these sleeves is placed in position after the tucked yoke is adjusted upon its own lining, and is sewn to the underlining after the material is in place. This little frock will be delightfully carried out in cashmere or in fine serge, and will be most useful for early autumn wear, while if there be plenty of time, and winter clothes are a matter of early preparation, then in a thick serge or in velveteen this little dress would form ideal children's wear.

For Summer Freckles.

A preparation for summer freckles, recommended by a celebrated physician, follows: Borax, 15 grains; lemon juice, 1 oz.; sugar candy, ½ drm. Mix the powders with the juice, and let them stand in the bottle, shaking occasionally until quite dissolved. Touch the spots with this lotion.

Do the kidneys talk?
Well, yes, both loud and long.

Weak back means weak kidneys.
The kidneys are talking trouble
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

AND LUNG TROUBLES,
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

AMONG THE SWALLOWS.

Social Habits of the Birds as Observed by L. E. Chittenden.

Mr. L. E. Chittenden, in his "Personal Reminiscences," gives an interesting description of the social habits of swallows. He was encamped one night on a small island in Lake Champlain.

As the sun approached the horizon a few swallows came and alighted in the branches of the cedar trees with which the island was covered; then more came, and still more, until flocks of many hundreds coming from every point of the compass, were converging upon the island.

"My supper," says Mr. Chittenden, "was prepared and served to the accompaniment of innumerable angry but musical voices. After some time the disputes appeared to be adjusted, and there was a profound quiet, only broken here and there by some individual apparently talking in his sleep or disturbed by the nightmare.

"Making as little noise as possible, I forced myself under the branches, well into the grove, disturbing many sleepers in my progress. On raising my hand to a branch, I discovered that the swallows were literally packed along it side by side. The light of a match showed that every branch in view was laden in the same manner.

"The light awakened them, but they fell asleep as soon as it was extinguished. I could have captured scores within reach of my hand.

"As the gray dawn was creeping over the eastern mountains there was a clear note from one of the tallest cedars in the grove. It was the reveille. There was an answering call, then another, then many, and in a minute the grove was alive with voices. Soon a swallow shot out from the grove and made one circuit, sounding its call. Others followed until a small flock was collected, which moved westward over ten miles of water to the shore. Others followed, collecting in separate flocks and taking flight in different directions.

"Within five minutes the last swallow had departed, and solitude reigned in the grove."—Youth's Companion.

WATER LILY CUSHION.

When Properly Made It Will be an Ornament to Any Room.

A very pretty pincushion is made like a water lily. The center is of a round piece of golden-yellow velvet, four inches in diameter. This is gathered, stuffed with cotton, and drawn into a flat cushion, measuring about 2½ inches. The six petals are formed from heavy, white satin ribbon. The length required for each petal is six inches, folded into a loop as shown. Instead of ribbon, white satin may be folded into stripe like ribbon. The five leaves are of green plush, with a crinoline lining. The stem is of wire, wrapped with cotton, and bound with green ribbon, or covered with a strip of plush.—Anna Hinrichs, in Rural New Yorker.

SHEEP STILL PAY.

They Must Have Plenty of Food—They Are First-Class Brier Killers.

The Western Rural says that sheep cannot live upon nothing. There is an old Spanish proverb which asserts that "the hoof of the sheep is golden," and many others, of various nations, which convey much the same meaning, but many of these common sayings exceed the truth. Sheep cannot, alone, convert a desert into a garden. They cannot live and thrive without food. In order to do their best, they must have an abundance of food, and it must be of good quality. The idea that sheep can be turned upon a barren field, which by bad cropping has been utterly exhausted, and from this field not only obtain their living, but also get material from which to grow heavy fleeces and produce fine lambs, and by their presence convert the land into a luxuriant pasture, is wholly erroneous. If they have sufficient food from other sources and are kept part of the time each day upon a run-down field, they will pick off the weeds and scatter their manure, thus tending to make the land better. By feeding sheep well in winter, spreading their manure upon the exhausted field, getting clover started and then keeping the sheep upon it, the land may be rapidly improved. That land of moderate fertility may be made much richer by pasturing sheep upon it we do not doubt. If there is anything to do with, sheep will utilize it to the best possible advantage. If there is nothing with which to make a beginning, neither sheep nor any other animals can bring it into a high state of fertility until man has done something in the way of improvement.

The farmer who keeps sheep in connection with grain and grass-growing, and with other stock, can, as a general rule, obtain a large profit from them. Some of the largest crops, and, succeeding these, a marked improvement in the land, have been secured by use of the manure made by sheep. The Hon. George Geddes, who is universally recognized as an authority, in speaking of his own experience in keeping sheep in connection with grain growing, has said: "With about one sheep to the acre of cultivated land, pasture and meadow, we raise more bushels of grain on the average than we did when we had no sheep to manufacture our coarse forage into manure and to enrich our pastures to prepare them for grain crops. While producing more crops on less acres, and at less cost than we did before we kept sheep, and, at the same time, constantly improving our land, we have the wool and mutton from our sheep in addition."

In connection with the growth of clover, sheep can be made to bring land which is moderately fertile into good condition for producing wheat, and then keep it yielding large crops every few years and constantly increasing in value and productive capacity. The man who is willing to feed and care for his sheep can receive from them a great deal of help in securing good crops and making his land rich.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Science of Sheep Breeding.

The science of sheep breeding has received remarkable attention by English sheep breeders who have striven to keep pace with the times and produce breeds of sheep adapted to conditions and localities. When the production of wool no longer was profitable they turned their attention with much earnestness to the production of mutton breeds, and the result of their efforts in this direction is the establishment of distinct breeds that reproduce their type to perfection. The farmers of our country are availing themselves of this type of sheep and are producing mutton at a profit besides in many instances developing and intensifying the valuable characteristics of the breeds. The following extracts from Bell's Messenger gives information upon this subject:—

"There are different types and characteristics of the Oxfordshire, Hampshire and Shropshire breeds, as well as of the Southdown. The Oxfordshire breeders have been striving after darker countenances, closer wool, smaller bone and more quality for some few years past, until the prize ram of their county show, Mr. George Adams' Oriel, is pronounced by some critics to be too genteel and refined for ordinary use. In other words, tenant farmers find the wealth of the breed its chief recommendation; and it scarcely answers to impair this too much if the ewes have already been bred well up to the standard of dark countenances, close wool and small bone. Have we come to this, then, that the sheep best in the show-yard is not always the one most eligible for use? It seems to be the case so far as the Oxfordshire breed is concerned; and we are not sure this is not the proper view to take in regard to the Shropshire, the breeders of which for the past ten years or more have been aiming after quality and refinement quite as much as the Oxfordshire breeders, and the crucial question appears to be, Is it possible for refinement to be pushed too far, to the sacrifice of substance and constitutional vigor? Some districts and farms are colder and wetter than others; therefore types ought to vary somewhat perhaps."—Agriculturist.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various forms resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathise with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

Live Stock Notes.

Give the work horses a night pasture near the stables. After the day's work they should receive the same care in the stable as if they were to remain there—and after being cooled, fed and cleaned, turn them in the pasture or large paddock, where they can get a generous bit of grass and roll and rest. They should receive the same amount of feed in the stable. It is cruel to expect them to work all day and pick around all night to satisfy their hunger.

It is part of the business of the breeder so to feed and care for his stock as to reverse the natural conditions in which a large part of their lives was devoted to caring for themselves. They are at all times provided with plenty of food, and that generally more nutritious than they could procure while in their wild state. Thus the animal cared for becomes in a sense civilized, and the improvement is very like that which mankind makes in its progress toward civilization. Thus the original wild cattle in all countries have very long horns. But the horns have been bred off, until it is likely that a few generations will see the majority of horned stock born without the capacity for producing horns.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

WORLD'S CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR PRAYER CHAIN.

(Subject of Prayer for October.)

Pray especially for those missionaries labouring in hard, discouraging and perilous fields. Pray for the "volunteers" who are making ready to "go to the front."

BETHEL (KEENE CIRCUIT.)

As the six months' term will end the last of October, the Executive Committee met on the 6th and nominated officers for the next term, and at the regular meeting, on Wednesday, the 7th, the following officers were elected :—

President—Oliver Fife.
Vice-President—James Shearer.
Cor. Secy.—Edith Armstrong.
Rec.-Sec's.—Oliver Fife.
Treasurer—Addie Pallin.
Organist—Louisa Fife.
Reporter—Leah Fife.

We also appointed eight committees with four members and a convenor for each. We elect the officers early so that they will all be ready to start work for the next term, beginning with November. We trust God to guide us in the future as He has in the past.

On Wednesday, the 14th, the attendance was not so good as usual, but we hope those present received a blessing. Miss Leah Fife spoke on the topic, "God or Mammon," and Mr. J. Armstrong led the prayer meeting.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

This society held a very successful bouquet social on the evening of October 8. The social committee made bouquets in pairs. On entering the room each was presented with one of these bouquets, then they immediately set out to find its mate. This botanical research proved an interesting social success. A short programme was arranged, after which refreshments were served, and now another is added to the long list of successful socials held by this society.

THE LOCAL UNION

met on Tuesday evening Oct. 13th. There was just a quorum present. It was generally regretted that a larger number were not present. All members of this executive are requested to be present at a meeting to be held on the first Tuesday of November. Important business affecting all the societies in town will be discussed. Plans will be submitted to do an agressive form of work during the coming winter. Any member who can not attend should at least send reason for absenting himself from the meeting.

Some places we would like to hear from—Norwood, Havelock, Keene, Smith, Warsaw, Springville and North Monaghan. All these districts have told us very little through this column about what they are doing. Let us hear from you. Those "pet" schemes you use in your work might help others. Don't be selfish. Don't be all wrapt up in yourselves; "tell it out." Give to others the benefit of your experience.

AN ODD COMBINE.

But it Ought to Work all Right if Well Managed.

What is to hinder a business partnership between two or more farmers whose fields are conveniently located asked the American Agriculturist. Usually one set of tools will do the work of all, and with a proper system of management less teams and help would be required. Buying in larger quantities would save money on fertilizers, seeds, etc., and the cost of production could be cheapened, while crops could be increased. One partner, with a natural talent, could do the selling, another could act as manager, and the business might go along as smoothly as any business partnership in the city, and with more than the average chance of success.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The directors of the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute, met in the town hall, Norwood, at 2 o'clock p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 17th, to make arrangements for the regular meetings of the Institute to be held at Norwood on Dec. 18th and Keene, Dec. 22nd, 1896.

Present, F. Birdsall, Esq., President, in the chair, and Messrs. Geo. English, W. J. Patterson, Jas. Andrews, Jas. Moore, Jno. Knox and Chas. Nicholl.

The secretary read a letter from Jos. J. Gereed, secretary of North Ontario Farmers' Institute, asking this one to request the Superintendent of Institutes to make a change in subjects to be discussed at the regular meeting here. The directors took no action in the matter.

The directors then went into committee of the whole on the selection of subjects and speakers for those meetings. Mr. G. Harcourt, Toronto, and Mr. R. F. Holterman of Brantford, are the speakers to be sent by Mr. Hodson, the superintendent. The subjects for Norwood meetings were then taken up. It was decided to select for Mr. Harcourt "Winter Dairying,"—(without chart)—discussion opened by Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P.; and "How to Obtain a Good Dairy Herd," (chart), discussion opened by Mr. R. E. Birdsall; Mr. Holtermann's subject is to be "Poultry on the Farm," discussion opened by Andrew Nicoll. J. Hummer, secretary, was requested to ask Richard Honey, of Brickley, J. B. Ewing, E. Hawthorne, and Stewart Payne of Warsaw, John Lancaster, Westwood, and John Lang, M.P., to be present.

Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., Westwood, W. J. Miller, Jas. Drummond and Dr. Harrison, Keene, Henry Humphries, Hastings, to read essays or deliver addresses at Norwood or Keene.

The evening meeting at Norwood.—Mr. Harcourt's subject, "The Future Farmer." Mr. Holterman, "How to Succeed as an Apiarist."

For Keene the subjects selected for Mr. Harcourt were:—"Care of Milk for Cheese Factories," discussion opened by James Drummond, and "Dairy Farming," discussion opened by Jas. Walsh. The subject for Mr. Holterman was "the Advantage of Bee keeping in a New Country," discussion opened by John Lancaster.

At the evening meeting Mr. Holterman's address was to be on "the Wonders of the Honey Bee," and Mr. Harcourt's "Breakages on the Farm."

The committee appointed to look after the evening meeting for Norwood was:—Messrs. John Finlay, Jas. Andrews, D. McCarthy and Chas. O'Riely. At Keene—Mrs. Dr. Harrison, Miss Bryce, Miss Launderville, Robert English, Robert McCamus and Dr. Shaw.

Moved by Mr. Andrews, seconded by Mr. Moore, that caretaker of hall get 50c for his attendance.—Carried.

Moved by John Knox, seconded by W. J. Patterson, that the secretary get any necessary printing done.—Carried.

Meeting adjourned.

BETHEL—OTONABEE.

On Monday evening a ten cent social was held at the new Methodist church.

After supper the company proceeded to the old church where a delightful entertainment was given by the young people. The proceeds amounted to $15.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Arrangements have been made for the local Rugby team to go to Port Hope and play the Trinity College School team there on Saturday afternoon next, and a special car, attached to the noon train, will be placed at the disposal of the team and its supporters. The party will return at about midnight and it is expected that quite a few will accompany the team down.

As several good practices have been held since Saturday's game with the Upper Canada College men, the team shows considerable improvement. A couple of changes will take place in the personnel of the first fifteen, as Will Allen and Joe Gray have again donned their suits and are out on the field once more.

The next game to be played on the P. A. A. grounds will be against the Port Hope town team, on Saturday, Oct. 31st.

CURLIANA.

The semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Walker House, Toronto. President McGaw being absent, the chair was taken by Vice-President Thos. Woodyatt of Brantford. Secretary Russell occupied his old post, and there was a large attendance of members. The main business was the arrangement of the Tankard preliminary groups, which was concluded to the apparent satisfaction of all present with much less discussion than usual.

There was a disposition shown to make the expense of membership as low as possible, and the international match was also arranged for.

The new President, Mr. Thos. Woodyatt, of Brantford, is an ardent devotee of the game and has long been prominent in the councils of the association. Just now he presents a damaged appearance, the result of an accident while pursuing another form of sport, cycling, being severely cut above one eye.

Peterborough was represented at the meeting by Mr. E. B. Edwards.

In the grouping for the primary matches the following arrangements were made for Peterborough:—

Group No. 2—Millbrook, Campbellford, Keene, Port Perry, Fenelon Falls. Umpire, Judge Weller, Peterborough Granite.

Group No. 3.—Peterborough Thistle, Lindsay, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Orillia. Umpire, J. A. Vance, Millbrook Club.

The report of the Executive Committee stated that five new clubs would be proposed for membership, making thirteen additional during the year. Messrs. Badenach, Woodyatt, Harvey, Carlyle and Dalton were nominated as a committee to confer with the committee of the Grand National Curling Club in carrying out the international match, the date and place suggested being January 12, 1897, at Toronto.

In this connection Mr. Russell read a letter from Secretary David Foulis, of the Grand National Club, in which Toronto was preferred on account of the unsurpassed accommodation offered there. The United States rinks will be drawn mainly from the east, though St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago are all likely to be represented.

The work of last year's officers would seem to have been satisfactory, inasmuch as the executive standing committees and the Secretary-Treasurer were re-appointed, while there was a step of promotion in the other offices. The elections resulted in these choices:—

Patron, the Governor-General; Honorary President, the Lieutenant-Governor; President, Thos. Woodyatt, Brantford; Vice-Presidents, Judge Dartnell, Whitby; A. F. Maclaren, M. P., Stratford; Chaplain, Rev. R. J. M. Glassford, Guelph; Secretary-Treasurer, J. S. Russell, Toronto; Executive Committee, the President, Vice-Presidents, Past Presidents and Secretary-Treasurer, with John Wright, Toronto; D. Dexter, Hamilton Victoria; C. C. Dalton, Toronto Granite; D. B. Simpson, Bowmanville; T. A. Wardell, Dundas; David Carlyle, Toronto Prospect Park; Committee on Complaints and Appeals, E. B. Edwards, Peterborough; W. B. McMurrich, Toronto Victoria; A. Congalton, Guelph; Committee on the Annual, J. S. Russell, W. F. Davidson, Jas. Hedley; Auditors, T. G. Williamson, C. McGill.

BUT UNSATISFACTORY.

LADIES.

Have you noticed how quickly some storekeepers learn to be "smart" in quoting prices—with great profit to the other storekeepers. Nevertheless they receive marked attention. Their grasp of financial matters is at once recognised when they are entrusted with the arranging of prices on hat pins, hooks and eyes, buttons and corset steels.

Timely Tidings of Underwear Bargains.

Yesterday we started in to clean up our Underwear Department, for you know there has been big selling in these lines at our store and the balance of our Early Fall supply is all broken up

So we take them and put them in lots at a price—a Bargain price—in order to give you a chance to save money on Underwear, that you may need at once. At the same time, we expect another big lot of Heavier Winter Underwear, in a day or two at rather lower prices than those who bought too heavy and bought too early

You're almost sure to find something in our stock at a good deal less price than the fashionable stores advertise. A "cheap catch" sold at the expense of other goods, is not Miss R's way of doing business.

FOR A NEW SUIT OR OVERCOAT!

Any old thing may please some people but it's not so with up-to-date Dressers. You need a New Suit and Overcoat for the Fall and Winter. Don't spoil your credit by wearing seedy garments—look like prosperity if you would have folks think you are prosperous.

THAT'S WHY

you are invited to visit PETE SIMONS & CO., and look over the beautiful selections of Fine Imported Tweeds and Worsteds—the pick of the English, Scotch and Irish Cloth Makers.

Never was better equipped with New Fall Cloths and Gentlemen's Furnishings. They have been flooding in upon us the last month, but we've been too busy taking measures to give you any general information on the subject.

PETE is the man who wants to meet you when in need of a Good, Honest, Form-fitting Suit or Top Coat—and save you money. Bring the boys, too.

If you can't wait to have an Overcoat or Ulster made, we keep a strong line of Tailor-made ones, ready to put on and recommended, in Friese and Beavers, wool-lined and carefully finished.

A BIT OF A TUMBLE.

Wheat Drops and Causes Gloom in the Bull Ring.

PRICES MAINTAINED IN LONDON

And Not Much of a Decline in Liverpool—All the Western Farmers are Selling and the Railroads are Blocked for Cars — The Causes Discussed.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—There was gloom in the bull camp to-day, wheat losing 3 1-8 cents. Lack of support from shorts was apparent. Had there been any interest open on that side, there would have been a better demand, and probably less disastrous conclusions. The cables from Liverpool were not the sort that enthuse, and yesterday's weakness at San Francisco but emphasized the growing weakness. Longs sold freely all day, and towards the close the pressure of offerings became tremendous. Pyramids went overboard, and the big professionals vied with one another in their efforts to secure profits before they entirely disappeared. When Bradstreet's report of six million bushels increase in the world's stock was issued there was temporary indecision, followed by panicky selling, and in the final moments prices cut little figure, the main object being to get sales. Liverpool quoted 1-2d to 2d decline, and continental markets were irregular with no excitement reported. December wheat opened from 77 3-4c to 77 1-8c, declined to 75 1-8c, closing at 75 1-4c, with the loss above noted. Cash wheat was weak and 3c per bushel lower.

Prices Firm in London.

London, Oct. 21.—In the grain market to-day there was less activity than yesterday, but there was no abatement in the firmness of its tone, and the tendency was higher. Foreign wheats were 6d dearer, and flour was firm and a shilling dearer.

It Was Only a Small Deal.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The World correspondent learned to-day that the report from Winnipeg to the effect that Mr. W. W. Ogilvie and the Lake of the Woods Company were paying 87 cents for wheat in Manitoba only applied to a sale of about 500 bushels where a couple of rival agents had lost their heads in the struggle for supremacy. The two companies paid to-day 20 cents at points where the freight rate were 18 cents to Fort William. This, said a gentleman interested, is about 10 cents per bushel more than is being paid on the American side..

Still at High Water Mark.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Wheat prices are still kept up to high-water mark in Manitoba. The big milling firms show no signs of weakening in their fight, and prices cut no figure. They pay anywhere between seventy cents and a dollar a bushel when they get scrapping.

JULIAN RALPH TELLS ABOUT IT.

The Principal Cause of the Jump Was That English Millers Were "Caught."

New York, Oct. 21.—Julian Ralph cables from London to The Journal: "The opinion is generally expressed here that a speculative element will most likely form a part of any continuance of the big shipments of wheat beyond another fortnight. Already there has been considerable gambling in freights, and this is likely to increase if big shipments are kept up much longer. One broker said to me to-day that if all the vessels already chartered for the grain trade were to bring their grain to England the island would be buried under a mountain of wheat. There are several causes for the present great shortage of wheat in England which is causing such large exports from America, the principal among them being the fact that millers have been badly 'caught.'

"Flour went up yesterday 3s 6d a sack, a greater advance than has occurred for 20 years. For a long time millers have been running on a hand-to-mouth basis, expecting the market price of wheat to go still lower, and the opening of the milling season has found them almost entirely without supplies.

"Then various other conditions arose to cause a large demand for English flour. The stock of foreign wheat on hand is extremely low, being scarcely one-third of what it was two years ago. The English home crop was exceptionally large this year, and was secured in the very finest condition. This crop was about seven million quarters, against three and a half million quarters last year, while in quality, weight and condition it was better than has been known in very many years. The millers counted on having this English stock to draw upon at the start of the milling season if they were 'caught' at that time. But close on the heels of the fine harvest weather came heavy rains, which extended practically all over England, and which have been almost incessant ever since. These rains have prevented the threshing of this year's crop to a very large extent, and there was little or none of last year's stock on hand. The millers could not buy enough wheat in England to anywhere near keep their mills going and had to at once import heavily from America. The English farmers, too, will never sell on a rising market, and what wheat was threshed was not put on the market. The very wet weather has been greatly against sowing the English crop this fall, so that next year's outlook is by no means rosy, and this, too, has been something of a factor. This plight of the millers accounts for the start of the heavy shipments.

"The prospective famine in India is another important factor in their continuance. There has not been any Indian wheat in the English market this year. Of late years India has been receding into the background as a wheat exporting country, however, so that what is now important is not so much the loss of her own wheat as the fact that she will largely need some other country's crops, and that is important.

"Next as a factor is the fact that the Argentine wheat crop is in doubt just now, on account of the locust plague, and with the possibility of the shortage in that quarter becoming serious both millers and brokers are inclined to buy all they can get from America.

"Next, the Russian crop this year is poor, and there has also been a corner in wheat in Southern Russia. This corner, however, is now broken, and wheat is on its way from Russia to Great Britain in unusually large shipments.

"The gambling in freight rates is not confined to the Atlantic. I hear that the rates from Odessa to English ports have doubled, and in some instances have trebled in the last few weeks. From other operators I get the added word that three or four cargoes have already been shipped to India. The continent of Europe is also buying because the Russian crop is below the average. India, the Argentine Republic and Australia are all out of the field, and as an additional cause for the wheat demand the potato crop is very bad in Europe and the stock of wheat on hand is smaller in proportion to the population than has been known in the whole history of the grain trade."

WHAT CAUSED THE RISE?

English Merchants Laugh at the Idea That U.S. Politics Had Anything to Do With It.

New York, Oct. 21.—A special cable despatch from London to an evening paper says: In Mark Lane and the English wheat markets much amusement is caused by a suggestion from New York that the activity in wheat is due to ingenious American politicians. The rise, the English merchants say, is due to actual and pressing market demands consequent on a probable shortage. "We like a little politics now and again," said a leading dealer to-day, "but we don't buy wheat which we can't sell, not even to oblige our American friends."

EVERYBODY SELLING.

A Famine of Freight Cars in the West Owing to the Wheat Boom.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Omaha, Nebraska, reports that the freight car famine is assuming alarming proportions in the west. The Missouri Pacific Railroad is short over 600 cars north of Kansas City, and the Union Pacific, Burlington, Omaha, Elkhorn and Rock Island Railways are far behind in the number of required cars in Nebraska, while the famine in Iowa and Kansas is even worse. The roads have need of cars for extra freight, for all the wheat in the country is being rushed to market during the present high prices. Although is is believed by many that the market will reach $1 before a slump, the average shipper and farmer are taking no chances, and consequently want to get their wheat on the market at once.

ANOTHER LEVIATHAN.

British Cruiser Diadem Launched a Glasgow She Will be Armed to Fire 1000 Rounds Per Minute.

Glasgow, Oct. 21.—The new British cruiser Diadem was successfully launched here to-day. She is a ship of 11,000 tons, 455 feet long, and the contracts for her construction require her to show a rate of 20½ knots an hour. The armament of the Diadem will enable her to fire 1000 rounds of shot per minute.

Imperial Bank Bought Debentures.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 13.—This evening $50,000 worth of 5 per cent. Niagara Falls sewer debenture bonds were sold to the Imperial Bank of Canada through their local manager, Mr. J. A. Langmuir, for 113.65, being the highest tender.

Forty Gunners Rebelled.

Madrid, Oct. 13.—A despatch from Ferrol says a mutiny has occurred on board the Spanish warship Alfonso XIII., lying at that port. Forty gunners rebelled and attempted to seize the boats and go ashore. A fight between the mutineers and the marines and others of those on board ship ensued, with the result that the revolt was suppressed and the mutineers put in irons.

MATTERS AT OTTAWA

Urgent Business Disposed of by the Ministers.

THE PACIFIC CABLE COMMISSION

Appointed Yesterday—Mr. Laurier Thanks the Liberal Federation Pointer for Newspaper Men Regarding Postage—Where a Paper is Refused the Publisher Must Pay.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The Cabinet closed up the pressing business on hand to-day and the Ministers are now separating for different parts of the Dominion. Some have already gone, others left to-day, including the Premier, for Quebec. Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Oliver Mowat for Toronto, Mr. Tarte for the Northwest, and Mr. Borden for Montreal. The principal business done in council this afternoon was putting through the formal order appointing Sir Donald Smith, Mr. Sandford Fleming and A. G. Jones of Halifax as Pacific Cable Commissioners. The latter was added in view of the request of the Australians to be allowed to appoint a third commissioner.

The Premier has written a letter to Barrister Charles Murphy of this city, President of the Ontario Federation of Liberal Clubs. He says: "I take an early opportunity, immediately after the close of the session, to convey to you and to the members of the Liberal clubs of Ontario my thanks and the thanks of the party for the great services which they have rendered to the Liberal cause during the last elections. To them, to their constant, energetic and enthusiastic exertions, is due no small part of the victory which crowned our efforts. If they continue their work in the future as they have done in the past, I have no doubt it will be productive of still more good."

Hon. F. Peters, one of the counsel for Canada before the Behring Sea Commission, left for Prince Edward Island this afternoon to attend to some matters of official business before leaving for the Pacific coast. He will return to Otawa in about a week and will then start for British Columbia, accompanied by Mr. Venning of the Fisheries Department. The date of the meeting of the Claims Commission has been fixed for Nov. 16. Sir C. H. Tupper, who is counsel for the sealers, left for Victoria to-day.

The Postoffice Department has decided upon a certain line of policy which is of great interest to newspaper publishers. Under the law as it exists to-day newspapers are carried free "to subscribers." A dispute often arises between a newspaper publisher and a party to whom he may be sending his paper regularly as to whether the latter is or is not a subscriber. Many such individuals receive newspapers regularly and just as regularly decline to accept them. For some time past the mails have been encumbered with newspapers which alleged subscribers have refused to accept, and the department has now determined to adopt a rule whereby newspaper publishers will be kept strictly to the law. Thus, when a man refuses to be classed as a subscriber and declines to accept a newspaper sent to him through the mails, the Postoffice Department will call upon the publisher to pay the cost of transmission of such papers through the mails at the rate of 1c per copy.

The exhibit of Indian industrial schools, which was shown by the Department of Indian Affairs at the Central Canada Fair, is to be kept here by the department, and will be made use of for publi exhibition wherever it is thought advisable. Mr. Fisher is working out the details of several schemes which he laid before Parliament for the benefit of the farming classes, and will have them well in hand by the time that they can be put in operation next spring.

Postmaster-General Mulock returned from Toronto this morning.

Robert Mackay, president; Hugh McLennan, L. E. Morin, John Kennedy, engineer; Alexander Robertson, secretary, a delegation from the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, had an interview with Mr. Tarte regarding certain improvements to Montreal harbor.

It is reported that work will commence on the proposed new bridge across the Ottawa River in the course of the next ten days. Mr. Laurier's pledge of Monday has set the ball rolling.

The order-in-council appointing Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Paterson as the subcommittee of council to prepare the draft of the new tariff has been passed. As previously stated, they will visit some of the leading centres of industry to interview merchants, manufacturers and importers.

Thomas Dancy has been appointed a preventive officer at Goderich and William Stewart to be a landing waiter at Guelph.

Hon. R. R. Dobell leaves shortly for England.

Hon. Dr. Borden and Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick left for Montreal this afternoon.

The relations between England and Venezuela cannot be very strained, as the Postoffice Department has just been notified that a parcel post convention between the two countries has been agreed upon.

Sir Richard Cartwright left for Toronto to-night.

Hon. W. Laurier left for Montreal this evening.

Mr. W. G. Parmelee, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, has left for a two weeks' holiday in the Lake Temiscamingue district.

The contract with the Allans for the mail service for the present year has not yet been signed, and the company has sent a strong letter to the Government protesting against this delay.

MORE FIGHTING MEN.

French Army to be Increased to a Peace Footing of 580,000.

Paris, Oct. 21.—After a conference lasting many hours, the Budget Committee reluctantly decided to-day to grant the demand of General Billott, Minister of War, for an addition of 8500 men to the army, increasing the peace footing of that branch of the service to 560,000 men.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. EDITORIAL NOTES.

IF wheat keeps on rising a bushel will soon be worth two American silver dollars or one Canadian dollar.

THE only man that can "fill a drunkard's grave" without moral deterioration and certainly of some other -ation, is a sexton.

THE EXAMINER received a communication this morning pointing out that it had missed an opportunity of crediting the Liberal Government with the rise in wheat. The Liberal party has sufficient intrinsic merit to commend itself to public approval without resorting to humbugging methods implied in ascribing to a government a credit that belongs to the operations of nature and the trend of commerce.

JUDGED by South Essex, the stock of the Hardy Government sympathised with the jump in wheat. Considering the present shortage of Conservative Governments in Canada, we might have expected an opposite result. But values are set according to the law of demand—and there is no demand at present for Conservative Governments. The people have had enough of them for many a long day to come.

LAND irrigation as a means of disposing of sewerage is said to be growing in favour in Germany. The sewage farms of Berlin, whose population is 1,666,000, have an area of 28,880 acres; Breslau, with 350,000 inhabitants, has 3,427 acres; and smaller towns are rapidly adopting the system. It does not appear that health is affected, while the cost is less than that of the chemical treatment as practised elsewhere.

CONSERVATIVE newspapers condemn the Government for its dismissal of offensive partizans and call attention, as an inconsistency the alleged activity of Ontario Government officials in election contests. As it happens the Dominion Government has no authority over local government officials. A government that has to take charge of the affairs of the Dominion after they have been mismanaged by Conservatives for nearly a score of years has its work cut out and can't give much time to meddling with the business of other governments.

A JAPANESE paper gives an interesting account of railway development in Japan, from 423 miles in 1886 to 2,343 miles at the close of 1895. The first railway in Japan was constructed between Tokio and Yokohama, the distance being 18 miles only. There are, besides, about 2,000 miles of railways which are now in course of construction and 2,000 miles under survey—a total of more than 6,000 miles altogether. Considering the various circumstances, relating to railway construction, such as the limited number of workmen, the difficulty of arranging material, etc., it may be estimated that only four or five hundred miles of railways per year can be constructed, and it will take nearly ten years to complete them all.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. K. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

CANADIAN LUMBER AND TIMBER.

Monetary Times.

The trade in sawn lumber with the United States is undeniably flat, and there is every likelihood that it will continue so until after the presidential election in November. Some shipments from Georgian Bay points to Oswego and Albany have been made this month, but there is no life in the American building trade, and dealers in that country are holding off till November. The English demand, on the other hand, is satisfactory, both deals and thin lumber, and to a moderate degree timber, being readily marketable there. According to Farnworth & Jardine, dating Oct. 1st, deliveries have been fairly satisfactory during September. Canadian waney pine of first class quality maintains its value, and is in fair demand. As to Quebec pine deals, although the import into the United Kingdom has been heavy, deliveries have continued on a steady and moderate scale, and shippers are holding for higher values, by reason, probably of the advance in ocean freights.

Spruce deals from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have gone into the British market very freely for the last month or two, the import of them having been 6,013,000 pieces for September, as compared with an average of 3,600,000 in the corresponding month of two preceding years. But they are announced to be steady in price. The tonnage of wood carriers from St. John, N.B., to Britain, for eight months ending with September, was, we observe, 55,397 tons this year, as compared with an average of 33,500 in same period of 1895 and 1894, while from other lower Maritime Province ports it was 93,776 as compared with 60,500 tons. From Quebec, on the other hand, there is a decline in wood-carrying tonnage from 71,000 to 66,000 tons.

With regard to woods other than pine, the Liverpool advices say that the supply of oak is excessive, of elm also excessive, although the demand has been rather brisk, while ash has been in fair request at unchanged prices. Birch has been coming forward freely, both in logs and in planks, but the stock is too heavy.

BUSINESS KEEPS MOVING.

The Bank Returns for September Give No Sign of Deterioration—A Steady Movement.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—If there is nothing startling in the bank returns for September, it is quite certain there is no sign of deterioration. Business seems to have kept a steady movement, and in the aggregate cannot be said to differ greatly from the returns of the same month a year ago. The chief items are as follows: The reduction by the Ontario Bank from one and one-half millions to one million disturbs the capital item throughout. Commercial Bank of Windsor shows an increase in capital paid up of $4260, and Molsons Bank added $25,000 to reserve fund. Bank notes in circulation augmented $1,143,022, which is a smaller increase than was expected, and they fall a little short of the amount on Sept. 30 a year ago. Deposits of the public increased during the month $547,181, and during the year $4,854,062. Total liabilities stand at $234,819,603, an increase of $418,499.

Specie and Dominion notes show a reduction since the August statement of $494,804, as do also notes and cheques on other banks to the extent of $306,845. Balances due from banks in the United States amount to $16,045,600, an increase of $746,147. Balances from banks in the United Kingdom stand at $9,881,792, a decrease of $865,608 during the month.

A slight reduction is shown in municipal and foreign securities, but an increase in railway securities.

Call loans, now $13,577,151, increased $358,598; current loans have reached $209,969,682, an increase during the month of $2,848,728, and during the year of $12,230,348. Overdue debts increased $95,172 during the month, but show a reduction for the year of $781,904.

The total assets amount to $324,264,175, an increase of $1,528,712. Directors' liabilities are $7,210,154, an increase during the month of $103,441. The greatest amount of bank notes in circulation at any time during the month of September was $33,268,021, an increase over August of $1,367,617, and over that of the same month in 1895 of $114,846.

RAILWAY CIRCLES AGITATED.

A Report in Montreal That the Central Vermont is Likely to Drop Into the Hands of the New York Central.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The railway world is moved over the report that the Central Vermont is about to change hands. It will be remembered that at the last annual meeting of the Boston and Maine, held in Boston, it was announced that their road would soon possess an independent entry to the city of Montreal, and it is stated here to-day that a long stride will be taken in the near future towards bringing this about. As is well known, Dr. Seward Webb of the New York Central system is a very heavy creditor of the Central Vermont. In fact a great deal of the present rolling stock of that company belongs to the American railway magnate just mentioned, and the question is whether the Boston and Maine, or Dr. Webb, will get control of the Central Vermont. There is now a pooling arrangement between the two companies by which the Boston and Maine gets the territory east and north of Boston, while the New York Central and their allies secure everything south of New Haven. It is thought by some that the Central Vermont is quite ripe enough to fall into Dr. Webb's basket and that the latter will transfer the same to the Boston and Maine. It is the understanding that if the Boston and Maine gets a hold upon the Central Vermont they will also secure the old Southeastern between St. John's and St. Lambert, or go to Longueuil, where, on the completion of the projected bridge, they could obtain an entry to Montreal independent either of the Canadian Pacific or Grand Trunk.

Human life is held to cheaply when the individual who needs a tonic for his system, seeks to cover his wants by purchasing every new mixture that is recommended to him. Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-earned reputation of fifty years standing.

A KICK FROM MR. POPE.

Blames The Belleville Intelligencer for Announcing His Dismissal—Other News From Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A Belleville paper has placed Mr. George H. Pope, one of the Dominion Government cattle inspectors at this port, in a very awkward position. It was settled that the new Government would retain the services of Messrs. Pope and Morgan, as they have given every satisfaction to the trade, yet, to Mr. Pope's disgust, The Intelligencer announces his dismissal and roundly denounces Hon. Mr. Fisher. As soon as he saw the article Mr. Pope wired the following to the Belleville paper in question:

"What do you mean by stating that I am dismissed as inspector and by writing such a scathing article against Mr. Fisher, who is not the head of my department? You must retract and put this right at once. I am not dismissed, neither have I been disturbed. (Signed) George H. Pope."

To-day being the anniversary of the death of Nelson, some admirers of the hero of Trafalgar decorated the monument on Jacques Cartier-square, and while Le Monde (Con.) commends the act and says all French-Canadians will join in this grateful tribute to a brave man, La Patrie (Lib.) says the movement is "offensive to us," and adds that it is irony to place a French flag on the Nelson column. The decorators had placed the Union Jack and Tricolor side by side.

On Nov. 2 the Banque du Peuple will pay its second instalment to depositors. The sum of $1,000,000 is due, but half of this has already been paid.

No Change in the Grain Standards This Year.

THE BOARD MEETING AT WINNIPEG

An Urgent Resolution Was Passed Against the Proposed Changes, and on Sir Henri Joly Being Notified He Met the Wishes of the Farmers of the West.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The board to fix grain standards convened at Winnipeg this morning, the millers, dealers and farmers all being fully represented. The Board at once considered the proposed changes in the wheat classifications. A letter was read from the Ottawa authorities stating that changes were proposed on the representations of the Liberal members of Parliament from Manitoba, which represents ions had led the Government to suppose the changes would benefit the farmers of the country.

By an almost unanimous vote the following resolution was adopted by the Board, both the mover and seconder being farmer representatives: "Resolved that the Standards Board recommend the Government not to put into force the proposed changes of classification, and that the department instruct all inspectors to permanently exclude scoured wheat from the grades of No. 1 and No 2 hard and No. 1 Northern."

This resolution was promptly wired to the Government, and the Board proceeded to examine samples and fix standards.

GOVERNMENT CONCEDES.

On Representations From Winnipeg the Changes Will Not Go.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Sir Henry Joly received a telegram from Winnipeg to-day stating that at the meeting of the Western Board for the selection of grain standards, numbering 18 members, the farming delegation on the Board had decided in favor of the old classification for No. 1 hard. Out of the nine farmers on the Board, seven were in favor of the continuance of the old classification, for this year's crop at any rate. The definition of No. 1 hard under the law as it existed was two-thirds hard red fife, with a minimum weight of 60 pounds to the bushel, and the change which would have gone into effect after four issues in the Canada Gazette, would make No. 1 hard to consist of three-fourths hard red fife and a minimum weight of 61 pounds to the bushel. It was chiefly through the influence of the two Liberal members, Mr. Richardson and Mr. Macdonell, coupled with a communication from the Central Farmers' Institute, that the Controller was induced to make the change, but it now appears as if these representations did not properly gauge the feeling of the farming community in Manitoba. It is understood that the publication in the Canada Gazette of the proposed new classification will be immediately stopped, thereby leaving matters as they stood.

NO WHEAT CORNER.

President Hill of the Great Northern Railway Denies That He and Pillsbury are in a Deal.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—A special from St. Paul, Minn., says: "The attention of James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railway, was called to a sensational story printed in a New York paper yesterday, to the effect that he, Charles A. Pillsbury, and other men of wealth had entered into a gigantic combination to corner wheat. Mr. Hill characterized the story as wholly absurd. He said reports from the various stations along the Great Northern road indicated that there was far less wheat in the elevators than at any time for the last three years, and that he had no doubt that the grain was moving to market with unusual speed, owing to the great rise in the price of wheat since last Friday. Grain was even moving in large quantities from as far west as Idaho and Washington, some of it going directly to Portland, thence to be shipped to India. Mr. Hill rejects the idea that there is any politics in the rise in the price of wheat. Both Mr. Washburne and Mr. Pillsbury last evening denied that they had any interest whatever in a wheat corner."

THE SUPREME COURT.

Niagara Fruit Growers Co. Against Walker et al Argued But Not Finished.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—In the Supreme Court to-day argument was taken up in the case of the Niagara District Fruit-Growers' Co. v. Walker, et al. The action was against the defendants as sureties of the company's local agent at London, for faithful service. The surety bond was renewed every year from 1891, and at the end of each year the account of the agent was settled and the bond given up. The agent each year was behind, and settled by paying part and giving an endorsed note for the balance. In 1894 no settlement was made, and the action was brought, resulting in a verdict for the company of $1774. This verdict was set aside by the Court of Appeal, on the ground that the sureties were discharged by failure of the company to notify them of the default in previous years, which the Court of Appeal held was a fraudulent concealment by the company. The argument was not concluded to-day. Moss, Q.C., and Meyer for appellant; Armour, Q.C., for respondent. The next case is Kingston v. Drennan.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

WILL THEY RAISE RATES?

London Newspapers Agree in Saying That the Flow of Gold to the States Must be Stopped.

London, Oct. 21.—There is a general belief here that the treasurers of the Bank of England, at their regular weekly meeting to-morrow, will raise the discount rate from 3 to 4 per cent. The newspapers agree in stating that the flow of gold to America must be stopped.

The St. James' Gazette says: "According to exchange experts, even the present rate does not allow a margin of profit to shippers, so that a premium on gold is evidently paid in New York by those who are so nervous in regard to the political situation as to insist upon hoarding gold. This is a striking comment on the sureness of the Republicans anent the defeat of Bryan; it is also obvious that the very rapid advance in wheat adds considerably to the power of the Americans to draw on the European gold supply, and unless the directors of the bank are prepared to allow the reserve to suffer a further large diminution a rise in the rate to-morrow may be counted upon as certain. So far as we can judge, however, the amount of the reserve to-morrow will be £25,500,000, and when we deduct the sum of £10,000,000, which has to be set aside against the Japanese balance, the total is none too large, considering the autumn withdrawals to Scotland. Just as a beginning the Stock Exchange was fully prepared for a rise in the bank rate last week, so there will be no sudden collapse in prices."

The Globe remarks: "Whether the wheat advance proceeds from the firm manipulations of millionaire Republicans or from natural causes, the event cuts the ground from under Bryan's feet."

B. S. A. Company's Shares Placed.

London, Oct. 21.—A report was in circulation on the Stock Exchange to-day that the Chartered British South African Company had placed 250,000 shares of its stock with a syndicate at £3 per share, the company having the option of placing an equal amount of stock in 1897 at £3 15s per share.

HE IS A CANADIAN.

Rev. John D. Morrison, D.D., LL.D., a Graduate of McGill University, Elected Bishop of Duluth.

New York, Oct. 21.—In the House of Bishops to-day John D. Morrison, D.D., LL.D., Archdeacon of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and rector of St. John's Church in that city, was elected Bishop of Duluth. Dr. Morrison was born in Canada 56 years ago, and was graduated from McGill University. He received his degree of D.D. from Union College in this State. His first charge in this country after coming from Canada was rector of Christ's Church in Herkimer, N.Y., and he remained there about six years, when he went to Ogdensburg, where he has been ever since.

TRAFALGAR ANNIVERSARY.

The Nelson Monument in Trafalgar-Square, London, Profusely Decorated.

London, Oct. 21.—The Nelson column in Trafalgar-square was almost completely covered this morning with floral anchors, wreaths, etc., which were more numerous to-day than upon any previous anniversay of the battle of Trafalgar. Some of the floral offerings were the gifts of officers and men attached to several British war ships and the various branches of the Navy League, all of whom are descendants of those who took part in the battle of Trafalgar. Thousands of people surrounded the monument throughout the day, and admired its decorations.

Canada sent two wreaths to be deposited at the foot of the Nelson column. One came from the Toronto branch of the Navy League, and the other from Victory Lodge of the Sons of England Benefit Society of Ontario, who state in a letter which accompanied the wreath: "We take a deep, loving interest in the past history and present doings of old England."

An Aged Bridal Couple.

The Belleville Sun says: Love like death comes to old as well as young, and this fact was exemplified last night when Thos. Jones was married to Mrs. Van. The groom is verging on 80 years of age and the bride well on to 70. The groom is well known in the city, and has for many years been a straw vendor and maple tree merchant. Nearly all the maples planted during the last thirty years along the streets of the city were supplied by him. A large number of young folks assembled at his home on Elmer street last night and gave the newly married couple a rather noisy but good-natured reception.

SETTLING DISPUTES

As to the Registration of Electric Light Meters.

While here testing additional electric light meters for the Light, and Power Company, Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Belleville, divisional inspector for electric light, had submitted to him those meters which had been in use since March last. One, he says, was in a large mercantile establishment, the manager declared that the meter was going at too fast a gait and demanded its being re-tested. The Act of Parliament provides that when a dispute of this kind arises the two parties interested may be present to witness the test, and that if the meter after being tested is found correct, the person requiring the inspection shall pay the inspector's fees, but if erring the Light and Power Co. must pay them. After the meter in question had been tested it was found to be one per cent. slow or in favour of the party making the complaint.

The other two meters were ones which the company required to be re-inspected, for while the customers were burning about ten lights each, their meters did not register any electricity passing through them. After the seals had been broken by the Inspector and the Company's electrician had an opportunity to examine them it was found that part of the delicate machinery had been injured by lightning. The supposition is that in one of the heavy electrical storms of the summer—probably in that one in which over $250 of damage was done to the company's street lamps—a little of "heaven's artillery" had played for the hundredth part of a second, more or less, with these meters and destroyed or impaired their usefulness.

The Light and Power Company will now have two hundred electric light meters in use with the prospect of fifty more being needed before the new year.

SENT BACK TO LINDSAY.

Peterborough Didn't Wish to Support Them For the Winter.

The police have just succeeded in ridding the town of a family, the members of which would have proved themselves very undesirable residents.

They came from Lindsay and bore the name of ——. Taking up their residence together with a couple of other families in a little house on Cross street, they soon made their presence felt and complaints were sent in to police headquarters.

There were five children and, as it was expressively put by the agent of the C. A. S., the youngsters did not have enough clothes amongst them for gun wadding. So far was the family reduced that the children actually had to remain in the house on account of lack of clothing.

Word was received from Lindsay that the family bore a somewhat tarnished reputation and as it was thought that they would be a burden on the Charity Committee during the winter, it was hinted that unless the town was rid of their presence within 24 hours the entire lot would be sent up to the Central Prison. Needless to say that, although the head of the family urged illness as an excuse for not working, yet surprising alacrity was exhibited in the speed with which the family made themselves scarce.

IN DECIDED DEMAND.

Rev. J. J. Rae's Three Calls to Important Pastorates.

Rev. J. J. Rae is certainly not in a position to complain that his services as a pastor and preacher are not appreciated. He has three good arrows in his quiver—an embarasse des richesses in respect of calls to pastorates. He has an unanimous call from the Quarterly Board of the Charlotte street Methodist church to another year's pastorate of that church. And he has received notification also of calls from the Quarterly Board of the Tabernacle, Belleville, and of the Methodist church, Bowmanville, to become their pastor. Mr. Rae and the Stationing Committee will have some difficulty in deciding as to how his services shall be allocated. That Mr. Rae is in so great demand at the hands of such important charges is, it will be generally conceded, only a natural tribute to his unusual abilities as a pastor and preacher. As his retention in Peterborough would hardly be in consonance with the ecclesiastical polity of the Methodist church, it is probable that the struggle will be between Belleville and Bowmanville.

DROWNED IN GULL LAKE.

No Tidings of Two Men who Tried to Cross the Lake Last Week.

On Wednesday morning of last week two young men named Martin Groselle and Leslie Valentine, started to cross Gull Lake, about five miles from Minden, in a canoe, to work at some hay on the opposite side.

When they reached an island about the centre of the lake they were met by a man named Sheldon, who had just came across and he warned them not to go any farther, the water being so rough. They started, however, and have never been seen since.

On Friday their canoe was found on the shore, and on Saturday their hats and some food they had taken with them in a bag, also their paddles, were found.

A search party has been out ever since finding the articles mentioned, but as yet the bodies have not been recovered.

The Gull Lake waters are well known to Peterborough hunters, as parties go back every year to that vicinity after deer and other game.

TO RECEIVE MR. BLAIR.

Trenton Liberals Meet—Arrangements for the Reception of Hon. Mr. Blair.

Trenton, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Trenton Liberal Club met on Monday evening in the Aberdeen Motel to take into consideration matters in connection with the visit here this week of Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals. Mr. O. H. Bonter occupied the chair. The attendance was very fair, and the gathering was deeply interested, throughout the evening's proceedings, as the different matters were discussed. On motion of Messrs. A. Parent and G. Young the president, Dr. Moran, the vice-president, Mr. John Nicholson, and the secretary, Mr. S. J. Young, were added to the committee appointed by the citizens regarding the reception to be tendered to the honourable minister, the citizens' committee having been empowered to add to their numbers. A committee of Reformers was appointed to draft an address to be presented from the club to Mr. Blair while in town. Speeches were made during the evening by Messrs. O. H. Bonter, G. A. White, Dr. Moran, R. B. O'Flynn, R. Fraser, S. Solmes, A. Parent, George Young, J. B. Young, John Nicholson and others. The delegates to Ottawa, who were present, expressed themselves as greatly indebted to Mr. H. Corby, M.P., for West Hastings, for kindness extended to the delegation and the efforts put forth by him in the interests of Trenton. The delegates also stated that Mr. Blair had said that he would visit Trenton and the route of the Trent Valley Canal in a business way in order to obtain all the information he could with respect to the same, as owing to his short time in office, he was not versed with the facts in relation thereto. The most of the speakers expressed the belief that all interest and efforts should be consolidated for the welfare of the town in the matter.

WOLLASTON SENSATION.

McKenny a Terror—He Also Threatened to Shoot a Constable.

Belleville has a tough customer in the look-up. The Intelligencer says:—"Wm. McKenny, who is lying in gaol on a charge of pointing a revolver at a man named Linnel and his family, appears, from report, to be quite a terror in the section in which he lives, in the vicinity of Coe Hill. Linnel, we are informed, settled some years ago on a deserted claim, and on the 13th inst. McKenny and his wife, each with a revolver, went to Linnel's home to dispossess him. The revolvers, which the holders threatened to use, proved a potent argument, and Linnel and his family left the premises. Linnel went to Coe Hill and swore out a warrant for McKenny's arrest, and the paper was placed in the hands of Constable Wagar to execute. When the constable attempted to arrest McKenny the latter threatened to shoot, so we are informed, but finally gave up. McKenny served a term in gaol some time ago for stealing turkeys, and is looked upon by his neighbours as a bad man.

THE DOLLAR A BUSHEL MARK.

This Price Paid in Campbellford Market Yesterday.

One of our town merchants paid a visit to Campbellford yesterday and he states that wheat was sold at a dollar a bushel during the day. One farmer enquired of a buyer if the latter would give him (the farmer) a dollar a bushel for his wheat the next day and the reply was:—"If you bring a hundred bushels of your wheat, I will give you a hundred dollars for your load." Is this a bona fide price or the result of competition between local buyers.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

Organized Tuesday Evening in S. S. No. 1, Smith.

A meeting was held in S. S. No. 1, Smith, Tuesday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Literary Society, at which there was quite a large attendance. The chair was occupied by Mr. James Middleton, and after much discussion the following officers were elected:—

President—Mr. Geo. A. Reid.
Vice-President—Miss Lottie Middleton.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Wallace Patten.
Reporter—Mr. John Mahood.
Executive Committee—Messrs. Jas. A. Storey, Wm. Swinton, Robt. Elliott.
Programme Committee—Misses E. Patten, S. Young, L. Mahood and Messrs. Bert Tully, Jos Middleton, John Young and Herb. Middleton.

The first regular meeting will be held on Monday, Oct. 26th, to which all are invited and at which we expect to hear something of great importance.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John J. Meagher of Kalamazoo, Mich., is home on a visit.

Mr. Wm. Clancy of Norwood, was up for the horse races to-day.

The Port Hope Times says: Mr. Charles Hill is in Peterborough. His trotter, Statatum will race there to-morrow.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., is in Toronto to-day, on business connected with the Dominion Building and Loan Association.

Miss Lizzie Armstrong, of Hunter street, who is attending the Model School, Norwood, spent Sunday in town with her parents.

Mr. F. J. Jamieson was called to Brantford this morning, to attend a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Hon. Wm. Harty, Provincial Secretary, paid a visit to the Parliament buildings yesterday, and was warmly welcomed by his colleagues and the officials in his department. Although the hon. gentleman has greatly improved in health, which, unfortunately, gave way some time ago, he is not yet quite recovered, and will not assume charge of his duties for a couple of weeks or perhaps more.

AN OLD RELIC.

The Town Clerk Comes Across a Strange Document.

The other day as Town Clerk Armstrong was looking through the town "archives" he came across a document to which, as a relic, considerable value would doubtless be attached by a collector of curios. Here it is:—

YORK, 8th Oct., 1828.

Received from Messrs. Hall & Lee, of New York, eight hundred and thirty three pounds, six shillings and eight pence, currency, being the first instalment of the purchase money for the Government mills at Peterborough, sold to them the 10th of September last for five thousand five hundred pounds currency.

P. ROBINSON.

The document will explain itself to the older residents of the town, but to the rising generation it will doubtless be somewhat mystifying, and for their enlightment the EXAMINER can go into explanations, through the kindness of Mr. Armstrong, who is well versed in the early history of the county.

It seems that in 1826 Sir Peregrine Maitland, then Governor of Upper Canada, came to Peterborough, or Scott's Plains, as it was then known, and was waited on by a deputation from the "Smith colony." The deputation represented to the Governor the straits to which the colony was reduced on account of there being no mill in the district. The Governor promised speedy relief, and in the spring a dam was built across the river on the site of what is now known as Martin's dam, and during the following summer the grist and flour mill was erected, Mr. Horace Perry having the contract. On its completion the mill was sold to Messrs. John Hall and Moore Lee by the government and the receipt as will be seen is given for the first payment. It is signed by P. Robinson, being Hon Peter Robinson, brother of Sir John Beverly Robinson, at one time chief justice of Upper Canada. Hon Peter Robinson was greatly interested in the emigration question, and through his efforts Douro and Ennismore were settled and many of the descendants of those brought out from Ireland, through Mr. Robinson's interest, are still residing in those townships. In recognition of his efforts the village at Scott's Plain was named after him—"Peterborough."

The Mr. John Hall whose name is mentioned in the receipt, died August 13th, 1883, at Hall's Bridge, and was the father of Mr. John J. Hall, of the local Inland Revenue office.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Can you see the bottom of your coal bin?

—Mr. Gemmell is fitting up the premises at No. 208 Charlotte street as a corset factory.

—The Lindsay Post says,—Twenty-five healthy-looking girls from the Barnardo Home, Peterborough, passed through town this morning en route to homes provided for them in Western Ontario.

—A citizen on Argyle street complains to THE EXAMINER that there has been no sidewalk laid in the nine years during which the house at that number has been erected. He is anxious to know why this condition exists. Though the council has omitted to place the walk the collector has never omitted to demand—and get—the taxes.

—Korbett's big winery, a few miles from Guerlville, Santa Rosa, Cal., was badly damaged by fire recently. About 150,000 gallons of new wirn were turned loose. Water being scarce pumps were applied to the wine casks, the wine being thrown on the flames with good effect. The cellars, in which were 100,000 gallons of old wine were saved. The fire raged three hours.

PETERBOROUGH'S PRIME CHEESE

It Practicedly Leads the World in Quality and Price.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I happened to meet on the train recently the representative of a company doing a large business in the purchase and shipping of Canadian cheese, who gave me some information with regard to the standing of the Peterborough Cheese Board, which will, I think, be of interest to your readers, as it was to me. He stated that the Peterborough Cheese Board was the best in Ontario, that more buyers attended it, and that the competition was keener than at any other board, and that, in consequence, the prices usually ruled higher here than anywhere else. On my asking the reason, he stated that the factories represented at Peterborough uniformly produced the best cheese that is made in Canada, that is, the large majority of the factories did so, there being of course a few exceptions. In other places a few factories represented at the board made the highest standard of cheese, but the majority of them produced a somewhat inferior article. He said that this fact was already so well recognized in London and elsewhere in the old country that they could generally count on getting a shilling a hundred weight for Peterborough cheese, above that of other boards. This was due to the uniform excellence of the cheese produced by nearly all the Peterborough factories. He added that the Peterborough men seemed always anxious to adopt every means to secure the best results, that they were ready to pay for proper inspection of the milk, that they had just the right size of hoop that was required, and that they had taken pains to stamp out the practice of carrying whey in the same cans that carried the milk, and also that their Board was conducted in a business-like way. When he added that Canadian cheese had practically driven that of all other countries—even the United States—out of the competition, I felt that it was something for Peterborough to be proud of, that it should stand practically the first in the world as a cheese-producing centre. The reference of course is to the standard Cheddar cheese, and not to the so-called "fancy" grades.

In conversation to-day with a salesman of one of the factories, he said that there was still room for improvement in one direction at least, and that was in the matter of increased care on the part of the patrons while the milk was still in their hands, and he thought that factories which are still below the average should use every exertion to bring themselves up into line with the rest. He informed me that the quantity of cheese sold to-day by the Peterborough Board was 445,620 pounds, representing at the generally prevailing price which was paid Wednesday of 10 5-16c per pound, the sum of $45,954.00. The difference of a shilling a hundred weight on this quantity of cheese represents over $1,100 00, the Peterborough farmers getting the benefit in the generally better price paid for their cheese.

If the statement of these facts shall stimulate our Peterborough men to still further effects, I think you will not grudge me the space which I take in stating them.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

MARKET HALL ACCOMMODATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased, as no doubt many others are, to see your timely dealing with the question of better public market accommodation in last night's EXAMINER, especially so when our Town Council passed a by-law compelling sewer connections in certain parts of the town. "Consistency, thou art a jewel." Citizens and farmers coming to market find accommodation in nearly every other respect but the one mentioned.

Now, surely a public closet could be placed conveniently in the market at very little expense and thus fill a long felt want, and cause us who pay the whistler to pay much more willingly.

I hope you will still urge on the cause you so nobly took up in your last issue until we have our due and overdue rights, the same as other large towns and cities.

I am, yours truly,
TAXPAYER.

METHODIST WOMEN NOW IN SESSION.

W. M. S. BOARD OF MANAGERS' ANNUAL MEETING.

The Year's Record—Activity and Success in all Fields—Work of the Auxiliaries—Larger Amount Raised by Them Than Ever Before.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada, opened in Brampton Tuesday afternoon, and will continue until Thursday. The meeting was attended by delegates from all parts of the Dominion. Peterborough is represented by Mrs. Jas. Kendry.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The president of the society, Mrs. James Gooderham, in her annual address expressed her pleasure at the increased representation of the eastern provinces. She referred to the great field for women's work in the mission fields of the east. The membership of the church was largely composed of women, and there was great need for women workers in the field. The number was increasing, the proportion being now two-fifths, but she declared that the work of women was just beginning. Her address was full of inspiration to the members to perform their share of the work of evangelizing the world.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Thompson, showed the amounts contributed by the different branches to be as follows:—

London	$ 5,572
Hamilton	5,105
Toronto	5,100
Bay of Quinte	5,126
Montreal	4,626
Nova Scotia	4,062
N B and P E I	4,902
British Columbia	213
Manitoba and N W T	647

Auxiliaries outside of branches:

St John's, Nfld., Gower street	$ 87
St John's, West Newfoundland	142
Bonavista	27

Total raised by auxiliaries, $35,714.

This is $400 more than the auxiliaries raised last year.

The total amount raised from all sources was $38,847.

THE SOCIETY'S WORK.

The Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Strachan, read a report upon the progress of the work in the various mission fields. In Japan severe illness among the workers has cast a shadow over the missionary work. The increase of pupils in the three boarding houses and a number of conversions are thankfully referred to. The day school for very poor children in Azabar has been maintained throughout the year by the King's Daughters, but with diminished resources, and an appeal was made for assistance. Two orphanages in Tokio and Kanazawa sheltering 30 children have been in operation at a small expense and with good results. A new building has been completed at Shidzmoka, adding to the efficiency of the school. The industrial work in Kanazawa has made satisfactory progress. The evangelistic work has been carried on vigorously, and has resulted in the baptism of 35 woman during the year, and others are being instructed with this end in view.

The missionaries in West China have been permitted to return to their fields of labour, with brighter prospects than before the riots. Indemnity has been paid for material losses, and negotiations for the purchase of a very desirable property have been completed. Twenty little girls have been gathered into a school, and it is hoped that before long a boarding school may be established. One new worker has gone to the Chent-tu mission, but at least two more are required. At the Chinese Home, Victoria, B. C., two members have been married to Christian Chinamen. Improvement is noticed in the character and manner of the girls and also in the building and the grounds. At the Indian Girls' Home, Port Simpson, B. C., la grippe caused the death of two girls this spring. Two others have left leaving a membership of 23. An increased loudness for reading is observed. At the Chilliwhack Indian Institute 97 pupils have been enrolled, with an average attendance of 85. The results of the work have been highly satisfactory.

An increase is reported in the attendance at the French Institute at Montreal. After the close of the term several of the girls took charge of small schools in the country with good results. Good work was accomplished through the schools at St. Theodore and in the east and west ends of Montreal.

In summing up the record of the year gratification is expressed that there has been an increase in all the ranks of the home workers. The formation of the Manitoba conference branch completes the design outlined at the time of the organization that the society should divide into conference branches, a plan which had been found to work admirably. There are now nine branches in the Dominion and three auxiliaries in Newfoundland. In the 661 auxiliaries there are 13,865 members, which, with 780 life members, brings the total membership up to 14,649, an increase of 724. The mission circles and bands in general have continued most zealous and active, now numbering 186, with 6,759 members, but in some cities they have allowed themselves to be absorbed by a larger organization of the W.M.S. Hence there is a deficiency in some of the returns from the younger branches. The income for the past year, $38,747, appears to be a decrease, but the difference is largely due to the receipts from the bequest account, being $1,295 less than those of last year, and to the fact that the B. C. conference branch in changing the close of its year from September to May has sent the receipts of only six months, so that in reality the decrease is rather apparent than real. The amount raised by the auxiliaries is actually more than in previous years.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Kerr, the Recording Secretary, presented the report of the Executive Committee. The committee reported that the general society have now the management of the Coqualeitsa Indian Institute, the woman's society paying a per capita grant for girls. It had been proposed to the woman's society that they should assume the management of the institute and receive a grant per capita for the boys in the institute but it had been thought best to make no change. Miss Wickett, teacher in the Chinese home, has resigned her position and her resignation has been accepted, as she was found to be out of harmony with the doctrines of the Methodist church. Miss Kate Morgan has been appointed in her place. A request from the girls in the home to be allowed to wear European costumes was not allowed. A committee has been appointed to revise "Instructions to Missionaries" and "Questions to Missionary Applicants."

THE SECOND DAY

of the annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada was largely devoted to routine business, committee meetings, etc. At the morning's session the report of the Executive Committee was taken up clause by clause, and as the report was a somewhat lengthy document the greater part of the session was occupied in this way. Memorials were also read from the different branches and were referred to a committee. At the afternoon session the report from Japan was taken up and a number of communications in connection with the work there were read. Mrs. Large, one of the missionaries who is at present home on a furlough, wrote asking for definite action by the society in her case. She claimed that as she was not on furlough in the ordinary sense of the word she should receive full salary instead of the three-quarter allowance given to missionaries on furlough.

It was decided to send two additional missionaries to the Japan field and to undertake work at Fukin.

Mrs. Hugel, of Hamilton, conducted an earnest testimony meeting. At its conclusion Rev. Messrs. Lancely and Reddit administered the sacrament.

At the evening session Mr. Roby, the parent society's missionary at Kitimeat, addressed the meeting upon the work at that station, which receives a grant of $200 a year from the Woman's Society. Mr. Roby gave a feeling description of the sufferings of the girls among the Indians there, and dwelt upon the need of increased assistance at the mission. So hard is the lot of the women that even now infanticide is not uncommonly practised by mothers to save their girl babies from the miserable life they themselves lead. He mentioned a case which came under his personal observation. He found a little child ill in a house and went to to the mission to obtain some simple remedy to relieve it, but on his return found the mother strangling the child. The lives of the women he described as being terrible; they have no true enjoyment in this life and no hope of the life to come. In villages where there are missions the state of affairs is better, but there is still much room for improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Roby have been caring for from 25 to 30 children during a part of the year in a temporary home, and had saved a number of them from death from neglect. He gave an interesting account of the work carried on by himself and Mrs. Roby.

The report of the Port Simpson Hospital showed that a good work is being accomplished there. Hospital accommodation was particularly useful there, as the homes of the patients are very often insanitary. The Indians were particularly benefitted in this way, and in addition to this their spiritual needs were ministered to during their stay in the hospital.

Mrs. Carman introduced the report of the committee appointed to revise the instructions to missionaries, which was adopted with a few trifling amendments.

OUR GIRLS AND BOYS.

Thoughts Suggested on Reading the Fortnightly Club Discussion.

Gather them in from the East and West,
Gather them in to the safe home's nest,
Shelter them there from the world's decoys,
Our womanly girls and our manly boys.

Sin is lurking and leering around,
Now a girl or boy he has found,
And holding them fast in his iron grasp,
That pitying mother-love never'll unclasp.

"Virtue," on your banner to the world unfurl,
"Raise high your standard," lovely girl,
And trample bold Satan under your feet
And keep your brothers from the street.

Patiently, tenderly, gather them in
From the downward broadway of sorrow and sin,
Away from the snares at every turn—
Oh! for your souls we lovingly yearn.

—I WITNESS.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eyes.

The new winter time table has gone into effect on the C. P. R.

Conductor J. S. Jobbitt is at present in charge of the Port Hope train, relieving Conductor Britton, who is taking a short and well-earned holiday.

Canadian Pacific engineers and trainmen employed on freight service will receive compensation for time lost in connection with the recent telegraphers' strike.

The Grand Trunk station at Kinmount has just been overhauled by Foreman Carpenter Cairns and men, and has been greatly improved. It is now being repainted.

The C. P. R. is having a large number of new box cars built for the Northwest grain traffic, and twenty have just been put into service. They are 33 feet long and carry 60,000 pounds.

The men running out of Lindsay are all of the opinion that there is need for a great deal of ballasting work on this division next summer, some portions of the road not having received any gravel for years.

Freight traffic on the Midland continues brisk, and unless it diminishes somewhat several fresh crews will have to be put on. The movement of grain from Midland and the west is still very large, and promises to continue for some weeks yet to come.

LOVE OF THE BASER KIND.

Two Foolish Persons Forsake Their Homes.

In a certain part of Belmont township, near the Seymour boundary line, the principal gossip just now, is the elopement of two individuals who until recently behaved themselves moderately well.

Some weeks ago a married man whose business was to draw milk, had occasion to make daily visits to the home of another married man, and from the acquaintance he formed with the latter's wife, a little affection sprang up between them which developed into riper love very different from what the poet describes as "The fire of love in youthful blood, like what is kindled in brushwood, but for a moment burns." This love increased, and continued to burn and intensify until the two hearts beat as one once more, and they determined "to flee where no man pursueth." The man made a sale of all his effects, telling his wife he had secured a job in an eastern town. Afterwards he went to Campbellford and purchased a quantity of clothes without paying for them, returned for his new companion, and together they took their departure for other scenes—it is said in the United States. If rumour is true, the husband of the eloping woman heard of her intention of leaving, and after depriving her of her valuables, told her to go. Both of the erring ones, we believe, leave children behind.—Ontario.

Grafton & Co.
CLOTHING MANUFACTURERS

LAKEFIELD.

From our own Correspondent.

Mrs. Solomon Cox, has returned from Detroit, where she has been visiting her father and sister.

Miss Minnie Finney is visiting friends.

Capt. Halifax and family have returned home from England.

Rev. G. Warren preached in the Orange Hall at Hall's Glen on Sunday evening, Rev. A. W. McKenzie taking his place here. Special reference was made at the morning service by Mr. Warren to the Archbishop of Canterbury's death.

Mrs. A. W. McKenzie has returned from her holiday trip

Messrs. A. D. Russell and Dr. Rose of Peterborough came up on their wheels on Thursday evening last and paid a fraternal visit to the Court Lakefield.

A petition has been in circulation asking the Reeve to call a public meeting of the citizens to discuss the matter of a high level or a swing bridge over the canal, and if possible to have the matter laid before the Minister of Railways and Canals while on his visit here. The Reeve has accordingly issued his proclamation calling a meeting to be held in the town hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when all interested are requested to attend and give their views on the matter to the meeting.

R. Graham & Son are showing a fine assortment of ladies jackets and capes of the latest and newest designs, also mantle cloths, golf cloths, Elder Down cloths for children, ulsterings, etc., etc., in great variety. Have you seen their eight-cent line of flannelette, the best value in the trade. Well worth 10 cents.

The road race of the cyclists attracted considerable attention here. Queen street was lined with people during the time the wheelmen came up and turned around the barrel near the post office, Several made rather a sharp turn there and had an upset. There were thirty three came here in the race. W. Wilson, one of our Lakefield men, took fifth place.

The steamer Golden City has been pulled up out of the water and is now on the stocks, so that it may be thoroughly overhauled and put in good order next season's trade.

Messrs. Grylls & White are busy hauling up the steamer Sunbeam at Hague's Point. They intend cutting it down, making it narrower, and changing to a propeller, instead of a sidewheeler.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society will be held in the town hall on Monday evening. Rev. R. D. Fraser, of Bowmanville, will be the principal speaker.

The steam drill has been placed in the cut here and blasting operations will shortly commence.

A grand Hallowe'en concert will be held in the town hall Saturday evening, Oct. 31st, under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland. They have secured the services of the Belle Rose Emslie Concert Company, who will give a rare treat in literary and vocal and instrumental music. The rendering of "Saunders McGlaskan's Courtship" by Miss Emslie is said to be unsurpassed, and the "March of the Cameron Men" by Mr. Chas. Kelly, basso soloist of Dominion Square Methodist church, Montreal, should be heard by all. Keep it in mind.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. A. Gilmour has disposed of his farm in Galway to Mr. J. Gilmour, and purchased the Oglestone property in the township of Sommerville, and will farm to better advantage as he already occupies the farm adjoining the one he bought. Mr. Gilmour is making preparations to remove to the county of Victoria, although it is only a distance of one mile from where he now resides.

A farmer from the township of Reach has purchased a number of young cattle here for the purpose of feeding on his farm. He intends to drive them there this week.

Mrs. J. Reid, who was in Toronto under the physicians care, has returned home completely restored to her former health.

A constable of Harvey has made a few visits to some of the friends here, but judging from the length of time he remains he is not a very welcome visitor. He was seen around here last Monday.

Snow fell here to a depth of three inches last Saturday night.

AN ANCIENT COSMETIC.

The Cool and Healing Cucumber Used as a Beautifier.

The coolness of the cucumber has been ascertained to be a scientific fact. It is always considerably cooler than the surrounding atmosphere. It has also long possessed some reputation as a cosmetic in the old meaning of the word, a "healer" of the complexion, not a "beautifier." The cream of cucumbers is prepared from the pulp of peeled cucumbers, with a mixture of almond oil and other ingredients. Purchase from a trustworthy druggist four ounces of almond oil, add a quarter of an ounce each of white wax and of spermaceti. Put these ingredients in a jar, and set the jar in a saucepan with warm water reaching up to within two inches of the rim. Let the water boil. A marmalade jar is just about the right size to use. When the wax and spermaceti are melted into the oil add five tablespoonfuls of the thick juice of a large, nearly ripened cucumber. Obtain the juice by pressing the pulp on a fine hair sieve. Color the cream with a few drops of spinach green. Use enough to give a very delicate tint of green. Pour it to harden into several small jars. It is an excellent cure for sunburn and is very healing and soothing to the skin.

Wash the skin at night thoroughly with warm water before applying the cream. Dry off all the moisture a soft damask towel will absorb and rub the cream of cucumbers gently into the skin. In the morning wash it off with warm water and tone the skin with a bath of cold water to make the tissues firm.

Golfing Gown.

The golfing gown of brown cheviot is most admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is intended. The skirt, which reaches to the ankles, is of a most convenient length, and is only about four yards round, so that it is not cumbersome or likely to get in the way of the player. It is trimmed around the bottom with perpendicular rows of white cloth, held by smoked pearl buttons. The blouse waist opens with broad white revers over a scarlet jersey front and in the back is high and finished with rolling collar, which flares away from the high collar of the jersey. The shoulder seams are finished with straps of white cloth, like those on the skirt. The straw hat is of red, rough straw, with a band of red ribbon, with upstanding loops on the side.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills.
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Signed, GEO. N. GRAHAM.

BARON WISSMANN RETIRES.

Gives Up the Governorship of East Africa Because of Ill-Health—German Colonial Council.

London, Oct. 20.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times telegraphs that Baron Von Wissmann resigns the Government of East Africa on account of ill health, and will probably be provided with a post at home.

At the autumn sessions of the Colonial Council to-day, Dr. Kayser, Chief of the German Colonial Department, delivered his farewell address. He denied that he had resigned on account of the ceaseless attacks of the Peters' party, but, he said, it was an open question whether the colonial policy would ever bring advantage or blessings to Germany. "Dr. Peters was incensed at being passed oven in favor of Baron Von Wissmann for the Governorship of East Africa," said Dr. Kayser. "Herr Arendt visited me on the evening of Baron Von Wissmann's appointment, and made a veiled threat of persecution unless Dr. Carl Peters was appointed." Dr. Kayser predicted that revelations would soon be made which would clear the atmosphere of the scandal and intrigue in German colonial affairs. He hoped that eventually the colonies would be self-supporting and would justify the dreams of the colonial enthusiasts.

A despatch to The Morning Post from Berlin says that there are rumors of another change in the Colonial Administration involving an increase of 5,000,000 marks in the Imperial subsidy.

WOULD RESULT IN WAR.

Rosebery Agrees With Salisbury in His Turkish Policy and Believes War Would Follow Isolated Action.

London, Oct. 20.—Lord Rosebery, speaking at a non-partisan banquet at Colchester to-day, said that he fully agreed with Lord Salisbury in the Premier's Turkish policy. Lord Rosebery said that he had a strong conviction, which no amount of rhetoric would destroy, that isolated interference in Turkey on the part of Great Britain would result in a great European war.

THE TRIPLE FUNERAL

Of the Dead Firemen at Montreal—Great Sympathy of the Public.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The funeral of the three firemen, King, Laporte and Carpenter, who were killed at the St. Peter-street fire, took place to-day at Notre Dame Church, and was largely attended. Twenty thousand people thronged the church and thirty thousand lined the streets. About six thousand have already contributed from different sources in aid of the widows and families.

TICKET AGENT FIRED OUT.

An Exciting Eviction at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal Yesterday.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Much excitement was caused at the Windsor Hotel to-night by the eviction from the hotel of Mr. John McConniff, the well-known ticket agent. Some months ago Mr. McConniff was requested by the hotel company to vacate, but he declined, and fought the case in the courts. A few days ago judgment was given against him, and to-night he was evicted by bailiffs. The C.P.R. had a ticket office placed in another part of the hotel, and to-day's action leaves the G.T.R. without any ticket facilities in the hotel. The G.T.R. is expected to take some action in the matter.

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Discussed by the Federation of Labor Executive at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—The Executive Council of the Federation of Labor to-day discussed the eight-hour amendment to the federal law. The eight-hour law is a dead letter in the Government service and the Federation hopes to have a new and effective one enacted. The council also discussed the eight-hour law in general. Some of the members do not favor going to the Legislature to ask for such a law, as they think it is far better and easier for organizations themselves to bring about such changes in this direction as they are able in the various localities.

Mrs. Kerstinger Shot and Killed by the First While She Was the Wife of the Third.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—Wm. Huttinger, a pedlar, last night shot and killed Mrs. Mary Kerstinger and then shot and killed himself. Fourteen years ago the two were married and lived together but a short time when the woman got a divorce. She had been married twice since then.

Spanish Reinforcements for Cuba.

Madrid, Oct. 20.—The shipment of 25,000 reinforcements to Cuba will begin early in November. A despatch from Havana to The Imparcial says that in the recent fighting in Pinar del Rio Province, Maceo lost a number of officers, including his chief supporters. His men, the despatch says, are now split up and wandering about the country without camps and without food.

The Baptists and Turkey.

London, Oct. 19.—Mr. John Carvell Williams, M.P., a day or two ago forwarded to Lord Salisbury a resolution adopted by the Baptists of Great Britain expressing regret at the inaction of the Powers, and hope that the Government will speedily and fully explain their position in regard to Turkey.

TEN LIVES LOST.

Steamer Arago Ran Ashore in a Fog and Three Passengers and Seven of the Crew Were Drowned.

Empire City, Oregon, Oct. 20.—During the prevalence of a dense fog this morning the steamer Arago, commanded by Capt. Reed, ran ashore on the North Spit entrance to Coo's Bay harbor on the southern Oregon coast, and is a total wreck. Among the lost, so far as ascertained, are the following passengers: E. H. McGraw of Coquelle City, John Norman of Marshfield, Richard Walters of Oakland.

Of the ship's crew the following are missing: M. P. Whipple of San Francisco, fireman; Eric Wall of San Francisco, fireman; Richard Patterson of San Francisco, steward; E. Fernandez, chief cook; Chief Engineer W. K. Brown, G. E. Kraiger, sailor; Harry Sanders, sailor. The survivors were brought to Empire City on the tugboat Columbia. None of the bodies of the lost have been recovered.

The Arago sailed from San Francisco on the 17th inst. for Coo's Bay. She arrived yesterday, discharged her cargo and sailed for San Francisco this morning, heavily laden and with a number of cabin and steerage passengers.

The ill-fated vessel was owned by the Oregon Improvement Company of this city.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

REVIVING AN OLD FEATURE.

Fashion Says Wear the Sash--Old Roman Sashes Fashionable.

The revival of the sash will be a feature of the fall fashions. The sash will be worn not only with evening gowns, but street costumes. The sash worn with street or reception costumes is always very broad in front. It has much the same effect of a wide crush belt. For street costumes the newest sash is of black satin, about eight inches wide. It looks much like a corselet. In front it fastens with two small bows. In the back it fits the figure, and is trimmed with two rows of buttons, which give it the appearance of fastening by means of the buttons. Below the waist line the sash ends fall down over the skirt. This corselet sash is high in favor with French couturieres, who are using it on many of their smartest fall toilettes.

The coming season will find the fashionable girl as intent on making a collection of sashes as she was last year of stocks and collars. To be strictly up-to-dare, she must have a sash for every gown, with the exception of her tailor-made costumes. Not that she need always wear a sash, but merely that she will have one to wear when her fancy dictates. Her collection will not be considered complete unless she has at least three velvet sashes—one in black, one in some dark shade to match a certain frock and another in a delicate tint to wear with an evening gown.

Then she should have three or four changeable glace sashes, a sash or two to be worn in empire fashion, with her tea gown, a tulle sash and two or three of the new moire antique ribbon, to say nothing of a Roman sash, should she be fortunate to have inherited one from her great-grandmother. The Roman sashes are considered desirable only according to their age. No fashionable girl will buy a Roman sash this season. It is only as heirlooms that they are prized. And when the unfortunate father of the up-to date girl receives a bill for his daughter's sashes, those girlish ribbons which he thoughtlessly so much admired because of their sweet simplicity, he is apt to receive a shock not easily forgotten.

Farm Notes.

We believe that Eastern farmers, even at present low prices, can afford to grow more corn than they do. It is a crop whose every part gives a good profit. The fodder of corn on which grain has grown is richer than is fodder that has grown too close to the ear. The nutrition is in proportion generally to the sweetness of the stalks, though there is more of the nitrogenous part of the ration in the leaves, which are always stripped from the stalks before the latter are crushed to make corn cane syrup and sugar.

It is not always the largest clover that makes the best seed crop. On the contrary, it is the belief of most farmers that a moderate growth of leaf and stalk produces the best seed. Large clover indicates an excess of nitrogenous plant food, and a proportionate deficiency of mineral fertility. All kinds of seeds require mineral manures to make them produce the largest crop. Clover is no exception to this rule. Applications of phosphate of lime and potash will give the clover the material to produce seed. The clover plant has the power of using nitrogen in the air in the soil, and if the farmer gives it the mineral manure it needs it will do the rest.

Fall Management of Ducks.

The duck begins to lay early, sometimes as soon as January, and frequently lays more eggs than the hen, but she loses no time and does her work in a hurry. It is seldom that ducks are laying after warm weather sets in, but most persons feed them the same as usual, making no distinction between those that are producing and those that have only to maintain themselves. It is not necessary to feed ducks at all after they cease laying, if they can be turned upon a grass plot. If confined feed them as much finely-cut clover or clover hay, scalded, in the morning, as they will eat, with cooked potatoes or turnips at night, adding an ounce of ground meat for each duck. This will prevent them from becoming too fat. If the weather is cold they may be given a light meal at noon, consisting of cornmeal and bran, scalded. Ducks are voracious, and will eat all the time, but there is no reason for gratifying them. Keep the floors of their house well littered with straw as they will not thrive if compelled to sleep in damp quarters.

The Sheep Fold.

During the severest time of the depression of sheep husbandry a year or more ago lambs at a large sale in Iowa sold at 40 cents, sheep at from 30 to 95 cents. This hard spot in sheep husbandry is not past and brighter prospects appear for sheep husbandry, yet these prospects are the out-growth of better experience and of severe losses. The sacrifice of entire flocks of thousands of farmers and parts of flocks of still more thousands of farmers has been at heavy cost. Such sacrifices have been opposed by us and by the press in general and yet it is not clear that the demand for mutton alone in this country on the basis of fifty odd millions of sheep would have justified the retention of the number of sheep held before the depression began. Since the flocks have been reduced below forty millions it is probable that the change that has been going on from the wood to the mutton type will remunerate holders of sheep in the future.

Feeding for Profit.

If wheat is one cent a pound and is used as food for poultry there is an opportunity for the farmer to make a profit from poultry. With the grass, seeds, and worms secured at certain seasons it should not exceed fifty per cent. per hen for the food purchased. The profit of this will depend of the kind of hens, the presence of lice, and the price of eggs. Even at twelve cents per dozen for eggs, and allowing 100 eggs per year from each hen, there is a profit of fifty cents per hen, which is apparently small, but it is 100 per cent. on the investment for food, while the chicks raised must also be considered among the profitable items.

Don't dally with rheumatism. Purify your blood and cure it at once by taking a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Letter the Darkey Boy Wrote to His Mistress.

Bessie Chandler, the writer of stories and verses for children is a daughter of Commodore Chandler, of the navy, says the Argonaut. At one time in their family they had a little negro boy who was not very busy, and spent his spare time idling about the rooms where the ladies sat. They would puzzle their wits to keep the boy at work. One day Mrs. Chandler was busy and sent Johnny into the next room.

"'You may take your slate and pencil," she said, "and write me a letter."

The boy obeyed. By and by there came a shrill call: "Please, missus, I'se got it wroted. It says:—

"Dear Missus—Kin I go down to the tennis court and see them play tennis?

"Respectfully yours,

"JOHNNY."

Mrs. Chandler was not ready to admit him as yet so she replied:—

"Oh, well; write me a postscript."

Again, a silence, so prolonged that finally she went into the room to investigate. There was no boy there. The slate lay on the chair face upward. She read the message he had first called out, and underneath it this addition: "P. S.—I have went."

Appalling Figures.

"I wuz readin' the other day," remarked Mosely Wragge, as the two jogged along, "that a man takes about 2,000 steps in walkin' a mile. That means 4,000 motions of the muscles of each laig, or 8,000 fur both. Ef he swings his arms that's 8,000 more. When a feller walks six miles he moves his muscles mighty near 100,000 times, an'—"

"Say," interrupted Tuffold Nutt, "we've walked mor'n a mile, hain't we?"

"I reckon."

"Well, we've done a day's work, an' I'm durned tired. Let's rest!"

Guaranteed to Work.

The smart young man who had just dropped in winked at the men standing around the stove and stepped up to the counter.

"Have you got anything that will start a balky horse?" he inquired.

The country druggist's new clerk reflected a moment.

"I think we have," he replied, taking a package from one of the shelves. "Here is some of our best catarrh snuff. It will start him sneezing. Fifty cents, please."—Chicago Tribune.

Presumption Rebuked.

"One of the strong points about this carpet, ma'am," said the salesman, "is that it won't show dirt as plainly as some others. You wouldn't have to sweep it nearly as often as—"

"I should'n have to sweep it at all, young man," interrupted Mrs. Gaswell with much sharpness. "We keep a hired girl."

He Remembered Her.

Miss Singer—I wonder if that rich uncle of mine remembered me when he made his will? I used to sing for him.

Mr. Law—I'm sure he must have. He hasn't left you anything.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various forms resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

White Fur Rugs.

White goatskin rugs may be cleansed in the following manner, after the lining has been removed: Allow one-half pint of good household ammonia to four gallons of lukewarm water. Shake the rug in this at intervals for half an hour. Then rinse several times in warm water, and hang on the line in the shade. When dry the rug will be hard and dry, but a vigorous rubbing will soften it. White rugs may also be cleansed with naphtha, but in using this beware of the fire.

Old-Fashioned Apple Pie.

Fill a deep, yellow pie-dish with pared apples sliced very thin; then cover with a substantial crust and bake; when browned to a turn, slip a knife around the inner edge, take off the cover and turn bottom upward on a plate; then add a generous supply of sugar, cinnamon and cloves to the apples; mash all together and spread evenly on the inverted crust. After grating nutmeg over it the dish is served cold with cream.—September Ladies' Home Journal.

A Hair Wash.

A strengthening hair wash is the following: One ounce of tincture of cantharides, one ounce and a half olive oil, and one ounce of rosemary. Shake these ingredients together thoroughly, and apply to the roots of the hair with a small piece of sponge. One or two applications a week should be sufficient in ordinary cases.

Tobacco Heart.

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief, by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

Science

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and why every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful. An even product throughout.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's. Genuine has a salmon-colored wrapper.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

FOURTEEN WENT DOWN.

The Steamer Arago Sank Very Quickly After Striking the Rocks—Deplorable Loss of Life.

Marshfield, Oregon, Oct. 21.—The steamer Arago of the Oregon Coal and Navigation Company went to pieces yesterday morning against the jagged rocks of the jetty at the entrance to Coo's Bay. She sank in five fathoms of water, within ten minutes after the rocks had punched a great hole in her. Fourteen persons went down with the wreck. They are: John Norman, passenger, Marshfield, Oregon; E. H. McGraw, passenger, Richard Walker, passenger, Oakland, Oregon; W. E. Brown, chief engineer, San Francisco; William Whittie, fireman, San Francisco; Eric Wall, foreman, San Francisco; Anthony McGade, San Francisco; Richard Patterson, steward; George Patience, steerage passenger; F. S. Parks, steerage passenger; F. Fernandez, chief cook, San Francisco; J. K. Ruger, sailor; Henry Sander, sailor; Ben, the mess-boy.

The Arago left her dock at Empire City yesterday morning with six passengers and 700 tons of coal, bound for San Francisco. Although the weather was hazy and the bay quite lumpy, and at times breaking, everything looked well enough to go to sea.

The Arago was hugging close to the north jetty and traveling slowly when the first breaker was encountered. This checked the headway of the steamer. Then another breaker caught her on the port bow and swung her around. Before she could recover a third breaker piled aboard. The Arago was then clear out of her course. Before she could be brought around again, her stern crashed against the jagged rocks of the partly constructed Government jetty, knocking a great hole in her bottom. Then the sea that had been rolling heavier subsided for a moment. It was only a minute, though, until the breakers again dashed over the vessel, sweeping her decks from stem to stern. The second breaker swept overboard several life rafts, taking with them four steerage passengers and a couple of members of the culinary department, who went down like rats. Another sea carried away the smokestack. Capt. Reed then sounded the whistle of distress, and ordered his men to man the lifeboats. Though in imminent danger of sudden death, the seamen remained cool and followed their orders. John Norman, a passenger, was clinging to the forward rigging, but was not strong enough to climb out of the breakers. Every sea stretched him out at arm's length from the shrouds. He was an old man and struggled for life with all his strength. Finally, however, he became exhausted, and crying "Good-bye," he let go. He was last seen floating off by the stern. The men in the boats had a terrible battle with the terrific sea. The first mate's boat capsized twice. The last time no one returned to the surface but the mate, who swam to the second boat. All this time the lifeboat was making leeward against the breakers. Then a calm spell came and the jetty was rounded. It was then two miles before a landing could be effected. By this time the life-saving crew arrived at the wreck and took up the remaining survivors. This was effected only with great difficulty, as the rigging was being rapidly submerged. Capt. Reed was the last man to leave the ship. The Arago cabins were swept level with her decks. She is lying on the ocean beach not 100 yards from the hulk that marks the remains of the steamer Wetmore, wrecked three years ago. The beach is strewn with wreckage, and only the two masts of the steamer are visible. None of the bodies of the lost have been recovered.

promptly. Two boats were lowered. Mate Banks was placed in charge of one and First Mate Warner in command of the other. Capt. Reed and the passengers who remained on board had to take to the rigging, the house breaking up with every sea and the third lifeboat having been washed overboard.

SPAIN'S TROUBLES.

Her Claim Against Uncle Sam Considered But Nothing Done.

Madrid, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the Cabinet to-day the claim of the United States Government for damages for losses sustained by Americans in consequence of the enforcement of Captain-General Weyler's decree, prohibiting the export of tobacco from Cuba, was considered, but no decision in the matter was reached.

The Cabinet adopted a resolution to send Gen. Polavieja, who some time ago was mentioned as Gen. Weyler's possible successor in the Captain-Generalship of Cuba, and Brig-General Zappino to the Philippine Islands to assist Captain-General Blanco in the work of suppressing the rebellion there. It was also resolved to remodel the frigates Numancia and Vitoria so they may be put in commission as cruisers.

NEWSPAPER MEN ARRESTED.

Count Von Eulenberg Blamed Them for a Change in the Czar's Remarks.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—Two newspaper correspondents, Herr Leckert and Baron Von Lutzow, who attended the meeting of Emperor William and the Czar at Breslau, have been arrested on the charge of libelously insulting Count Von Eulenberg, Grand Marshal of the Court and Grand Master of Ceremonies. The trouble arose from a change that was made in the reply of the Czar to the cast to him made by Emperor William. In the earliest version of the reply it was stated that the Czar had avowed that he was "inspired by the same traditional sentiments as my father." A later version changed the wording to "I am inspired by the same traditional sentiments as Your Majesty." Herr Leckert and Baron Von Lutzow ascribed the alteration to Count Von Eulenberg, who saw in the ascription a veiled political attack, and caused the arrest of the correspondents. It is stated that one of the men has been released.

BESIEGED BY REPORTERS.

London Newspaper Men Want to Interview Mr. and Mrs. Castle.

London, Oct. 21.—Solicitor Abrahams of the United States Embassy was besieged this morning by reporters, who were endeavoring to obtain an address of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Castle of San Francisco, who were committed for trial yesterday on a charge of shoplifting and liberated on £50,000 bail, pending the coming up of their case on Nov. 2. Mr. Abrahams refused to disclose the whereabouts of the Castles, though he admitted they were in London. The solicitor says Mr. Castle was absolutely innocent and that justice required his acquittal. Mrs. Castle, he said, was very much broken down by her ordeal. Her defence, Mr. Abrahams intimated, would be mental irresponsibility, owing to her sufferings from troubles peculiar to females. He did not appear to be over confident of the success of the defence in securing Mrs. Castle's acquittal.

HAD NO IDEA OF IT.

Sir William Harcourt Never Contemplated Giving Up His Seat.

London, Oct. 21.—Sir William Vernon-Harcourt has written to the Liberal agent in Monmouthshire that despite the reports to the contrary recently circulated, he has never for moment entertained the idea of abandoning his seat in Parliament for West Monmouthshire, or in any way adding to the present difficulties of the Liberals.

Bullets in His Head.

Baltimore, Oct. 21.—An unknown man, supposed to have been William V. Snider of Weston, W. Va., was found in his room at the Eutaw House this morning unconscious, with three bullet wounds in his head. A revolver and an empty laudanum phial lay beside him. He died without regaining consciousness. He appeared to be in the last stages of consumption.

USE OF WATER.

Considerable of an Art to Do This Properly.

It frequently becomes necessary in the hot dry weather of summer to water trees just planted, in order to save the feeble young roots just put out. In some seasons the rains are so plentiful that no watering is needed, but often there are only light showers for a month or two, or even no rain at all. Directions for doing the watering have been published frequently, but still people are apt to water the trees in a wrong way, and injure them, or even kill them by so doing. When one has been at the expense and trouble to plant trees, he does not like to see them droop in dry weather, and generally gives them frequent surface watering, supposing that this will save them. The real effect in such cases is to form a hard crust about the tree, which prevents air and moisture from reaching the young roots, and the tree dies of starvation. Even if the tree has been properly mulched, as all newly-set trees should be, this sort of watering is of no use to the tree.

If the tree were properly set; that is, the holes were dug large and deep, and then filled with good mellow soil when the tree was set, it will not need any water, except in case of a long drouth. If planted in the neighborhood of other trees which have been growing for several years, then the roots of these trees will drink up all the moisture in the soil, and the young trees must be watered unless rains are frequent and copious. Young trees can be planted safely near other trees if care is taken that they are not starved out the first year. The right way to water all young, newly-set trees is to throw the mulching to one side, and dig out the earth all around the tree for quite a distance, and nearly down to the roots. Then several pailfuls, or even a whole barrel, of water can be poured in the hollow basin around the tree, thoroughly soaking the soil as far and as deep as the roots extend, and probably considerably farther. After the water has all soaked away, the earth taken out can be replaced, having been made fine by the double handling, and the mulch should then be replaced, and more added if needed to prevent the soil from being heated by the summer sunshine. Watered in this way the roots are placed in thoroughly moist soil, and the mellow earth and mulch over the roots prevent the moisture from evaporating, keeping it at the roots which will absorb it as needed. It is considerable work thus to water trees, but generally it has to be done only once or twice in the season, and it is cheaper in the end. In hot weather a pailful a day can be poured around a tree, and the water will never reach the roots, whereas if soaked well once it answers for a month or two at least.

CHARMING HOME FROCK.

Cadet Blue Foulard Spotted Over With Open Rings of Black Satin.

Not all women with blue eyes can wear blue becomingly; it requires a fine, clear skin, and a clean, fresh color. Several shades of dull blue are shown among the season's colorings, many of them verging on the grayish blue worn by our mail carriers, while other shades verge on the violet.

A charmingly dainty house frock is shown made up in cadet blue foulard, spotted over with open rings of black satin. The skirt is laid in a succession of side plaits, one wide box plait setting across the front to the hips, while the side plaits carry the width toward the back.

A CHARMING HOUSE GOWN.

The bodice is a Frenchy affair, with the lower body of the silk drawn smoothly over a fitted lining, so as to show no fulness. A deep, oval yoke of white taffeta, overlaid with white mousseline de sole, spreads across the shoulders and is edged with a pliased frill of the mousseline de sole, setting out over the sleeves.

A deep stock of blue velvet is topped by a frill of the mousseline de sole, and to it is joined the top of the soft vest of the muslin, which puffs into the belt of velvet ribbon fastened in a full bow directly at the front. The sleeves have big puffs of the silk at the top, with the lower arms covered with wrinkles of white mousseline de sole.

A wonderfully pretty blue bodice to be worn with a cloth skirt of the same color shows a blouse body of grayish blue chiffon set full of perpendicular frills, edged with quillings of black satin ribbons.

A folded stock and sash of black satin ribbon complete the garment. The flaring skirt is lined throughout with black satin and finished about the feet with a set of small frills of satin.

Household Hints.

A person broken out with prickly heat will find great relief if the parts affected are dusted over several times a day with rye flour.

A glass of milk to which has been added a raw egg beaten light, a little sugar and grated nutmeg will relieve that condition of physical exhaustion so often experienced in summer weather.

The women of Holland and Belgium use refined borax to whiten their linen, and also for whitening laces. As it is a neutral salt it is not injurious, and far better than much soap on any washing fluid.

If a clean cloth wrung out of water to which half a teaspoonful of ammonia has been added is used to wipe off a carpet which has been recently swept it will remove the dusty look and brighten the colors.

An ordinary corner in a room that lacked distinction was improved by using a rich screen for a background. Before it was placed a beautiful mahogany tea table and two dainty chairs that would have lost half their decorative value against the wall paper.

Fluent

BUT UNSATISFACTORY

LADIES.

Have you noticed how quickly some storekeepers learn to be "smart" in quoting prices—with great profit to the other storekeepers. Nevertheless they receive marked attention. Their grasp of financial matters is at once recognised when they are entrusted with the arranging of prices on hat pins, hooks and eyes, buttons and corset steels.

Timely Tidings of Underwear Bargains.

Yesterday we started in to clean up our Underwear Department, for you know there has been big selling in these lines at our store and the balance of our Early Fall supply is all broken up

So we take them and put them in lots at a price—a Bargain price—in order to give you a chance to save money on Underwear, that you may need at once. At the same time, we expect another big lot of Heavier Winter Underwear, in a day or two at rather lower prices than those who bought too heavy and bought too early

You're almost sure to find something in our stock at a good deal less price than the fashionable stores advertise. A "cheap catch" sold at the expense of other goods, is not Miss R's way of doing business.

THE OTTAWA BUDGET

Concession to Merchants by the Postal Department

WHY MR. JONES WAS APPOINTED

The Canadian Rifle Team's Quarters at Bisley—The C.P.R. and the Tobique Valley Railway — Exams for Cadets for the Royal Military College—Personal Jots.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—In the House of Commons last session Mr. Kaulbach, M. P., urged the Government to make representations to the Imperial authorities in favor of regulating the course of steamers crossing the banks of Newfoundaind as a greater protection to fishing vessels. In March, 1892, the question of regulating the speed of steamers was submitted to the Imperial Government by the Dominion authorities. The reply of the Home Government was to the effect that there was no statutory power to prevent steamers crossing the Great Banks, or to specially regulate their speed in crossing. Hence it appears that, while Mr. Kaulbach's object is a most laudable one, it is not possible to give effect to his suggestions. The department has been advised by the Board of Trade of its former answer on this question.

There is a possibility of the dispute between Noble Bros. and the Fisheries Department being prolonged for some weeks yet. Some time ago the commission of Judge Johnston, who has the matter in charge, was extended to Oct. 30, and how it is said there will be a further extension until the end of December.

The Postoffice Department has made a concession to merchants, etc., who send out printed catalogues, by which they will be permitted to enclose order lists in such catalogues. Heretofore, when such printed forms or order lists were included, the catalogues were liable to a higher rate of postage. They can now go at the same rate as the catalogue, namely, 1c for 4 ounces. The department has decided to put a stop to the practice of enclosing handbills, programs, show advertisements, etc., in newspapers sent to subscribers. In cases where such enclosures are found hereafter the newspaper publisher will be required to make a declaration of the number of copies he has so mailed, and will have to pay postage at the rate of 1c per copy.

The appointment of three commissioners on behalf of the Dominion to the Pacific Cable Conference gives this country one more representative than she was originally entitled to on the commission. The two appointees of the Home Government are Lord Selborne, who is the president, and Mr. G. H. Murray of the Treasury. The Australian delegates are Sir Paul Samuel and Hon. Mr. Gillies. Queensland and New Zealand, who have more than a passing interest in the cable question, asked to be represented, and the selection by Canada of Hon. A. G. Jones, in addition to Sir Donald Smith and Mr. Sandford Fleming, will enable the request of the two Australasian colonies to be met.

At the last session of Parliament a sum of money was voted to erect permanent quarters for the Canadian team at Bisley. At a meeting of the D. R. A. executive last night it was announced that plans have been prepared and others are in course of preparation for a handsome wooden structure. It is suggested that the building should be put together in the Dominion of Canadian wood, which might be secured free of cost. In any case, an effort will be made, now that the Government vote is secured, to have the work go on for next year. The executive finished up business connected with the August meeting in this city.

The story published in Toronto that Sir Oliver Mowat is to succeed Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick as Lieut.-Governor of Ontario is not believed here. If there were any truth in it, it is not likely that Sir Oliver would have taken a two years' lease of a residence in Ottawa, as Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick's time expires next spring.

It is understood that when Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, Vice-President of the C. P. R., was here the other day he talked over with Mr. Blair the question of operating the Tobique Valley Railway, respecting which there has been a hitch for some time. It is said that satisfactory arrangements have been made whereby the road will shortly be operated by the C. P. R.

Sir Courtenay Boyle, Permanent Secretary of the British Board of Trade, has, by direction of the president, the Right Hon. Mr. Ritchie, communicated with Mr. William Smith, Ex-Deputy Minister of Marine, stating that, as the proceedings of the departmental committee appointed to enquire into the question of manning two British merchant vessels has now concluded, Mr. Ritchie desires to express to Mr. Smith the high sense which he entertains of the valuable services rendered by him as the Canadian representative on the committee, and his appreciation of the care which Mr. Smith bestowed upon the consideration of the important questions coming before them.

Owing to the desire of a number of candidates to enter as cadets in the Royal Military College during the present term a supplementary examination has been ordered to commence at the different military headquarters on Tuesday, Nov. 17.

Before leaving for the west yesterday Mr. Tarte signed over $100,000 to the Harbor Commission of Montreal for works which they have already executed, the same being in conformity with the Act of Parliament. The question of further repairs was left over for consideration at a later date.

Mr. J. M. Macoun of the geological survey, who accompanied the Behring Sea Commission to the Pribyloff Islands in the Northern Pacific, is expected to leave the Islands on his return trip about the 30th of this month.

Nine employes in the Printing Bureau were notified last evening that their services would be no longer required. "No work" was the reason assigned. The dismissals took immediate effect.

Simultaneously with the rise in wheat the price of lumber has gone up, but the actual cause is yet unknown. There has not been a greater demand for common stock lumber for many years than at present. Prices have jumped from $1 to $1.50 per thousand and are still rising. Local firms are holding out for stiff figures.

Senator T. R. McInnes of British Columbia left for home to-day, the last of the sessional representatives to leave Ottawa.

Rufus Pope, M. P., is in the city.

Senators Miller and Robitaille purpose making their homes in the city until the end of next session at any rate.

Dr. Adams, Professor of Geology, McGill University, and his class of students, to the number of about 50, will visit Ottawa on Saturday next to examine the geological formations of this district, which are known to be the most interesting to be found in any part of Canada.

The Citizen states most emphatically that the recent communication published by it, in which certain reflections were made against Mr. William Buckingham, were not written by a civil servant.

MR. BRIERLEY BANQUETED.

Citizens of St. Thomas Join in Giving a Good Send-Off to the New Managing Editor of The Montreal Herald.

St. Thomas, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Mr. James S. Brierley, for fifteen years past editor and publisher of The Journal, was to-night tendered a banquet by the citizens of St. Thomas, on the eve of his departure for Montreal, to assume control of The Herald. Mr. Brierley has not only conducted the Journal so that it has attained a leading position among the newspapers of the province, but has been one of St. Thomas' most enterprising citizens, identifying himself with all movements calculated to advance the prosperity of the city. The farewell banquet to-night was attended by over 100 of the leading and most representative citizens, men from nearly all walks of life and of all shades of political opinion.

The chair was occupied by Mr. M. A. Gilbert, manager of the Imperial Bank. Among those who were present were: Messrs. John Campbell, President Board of Trade; Lt.-Col. Stacey, commander 25th Battalion; Ald. E. S. Miller, manager P. P. I.; Mayor Idsardi, D. MacNish(M. L. A.; C. A. Brown, M. L. A.; George E. Casey, M. P.; A. B. Ingram, M. P.; Sheriff Brown, C. MacDougall, Q. C.; Rev. Dr. Flannery, W. H. King, Chairman Board of Education; J. Farley, Q. C.; Chairman Water Commissioners; Rev. Dr. Austin, Principal Alma College; G. J. Willis, American Consul; F. P. McDonald, Assistant Superintendent M. C. R.; Judge Ermatinger, M. D. Carder, Secretary A. O. U. W.

A reception was held from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m., dinner was served from 9 to 10 and the toast list occupied from 10 to 12. The speakers, in reply to the various toasts, all paid warm tributes to Mr Brierley as a citizen and a newspaper man, expressed regret that he was leaving the city, and the hope was that he would meet with abundant success in his new venture.

Among those who responded were: D. MacNish, M. L. A.; W. H. King, Rev. Dr. Austin, W. Atkin, Inspector Public schools; Mayor Idsardi, J. Farley, Q. C.; J. Campbell, J. Micklborough, N. E. Waugh, agent G. T. R.; Dr. McLarty, C. MacDougall, Q. C.; J. H. Still and others.

"The Press" was responded to by W. S. Dingman of The Stratford Herald and F. McKay of The Ridgetown Plaindealer.

"Our Guest" was the closing event on the list, and Mr. Brierley made an eloquent speech in response.

Mr. MacKay Also Honored.

Chatham, Oct. 22.—The employes of The Banner this evening showed their esteem of G. T. MacKay, the retiring manager, by presenting him with two beautifully bound volumes of Shakespeare and Whittier. Mr. MacKay leaves next week to assume the business management of The Montreal Herald.

CANADIAN FARMERS

Are Getting Better Prices Than Those Across the Line.

WHEAT AT A DOLLAR PER BUSHEL.

In Chicago There Was a Further Drop Yesterday and Pandemonium Reigned in the Wheat Pit—Great Rush of Sellers—A Weakening in Liverpool Prices.

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The drop in wheat prices in Chicago does not affect the Manitoba market. The farmers this side of the line are getting from 10c to 20c a bushel more for their wheat than the farmers in Minnesota and Dakota. Yesterday at Qu'Appelle wheat was bought at $1 a bushel.

Number one hard wheat this year must be 61 pounds weight and No. 2 59 3-4 pounds. This was decided by the grain standards board to-day.

The Panic in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—December wheat took another big tumble on the Board of Trade and the wild excitement on 'Change which accompanied the collapse bordered on a panic. There was a fall of 4 3-4c from yesterday's closing price, exceeding the advance for any day since the sensational upward movement began in this country and abroad. Late in the day there was a recovery and the highest point during the morning session was 74 1-4c. The closing price was 70 1-2c. Towards the closing hour the slump was so rapid that the drop of a cent and more found no bidders. The price went from 73c to 71 1-4c, in five minutes. The scenes in the pit were such as Board of Trade history is made of. There was a frantic rush of sellers on the strength of a rumor that Cudahy had joined Armour in unloading his holdings. Thousands of bushels were dumped on the market, but there were no buyers who could keep pace with the quantity offered. There were some heavy losses. The main cause of the decline was said to be the failure to secure advances from the banks for buying cash wheat. Within half an hour after the opening the price of December wheat went down 2 3-4c and the inexorable banker was blamed for refusing to lend money on any terms. The demand for money overshadowed all talk of foreign shortage, of shipments to India or news from Australia and Russia.

Cash wheat sold below futures and the price of the former declined from 6c to 7c before the traders were allowed a breathing spell.

Armour said that the key to the situation was the scarcity of money and that the price of cash wheat was pulling future wheat down. The curb last night prepared the way for the slaughtering of the market price to-day. Wheat sold at 74c in the street and this, added to the cry of distress from the cash market, threw the pit into hysterics at the opening.

Houses were swamped with country orders to sell at a certain price if the decline continued. Most of them wanted the deal stopped at 74c to 74 1-2c, but before they could as much as shout "Sold!" the expert in the box had marked the price down from 75 1-4c to 72 1-2c. Then pandemonium broke loose in all its fury and the bravest speculator was filled with a dread of what might come.

Bulls with big lines of December wheat, who have been busy unloading during the last few days, surrendered some more to the tottering markets. They sold at prices which brought them fortunes and took their chances of buying back again at a lower price. The bulls who have been crying "Dollar wheat" have not been silenced by the tumble of the last two days. The bankers said that the election uncertainty made it impossible for conservative banks to decline loans for speculation in large sums.

Armour's grain department stated that the money market was becoming more closely allied to the wheat market, and that the election was the only relief in sight.

Serious, But Not Hopeless.

London, Oct. 22.—The Daily News in its market review to-morrow will say that the exaggerated views regarding wheat which prevailed Monday are giving place to more reasonable ideas. The position is serious, but not hopeless. The sellers of Russian wheat still show a great reserve, but there is a question whether the Black Sea shippers are not playing into the hands of the Americans by holding their stocks. The Russian crop is certainly smaller than that of 1895, but there has not failed to be a material surplus for exportation. The chief difficulty is a scarcity of tonnage which in less than three months has troubled freights from the Black Sea. The weakest point in Great Britain is the lowness of stocks.

Crop Failure in Australia.

Adelaide, Oct. 22.—There has been a total failure of the harvest in the northern part of South Australia caused by a long-continued drought. Numbers of farmers have been ruined by the loss of their crops and are in a destitute condition. Wheat is one of the staple products of the colony. The latest statistics show that of the 2,635,741 acres under cultivation in 1892-93, 1,722,711 acres were sown to wheat.

Liverpool Market Weakened.

Liverpool, Oct. 22.—The wheat market here to-day weakened under the influence of the big decline in the United States. California options closed from 1-2d to 1 1-2d per cental lower. American red winter futures closed from 3d to 3 1-2d lower.

A Unique Preaching Costume.

Dr. Hayes C. French, a San Francisco physician, who has recently become an evangelist, has adopted a unique costume for the pulpit. "All my preaching," he says, "is done in knickerbocks and sweater. This is the uniform of the Young Men's Christian Association Cycling Club. The triangle on the breast and cap means spirit, body and mind, the emblem of infinitude.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Be sure to get Hood's, because

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE fifth report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines for the year 1895, has been issued and forms an interesting and instructive volume. The past year has shown marked evidence of progress in the development of the mineral resources of the province, and there is every prospect of an even increased activity in the near future. The annual report of the British Columbia Board of Trade, devotes a great deal of space to the development of mining in that province. The development is forcibly indicated by the output, which approximated $5,000,000 in 1895, as against $1,241,031 in in 1894, coal excluded.

THE "disputed territory," of which the Conservative Dominion Government, aided and abetted by Ontario Conservatives, tried to rob this Province, is a most valuable possession. They were prevented by the vigilance of the Mowat Government. Now that the Conservatives are re-organizing in Ontario, presumably with a view of showing how much better they are fitted to govern the Province, they should recollect the above example of their interest in the Province. The "disputed territory" is teeming with a wealth of minerals—gold, silver, etc., and all this would have been lost to Ontario if the Conservative party had had their way and had sacrificed the interests of the Province by playing into the hands of the Conservative Government of the Dominion. If politicians are forgetful the electors have long memories.

ONE explanation of the remarkable rise in wheat lies in the fact that the viceroy of India has cabled to the British Government that, "owing to the lack rain, the crops in northwestern India, in several districts of Central India and in upper Burmah have been damaged seriously, and that unless rain falls soon a famine will be inevitable. The exportation of wheat to the districts in which the crops are damaged has caused a rise in prices. Merchants in Calcutta are selling American wheat, the importation of which is expected to affect prices favourably. The present dearness is the Government's reason for granting some immediate relief to the sufferers. A grant of ten lakhs of rupees has been sanctioned for the construction of temporary wells in the northwest, and other relief works if necessary." In some quarters the prediction is being made that before the week is out May wheat will reach $1.50.

THE American Agriculturist, in an article headed "Good Times are Coming," paints a roseate picture of the future. It says:—"It looks that way! Crop shortages in Europe, India and the Argentine Republic are creating an extraordinary demand in England and on the continent for American produce. Our exports are increasing so rapidly that ocean freight rates have heavily advanced; consequently tramp steamers are all racing for our coasts to get cargoes. This will bring down rates again and ensure abundant means for transporting our surplus to the other side. Prices are advancing all along the line. Wheat and oats are higher, so are tobacco and cotton, cheese has advanced 50 per cent., wool is improving, and with last year's extraordinary corn reports now being doubled even corn is advancing in the face of the biggest crop on record! Reactions are probable if prices go up too fast, but even if present values are only maintained it means millions upon millions of extra profits to American farmers and also to Canadian farmers."

MR. LAURIER AND THE FARMER.

(Brantford Expositor.)

While Mr. Laurier was non-committal in his speech on board the steamship "Canada," about the fast Atlantic service, the whole trend of his remarks was in the direction of magnifying the agricultural interests of the Dominion. "Other interests we have," he said, "and of great importance; but if I am to speak my own mind, the farmer is the chief of all." How can any one doubt either the truth or the timeliness of this estimate? The prosperity of the whole Dominion depends primarily, ultimately on the prosperity of the tillers of the soil. That they are not prosperous now is the chief reason why all other classes are pinched.

It nevertheless required a high degree of courage in the Prime Minister to speak as he did to the audience then about him, made up, as it was, chiefly of the merchant princes, manufacturers and shippers of Montreal. All of these men might be prepared to admit the truth of Mr. Laurier's remarks in the abstract, but not many of them would be prepared to accept is as a general principle for the guidance of parliament in making arrangements for an improved Atlantic steamship service. There can be no question, however, of the fact that the country at large will endorse by a large majority his doing so.

Mr. Torrance, who acted as host at the "Canada" luncheon, and who is an undoubted authority on steamships, made a statement which cannot be too carefully considered, especially as it exactly corroborates the contention of Mr. Sandford Fleming. The "Canada" can make an effective speed of sixteen knots an hour, and can carry 7,000 tons of cargo. If she were built to make seventeen knots an hour, her freight capacity would be reduced to 4,000 tons. If her speed were raised to eighteen knots, her freight capacity would come down to 3,000 tons. An increase of speed to twenty knots would reduce the capacity to 1,000 tons. The great Cunarder, the "Lucania," takes only 1,000 tons of freight.

The obvious inference is that the speed for passenger traffic and the capacity for freight must be developed in different vessels, as Mr. Fleming contends. If this is so, then it is equally obvious that the freight accommodation must be provided first, and that in summer it must be furnished by the St. Lawrence route. With a deep waterway in progress of development, the perfection of ocean freight carriage in a rational and business-like way, will confer untold benefits on the farming class. What good will a fast-passenger service do those who till the soil for a living?

DAIRYMEN ATTENTION!

The following timely remarks and suggestions are worthy of attention by all connected with the producing of cheese. Peterborough factories are well at the head now; but they cannot afford to relax an effort to maintain their place of supremacy. Eternal vigilance is the price of good cheese.

"All the world knows that Brockville section is the original home of the modern dairy, and that we have kept right up to date with the modern cheese factories, apparatus and men as a rule. Still we know that every October and November we make quite a large number of pasty and half-cured cheese, which injure our reputation abroad and make losses at home. To avoid this, do not make any late October or November cheese if your factory is not warm, both make room and curing room.

"If you can control the temperature, ripen your milk by heating up to a hundred and cooling slowly back to 86 before adding your rennet. You will get through earlier and make fancy cheese by so doing. Keep your curd warm. Do not let it get chilled either in the vat or in the press. Keep your curing room warm, and at a uniform temperature both day and night. Do not fail to make fancy cheese and cure them well. If you cannot do this, be sure and stop making now.

"Respectfully submitted for your serious consideration by your friend and well-wisher."

Graceful Introductions.

"How shall I perform an introduction?" inquires a girl who likes to do things gracefully and who is entirely right in her notion that for most things there is a right way and also a wrong way.

Introducing people is neither difficult nor occult and it requires no special training. There are very few simple rules to be observed. You present a gentleman to a lady, and a younger to an older person. You are careful to speak clearly and distinctly, for nothing is more embarrassing than to have a stranger's name mumbled so that it remains unknown, thus defeating the end of the introduction. You do not say: "Mamma, let me present my classmate," leaving your mother to guess at the part of your speech which was really the most important; you say: "My classmate, Miss Leonard." And, equally, when you are introducing Miss Leonard to your friend, you do not say: "Alice, may I introduce my cousin Sophie?" in which case neither young woman would have the least idea of more than the other's Christian name. If a person is a personage—a professor, or doctor, or clergyman, or in any way noted or famous—the tactful young girl makes the title a part of her introduction, so that the people presented to him are aware that they are honored by the new acquaintance.

When Sight Is Restored.

Blind people's first experience of sight is curious. The Pembroke Standard gives a remarkable instance which occurred at that town. An old man, who was born blind, received his sight by the removal of the cataract. When the bandage was first removed the patient started violently and cried out as if with fear, and for a while was quite nervous from the effects of the shock. For the first time in his life he looked upon the earth. The first thing he noticed was a flock of sparrows. In relating his experience he said he thought they were teacups, although a few moments afterwards he readily distinguished a watch which was shown him. It is supposed that his recognition was owing to the fact that he heard it ticking. The blaze from a lamp excited the most lively surprise in his mind. He had no idea what it was, and when it was brought near wanted to pick it up. When night approached upon the day when he first used his eyes, he was in a fright, fearing that he was losing his sight which he had so wonderfully found after sixty years of total darkness.

THAT TREATY OF ALLIANCE

Which Terminated in the Military Convention of 1890.

London, Oct. 22.—The Daily Chronicle claims to have obtained the outlines of the much-debated treaty of alliance between France and Russia, which terminated in the military convention of 1890. The treaty was signed in December, 1893, M. Casimir Perier and M. De Giers, Russian Foreign Minister, being chiefly concerned. The treaty, The Chronicle says, is simply a military convention, with special relation to the balance of power created by the Austro-German alliance and lapses when the latter terminates. It is purely defensive, and, therefore, could not be used to aid in the recovery by France of the Reichsland, and is directed only against such an attack on the part of Germany as was meditated by Prince Bismarck in 1875. Codicils have been added to the treaty dealing with the unfounded scare over the reported intention of Great Britain to intervene in Morocco and the Chino-Japanese war.

Firm in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—A firm tone prevailed yesterday in he wheat market in sympathy with the feeling on other grain centres.

German Royalty's Movements.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—The Emperor and Empress returned to Potsdam at 8 o'clock this morning from their visit to Wiesbaden and Darmstadt.

Rains in Italy.

Rome, Oct. 22.—Torrential rains have fallen throughout Upper Italy, and all railway trains are delayed in consequence. High tides have prevailed in the Venice districts. The Grand Canal at Venice has overflown its banks into the Piazza St. Mark, submerging it to the depth of two feet.

Snow in Britain.

London, Oct. 22.—Heavy snowstorms are reported in the north of England and Scotland.

Rengore Head Aground.

London, Oct. 22.—The British steamer Rengore Head, Captain Brennan, from Montreal, which arrived at Belfast yesterday, grounded while entering the harbor.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

Montreal Merchants Interview the Railway Managers The Movement of Wheat —Other Montreal News.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The delegation appointed the other day by the Board of Trade to interview the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific authorities with a view to have those corporations extend their summer rates to the end of November met General Manager Hays and Vice-President Shaughnessy this afternoon, and the whole question was threshed out in a very complete manner. Mr. Robert Bickerdike presided, and it was represented to the railway men that the bulk of the fall trade concentrated in October and November, and it was quite impossible for the merchants to complete their shipments by the 1st of November, so they urged that the date of increase be made the 20th, or the end of November.

Both Messrs. Hays and Shaughnessy spoke at length, claiming that the summer rate was not a paying one, but simply given to compete with water rates. In fact, they contended that the so-called winter rate was not excessive, and compares very favorably with rates on United States railways. They had a lake and rail rate which was much lower in summer than in winter. However, the representatives of the two big railroads promised that they would give the matter their serious attention. It is not thought here that the railways will accede to the Board of Trade's request, and if they do it would be only for this year.

The figures showing the movement of grain will be of interest. The following table gives the quantity of wheat received at the elevators along the line of the Canadian Pacific, west of Winnipeg. Oct. 12th, 154,000 bushels; Oct. 13th, 150,000 bushels; Oct. 14th, 143,000 bushels; Oct. 15th, 126,000 bushels; Oct. 16th, 130,000 bushels; Oct. 17th, 170,000 bushels; Oct. 19th, 140,000 bushels; Oct. 20th, 141,000 bushels; Oct. 21st, 145,000 bushels.

It will appear from the above that the receipts at the elevators have been very little less than at the same time last year, although the shipments eastward show a considerable falling off. The following are the figures: Oct. 12th, 143 car loads; Oct. 13th, 138 car loads; Oct. 14th, 208 car loads; Oct. 15th, 108 car loads; Oct. 16th, 194 car loads; Oct. 17th, 170 car loads; Oct. 19th, 275 car loads; Oct. 20th, 167 car loads; Oct. 21st, 156 car loads. Each car load represents about 700 bushels.

It is claimed that at the conclusion of a retreat preached at Rigaud, P.Q., by the Redemptorist fathers, a widow lady named Poirier, 79 years of age, abjured Protestantism and was received into the Catholic Church.

A few days ago an Italian named Tarente went to a house of ill fame in Jacques Cartier-street, and stabbed two of the inmates. To-day King Humbert's subject was sent to St. Vincent de Paul for twelve years.

In addition to the magnificent gift of the Diocesan College to the diocese of Montreal, the donor of this institution, Mr. A. F. Gault, has contributed the sum of $50,000 for its endowment. The college buildings have cost $100,000, so that Mr. Gault's contribution to the college totals a sum of $150,000.

SUPREME COURT.

Judgment Reserved in the Niagara Fruit Growers v. Walker Case Kingston v. Drennan Argued.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The argument in the Supreme Court to-day in Niagara Fruit Growers' Association v. Walker was concluded to-day. Judgment was reserved.

The City of Kingston v. Drennan was next heard. In this case the respondent claimed and recovered damages from the city for injury by falling while crossing a street. The case made was that at the place of the accident there was quite a slope, and on the crossing the snow and ice had accumulated and caused a steep incline at the further end of the crossing, according to the direction in which the plaintiff was going. The snow had accumulated by being shovelled from the sidewalks, as well as from the natural fall. Plaintiff seriously hurt her hip, and was awarded $1500 damages by the jury, which was sustained by the Divisional Court and by the Court of Appeal. The defendants claimed that there was no negligence for the jury, at all events none of gross negligence, as required by the Municipal Amendment Act of 1894, and that notice of action should have been given under the same Act. The courts below held that notice of action, if necessary, was excusable, and over-ruled the other objections. The argument will be concluded to-morrow. Walkem, Q.C., for appellan; Hutcheson for the respondent.

Toronto v. C. P. R. will be argued next.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—The market is weaker to-day owing to decline in wheat. Offerings large, but buyers hold off.

Bran—Trade quiet, with bran quoted at $7 to $7.50 west, and shorts at $8.50 to $9.

Wheat—The unsettled condition of Liverpool and Chicago markets had a bad effect on the local trade. The offerings are larger, but dealers are inclined to wait the outcome of leading markets. Red and white sold outside at 80c, No. 1 Manitoba hard sold at 83c, Toronto freight, in the morning, but later dealers refused to give this price. The quotation at Fort William is lower at 83c afloat for No. 1.

Buckwheat—The market is easier, with sales at 32c, middle freight, and 33c east.

Barley—Trade quiet, with No. 1 quoted at 35c, No. 2 at 31c, No. 3 extra at 27c, and feed at 23c to 24c.

Oats—Offerings heavier and prices easier. White sold outside at 21½c and mixed at 20½c.

Peas—The demand is less active and prices easier. Sales at 45c to 46c outside.

Rye—Trade quiet, with sales outside at 35c east.

ADMITS THE THEFT.

But Mrs. Castle Said She Could Not Tell Why She Did It.

London, Oct. 22.—Mr. Lewis Weill, a watch manufacturer of Hatton Garden, who is one of the sureties of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Castle of San Francisco, now at liberty under £40,000 bail, pending their trial on Nov. 2, upon charges of shop-lifting, said to a representative of the United Associated Presses this morning: "Doctor George Henry Savage, one of the leading English experts in mental diseases, who examined Mrs. Castle for four hours, is prepared to swear that she is not responsible. In the course of Dr. Savage's conversation with her Mrs. Castle confessed that she had taken the things she is accused of having stolen, but she could not tell why she had done so."

Mr. J. R. Roosevelt, First Secretary of the United States Embassy, informed a representative of the United Associated Presses to-day that he had had an interview with Mr. and Mrs. Castle yesterday, and said that Mr. Castle might possibly make a written statement in behalf of his wife and himself to-day. Mr. Roosevelt said that the American Embassy would not interfere in the case, and was merely watching its progress. He added that the British Home Office had granted every request that had been made by the Embassy in Mr. and Mrs. Castle's behalf. Mr. Roosevelt also said that the Embassy had received several letters from New York stating that Edward J. Ivory, the alleged dynamite conspirator, who was arrested in Glasgow under the name of Edward Bell, was a man of good character, but weak and apt to be influenced by his associates.

"Niki" is Resting.

Paris, Oct. 22.—The Grand Duke Vladimir, on arriving in the city to-day, received the following despatch from the Czar, who is at Darmstadt: "We are enjoying well-earned rest under the hospitable roof of the Tyrants of Hee. (Signed) Niki." The French newspapers assert that this telegram throws valuable light upon the condition of the Czar's spirits, and the newspapers add that it proves his brain is not haunted by grave considerations after talking with Emperor William of Germany at Wiesbaden.

Wheat Markets.

Antwerp, Oct. 22.—The wheat market yesterday was firm, and prices were maintained fully on a parity with the late Paris rates. Millers were more disposed to purchase, and an advance of 7 1-2d to 10d was established.

In France.

Paris, Oct. 22.—The French provincial grain markets yesterday were firm on the opening, gaining ground that further advance was probable in France, as the French wheat crop would not be sufficient for home consumption and that the country would be compelled to import wheat freely.

HE AILED MANY YEARS

Kidney Trouble of Some Kind—Lame Back and Weakness—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 12 (Special.—As stated by Mr. Wm. A. Stagg himself, the facts of his quite recent perfect recovery from weakness and ailments many years suffered are as follows:—To a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I owe my complete cure from weakness and lame back, which had clung to me for many years. As soon as I decided that the cause might be from derangement of the kidneys I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that only a few boxes were taken before I was as well as ever.

Etiquette for Visitors.

Be stone blind, deaf and dumb to all family matters of an unpleasant nature in a household. Be punctual at meals. To be late is a disrespect to your hostess—bad form for yourself.

Never interfere with inferiors when visiting. It is a breach of good manners.

To be constantly correcting your hostess' children will in time make you an objectionable visitor. Mothers resent this.

Always express a willingness to retire at the family bedtime. In your own room you can remain up as long as you choose.

All visitors should recollect that the evenings belong to their host and hostess, and they are expected to add to their enjoyment.

It is bad form to lounge on sofas all times in the day, reading novels and taking no interest in those around you. You are a visitor and formality should be observed. Besides, you are expected to be entertaining.

Absent yourself some hours in the morning, so that the mistress of the house will have a chance to settle her affairs. This sort of consideration is appreciated.

If a pleasure is proposed accept it. You are expected to be entertained.

Be agreeable to all guests, whether you like them or not.

Care of a Burn.

Soak old linen rag or lint in the oil, lay it over the burned part and cover the whole with bandages, so as thoroughly to exclude the air, using cotton wool if possible.

Should there be no oil in the house the burned flesh should be immediately covered with flour, and all air excluded. It is estimated that more than 1,000 children die annualy from the effects of burns and scalds. Mothers cannot be too careful in teaching their children to dread the fire, and putting all danger out of their reach as far as is possible.

At last accounts potatoes were selling in some of the Alaska mining regions for $100 a sack.

When cementing your cistern, remember that one bushel of cement and two bushels of sand will cover three and one-half square yards one inch thick.

Human life is held to cheaply when the individual who needs a tonic for his system, seeks to cover his wants by purchasing every new mixture that is recommended to him. Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-earned reputation of fifty years standing.

WHAT IS MEANT
WHEN WE SAY THAT
Mason & Risch Pianos
ARE THE INSTRUMENTS OF THE CULTURED.

WE MEAN . . .

That they are found in the homes of the most refined and cultured people throughout the land.

That the Principal Musical Institutions in Canada use MASON & RISCH PIANOS.

That the President of nearly every University or large Educational Institution in Canada has bought a MASON & RISCH PIANO for his own use.

That MASON & RISCH PIANOS have been supplied to more Clergymen and Doctors than all other makes combined. We have sold so many Pianos to the members of these two professions that we have published a book exclusively filled with their names and addresses. It forms a unique testimonial. Write us for it. We mail it free.

People of the refined classes buy them because of their Pure Tone, Flexible Action and Unrivalled Durability. We put it briefly and let the Pianos say the rest.

The exact date has not yet been fixed, but the meeting will in all probability be held in the first week in December.

Entertained the Choir.

Last night the choir of St. Andrew's church was handsomely entertained by Mrs. Geo. Payton. After practice, in response to her cordial invitation, the entire choir repaired to her residence on Brock street, where an elegant luncheon was served. After luncheon a little music was supplied by the choir, which highly appreciated Mrs. Paton's kindness, of which the present occasion was only an example of many others.

Church Dedication.

The new Methodist church at Havelock is to be opened for divine worship on Sunday, the first of November. Three services were held during the day. In the forenoon at 10.30, and in the evening at 7 o'clock Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist church, will officiate. The afternoon service will be conducted by Rev. T. M. Campbell, of Campbellford, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference. On Monday evening a dinner will be served, and a platform meeting will held afterwards.

ACCIDENT AT THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL WORKS.

Three Employees Fall From a High Scaffolding This Morning.

Two Italians and a Frenchman were the victims of a serious accident this morning, which occurred at the Trent Valley Canal works on the big abutments which are being built for the overhead bridge on the Norwood road.

Angelo Gorrage was wheeling a barrow of cement along a scaffolding to the top of the abutment when the plank suddenly broke under the load, precipitating him and the two other workmen to the ground, a distance of nearly thirty feet.

Gorrage was the only one who met with very serious injuries, as he received two deep scalp wounds, and by his fall on the stones beneath had the skin torn in shreds from his back, besides having his internal organs somewhat disarranged. Fortunately no bones were broken.

George Keys and the Frenchman miraculously escaped with only a bad shaking up.

The wounded man was brought over to Frank Anthony's, and his wounds were dressed by Dr. King.

HIT WITH A STONE.

A Well Known Saloon Keeper Knocked Insensible.

It was very cold down at the Driving Park, yesterday, and those in attendance at the races were driven to resort to almost any means to keep themselves warm. A couple of well-known restauranters and an insurance man were running, jumping and playing all kinds of pranks to keep their caloric. Finally they started to throw sticks and stones at one another. On the way home one of them jumped behind a telegraph pole and incautiously put his head out too far as the other two were pelting stones at him. The result was that a stone caught him fairly in the head and the fun stopped very suddenly as poor Martin dropped to the ground unconscious, with an ugly looking gash in his head. He came around in a few minutes again but there was no more stone-throwing.

FINGERS WERE BADLY HURT.

Got Them Caught in a Chain at the Mills.

At the Auburn Woollen Mills, this morning, an employee named Davidson got his fingers caught in a chain and before he could release them the skin was badly lacerated, although, luckily, no bones were broken.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. S. Alexander.

Mrs. S. Alexander, a well-known resident of the town, died yesterday at the advanced age of 81 years. She was the widow of the late S. Alexander, who died a few years ago. The father of the deceased lady, whose maiden name was Harriet P. Hill, was an officer in the Royal Navy during the Thirty Years' War. She was born at Portsmouth, and one or more of the family was born at sea. About the year 1820 the family emigrated to Canada and settled in Otonabee, on lot 15, concession 13. Mr. John Hill, her brother, who, with Mrs. Alfred Gaddy, Otonabee, and Mrs. John Millar, survive her, lives at present on the homestead. The late Mrs. Alexander has lived with the family at the corner of George and London streets for more than thirty years. She was the mother of Mrs. George Schneider, sr., Miss Alexander and Mr. Charles Alexander. The funeral takes place from the family residence on Saturday, at 2 30 o'clock p.m., to Little Lake Cemetery.

The Monkey Show.

The monkey show drew well at the Opera House last night, and the praise bestowed on the performance by those who witnessed it should draw a big house tonight. It is something out of the ordinary and is most amusing. The little animals have been trained to a surprising degree of cleverness.

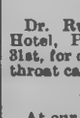
Poison in Them.

Take notice of the school children who use lead pencils, and nine out of every ten of them will apply the point to the mouth half a dozen times in writing twice that number of words. Teachers should caution their scholars against this practice as the lead in the pencil is poisonous; and writing can be done quite as well, and even better, with a pencil in its dry condition as when it is moistened at the mouth. It is never necessary to moisten a good lead pencil.

Mr. Smith on Wag Harding.

Wag Harding, England's premier sculler, is seriously meditating a visit to Canada next year to row Ed. Hanlan. Mr. J. W. Smith, of town, says, in stating his opinion of the relative merits of the two men, that "for Harding's weight he is a wonder and can beat any of them off the mark. He gave Jake the worst of it many times for a short distance, and was not in shape at all when Stanbury beat him. Why, he only weighed 126 pounds that day. Undoubtedly he would beat Hanlan for a mile or a mile and a half, and would probably win from him at any distance. It would be a fine race, though."

"Ian Maclaren's" Popular Works.



The distinguished Scotchman and author of the "Bonnie Briar Bush," and other immensely popular books since issued from his prolific pen, is now visiting Canada, and his presence has stimulated the demand for his books. The following can now be purchased at the Peterborough Bookstore: "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," "In the Days o' Auld Lang Syne," "The Mind of the Master," "The Upper Room," "Katie Carnegie." THE RACES.

A Good Programme of Sport at the Driving Park Yesterday.

The first meet of Peterborough's new Turf Club was held yesterday at the Driving Park and although there was some good exhibitions of speed the attendance was discouragingly small, as little or no advertising was given the affair; comparatively few of the citizens were aware that the races were coming off.

The rain and snow of the previous day made the track very heavy and the pole horse invariably laboured under the disadvantage of having to score up through a couple of inches of mud.

Half mile heats were trotted in both of the events on the programme and the time made, under the circumstances, by some of the green horses was considered fairly fast.

Messrs. George Gobeil and Charles Westlake officiated in the judge's stand.

The first event on the programme was the three minute class trot, which resulted as follows:

Statutom—C H Hill, Port Hope	1 1 1
Sandy B—Ed Brown, Peterborough	5 2 2
The Duke—P Clunan, Peterborough	5 3 3
William Henry—W Rudkins, Peterborough	2 4 4
Hal Pointer—R Croft, Cobourg	4 5 5

Time—1.16, 1.15, 1.14½.

Mr. Rudkins' colt was thought to be the good thing in this race, and was backed for a large amount, as it was said he was quite able to hold his own even with Miss Strider for the distance. The race, however, went to the little Port Hope horse, which could have distanced the field had its driver been inclined to let it out. It is a clean actioned little beast, and seemed to be able to go as fast as it liked. Ruddins' colt also showed up well in this heat and got the place. In the two succeeding heats the Port Hoper again won, and Sandy B. got the place each time.

The second race was the 2.30 class event. There were three entries, and after four heats had been trotted the race had to be called off on account of darkness, as Sandy B. and Miss Strider each won two heats:

Sandy B, Ed Brown, Peterborough	1 2 2 1
Miss Strider, Wm Fahrin, Peterborough	2 1 1 2
The Duke, P Clunan, Peterborough	3 3 3 3

Sandy B. had no difficulty in going out and winning the first heat, but the second and third went to Miss Strider. A good man left the grounds before the fourth heat, thinking that it would again fall to the grey mare, but Mr. Brown displaced his driver and, taking the reins of Sandy B. himself drove the big chestnut to victory. This gave Miss Strider and Sandy each two heats to their credit, but the race could not be finished as on account of the darkness the judges could not see if the horses went off their feet in the back stretch. The race was trotted off this afternoon.

The "bookies" were on the grounds, as well as a number of fakirs, but the Peterborough sports were too much for them and the strangers closed up considerably out in pocket, the "bookies" at the last refusing to take a bet. They were the same crowd which tried to get ahead of the race-goers at Port Perry earlier in the season by endeavouring to skip out on the train without cashing the tickets.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM—MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.

The Mutual Reserve is Always Prompt.

HAMILTON, Oct., 14th, 1896.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, Corner Duane and Broadway, New York, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS,—I have just received from Mr. E. S. Miller cheque for $1,800, the balance in full due under Policy 1537 issued by the Provincial Provident Institution to my late husband, Mr. Henry H. Douglass, and I wish to express by thorough appreciation of the courteous and generous treatment I have received in the settlement of this claim. As soon as the death occurred you were good enough to advance me $200 to meet funeral and other expenses. This was quite unexpected, and is the more highly appreciated because of it being a purely voluntary act on the part of the company. The balance of the claim has been paid long before due, and I have been put to no unnecessary trouble or expense in completing proofs. I thank you heartily, and shall always have a good word for the Mutual Reserve.

Yours very truly,
[S] MRS. ALICE E. DOUGLASS.

ORANGEVILLE, ONT., Oct. 16th, 1896.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, Corner Duane and Broadway, New York, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS,—I have to thank you for cheque just received from Mr. E. S. Miller for One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) in full payment of claim under Policy 14,166, carried by Mrs. Mary J. Hicks, deceased. Payment of claim has been made long before due, and your manner of settlement has been prompt, business-like and satisfactory in every sense of the word.

Wishing the Mutual Reserve the success it so well deserves.

Yours very truly,
[S] JAMES HICKS,
Beneficiary.

PINE VS. CEDAR SHINGLES.

Which has the Greater Durability?

Cedar shingles for roofing have not been in use long enough to decide their durability as compared with pine shingles. But so far it would seem from one instance that pine shingles are the most lasting. Mr. J. L. Hughes, councillor for No. 2 Ward, has had a large experience as a contractor and builder. He recently took down a frame dwelling on Downey street, and is replacing it with a handsome double white brick residence. The shingles on the old building were of pine, and were laid 33 years ago—March 17th, 1863. These shingles were in fairly good condition and did not need renewal, and might have done service for some years yet had not the building they covered been pulled down for other reasons. Cedar shingles have not been in use long enough to bear comparison, but Mr. Hughes inclines to the belief that good pine shingles will outwear cedar, which literally wears away under the effects of the weather. The relative durability of these two kinds of roofing material is an interesting question, and possibly the experience of others may be against the conclusions Mr. Hughes has arrived at.

A PETERBORO BOY

Who Fell Ill Away in Indiana and Arrived in Windsor Penniless—His Fare Paid.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 22.—The health authorities of Windsor were badly scared this morning when a young man arrived from Kalamazoo with all the outward symptoms of smallpox. The health officer was sent for in hot haste, but found that the disease was malaria. The young man said he was Jeffers Wilkinson, 19 years old, son of the Methodist minister of Peterboro. He had been working in Indiana, but fell ill and endeavored to make his way home on a bicycle. At Kalamazoo he gave out and sold his wheel for money enough to bring him to Windsor. When he arrived he was penniless. The city advanced the money to pay his fare home.

[Careful inquiry fails to locate such a gentleman as Rev. Mr. Wilkinson in or about Peterborough. There is a Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, of the Bay of Quinte Conference, stationed at Frankford, and there are Wilkinsons, ministers, in the Montreal, Toronto, Niagara and British Columbia Conferences.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheel Talk and Items of Local and General Interest to Sportsmen.

LACROSSE.

The Peterboroughs and Madocs will come together at Campbellford for their great challenge match on Thursday next. Big excursions will be run from both towns. The Peterboroughs are requested to turn out at the rink to-night with their suits.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Peterborough will be represented in Port Hope to-morrow by a team picked from the following players: Hall, Brown, Lefevre, McRae, Graham, Mudge, Allan, MacGachen, Thorne, Hollingshed, Davidson, Collins, Burnham, Gray, Poucette, Montgomery and Rev. Stevenson.

THE WHEEL.

As an outcome of the Road Race "Shaver" Morgan has challenged "Rap." Bradburn to a matched race over the twenty mile course, Morgan to have a handicap of ten minutes. The outcome of the matched race will be awaited with interest.

The Toronto Globe says: Peterborough tried the experiment of attracting attention to itself by having the fast men go for records on its track, and though the F. M. accomplished their object the eastern town punctured a tire in its race for the meet. It is to be hoped that Chatham, which is at the same game, will not meet a like fate.

The gear even of roadster wheels is constantly rising, 56, 63 and 68 being successive landmarks of the process. Next year one large firm will build no gear below 80 for men's wheels unless specially ordered. This year the "standard" wheels have varied between 68 and 72. Next year 76 will be considered about medium. Women's wheels will be geared between 63 and 72.

"The adjustable handle bar," says an experienced rider, "has proved itself a good thing. Many old riders of wide experience still prefer the fixed bar, absolutely immoveable and always to be found in the same place, but with the large majority of riders the adjustable bar is popular. All who use adjustable handle bars should be careful to see that the nut is set securely when the machine is in use. Destructive wear follows any play at the joint."

FOR THE LADIES.

Miss Fowler, daughter of the late Prof. L. N. Fowler, the prenologist, is quite an authority in England on matters pertaining to the elevation and education of her sex, particularly along the lines of physical training and dress reform. Above all, she is an enthusiastic wheel-woman, and regards the bicycle as one of the blessings of the nineteenth century.

"I know as a positive fact," said she, "that cycling for women is one of the grandest reforms for them that has ever been started. Some women have hugged the idea that men admired small waists, and that one must lace tighter than her common sense or comfort would dictate. But the programme of women's companionship with men has changed.

"The cycling costume is healthful because it is loose and unrestricted. It is the key to hygienic reform in women's dress. I believe it can be made becoming without being in the least masculine or unwomanly.

"In all reforms, many are at first liable run to extremes, but in times things will settle down and women will keep within ther strength. Some think that morality is menaced through the freedom given girls. I think this is the last country to suggest such a thing, for girls are here trained to look after themselves, to take responsibilities early, and if they do not know how to take care of their morals while on their wheels, they will not know how by giving up the bicycle."

The very latest addition to the feminine cycle costume is the Hessian boot legging, which is said to be most fetching. It differs in many respects from the ordinary bicycle legging—possessing all its advantages and none of its discomforts. In appearance it resembles a cavalry boot, and is made of black or coloured leather, and while being pliable and loose about the ankle, above it is stiff enough to retain its boot like appearance, and fits closely around over the instep, following the stitching which joins the upper, to the lower part of the shoe, in this manner making the shoe and legging open like a riding boot. It is neater than the old legging, and much more comfortable when used on a long ride. The picturesque effect which it adds to the bicycle costume is the chief reason for the favour it has already found in the eyes of the bicycle maid; and when worn by a number of fair wheelwomen, riding together, it gives them a thoroughly semi-military appearance, for this Hessian legging is really a adaptation of the full dress military boot. It is chiefly intended for wheelwomen's use, but is also finding favour with the equestrienne, and is being rapidly introduced throughout the country.

Princess Laetitia, Dowager Duchess of Aosta, gave a cyclists' fete, says the Figaro, in the large garden of the Royal Palace at Turin. At seven o'clock in the evening the princesse and twenty ladies in elegant sporting toilettes held a paper chase with forty gentlemen bicyclists, over the paths of the garden, the trees of which were charmingly illuminated with Chinese lanterns. The paper chase was followed by a procession before the Princesse Laetitia, who congratulated the winners.

The bicycle maid, who makes whatever she wishes possible, has laid siege to the match box, which until this year, has been the unquestioned, exclusive property of man; but he is certainly no longer the monopolist of this convenience. It is considered an absolute necessity now a-days that the wheelwomen should carry one of the useful little articles, for should she contemplate a night ride, she needs matches to light her lamp—and consequently she must carry them in a match box—which is the reason that there are almost numberless new and thoroughly artistic designs this year, the majority being much smaller and more dainty than anything in this line previously used. A prominent jeweller was asked: "Do the girls buy them?" To which question he answered: "Yes, indeed; the smaller sizes are made particularly for use." The very prettiest of these new match boxes for girls are of gold, with an enameling that either takes the form of a college or yacht club flag, or resembles a painted miniature, showing a girl on a wheel, or the head of a dog. Several are made with a concealed recess for a photograph, hidden so skillfully that only when a certain spring is touched can the picture be seen. Much less expensive ones are also found in silver, decorated with the outline of a tiny bicycle in enamel.

Two young girls, says the Evening Telegram, of New York, create a mild sensation on the boulevard these days by the daring manner in which they ride a tandem. They wear skirts of the divided persuasion and ride a machine built for man. They do not wear leggings or gaiters, and they do not wear light topped shoes. These points are a necessary preliminary to the subject. At top speed, that is, at a good twelve-mile-an-hour gait, the girl on the rear seat makes a flying dismount to perfection. Her rather daintily formed feet come down on the asphalt pavement with a "spat" that causes the spectators involuntarily to think of the sting of pain that must be felt through the thin soles of her riding shoes. The wonder of her performance is the way in which she manages her skirts, or, to be more accurate, the way in which she doesn't manage them. Most ladies, in dismounting on a single wheel, are inclined to catch the superfluous folds of their riding gown, but this young woman vaults from the rear seat of a tandem and never turns a thread. While going at twenty miles an hour, both girls will rise in their saddles and backpedal the machine ain ost to a standst ll within three times its own length. This is something of a feat, both for ladies and for a tandem. Their hair blows in madcap ringlets about their heads, and when they feel real gay, off comes their caps, and they whirl up the boulevard with a trail of burning tar behind them. When a policeman appears in sight they are just the demurest little things in the world.

A BARE-FACED ATTEMPT

TO INJURE

The Temperance and General Life Assurance Company.

TO THE PUBLIC:—

An anonymous pamphlet, entitled "The Temperance and General Life Assurance Company of N. A. How it treats its policy holders," has been put in circulation, deliberately designed to misrepresent and injure the prosperity and standing of this Canadian Company. It is undoubtedly the work of a dismissed former servant of the Company, actuated by a spirit of vindictiveness at the loss of his position, who was justly punished by being cashiered.

The pamphlet is a most dishonest and misleading one, and if the efforts now being made to prove the guilt of the malicious author, and bring him within the arm of the law, succeed, exposure and punishment will be as prompt and just as the courts will permit.

Regarding the Temperance and General Insurance Co:

1. It has DONE MORE BUSINESS this year than ever.
2. It has a SMALLER DEATH RATE.
3. It has a LARGER INTEREST ACCOUNT per thousand.
4. It has done a LARGER VOLUME OF NEW BUSINESS.
5. It has been paying back LARGER PROFITS to its Policy Holders.

GOOD WORDS FROM OTHER COMPANIES.

A prominent member of a Canadian Life Co. writes as follows:

"Personally I can say unhesitatingly that I believe the Company (The T. and G.) which this pamphlet has been deliberately designed to injure, is in every way a credit to the business of life insurance in Canada. Its record is such as to reflect credit on its management, and should, where it is understood, receive public patronage."

An Ontario agent of the Canada Life, writes:

"I find upon investigation that the Temperance and General Life is SOLID financially, that its investments are well placed, and that large profits are being paid and have been paid to policy holders and shareholders."

Any one who has received any impression from this anonymous pamphlet, that the Temperance and General is unsound and unsafe, should be satisfied with the above, and can be further satisfied by communicating with the undersigned. Agents of other companies are warned against using the said anonymous pamphlet to the prejudice of this Company.

A LITTLE BUDGET OF RIVER AND LAKE NOTES.

Dredging Indian River—Movements of Lumber—Good Duck Shooting.

Duck shooting is reported to be A 1 on Rice Lake and its tributaries, at present.

The City of Peterborough has gone down to Keene to dredge out the mouth of the Indian River, opposite sugar Island. Whilst the boat was leaving the wharf, Sidney Beckett, captain of the City's tender scow, whilst poling the latter from the wharf slipped and fell into the water. He was speedily dredged out by the hands and suffered no more serious consequences than a disagreeable cold bath. While he was being dried out the boys rang the changes on the joke that they didn't think ducking was so good so close to the town.

The steamer North Star arrived in town yesterday from Harwood with a cargo of hogs for Matthews & Co. She left this morning for Harwood, to bring back cargoes of lumber for the Dickson Co., and also a cargo of lumber from Smith's mills for the corporation of Peterborough.

STRANGE CAPTURE OF A DEER.

A Fawn Run Down by a Belmont Man on Horseback.

About three weeks ago Mr. Seeney of Belmont township was riding on horseback near his place, when suddenly there came in sight a fawn and he decided to give the animal chase. His mare seemed instinctively to enter into the excitement of the moment, and away all three went in the race, one not more anxious than the other.

They had not gone very far when the deer stumbled, and the mare struck her front foot against it and it fell. Mr. Seeney quickly dismounted and took hold of the deer, which was springing and struggling to get away. The mare, as if to have sympathy for the little creature, caught hold of Mr. Seeney's arm and whinnied and made a noise as she would over her foal.

Mr. Seeney procured his prize and took it to a stable close by, and afterwards removed it to his own barn, where in a few days it became quite tame, and it will follow him about to be fed as if it had always been used to the premises.

Several good bids have been made to Mr. Seeney for his pet, but none high enough to tempt him to part with it. It is thought that the mother was run and probably killed, and the youngster wandered about and was probably tired when Mr. Seeney came upon it, as it showed signs of drowsiness for a few days after its capture. It is now growing and doing well.

THE CHEESE TRADE.

The strength in the cheese market continues unabated, notwithstanding the large shipments of last week, amounting to 115,813 boxes, or more than double those of the corresponding week last year, and we are inclined to the belief that the shortage in the English make, to which reference has been repeatedly made in these columns, both editorially and in our London correspondence, is beginning to be a material factor in the situation. The strength in the cheese market appears to be coming from the other side now, as buyers there have increased their limits considerably during the past week. They kicked a good deal against the advance on this side; but they now appear to realize the inevitable, and have to pay up in order to get the cheese. The total exports from Montreal up the close of last week were 1,238,832 boxes for the corresponding period last year, showing an increase of 45,000 boxes.—Trade Bulletin.

MINE ENEMY.

Tireless enemy have I,
Who, with arch insistency,
Maketh without sign of cease
Keen attacks upon my peace.

Sad my plight, who never know,
If by night or day my foe
Will, with his strategic art,
Storm the ramparts of my heart.

Through delay and dearth and doubt
I have kept the foeman out;
But I fear the fort must fall,
And his banner top the wall.

And I pine in long duress,
If no friend heed my distress;
Who will come and cause to flee
Love, that is mine enemy?

GLENORA.

A Canadian Beauty Spot Watered by a Wonderful Lake.

Glenora is grand. On one side stretches the Bay of Quinte dotted with several pretty islands, backed by heavily wooded shore to the north On the south is that wonderful Lake of the Mountains. Three hundred feet above the Bay of Quinte is a body of water covering 10 or 20 acres which has apparently no outlet or inlet. Where this water comes from is a mystery and where it goes to also. The bottom of the lake has never been found, though many have tried to sound it. How does this water get to such a height and above Lake Ontario and the Bay of Quinte? It must come from Lake Erie, say the residents of this pretty spot. However, it is now turned to good account as its waters are piped down the hills, beneath which Glenora nestles on the shore of the Quinte several hundred feet below, and made to furnish power to run a large flour mill, a foundry, a machine shop, elevator and electric light plant. Glenora is a peculiar place being a manufacturing point and summer resort. The scenery from the brow of the hill above the village is beautiful and few spots indeed afford a prettier vision for the eye.—Ridgetown Standard.

CHARMING HATS.

Many and Varied Are the Styles for Winter Hats.

A very becoming hat is a rich yellow straw with a tall black crown. It has a pale green gauze ruching lying round and on the brim, with pink roses above, and two plumes at the side. The back is lifted up to show the roses beneath. One of the smartest hats seen is of yellow straw, but with low, wall-fitting black straw crown. The flat brim is trimmed with a long trail of large aeroplane red poppies, with green leaves and buds laid around from the front along the right side. On the left is a tall aigrette of poppies and a big ruffle bow of black satin ribbon. The brim is slightly raised to reveal a bow of poppy red taffeta ribbon set under against the hair.

Another chic model of the sailor shape in rough cream straw with modified bell crown, has a green moire ribbon band folded round it veiled with green chiffon. The brim is lined with green chiffon just showing an edge of the straw. Bunches of large single violets adorn each side with a branch of leaves and buds rising high on the left and another lower on the right. A handsome Leghorn hat has black and green tulle draped round the crown with rich pink and red roses on the brim as well as hidden underneath the tulle, this diaphonous fabric reappearing on either side in aigrette form, with, on the left, a spray of pink and red roses.

Beautiful Hands.

We cannot all possess beautiful hands, nor can we alter the form or shape of them, but we can take care of them and preserve their skin and health generally. There are all sorts of hands—the long and short, the plump and thin—the white hand of the dainty lady and the more useful one of her working sister.

It has been said that the hand expresses the nature of its owner more accurately than does the face; that he who knows how to read the language of the hand has the key to one's character.

This, however, is a subject to be dealt with by the palmists. We are going to discuss how we can preserve and make the best of the surface of our hands, for it is the quality and texture of the skin that really makes or mars it.

It is very strange how few women realize what an important part their hands play in their general appearance; others, especially men, notice our hands far more than we give them credit for, and it is most disillusionising to see a dirty, ill kept hand. It is against all rules of refinement and delicacy, and lace ruffles ill become the wrist of a soiled hand, or one that is fringed with dirty finger nails or ragged quicks. A well-kept white hand is what every woman should desire and try to have, and most women can do so if they will only expend a short time daily on the care of them. A well-cared-for hand denotes refinement. Many of us are obliged to use our hands daily in the operation of household and other work, which tends to roughen and harden them. And so many women let their hands go, thinking that it is not only difficult, but impossible to attain or keep any degree of beauty on this account. This is a great mistake, for it is quite possible, and really not difficult, for even hard workers to have nice hands without any sacrifice of duty, if they only give a little time and thought to the subject. You will see women who otherwise might lay claim to great personal refinement with hands that could scarcely be called clean. Some women seem afraid to wash their hands often, on the plea that it makes them red and rough. Of course, too much washing has its drawbacks, but it is more often the carelessness in drying that does the mischief. Careful drying is absolutely necessary if we would wish to keep the skin smooth and white. A very good plan is to keep some dry oatmeal and rub them with a little of it after washing.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

AGRICULTURE

Loading Fodder Made Easy.

Low wagons are a great convenience, greatly lessening labor in filling silos, hauling fodder, manure, etc. A number of low frames to be attached to ordinary wagons have been illustrated in these columns during the past year. F. N. Buckingham, of Iowa, describes the fodder loader shown at Fig. 1. It has been used in Iowa with very satisfactory results. The timbers a a are the hayrack supports on a wagon high or low. The loader is attached at b b, by means of a long bolt; c is a 2x4 which extends under the wagon and has a sharp iron point at d; c is attached to the loader at e e e by means of a long bolt forming a hinge joint. The shock is laid crosswise and no matter how large the shock, when the team starts, the iron point d catches in the ground and throws the loader up over the wagon, dropping the fodder on the rack. Two or three shocks can be put on at once. The loader is left in the field. Make of material sufficiently strong to hold the number of shocks put on each time.

The cart Fig. 2 can be made from material already on the farm. The body is the ordinary two-wheeled cart body. In place of the straight axle a blacksmith has made a "drop" with the necessary fittings for attaching to the front axle. On this front axle a mowing seat is fitted. Such a cart cannot be dumped, but for nearly all farm operations it will be found a great labor saver.—Agriculturist.

Why Not Grow It.

We spend large sums for cottonseed meal for cattle and linseed meal for poultry, yet we can grow a substitute that can be used in more ways than one and which is fully equal to, if not better than, the substances mentioned. Every farm can be made to produce a crop of sunflower seed. It is too late at this period of the year to grow a crop, but its advantages need not be overlooked. It is claimed that any climate where corn will grow the sunflower can thrive. In Russia it is a staple crop, the oil from the seeds being a specialty. For poultry the seeds may be fed whole or may be ground as meal. All classes of stock will accept the meal as readily as they will cottonseed meal. It is necessary to have the soil rich, but the yield is from twenty to forty bushels per acre, and as food the value is much more than that of grain. If one desires to grow a special crop for poultry next year try a field of sunflowers, which can be grown and cultivated in the same manner as corn.

Crossing Ducks.

All experiments that have been made in crossing the several breeds of ducks have proved unsatisfactory. Mr. James Rankin, of South Easton, Mass., who markets as many as 10,000 Pekin ducklings some years, imported the best Aylesbury ducks he could procure in England for the purpose of experimenting with crosses between the Aylesbury and Pekin breeds. Such a cross should apparently give good results, as the two breeds are very similar in color, size and other respects, but Mr. Rankin finally went back to the pure Pekin, as he found that the Pekins could not be improved by crossing. He secured fairly good results by using the Cayuga, but while excellent crosses came from crossing the Cayugas and Pekins, the black plumage of the Cayuga made the picking of the carcasses difficult, as the pin feathers, being black, showed prominently. It is quite a task to properly pick a duck for market, and more so when the pin feathers are black, for which reason the Pekins, which are white, are the only kind now used.

Italian Sauce.

Melt one and a half ounces of butter in a pan, chop finely two shallots, and two good-sized fresh, or six tinned, mushrooms, and fry these very slowly in the butter till they are a good brown, but not blackened. Now, well dry a sprig of parsley, and tie it up with a sprig of thyme and a bayleaf. Add these to the butter, and, at the same time, one ounce of flour. Stir carefully till the flour is a pale brown, then add one wine-glassful of sherry, stir it in, and let boil about three minutes. Next, pour in half a pint of good stock, stir till it boils and thickens, when add two sliced fresh or tinned tomatoes, one ounce of glaze, and a seasoning of salt, pepper and lemon juice. Simmer gently for ten minutes. Keep it well skimmed. Then strain and use.

More Curative Power

Is contained in a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other similar preparation. It costs the proprietor and manufacturer more. It costs the jobber more and is worth more to the consumer. UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

PARTITIONS IN SILOS.

How They Should be Constructed to Secure Satisfactory Results.

Where several silos are desired, or where two kinds of silage are to be stored so as to be fed at any time, one large silo with one or more partitions will be cheaper than separate silos. In the illustration shown herewith will be seen how a partition may be put in a round silo. By running a second partition at right angles to the first the silo may be divided into four pits, but it is always best to avoid partitions when possible to do so. If a partition is made it should be airtight, but if the filling takes place on both sides at the same time it need not be as strong. In the round silo the partition should be put in after the lining. To make the partition, two thicknesses of inch boards with paper between may be used. These should be nailed to studding made out of 6x6's sawed in two diagonally, using two pieces at each end of the partition, placed so that the sawed face fills the corner formed by the partition.

With the intermediate studs the boards should be nailed to the sawed or wide side, so as to avoid forming square corners.

If a rectangular silo is built, then two layers of matched fencing with tar paper between should be used for the lining. To lessen the spoiling of silage at the corners, these should be cut off with one layer of inch boards about 18 inches long. This should then be lined with roofing tin soldered together into a strip long enough to nail to the lining and to completely cover the two ends of the short boards by as much as two inches on each side. Then it should be kept painted with coal tar to prevent rusting. —F. H. King, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Fall Capes and Sacks.

It is safe to count upon a variety of attractive fall cape models and innumerable short sacks, with or without plaits, made quite straight. These latter are having quite a vogue in Paris already, but perhaps they will be less readily accepted here. Long, tight-fitting coats of light-colored cloth, adorned with large buttons and revers and collar of velvet, of various shades, will be worn.

Skirts for Children.

Holland coats and skirts, the former of the reefer shape and having cross bands of white duck and braid on the collar, cuffs, and round the skirt, are most becoming when the bodice to the kilted skirt is of white duck. A white duck skirt with white cambric blouse and red serge reefer is as smart a costume for children of 9 to 11 as one can desire.

CARNIVEROUS PLANTS.

One Is a Good Fisherman and the Other a First-Class Trapper.

Something new about the bladder wort has been learned recently, according to the Fishing Gazette. The bladder wort is a small floating weed found in the fresh waters of the British islands, and until recently was regarded as an innocent bunch of vegetation; but now it is known that it is destructive to game fishes. "This subtle poacher is armed with almost microscopic jaws along its little branches," and the incautious little fish that rubs up against these gets grasped, and before long dies and is devoured by the plants.

A good many plants are known to subsist on flesh, and one of these, at least, lures its prey into a trap. Every visitor to the Adirondacks knows the hunter's pitcher; some remember it with pain. The pitcher is open at the top, and the rain keeps it half full of water. The thirsty insects see the water, and they go down into it and drink. Having had their fill, the flies try to climb out again, but no trap is surer than the hunter's pitcher. The inside of the pitcher is lined with short, stiff filaments, and the sharp points all incline down. The insect's feet catch in these, and after awhile it gets into the water and drowns.

The Adirondack woodsman likes a joke, and that is why the memory of these pitchers brings pain to the tenderfoot. The woodsman, acting as guide, goes tramping into the woods leading the tenderfoot to some fishing waters. The trail, if on a hot day, is dry as a bone, and at each step the tenderfoot gets dryer and dryer, and begins to want to know how far it is to the next spring. They come to a swamp, and the tenderfoot feels sure there must be water thereabout, but the woodsman says there is not a bit. Then he picks up one of the numerous pitchers, puts it to his lips a moment, then throws it to the ground. Water flies out and the thirsty one sees it. He breaks one off and without examination takes a couple of big swallows. The woodsman shrieks: "Fly soup," and rolls over the moss bed of the swamp. The victim shrieks, too. And for years after the mention of hunter's pitchers makes him gag—it is two or three days before he cares for fish or food.

Work for Their Food.

In the big window of a fashionable barber's shop uptown there are several queerly-made bird cages, in which live the yellowest of yellow canaries. Attached to each of the cages, and projecting from their sides, are flat pieces of brass, on which slide up and down tiny little wagons filled with seed. When the birds need a meal, they pull a string fastened to the fronts of these little carts, and drag them up the inclined plane within reach. After the canaries have had their fill they let go the cords, and the small carts slide back to their buffers, outside the cage.

When water is needed the birds are compelled to pull on a long cord, which draws up a miniature bucket, from which they drink, and then, loosening their hold, the water pail drops down to the bottom of the cage. You see, these birds have been taught to work for their meals, and they seem to enjoy the labor immensely.

A crowd of children is always gathered in front of the barber's window, eagerly watching every movement of the birds, and exclaiming with delight, when they are about lifting their food within easy reach of their bills.—N. Y. Recorder.

Flowers and Ozone.

Dr. Andres, of Philadelphia, says the Hospital Review, a few years ago made the discovery that ozone in the atmosphere, which is the great purifier, was mainly supplied with blooming flowers, and for this reason blooming plants were healthful in dwelling houses as well as attractive.

Some interesting experiments with the odors of flowers have been made in the old world, and it is found that many species of microbes are easily destroyed by various odors. The odor of cloves has been known to destroy these minute creatures in 35 minutes: cinnamon will kill some species in 12 minutes; thyme in 35. In 45 minutes common wild verbent is found effective, while the odor of some geranium flowers has destroyed various forms of microbes in 50 minutes.

The essence of cinnamon is said to destroy the typhoid fever microbe in twelve minutes, and is recorded as the most effective of all odors as an antiseptic. It is now believed that flowers which are found in Egyptian mummies were placed there more for their antiseptic properties than as mere ornaments or elements in sentimental work.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various forms resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. A Garden on Shipboard.

Most people have heard of the hanging gardens of Babylon, the modern roof gardens and the gardens on floating islands in which vegetables used to be grown for the citizens of ancient Mexico, but probably few have heard of a garden on board a ship, with farm yard attachment. The splendid ship Mowhan, now in port, had such an arrangement on board during her trip to Oregon. On leaving Belfast for Portland she took on board as ballast 2,000 tons of Irish soil, which, when leveled off, made quite a stretch of ground, and the ship's company proceeded to put it to good use by planting a stock of garden truck in it. The seeds came up all right and the plants flourished finely and, when the ship was in the tropics grew with great rapidity. As they progressed toward the Horn and the weather grew colder things came to perfection rapidly. The crew and ship's apprentices amused themselves by weeding and cultivating the plants, and the captain and officers took regular walks in the garden daily and all had green vegetables to their hearts' content. As they came round the Horn the garden was replanted and by the time they reached the equator everything was abloom, and all hands feasted on fresh vegetables daily. The only drawback to the garden was the weeds, which grew so rapidly that they could hardly be kept down, and the drove of pigs which was kept in the farm yard attachment and which, on several occasions, when the ship was bucking into a nor'easter and rolling heavily, broke out of the bounds and made serious inroads on the garden. The last pig was killed and served up with green vegetables just before the Mowhan entered the Columbia.

Wood's Phosphodine.—The Great English Remedy.

Is the result of over 25 years treating thousands of cases with all known drugs, until at last we have discovered the true remedy and treatment—a combination that will effect a prompt and permanent cure in all stages of Sexual Debility, Abuse or Excesses, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Mental Worry, Excessive Use of Opium, Tobacco, or Alcoholic Stimulants, all of which soon lead to Insanity, Consumption and an early grave. Wood's Phosphodine has been used successfully by hundreds of cases that seemed almost hopeless—cases that had been treated by the most talented physicians—cases that were on the verge of despair and insanity—cases that were tottering over the grave—but with the continued and persevering use of Wood's Phosphodine, these cases that had been given up to die, were restored to manly vigor and health—Reader you need not despair—no matter who has given you up as incurable—the remedy is now within your reach, by its use you can be restored to a life of usefulness and happiness.

Price, one package, $1; six packages, $5; by mail free of postage.

One will please, six guaranteed to cure. Pamphlet free to any address.

"Going to Insure."

THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." On application to either of the undermentioned gentlemen, full particulars will be furnished in regard to the Unconditional Accumulative Policy issued by the

BANK RATE GOES UP.

Four Per Cent. Now Charged by the Bank of England.

THE RISE WILL NOT AFFECT TRADE

But Will Hurt Imprudent Speculators—That Alliance Between France and Russia—Prince Melcne of Montenegro in Rome—General News by Cable.

London, Oct. 22.—The Bank of England has advanced its rates of discount from 3 per cent. to 4 per cent.

The Globe, in its financial article, says: The rise in the Bank of England's discount rate is not likely to affect trade, though it will hurt imprudent speculators, for a rise in the bank rate can stop the American drain of gold the moment it approaches the danger point. The money market has still a superabundance of loanable capital, which is obtainable at cheap rates upon good security.

The Bank of Bombay has increased its rate of discount from 5 to 6 per cent. All of the newspapers this morning deny the rumor which was in circulation yesterday that the Bank of France had agreed to make a loan to the Bank of England with a view to prevent a raise in the bank rate.

At the Baltic to-day the cargo wheat market was dull at the opening with sellers generally offering at a shilling less than yesterday, and no bids at that.

It was reported by telegraph here that the Berlin wheat market opened with free offerings at four marks down, and that the market was steady at a decline.

SPAIN AND HER COLONIES.

The Prime Minister Explains the Condition of Affairs in Regard to the Wars.

London, Oct. 22.—The Daily Standard's despatch from Madrid says that Queen-Regent Christina presided at the meeting of the Council of Ministers held yesterday. Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister, presented a summary of the events which have occurred in Spain and the colonies within the past three months and a forecast for the near future. The outlook, he said, showed that great distress existed among the people in the southern and eastern parts of the kingdom, which fact would render the collection of taxes during the coming winter slow work. The withdrawals of 20,000 men from the plows and mills within the past 20 months, he said, was severely felt and Spain would, in consequence, be obliged to import large amounts of breadstuffs. The prosecution of the war against the insurgents in Cuba and the troubles in the Philippine Islands had markedly diminished the exports of manufactured and agricultural products to the West Indies and the Philippine Islands, causing great distress and discontent. In the towns and rural districts there was visible a feeling of impatience and anxiety, all classes of the people having been led to hope for quicker and more decisive results from their sacrifices. Everybody, the Premier said, recognizes the fact that the drain cannot long continue at the present pace. Patriotism and national pride alone can check the criticisms of the Government's course. The Liberals, Democrats, Carlists and even the Republicans, have a sort of instinctive presentiment that impels them to cohesion with a view of averting international complications and the dreaded intervention of the United States. The gloomiest feature of the situation, the Prime Minister declared, is the difficulty which the Government finds in obtaining a loan of 1,000,000,000 pesetas to defray the expenses of the war in Cuba and the Philippine Islands, and to strengthen the finances of the country.

The Spanish press is almost unanimous in approving the idea advanced by the Premier of appealing to the native capitalists and banks for funds to enable the continuation of the wars to a successful issue.

Spanish Loan.

Madrid, Oct. 22. — The semi-official Nacional says that the negotiations for a big Spanish loan continue. In the meantime, it adds, the smaller credit operations suffice and assure the resources "necessary to maintain the national honor and defend the integrity of the country." "Spain possesses all the soldiers she needs, and will prove she has the money necessary."

THE BRIDE-ELECT IN ROME.

Princess Helene Wept at the Enthusiasm of Her Future Subjects.

Rome, Oct. 22.—Princess Helene of Montenegro, the affianced bride of the Prince of Naples, whose marriage to the Crown Prince of Italy will take place on Oct. 24, arrived here at 11 o'clock this forenoon, accompanied by the members of her family, who are to be present at the wedding. From an early hour in the morning until the arrival of the Princess the streets from the railway station to the Piazza Di Quirinal were crowded with people, and along the entire route there was a profuse display of Italian and Montenegrin flags. The Piazza termini had been transformed into a huge amphitheatre, capable of accommodating 5000 persons, and this was filled to overflowing. Included in the vast crowd which awaited the arrival of the Princess outside the station were a large number of the societies of Rome and the provinces, with bands of music and flying flags and banners. Assembled within the station for the purpose of greeting the future Crown Princess of Italy were the Marquis Di Rudini, Prime Minister, and the members of his Cabinet; the Mayor and Municipal Council of Rome, the Senators, the members of the Chamber of Deputies, the members of the diplomatic corps, and other dignitaries. Shortly before the arrival of the princess' train the band of the various regiments lining the route from the station to the Quirinal played the Royal March, which heralded the approach of the King, and a few minutes afterward the royal party, consisting of King Humbert, Queen Margherita, the Queen of Portugal, the Duke of Oporto, brother of the King of Portugal; Princess Letitia, widow of the Duke of Aosta, King Humbert's brother; the Duke and Duchess of Aosta, and the Count of Turin, drove up to the station. The train arrived a few minutes later, and immediately upon its arrival King Humbert and Queen Margherita advanced to greet their future daughter-in-law. When the train stopped the Prince of Naples, who was escorting his fiancee, assisted her to alight. The Prince was attired in the uniform of a general of the Italian army. As the Princess stepped upon the platform Queen Margherita was first to greet her, kissing her four times.

King Humbert then embraced Princess Helene, and the Prince of Montenegro kissed the hand of Queen Margherita. The Queen, Princess Helene and the other Princesses then entered the waiting rooms of the station, where they remained until the procession was formed. The waiting rooms were gorgeously decorated with massed flowers. The procession was headed by twenty state carriages, containing the Royal party, which were followed by a regiment of cuirassiers. As the procession started from the station the cannon at the castle of St. Angelo began to boom, and the crowds, which filled every available space, sent up cheer after cheer. The progress of Princess Helene through the streets from the station to the Quirinal was an ovation. Fully 300,000 cheering people lined the route, and the troops in front of them at times found great difficulty in restraining their enthusiasm sufficiently to keep them within bounds.

Princess Helene became greatly excited at the grandeur of her reception, and several times shed tears. The Princess and the Royal party reached the Quirinal at noon. Several persons were severely squeezed in the vast crowds, but no one was seriously hurt.

BURGLARS AT WORK.

Farmer McCracken, Near Port Robinson, Attacked in the Night—Items From Thorold.

Thorold, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Early yesterday morning burglars entered the residence of Mr. Arthur McCracken, a farmer residing about one mile east of the village of Port Robinson, but were foiled in their plans by Mr. McCracken awakening. One of them, however, struck Mr. McCracken on the head with a club, and he, with his wife, fled to the neighbors for assistance. Returning, the would-be burglars were found to have disappeared without having taken a thing. The police are on their tracks.

A convention of the County School Teachers' Association will be held in this place on the 29th and 30th. Mr. F. J. Drewitt, acting Collector of Customs at this place, has received notice to report at Toronto. The filling of the vacancy is being anxiously watched.

On Sunday the water in the level between locks 24 and 25 on the old Welland Canal will be let off to recover the body of Thomas Bradley, a young man 20 years of age, who is supposed to have been drowned on Sunday last. Bradley was last seen wheeling along the tow path by lock 25, and it is the general opinion that he struck a stone going down a slope and was thrown into the water.

FIREMAN BURNED.

He Was Caught in a Back Draught and Forced Into the Flames While Doing His Duty in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, N.Y., Oct. 22.—A five-storey building on Seventh-street, between Second and Third-avenue, occupied by Oscar E. A. Welsaner, manufacturer of spring beds; J. K. Ryan and Wanters Brothers, diamond cutters, and the Etta Knitting Co., manufacturers of ladies' underwear, was burned this evening, entailing a loss of about $250,000. During the progress of the fire Alfred Beaumann, foreman of Engine Co. 39, while standing on an extension of the burning building assisting two companions in getting a hose along the second floor, was caught in a back draught and forced into the flames. When his body was rescued it was burned to a crisp. Three firemen who tried to rescue Beaumann were badly burned.

CONNECTED BY CABLE.

The Different Forts at Halifax Will Have More Complete Means of Communication Than Heretofore.

Halifax, Oct. 23.—The military authorities are laying cables for telegraphic connection between the various Halifax fortifications, which has heretofore been maintained by overhead wires. The headquarters station in the Citadel and the cables radiate from this point to Fort Clarence, George's Island, McNab's Point Pleasant Forts, York Redoubt and Camperdown. In connection with the military cable system each fort is to be equipped with a cable office, and men will be instructed and told off as operators. The system will be very complete and thorough.

A Girl's Dress.

A pretty little girl's dress for rough wear has the skirt carried out in blue serge, as is the blouse part of the bodice. The square yoke finishing, into which the bodice is mounted, is of white flannel, as are the epaulets, and these were closely braided with dark blue tubular braid, in a somewhat elaborate fashion. The full yoke and bishop sleeves are of the white serge, and the wristband, into which the latter were gathered, is treated in the same manner as the epaulets.

Only Natural.

"I've been thinking it over," said young Mrs. Torkins, "and I have concluded that this country had better go right ahead and get some silver money before it's all gone."

"What are you talking about?" her husband asked.

"Why, I saw a piece in the paper which said that silver money is cheap money."

"Of course."

"Well, Charley, dear, doesn't that mean that it's a bargain?"—Washington Star.

CLOAK ROOM

Everybody who has to do with this department is working with a will. Hundreds of New Wraps and Coats are waiting for lookers—perhaps buyers. Don't you think your cloak ideas would be nearest met in a store where style, quality and moderate price always go hand in hand?

Our Mantle Cloths embrace Ulsterings, Rough Effects, Friezes, Golf Cape Cloths, Fancy Cloths for Capes.

Purchasers of Cloths have them cut free of charge.

Carpets and Housefurnishings.

Are selling lively. Sometimes you can beat us 2½c or 5c. Then what? Poor Carpet; poor service; dissatisfaction all round. By buying a Carpet of quality all would have been better. All Carpets of quality have a fixed price. We are clearing 50 pairs Handsome Swiss Curtains, in white and cream a the following prices:

$7.50 Curtains, for..... $5 00
$6.80 Curtains, for..... 5 00
$6.50 Curtains, for..... 4 50
$5.80 and $5.50 Curtains for 4 00
$4.50 Curtains, for..... 3 25
$3.75 Curtains, for..... 2 50

And all our Swiss Embroidered Curtain Nets, at 35c, 45c, 50c and 65c, for 25c the yard.

Fluent

BUT UNSATISFACTORY.

LADIES.

Have you noticed how quickly some storekeepers learn to be "smart" in quoting prices—with great profit to the other storekeepers. Nevertheless they receive marked attention. Their grasp of financial matters is at once recognized when they are entrusted with the arranging of prices on hat pins, hooks and eyes, buttons and corset steels.

Timely Tidings of Underwear Bargains.

Yesterday we started in to clean up our Underwear Department, for you know there has been big selling in these lines at our store and the balance of our Early Fall supply is all broken up.

So we take them and put them in lots at a price—a Bargain price—in order to give you a chance to save money on Underwear, that you may need at once. At the same time, we expect another big lot of Heavier Winter Underwear, in a day or two at rather lower prices than those who bought too heavy and bought too early

You're almost sure to find something in our stock at a good deal less price than the fashionable stores advertise. A "cheap catch" sold at the expense of other goods, is not Miss R's way of doing business.

MISS RUDKINS

413 George St., Crystal Block, Opposite EXAMINER Office.

If You Knew...

How many fashionable people get their clothes made here; you would be astonished. Lots of the best dressed men you meet, are credited with buying their best suits in Toronto, when the truth is, we were the Tailors.

We ask you to think of us when you are ready to be measured for a New Fall or Winter Suit and Overcoat. Whatever can be done elsewhere you may depend can be done here. Pete's right hand is as dexterous and cunning as ever.

No "just as good as" business with us. We're here to suit you—not to dictate. Our advice—if you want it—costs you nothing.

Wheat Regained Over Half the Loss of Thursday.

WILD SELLERS BECAME BUYERS.

Steady Reports From Liverpool Had a Reassuring Effect and Shorts Covered Freely—All the European Markets Felt the Influence—The Gain to the Farmers.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Wheat recovered from yesterday's panic in very short order, to-day's market displaying remarkable strength, and prices regaining more than half their loss. Liverpool was the principal agent in bringing about the altered sentiment. Instead of becoming demoralized at the news of our sensational slump, prices at that place declined only moderately. Traders here became encouraged that a general smash-up was avoided, and some of the people who threw wheat indiscriminately at the close yesterday became sturdy buyers at the opening this morning. Many who went short of the market, finding the prospects of recovery bright, covered freely. Generally speaking, there was a healthier sentiment all around. The greatest strength was noted near the close, a report of another cargo sold for shipment to Calcutta helping prices materially. December wheat opened from 72c to 72 5-8c, sold between 71 1-2c and 73 1-2c, closing at 73 1-8c, 2 5-8c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat was firm and 2c higher.

They All Felt It.

London, Oct. 23.—All of the European wheat markets to-day were influenced by the weakness of yesterday's American market. The Antwerp market opened weak, but recovered after the receipt of cablegrams announcing the opening prices in London and America.

Importers have picked up any cheap offers that were available, but millers for the present are out of the market. Spot wheat was very firm to-day, but it was not following futures downward because the stocks were very light.

In Paris flour is dearer for the current month's delivery. Wheat opened weak, but recovered and closed firm.

The Berlin wheat market opened weak and two marks lower, but recovered and closed firm at half a mark above the lowest price of the day.

In the Amsterdam market wheat was nominally quoted.

The Buda Pest and Vienna markets were weak and lower.

The Danubian and Russian markets closed about a shilling below the top prices of the day on resales due to the weakness of yesterday's American market, but shippers were very firm and declined to accept business except upon their own terms.

Freights were high, ranging from parity with London prices to from 2s to 3s above.

WHEAT AND SILVER.

Practical Argument by the United States Secretary of Agriculture.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Secretary of Agriculture expresses himself thus in regard to the rise in wheat: "The rise of wheat in the Chicago and New York markets during the last 60 days is about 20c a bushel. This on a crop of 450,000,000 bushels makes $90,000,000. At least 200,000,000 bushels of this wheat is now owned by American farmers. Thus, in less than 60 days, wheat has made for its producers about $40,000,000.

"During the same period silver has declined 2c an ounce, from 63c to 65c. The alleged kinship of prices for wheat and silver is disproved. Wheat is divorced from silver on the lawful ground that the relation of supply to demand is the sole regulator of values, and Bryan and Watson and Sewall are made co-respondents because of their scandalous assertions.

"If it be dishonest in a dollar to rise in its power to purchase wheat, is it not equally dishonest for wheat to rise in its power to purchase dollars?"

NEARLY SIXTY MILLIONS

In What the Rise in Price Will Mean to the United States Farmers.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Secretary of Agriculture to-night issued the following: "After a careful canvass of the situation, the most conservative estimate of the amount received by the farmers for their wheat up to the 21st inst., when wheat reached its highest point, is $28,688,000 over and above what they would have received at the prices ruling Sept. 1.

"According to the most reliable advices and the experience of good authorities enjoying special advantages for forming sound opinions, not less than 45 per cent. of this year's crop is still in the farmers' hands. In view of the uncertainties of the market, it is difficult to estimate the amount that will be received by producers for that portion of the crop still in their hands, but on the basis of yesterday's prices there would be a further gain of nearly $30,000,000 over the value based on the prices ruling Sept. 1. If, therefore, the average price of wheat should not fall below the present figures, the proceeds from the sale of this year's wheat crop will net the farmers not less than $58,688,000 over and above the value of the crop on Sept. 1."

PROSPECTS IN INDIA.

Nothing New to Report From the Drought Districts—Government Alert.

London, Oct. 23.—A despatch to The Times from Simla, India, says:

"There is nothing new to report in the drought districts. No rain has fallen lately. The advent of the northeast monsoon is anxiously watched for, as it may give a good rain in Madras, with heavy showers in Hyderabad and the eastern parts of the Central Provinces.

"Official reports indicate that up to the present the rural population of the Northeast Provinces and of Oudh are fully employed in the ordinary farming operations.

"The Government has schemes cut and dried for relief works in the shape of feeder roads, small irrigation projects and minor railway lines. The Provincial Governments are closely watching for signs of distress."

The Feeling in Liverpool.

Liverpool, Oct. 23.—To-day's wheat market opened cheaper than yesterday under the influence of American advices, but there were few realizations. The market further receded after the opening, but speculation was renewed with the result of advancing the price 23s 4d per cental from the bottom prices. Under the influence of disappointing American cables, the market eased off towards the close, finishing a farthing lower on the day. The general undercurrent of the market is favorable to an advance, to-day's decline being merely a natural reaction after the late rise.

Up Again at 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Higher prices at Liverpool, New York and Chicago had a stimulating effect on the local wheat market this morning. At the early call December opened at $1.35 1-2 and closed a cent lower. May opened at $1.39 and dropped to $1.38 5-8. The second session was animated. December ran from $1.36 3-4 to $1.37 1-2, at which it closed. May opened at $1.40 and sold up to $1.40 3-8, nearly 100,000 centals changing hands. May jumped to $1.43 at the final morning session, subsequently receding to $1.41 3-4; December climbed to $1.39, and after many fluctuations closed at $1.38 3-8.

DID ANARCHISTS DO THIS?

Report of a Conspiracy to Blow Up a Number of Business Establishments in the States.

Yonkers, N.Y., Oct. 23.—Following the discovery yesterday of the battery by which the bomb was exploded in the Arlington Chemical Works, Wednesday, in which Hamlin J. Andrus was blown to atoms, is the statement made to-day by the brother of the murdered man, which is of the most startling kind. It is nothing less than that the secretary of the chemical works was slain by Anarchists and that he was the first victim of a plot that had a score or more on its death list. Two men at least are under suspicion, and they may be arrested at any moment. They certainly will not be permitted to leave the city.

John Andrus, President of the Chemical Company, is many times a millionaire. His belief is that it was intended that he should have been the first victim and then in rapid succession, all the rich men of Yonkers, if not of New York City, would, one by one, have been taken off. Mr. Andrus said to-day: "I am satisfied that we have in our possession information which points to but one conclusion, that my brother was murdered by anarchists, and if it takes every dollar of the millions which I possess the miscreants shall be brought to justice. I know from the reports made to me by detectives whom I have employed, that there is right here in Yonkers, a band of anarchists, and they have sworn to kill every rich man here."

A test of a four-cell electric battery, made by the expert electrician this afternoon, proves that the bomb used to kill Hamlin J. Andrus was fitted up with clockwork. This test proved that a spark from a four-cell battery could not set off a bomb. It could, however, start the machinery which caused the explosion.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said the electrician, "that the bomb was fitted out with clockwork. The current from the battery was sufficiently strong to overturn the bomb, causing the two acids which it may have contained to unite and explode."

HIS ARM SAWN OFF.

Deplorable Accident to Young Harry Anning in a Kincardine Furniture Factory.

Kincardine, Ont., Oct. 23.—A serious accident happened to-day at the furniture manufactory of Messrs. Watson & Malcolm, when Harry Anning, a youth of 15 years, son of Mrs. Anning, a widow of this town, while at his work attending a planing machine slipped and fell, striking on his elbow, the knife of the planer severing the left arm a few inches below the shoulder. Young Anning had only been with the firm about a week and to be thus handicapped in his first start in life is lamentable.

TO GET IMMIGRANTS

Is One of the Objects of the Government.

AGENTS TO BE EMPLOYED THEREFOR

Canadians Have Deposited Over Eight Million Dollars in the Postoffice Savings Banks During the Past Fiscal Year—The Financial Statement—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 23.—C. O. Swanson, a Scandinavian, who has been employed by the Department of the Interior in promoting immigration, has been detailed to proceed to the New England States again, with the object of inducing his fellow-countrymen to remove to Manitoba. At present Mr. Swanson is visiting the States of Minnesota and Dakota, and may pick up quite a number of emigrants in those States. Nothing has been done towards filling the position held by Mr. Baldwinson for many years as Icelandic Immigration Agent. The local Government of Manitoba, however, has detailed an Icelander, Mr. Paulsen, to visit his own country with a view of inducing immigrants to come to Canada.

The statement of business of the Postoffice Savings Bank, which will appear in the forthcoming annual report, is a record of steady growth in this branch of the public service. The number of postoffice savings banks on July 1 was 755, an increase of 24 in the year. On July 1, 1896, the number was 392. The total amount deposited last year was $8,138,917, while the withdrawals amounted to $7,406,066. The total number of accounts remaining open on July 1 was 126,442. The total amount standing to the credit of depositors was $28,932,939, the average of each account being $228. The cost of managing this branch of the service was $58,340, the average cost of each transaction, that is withdrawals or deposits, being 24c.

Permission has been granted by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to the United States authorities to take whitefish spawn in the Bay of Quinte in order to supply the hatchery at Cape Vincent, N. Y. The spawn will be taken under the supervision of our overseer at Belleville. The authorities of the Cape Vincent hatchery have undertaken to deposit a considerable portion of the fry in Canadian waters, so that our own fishermen will directly benefit by the concession.

The Department of Fisheries has been asked to permit of hoop net fishing in that portion of the St. Lawrence contiguous to the Thousand Islands. Inasmuch as the Americans are strictly carrying out the agreement with Canada in the matter of preserving the fisheries at this point, the request is not likely to be granted.

The attention of the Postoffice Department has been drawn to the fact that firms using private post cards are getting into the habit of placing advertising matter on the front of the card, which, by the regulations, is to be confined to the address only. These additions include trade marks and different kinds of cuts. Hereafter cards of this character will be refused transmission through the mails.

Rev. Father Babineau, parish priest of Tracadie, N. B., at which place the Canadian Lazaretto is located, was here to-day and interviewed the Deputy Minister of Public Works in order to secure a few additional requirements at the lazaretto. Father Babineau states that the grey nuns, with their 24 unfortunate charges, are now domiciled in the new hospital erected by the Dominion, and there is a degree of comfort for patients and their devoted nurses which was not possible under the old order of things. Only a few furnishings are required to make all thoroughly comfortable.

The Finance Department have closed the books for the last fiscal year. The revenue totals $36,617,484 and the expenditure $36,980,966, a net deficit of $363,481. In previous years the net deficit was $4,079,532. The total expenditure on capital account was $7,008,540, as against $4,340,833. The net debt on June 30 was $258,528,304. The quarterly statement up to Sept. 30 shows the revenue to be $8,846,208 and the expenditure $4,662,350. The revenue is thus increased by about a quarter of a million, while the expenditure is decreased $950,000.

An order-in-council has been passed authorizing an extension of the contract to the Allans for the mail service for one year ending November, 1897.

According to advices received at the Department of Marine and Fisheries the new gas buoys on Lake Erie are a great success. The masters of the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company, who were asked to specially report on them, say they are visible on clear nights seven miles away. Lake captains are loud in their praises of the Dominion Government for instituting these buoys.

Commissioner Miall, speaking of the grain standards, points out that the main change in the regulations, viz., the exclusion of scoured wheat from the three highest grades (instead of from No. 1 hard only) has the adhesion of every member of the Standards Board, and they have been instructed to select their standard samples on this basis. This has really been the cause of the annual battle of the standards during the last 3 years. It is now settled by the unanimous vote of a board consisting of farmers, millers and exporters.

A report current here to-day that Mr. Sifton had declined the Interior portfolio created considerable talk in official circles.

The change of Government is doubtless the cause of a tremendous rush of applicants for permission to write at the ensuing civil service examinations. The list of applications far surpasses all previous records. The time for receiving them has had to be extended and the applications are coming in by scores from all parts of the Dominion. It has been decided to add Calgary and Vancouver to the outside points where the examinations will be held. There have been changes made, too, in some of the deputy examiners in the direction of increased efficiency. On no account will any applications be received after the 31st instant, the time being extended to that day.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE bicycle hasn't run out the faithful horse yet. In the states of New York, Ohio and Michigan returns show that there are nearly 50,000 more horses than last year.

THE rise in the prices of grain will be of solid value to Canada, representing an estimated gain of nearly sixteen and a half millions of dollars. The gain is based on the estimated crop for '96.

DR. BERGIN, of Cornwall, whose death resulted on Thursday, from accident, was one of the oldest members of the House. He entered Parliament in 1871. He was a staunch adherent of the Conservative party.

THERE is considerable stir in common stock lumber among the Ottawa lumber merchants. Simultaneously with the rise in the price of wheat, the price of lumber has gone up, but the cause is as yet unknown.

THE tariff inquiry will begin about Nov. 10th, and will be conducted by Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Patterson. Arrangements have been made to visit Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Quebec, St. John and Halifax.

THE annual financial statement of the Dominion for the year ending June 30th, 1896, has been made public. The deficit for the year is $363,481, and the increase of debt $5,528,831. The net debt is now $258,528,304. The revenue on account of consolidated fund was $36,617,484 and the expenditure $36,980,966.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER is now engaged in reorganising the Conservative party. No one should be better qualified for the work than the man who wrecked the party at the late general elections. Sir Charles thinks the Laurier Government is weak—a very natural opinion, but very like whistling to keep up courage.

MR. TARTE has reduced the force in his department by 40. To sympathise with the men who thus lose their employment is, the Globe says, natural, but it is one of those unpleasant duties that have to be performed. The public looks to the new Ministry to carry on the public business as economically as possible and to relieve it of the swollen pay rolls that eat up the public revenues at Ottawa. The calls upon the Dominion exchequer for works of a reproductive kind during the next few years will be very great, and to meet these demands without increasing the expenditure will require a jealous watchfulness against leaks of all kinds. By such a policy the labour market will in the long run be vastly benefitted. The money which is frittered away in Ottawa, if applied, for example, to the development of the cold storage business, would be more productive in the way of providing work for the unemployed than if it were distributed to persons at the capital for whose services there is really no use.

I was a great sufferer for years with acute kidney disorder and pain in my sides. When almost all other known remedies had been fairly tried and had failed, I was advised to take South American Kidney Cure. One bottle did me so much good I purchased two more. I am now completely restored—feel better than I have for five years. It's a great cure; will give relief in six hours, and I delight in recommending it to others. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

ONCE SHE WAS PRETTY.

Married Well But Became Addicted to Drink and at Last Died in a Hovel.

Toronto, Oct. 24.

Sarah Leslie, a dissolute woman once much respected, and the wife of a prominent East End citizen, died suddenly at about 6 o'clock last night in the ramshackle place old John Richardson calls a home at 173 Simcoe-street.

Deceased had been drinking very heavily of late and yesterday, with Richardson, she consumed a large quantity of whisky. At noon she lay down on the dirty mattress which answers the purpose of a bed in John's scantily furnished apartment, and John lay on the floor with his head on the foot of the mattress. When Richardson awoke soon after 6 o'clock he attempted to arouse his companion, but his efforts were useless, and he rushed out for a doctor. After calling at the homes of half a dozen medical men he got Dr. Macdonald of Simcoe-street to call and see the woman, who had been dead some time when the doctor arrived.

Dr. Macdonald notified Coroner Johnson, who issued a warrant for an inquest on Monday and the remains were taken to the Morgue in the patrol wagon.

Sarah Leslie was a few years ago a pretty milliner and dressmaker. Her maiden name was McGee, and she was looked upon as one of the cleverest women in her profession in Toronto, and was much sought after by the leading stores. After a short period of married life she became addicted to liquor and a separation from her husband followed. Since then she had been leading a wanton life, and it is now nearly two years ago that she became identified with John Richardson, who is a "scissors-to-grind" man and umbrella mender, well known on the streets.

Just previous to the time deceased threw in her lot with John a woman named McKee, a niece of Richardson's, died very suddenly under somewhat similar circumstances at the same house. Her husband was with her at the time of her death, on the same mattress on which the Leslie woman died last night. Coroner Johnson looked into the circumstances of that case, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary, heart disease having caused death.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood.

BOTH SIDES COCK SURE.

Republicans Can Count McKinley in, While Democrats Say Bryan Will be the Next President.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Hon. Lewis D. Apsley, vice-chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, to-day gave out the following statement:

"On Sept. 7 I predicted that Major McKinley would have 302 electoral votes. After a careful study of the canvass, and from information I now have, I feel confident that this will be increased to 325 from the following states:

"New England, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, North Carolina, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, California, Oregon and Washington. In addition to this 325, there is a probability of his receiving 44 additional electoral votes from Missouri, Texas and Virginia.

"I concede to Mr. Bryan only the 78 electoral votes from Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, South Carolina, Louisiana and Utah.

"About 10 days ago Chairman Babcock estimated that we would elect not less than 194 Republican members to the next House. The information we have since received justifies me in predicting now the election of at least 224 sound-money Republicans to the 55th Congress.

"Mr. Babcock is making a vigorous and aggressive fight, and I believe his efficient work between now and election day will materially increase this number.

"I look for some phenomenal majorities in a great many states. In my own state, Massachusetts, I expect to see Major McKinley's majority more than 125,000, and the majority for our candidate for Governor, Roger Wolcott, will exceed this figure, in view of the fact that the Democratic and Populistic candidate, George Fred Williams, will receive less than 75,000 votes."

THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE.

Chairman Faulkner Says W. J. Bryan Will be the Next President.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, talked more positively this morning about the result of the election than at any time up to the present. "William J. Bryan will be the next president of the United States," said he. "The information that has come to us during the last week shows that nothing can now stem the tide that has set in in his direction. Kentucky is good for 20,000 majority, and Maryland, which has tried a year of Republican rule, will cast her vote to save Kentucky. West Virginia will shake off the nightmare of two years ago and redeem herself in the eyes of the country, both in the Presidential and Congressional election. It is conceded by everyone that we will carry everything west of the Missouri River, and this, with the South and the states I have named, gives Mr. Bryan 230 votes, with but four necessary to elect him. For those four he has the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota to draw from. Does anyone doubt that he will get votes in some of these states? Minnesota will elect Linn Governor, and the same votes that elect him will, under the secret ballot, give the state to the Democratic candidate for President. Michigan is to-day safely Democratic. The election is all over but counting the vote, and I say to you that Bryan will be the next President."

Mr. Hobart is Confident.

Paterson, N.J., Oct. 23.—The Morning Call of this city will to-morrow publish the following:

Paterson, N.J., Oct. 23.—To the Editor of The Call: My opinion now is that we will carry all the Eastern States and all the Middle Western States, also Kentucky, North Carolina, West Virginia and old Virginia. All these I consider sure and do not include any States that might in any sense be regarded as merely possible or doubtful. You may tell the readers of The Call that, in my opinion, based on the most reliable information, there is no doubt whatever of the election of Major McKinley, and the only question now involved is the size of the majority he will have in the Electoral College.

(Signed) Garrett A. Hobart.

A Narrow Escape.

The five and a half year old son of Mrs. Isabella Sullivan, 65 Walnut street south, Hamilton, was placed in a precarious position last fall, the cause of which was rheumatism and kidney trouble. He grew so week that he was unable to stand. His appetite left him and up to the time that he began to take Ryckman's Kootenay Cure his case seemed hopeless. After taking the medicine for a week he began to improve, and to-day is free from all pain and as healthy a boy as one could wish for. He plays hard all day, and is completely cured. His mother makes the same statement under oath, Aug. 25th, 1896, before T. F. Lyall, Commissioner.

MONEY SAVERS.

For Families Who Desire to Economize.

Diamond Dyes the Agents.

It would require many large volumes to give a complete record of all the strong testimonial letters written by the women of the country in favour of Diamond Dyes. These indispensable aids in good housekeeping are gaining in public favour every week, and once tried, they become permanent home favourites.

Just think of it! One package of Diamond Dye will colour from one to six pounds of goods, according to shade desired. This is wonderful work when the small expense is considered.

Your last year's jacket, suit, cape, dress, and your husband's suit and children's clothes may be soiled, faded and unsightly; but with a ten cent package of Diamond Dyes you can work wonders, and make the old things look like new for this season's wear.

Have you ever tried this work with Diamond Dyes? One effort in this direction of true economy will convince you that Diamond Dyes are money savers to the family.

An Invalid Chair.

Carrying an invalid can be easily managed by two people of average strength. They should join their hands crosswise, so as to form a firm seat. If the invalid is lifted on to this, and puts his arms round the necks of the two persons, he may be carried with perfect safety up and down stairs.

Fur Rugs.

To soften the skin of a fur rug put a little vaseline on the hands, and then rub the skin and work it till it softens. This will not be done all at once.

Why Waste Money On The Tailors? We'll Fit You For Less Money

We Caught a Man Who Was

looking for a tailor. He was quite fastidious in his taste. Never bought ready-made suits. Preferred to pay a tailor double the price of the best Suits in the ready-made line so as to get a fit. He supposed he had to. Never had investigated our line. Didn't know that if a suit was made to fit him every way with the exception of a few minor particulars, that we would cut over those particulars and put the suit onto him A PERFECT GARMENT. With his exquisite taste of course he was a poet. At any rate he was a Longfellow. His first question was "can you fit ME?" Our reply was that it made no difference whether he was six feet from crown to toe, or

SIX FEET FROM BACKBONE TO COWCATCHER

We had a "Kast Iron" make that would meet his form everywhere. He looked and was conquered. Sold him a suit he had never got before for less than $18, for $10. Got lots more of them from $3.25 up. Can get 'em at any price up to $15. We never sell anything higher than that. That's the price for the very best Sunday-go-to-meetin', see-yer-best-girl suits. And they are dandies.

Have you seen our frost proof Frieze Ulsters, ranging from $4.95 to $12.00. We have a few snaps left in Boys' Two-Piece Suits that will surprise you. We are giving them away at present for $2.38

A VICTIM OF SCIATICA.

UNABLE TO WORK THOUGH STRONG AND WILLING.

The Sufferings of a Well-known Guelph Citizen — Could not Move About Without the Aid of a Stick—Again as Strong and Healthy as Ever.

From the Guelph Mercury.

There is perhaps no business or occupation that any man could follow that is more trying to the health—particularly in the winter—than that of moulding. A workman leaves the shop with his clothing wringing wet from perspiration, and a cold wind chills him to the marrow, making him a ready mark for lumbago, sciatica and kindred troubles. A moulder requires to be a man of more than ordinary strength, and to continue at his work must always be in good health, for the moulding shop is no place for an invalid. Sciatica is by no means an uncommon affliction for men of this craft, and once the dread disease has fastened a victim he seldom shakes himself free from it again. In fact some people declare that it is incurable, but that it is not we are able to testify by a personal interview with one once afflicted with the trouble, but who is now in perfect health, thanks to his timely use of the famous remedy. There are few workmen better known in Guelph than Chas. W. Waldren, perhaps better known as "Charley Waldren," for he has lived in Guelph almost continuously since he was three years of age, and he has now passed the 36th mile post. Mr. Waldren is a moulder, and has worked at that business for 22 years; and besides being noted as a steady workman, he is a man whose veracity is unquestioned. It is a well known fact here that Mr. Waldren had to quit work in January, 1896, on account of a severe attack of sciatica, and for eleven weeks was unable to do a tap. Knowing that he was again at work a Mercury reporter called at his residence one evening to learn the exact facts of the case. Mr. Waldren, when spoken to on the subject, replied quite freely, and had no hesitation in crediting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with his remarkable recovery. "I am not one of those people who are seeking newspaper notoriety, said Mr. Waldren, "neither have I been snatched from death's door, but from the day when I quit work, until March 30th, when I started again, I was confined to the house with sciatica. It located in my hip and would shoot down my leg to my foot, and was very painful. I could not move about the house without the aid of a cane, and then only with great pain. I was totally useless as far as doing my work was concerned, was never free from pain, and it made me feel very much depressed, for beyond that I felt strong and anxious to be about. I am a member of 3 benefit societies from which I drew pay, viz., The Three Links, the Iron Moulders' Association and the Raymond Benefit Society. People came to see me, and of course everybody recommended a sure cure. I didn't try half of them. It was not possible, but I tried a great many—particularly remedies that I had been in the habit of using for lumbago—but I found no relief. I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using two boxes I noticed an improvement, and I kept on using them. When I had used six boxes I was back at work again. I kept on until I had used the eighth box, and I never felt better in my life.

"Have you noticed any recurrence of trouble since?" queried the reporter. "I have not," he replied, "suffered a single twinge since." Mr. Waldren has worked in all the moulding shops in the city, and was never in his life laid off sick as long as he was from the attack of sciatica. He hardly knew what it was to be sick, and is of that tough, wiry nature that he can stand much greater physical strain than most people would imagine. Almost any person in the city can verify his story. Mr. Waldren said, as the reporter got up to leave, "I only hope some poor fellow who has suffered as I did may notice my case and get relief as I did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBE & Son, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Chenette of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McCombe of a long-standing cold.

Mr. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 328 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

some exploring on his way out. He will traverse a portion of the Taku route, which is said to be the best for access to the Yukon district.

Regarding the story from Washington that the Canadian Government is proposing another international commission to determine the exact location of the 141st meridian along the Alaska boundary, this work has already been fully gone over by Mr. Ogilvie, and confirmed by the Americans.

Mr. Leopold Meyer of Brussels, Belgium, is here, accompanied by Messrs. B. L. Nowell and G. Saunderson, of Montreal, mining experts. The object of their visit was to ascertain the prospects for the investment of capital in mines, both in Canada and the United States. Mr. Meyer respesents a wealthy Belgian mining syndicate, and, in company with the above named gentlemen, it is his intention to investigate mining properties in British Columbia and the Northwest. From there Mr. Meyer will proceed alone to California, Mexico and South America.

A military institute similar to those now in existence in Toronto and Montreal is soon to be formed in this city. Major-General Gascoigne has formally requested the commanding officers of the local corps to appoint two officers, each to form a committee to consider the matter of organization.

Captain Lee of the Royal Military College, Kingston, was in town to-day.

Sir John Carling is spending a few days in the city.

Hon. Mr. Blair and Chief Engineer Schreiber will commence their inspection of the St. Lawrence Canal system on Monday. After visiting the Cornwall, Williamsburg and other canals, they will cover the route of the proposed Trent Canal.

Arch. Campbell, M.P., of West Toronto Junction, was here to-day on departmental business.

Col. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Marine Department, has left for New Brunswick to locate sites for a number of new lighthouses.

Dr. A. E. James, the Government Inspector of Sheep, has inspected over 2000 sheep during the past week. The animals were shipped to the United States. The Doctor states that they were in excellent condition.

It is hardly likely the Major-General Commanding will be in Toronto Thanksgiving Day, as he is booked to inspect the 43rd on that day.

Major McLennan, M.P., was here to-day and had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. McLennan goes to Manitoba and the Northwest next week.

Mr. Clarke Wallace arrived here to-day and left by the afternoon train for the Pacific coast. He expects to stay a week in British Columbia. Clarke has got a touch of the mining fever.

Prof. Mavor of Toronto University has consented to lecture here during the winter.

Patron Secretary Lockie Wilson was here the other day, and, talking over the present vacancy in Cornwall and Stormont, he insisted that the Patrons were entitled to nominate a candidate in a bye-election.

EX-SPEAKER CRISP DEAD.

One of the Most Popular Men That Ever Sat in Congress Taken Off by Heart Disease.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 23.—Ex-Speaker Charles F. Crisp died at 2.15 p.m. of heart disease. He had been at a private sanitarium here for 60 days.

A Much-Liked Man.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The serious illness of Ex-Speaker Crisp and the probability of its terminating fatally has been known to his intimate friends here for some time, but has only been spoken of confidentially. His ailment took its origin in the excitement arising out of his joint debate with Secretary Hoke Smith last summer. When he was forced to withdraw from that debate for physical reasons, his friends persuaded him to enter a sanitarium for treatment. He was subject to heart disease. Reassuring reports as to recovered health have appeared from time to time, but they have been largely discounted by those fully informed as to the facts.

Mr. Crisp was one of the best-liked men in Congress. He commanded the respect of friends and opponents by his abilities and his generally unruffled judicial fairness, which was broken upon only once or twice during the bitter controversy with Speaker Reed over the Reed rules. He was born in Sheffield, Eng., where his parents had gone on a visit in 1845, and this fact took him out of the category of vice-presidential possibilities, when some years ago his name was suggested for that office. He was brought to the United States before he was a year old, was educated in Savannah and Macon, Ga., served in the Confederate army, and was made prisoner; was admitted to the bar in 1866, became successively State Solicitor-General, Judge, Congressman and Speaker of the House of Representatives in the 52nd and 53rd Congress. His congressional career in the Lower House extended over 14 years, and he was the choice of his party for the United States Senate when he died.

HE AILED MANY YEARS

Kidney Trouble of Some Kind—Lame Back and Weakness—Cured by a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brockville, Oct. 12 (Special.—As stated by Mr. Wm. A. Stagg himself, the facts of his quite recent perfect recovery from weakness and ailments many years suffered are as follows:—To a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I owe my complete cure from weakness and lame back, which had clung to me for many years. As soon as I decided that the cause might be from derangement of the kidneys I procured a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that only a few boxes were taken before I was as well as ever.

Queer Experience at Sea.

A unique experience, even in the annals of the sea, was that of the bark Alice, which reached Portland, Me., after a stormy voyage of ten days from Turk's Island, in the Caribbean sea. The bark carried a cargo of salt, and she had been out but a day when it was found that the salt had soaked through into the water butts and every drop of fresh water was spoiled. The captain hoisted signals of distress and made provisions for condensing water, but all he could do was to provide half a cupful a day for each man. It was seven days before a vessel was sighted and a small supply of water secured.

Human life is held to cheaply when the individual who needs a tonic for his system, seeks to cover his wants by purchasing every new mixture that is recommended to him. Remember that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a well-earned reputation of fifty years standing.

MR. TARTE IN WINNIPEG

Rumor That He Will Attend a Cabinet Council and That the Terms of Settlement Will be Published.

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—There will be a meeting of the Local Government Cabinet Council to-morrow, at which it is rumored Hon. Mr. Tarte will be present. The schools settlement will be discussed and the terms likely be made public. Hon. Mr. Cameron returned from Ottawa to-day.

Hon. Israel Tarte and party reached here this afternoon and will remain three days the guests of Lieut.-Governor Patterson. At Government House to-morrow there will be a public reception in Mr. Tarte's honor, and Monday evening the faithful will banquet him. Saturday morning he will discuss improvement of Red River navigation with the Board of Trade and City Council.

The Toronto and Montreal members of the Grain Standards Board left for home to-day, all the standards being satisfactorily fixed.

Sir Hibbert Tupper passed through to-day en route to the Pacific coast in connection with the sealers' claims.

Maud Gowdie of Grenfell was instantly killed yesterday by the accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of her father.

A Better Day.

The press is now advocating the changing of Thanksgiving day from Thursday, as usually appointed, to a Monday. If, instead of Thursday, Monday was chosen, it would give greater facilities for people to go abroad, and provide two successive holidays, and for many, two days and a half. The statutes provide that any day may be taken.

Storing Apples.

To keep apples and other fruit, store the barrels in a cool place. Heat destroys more apples than does cold, and alternate freezing and thawing is also disastrous. The location for the storage of apples is therefore more important than anything else. Store only sound and perfect apples, and do not allow even one to be bruised, as an imperfect apple may injure all in the barrel.

The Sewer Connections.

The Chief of Police has been handed a copy of certain clauses of the sewerage by-law, whereby citizens are forbidden to open up the streets for drains, etc., unless by special permission of the council. Whilst the sewer contract calls for old connections to be replaced, still it is not intended that the contractor shall make new connections, the council having decided to handle this part of the sewerage system through its own officials. The bylaw in this respect is to be rigidly enforced.

Fortnightly Club.

The meeting of the Fortnightly Club to be held on Tuesday evening next will be open to the public. A paper will be read by Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., on the "Silver Question," and by reason of the approaching presidential election, the subject should provoke an excellent discussion. In view of the general interest taken in the subject, the Executive Committee have decided to invite the general public to take part in the discussion. The meeting will take place in the County Council Chamber, at eight o'clock.

St. Andrew's Church Choir Hallowe'en Concert—Thursday, Oct. 29th.

"The concert given by the Belle Rose Emslie Concert Company in the Opera House last evening was a great artistic and financial success, and only what the splendid programme given by these talented artists deserved. Belle Rose Emslie is one of the cleverest readers that has ever been here, for her readings, whether funny or sad, were equally well given. Charles Kelly, grand basso, was as great as ever, time deals very kindly with Mr. Kelly. Miss Kelly is a very clever musician playing with equal artistic skill the piano and mandolin and has a very sweet contralto voice which she uses with great art. The audience was a very enthusiastic one and encores were the rule of the evening."—Almonte Gazette.

THE SMALLPOX SCARE.

Jeffers Wilkinson Does not Live in Peterborough.

Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, to-day received a telegram from Dr. P. H. Bryce, Provincial Health Officer, Toronto, stating that a young man, giving his name as Jeffers Wilkinson, son of a Methodist minister in Peterborough, was on his way east, and was suspected of being infected with smallpox.

The telegram, further, instructed Dr. Clarke to see Wilkinson at once upon his arrival in Peterborough and ascertain if there was any ground for the suspicion, and to telegraph at once concerning the matter.

The young man in question is the same concerning whom there was a paragraph in yesterday's EXAMINER. His father does not live in Peterborough, but it is thought to be a Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, who was formerly in Woodville and is now stationed in Frankford.

The receiving of the telegram by the local medical health officer is a proof of the vigilance of the provincial officers and their solicitude for the health of the people of the province.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

A Fine Healthy Baby Girl Ready for Adoption.

The Children's Aid Society received a letter this morning from a well-known resident of Harvey, telling of a young woman who had a fine healthy girl baby, eight months old, both being in a destitute condition with regard to clothes.

They are anxious for the society to take the child, over which it will do if an application is received from a desirable foster parent.

The child is too young to put in a temporary shelter. In the meantime clothes for both mother and child are much needed and can be sent to the agent of the Children's Aid Society.

THE COUNTY TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

A Reminder of the Coming Meeting—An Evening Entertainment.

The County Teachers' Convention meets in the old Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Oct. 29th and 30th. There will be a forenoon and an afternoon session each day, to which all who are interested will be entirely welcome. At the Thursday evening addresses and entertainment in the new Town Hall an admission fee of ten cents will be charged, simply to pay necessary expenses. To this entertainment the public are also cordially invited.

TWO HUNDRED MILES FROM NOWHERE.

Rev. G. H. Raley's Mission in the Wilds of British Columbia.

Rev. Geo. H. Raley, who some years since was pastor of Bridgenorth church and who, at the request of the Methodist Missionary Society, went to British Columbia to engage in Indian Mission work, is in town visiting friends. He has been attending the Missionary Committee in Toronto as the representative of the British Columbia Conference and is spending a short time visiting friends in Ontario before returning. Mr. Raley's mission is Kitamaat, where he and his wife have spent several years. They are 200 miles from any white settlement and have seen Paganism in some of its worst forms. Amongst other things they have established a girls' home, where, under the care of Mrs. Raley, young Indian girls are taught the arts of civilized life. Mr. Raley is announced to preach in George street church on Sunday evening and on Wednesday will give an address on Paganism amongst the Indians of the Coast.

PERSONAL.

John Lang, M.P., was in town to-day.

Mr. A. Campbell, of Lindsay, was in town for the day.

Mr. C. E. Davis, of Belleville, is in town on a business trip.

Mr. B. A. Ludgate, of Terrell, Texas, is in town on a visit.

Mr. Charles Hunter, of Belleville, is up in town for a few days.

Miss Maud Adams, of Ashburnham, is visiting friends in Lakefield.

Mr. E. D. Orde, of Lindsay, is in town visiting friends for a day or so.

Rev. W. L. Baynes Reid, of Keene, was noticed in town this morning.

Mr. George A. Benor, of Campbellford, was up in town for the day, on business.

Rev. Fred. Tapscott will conduct services at Park street Baptist church to-morrow.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy was in Toronto and Hamilton on Thursday and Friday on a business trip.

Miss Fowler has been visiting Mrs. A. R. McDonald, of Lakefield, for the past few days.

Mrs. H. Dover, of town, is at present in Lakefield, visiting her sister, Mrs. T. Gordon.

A couple of Belleville gentlemen are in town trying to make a deal for some hotel property.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Edmonds, of Detroit, Mich., are on a visit to Mrs. Edmonds' mother, Mrs. Wm. Cowle, Simcoe street.

Mr. Garnet Bell, son of Dr. R. W. Bell, is home from the military school, Toronto, spending a day or two with his parents.

Mr. D. MacL. Dorosh, of Collingwood, spent the day in town with Mr. McCaig, of the Collegiate Institute staff.

Miss Eva Cowle returned home last evening after a visit of several months to her sister, Mrs. A. E. Edmonds, Detroit, Mich.

Joe Marks, formerly with the Marks Bros. Dramatic Company, which played here last winter, is now studying for the Anglican ministry.

Miss Katie O'Connell has accepted a good position as head dressmaker with the firm of Northway & Anderson of St. Thomas. She left for that city last Friday.

Rev. Robert McNair, of Carleton Place, H. C. R. Independent Order of Foresters, will make an official visit to Court Otonabee, 1319, on Thursday evening, 29th. He will also visit Westwood on the following day.

Mr. John Brown, of Belmont, ex-Warden of the County, was in town to-day. It is understood that he will be one of the four probable candidates that will contest No. 3 division for a seat in the first County Council under the new regime.

The Lindsay Warder says: The Rev. S. J. Shorey is a preacher built on broad-guaged principles. He says that creeds, doctrines and dogmas may be essential to some systems of religion but they are not a necessity to character. The sermon he preached to his congregation at the Cambridge street Methodist church on Sunday evening upon the lines of broad evangelism was particularly able and interesting. When it comes to straight Christianity Mr. Shorey wipes out the denominational lines. Like the Bobcaygeon Independent man he evidently does not consider that any special brand of religion is much better than another.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

Girls come and spend an hour in the Y. W. C. A. rooms to-night. Music always provided; Gospel and song service at 9 o'clock. All young women invited.

SANDY B. WINS FROM MISS STRIDER.

The Last Heat of the Race Was Trotted off Yesterday.

The last heat of the unfinished 2 30 class trot took place yesterday at the Driving Park. The heat, it will be remembered, had to be postponed from the day before as darkness prevented the judges from being able to watch the horses when they were on the back stretch. Two heats each had fallen to Sandy B. and Miss Strider and the Duke was not considered out of the race, although he had come under the wire last each time.

Those who went down to the Park to see the last heat trotted off were the red hot supporters of the two leading horses, and consequently a good deal of money was wagered on the result, the backers of the gray mare offering two to one on her against the field.

Sandy B. had the pole when the horses scored up, but went off his feet immediately after the start, allowing Miss Strider to take the pole and lead him by half a dozen lengths before his driver was able to "catch" him. Old Sandy then settled down to business and went after the little gray in such deadly earnest that he caught her on the turn into the back stretch and actually trotted her off her feet before the quarter pole was reached. When Miss Strider went into the air she broke so badly that when she came on her feet again Sandy was beyond hope of being caught, and came under the wire with a good lead, having trotted the half mile at a 2.26 clip. The Duke was third.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

The Young's Point looks are still closed.

—Bad roads in the country as well as the town.

—No. 1 clear Honey 8c per lb., at WALLER & Co.'s.

—Partridges are reported to be very plentiful just back of Burleigh Falls.

—Peterborough had several flurries of snow during the day and a hail storm.

—The rise in wheat is raising everyones spirits. When the farmer rejoices the world rejoices with him.

—The Young men's meeting at 4.15 in the Y. M. C. A. Hall to-morrow will be addressed by the Rev. J. J. Rae.

—The year 1896 will go on record as having seen the earliest harvest within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

—With the boom in wheat it is unnecessary to purchase self-rising flour—it will rise of itself—in price—soon enough.

—Between presidential elections and rugby football matches the United States generally has something exciting at hand.

—The thirty-first convention of the Sabbath School Associations of Ontario will be held in London on the 27th, 28th and 29th instant.

—It is said on good authority that Howry & Sons will rebuild at Fenelon Falls. There will be much glee among the villagers about this.

—Some native asters are still in bloom, dandelions are out, and in some gardens, marigolds, pansies and other flowers may yet be found and admired.

—The steamer Sunbeam is being taken out of the water on Hague's Point, where she will be thoroughly overhauled and turned into a propeller.

—Hunting parties are making preparations for their annual fall hunt. It is hardly likely that there will be as many hunters, on account of the new law.

—The civil service exams commence Nov. 10th. Those intending to try must have their applications in at Ottawa not later than the third week in October.

—Machinery for blasting operations on the cut through Lakefield is arriving. The surface rock will soon be taken off when blasting operations will be commenced.

—The Provincial Board of Health has a complaint that lumbermen on the North Shore contract typhoid at the camps and then go into the villages and spread the disease.

—You can buy 20 pounds of the best light brown sugar for one dollar at J. Giles' grocery. Surprising how cheap he sells. Just ask the price of other things when you are getting your sugar.

—On Wednesday forenoon a severe shock was felt in Kirkfield caused by the explosion of a large quantity of dynamite near the village on the canal extension. At the time of the explosion a number of citizens considered it an earthquake.

—People who sell hard cider may not know it, but the temperance act requires them to have a license. A hotel keeper recently paid $50 for his information and as there may be others who sell cider and do not know the law the information is free.

—A woman who lives in the wooded district north of here has a very enterprising little boy. During the berry season the little boy was continually becoming lost amongst the bushes. The mother at length adopted a novel experiment. She fastened a bell to the seat of the little one's trousers and the tinkling of the bell informed her of the whereabouts of her truant child.

The Globe Annual and Encyclopedia for 1897.

The name of this work should be a sufficent guarantee that there is nothing of the shoddy in the make up.

Bright, instructive and attractive throughout, it is bound to take a permanent place in the libraries and offices of Canadians.

It is bound in a durable and attractive cover, printed on fine paper, and containing between 450 and 500 pages.

In its compilation the editors have taken the greatest care to insert nothing that is not absolutely correct, and which will be of interest to readers in all lines of life.

The price of this very meritorous publication is placed at the very low figure of 25 cents, postage prepaid, from the Globe Office, Toronto.

The work will be ready for issue about the first of December, and the orders are filled as received after the book is published. Those of our readers who propose procuring a copy would do well to order at once.

Public Meeting.

In compliance with the request of a number of ratepayers, the reeve of Lakefield has called a public meeting in the town hall there on Friday evening, October 23rd, at 8 o'clock, to discuss and decide what action should be taken to induce the Government to place a swing bridge over the canal on Bridge street.

Liable to Imprisonment.

Persons breaking telephone or telegraph wires are liable to two years' imprisonment and persons attempting to do so a penalty of $50. Small boys should bear this in mind when strolling near the railway track, where telegraph wires and an abundance of stones hold out allurements known only to that class of humanity.

English Potato Crop.

It is feared that the English potato crop will be disastrously affected by disease. From a large number of counties in England, Scotland and Wales have been received complaints of its ravages. Ireland does not appear to have suffered so much, but even from there come adverse reports. It is prophesied that unusually high prices will prevail in consequence.

School Regulations.

By the new school regulations it is proposed in regard to the meeting of Teachers' Institutes that they may be held annually during the last week of the summer vacation, instead of during scholastic term as att present. There shall be two sittings per day of three hours each, for three days, also an evening session. They also provide that there shall be a week's holidays at Easter, which will in a measure compensate the teachers for the use of part of their summer holidays in attending Teachers' Institute meetings.

Singing Classes.

Do you wish to sing well, and be able to read music at sight? Then be sure and come to St. Andrew's school room on Tuesday evening, the 27th, at eight o'clock. Also on Friday afternoon, Oct. 30th. Mr. Mulligan will start a juvenile singing class in the Y.M.C.A. Hall at 4.15 o'clock, for boys under fourteen and girls under fifteen. Parents should not miss this grand opportunity to have their children learn the divine art of singing. The fee for this class will be at the rate of about 8c. per lesson, or $1.00 for the whole term of thirteen lessons. Everyone welcome. Free lesson the first night. For further information, apply to G. W. Mulligan, 416 Rubidge street, Peterborough.

"Ian Maclaren's" Popular Works.

The distinguished Scotchman and author of the "Bonnie Briar Bush," and other immensely popular books since issued from his prolific pen, is now visiting Canada, and his presence has stimulated the demand for his books. The following can now be purchased at the Peterborough Bookstore: "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," "In the Days o' Auld Lang Syne," "The Mind of the Master," "The Upper Room," 'Katie Carnegie." "Side Tracked" at Montreal.

"Side-Tracked," with new features: pretty girls and good singing packed the Theatre Royal at each performance yesterday and will no doubt do so all week. The company playing the piece this season is the best yet brought here. Each member contributes a good specialty and all go to keep the audience in excellent humor. Messrs. E. H. O'Connor as Horatio Irving Booth, Billy Bowers as Fritz Grabhold, Jas. Wall as "Monty," and Edward O'Connor the policeman, all made great hits, especially the first mentioned as a tramp. Miss Daisy Chaplin was also a prime favourite. The other support is good. This company appears at Bradburn's Opera House Wednesday, Oct. 28th. Prices 25, 35 and 50c. Seats now on sale.

OFFICERS AND MEN OF COMPANY "D."

THEY DINED AND MADE MERRY LAST EVENING.

A Most Pleasant Re-union in the Oriental Dining Apartments—An Excellent Menu Provided by Mine Host Graham for the Occasion.

The officers and men of Company "D" of the 57th Rangers assembled last evening in the Oriental Hotel dining apartments, for the purpose of holding their annual reunion in the shape of a supper.

A number of invited guests were present and, needless to say, in such pleasant company the evening passed most pleasantly, as for whole-souled, hospitable entertainers the members of Company "D" are unrivalled.

Captain Lech occupied the seat of honour, to his right was Lt.-Col. Bell, and on the left sat Adjutant Mason and Lieut. McGill. The tables were most artistically decorated with palms, foliage plants and bouquets of cut flowers, and the appended most excellent menu was served in the manner for which the Oriental is famous:—

THE FIRST TOAST

proposed was that of Her Majesty the Queen and company responded with a will in the rendering of the National Anthem.

"Our Commanding Officer," brought forth "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," sung with a gusto that made the room ring.

Col. Bell in responding referred to the pleasant evening which he had spent a year ago with "D" Company in the same manner. He commended the idea of holding social seasons such as the present and spoke encouraging of the progress which the company had made, together with the rest of the Battalion. He referred proudly to the splendid standing taken by the Rangers during the past year, attaining a position of sixth in proficiency in the Dominion of Canada. Company "D" of the Battalion stood second as a company in the entire Dominion and No. 2 stood fourth. He hoped that No. 4 would endeavor to take a similar stand next year.

Two days ago Col. Bell said he had received a cheque for the extra four days' pay, which it was thought might possibly be not received. The District Paymaster in the correctness of the pay rolls that the entire amount asked for had been paid over before the rolls were even checked, such confidence had the officers in the probity of the Rangers.

The Colonel then went on to speak of a few defects which he had noticed in the Battalion as a whole, when being inspected, and stated that the Inspecting Officer, however, was much pleased to learn of the large number of non-commissioned officers, who had taken courses at the Military Schools.

The non-coms., the Colonel thought, were the backbone of a regiment, and he urged that all attend the schools who could find it at all possible.

The hospitable manner in which the 15th Battalion, of Belleville, had entertained the Rangers on July 1st came in for a complimentary reference, and the outing next year mentioned as being possibly spent in Ottawa as the guests of the Governor-General's Foot Guards.

Sergt.-Major Peters, is being called upon for a song, contributed "Dot Leetle Cherman Band," the boys joining heartily in the chorus of the popular song.

Adjutant Mason proposed the toast of "Capt. Lech and officer of D. Company."

The popular captain was the first to respond. He stated that he was proud of his company. Since he had taken command, although it had not stood at the top of the list, still it had never fallen below number four—it had never been a tail-ender. He bestowed great praise on the way in which Lieut. McGill has put his shoulder to the wheel and relieved him of many of his duties during the year. Even the inspecting officer had commented favourably on the work of this young officer.

Capt Lech's reference to his intended retirement from his position as Captain was received with indignant protests and cries of No! No! He stated, however, that business would although he would never lose his interest in the Company. To evince this he intended offering a number of prizes to encourage rifle practice next year.

Lieut. McGill expressed his belief that when the returns were received the Company would be found near the top of the list. He expressed the earnest hope that Capt. Lech would re-consider his intention of retiring.

Pte. Duggan proposed the toast of the non-coms. of Company "D."

Sgt. Dixon, in responding, expressed deep regret on behalf of himself and his brother non-coms. that Capt. Lech intended retiring, but promised hearty support to his successor, Lieut. McGill.

Sgt. J. Smith, when speaking, stated that he also was partaking of what would be his last annual dinner with No. 4 Company, as he would have to retire at the end of the year.

Sgt. Garnet Bell briefly thanked all for the hearty manner in which they had honoured the toast.

Corp. Tremain announced his intention of taking a course at the school this winter that Capt. Lech would not be with his company next year to see it head the Battalion.

AND EXPRESSED REGRET

Corp. Jordan made a brief response thanking those present for the manner in which the toast had been honoured.

Lt. McGill recited "Casey at the Bat" when called on for a recitation. It was well received.

Pte. Duggan of the Pioneers gave a rattling song when called upon to contribute something towards the entertainment of the company, after which Captain Lech sang "The King's Champion" in his best style. His fine voice never sounded to better advantage and the number was received with uproarious applause.

Adjutant Mason in addressing the company expressed surprise that No. 4 felt in anyway discouraged about not heading the list. One of the reasons for this was that several of the other companies had attached to them the crack shots of the Regiment, and when the points were totalled up at the end of the season, shooting counted in big figures. Taken altogether, No. 4 was without doubt one of the best companies in the Regiment. The in the neatness of their armoury and it always looked most neat. He deeply regretted Capt. Lech's intention of retiring.

Capt. Lech kindly contributed by special request "The Boys of the Old Brigade," with its fine ringing chorus.

Sgt. Dixin proposed the toast of "the Ladies," coupling in connection therewith the names of Lt. McGill and Ptes. Dixon, Freebora and Matchett.

All briefly responded.

Dr. Pitcher spoke a few words complimentary to the Battalion in which he expressed a high opinion of the military bearing of the men.

The toast of "The Press" was responded to by Messrs. W. A. Buchanan and Alf. Terrill, after which the National Anthem was sung and the men dispersed with the feelings of good comradeship, so necessary to the welfare of a battalion, largely increased.

Captain Lech is being urged on every hand by officers and men to reconsider his announced intention of retiring, and the hope is expressed that he will fall into line once more at the head of his company next year.

OUR UNDEVELOPED RICHES.

The Director of the Ontario Bureau of Mines Does Some Exploring—Mr. Pusey's Connection With the Enterprise.

Mr. Archibald Blue, the director of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, has just completed an extensive exploration of the comparatively unknown country lying to the north of this county and through North Hastings and thence eastward into Lanark County.

Mr. Blue was accompanied by Mr. Pusey, of the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway, and his object in making the trip was to examine the iron ore and other mineral deposits lying to the east of the present terminus of the road at Baptiste, and which would provide traffic for the road, should it be extended eastward.

Two old mining locations in the township of Snowden were first examined. These mines were worked some fifteen ago, but owing the expense entailed in shipping the ore at that time the venture did not prove very profitable. When the price of iron fell these mines closed altogether. The ore of both these mines is magnetic, and contains some sulphur, but, with modern ways of treatment, that ought not to be regarded as an objection. Where the railway crosses the Burnt River, in the fifth concession, there is a large hill of a low grade, brown coloured ore, which has been described as limonite, or brown hematite, but it is really a magnetic ore. It looks to be very free from impurities. It will also be very cheaply mined, and there must be tens of thousands of tons which could be taken out as from an open quarry.

South-east of Gooderham Station, about three and a half miles in the township of Glamorgan, is an immense body of magnetic ore, which rises as a cliff to a height of 75 or 80 feet, and has a length of about 2000 feet by a breadth varying from 100 to 300 feet. This ore would probably run from 68 to 70 per cent. of metallic iron. But, unfortunately, it contains too large a percentage of titanium for smelting, according to common furnace practice. It is claimed, however, that titantic ores may be successfully smelted if the right kind of flux be used.

The railway at present ends at Baptiste Lake, quite an imposing body of water. On the south shore of the lake there was formerly an old Hudson Bay trading post. It is now, however, an Indian reserve, occupied by a few aborigines, with Baptiste as their chief.

From Baptiste the party proceeded to Bancroft, where several iron properties were inspected. Some exploration work was done upon one of these some fifteen years ago by Mr. Pusey, who sank several pits in the drift, to the ore body. There are no outcroppings, but the dip-needle indicates that the deposit has a length of 900 feet, by a breadth of 100 feet.

Continuing their trip eastward the country appeared to improve and a number of excellent farms were seen. Everywhere they had travelled up to this point, the grass looked rich and green, and the cattle sleek and fat. Dairying is the principal industry of the farmers. Sheep farming, too, seems to pay well, and no sweeter mutton or beef is produced elsewhere in Ontario.

Mr. Blue then proceeded south-east from Fort Stewart, and describes the country as the most bleak and desolate that he has seen in all Canada. It was at one time heavily timbered with pine but repeated forest fires have left naught but a few charred stumps. The howl of wolves and wolverines at night is said to be a not uncommon sound.

There are many shows of iron ore in the vicinity of Plevna, and Mr. D. Allison, ex-M. P. of Adolphustown, owns a tract of 2,000 acres upon which some development work has been done. The ore is magnetic but very low in magnetic power. A gold mine is being worked by the Webber family on a small and not very promising vein, and there are some good shows of copper.

Mr. Blue continued eastward from Plevna, striking again the Mississippi road by Trout Lake, and through Wompah in Palmerston and so on down to McLaren depot on the Kingston and Pembroke Ry. Many iron ore deposits occur in the region in the townships of Palmerston and Levant, and one or two promising discoveries have recently been made.

Mr. Pusey is maturing plans to build a 50 ton charcoal furnace, for which there is an abundance of hardwood, at some point on the line.

The Lindsay Warder says, in backing up the EXAMINER'S proposal that "It is just probable that next year will see an Eastern Ontario lacrosse league, comprising Peterborough, Lindsay, Port Hope, Millbrook, Cobourg, Campbellford, Tweed, Madoc, Stirling, Marmora, Norwood, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Prescott, Perth, Almonte, Pembroke and other eastern towns. The sportsmen of the west do not seem inclined to allow anything of advantage to the east, and hence the split in the Canadian lacrosse league.

The Lindsay Collegiate Institute and Y. M. C. A. Association Football teams would like to arrange a game with a Peterborough eleven, but it will be rather difficult to accommodate them as the game has died out in the town, although there are a number of excellent players here. Some of the crack Peterborough county teams might accommodate the Lindsay footballers.

HEALTH'S PARADISE

Regained After Twenty Years' Torture From That Dread Disease, Catarrh—Hon. Geo. Taylor, of Scranton, Pa., Tells the World What Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has Done for Him.

I was a martyr to catarrh for twenty years—tried every known remedy, but got little or no relief. Was troubled with constant dropping in the throat, terrible pains in my head, and my breath was very offensive. I was induced to give Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder a trial, and the result was magical. The first application cleared my head instantly. I persisted in its use, and to-day I am a cured man, and it affords me pleasure to lend my testimony. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

SIR JULIAN IS PROMPT.

The British Ambassador is Too Early a Bird for the Slow-Going Officials at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, has lost no time, after his long absence in London, in resuming his diplomatic functions in Washington. Within 24 hours of his return he had a short interview with the Secretary of State and left his card for the President. Although it was Cabinet day, and ordinarily Secretary Olney and the other advisers of the President would have been in session at the White House until 2 p. m., Sir Julian entered the State Department just at noon without having previously made an appointment. Apparently surprised to find Secretary Olney out of his office, the Ambassador left his card and paid his respects to the absent Secretaries of the departments. A few moments later Secretary Olney, returning unexpectedly from the short Cabinet session, and learning that the Ambassador was still within the building, had him immediately notified of his desire to see him, and the two went into the Secretary's private office, from which the visitor emerged ten minutes later and walked over to the White House, where he left a card for the President and then returned to the Embassy.

THE MODERN DEMON.

Dethroned and Banished by Paine's Celery Compound.

Mr. A. Budd Suffered 35 Years From Dyspepsia

Now Well, Hearty and Strong.

It is freely admitted by physicians and all others who have had experience with Paine's Celery Compound, that it is the only medicine which can dethrone and completely banish that terrible enemy known as dyspepsia.

It is a great mistake to imagine that this demon of disease can be banished by pills, sarsaparillas, nervines, mineral waters, pepsins or bitters. These preparations and concoctions may give a short respite from pain and suffering; but to effect a permanent cure a medicine is required that will strengthen the nervous system, and remove the cause of the digestive troubles.

Paine's Celery Compound goes directly to the root and seat of the disease; it opens up the sewers of the body, and removes the waste matters that have so sadly interfered with nutrition. It does the great work without lessening the failing strength of the sufferer, and has not the injurious effects of the common cathartics that irritate and weaken every part of the system. Paine's Celery Compound enriches and cleanses the blood, makes bone and muscle, supports and braces the nerves, gives perfect digestion, healthy appetite, and sweet sleep and rest.

If you are one of the thousands bound by the chains and shackles of dyspepsia, we pray you give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial. In the past it has cured the most obstinate cases—men and women who were given up by the doctors as incurable.

Mr. A. Budd, of Shanty Bay, Simcoe Co., Ont., writes as follows about the efficacy of the medicine that cured him:

"For the benefit of sufferers I gladly give my experience with Paine's Celery Compound.

After suffering from dyspepsia for thirty five years, and meeting with many failures with other medicines, I decided to use Paine's Celery Compound, having heard of so many cures effected by it. The Compound, after I used it for a time, produced miraculous results and banished my troubles.

"From a condition of helplessness—being unable to sleep or eat—I now feel well and strong. I am astonished at the results, as my trouble was an old and chronic one. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to some of my neighbors, and in every case it has given satisfaction. I will always strongly recommend its use when I have opportunity."

THE BRITISH PREMIER

Brought the Chinese Embassy Officials to Time.

MADE THEM RELEASE A PRISONER

Sun Yat Sen Was Confined in the Embassy and Was to be Held Until He Could be Sent Back to China to be Beheaded—General Cable News.

London, Oct. 23.—The London friends of the Chinese physician, Sun Yat Sen, who a few days ago was seized by emissaries of the Chinese Legation, and is still detained at the Legation as a Chinese political prisoner, say the authorities of the British Foreign Office knew nothing whatever of the imprisonment of Sun Yat Sen until informed by his friends. Detectives in the employ of the Foreign Office are constantly on the watch in the vicinity of the Chinese Legation in order to prevent the smuggling of the prisoner out of the country. The case will be referred to the legal authorities of the Crown. The Chinese authorities now make no secret of the fact that Sun Yat Sen is a prisoner at the Legation, and contend that they can do what they like with a Chinese citizen within the Chinese Legation, which is Chinese territory to all intents and purposes. The British authorities, on the other hand, maintain that the rights of foreign legations are protective only as regards their lawful inmates, and are in no sense administrative.

Lord Salisbury has made a demand on the Chinese Legation for the immediate release of Sun Yat Sen.

The demand of Lord Salisbury was complied with, and Sun Yat Sen was released from the Legation at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The police official who went to the Chinese Legation to demand the surrender of Sun Yat Sen was accompanied by six armed officers, who were authorized by the Government to use force if it should be necessary to obtain the prisoner.

Sun Yat Sen alleges that Tang, one of the officials at the Legation, told him that it was intended to bind and gag him and convey him in a box or sack on board a steamer bound for China, or kill him in the Legation and send his corpse to China, where, in accordance with the Chinese practice, the body would be decapitated.

A SETBACK FOR CONSOLS.

Dearer Money Caused the Slump—Foreign Stocks Weakened at the Close.

London, Oct. 23.—The stock markets opened good to-day, but with the exception of Americans they gave way later, consols falling from 1.08 1-2 to 1.08 1-4. The reason for the setback was dearer money. There were signs to-day that the Bank of England had begun to borrow money from the market. No one is yet sure of this, and until the movement has made further progress it will be impossible to speak with certainty about it. Money was easier this afternoon, however, because half a million of Japanese money was released. Foreign stocks were good, but the close was distinctly weaker. Spanish stocks leading the fall. Mines were generally weaker and West Australian mines had a panicky fall on the difficulties of an operator. Americans were good all day, increasing in favor and closing only fractionally under the best. In addition to gold from the bank, purchases have been made in the open market for the United States. The Paris bourse opened good, but then gave away. It is understood that the Bank of France is now refusing to part with its eagles, even at 3 per mille premium. Berlin market was steady.

REGARDED AS VERY GRAVE

Palace Officials Insist That Christians Were Preparing to Attack Mussulmans.

Constantinople, Oct. 23.—The irades issued Wednesday in connection with the recent purchases of arms have resulted in a state of affairs which is regarded as very grave. The Ministers are opposed to the poll tax imposed on the Mussulmans, but the Palace officials insisted that the measure was necessary for the defence of the Mussulman religion on the ground that the Christians are preparing to attack the Mussulmans, and that the European press is preaching a crusade against Islam. The British Committee appointed to investigate the case of the recent disorders here, computed that 15,000 Armenians in Constantinople and its suburbs have been rendered destitute, as a result of the late massacres.

A STEAMSHIP COMBINE.

Heads of the Atlantic Lines Agree That They Will Control Passenger Business.

London, Oct. 23.—The heads of the principal trans-Atlantic steamship lines, who were entertained at the dinner given last evening by Mr. Ismay, the chairman of the White Star Steamship Company, continued to-day the conference which was begun last night at the banquet. The meetings were held at the office of the American line and resulted in the drafting of an agreement relating to the control among themselves of the trans-Atlantic passenger business. There was no suggestion of an alteration of fares or freight rates. All of the managers present signed the agreement, but every one of them refused to state the object of the conference more clearly than mentioned above.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

Fancy Pincushions.

The demand for fancy pincushions appears endless. Ingenuity is strained to the utmost to produce new shapes and novel decorations. To such a pass are inventors driven to create novelties that the shapes of the cushions are often utterly unsuited for the purpose, but so long as the article is pretty its use is quite a detail. Floral pincushions are the rage just now, and under this class the lupin certainly deserves first mention. It makes quite a charming ornament as it hangs on the knob of a screen in the drawing-room, or on the cheval glass in the bed-room. It is made of small circular pieces of cream cloth, just tinged with color, the edges being shaped slightly to form the petals. The blooms are attached to a long central stem, which should be padded, and the flowers fastened loosely to this with thread, the tassel shape of the whole being carefully followed. A dainty little affair is the edelweiss pincushion. The flower is entirely carried out in white velvet, and measures about four inches across. It is uncommon, possibly because it is a good deal of trouble to make, but it is well worth both the time and labor. The bulrush still holds its own among the flower pincushions, brown velvet being employed for the head, and green plush for the leaves and stem.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only one hundred-and-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A DETAIL OVERLOOKED.

She Met an Old School Friend and Promised to Exchange Calls.

Of course, she was not a new woman, or it never would have happened. At any rate, that is what the new woman will claim.

She had met an old school friend for the first time in a good many years, and she was telling her husband all about it.

"We had a long talk of old boarding school days," she said, "and we agreed to see more of each other in the future. You see, she's married and living in the city now, so we—"

"What's her husband's name?"

"Dear me! I forgot to ask her. Never mind. I'll find out to-morrow when I go to see her."

"What's her address?" he asked.

"Why, I—I—I don't believe I know," she faltered. "I must have forgotten to ask her. I'll have to look it up in the directory."

"Without knowing her husband's name?"

For a minute or two she seemed ready to give up, but you can't defeat a really resourceful woman.

"It was very thoughtless of me," she said, "but it doesn't make much difference after all. I shall simply wait for her to call on me."

"You gave her your address, then?"

"I—I—don't believe I did, now I come to think of it, and—and—I don't believe she knows who I married, either, I—I—"

As she left the room she told him he was "a mean, hateful old thing," and that appeared to be all of which she was absolutely certain at that time.—Chicago Post.

BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH

For 25 Years, Says Mrs. J. D. Stoddard, of Asbury Park, N. J., and Two Bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure For the Heart Restored the Lost Treasure.

For twenty-five years I have been a great sufferer from heart disease, palpitation, dizziness and severe headaches. I saw Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart advertised, and determined to try it. Two bottles have done wonders for me. The dizziness and palpitation are gone, the headaches have disappeared. I never cease telling my friends the wonderful benefit this great cure has been to me, and I cheerfully recommend it any and everywhere. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Shakespeare Criticised.

A school teacher was fond of giving sentiments from Shakespeare as copies to be "set" in writing exercises. One day he gave his class this adaptation of a phrase in "Hamlet:"—

"The appetite grows by what it feeds on."

One of his pupils, a poor boy with a lean and hungry look, having written this sentence down twenty times in his best and most patient hand, could not refrain from saying to the teacher, when he came around to look at the copy-books:—

"I've written it down, sir, but I don't think it's true."

"Don't you? Why not?"

"Because, sir, my appetite's always growing by what it doesn't feed on!"

They do not Despair

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of Consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 399 George Street.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion, common diseases, but hard to cure with ordinary remedies, yield readily to Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound.

W. H. Buckingham, 196 King St. East, Hamilton, Ont., says:—"I was troubled with Dyspepsia and Indigestion for a long time, and could get no relief until I tried Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound, which cured me, and I cannot speak too highly in its praise."

TILE DRAINING.

Tiles Are Cheaper Than Stones and Much Better.

Prof. W. L. Chamberlain, of Ohio, advocates tile draining, where needed, as follows:—

With good tile properly laid we can expect them to do their duty for a century or more, which is about as long as the most of us will be interested in drainage or agriculture. Stone and timber drains were used largely years ago, but their usefulness proved short-lived. The stone drains soon became filled with sediment, the work of the crawfish in many cases, and the timber drains soon decayed. The wonderful improvement in tile-making machines and the increased number of factories has lessened the cost of tile very much. This, with the improved methods in laying them, makes it possible for the farmer to tile more extensively than formerly without augmenting the cost. Many farmers hesitate to tile on account of the cost; they forget that money invested in that way is invested in permanent improvement and enhances the value of the property to that extent, and pays from 5 to 25 per cent. interest on the cost every year besides. Of course the work should be done as economically as possible, and thoroughly well done. If the old adage, "What is worth doing is worth doing right," applies to anything, it certainly does to tile draining. So particular am I, that I lay all my tile personally.

But tiling is not necessarily very expensive. No high-priced machinery need be purchased and kept in repair. A pick, two or three shovels and a level are about all the extra tools that need be bought. The whole outfit need not cost over five dollars. A team and plow, properly used, will save a great deal of hand labor, both in opening and filling the trench. Where the ground is not too swampy we always plow two or three furrows, and work in the last one. Or, throw several furrows apart, making a "dead" furrow. With an extra long double-tree, allowing the horses to walk on the sides of the trench, the furrow can be made still deeper with the plow. We have put in many thousand tiles and know that the judicious use of the team and plow will save about half the expense. When the tiles are laid, cover slightly with a shovel, to prevent the tile being misplaced, or broken by falling stone, and throw the balance in with the plow. The ground ought to be thrown equally on both sides of the trench; it is more convenient for filling. We turn the plow beam to one side, and use but one horse, allowing him to walk far enough from the trench to prevent his slipping in. With an assistant to lead the horse I can replace the ground very quickly and easily.

Eggs and Butter.

If we compare the Manchester markets as quoted on May 14 it will be gratifying to those interested. Eggs were quoted at 18 cents, wholesale, for choice. Such prices may be considered low, but the highest quotation for butter was 19 cents per pound. When we consider the work required to make a pound of butter, and notice how easily the hens are kept at this season, the showing is largely in favor of the hens. The cows must be fed and milked early in the morning and turned out on a pasture. The milk must be cooled, set for cream (if there is no separator,) skimmed, and the cream also churned and the butter worked and done up nicely for the market. Then there are the stalls to be cleaned, the beds prepared and the cows milked again at night, fed and the milk cared for. It may require a large or small quantity of milk to make a pound of butter, and the farmer goes to work early in the morning and works until late at night every day and Sunday. And butter selling at 19 cents per pound. In the meantime the hens are foraging for their food and laying eggs while the farmer is working with the cows.

Hints About the Horse.

In cleaning them, if they will not stand the currycomb well, get a five or ten cent brush made of broom corn, used for scrubbing in the house; they are very stiff, writes J. W. Palmer. If horses are troubled with the scratches, mix two parts lard and one part gunpowder thoroughly, and apply on the place affected; it is cheap and effective. So, manage your stable as to save all of the urine, as it is very valuable; have cement floors if possible. Do not hang harness in stable if you can avoid it. Do not feed too much hay, and avoid watering immediately after feeding a horse much of a dinner. If you have whole rye, you can feed a little, and save expenses and trouble of grinding it, to young horses only. Use good snaps on lines and side straps at least, and by so doing save time, which is money on a farm. Farmers need to be cautioned about watering horses when heated.

Notes About Sheep.

The dipping of sheep twice a year is a law in New Mexico.

The ram should be changed every two years and improved.

Twenty-five per cent. of Great Britain's beef and mutton is imported.

The sugar beet is great sheep food. The fleecy innocents thrive on sweets.

Roots, bran and oats make an excellent ration for ewes with young lambs.

As a machine for turning weeds into fertility, the sheep goes a long way towards paying its way.

Put ground oats before the lambs at an early age. They will soon learn to eat and will greatly profit thereby.

C. P. Bailey has a flock of Angora goats in California and Nevada aggregating 10,000 head. He has on exhibition at the home ranch a fleece of mohair weighing 18 pounds.

Language Too Cold.

Little Dot—Oh, I just love cake. It's awfully nice.

Mamma (reprovingly)—You should not say you "love" cake, say "like." Do not say "awfully," say "very." Do not say "nice," say "good." And, by the way, the word "just" should be omitted, also the "oh." Now, my dear, repeat the sentence correctly.

Little Dot—I like cake, it's very good.

Mamma—That's better.

Little Dot (with an air of disgust)—Sounds as if I was talkin' about bread.

You Can be Well

When your blood is pure, rich and nourishing for nerves and muscles. For the Promenade.

For a dainty promenade gown foulard of any approved shade may be chosen. The bodice is of a pretty shape that might be taken as a model for a blouse, if only the plain skirt recommended for foreign travel is included in one's outfit. It is in white, covered mousseline de soie, gathered full from neck and shoulder to waist, and crossed by wide white insertion, forming a plaid back and front. Of course, the lace is cut away underneath where it crosses. White satin waistband and neck-ribbon. White chip hat trimmed with white tulle and white wings. White tulle veil and large bow under the chin. White gloves and sunshade. This costume will require twelve yards of silk, two yards of mousseline de soie and six yards of lace.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. LXXV.

"Our Girls."

Audi alteram partem.

In this column last week a contributor dealt with the subject of "Our Girls," mainly in relation to Saturday night promenades on George street. While I am painfully conscious of the fidelity of the picture he presented, I may suggest, without the least desire to be controversial, that it was rather Rembrandtesque—nearly all shades without redeeming lights. It is possible, it seems to me, to considerably modify the incidence of the contributor's strictures. While the presence of our girls on the street, at the times and under the circumstances mentioned, is regrettably evident, yet it occurs to me that this presence is not entirely attributable to improper motives and aspirations. If we consider the daily lives of many of these girls, their home conditions and other circumstances that go to determine their habits in the case under consideration, then their resort to the public promenade, so trenchantly condemned, is not unnatural nor, within reasonable limits, reprehensible. Many of these girls are workers in factories or in shops, with long hours and, very frequently, pitifully inadequate pay. If we could look into some of these dingy dusty, places of work, with their sordidly mean furnishings; next to the roof; near hot iron-heating stoves in the

we should see pale jaded girls, many of them barely entered into their 'teens, bending over their work from eight in the morning till six at night, with an hour for dinner or lunch, eaten in the unappetizing surroundings of their places of toil. And when the leaden hours of a day of work are over, they go, in too many cases, to homes that are not homes in the higher meaning of that term—merely habitations, that afford no opportunity for rest. Homes, crowded, perhaps, with rude, unkempt children, quarrelsome and noisy, which an overworked, fretful mother cannot keep in check, with possibly an atmosphere of profane bickerings, discordant tempers, and coarse unkindness, as prohibitory of mental happiness as is the slatternly squalor of the surroundings, of material comfort. In homes like this, in closer or remoter degree, there are found no refining influences, no social enjoyment, and no relaxation, except in kind, of the depressing drudgery of the day. There may be but few homes with all these bad distinctions, but there are scores that furnish many of the elements that enter into competition with the dull sameness of the work-room, to drive girls to the streets for a breath of heaven's pure air and an hour or two of social contact with their kind or, at least, human companionship—cheerful greeting and, above all, "a change"—monotony of drudgery and eternal sameness of sordid pursuit are terribly soul-corroding—a condition that marks the lives of

ANOTHER CLASS OF GIRLS.

These are the girls in domestic service, who pass long lonely hours in back kitchens at one unceasing round of irksome employment, with never a kind word or cheering smile of approval from mistresses, who regard their servants far too frequently as mere animated machines, in respect of whose bodies, as well as souls, responsibility ends with the payment of by no means munificent wages. For whom victuals, grown cold and sodden, are considered as suitable food. Hard as is the lot of these girls it is rendered harder by the circumstance of their being debarred from all social enjoyment—"no followers or visitors allowed." I do not at all mean to say that these classes of girls and mistresses have all the same hard life and hard hearts, but the instances I have suggested are types of far too many of the girls that throng George street on Saturday nights.

All girls have the social instinct in a high degree, and where this instinct cannot be gratified, the gregarious instinct—the impulse to human companionship, if only of mere proximity—is to be accepted as an inevitable, if not entirely satisfactory, substitute. Hence we see on our streets, on Saturday nights especially, large numbers of girls who have no other means of reaching the social enjoyments which their more favoured sisters have in unchallenged abundance. The desire for a harmless gossip (the average goal of ambition in social intercourse) is as intense in an over-worked sewing girl or a kitchen "slavey" as in a society belle; and if, in this regard, the former make the much the equivalent of the latter's "five o'clock tea" or "at home," they are, in the abstract, little to blame, and deserve neither the patronizing pity nor the hard anathema, of which they are the defenceless objects.

It is somewhat gratuitous pessimism to deduce lax morals from the presence of girls on the street who come there, it is charitable to assume, to secure the social recreation which their circumstances in life, as has been shown, forbid them to obtain elsewhere. While, of course, there may be some who are not exactly counterparts of Cæsar's wife, it is safe to say that there will be found in the average Saturday night concourse of girls on George street as many virtuous girls as will be found among a similar number, taken at random, from the drawing rooms of what is called polite society—supposing the exact truth could be got at in both case.

As to the matter of dress. Is it only girls that promenade George street on Saturday nights that "make a vulgar show in order to catch the eye of young men"? Is not the match-making mamma that parades her marriageable daughters, as a groom puts a horse, for sale, through his paces, a constant target of the satirists of society? The Saturday night girls may not be perfect in their taste in dress—indeed they may be vulgar enough to match the taste of a parvenu millionaire, whom society worships, who would prefer, as a work of art, on the grounds of most material for his money, the drop-curtain of a theatre to a canvass by Sir Frederick Leighton.

IN REGARD TO DRESS

"Our Girls," as a matter of truth, follow the spirit of Shakspere's injunction—

"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy"— a fashion which our merchants would dearly love to see revived by fashionable society. Again—but this matter of dress is sheer frivolity compared with the supremely serious question, "What shall we do with our Girls?"—with the girls whom the conditions of our age practically deprive of homes and doom to lives of mere animate existence; who are driven to the streets for the recreation that God gives to all his creatures—to the lion that rompes with its cubs as well as to the lamb that frisks in the field. I have aimed to present a few hints, suggesting underlying causes for a state of things that demands the gravest attention of our best philanthropists.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in:—

A HUNTING PARTY'S EXPERIENCES.

The Jameson-Fulton Party Re-organised For the Season—Its First Outing.

(From the Examiner War Correspondent.)

Once more has Captains Jameson's and Fulton's band of hunters decended upon the jungles of Smith and Otonabee and once more there is a tale of slaughter to tell.

The party of sharp shooters was composed of Capt. M. A. Jameson, Corporal Evans, Lieut. Fulton, Col. Cottingham and G. Paxman. Some 186 fewer black squirrels haunt the wilds of the Otonabee river district now, as well as the numerous partridges, pigeons, etc., which fell before the gun of the party, while five successful hunters try to appear modest and at the same time nonchalantly admit that they were the sole cause of the decrease.

For the last several days the Jameson-Fulton party have been raising considerable disturbance in this vicinity, their first hunt being in Otonabee, where they successfully brought down eighteen black squirrels. They tramped five miles through the woods to the north of their starting point, getting there about dusk, each man having with him a well laden pish full of feathers and fur, intermingled with fish and other varieties of perishable goods. Some killed more squirrels and partridges than they could conveniently handle in a pish. Captains Jamieson and Fulton are the ones who have two scalps dangling at their belts. The Captain having perceived what he thought to be a black bear crossing the railroad track, and being a plucky little fellow, faced bruin. Coming to a halt he at once perceived that his bear was nothing more than a huge stray hog, belonging to a farmer in the vicinity.

Suddenly he heard a cry from Smith, whom the Captain expected to join the party at this point. Pretty soon he burst through the growth along the edge of the water. Fulton, seeing him through the bushes and mistaking him for a bear, raised his Winchester with deadly aim. The bullet proved harmless, however, missing its mark.

The shock sent the captain to the ground, and in his fall the gun went off. Fortunately the bullet did not strike anyone.

The guides, Paymaster Creamer and Ambulance Costello, carried their heavily laden pouches through the wilds some five miles distant, and had a hard time of it, but after numerous rests they managed to make the grade all right, as several of the captain's friends in town are willing to testify. On account of the absence of Mr. Smith, who was shot at and missed, and who was chief cook for the party, the date of the game supper at the Little Windsor has not as yet been definitely settled. Invitations however will be issued shortly.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. Hoods, heads, backs and breasts in black waterproof, impervious to water, soft and pliable. Any kind or style of ordered goods required. Lap rugs, strictly waterproof. Also cheese covers as requested by members of the Cheese Board, and for covering all kinds of goods liable to damage from wet. A. ONCE A YEAR ONLY JUST OUT

The Dodd's Kidney Pill Calendar for the Year 1897.

SUPPORTED THE WORLD

On His Heroic Shoulders—Atlas Must Have Healthy Kidneys.

As the first to be laid on our table for the year 1897, we welcome the reappearance of the Dodd's Kidney Pill calendar; published by the The Dodds Medicine Company, Limited, Toronto.

Prepossessing, beyond anything of its class hitherto published in America, though its purpose is at once obvious it has been made exceedingly pleasing by the fortunate choice of a design for the cover, which has been charmingly worked out by the artist in red and blue lithograph, the classic subject being—Atlas supporting the world.

It seems that these clever and persistent advertisers, not content with decorating the grassy hill-slopes and rugged mountain sides with their mammoth letterings, seek also adroitly to seize upon the imagination and assist it to account for the superhuman strength of the heroic Atlas, suggesting the secret of his power by representing him as being himself supported and rely-upon a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

On the back of cover, in a few pithy words those previously convinced of the urgent need of kidney treatment are warned against substitutes, imitations and counterfeits of the genuine Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Thus much as to the cover; of the book itself, we have to say:—The arguments all seem unanswerable, the proofs ample and undeniable, the whole unique, admirable and useful, not only for the coming year, but for always.

We are assured by the publishers that sufficient are being printed to go around, that in due time every family in Canada will get one to their present and lifelong advantage. And as usual, adding:—"Dodd's Kidney Pills Always Cure."

Jimmieboy's Dessert.

It was at dinner at the Profile House. "I'll have some blueberry pie and some ice cream," said papa.

"You may bring me some jelly and cream cakes," said mamma.

"And what will you have?" asked the waitress of Jimmieboy.

"I'll have the same'" said Jimmieboy.—Harper's Round Table.

Don't Bite Your Thread.

If you're in the habit of biting off the ends of your silk thread while sewing, and notice that the bitten thread gives a sweet taste, stop the practice. Acetate of lead has been used to make the silk heavy, and you are getting some of it.

ONE OF THOUSANDS.

"I was a Martyr to Sick and Nervous Headache Caused by Constipation. unfit for business on an average 2 days a week.

"Some pills helped me, but Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills at 10 cts. a vial cured me.

"This is my own testimony and it's a fact. Now I never lose an hour or miss a meal."

This is the writtten testimony of a well known Toronto journalist—you can have his name if you want it. Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills, at all druggists, 40 in a vial, 10 cents.

A GREAT MISTAKE

You hear of people who have paid high for the privilege of buying because of a name. They thought that the name or size of a store made the prices right, but found to their cost, it was a Great Mistake.

Come here and compare values first, then buy. Don't buy first and compare last—unless you're buying here.

CUT AND FITTED FREE

All Dresses bought here costing 50c. per yard, will be cut and fitted free, and every fit guaranteed. Same inducements offered in Mantles—and we have always a fine selection of Mantle Cloths to choose from.

GOLD MINING IN NOVA SCOTIA.

The Boom in the West Causes Intense Interest in the East—An Award Which is of Interest to Municipal Bodies—Mr. Mulock is Busy—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—The exports for the quarter ending 30th September, show the gratifying increase of $3,268,280. The September increase was a substantial one, being nearly two millions and a quarter. The imports show an increase of $3,257,483, and the duty collected of $65,206.

Mr. Fairbeault of the Geological Survey Staff Ottawa, returned on Friday from his season's field work in Halifax County, Nova Scotia, where he was employed chiefly in the gold bearing districts. The boom in the Lake of the Woods district and British Columbia has given an impetus to Nova Scotia gold mining. There has been a great improvement in methods of mining and milling the ore, and there is a steady annual output from the mines.

Hon. Mr. Mulock, Postmaster-General, is putting in extra hours in his department, going into the matter of postal contracts, many of which he has cancelled. In some cases is is alleged that there have been mail contracts for road carriage over territory traversed by railways, and it is the expectation of the Postmaster-General to effect a saving by avoiding duplication of this kind. On being asked by your correspondent if he expected to make revenue and expenditure balance this year, he replied: "Not so fast, young man. Don't you know that there is an annual deficit of $750,000?" Mr. Mulock said if he made the two sides in the ledger balance within the next three or four years he thought he would be doing well.

Municipal bodies in Ontario will be interested in the arbitration just concluded to determine the amount to be paid for the next five years under the Municipal Act by the city of Ottawa to the County of Carleton on account of jail and court house expenses. For the five years up to 1890, the city paid an annual sum of $5800. Then in 1890 the city was coaxed into increasing this amount to $9750 per annum. This year the county wanted $10,800, which the city refused to pay, but offered the county $10,000. The county declined to accept the sum, and an arbitration was decided upon. Judge Deacon of Pembroke was the county arbitrator, Taylor McVeity, the city representative, while Judge Bell of Chatham was appointed third arbitrator by the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. The city's case was vigorously fought by City Solicitor MacTavish, with the result that the award, on which all the arbitrators are in accord, gives the county a net annual payment of $8104, or $1900 less yearly than they were offered. The arbitrators disallowed the county's claim for compensation for common use with the county by the city of the court house and jail. The decisions in County of Kent v. Chatham, and County of Lincoln v. St. Catharines had an important bearing on the award.

A despatch has been received from the Colonial Office inviting the Dominion to take part in an international exhibition to be held at Brussels next year. The object of the exhibition is to appeal to all industrial progress. There are to be fourteen sections, as follows: Fine arts, social economy, hygiene, salvage, industrial and decorative arts, lighting, heating and their uses, electricity, locomotive power, military science, industrial manufactures, material, processes and products, sporting goods, exercise, popular games, temporary competitions in agriculture and horticulture, practical instruction, industries and handiwork of women, commerce colonies, and every facility is to be afforded for foreign exhibits. The British Government has expressed its willingness to participate in the same.

Regulations have been adopted by the United States Government whereby vessels navigating the Soo River are limited to a speed not exceeding seven miles an hour. The object in making this regulation is to prevent the extensive wash on the banks which is the result of the big steamers going at full speed. A fine is imposed on vessels found guilty of breaking this regulation. American vessel owners are greatly exercised because the regulation applies to them and cannot be enforced against Canadian vessel owners. They are now clamoring for an international arrangement to be made with Canada under which our vessels will be restricted in the same way.

The Prentiss murder case is one which is now engaging the attention of the Justice Department. Petitions are coming in asking for a commutation of the death penalty fixed for Dec. 17. The grounds urged are that Prentiss is a mere boy, only 18 years of age, and the man Lingard, whom he was accused of killing, was a strong man, with whom a boy could never cope.

The total sealing catch of this year as reported to the Fisheries Department, was 37,324, of which 17,425 were males and 19,899 females.

The postoffice savings bank account for September shows the deposits for the month to have been $599,250, and withdrawals $617,249. The balance to credit of depositors is $29,219,745.

Hon. John Haggart was here yesterday in consultation with Sir Charles Tupper.

Mr. Devlin, M. P., was in town yesterday and went down to Cornwall to attend the obsequies of the late Dr. Bergin.

Hon. William Mulock left for Toronto last night.

A notice appears in The Canada Gazette of an application to Parliament for an act to permit the Kingston and Pembroke Railway to be sold for payment of the indebtedness of the company.

The Standard Photo Engraving Company is seeking incorporation. The amount of capital stock is $10,000. The promoters are Toronto and Montreal men.

The Minister of Finance has gone to New York on a brief visit. Thence he will proceed to Boston and Halifax.

Hon. John Costigan cannot attend the Irish race gathering in Toronto on Tuesday, as he is in New Brunswick. Hon. R. W. Scott, Secretary of State, will not be present either. He is the only Minister in town, and somebody must be here to run the ship of state.

Lieut.-Col. Gray, formerly in command of the Toronto Field battery and now inspector of military stores for the Dominion, will be attached to the headquarters staff here. Lieut.-Col. Gray will have to take up his residence in the city.

Archbishop Duhamel returned yesterday from Lowell, Mass., where he unveiled on Tuesday evening the bronze statue of Father Andre W. Garin, late pastor of St. Jean's Church.

Dr. Adamson of McGill University was in the city yesterday, accompanied by some twenty students, including four young ladies, of his geology class. They visited Besserer's Grove on a geological and botanizing excursion. The weather was very unfavorable.

Dr. McEachren, chief veterinary inspector, was here yesterday, and left for Toronto last night.

DR. BERGIN'S FUNERAL.

The Most General Expression of Sympathy Since the Obsequies of Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 24.—The funeral of the late Dr. Darby Bergin, member for Cornwall and Stormont, took place to-day, and with the exception of that of Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald was the largest in the history of the town. High mass was celebrated in St. Columba's Church in the morning in the presence of a sorrowing congregation. At 2 p.m. the remains were taken to the church and the solemn burial service was said over them. The procession was then formed, headed by a carriage bearing the beautiful wreaths, crosses, etc., which had been sent by friends. The funeral car followed, and then the main body of the procession, composed of about 200 carriages. An immense number of people thronged the streets and the stores and shops were closed out of respect to the dead. The remains were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Flanagan's Point. The pallbearers were: Messrs. William Mack, M. L. A.; A. P. Ross, David Henderson, Samuel Coulson, Joseph Kerr and John Broderick.

Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Adolphe Caron, Sir William Hingston, Senator Sullivan and many other strangers were in town to attend the funeral.

TWO STAGES ROBBED.

The Mail Pouches Were Rifled, but the Robbers Overlooked $2000.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 25.—Information reached this city last night that both the White Oaks and San Antonio mail coaches had been robbed in the Oscuran Mountains. The mail pouches were rifled, the stage horses were taken and the drivers had to walk to the nearest station. The thieves overlooked $2000 in silver in their hurry. The thieves were recognized as belonging to the same band that held up a coach several weeks ago.

British Baronet Dead.

MARGINS WIPED OUT

Bulls Slaughtered in the Chicago Wheat Pit.

TORONTO SPECULATORS HIT HARD

A Decline of Two and a Half Pence in Liverpool Caused a Panic and the Fact That Money Has Short Accentuated It—The Latest Reports.

Toronto, Oct. 26.

Yesterday was the most exciting day of all for the speculative fraternity. A great deal of attention has been bestowed on the wheat market of late and particularly the past week. The advance in the Chicago market within two months has been 23c. The climax was reached on Monday last, when the December option sold at 79 3-4c. Then the stories of large amounts of money and even fortunes began to be circulated about the fortunate ones who had bought and were holding wheat at the time. But there is an end to all things. Hundreds of people were induced by the higher prices to try their luck in wheat, and the buying by outside operators, including those in Toronto, was on a larger scale a week ago than a month ago, when prices were much lower.

Many thought that wheat should be bought at the beginning of last week on declines of 1c to 2c per bushel, but it has turned out differently. The trading element had become so bullish that many talked a dollar wheat in the near future. They backed their opinions and lost.

The market yesterday declined 4c per bushel, the December option selling down to 69c, and this is a decline of 10 3-4c since Monday last. Margins have been wiped out indiscriminately, and the losses extremely heavy. The losses came quicker than the profits, and in some instances operators who had made money up to Monday last are now behind in their speculations. The British markets yesterday were very flat at a decline of 2 1-2d per cental. Available supplies are large, and the future market will depend greatly upon the action of Liverpool.

Demoralization at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Wheat is sinking in price so rapidly that even its most devoted friends are beginning to desert its cause. Yesterday's rally from Thursday's weakness induced a moderate return to confidence, but to-day's break not only offset that revival, but carried dismay to some of the most pronounced and constant bulls. Liverpool was not content to only disregard our yesterday's improvement, but cast additional gloom over the minds of holders of wheat by declining from 2 1-4d to 2 1-2d. This was the all-important factor in the market during to-day's session. The cash wheat situation was somewhat relieved, but there was still a very much congested condition to report.. Money with which to carry the grain is badly needed and the stringency is most discouraging. Ordinary news pertaining to the market cut little figure. Receipts at Chicago were 188 cars, and 31,700 bushels were taken from store. The Northwest had 1088 cars against 835 last Saturday, and 116 a year ago. Shipments from both coasts for the week were 3,823,000 bushels, 300,000 less than for last week. Atlantic seaboard clearances for twenty-four hours amounted to 299,666 bushels. Closing continental quotations were higher to correspond with the American advance of yesterday.

At New York.

New York, Oct. 24.—Wheat opened much lower at the Produce Exchange this morning. December closed last night at 80¾, opened to-day at 77, and May, which closed yesterday at 83⅜, opened to-day at 80¼. Lower cables and free selling were the cause of the lower prices.

The Close at New York.

New York, Oct. 24.—In the last half hour prices of wheat again fell and at the close the decline amounted to fully 3 1-2 per cent. The final figures were the lowest of the day. A lower Liverpool market and trouble in obtaining money accommodations were the chief factors of the weakness. Advices from the West were to the effect that a steady unloading was in progress. The sales in this market during the two hours of business to-day aggregated 5,296,000 bushels. December wheat closed at 76 5-8c and May at 79 5-8.

Advices From England.

London, Oct. 24.—Beerbohm's corn trade list in a review of the week says: "Although the market is apt to go to extremes, and a decided reaction has occurred, the general conditions surrounding the market are unchanged, and the trade need not lose confidence that the world's visible supply is less than in any year since 1891. The price ought to keep up to a level of at least 33s. Any return to low prices will probably be prevented by a rise in the freight rate."

At Liverpool wheat opened ¾d higher this morning, in sympathy with the movement of the market in America, but weakened immediately afterwards. Selling orders at the best period of the market were more plentiful than was anticipated. Heavier shipments overburdened holders and dealers anxious to liquidate them rushed to sell. Values fell rapidly, closing 2¾d down.

A Temerance Cocktail.

Here is the recipe for preparing this delicious drink for a party of six: Mix one cupful of cracked ice with two tablespoonfuls of raspberry syrup and add one quart of lemon soda; stir until ice cold, then serve.

Patti Had a Chill.

London, Oct. 23.—The fact that Madame Patti was unable to fulfil an engagement to sing at Sheffield was the cause of the spread of alarming rumors concerning her health

The fact is that she is suffering from a chill. Her condition is not serious.

Thirteen Were Missing.

Helsingfors, Finland, Oct. 23.—The steamer that was wrecked off Kalihadan, mention of which was made in these despatches yesterday, was the Moss Brow. Six of her crew were saved, but the captain and 14 others are missing.

THE PROTECTION OF DEER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Your readers are, of course, aware that the deer-shooting season will be on from the 1st to the 15th of November next. They are also, no doubt, equally familiar with the legislation of the last session of the Ontario Legislature, which provides that persons other than residents of unorganised territories of the Province who desire to hunt deer are to take out a license therefor at a nominal charge of $2 per license. This sum includes the two tags attached to the license for the shipment of the two deer allowed to each hunter, if that is desired.

In order to give ample facilities for the speedy procuring of these licenses, supplies have already been sent to the clerks of the organized townships and villages in the localities where deer are found, and to the Crown Land Agents and Crown Timber Agents throughout the Province. They are also to be had from the following special issuers at available points:—R. K. Johns, Gravenhurst; W. Kirk, Bracebridge; M. Langford, Dorset; J. Sharp, Burk's Falls; S. G. Best, Magnetewan; J. A. Johnson, Parry Sound; G. W. Burns, Trout Creek; H. R. Shaw, Rosseau; S. A. Huntington, North Bay; John Hines, Barrie; R. Cockburn, Sturgeon Falls; P. M. Shannon, Port Carling; R. S. Scarlett, Huntsville; John Regan, Orillia; Robert Rush, Sault Ste. Marie; J. H. Wilmott, Beaumaris; W. H. Lawson, Park Head; W. R. Climie, Listowel; C. A. Richards, Tara; T. Fraser, Norwood; C. S. Gillespie, Campbellford; A. Chert, Gilmour; J. Nott, Port Perry; G. Southern, Millbrook; W. R. Eady, Renfrew; J. H. Brickwood, Kingston; J. R. Ellis, Fenelon Falls; J. B. McWilliams, Peterborough; H. K. Smith, Belleville; R. S. Tivy, Coe Hill; F. J. Moore, Lakefield; J. T. Robinson, Bobcaygeon; T. G. Eastland, Apsley; T. M. Johnston, Arnprior; Wm. Matheson, Havelock; Wm. Carmichael, Collingwood; C. W. Hartman, Clarksburg; J. Walmsley, Wiarton; B. J. Gilligan, Mattawa; A. J. Taylor, Ottawa, and Thos. Beasley, Hamilton.

The undersigned will also be pleased to receive orders direct, which will be filled by return mail.

There is every indication of an active deer-shooting season, judging by the demand for licenses, and it is in the interest of settlers and sportsmen alike that the efforts of the Government to protect and conserve the deer be supplemented by individual recognition of the law, and by the co-operation of all your readers.

I am, yours very truly,
EDWIN TINSLEY,
Chief Game Warden.

THREE NEW STEAMSHIPS

Trafficd of for the St. Lawrence Route—They Will be the Same Size as the Canada.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—The World correspondent has reason to believe that the St. Lawrence route has a surprise in store for the North Atlantic trade. It is understood that the Allan Line are building, or having built, two magnificent steamers, equal in size, sailing qualities and passenger accommodation to the fine new Canada, which, by the way, arrived at Liverpool yesterday morning. The members of the firm have been asked if such a rumor were true, and, although the Messrs. Allan have neither denied nor confirmed it, the trade fully believes that next season will see two fine ships added to the Allan fleet. People argue this way: If such an addition be not made in time to meet the passenger and freight requirements of next season's trade this old line will have to take a back seat in the face of such splendid specimens of marine architecture as the Canada and the coming Ottawa, and no one believes that the descendants of Sir Hugh Allan will ever do this. There has scarcely ever been such heavy shipments of grain from the port of Montreal as this fall.

"I could load forty steamers if they were to be had," remarked Mr. Jack Torrance yesterday to The World, "although," he added, "the same rush might not be experienced again for years to come. Besides the regular liners a great many tramp steamers are finding their way to the port, although the comparatively heavy insurance rates militate against the single trips. The steamers that have been engaged all summer in the Cape Breton coal trade and that generally return to the Old Country in ballast or loaded with deals from the St. Lawrence, or cotton from New Orleans, have this year been pressed into the Montreal export trade, and are, like the rest, reaping a rich harvest."

Nervous

People find just the help they so much need, in Hood's Sarsaparilla. It furnishes the desired strength by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood, and thus builds up the nerves, tones the stomach and regulates the whole system. Read this:

"I want to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla. My health run down, and I had the grip. After that, my heart and nervous system were badly affected, so that I could not do my own work. Our physician gave me some help, but did not cure. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Soon I could do all my own housework. I have taken

We Caught a Man Who Was

looking for a tailor. He was quite fastidious in his taste. Never bought ready-made suits. Preferred to pay a tailor double the price of the best Suits in the ready-made line so as to get a fit. He supposed he had to. Never had investigated our line. Didn't know that if a suit was made to fit him every way with the exception of a few minor particulars, that we would cut over those particulars and put the suit onto him A PERFECT GARMENT. With his exquisite taste of course he was a poet. At any rate he was a Longfellow. His first question was "can you fit ME?" Our reply was that it made no difference whether he was six feet from crown to toe, or

SIX FEET FROM BACKBONE TO COWCATCHER

We had a "Kast Iron" make that would meet his form everywhere. He looked and was conquered. Sold him a suit he had never got before for less than $18, for $10. Got lots more of them from $3.25 up. Can get 'em at any price up to $15. We never sell anything higher than that. That's the price for the very best Sunday-go-to-meetin', see-yer-best-girl suits. And they are dandies.

Have you seen our frost proof Frieze Uisters, ranging from $4.95 to $12.00. We have a few snaps left in Boys' Two-Piece Suits that will surprise you. We are giving them away at present for $2.38

THE VACANCY FILLED.

Bishop Temple Made Archbishop of Canterbury

AND PRIMATE OF ALL ENGLAND.

A Biographical Sketch of the Distinguished Prelate, Who Was Ordained in 1848 and Has Filled Many Important Positions in the Ecclesiastical Field — Cable News.

London, Oct. 25.—Right Hon. and Right Rev. Frederick Temple, D. D., Bishop of London, Provincial Dean of Canterbury, and Dean of the Chapel Royal, has been appointed Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England, to succeed Right Hon. and Most Rev. Edward White Benson, who died suddenly at Hawarden, Oct. 11.

The new Archbishop of Canterbury is the son of an officer in the army. He was born Nov. 30, 1821, was educated at the Grammar school at Tiverton, and, proceeding to Oxford, took his degree of B. A. in 1842. Having been ordained in 1846, he was appointed principal of the training college at Kneller Hall, near Twickenham, in 1848. This post he resigned in 1855, and, having held an inspectorship of schools during the interval, was appointed in 1858 headmaster of Rugby school. At the general election of 1868 Dr. Temple took an active part in support of Mr. Gladstone and the measure for the disestablishment of the Irish church, and the Premier nominated him to the Bishopric of Exeter, an appointment which caused considerable commotion in clerical circles. Dr. Temple received episcopal consecration at Westminster Dec. 21, 1869. In January, 1885, Dr. Temple was appointed Bishop of London, and was succeeded at Exeter by Dr. Bickersteth.

COMING WEDDINGS.

Sir Albert Kaye-Rollit, M.P., Said to Be About to Wed the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland.

New York, Oct. 25.—Julian Ralph cables to The Journal from London: I am able to announce the approaching marriage of the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland, who, under her first married name of Mrs. Blair, will be readily recalled by Americans. New Yorkers and Floridans particularly will remember her visit to the United States in the company of the Duke of Sutherland. The Duke attracted much attention while in the United States on account of his eccentricities of costume and demeanor, and Mrs. Capt. Blair, as she was then, naturally shared with him in the comment that was provoked. The Duke married Mrs. Blair on the death of his wife, the then Duchess of Sutherland. He died suddenly in September, 1892.

The Dowager Duchess, as is well known, had a trying time after that. Long-buried stories were then raked up and she, moreover, disputed the old Duke's will with the present Duke. The contest resulted in many unpleasant experiences, chief among them being her spending six weeks in Holloway jail for contempt of court owing to her burning up important documentary evidence. She was, however, treated as a first-class demeanant and subsequently compromised matters with the present Duke and his wife. The Dowager Duchess has since lived quietly, but has never obtained much popularity.

The man to whom she is to be married is Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, Conservative member of Parliament for the South Islington division of London, who, owing to his progressive instincts, often finds himself at variance with his party. He is a member of a leading Yorkshire family, and is of middle age, and smart appearance, set off by aggressively-pointed mustaches. He is chief partner of a leading firm of solicitors of London, that is possessed of a lucrative and high-class practice. He is also president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

The marriage, I understand, was only arranged this morning. It will take place in London on Nov. 12, and it is curious that the only child of the prospective bridegroom—her name is Elsie—will be married in the metropolis on the 7th of the same month to Capt. Ellison of Lincolnshire, belonging to the Second Life Guards.

LORD DERBY RETURNS MONEY.

Declines to Accept Salary Offered for His Services as Lord Mayor of Liverpool.

London, Oct. 25.—Lord Derby has set a precedent which the Peer-Mayors in England may not welcome. As Lord Mayor of Liverpool he has asked permission of the corporation to return the personal allowance of $10,000, granted to him for a year's tenure of office. He has insisted on rendering public service to the town gratuitously.

Another precedent interesting to women has been established by the London County Court. A lady brought suit against George's Vestry for damages from the careless driving of a water cart, which drew so near the sidewalk that a heliotrope-colored dress worn by her was sprinkled and spoiled. The court awarded her seven guineas.

The condition of London streets, which are now in the possession of the pavers, sappers and miners, is beyond the power of precedent or magistrates. Repairs are in progress simultaneously in all the thoroughfares, and blocks are constant, especially at midnight, when the theatres are emptying their audiences into streets where cabs cannot approach. If 12,000 cab drivers go on strike next week, of which there is a good prospect, another and more serious complication will arise.

PORTUGUESE WHIPPED.

An Expedition in Mozambique Repulsed After a Desperate Battle.

Lisbon, Oct. 25.—A despatch to the Government from Mozambique gives the details of the repulse of a Portuguese expedition in Manicalde. The expedition, which comprised 300 Portuguese and 180 natives, was commanded by Major Mousinho Albuquerque, Governor-General of Mozambique. It was surprised by a force of 2000 natives belonging to the Namoralios tribe, and a fight that lasted for 22 hours ensued. The Portuguese force was finally compelled to retreat with the loss of two killed and 35 wounded. Among the latter was Captain-General Albuquerque. The enemy lost heavily.

The Royal Bride and Groom.

Rome, Oct. 25.—The Prince of Naples and his bride went this morning to the Pantheon and placed a wreath upon the tomb of King Victor Emmanuel, grandfather of the Prince. The streets were crowded with people, who had come from various parts of the country to witness the wedding pageant yesterday, and the newly married couple were enthusiastically acclaimed as they drove from the Quirinal to the Pantheon.

WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

A TERRIFIC STORM.

St. John Harbor Crowded With Vessels Which Had to Put in for Shelter—Some Rough Experiences.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 25.—This city experienced the worst wind and rain storm for years on Saturday. Starting before daylight Thursday morning, it continued until early this morning with great severity. The harbor is crowded with coasting schooners in for shelter. Considering the high wind very few marine disasters are so far reported. During Saturday, in a pouring rain, hundreds stood about the wharves watching the immense seas dash over Negrotown Point breakwater, Partridge Island and other places. The schooner Lynx had a narrow escape, and for a time it was feared both schooner and crew would go to the bottom. The Lynx was bound from River Hobert for Vineyard Haven for orders, and put in here for shelter, and anchored near Beacon Light. About 9 o'clock the vessel dragged its anchors and was soon at the mercy of a very angry sea. The crew took to the rigging, and a crew of fishermen put out from the Carleton side of the harbor, but could not reach the vessel. Then the captain of the steamer State of Maine had one of his lifeboats launched and manned by professional boatmen, and the crew was taken off. Soon after the Storm King got hold of the vessel and towed her to a place of safety.

The steamer St. John City, which left Halifax on Friday, arrived to-day after a very rough experience. The ship was compelled to put to sea.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company's Appeal Heard, Also That of Farwell & Glendon.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—In the Supreme Court yesterday the case of the Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway v. Sales was proceeded with. The Railway Company appeals from the judgment of the Ontario Court of Appeal, which confirmed Mr. Justice MacMahon's decision in favor of the plaintiff in the trial court. The question as tried in the courts below was as to whether the goods of the respondent, burned at the railway company's station at Merlin, Ont., on Feb. 7, 1895, were destroyed through the appellant's negligence. On this appeal counsel for the appellants argued that they were entitled to rely upon the conditions of the shipping bills as exempting them from liability from negligence. Against this it was contended that the conditions were not pleaded and moreover that they only applied to the company as carriers, and not as common warehousemen, as to which a special contract had been made. Judgment reserved. Riddle for appellant. Thomson, Q.C., and Tilley for respondent.

Farwell & Glendon v. Jamieson was next argued. The defendant Jamieson was owner of a house leased to one Armstrong, and the lease was mortgaged to a loan company, who put a notice on the house that it was to be let, and gave the key to a man named Parsons with authority to show the premises to applicants. Parsons rented the place to the plaintiffs for storage of pianos and defendant distrained on the pianos for rent under the original lease. The question for decision was whether or not the plaintiff's goods were liable to distress under the Landlords' and Tenants' Act, sec. 25, sub-sec. 3, exempting from distress property of any person except the tenant, sub-tenant, or a person in actual occupation of the premises under or with the assent of the tenant during the currency of the lease. The trial judge held that the plaintiffs were in occupation within this section and on appeal the Judges of the Court of Appeal were equally divided. On the completion of the argument judgment was reserved. Laidlaw, Q.C., for appellants; Kilmer for respondent.

The cases of the City of Ottawa v. Clark and Keefer stand for hearing next term, leaving Page v. The Attorney-General of Ontario the last case on the Ontario list to be heard on Monday.

WHERE IS POWERS?

This Man is Said to Have Been Made Away With by the Spanish Government.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The Chicago police department has offered a reward of $500 for the recovery of Albert D. Powers, dead or alive. Powers disappeared September 21, while soliciting for the Cuban relief corps, to which fund he made a personal contribution before he disappeared. The missing man came to Chicago from Owensburg, Ky. It was hinted that he had been made away with by alleged emissaries of the Spanish Government. A detailed description of Powers accompanies the offer of reward.

His Highness Was Pleased.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 25.—The special train tendered the Duke of Abruzzi, Commander Bertolini and other officers of the Italian cruised Cristoforo Colombo, now at Philadelphia, by the Lehigh Valley, arrived here at 7 o'clock this evening. On the run over the mountains the Duke, Commander Bertolini and others occupied seats on the observation platforms. His Highness expressed great pleasure at the magnificent scenery.

KING HUMBERT CONGRATULATED.

The Presidents of the Senate and Chamber Tender Their Felicitations.

Rome, Oct. 23.—The Presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, together with many members of both bodies, presented themselves at the Quirinal to-day and offered their congratulations to the King upon the marriage of the Prince of Naples, Crown Prince of Italy, to Princess Helene of Montenegro, which will take place tomorrow. King Humbert thanked the Presidents, Senators and Deputies for their good wishes, and in the course of his remarks said he saw in the national manifestations of gratification at the coming marriage of the Crown Prince a new proof of the union of the nation with the dynasty of the House of Savoy.

King Humbert has donated 100,000 lire ($20,000) to be distributed to the poor of Rome in honor of the marriage of his son. His Majesty has also ordered that similar disbursements be made in other places. The money will be distributed to-morrow, the day of the wedding.

Cart loads of flowers, many costly presents and a large number of addresses have arrived at the Quirinal.

The Prince of Naples and the members of his suite are overwhelmed with the work of answering the thousands of messages of congratulation that are being received.

Every train arriving in the city is loaded with people desirous of witnessing the pageant to-morrow. One of the chief sights will be a procession of gala carriages, including the one used at the wedding of King Humbert and Princess Margherita of Savoy. Another carriage that has been specially built for the occasion is described as being a marvel of design and carving.

The marriage ceremony was rehearsed in the church to-day, but the members of the royal family were not present. The ceremony to-morrow will be long and fatiguing.

Princess Helene has telegraphed to her mother, saying that she is unable to describe the grand welcome given to her by the Italian people and the affection shown by them.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await cheque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

Confirmation Services.

His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto, evinced his lively interest in the Gore's Landing parish by making a trip from Toronto on Wednesday, Oct. 14th, to administer the rite of confirmation. Twelve candidates were presented by the incumbent, Rev. W. Major, four of whom were from the parish of St. John's, Harwood. A large congregation listened attentively to the Bishop's eloquent and impressive address. Mr. Gerald Hayward, a warm friend of the parish, accompanied His Lordship from Toronto.

Mr. Wallbrooke is well known in town, having worked for some years as a compositor on the EXAMINER and Review. He originally came from Bobcaygeon.

Out of the Ashes.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the destruction by fire of the pump and wind-mill factory, operated by Mr. G. Walter Green, is not to be allowed to seriously interrupt the business of this energetic firm. Arrangements are to be immediately made for new premises, and, in the meantime, all orders will be filled from Mr. Green's Millbrook factory, where he has sent his Peterborough workmen to assist in turning out the work. See adv't.

A CONFLAGRATION SWEEPS THE RACEWAY.

The Dickson Company's Mill Properties Partially Destroyed.

THE EFFORTS OF THE FIREMEN STEMMED THE FLAMES.

Donel's Planing Mill and Green's Pump Factory Totally Destroyed, Together with Their Entire Contents—A Million and a Half of Shingles Go Up in Smoke—It Is a Miracle that the Magnificent Property Was Not Entirely Reduced to Ashes—Still Smouldering.

A large portion of the Dickson Company's milling property lies devastated this morning as the result of last night's disastrous fire, which, beginning at about half-past five, burned furiously for five hours and is smouldering yet and threatening at any time to rise up again with a strong wind in its might and sweep away the remainder of the company's valuable property in the vicinity, unless controlled.

The direction of the wind was all that saved the fire from spreading and destroying the contents of the big lumber yards and the belonging to the estate and situated on the raceway.

The fire was the hottest and brightest that Peterborough has ever known, and the citizens had an opportunity of judging for themselves concerning the competency of the fire brigade, which did such magnificent work in succeeding in confining the fire to the space in which it operated, when surrounded by material of the most inflammable nature. The wind blew the sparks directly across the river, and thus the work of the brigade was made lighter, for if it had blown in any other direction no human power could have availed against the conflagration which would have resulted.

The fire

WAS FIRST NOTICED

by Mr. James Fox, one of the Company's foremen, as he was coming out of the big stables on London street at about half past five in the afternoon. He then noticed a little column of smoke issuing from the basement of the building owned by the Company and occupied by James Donel as a planing mill and sash factory. An alarm was hastily sent in, and the response of the fire brigade was immediate. The alarm also called out thousands of citizens, who crowded the bluffs on the east side of the raceway.

The planing mill seemed to ignite almost spontaneously, so quickly did the flames envelop it. The entire structure was of wood, and the stock being all composed of doors, blinds, etc., manufactured of dry wood, caused the whole affair to go up almost like a flash of powder.

GREEN'S PUMP FACTORY,

also a part of the Dickson Estate, was the next building, and being similarly constructed, its destruction could not be averted, and it, like the planing mill, was soon enveloped in flames. Next south of Donel's was the large flour mill and grain elevator occupied by the Consolidated Milling Coy. It had a fireproof protection of sheet iron, but its very close proximity to the fiercely burning buildings, created the danger of the building becoming so heated as to communicate the fire to the interior of the mill, and besides a small frame addition was attached to the structure, which might also form a means of carrying the fire so close as to be dangerous. All the efforts of the firemen were therefore devoted to saving this property.

A peculiar incident in connection with the saving of this building is worthy of note. While the firemen were flooding the north side of the structure to keep the iron sheeting from becoming red hot and communicating fire to the wood beneath, it was thought that the central tower of the elevator, about 100 feet from the ground, was in no danger. But suddenly a little tongue of flame from a flying ember broke out from the extreme tip of the north-western angle of the cornice of the tower. The hose were turned upon it, but the long distance the water was brought from and the friction on the inner surface of the hose prevented the stream from reaching the point. Repeated and long continued attempts were made in vain. While they were in progress this little tongue of flame, about the size of a torch, burned on, waning and flickering in the gentle breeze. It did not seem to grow larger or smaller, but burned steadily on, and it attracted the almost undivided attention of the thousands that thronged Race street and literally covered the crest of the steep slope west of the raceway. Though to the north of the elevator building the site of the two factories was a seething sea of flames, and, backed by the blazing ranges of lumber beyond the river, made a terribly beautiful and brilliant pyrotechnic display, yet the obstinate little point of fire in the angle of the cornice rivetted every eye, and the sea of flames was for the moment forgotten. Suddenly the helmeted head, and then the shoulders, of Archie Moore appeared at the very apex of the roof of the tower behind the flag staff, and as he poured bucketful after bucketful of water down the roof, he was the observed of all. But his stream went wide of the little beacon light that flamed steadily on as it had been doing for about half an hour. Next, at a point to the left of the flame, a crash was heard, the point of a crowbar followed; as the aperture was enlarged, the head and shoulders of Mr. S. Munro, of the Consolidated Milling Company, was thrust through the opening, and a mighty cheer arose, which was repeated a few minutes later when a deftly applied bucket of water gave the quietus to the obstinate little eye of fire that had unwinkingly met the gaze of thousands for about half an hour, and had monopolized with its little ten-cents' worth of damage, the universal attention in spite of the attractions of acres of flame that reckoned their work of destruction by tens of thousands of dollars.

Whilst the firemen were busy at this point of huge proportions was doing grand service between the mills and the river by keeping the ground saturated with water, as it is composed of such material as sawdust, slabs, etc., being all ground reclaimed from the river and built up of saw mill refuse. If this once took fire the flames could easily have spread to the big saw mill and the company's bridge.

A cry of dismay went up from the crowd when, as the results of the sparks floating across the river, a blaze suddenly shot up on the opposite bank in the company's extensive lumber yards. The fire engine was immediately run over across the bridge and a stream of water was soon playing on the shingle piles, which had been ignited, but nothing could save them, and the enormous pile was soon converted into a roaring furnace of flame. There were over a million and a half of shingles in the pile, which

as well as several hundred cords of wood. The fire was prevented from spreading further into the yards, although the feat seemed an impossible one, and at one time it looked as though the Peterborough Light and Power Company's works would also be lost, as well as the street railway power house. Although the fire was confined to the limit mentioned, it worked its way into the banks, which are about twenty-five feet in height at the side of the river and are composed of sawdust and slabs, where the flames might smoulder for weeks. By probing with a pole it was ascertained this morning that the fire had worked its way in to a distance of about eight feet, and it is greatly feared that a wind may fan it into activity again before it can be put out

A visit to the scene of the fire this morning shows that the planing mill and pump factory were burned to the ground, not a vestige of either being left standing.

THE INSURANCE.

There is in all $75,000 insurance on the Dickson property, divided amongst a large number of companies, through Cox & Davis, general agents. The two buildings were insured at $2,500 each. The loss on the lumber destroyed will be $6,000 or $7,000, fully covered by insurance. The companies affected by the loss are—Royal, Western, North British and Mercantile, Lancashire, Guardian, Phœnix of Hartford, Manchester, Merchantile, Phœnix of England, Ætna, London and Lancashire, Sun, Phœnix of Brooklyn, and Alliance. Mr. W. H. Hill had also taken a small risk on the property for the Mercantile.

Mr. J. R. Donel had $2,000 insurance on the contents of his planing mill, placed through W. H. Hill, agent, in the Merchantile and Norwich Union Companies. He also had policies, through Cox & Davis, for $1,000 each in the British America, Manchester, Phoenix of Hartford, and Guardian.

Mr. G. W. Green had $1,000 insurance on the machinery and stock in the pump factory, placed through Lindsay & Might in the Economical, and $1,000 more through Mr. Boswell in the Gore.

NOTES.

The Dickson Company's loss will run up to about $25,000. The two mills which were destroyed were worth about $8,000 each with their shafting, being comparatively new. The loss in shingles and wood amounts to above $7,000 more, and the loss of lumber, damage to the yards, etc., swells the total loss to the figure mentioned. It is understood to be fully covered by insurance.

Messrs. Clark and Wm. Davidson were in the flour mill at the time the fire started and knew nothing of it until seeing the door open, someone ran in and apprised them of the fact.

The conflagration illuminated the country for miles around, and at a distance of twenty and thirty miles the appearance of the sky lead to the belief that the entire town was being destroyed. Hundreds drove in from the country on that account.

The churches were very poorly patronized last night, as the citizens were most anxious, especially those living in the vicinity, the fear being that a change in the wind, or its increase, might spread the flames.

Mr. Donel estimates his loss at about $7,000, on which he carried $4,000 insurance. Mr. G. W. Green's machinery and stock were worth a of thousand or so less, and he only carried $2,000 insurance.

Mr. Wm. McGregor carried the key of Donnel's mill and at half past three Sunday afternoon was in the premises, and saw nothing to arouse his suspicions concerning a fire.

Mr. G. W. Green was in Millbrook when he saw the fire, and hearing where it was drove his little ponies almost to a standstill to get home. Mr. Green's business will suffer little interruption from the disaster. Orders will be filled from his Millbrook factory where his Peterborough workmen will be sent to hurry on work.

The firemen are still working, but they are lying off for rest in relays.

If the fire had occured a couple of months ago when everything in the yards was as dry as tinder it would have been even more difficult to stem the conflagration. As it was everything had been dampened by the recent snow storm.

All the Dickson employees are at work still helping the firemen.

The origin of the fire is unknown, and is said that it is sufficiently obscure to warrant an investigation.

When the fire staff is next increased His Worship the Mayor and Mr. Richard Hall should certainly receive appointments. Both rendered most effective and workmanlike assistance, and the latter especially was frequently observed occupying positions of great danger, but handling and directing a stream with all the sang fold of an experienced fireman. Mr. R. Neil and Mr. Parker, of the Ontario Bank, also distinguished themselves among many others, and several onlookers were amused to see Mr. G. K. Martin pulling and hauling away at the leaky hose as if his life depended on it. He was in luck to have on his rubber coat. Lots of the citizens were not so fortunate and got drenched to the skin.

Messrs. P. Begley, Wm. Lang, Edward Sutton and George Robinson lost valuable kits of tools in the fire. Mr. Begley also losing a lathe, his loss amounting to $100.

The fire engine began work last night at ten minutes to seven and, Mr. James English looked after it continually until half past one to-day. At this time Mr. English stated that he thought all danger was over as every visible spark has been extinguished and the premises thoroughly drenched with water.

He will come down from Toronto every Friday evening and stay over Sunday, and in the spring, after completing his present course, will settle in Peterborough.

The church is to be congratulated on securing the services of this clever and energetic young clergyman.

BURST THE WATER MAIN.

Great Pressure was Applied on Account of the Fire.

The great pressure which was applied on account of the fire last night, caused a pipe in the principal water main to burst on Smith street between Water and George.

The break occurred about midnight, and Water street, along which the water found it way, was speedily transformed into a river of considerable magnitude. The water was shut of at about ten o'clock this morning and a gang of men are at work repairing the break. The increased pressure doubtless caused a weak spot to give in the pipe.

The pressure will be off probably all day throughout the town, as the breakage in the main shuts off every residence.

ST. JOHN'S RESTORATION FESTIVAL.

The Fourteenth Anniversary Festival of the Opening of the Restored Church—Special Services for the Day.

Nex Sunday, All Saints' day, is the fourteenth anniversary of the opening of the restored Church of St. John's, and the occasion will be celebrated by services special and appropriate to the important occasion. On Sunday morning at 8 o'clock there will be an early celebration of the Holy Communion. At ten o'clock Morning Prayer, at eleven o'clock Holy Communion services and sermon. In the evening the service will be a musical one, and Rev. Carl Smith will be the preacher. The off-story during the day will be devoted to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the Diocese.

Yesterday the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, was in Cobourg taking the services for the Rector, Rev. A. W. Spragge, who is incapacitated by illness, and therefore not being able to address his congregation on the subject of the observance of the Anniversary Festival, he wrote the following letter, which was read at both services by Rev. E. V. Stevenson:

PETERBOROUGH, Saturday, Oct. 24th.

MY DEAR PARISHIONERS,—As it is not my privilege to be with you to-day, I take this means of calling your attention to our Parochial Festival next Sunday, of which notice has already been given.

It is fitting that on one day of the year our thoughts should be fixed upon the Parish which unites us all, and that holy house in which we meet to worship God and to be trained for His service in that other "house not made with hands."

You will also regard it as a particularly appropriate and happy choice which has placed this "Family Festival" on All Saints Day. For that day is our church's monument unveiled (as it were) once a year, recallingly, lovingly and tenderly, all those members of the Divine family in all ages who have bravely and faithfully lived, served and suffered, and now rest from their labours. And we shall then join in the highest act of worship, closely associated once more with those whose prayers have ascended in this church in bye-gone years, or who have been otherwise connected with us in our Lord's service. It will be also appropriate to the associations which cluster around this beautiful day that our united offerings should be devoted to a fund which enables us to remember in the most practical way those whose lives have been spent in the church's service, and those whom they have left behind them relying on the tender care of their brethren.

Praying that at this season we may all be drawn more closely to one another and more closely to the persons, Divine and human, in the unseen world. Believe me,

Your servant in Christ Jesus,
JOHN C DAVIDSON.

CONFIRMATION AT LAKEFIELD.

Twenty-Five Candidates Confirmed—A Parochial Address to His Lordship and His Reply.

Yesterday His Lordship Bishop O'Connor visited Lakefield and administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to twenty-five children of the parish. Before mass His Lordship spent some time in examination of the children, and in explaining to them the necessity and importance of receiving worthily the sacrament of Confirmation He had three requests to ask of those he confirmed, to be faithful to their morning and evening prayers, diligent in their attendance at mass, to the reception of the sacraments of Penance and the Blessed Eucharist, and that all of them should abstain from intoxicating drink, at least till they reached the age of twenty-one, all of which were faithfully promised by the children. After mass His Lordship delivered a very instructive sermon on the necessity of closer communion with God by prayer and a worthy reception of the sacraments. The Stations of the Cross being erected, Mr. Martin Coughlin, on behalf of the parishioners, read an address to His Lordship, in which he pointed out the many sacrifices His Lordship had made in order to secure them a church and to provide them with a priest to look after their spiritual welfare.

His Lordship made a suitable reply, thanking the parishioners for their sentiments of loyal devotion to Mother Church and to himself. He had had pleasing evidences of their spirit of the self-sacrifice they had manifested in their efforts to advance the material interests of the parish of Lakefield. As to the flattering references that had been made to his own services, his lordship pointed out that he had simply tried to do his duty, and to faithfully discharge the trust which the responsibilities of his office indicated. After again thanking them for their pleasing address, his lordship bestowed his blessing upon the people of the parish.

Mysterious Robbery.

A very strange robbery was perpetrated in Minden on Wednesday afternoon last between the hours of three and six o'clock in the Dominion Hotel, when Mr. J. H. Thompson's cash box, containing about fifty dollars in money and notes, mortgages, lumbermen's times, etc., amounting to over a thousand dollars, was stolen. It appears that the cash box has been kept in a particular drawer in a room upstairs; Mr. Thompson went to it about the time the three o'clock stage starts and took some money out of it, putting the box back in its usual place, and about six o'clock had occasion to return to the box when it had disappeared. No trace of the missing valuables has yet been obtained.—Minden Echo.

A Bear Hunt.

The veteran bear hunter, Tom Marsden, of Roseneath, had an exciting experience out at Oak Lake last week. Tom went out, accompanied by his trusty dog, Frank, upon his annual bear hunt, and was one morning watching for game at the feeding places where the wahoo berries are numerous. His dog soon stirred up a she bear and several cubs. Frank playfully took hold of a hind leg of one of the cubs, which caused it to squeal aloud, when the old bear took after the dog in good shape. The dog made for his master, the bear following with mouth wide open. Tom raised his gun and fired when the bear was about twenty feet away, and the shot knocked her eye out and broke her shoulder. Still she kept up a vigorous fight with the dog, but Tom could not get the cartridge out of his gun to put another one in. Finally the hunter picked up a stout oak club, got on the blind side of the bear, and gave it to him in the neck. Had Tom missed his shot and not been able to get the cartridge out, there might have been a funeral out at Alderville, with Mr. Bear as chief mourner. The experience was an exciting one for Tom.

THE "CAVAN SWAMP" AND SHORTER ROADS.

SWAMP DRAINAGE AND ROADS ON THE 13TH AND 14TH CONCESSIONS.

Visit of Provincial Road Inspector Campbell—The Scene Visited and Careful Exploration Made—A Public Meeting—A Scheme Endorsed—Double Advantage of Drainage and Road Construction.

For some years there has been more of less active agitation and discussion respecting the opening up of concessions number 13 and 14, township of Cavan, and also the naturally associated work of draining what is known as the "Cavan Swamp," by which draining about 4,000 acres of marshy tract, now useless for anything but the not valuable timber it contains, will be reclaimed and rendered available for purposes of cultivation.

Matters, however, were allowed to drift, so long as the principal grain markets for the district were Port Hope and Millbrook. The people were fairly satisfied with the main highway that led to these places, but with the building of the C.P.R. the advantages of Peterborough became so increased till it became, as it is to-day, the best market centre in the Midland district. Then the necessity of easier access to Peterborough for certain sections of Cavan, especially those in the vicinity of Mount Pleasant, west, immediately south and north of that village became urgent.

Some years ago a largely signed petition was presented to the Cavan Council, asking the passage of a by law to borrow money under the Ontario Drainage Act, for the draining of the swamp east of Mount Pleasant. The by-law was passed, but through some technicality it was quashed and the proceedings came to an end.

Now the agitation is reviving, especially as it is possible to secure the drainage and at the same time secure the opening of the concessions mentioned, which, it is claimed, will shorten the distance to Peterborough from some of the districts of Cavan named, by about eight miles. This is a matter of great importance, especially at a time of bad roads, when the smallest shortening of distance is a distinct advantage.

Another element that operates somewhat in delaying action is the difference of opinion that exists among the residents immediately interested as to the superior feasibility of the proposed schemes one to expend about $2,000 in opening concession 13 for a temporary road—another to expend $4,000 on concession 14, or the expenditure of about and the co-incident construction of roads parallel with the drain. Under the existing conditions the building of a road on Con. 14 through the swamp is a practical impossibility except under the plan proposed of making the construction of the road possable by the construction of a drain parallel to it. At one point of the swamp a creek of a very winding character cuts through concession 14. So winding is this creek that it crosses the concession forward and back somewhat in the shape of the worm of a still, about nine times within the distance of 3 miles. By the way, this creek which takes its rise in Manvers, flows eastward and finally becomes the creek that passes through Jackson Park and the town emptying in the Little Lake at Spaulding's Bay. By the drain proposed this creek across the concession would be diverted from that line, and the earth resulting from the excavation would be thrown upon the concession, making a good, high road bed, answering the conditions of perfect drainage, which Mr. Campbell considers the first requisite in the construction of a good permanent road-bed. Thus at the same time would the drainage of the swamp, convert four thousand acres of comparatively useless land into fertile meadow, and open for travel a highway that will permit a large and thrifty section of farmers to have easy access to their best market—the town of Peterborough, thus on the town and on the farmers interested.

These circumstances led the Council to arrange for the supplementing of the opinion of their own engineers by the special knowledge and services of Mr. A. W. Campbell, C.E., Provincial Road Instructor, who has had a very large practical experience in the western part of the province with the operation of the Ontario Drainage Act, and a similarly large practical experience in the construction of roads.

Accordingly, on Friday, Mr. Campbell, in company with Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., as arranged by the Department of Agriculture, drove from Peterborough to Cavan, to visit the site of the proposed improvements.

They were met at the 13th concession by the whole of the Cavan council and also Mr. McLean, of Mount Pleasant. The party then proceeded to concession 14, and walked about four miles through the swamp to Mount Pleasant. After the examination of maps and profiles they walked back by way of the 13th concession to the point of starting in the morning.

Having gone over the ground, the party drove to Cavanville, where a large meeting of the ratepayers was held in the evening and the subject in hand discussed.

Reeve Thorndyke occupied the chair. Mr. McLean advocated the 13th concession scheme, and another gentleman favoured the 14th concession proposal.

Mr. Campbell gave a general address upon the importance of road-making. He advocated a system that would result in the construction of permanent road beds, and dwelt upon the proper instruction of pathmasters in their duties—so that they would be able to more intelligently deal with the important interests intrusted to them. He advocated fewer pathmasters and better supervision by competent instructors, and particularly emphasized the very great importance of good drainage to insure permanent good roads. The first aim should be a permanent road-bed—a lasting foundation, and after that the maintenance of roads in good condition was

A VERY EASY PROBLEM.

He pointed out that if the thirty-five million dollars and the ten million days of statute labour that had been employed on highways during the past ten years had been properly spent—with reference to securing good drainage and a proper road-bed, and the employment of competent pathmasters, the results would have been far different from those that have actually resulted by the practice of a careless, haphazard system.

Referring to the local subject—the Cavan Swamp, Mr. Campbell expressed his decided approval of the reports of the previous engineers, Messrs. Rogers and Hewson, who had recommended the proper drainage of the entire swamp, which would reclaim about four thousand acres of now comparatively valueless land, and make it capable of profitable cultivation, and incidentally improve the condition of the roads at the same time.

The people present approved of the scheme, but the question arose as to the possible and probable objection of the ratepayers of the southern part of the township to the expenditure involved in the carrying out of the scheme. But it was pointed out that, as the portions of the township to be benefitted had for years contributed to the construction of the good roads enjoyed by the southern portion of the township, it would not be unfair to ask them to now assist their northern neighbors to overcome the disadvantages nature has placed in the way of their readily gaining access to their best market. It was also urged that the increased assessable value of the reclaimed lands that would result from the drainage of the swamp toward recouping the township for the outlay that would be required.

Mr. Stratton also briefly addressed the meeting. He hoped a work would be pushed whose completion would be to the material advantage of both the township and the Town of Peterborough.

The improvement contemplated will materially shorten the distance to Peterborough from the portions of the township mentioned, and it is to be hoped that the natural advantages involved in the prosecution of the scheme will not be lost by failure to take the action the circumstances indicate should be taken.

THE ARIZONA KICKER.

The Mayor Tells Why He Couldn't Get a Quorum and the Postmaster is Compelled to Thrash a Caller.

In the last issue of The Kicker we had a local item to the effect that Sam Hastings, owner of the Cloud Burst saloon, would make good fodder for the Vigilance Committee. The item was based on information that he had killed two men in Wyoming and had been a road agent in Montana. Mr. Hastings called on us two or three days ago in the most gentle and courteous manner and proved that we were entirely mistaken. He bit a man's ear off in Utah and licked a stage driver in Nebraska years ago, but that is the extent of his wickedness. For ten years past he has been sending money to a Chicago orphan asylum and buying tracts for free distribution in the West. Mr. Hastings has subscribed to two copies of The Kicker, and his advertisement will also be found in another department. We did him an injustice and cheerfully apologize.

He Will Live.

Tuesday afternoon, while the postmaster of this town (who is ourself) was seated in his private room at the postoffice, a stranger who didn't know that there had been a new deal in postal affairs in this locality, entered the office and standing at the general delivery window, began whooping and shooting and calling for the mail for Bill Thompson. That was the fashion which prevailed here three months ago, but which we abolished after a ruction with seventeen different men. As soon as a riot began we went out and asked Mr. Thompson to desist, but he turned his shooter in our direction instead. We had a finger grazed and lost a lock of hair, but in the course of five minutes Mr. Thompson was lying in a heap on the sidewalk and had lost his memory. The doctor in attendance says he will get well in the course of two or three months, but that he will always drag his left leg behind him. As postmaster we represent the United States Government, and if any critter can fool with Uncle Sam and not get hurt, that's his good luck.

Suspended Publication.

Mr. John Donaldson, late editor and proprietor of the Sunset Hill Herald, passed through this town two days ago en route to Tombstone, having his newspaper outfit on a wagon. He called at The Kicker office to say that he had suspended publication at the Hill, and was looking for another town in which to bring out his weekly. He evidently hoped for consolation, but got none from us. When he first entered the territory we sized him up for a shoemaker. He is a man without sand. Any critter on two legs can enter his sanctum any time of day and make him kneel. The boys over on the Hill used to go in and cuff his ears and slap his Burnside whiskers as a diversion, and Mr. John Donaldson would lay down like a rabbit. They don't want him at Tombstone or anywhere in the Territory. Let him pass on to New England and unload his outfit beside some gurgling brook.

No Council Meeting.

Owing to the lack of a quorum there was no meeting of the Common Council last Tuesday night, and there has been much unfavorable comment on the part of the public over the same. His Honor the Mayor (who is ourself), desires to state that it was in no wise his fault. Sunday afternoon Alderman Jackson got drunk and lay down in the road and was run over by a drove of 300 mules, and it will be several weeks before he will be able to leave the house. Monday afternoon Alderman Higgins kicked at a Chinaman and hit a telegraph pole instead, and his whole five toes were driven back into his heel. On the evening of the same day Alderman Murphy was idiot enough to start in search of a half-breed who had called him a liar, and to take along a rusty old revolver which hadn't been fired in a year. When he found his man he started to shoot, the gun burst and nearly killed the Alderman. With the three men laid up there was no quorum, and no business could be transacted. It will probably be a month before anything can be done, and the blame should be placed where it belongs.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story :—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken [illegible] of advertised remedies, aut got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

THE DAIRY

How to Salt Butter.

Doubtless it seems silly to some people to have attention called to so simple a matter as the salting of butter, and yet it often occurs that otherwise superior dairy products are absolutely spoiled by neglect to properly perform as simple work as salting. One of the results of ignorance in this simple matter is the mottled appearance sometimes observed in butter. Hoard's Dairyman discusses the subject as follows:—

"Perhaps everyone who has ever made butter has been troubled with this at some time. The cause of the mottled condition which is frequently seen in butter is a disputed one, yet it is simple enough after all. As we all know, salt affects the color of butter. All butter takes on a deeper hue when it has been salted a few hours. Take a lot of butter from the churn in a mass, salt it in streaks by cutting down through it with the ladle and scattering salt freely where the ladle went, let it stand half a day before working and you will see a good illustration of mottled butter. In a few words the explanation is this: Mottled butter is caused by uneven distribution of salt, nothing more or less. To avoid this the following plan is an excellent one, and one which is followed by many of our best butter makers to-day: Leave the butter in granules, wash with water cold enough to prevent adhesion, drain the salt while still in the churn, then revolve the churn or tip from side to side until the butter globules mass somewhat and the salt is evenly distributed. By tipping the churn one way, then the other, the salt may be very evenly sprinkled on, or a wooden fork of suitable size may be used to stir it up, adding only a portion of the salt at a time. The salt melts or dissolves the moment it touches the grains of butter, and each grain is instantly coated with brine. Then when the butter has drained a few minutes remove it to the worker, press until moderately dry and pack away. No further working is necessary and there will be no trace of streaks or a mottled condition to be found. Salting in the churn is sure to be a favorite method with those who try it. The amount of butter can be very closely estimated, as the amount from a given quantity of cream does not vary very materially from time to time. Nor is it essential to weigh out the salt each time. Measure out a pound of salt—usually a full pint of salt will weigh a pound, and it is more quickly measured than weighed each time. Some adhere very tenaciously to the old way of twice working their butter, but once is a great plenty. If the salt is evenly distributed and the excess of moisture pressed out, that is sufficient and it can be done at one operation as at two.

A Warm Weather Milk House.

A very convenient milk house for warm climates, or for summer use in colder sections, is shown in the engraving herewith. It is six feet square and six feet high at the eaves, which is large enough for the milk of two or three cows. The house is built under a large grape arbor, about twenty feet from my kitchen pump. The milk tank, which is twelve inches deep and fourteen inches wide at the top, extends along the north side. It has a screen cover, which may be covered with cloth in very hot or dusty weather. A table with shelf underneath occupies the southeast corner. A space just above the level of the tank, two feet wide and extending on all sides of the house, is covered with wire screen. Shelves above the screen and below the tank give sufficient room for milk and butter dishes. The milk is set in pails. A galvanized iron pipe leads from a small tank at the side of the pump down eighteen inches below the surface of the ground, across the twenty foot space and up again to the level of the milk tank. An overflow pipe at the other end of the tank carries off the water after it has reached the proper height in the tank. Another pipe, at the bottom of the tank, is used for emptying it when desired. The door in the southwest corner is of wood, but could be of screen if preferred. Board shutters cover the screens in rainy weather. The water in the tank may be changed at any time by pumping water into the small tank at the well.—R. E. Merryman, Alachua Co., Fla.

From Calf to Cow.

The Maryland Farmer has this to say upon the subject:—

"Quite as many calves are spoiled for dairy purposes by overfeeding as by being fed too little; for if the calf is left too fleshy it acquires a tendency to continue so. It should be fed on new milk alone for two or three weeks, when skimmed milk should be substituted. If the calf is at grass no other food will be required. Until the calf is two months old the milk should be warmed to about 90 degrees and should always be fed from a clean pail. Winter calves should be kept warm and dry and be given a little fine hay as soon as they will take it, or at about four weeks of age. They may have ground oats or wheat in limited quantities, always to be fed dry. Calves should be weaned from milk soon after they are four months old. No grain should be fed after the heifers are well started, unless their pasturage or hay supply is of inferior quality, when it may be supplemented with bran or oatmeal."

"Going to Insure."

THE Man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who has'nt made the decision. In fact he is usually worse, because he has considered the subject and been convinced of his duty, but has not done it. "Nothing is done so long as anything remains undone." UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A FETCHING GOWN.

Of Mauve and a Deep Shade of Turquoise Blue.

Outre is the word to describe many of the new combinations in gowns.

A Vienna modiste has so cleverly combined a shade of mauve and a deep shade of turquoise blue as to make the frock a poem. The two colors, under less clever fingers, would be a nightmare. The skirt of this daring frock is of richly brocaded foulard, with a groundwork of mauve and huge scrolls of the blue melting into mauve at its edge. It is made full of godets, gracefully arranged, and edged at the foot with a narrow border of sable fur.

The round bodice is made of turquoise blue broadcloth, fitted smoothly over the shoulders, and brought into soft folds at the belt, both back and front. A double box plait, extending the length of the front, is ornamented with three huge cut steel buttons.

The sleeves fit the arm like the skin to the shoulder, over which flare two peep frills of the blue lined with mauve taffeta. A folded stock and belt of turquoise blue velvet ribbon caught together with ornaments of cut steel complete the costume.

Green and blue combine beautifully. A smart frock of hunter's green melton has an odd vest let into the front of the coat of turquoise blue velvet all appliqued over with grayish tinted lace leaves. There are flaring cuffs of the velvet treated with the lace, and a broad oval collar of the same.

Vermilion and brick red is a happy combination, and one that will be often seen this winter, especially in millinery. The vividness of the vermilion seems to melt into the depth of the red in the loveliest way.

Others have found health, vigor and vitality in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it surely has power to help you also. Why not try it?

As Well as Ever.

Dear Sirs,—After suffering for two years from acute indigestion I tried B B B. I took only three bottles, which made me as well as ever I was. I highly recommend B. B. B. to all dyspeptics.

HOUSEHOLD

How to Make a Flower Stand.

No home is complete without flowers, and yet it is often a puzzle how to arrange them to advantage. When arranged on the window sills they occupy too much room, and placed about miscellaneously they are not artistic. A flower stand is appreciated by every one, and this especial one is very simply made.

First, secure three boxes of different sizes; fasten them all firmly together and attach to the bottom a set of round, turned feet. Then paint it all a deep Indian red.

It will look heavy when finished, but an adaptation of applique work will relieve it. These designs may be cut out in cardboard, with a sharp knife, and then treated in gold and black, with an occasional dash of bright turquoise blue.

The only difficulty will be in arranging the patterns accurately and putting on the finishing touch of inch bead moulding, painted to match the rest. This stand is exceedingly handsome painted black, very highly varnished and decorated with a brilliant, hand-painted design of poppies or hollyhocks. The middle shelf is left open, so as to hold various bits of bric-a-brac.

Cold Water Starch.

Cold water starch is generally suitable, and is most commonly used, for all articles that are of an opaque character, as collars, cuffs and shirts. It is stronger and easier to work with if partly prepared the day before it is wanted. This is done by putting the dry raw starch in a basin with a little water—say, for a small washing, three tablespoonfuls best white starch to six tablespoonfuls cold water. Cover with a paper to keep the dust out, and leave it to blend. Next morning take half a teaspoonful of lump borax, bruise it and set it to boil in a tiny and very clean saucepan, with eight tablespoonfuls of cold water. Stir occasionally, and boil till every particle of borax is dissolved; then add half a teaspoonful of pure glycerine, pour the mixture into a basin and let it cool. If added too hot, it would partly cook the starch and spoil it for our present purpose. Then mix all together with a wooden spoon, and when the starch is smooth like cream, add a few drops of blue to give it a nice clear color. Now take a piece of best white curd soap and rub it between your hands among the starch till the mixture is quite frothy, like a basin of soap bubbles.

The collars and cuffs, after being washed and dried and rolled up in a clean towel, should be placed on a table beside the basin of starch. A large plate and one or two clean towels, to wrap the things in when done, will also be required.

Take three or four collars at a time—of one shape and size—lay them neatly together by the button holes, hold them all by one end, mix up the starch again from the bottom, as it settles very quickly, dip in the collars, wet them and rub them together as if you were washing them in the starch; then wring them out, lay them in a plate and repeat till all are done. Cuffs in the same way. Then take one at a time, and give each a good dry rubbing in your hands to remove all the loose floury starch that lies on the surface. Smooth out a cloth or towel, spread a layer of the collars across one end of it, but not touching each other, turn a fold of the cloth over them, spread more collars, fold again, and when it will hold no more, roll up tightly, double it, slap it against the table and set it away in a cool place for the night. Iron them next morning.

Turquoise in Favor.

The return to favor in jewelry of turquoises gives an impetus to the new "turquois" embroidery, says a writer in the New York Times. Some new autumn designs show the familiar sequins and paillettes replaced by wonderfully good imitations of the pretty blue stones in a form to use to good purpose. Waistcoats, collars, or plastrons picked out with turquois embroidery will be handsome reliefs to a simple toilette, and are likely to become popular.

A pretty and novel use for the turquois is suggested in the embroidery of covers for buttons. A large wooden mold is easily procured, which, covered with a scrap of velvet, satin or silk, and worked with the stones and gold thread, evolves an effective and fashionable decoration, while affording an hour or two of pleasant work.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.

James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches

A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

NINE PEOPLE KILLED.

An Accommodation Train Down South Ran Into An Excursion Train With Awful Results.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—A head-end collision occurred on the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway near Mesamec Highlands at 10 o'clock this morning, by which nine people were killed and a score injured. The scene of the wreck is 13 miles west of this city. The Valley Park accommodation train, going east very fast on a down grade, came into a collision with the second section of a westbound excursion train, going to St. James, Mo., and carrying 240 G. A. R. men and their families. The impact demolished both engines and wrecked or derailed all the cars.

Nine bodies were recovered during the afternoon, and it is believed that at least two more are beneath the wreck. Of the 20 injured eight are likely to die. Following is a list of the dead:

Charles Kohl, engineer accommodation train, St. Louis; Conrad Kunze, excursionist, St. Louis; Charles M. Nobles, excursionist, St. Louis; W. C. Stromberg, excursionist, St. Louis; Frank Hasler, locomotive fireman, St. Louis; J. C. Blevins, passenger on accommodation, Beckville, Mo.; William Cartwright, excursionist, St. Louis, Bernard McKenna, St. Louis, in charge of refreshment car; Mary McKenna, aged 14, assisting her father.

The injuries of the following are thought to be fatal, all being residents of St. Louis: Engineer Dryden of the excursion train, Conductor Henry Osgood of the excursion train, Conductor George Wolf of the accommodation train, Charles R. Milents, Mrs. Peter Hall, Frank Garrity, J. E. Triplett, Frederick Lenz.

There were ten passengers in the two cars of the accommodation train. The front car of the excursion train was the commissary car, filled with refreshments. A number of passengers, mostly young men, were grouped around the temporary counter, eating and drinking. This and the next car were completely shattered. In the coach following the commissary car were 70 people. These fared badly, especially from the steam that poured forth from both boilers. Windows were broken in order to secure egress. The car had been turned completely around and lodged alongside the commissary car. The seriously injured were treated and cared for at Kirkwood, and those able to travel and the uninjured were returned to the city at 3 p.m. It is known that Engineer Dryden had orders to wait at Windsor Siding, near where the collision occurred, to allow the accommodation train to pass, but he increased the train's speed and tried to overhaul the first section of the train.

The excursionists were going to St. James, Mo., to assist in the dedication of a home for the aged widows of veterans.

ARE THEY BOTH DEAD?

The Mystery Unsolved as to the Identity of the Man Who Jumped From Prospect Point.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 25.—Local people are still puzzling over the Ferritch-Barton suicide, whatever it be. Though the hat of the victim has been positively identified by Mrs. Ferritch as that belonging to her husband, the fact remains that the description of the victim, as given by eye-witnesses of the tragedy who saw him as he passed them in the park on his way to Prospect Point to make the leap, does not in the least correspond with the description of Mrs. Ferritch's husband. Ferritch had a full beard and was more than 50 years old, whereas these eye-witnesses positively assert that their man had only a mustache and could not have been more than 34 or 35 years old. To add to the mystery is first the letter received from Barton, in which it was stated that he proposed to commit suicide; and, second, the fact that his description very nearly tallies with that of the suicide. The affair certainly is shrouded in mystery; and as the body will never likely be recovered it seems destined to remain so. The only really satisfactory solution of the matter is that both Ferritch and Barton have suicided.

WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN?

Halifax Naval Circles Are Talking of Important Changes in Regard to the British North American Squadron.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 24.—A report is current in inside naval circles here that Great Britain has decided on what is considered the most important measure, so far as the defence of British North America is concerned, that she has ever taken at a time when the nation has not been engaged in war. It is stated that the squadron of warships, now known as the British North American and West Indian fleet, is to be separated into two divisions and each division brought up to surpass the strength which so far has been maintained for the single squadron. One fleet will serve for the defence of Newfoundland and the Atlantic coast of Canada, while the other will make its headquarters at Bermuda and look after the interests of Britain in her West Indian possessions and possibly those in South America. This step means that a powerful fleet of British warships will be found in Canadian and in West Indian waters the year round, whereas at present the summer months find the ships on the Canadian and Newfoundland coast, while the other half of the 12 months is spent in the West Indies.

The division of the North American station in the manner indicated may not take place until next spring, but it is probable there was good foundation for the statement of a couple of months ago that Halifax harbor will contain at least one member of the British fleet this winter. One of the most interesting features of the story that the naval service will be doubled and more than doubled is the statement that the flagship for the British North American division will not be the battleship Renown, but that it will be the mighty ship of war Royal Arthur, one of the great monsters of Britain's navy, and that she will bring the new Vice-Admiral with her to command this division. When the Vice-Admiral now commanding, Sir James Erskine, leaves this station in a few months' time, his flagship, the Crescent, will return to England.

The division of the station will, of course, mean two British Vice-Admirals on this side of the Atlantic. One of them will be Sir John Fisher; who will be the other is unknown, but his flagship will be the Renown. To keep the officers of the various ships attached to both divisions familiar with the waters of British North America and the West Indies, it is said here there will be an exchange of divisions every eighteen months, the ships on the Canadian coast going to the West Indies and vice versa. The big cruiser Talbot, which recently came to Halifax from England to replace the Magicienne, will, it is understood, be one of the West Indian fleet, and her place here will likely be taken by another ship of the same class.

The recent additions to the British ships in American waters have already greatly strengthened the squadron, and it is quite certain that by next summer Great Britain will have on this side of the ocean the greatest fleets she has ever despatched across the Atlantic. The ships have already begun to take their departure from Halifax and Bermuda for the winter, the Talbot and Intrepid having sailed this week, but the flagship Crescent, with several smaller vessels, will remain for some weeks yet.

TRAIN DOWN A BANK.

A Special on the Canada Eastern Struck by a Landslide—Marvelous Escape of Passengers and Trainmen.

Fredericton, N.B., Oct. 25.—An engine, tender and first passenger car lies at the bottom of the Bank of Nashwaak River, one-third covered by rising waters, nearly opposite the Marysville Church. This was a special train of the Canada Eastern Railway, and had on board Superintendent Hoben, Alex. Gibson and others, including James D. Johnston, a commercial traveler, representing Green's clothing house, Montreal. The train was thrown from the track by a landslide striking it Saturday afternoon. That no lives were lost is a miracle, for a train could not be wrecked in a more dangerous spot. Gibson escaped without injury, Supt. Hoben had a finger injured; the firem jumped and escaped injury, while the engineer, who held to the wreck, had to break the cab window and crawl out. The passengers got out through the rear door of the car. Johnston was on the car platform, but escaped with a bruised hip and legs. He is now at the Banker House under Dr. McLearn's care. A Mrs. Shaw, who was also a passenger, suffers from the shock and some slight bruises on the shoulder. The road was cleared about two hours afterwards and traffic resumed.

MRS. COOMBS WAS KILLED.

Her Husband and Two Boys Injured in the Accident.

Amesbury, Mass., Oct. 25.—An accident occurred here this afternoon by which one person was instantly killed and three others badly injured. Alfred H. Coombs, his wife, a 10-year-old boy named Percy, who lived with them, and another boy, a son of Alfred Morrill, started from Mr. Coombs' house to drive to church, when the horse took fright and plunged over an embankment, throwing them out. Mrs. Coombs' head struck a tree and she was killed. Mr. Coombs was rendered unconscious, and will probably die. The boy Percy is injured internally and has small chances of living. The Morrill boy was the least injured.

A Ruined City Discovered.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—A special from the City of Mexico says: An unknown ruined city, covering a space larger than New York City, with two temples and two great pyramids, has just been discovered in the mountains in the State of Guerrero by William Niven, the well-known mineralogist of New York. He has just returned from a ten weeks' trip into that country and brought back more than 300 photographs of the ruins.

The Wabash Railway Trains

running every day in the year between Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City are the finest known to the railway service; they are complete and solid vestibuled from end to end, the entire train being a moving palace of connected apartments, all furnished with the most luxurious elegance and perfection of accommodation known to car builder's art. They include free reclining, palace, sleeping, and dining cars of the latest and best patterns. Call on or write any railway agent for tickets and all information or address J. A. Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

It's No Disgrace To Be Poor

But it is a disgrace that people will go on getting poorer by paying MORE THAN THEY NEED for their Wearing Apparel. In our store, it is not even inconvenient to be poor, for you will find that you have more than enough money for what you want. We are not exactly giving away goods, but we are coming pretty close to it just now when compared with prices elsewhere.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

We want you to see—to feel—to test—before you buy. Then we can challenge comparison with any firm under the sun. We don't make everything give way to cheapness. GOODNESS is the test. The best mills; the best manufacturers, and the best makers contribute. Fresh buying chances step to the front every day, and we're there ready to gather in the cream of the stocks of well-known makers. With our immense outlet, we run no risks, for prices must be made tempting enough for us to buy. The way we buy has everything to do with the way we sell.

To sell Reliable Goods, as we are constantly doing at persistently lower prices, means shrewd planning to strengthen our grip on the very best trade and by having a free lance in all the markets. This holds good in regard to our present New Fall and Winter Stocks now crowded into our two mammoth stores under one roof—from end to end, from top to bottom—embracing everything from a Suit to a Shirt, from a pair of Boots to a Hat.

We show the newest styles and finest qualities in :—

A GREAT MISTAKE

You hear of people who have paid high for the privilege of buying because of a name. They thought that the name or size of a store made the prices right, but found to their cost, it was a Great Mistake.

Come here and compare values first, then buy. Don't buy first and compare last—unless you're buying here.

CUT AND FITTED FREE

All Dresses bought here costing 50c per yard, will be cut and fitted free, and every fit guaranteed. Same inducements offered in Mantles—and we have always a fine selection of Mantle Cloths to choose from.

Dresses and Mantles made on the premises in the newest fashions. MISS WALL still continues to attend to this department, with her usual success.

WINTER MILLINERY AND MANTLES.

This is the first fall we have carried on Millinery. Our experience so far has been both pleasant and profitable, and we believe our customers have had the same satisfaction We thank the ladies for their kind patronage and promise that we will leave nothing undone to meet the wishes of every buyer.

CUSTOMS DECISIONS.

Hon. Mr. Paterson Has Some Questions to Settle.

LUMBER DEAL OF TWO MILLIONS.

All the Ottawa and Chaudiere Mills Have Sold Out—English Firms the Principal Buyers—Sample of the Grain Standards — General News From the Capital.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 26.—Hon. Mr. Paterson has before him half a dozen decisions which the Dominion Board of Appraisers passed. The only one which is of any public interest is in reference to the entry of maltine not containing any alcohol. The ruling of the board is of course final, and cannot even be changed by the Department, so the possibility is that only a couple out of the half dozen decisions will be confirmed.

There is considerable activity in lumber circles just now, English buyers rushing shipments before navigation closes. One hundred million feet of the season's cut of deals at the Chaudiere, Ottawa & Hawkesbury Mills have been sold during the past few days. This quantity of lumber represents the whole cut of this class of lumber in the mills of J. R. Booth, Buell, Hurdman & Co., W. C. Edwards and the Hawkesbury Lumber Company of Hawkesbury. Gilmour, Hughes & Co. are the only firm that still holds any deals unsold. It is the biggest sale that has been negotiated in lumber for some years, although there is no material change in prices from last year, amounting to about $2,000,000. The largest buyers are J. Cox & Sons of Liverpool, Eng., but other English and American firms have bought. The last bargain was struck this morning, when Cox & Sons bought out the remainder of J. R. Booth's cut, which had not been picked up by other buyers. Other firms that have bought besides Cox & Sons are J. W. Todd & Co., Dobell & Bagot, John Purcell & Son and Sharpels & Co., Quebec.

Two Indian agents who come within the category of offensive partisans have been dismissed—Ladislas Eucher Otis, Indian agent at Pointe Bleue, Quebec, who has been in the service since 1873, has been dismissed. J. Archie Alberic Mondow, Indian agent at Pierville, Quebec, has also been dismissed from the service. He was appointed in 1894. There are other recommendations of a similar character awaiting the attention of the Government.

Some queer tricks are often resorted to for the purpose of evading the law. A little while ago, before the close season for oysters ended, attention was drawn to the fact that an unusual quantity of barrels of potatoes were being shipped through St. John to the United States. The fishery officer at St. John suspected something was wrong, and out of curiosity decided to test one of the barrels of alleged potatoes. He found it to contain oysters, and, proceeding to examine the whole consignment, he found all the barrels filled with delicious bivalves destined for the United States. The entire shipment was seized.

Representations have been made to the Government that after the tariff is revised a period of six months be allowed to elapse before the changes go into effect. The Free Press says: "This, it is believed, would be nothing more than due consideration for the interests of the merchants and others, and will, no doubt, be thought over by the Ministers before the action is taken."

Acting under instructions from Sir Henri Joly, six sets of samples of all standards of grain recently chosen by the Western Standards Board will be sent to the High Commissioner for Canada in London, for distribution to the principal corn exchanges in Great Britain.

Complaint is made to the Fisheries Department by Frank Ross of Quebec, who possesses seignorial rights on the Magdalen River, Gaspe County, that seven families of Indians from the north shore have located on Magdalen, and are playing havoc with salmon.

Sir Henry Joly will not be able to attend the banquet to be given to Mr. Laurier at Quebec on Wednesday. He has written a letter of apology and expressing the hope that the gathering will be a pleasant one.

Hon. Mr. Blair and Chief Engineer Schreiber left for Prescott to-day, where they were to take a steamer and visit all the canals as far as Cornwall. The Minister and his deputy leave for Peterboro to-morrow night and will look over the Trent canal works on Wednesday.

Mr. William Walmwright, Assistant General Manager of the Grand Trunk, says there is no truth in the report that he is to be appointed Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals. The latest rumor is that Mr. Pottinger may be given this position, and the office of general manager of Government railways filled by the selection of Mr. H. Wragge of Toronto, formerly local manager of the G.T.R. in that city. The Liberal Free Press suggests that a Deputy Minister and two chief engineers may be appointed, one for canals, the other for railways. This would be economy with a vengeance.

Sir Henry Joly has received the assent of his colleagues to an important change in Inland Revenue work in the Maritime Provinces. Hitherto there have been two Inland Revenue divisions in the East, one embracing Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, the other New Brunswick. These are now consolidated into one division, Mr. Burke, the inspector for New Brunswick, being placed in charge of the whole territory. Mr. Grant, the collector at Halifax, who was recommended as inspector for Nova Scotia by the late Government, will continue as collector. The net saving to the country by the change will be $2500 per annum.

The Northwest Mounted Police have had a pretty hard season in keeping stray cattle from the United States side of the line out of Canadian territory. In order to relieve the police three or four cowboys have been appointed to assist in driving the cattle back.

Representations have been made to the Fisheries Department of the immense destruction of small striped bass in the weirs on the St. Lawrence below Quebec. Unless measures be concocted to put a stop to this state of affairs there is a possibility of extermination of this valuable fish. It may not be generally known that striped bass commands as good a price in market as salmon. Hence there is a call for decided action by the Department, with a view to preserving this species. A total prohibition of weirs is suggested.

The analysts of the Inland Revenue Department are now at work on samples of vinegar obtained in the leading cities.

Mr. Coste, Chief Engineer of Public Works, left for Winnipeg to-day.

Commander Wakeham has gone to Washington to close up the affairs of the International Fisheries Commission, on which he is the Canadian representative.

Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Solicitor-General, is back from Quebec, where he had attended the garrison banquet to the Minister of Militia.

Hon. Mr. Paterson, Controller of Customs, goes to Montreal to-morrow to look over customs business there and to listen to any representations which business men may have to offer to him.

The total export from the Ottawa district to the United States as prepared by Consul-General Riley for the quarter ending 30th September last, amounted to $506,848. Of this amount $379,000 was of lumber. For the same quarter in 1895 the exports were $521,180, of which amount $493,389 was in lumber.

At the Mounted Police Department it is learned that the Indian murderer, "Bad Young Man," who killed a fellow red man near Macleod, has not been captured. He makes the second Indian murderer at large.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

It Will be Held Under New Conditions, and the Result Will Not be Known for 24 or 48 Hours After Polling.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The coming Presidential election will be held under conditions which have never before prevailed, and which will render the official count a matter of difficulty and unusual delay.

Since the last Presidential contest almost every State which had not then adopted the Australian ballot system has by State enactment prescribed some form of secret blanket ballot, either based on the Australian plan or closely resembling it. The only exceptions are Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina. In the first three States named the old open ballot system prevails and the election machinery is in the hands of the State authorities. In South Carolina there is what is called a "reform ballot," the avowed purpose of which is to restrict the votes of illiterate negroes. In nearly all the other States blanket ballots will be cast, and in many of them the count will be complicated by the fact that State, legislative and county nominations are printed on the same ballot with the names of Presidential electors. Connecticut has an envelope system and New Jersey prints each party ticket upon a separate ballot. Should the election be in any way close, it is, therefore, quite possible that it may be 24 hours, or even 48 hours, after the polls close before the result is known with absolute certainty. In States like Nebraska for instance, where, according to conservative opinion, there may not be a margin of 5000 votes either way, it will be impossible to arrive at a correct judgment until all the back counties are heard from. The polls in the cities close at 4 p.m., but in the country districts keep open until 6 p.m., and with a Governor, a legislature and county officers to elect, all on one ballot, it will take at least six hours to complete the count.

Party Managers Very Busy.

New York, Oct. 26.—The last week of the political campaign finds the Democratic and Republican party managers very busy. There were a large number of callers to-day at Republican headquarters. Committeeman Joseph H. Manley said to a representative of the United Associated Presses: "We enter upon the last week with more confidence and more ardor than ever. We are certain of winning, and the only question is how large McKinley's majority will be."

Chairman James C. Truman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, who was called on subsequently by the reporter, was equally as sure that Bryan would carry New York State by a substantial plurality.

SUPREME COURT.

The Last Case on the Ontario List Will Occupy Attention Until Wednesday —Maritime List Next.

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The case of Page v. Attorney-General, the last case of the Ontario list, was taken up in the Supreme Court this morning and will probably occupy the attention of the court until Wednesday The proceedings were taken by the Ontario Government, by information, on relation of the plaintiff Holloway to set aside a patent of land on the shore of Lake Erie, granted in 1793 to one Skinner, through whom the appellants claim title. The courts below have set aside the patent on the ground that the land claimed by the appellants is greatly in excess of what the Crown intended to grant. The appellants claim that lot 33, Township of Bertie, was granted by the patent, and the fact that the land was also described by metes and bounds did not make the patent void, as the lot 33 could be easily identified from official plans. They also invoke the benefit of the nullum tempus act. Armour, Q.C., and Mickle appear for the appellants and H. S. Osler for the respondents.

It is probable that after the argument is concluded the court will adjourn till next Monday, when the Maritime Provinces list will be proceeded with.

FINDING ITS LEVEL.

The Wheat Speculators Coming to Their Senses.

A SLIGHT ADVANCE IN LIVERPOOL

Prices Well Maintained in Manitoba—Millers Find it Would Not Pay Them to Allow a Rag-Opinions of a Leading English Broker on the Situation.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Wheat prices throughout Manitoba have declined slightly, but are still above an export basis fully five cents. Prices in this country will not get any lower, however, because now the rival milling concerns are forced to keep them up. These milling companies have now got on their hands a lot of high-priced wheat. If they should let the price drop, it would follow, of course, that the price of flour would drop too. Then, with flour at a cheap price, the milling companies would be grinding their high-price wheat at a big loss. So the Manitoba farmer is happy, for he is quite safe in holding his wheat if he desires. He cannot lose by holding, and might gain largely if a big rise in prices should occur.

DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY STAND.

But the Trade Believe That Finally Prices Will be Better.

London, Oct. 26.—In an interview with a representative of the United Associated Presses to-day, Robert Rim, a member of one of the leading houses doing business as brokers in baltic wheat on the Grain Exchange, said: "The fall of half a crown in California wheat in Liverpool has disorganized the market, and we do not know exactly where we stand. Until we receive some of the arrivals of wheat which are now due from California, thus fixing actual values, the markets must be uncertain. The trade has come to the conclusion that there is going to be a different level from what they are accustomed to and better prices. I do not think we shall ever return to the old level. At present we can take every bit of California wheat we can possibly get, and I expect an immediate rise of another shilling. It is not likely that the market will be overcrowded for the next six months. Then the new crops will be coming in. During the interval California and River Platte wheats will be chiefly relied upon, as there are discouraging reports concerning the Russian and Australian crops. The River Platte prospects are good, but those dealers are holding prices very stiff. The California holders are not pressing sellers, but it is the resellers that are knocking down the markets."

At Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The wheat market kept speculators guessing to-day, and at the close they were apparently as far from a solution as at the start, although prices rested at a gain from Saturday. The cables from Liverpool at the opening were 1-2d higher, that information tending to encourage buyers a little, but the closing advices were lower. Quick changes in price were constantly taking place and the tone veered from strong to weak and vice versa without any apparent motive. The routine news incident to the session was, generally speaking, of a character to disappoint advocates of higher values, but the burning of an elevator in the northern part of the city, by which 1,200,000 bushels of wheat was destroyed, gave the market an upward inclination at the close. Closing continental cables were all lower. December wheat opened from 69 7-8c to 70 1-4c, sold between 71 1-4c and 69 1-4c, closing at 70 3-4c to 70 7-8c, 1c to 1 1-8c higher than Saturday. Cash wheat was firm and 1c higher.

Continental Markets.

London, Oct. 26.—The reports of to-day's grain markets on the various Continental bourses, received at the London office of the United Associated Presses, are as follows:

Antwerp—The wheat market was inactive. Holders compelled to accept lower bids. Time business has been paralyzed by the violent fluctuations of the American markets. Corn was easy, with very few buyers.

Paris—Flour opened weaker, but a better feeling followed.

Berlin—The market opened with a full number of sellers at lower prices. On the strength of news from America the market later became firm.

Buda Pest—Offers increased at lower prices.

Amsterdam—Market lower.

Marseilles—Market steady and without notable changes.

Odessa—The Danubian and Russian markets were inactive and nominally very firm. Sellers refuse to make concessions, but the best opinion is that if there is a symptom of decline in any market ours will give way. At the close there was a disposition to sell, but practically dealings are in a state of suspense.

The Weekly Review.

London, Oct. 26.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the grain market, says: "The rise in the price of wheat is justified by the situation. It is not a speculative advance; on the contrary, a speculative effort to bear the market is on foot. The English wheat crop did not exceed 7,250,000 quarters, though it is stated that it reached 9,000,000. Let the farmers wait. The inrush of wheat into the market from California and Argentina is now arriving, but it will not arrive freely until February or March, and it cannot depress prices if English wheats do not encumber the earlier markets. Let all the farmers take courage. The epoch of over-production is on the wane."

Advance in Liverpool.

Liverpool, Oct. 26.—Owing to a scarcity of buyers, the wheat market opened with a nominal business, but shortly afterwards the market showed 1 1-2d advance. Confidence in the continuation of the rise and increased shipments induced short selling realizations, and values are gradually falling off. Paris advices encouraged the bears and the decline touched 2d under. The best American cables caused a reaction of 1-2d, and the market closed about unchanged.

Gloom

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter:

"Hood's Sarsaparilla helped me wonderfully, changed sickness to health, gloom to sunshine. No pen can describe what I suffered. I was deathly sick, had sick headaches every few days and those terrible tired, despondent feelings, with heart troubles so that I could not go up and down stairs without clasping my hand over my heart and resting. In fact, it would almost take my breath away. I suffered so I did not care to live, yet I had much to live for. There is no pleasure in life if deprived of health, for life becomes a burden. Hood's Sarsaparilla does far more than advertised. After taking one bottle, it is sufficient to recommend itself." MRS. EDITORIAL NOTES.

As the struggle draws to a close the presidential contest in the United States waxes hotter and hotter. Though both parties are claiming a victory, it stands to reason that both cannot win, and so far the chances seem to be pretty decidedly in favour of McKinley and sound money.

"FARM produce going up, revenue going up, trade going up! The Liberals have a fine start this time in the government chariot," says the Ottawa Journal. This is the moral consequence, if not result, of a government of honest methods coming into power and creating confidence.

"WHEN the Liberals went out of power in 1878," the Ottawa Free Press points out, "wheat was a good deal over a dollar a bushel. They found it down to somewhere about half the amount when they took office. A few weeks of Liberal rule and up goes the price again. Things seem coming our way now that Mr. Laurier holds the reins." He hasn't held them long, but in this case fate is evidently extending to him the reward of good intentions. He promised honest government and he is going to give it.

YESTERDAY the EXAMINER published a list of the lands that had been purchased for the purposes of the Trent Valley Canal. Reference to the list will show that there are peculiarities in valuation, that the nature of the transaction do not suggest as warranted. There appears to be wide variations in the value of farm lands, and the Government seems to have paid good prices for properties that for years have yielded more revenue to the tax collector than to the owners. Those who are acquainted with the several properties purchased, will find in the list printed, subjects for interesting comparisons.

IT is thought that the unspeakable Turk is preparing more trouble. He is levying additional taxes right and left for the purposes of providing increased military armament. It is feared that this may portend a decision on the part of the Sultan to defy the collective interference of Russia, France and Great Britain, and inaugurate a whole sale massacre of Christians, and to resist with all his fighting powers the consequence of such a course of action. The Turk is shaping his course in such a manner as to leave no way of dealing with him and his butcheries but by total extermination, and wiping the Turkey, as a separate state, off the map of Europe and Asia.

THE world is full of pessimists. While some are rejoicing over the advance in the price of wheat, there are others who see in this a calamity—it will raise the price of bread. It is well known that we never have such good times and general prosperity as when the prices of the farmers produce are naturally high; that is when the price is raised by the legitimate operation of the law of supply and demand, and not by artificial means, such as a tax or impost. Everybody should rejoice at a rise in the price of wheat. Why the recent rise had a most stimulating effect on business. Every department of commercial activity felt the benefit of the rise, and if wheat stood at a good stiff price the people, who have to buy bread, would derive more benefit from the improved condition of trade and business generally than they would suffer loss from the advance in the price of the staff of life.

In many cases, the first work of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is to expel the effects of other medicines that have been tried in vain. It would be a saving of time and money if experimenters took Ayer's Sarsaparilla at first instead of at last.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The following from the Ottawa Journal, independent, with Conservative leanings, refers to the debt that was piled up during the last decade of the late Conservative Government:

The addition of over five million dollars to the public debt of Canada during the past fiscal year, with nearly seven millions added the prior year, surely shows the necessity of strict business administration by our governments, and the necessity that intelligent Canadians should back up economy where government displays it.

The cold truth of our annual deficits is so comfortably disguised by the distinction made between the "consolidated fund" and "capital account" that people are apt to be blind to the growth of the public debt.

Since the Canadian Pacific Railway was completed and paid for, in other words since that great strain on the national treasury ceased, and the Dominion's expenditure became of merely the general kind which is likely to continue year in, year out, the annual additions to the public debt have been as follows. However, one important exception is to be made—namely that in the first of these years, the North-west rebellion expenditure swelled the deficit greatly. That of course was an exceptional matter. Including that the increases in the net public debt have been:

Year ending June 30.

1887	$ 4,155,698
1888	7,216,583
1889	2,998,833
1890	3,170
1891	275,518
1892	3,232,404
1893	240,026
1894	4,661,990
1895	6,291,393
1896	5,628,831
Total	$35,444,546

An increase of thirty-five and a half million dollars in the national debt during ten years of peace and tolerable prosperity with no great undertaking in the way of public works save the Soo Canal, is more than this country should view with equanimity. Where the new administration shows any inclination to put the public service on economical and purely business basis, it should be applauded and supported by intelligent men of all parties—and where it does not show such an inclination it should be condemned by intelligent men in all parties.

The Chief Organ of the Body.

When Rebellious and Out of Order Paine's Celery Compound is Your Only Hope.

It Brings Comfort, Happiness and Health.

Too few recognise the fact that the stomach is the chief organ of the body. When this great and guiding organ is out of order, every other organ depending on it for nourishment is affected by sympathy. So long as digestion is properly performed and healthy fluids secreted from from the food, the body is nourished. When the stomach is inactive the stomach is impoverished and disease rapidly develops.

If your stomach is rebellious and out of gear, be assured that your whole system will soon give evidence of trouble, and your life will be a miserable one.

When you suffer the tortures of indigestion and dyspepsia just remember that Paine's Celery Compound has brought ease, comfort, happiness and health to thousands in the past. This marvellous and wonder-working medicine when used for a short time restores perfect digestion, and gives to every organ new life and activity.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials are on fyle from our best Canadian people, testifying to the efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound in cases of stomach troubles that could not be cured by any other medicine. These letters of testimony can be inspected at any time.

It is folly, dear reader, to continue in suffering from dangerous stomach troubles. One bottle of Paine's Celery Compound may suffice to give you freedom from pain and misery; one single bottle has often banished the dreaded enemy forever. Your neighbours and friends have been cured by Paine's Celery Compound. Do not delay to use it in your own case.

CONSECON MAN KILLED.

W. J. Robinson's Team Ran Away and Threw a Load of Lumber Upon Him.

Consecon, Ont., Oct. 26.—W. J. Robinson, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Consecon, arose early this morning and went to Trenton for a load of lumber, and while returning home about a mile south of Trenton his horse became unmanageable and ran away. The axle of the wagon broke, upsetting the load on him and killing him instantly. The funeral of deceased will take place from the family residence here on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Bradley Was Drowned in the Canal.

St. Catharines, Oct. 26.—By drawing off the water from the old canal at Thoroid the bicycle on which Thomas Bradley started out for a ride a week ago was found, but the body has not yet been discovered. About 15 years ago Bradley's father was killed while working on the canal, and ten months later his son was killed in the cotton mills.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mrs. Liscombe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscombe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative:—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remedy.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

WORDS OF PRAISE SPOKEN RIGHT OUT.

How One Box of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured

A PROMINENT MAN.

Muscular Spasms was His Trouble—Would Drop as if Shot—His Measure of Merit.

Almonte, Oct. 27th (Special).—For many years Mr. James Caskey has been an honoured resident of this town. He has held prominent municipal offices for years, as well as other positions of trust—no one here presuming to doubt his word.

In reply to questions as to his experience in using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and as to his opinion of their merits, he said: "For ten years, at shorter and shorter intervals, I suffered from attacks of spasms of the muscles, very much resembling acute rheumatism.

"I took medicine as hopefully and regularly as a model, but each return was more painful than the last.

"Wherever I chanced to be when my attack came I would drop, as if shot, in tracks.

"Once in bed, I was forced to stay there, anywhere from a few days to weeks at a time.

"Over two years ago, just after one of these attacks, some friend suggested that my difficulty might be the result of kidney trouble, advising me, at the same time, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Well, I got one box and used it. I have never had any return of my attacks. I have taken nothing in the shape of medicine since, not even Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I think results the best of all tests of merit, in a medicine as in anything else.'

Constipation Cured.

Gents,—I was in very poor health for over four years; the doctor said it was constipation. Not wanting to spend too much cash I got three bottles of B.B.B. and took it regularly, I can certify that I am now in the very best of health and feel very grateful to B.B.B.

We Caught a Man Who Was

looking for a tailor. He was quite fastidious in his taste. Never bought ready-made suits. Preferred to pay a tailor double the price of the best Suits in the ready-made line so as to get a fit. He supposed he had to. Never had investigated our line. Didn't know that if a suit was made to fit him every way with the exception of a few minor particulars, that we would cut over those particulars and put the suit onto him A PERFECT GARMENT. With his exquisite taste of course he was a poet. At any rate he was a Longfellow. His first question was "can you fit ME?" Our reply was that it made no difference whether he was six feet from crown to toe, or

SIX FEET FROM BACKBONE TO COWCATCHER

We had a "Kast Iron" make that would meet his form everywhere. He looked and was conquered. Sold him a suit he had never got before for less than $18, for $10. Got lots more of them from $3.25 up. HOLDING BACK THEIR INVESTMENTS

Until After the United States Elections Have Decided Whether They Will Have Sound or Unsound Currency—Sir Frank Lockwood in the Castle Case—Cable News.

London, Oct. 26.—Having interviewed most of the leading financial houses here concerned in any way with American affairs, and also the leading dealers in American securities, the following description of the present London attitude towards Americans is the net impression of those interviews, together with such indications as may be gleaned at the moment from other sources.

As the election draws near a cautious spirit characterizes all quarters. The recent buying of Americans here has mainly been of a fairly influential but speculative nature. The leading financial houses have adopted a more cautious attitude, and have apparently not laid in stocks with any freedom, for, while generally believing that the success of Mr. McKinley is practically assured, they recognise that the results of Bryan's election on the other hand would have such disastrous effects on the markets as to make the risk of large purchases too heavy a one to be lightly entered into. Large respectable firms are, therefore, advising their clients not to operate in Americans until after the election. It is better, they contend, to miss the market by a few dollars than to be loaded with American stocks before a sound money victory is really secured.

Another class of a more pessimistic kind appear likely to hold their hands even until it is seen how a McKinley victory will be taken. This class fears that there may be social disturbances in the west following Mr. McKinley's election. Thus the attitude here this week is one of unusual caution, the majority determining that the next movement of any consequence in the prices of American railway securities shall depend, not on their own market operation in either direction, but upon the final verdict to be given by the American nation upon the question of a sound or unsound currency.

CHALLEMEL-LACOUR DEAD.

One of the Most Prominent of French Statesmen Passes Away.

Paris, Oct. 26.—M. Challemel-Lacour, Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Cabinet of Jules Ferry, died to-day.

He was born at Avranches on May 19, 1827, and studied in the Lycee of St. Louis in Paris, entered the Normal School in 1846, and was first in the competition for graduation in philosophy in 1849. He was sent as a professor to the Lycees of Pali and Limoges, but was arrested after the coup d'etat of the third Napoleon, against whom he took up arms, was imprisoned and banished, going first to Belgium, and then to Switzerland, where he became Professor of French literature in the "Pantechnicen" of Zurich. In 1859 he returned to France and contributed articles on literature, art and philosophy to the leading journals and reviews, including The Temps, Revue des Deux Mondes and The Revue Nationale, and finally established The Revue Politique. In 1870 he was appointed Prefect of the Rhone, but resigned after failing to cope very successfully with disturbances at Lyons. He then entered the Chamber as a Radical, and soon distinguished himself by his eloquence. In 1876 he was elected a Senator, and afterwards was sent to Switzerland as Ambassador. In 1880 he succeeded M. Leon Say as Ambassador at the Court of St. James. He remained there two years, and then resigned to become Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Ministry of Jules Ferry. He became President of the Senate after the death of Jules Ferry. In that capacity he displayed great firmness in resisting all attempted encroachments of the Lower House. His strength, however, proved unequal to the political strain, and he resigned early in the present year. He is the author of a number of well-known philosophical works, and was elected a member of the French Academy in March, 1893, as the successor of Renan.

LI HUNG CHANG'S SUCCESS.

He Has Now Been Appointed Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs.

London, Oct. 26.—Telegrams received here from Pekin announce the appointment of Li Hung Chang as Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs. The announcement is somewhat surprising, and has caused a great deal of comment here. The St. James Gazette says Li Hung Chang, upon leaving Southampton, at the termination of his recent visit to England, told the reporters who were among those assembled to see him off that his ability to carry out the reforms which he desired to have promulgated in China depended upon his return to power after he got home. The success of his mission to Europe is consequently gauged by his appointment to the Foreign Ministry.

Pekin, Oct. 26.—Li Hung Chang has been reprimanded for having entered the summer palace for the purpose of paying a visit to the Dowager Empress without observing the formalities usual upon such an occasion.

SIGNS OF A WRECK.

Quebec Logs Found Floating in the Atlantic Along With Ship Fittings.

London, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Megantic, Capt. Lugg, from Montreal and Quebec, which arrived at London, Oct. 23, reports that on Oct. 20, in lat. 52n, long. 14w, she passed many Quebec logs, which had apparently not been long in the water; also a ship's fittings, painted white, a portion of the broadside of a sailing vessel, some life belts and a raft. The Norwegian barque Tordenskjold, Capt. Larsen, from Chatham, N. B., which arrived at Kilrush, Oct. 24, reports having lost some sails and a portion of her deck load during heavy weather.

BISMARCK'S DODGING.

Paris Temps Says He "Always Played a Double Game."

Paris, Oct. 26.—The Temps, in an article commenting upon Prince Bismarck's recent communication to his personal organ, The Hamburger Nachrichten, describing the original of the entente between Russia and France, says it is an obvious truth that Prince Bismarck, without the knowledge of his partners in the Dreibund, had a separate entente with Russia from 1884 to 1890, not only detaching Russia from France in the event of the latter attacking Germany, but also detaching Germany from Austria in the event of Austria making an attack upon Russia. "Bismarck," The Temps adds, "always played a double game, and the revelations of The Nachrichten must weaken the Dreibund."

SIR FRANK LOCKWOOD

Engaged to Assist Sir Edward Clarke in the Castle Case.

London, Oct. 26.—Sir Frank Lockwood, Q.C., M.P., who recently visited Canada and the United States in company with Lord Chief Justice Russell, has been retained to assist Sir Edward Clarke in the defence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco in the coming trial at the Clerkenwell sessions upon a charge of shoplifting. The sessions will open on Nov. 2, and it is expected that the case of the Castles will be heard within a fortnight thereafter.

TRIED TO MURDER HIM.

Monsignor Bartolomeos Attacked in the Streets of Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 26.—While Mgr. Bartolomeos, who on Aug. 9 last was selected as locum tenens of the Armenian Patriarchs, was driving through the streets of the city to-day he was attacked by four men, who attempted to murder him. The escort accompanying Mgr. Bartolomeos seized the would-be assassins and turned them over to the police. An examination elicited the fact that one of the prisoners was an Armenian grocer.

Mgr. Bartolomeos has excited the hostility of Armenians by his subservience to the Sultan, and the attempt to murder him is undoubtedly due to this feeling. He is highly esteemed by the Turks for his Mohammedan sympathies.

Does Not Touch Them Much.

London, Oct. 26.—It is learned that the agreement entered into at the conference of the trans-Atlantic steamship managers, held at the office of the American line on Friday and Saturday, does not touch the trans-Atlantic rates materially. The arrangements previously entered into by the companies were confirmed at the conference.

DROPPED A MAXIM.

One of the Death-Dealers of H. M. S. Talbot Lost in the Harbor at Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 26.—The day before the departure of the cruiser Talbot for Bermuda last week, one of her fine Maxim guns was lost overboard in a strange manner, and now lies at the bottom of the harbor.

There were six of those death-dealing modern machine guns on the Talbot, the only six of their kind in America, and they are very valuable, costing £400 each. At each discharge they scatter 1000 shot over an area of 30 feet.

A steam launch had taken one of the Maxims to sea for practice. On her return, while the gun was being hoisted aboard the Talbot, it slipped the braces and dropped into the harbor. Divers have been looking for it at short intervals ever since, but it is said there is so much mud on the harbor bottom where it fell that they have failed to find the gun.

SCARE AT THE FALLS

Over the Reported Disappearance of Four Young Men—An Incendiary Fire—Delegates to the Convention.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 26.—(Spteial.)—The entire vicinity of the great cataract was in an excited state all last evening and a part of this morning. Yesterday afternoon a rumor became current on the American side of the river that four young men who had gone out shooting that morning above the Falls had failed to return and this rumor finally circulated to the Canadian side. Following closely upon this came the startling report that some one had seen a boat go over the Horse Shoe Falls, and the excitement immediately became general. The young men, however, who were supposed to have taken the fatal shoot, turned up at their respective homes late last night, but this was not generally known until this morning.

About 4.30 this morning the old Elgin House, at the foot of Bridge-street, now occupied by the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway as head offices, was discovered to be on fire by the ticket agent, who rooms in the building. The alarm was immediately given and the fire extinguished before much damage had been done. The origin of the fire is unknown and was doubtless incendiary. Loss fully covered by insurance.

Many local representative Conservatives of the town and vicinity will attend the party convention in Toronto to-morrow.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

Midland Free Press Tells Something of the Alleged Boom.

Midland, Ont., Oct. 26.—The Midland Free Press will say this week: The Toronto papers started a report that the lumber trade was improving, and that the demand in the United States for common stock had sent the price up from $1 to $1.50. The facts are that New York exporters wanted a few cargoes of common or box lumber for the Southern republics, and have been buying in Canada for this purpose. The lumbermen thought the demand for this grade justified them in increasing the price, and that the yards of the United States required re-stocking. Unfortunately, those yards have billions of that grade, and there is no local demand for it or any prospects in the near future for an improvement in the lumber trade. The Free Press has this information direct from one of the largest lumber firms operating mills and yards in the United States and Canada. Lumbermen are beginning to understand that the international and home trade is going to smash because of the extraordinary spirit of selfishness predominating in traders and Governments of all countries.

Gilbert Parker's Donation.

Belleville, Oct. 26.—Mr. Gilbert Parker, the novelist, has promised to donate $100 worth of books yearly to the public library. This gift, an accession of new members and a grant of $100 from the city council will obviate the necessity of having to close that institution.

Seventeen Hindoos Drowned.

Colombo, Ceylon, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Tulf, Captain Lemere, from Mauritius for Bombay, foundered at sea on Sept. 24. Seventeen of her crew and passengers, all natives of India, were drowned. The remainder of the passengers and crew have arrived here. The Tulf was a steel screw steamer of 1408 gross tonnage, 234 feet 6 inches long, with 22 feet depth. She was built at Whitehaven in 1884, and owned by Hajee Cassum Joosub of Bombay.

BREACHES IN THE WALL.

The Weak Spot, the Kidneys—They Must be Guarded as Life Advances—Defence Strengthened by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope, Oct. 26.—(Special—Citizens called on here to vouch for correctness of the following statement without an exception endorsed it as true. Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, Chief of Police and government fishery overseer of his own case said:—"For ten years my distress increased until the doctor called it Diabetes. At times my suffering was intense, and medicine taken did no good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect, and I believe, permanent cure.

Good Square Pianos

FOR A MERE SONG.

Our warerooms are overcrowded with excellent square second hand pianos which we have taken at different times as part payment on new Mason & Risch Uprights. Most of them were exchanged by the original owners, not because they were bad but simply because they were squares and took up more room than the average modern city parlour allows of.

Most of them are in first rate order, 7 octaves, carved legs, ivory keys, iron frames and rosewood cases. They are made by such well known firms as Fischer, Heintzman, Decker, Chickering, etc. Most of them are worth about $250.00 each, though we don't intend to ask this. Now listen to our proposition.

First write us for a list and description of what may happen to be on hand at the time of writing, giving us some idea as to what you would like, and how you wish to pay; whether cash down or on terms; if on time how much time, how much down you can pay and how much per quarter.

On receipt of this information we will make the best possible selection and ship it to you FREIGHT PREPAID ON APPROVAL. If you do not like it, SHIP IT BACK. IT WON'T COST YOU ANYTHING. If you like it we will await checque (if cash) or send you the usual papers for signature. The price of no Piano is to exceed $150.00 and many will be less.

If you have ever heard of a fairer offer than this, let us know of it.

If you prefer a good second hand Upright of course it will cost more, but write us all the same; it is no trouble to answer questions and give quotations and terms; that's what we are here for.

Dominion W.C.T.U. Convention.

Zion Congregational Church, Toronto, has been chosen for the day meetings of the Dominion Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, to be held from Nov. 6th to 10th. The reception, with greetings to the delegates and their friends, will be given in Elm street Methodist church Friday evening, Nov. 6. Notice will be given later of other evening meetings in connection with the convention.

Correction.

Omission was made yesterday to mention the valuable services rendered at the big fire by Mr. T. J. Moore, who did grand work on the elevator tower when it took fire. It was Mr. Moore, and not Mr. Munro, who came through the opening in the roof of the tower and extinguished the obstinate little bonfire on the northwest corner of the cornice, particularly referred to in the report in THE EXAMINER of Sunday's fire.

St. Andrew's Choir Concert.

This excellent Company gave two performances in the town hall last Friday and Saturday evenings to large and enthusiastic audiences. Mrs. Emslie is an elocutionist of no mean ability, and is one of the best reciters of Scottish pieces that we have heard since the days of Kennedy, the prince of Scottish song and story. In fact, her rendition of "Saunders McGlashan's Courtship," could scarcely have been equalled by Kennedy himself. Mr. C. Kelly possesses a wonderful bass voice, which was shown to advantage in such pieces as "The Mighty Deep," and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," in which latter song he accompanied himself with the guitar. Miss Kelly is the fortunate possessor of a sweet contralto voice, and is an accomplished player on the piano and mandolin."—Pembroke Standard. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents. Plan at J. D. Tully's.

HON. MR. BLAIR'S VISIT.

Programme for his Reception and Entertainment Completed.

The committee last night perfected arrangements for the reception, entertainment, etc., of Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, on the occasion of his visit to Peterborough. He will arrive by the morning C. P. R. express from the east, and will be met at the station at 7.30 a.m. He will be taken in charge by Superintending Engineer Rogers, the Minister desiring to acquire as much practical information as possible during his journey.

At 8.30 carriages will be in waiting at the Town Buildings and all guests who desire to make the trip are welcome to join the party that will proceed with the Minister and his deputy over the route of the canal to Young's Point, where Mr. M. M. Boyd has placed the steamer Esturion, fully victualled and equipped, at the service of the minister and his party. From Young's Point the journey will be made by the chain of lakes and the canal system to Chemong, where the carriages that took the party out in the morning will be in waiting to convey them to town for the luncheon at the Oriental in the evening.

The following day, Thursday, the Minister and all who wish to accompany him will return to Chemong and proceed by the Esturion to the northern limits of canal navigation, and as thorough an investigation will be made as is compatible by Mr. Blair, reaching town by nine o'clock in the evening. The pressing nature of the business of his department renders it necessary that he should be in Ottawa on Friday morning.

DEATH OF HARRY ROBINSON.

Only Taken Ill a Week ago—He Leaves a Widow and Five Children.

The death of Mr. Harry Robinson, who for many years has carried on a prosperous barbering business in town, occurred last night at 5 o'clock at his residence, No. 567 Reid street.

The deceased was 41 years of age and was born in Sheffield, England. With his parents he came to Canada when two years of age, and after residing in Whitby for a year, moved to Peterborough, where he has lived since that time, gathering around him many warm friends through his unfailing courtesy.

In 1877 he married Miss Humphries of Bobcaygeon, and as the issue of that marriage there are five children surviving—four girls and a boy, the eldest being 14 years of age.

Mr. Robinson took ill on Wednesday last and steadily sank under an attack of peritonitis until he passed away last evening.

He was a member of Court Peterborough, No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters, under whose auspices the funeral will take place at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The ceremony at the grave will be conducted by Rev. J. C. Davidson.

Mrs. Marks of town is a sister of the deceased, and Mr. W. S. Robinson is a brother.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Catholic Literary Association.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Catholic Literary Association held a meeting last evening and elected officers for the year. The following are the officers, the president to be elected at the next meeting:

Vice-Pres.—Miss K. Lynch.
Rec.-Sec.—Miss Amelia Cahill.
Fin.-Sec.—Miss M. McCabe.
Treas.—Miss Annie O'Neill.

The Ladies' Aid in connection with this Society have shown themselves to be workers during the past year which, as a result of their labours, proved to be the most successful one in the history of the Society. Under the present excellent staff of officers the ladies no doubt will provide entertainments during the year of a refining and highly entertaining nature.

The season will open by an Autumn Social on Thursday evening.

John Griffith in Faust.

"Faust," the masterpiece of the genius of Goethe, has ever attracted and always will attract the multitude. When presented by so accomplished and perfect an actor as John Griffith, the Canadian, and staged with such scenic surroundings as are presented at the Grand Opera House, it should, as it does, prove doubly attractive. The story is known to everyone, but it is not easy to say whether the actor is at his best during the period of the temptation or at the height of his apparent triumph. All like the Marguerite of Miss Anna Boyle-Moore most in the closing scene, where she is at her best and does ample justice to the character. Mr. Eugene Moore is the "Faust," and his portrayal of the famous doctor in his remorse is a fine performance. The other characters are well supported by a capable and evenly balanced cast.—Toronto Globe. This company will be at Bradburn's Opera House Friday, Oct. 30. Seats now on sale.

Relics of Bygone Days.

Mr. Francis Gaudaur, of Atherley, near Orillia, has pulled up some of the fish stakes put down by the Huron Indians for catching fish at the Narrows some centuries ago. All of the stakes had evidently been cut with rude axes of either stone or iron. Champlain, the French explorer, who sojourned at the Narrows for nine days in 1608, while waiting for the Hurons to gather for their great onslaught on the Iroquois, refers to these stakes at length. With the fish caught at the Narrows, the great war party was provisioned for its march to the Iroquois country. It is well known that Champlain passed through here with his Indian braves on his way east, making a portage from Chemong Lake to some place near where Peterborough now stands, and thence down the Otonabee and Trent rivers to Lake Ontario. Thus early were the waters of the Trent system used as a means of communication between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario, and Champlain doubtless saw in the future, even then, a complete system of water communication between those two great bodies of water.

THE GAME LAW IN RELATION TO DEER HUNTING.

The latest amendment to the Game Law enacted last session is evidently creating considerable antipathy to many of the provisions. The settlers in the townships where deer abound, the farmer who takes a week or two for an outing as a well-earned relaxation from the steady and arduous toil of the summer, and the average sportsman, are all vigorously objecting to the payment of $2 for a license to shoot two deer. It is very strongly and aggressively contended that the deer will be wounded on the runways and left to die in the woods by the new regulations, and that the killing of deer in the water, while it is not claimed to be strictly sportsman-like, is certainly more humane insuring as it does the death of the quarry without the prolonged suffering that would result from a wounded deer being left to die in slow agony from inflamed wounds and starvation. But the most serious objection, is not one of sentiment but one of cold cash, and the settlers in the northern townships of this county, where the grasshoppers have left little that will not be appropriated by the tax collector, have decided objections to paying a license fee of $2 (especially when they haven't got it) for every member of the family who wishes to shoulder a gun for a day's sport. And in the average family of settlers, every adult member, when he goes out, to work goes armed with his gun, as the Jews when they were rebuilding Jerusalem carried a trowel in one hand and a sword in the other. It is a matter of fact, and not of speculation, that the amended game law is as unpopular and will be as difficult of proper enforcement as ever was the Dunkin Act or the Scott Act. It will require, it is thought, about one detective to each adult settler to ensure even approximately full enforcement of the amended law. In view of the extreme unpopularity of the law with those for whose ostensible benefit it was enacted, it seems probable that next session of the Legislature will see a very strong and general demand for very decided modifications of some of, what are regarded as, the most obnoxious clauses. The persons interested in hunting deer may lose sight of the fact that the enforcement of the law is in the interests of the sport of deer hunting and the preservation of that noble game; and though, as a matter of fact, the regulations may have that effect, still the opposition to the offending clauses is too emphatic to admit of parrying objections by abstract theorising. In the case of the settlers, as with other sportsmen, the objection is there, and peace will hardly be restored without material modification of the amended game law of 1896 in relation to the hunting of deer. In the meantime deer hunting opens in November, and the honourable way, for whoever hunts deer, is to provide himself with a license and to agitate later on, in a constitutional manner, for the removal of what are considered to be well-founded objections to the law.

—Is this our Indian summer?

—Country roads are improving.

—Kingan & Allen are having the front of their hardware store neatly painted.

—Citizens are complaining that in the fall cows are allowed to roam at large in the outskirts and do great damage to the soft ground in the gardens.

—A wag stated as a reason for a collector of taxes not being appointed last night, that so many of the councillors were applicants that there was not a quorum left of disinterested members to make the appointment.

—Mr. G. W. Mulligan informs the EXAMINER that he has been engaged to train the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, with special reference to the music for the Christmas Festival. The first practice was held last night, when work was begun upon a new mass, Gloria, Kyrie and Tantum Ergo.

—The new electric light was used for the first time on Monday evening last at St. John's Mission Chapel and gave every satisfaction. The thanks of the congregation are due to Mr. Mallet, of the Canadian General Electric Co., and several of the men and students who so kindly undertook the wiring and putting up the fixtures.

—A retired plumber thus gives a point for the gratuitous relief of householders: "Just before retiring at night pour into the clogged waste pipe enough liquid soda lye to fill the trap or bent part of the pipe. Be sure that no water runs into it until next morning. During the night the lye will convert all the offal into soft soap, and the first current of water in the morning will wash it away and clean the pipe as clean as new."

LACROSSE.

Everyone is talking of the big lacrosse match on Tuesday afternoon next in Campbellford between the Peterboroughs and the Madocs, and the crowd which goes down from here will be an enthusiastic one, and will probably number away up in the hundreds, as the return trip fare has been reduced to 75 cents on either the morning or one o'clock trains. The Fire Brigade band is going along, and the Madoc boys are also taking a band with them to Campbellford. The Peterboroughs are running every night in the rink, and will be in splendid condition for the great struggle. It will be remembered that Madoc won from Peterborough earlier in the season by the score of 5—2, but the boys think that they can reverse this score on Thursday. The report that Dick Kelly, of the Montreal Shamrocks, is coming up to play centre for the Peterboroughs is not true, although he may be in Campbellford to see the game. Jimmy McCabe and Lattimer will both be in their old places, and the Peterboroughs should go down very strong. It is undoubtedly the last match of the season, and very few of the lacrosse enthusiasts will miss it.

Stratford, October 24.—(Special.)—The Georgetown lacrosse team won the intermediate championship of the C.L.A. to-day, defeating Wiarton by 6 games to 3. H. O'Loughlin, of St. Catharines, President of the C.L.A., was referee; Dr. Roberts, of Brampton, and J. A. Vance, of Ingersoll, umpires; Meyers, of Wiarton, and Barber, of Georgetown, timekeepers. Shortly after 2.30 the teams lined up at the Athletic Park.

The game was fast and decidedly interesting from the start, and by a very pretty combination the first goal was scored for Wiarton in 4 minutes. F. Bryan put the ball through and he was carried off the field by his enthusiastic admirers.

Then Georgetown went to work and scored in 5½ minutes. In the third game Bryan was struck on the head and severely hurt, but after a few minutes rest resumed play. Wiarton scored in 19½ minutes. In the next Ewing of Wiarton was struck in the ribs by the ball and disabled for a time. In five minutes Georgetown scored. The other games were won as follows:—Georgetown, 8½ minutes; Georgetown, 4½; Georgetown, 9½; Wiarton, 12; Georgetown, 6.

Especially in our Wall Paper Department. Remember our 20 Days' Sale expires on the 28th day of October. While the sale has been fully up to our expectation, we have still a few splendid bargains. People say they never saw such pretty varnished gold papers sell at such low figures. Everybody is invited to come and see the bargains whether they want 8c paper for 5c, or 50c papers for 35c. Rich and poor alike, we want all to come and make the closing days of the sale a grand success, at the same time putting money in your own pocket.

Cornice Poles.

Our Sale of Cornice Poles was larger than we expected, a great many lines being cleared out completely, still we know where to buy them right, and on Monday we expect to have fifteen new lines at prices to suit everybody.

Picture Mouldings

In our Picture Framing Department we have decided to clear out a number of very pretty mouldings to make room for our Xmas supply of Art Mouldings, so if you have any pictures to be framed, bring them along and see how neatly and cheaply we can frame them for you.

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A large fire was noticed west of the village Sunday evening.

Miss Crowe, of North Dummer is visiting at Mr. Thos. Wilson's.

Miss Thompson, of Peterborough, is spending a few days at Mr. Thos. Choate's.

Mr. A. F. Choate has had a new Gurney heater placed in his store. It is doing its work nicely and gives entire satisfaction.

The basement of the cheese factory is being fitted up for the purpose of making butter during the coming winter.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Gertrude Jackson, who has been very ill for the last few days, is able to be out again.

Dr. Couch will conduct the services in the Methodist church next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Robinson is at present engaged in holding a series of evangelistic services at Carmel church.

Rev. Mr. Warren will hold special services at Zion church on Friday evening next.

Mr. Allan Kidd spent a few days in Colborne last week.

Mr. A. Reid is visiting friends in Tyrone this week.

"Billy" Hill, of Norwood, was in town Sunday.

Mr. James Long, of Norwood, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. William Armstrong, of North Dummer, had his house and barns destroyed by fire Friday evening. The house was newly built and the furniture nearly all new. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. Loss about $600, fully covered by insurance.

The annual harvest festival was held in the English church Friday evening. Rev. Mr. Warren conducted the services.

When the stage started for Peterborough on Saturday morning last it carried the driver and one passenger. On arriving at the cross road, a mile from the church, the weather being rather cold, the passenger preferred walking across to the next corner to riding around by the church. He started, but his gait must have been a slow one, for when he reached the next corner he found that Donald had passed some time before. Making the best of a bad bargain, he started to walk the rest of the way, and had completed about half the distance when a rig from the village picked him up and took him safe to town.

Mr. Bert Reid has started a watchmaking and jewelry business in part of the store occupied by his father. This will be a great convenience, as formerly this work had to be taken to other towns. Bert is an A1 workman having served several years with one of the largest firms in Western Ontario.

THE ACME OF PERFECTION.

Reached by Using Diamond Dyes.

The noted and wonderful Diamond Dyes are truly suited for all classes of our population, as their uses are varied and innumerable.

Diamond Dyes recreate and renew your old dresses, jackets, wraps, capes, and other articles of wearing apparel; you save money by the dyeing operation, and economy becomes a pleasurable virtue instead of a burdensome one.

We are all aware of the fact that many women have, in a measure, lost confidence in the work of home dyeing. This is because they have been talked into buying inferior and imitation dyes that always ruin goods, and waste time and money. Had these same women used the ever reliable Diamond Dyes, satisfaction, pleasure and joy would have been their reward. To those who have failed in the past we would say, try the Diamond Dyes and you will be thoroughly convinced of their utility and worth as money savers. Insist upon getting the "Diamond" if you desire perfection in the work of home dyeing.

Protect Your Horses, etc.

Nothing is more needed for horses at this inclement season of the year than a waterproof horse cover. I make them to order and keep them in stock as well. THE TAX COLLECTOR'S POSITION VACANT.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR APPOINTMENTS TO THE OFFICE.

The Matter of Sewer Connections Taken up and Contractor Bogue Given Permission to do the Work on His Own Terms.

A special meeting of the council was called last evening for the purpose of considering the appointment of a new tax collector, Miss Cumming having asked to be relieved of her duties.

The members present were the Mayor and Councillors Best, White, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Weir, Sawers, Moore, Langford, Graham and White.

Miss Cumming's communication tendering her resignation was read, after which applications for the position were read from Messrs. H. Crossley, W. Salisbury, F. Sutton, Jas. A. McGill, E. B. Clegg, J. W. White, W. VanEvery, Wm. Langford, W. Might, James J. Brealy, Thos. Brady, R. W. Errett, D. H. Burritt, B. Braiburn, F. W. Miller, Warren Trickey and Thos. McKee.

On motion of Councillor Phelan and Sawers, the applications, as well as any others which may be received, are referred to the Committee on Appointments to report to the council next Monday night.

A QUERY.

Councillor Best inquired who authorized the Chief of Police to stop Contractor Bogue from putting in connections with the sewer for the citizens. The contractor had been warned to discontinue this work by the chief as being contrary to the by-law passed in this connection at the last meeting of the Council.

Councillor Moore said he had not authorized the chief to do as he had done, but he approved of the course of action which he had followed. The chief was supposed to enforce any by-law which the Council saw fit to pass—that was his business. Mr. Moore expressed his surprise that Councillor Best should assume the responsibility of telling the contractor to proceed with the work, notwithstanding the chief's interference. The by-law had been passed for the express purpose of preventing anyone making connections with the sewer unless by the sanction of the Council, which was to appoint an official to superintend this work and be responsible to the Council for it.

Council Langford contended that the chief had been officious in his action, as Mr. Bogue was a contractor working for the town on sewer work, and as such was empowered to do this work.

The Mayor was of the opinion that the by-law was passed for the express purpose of preventing Mr. Bogue or anyone else from attempting to make the connections, which were only to be made through the town officials, by whom all the arrangements and the price, etc., were regulated.

Councillor Best—Mr. Bogue can do the work cheaper for the citizens as he goes along, and so he ought to be allowed to make the connections.

Councillor Moore—What was the by-law passed for? Was it not to arrange matters so that the contractor was answerable to the Council? Mr. Bogue will not be answerable to the Council for this work and therefore should not be allowed to do it.

Councillor Sawers—I am prepared to back up the chief in this matter. He was simply doing his duty in enforcing the by-law.

Councillor Mills—I thought it was the intention all along to allow Mr. Bogue to make connections while the work was in progress.

Councillor Sawers—"Mr. Best, did or did not, Mr. Bogue to stop him putting in as many connections as he pleased?"

DEFY THE COUNCIL

Councillor Best explained that Mr. Bogue had done so, but came back in an hour and said that he was satisfied that the council had the power to stop him.

Councillor Langford thought that the best way to end the discussion was to pass a resolution authorizing Mr. Bogue to put in all connections until further orders. As soon as the council engaged a man to do the work regularly Mr. Bogue could be notified to stop.

Councillor Moore pointed out that if Mr. Bogue was brought before the Magistrate for violation of the bylaw the resolution would be ignored as being ineffectual, in face of the bylaw, which had not been repealed.

In order that the councillors might judge of the conditions imposed by the by-law, it was read as follows:

3. Upon the construction of a common sewer upon any street or portion of a street, the Town Engineer shall deposit in the office of the Town Clerk, a plan showing the connections of such sewer, and shall prepare an estimate of the cost of constructing a proper connecting pipe sewer from such common sewer to the limit of the street on each side of such sewer, showing the cost of each section of the street, as the same may be found to vary according to the nature of the soil, depth of excavation, etc. Such estimate to be made for each side of the street, as if the sewer were in the centre of the street, although the sewer may not be in the centre of the street, and such estimated cost shall be shown upon such plan or in a schedule accompanying the same. Any person desirous of having a connecting pipe sewer laid from the common sewer to the limit of the street opposite his property, shall deposit with the Town Treasurer a sum sufficient to cover the cost thereof, as shown in such estimate for the section of the street opposite his property together with a requisition asking that such work may be done, and such moneys paid to the said treasurer shall be entered in a separate fund, to be called the "Sewer Connection Fund." It shall thereupon be the duty of the Town Engineer to have the said work done with all convenient despatch, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the Town Treasurer out of the Sewer Connection Fund upon the certificate of the Town Engineer of completion of the work, and of the moneys payable therefor and the persons to whom the same are to be paid.

4. No person shall dig or open up any street or highway or public place except the employees of the corporation or contractors engaged by the corporation authorized by by-law or resolution of the Council, and upon such terms and conditions as the Council may by such by-law or resolution direct and provide.

Councillor Sawers pointed out that Contractor Bogue if given the power to put in connections, with no stipulations as to what he would charge, the cost to the citizens would without doubt be excessive. He had already been told of an able man who offered to make the connections at nine dollars less than Mr. Bogue.

Councillors Langford and Denne, however, pressed the following motion, "That Mr. Bogue be permitted to make private drain connections with the sewer which he is now constructing, providing arrangements are made therefor with him by property owners, during the pleasure of the council, the work to be done under the supervision of the Town Engineer.

Councillor Moore asked that the yeas and nays on the motion be called for in order that the citizens might fully understand which of the councillors were responsible for the action that was being taken.

Yeas—Councillors Best, Denne, White, Mills, Phelan, Langford and White—7.

Nays—Councillor Weir, Sawers, Moore and Graham—4.

SOME COMMUNICATIONS.

Residents near the corner of Weller and Walton streets petitioned for an arc light—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The Water Company notified the council that the town would be held responsible for any damage to the service through the careless manner in which Contractor Bogue was putting in the sewer—Referred to the Sewerage Committee.

Accounts were received and referred to the Finance Committee, as follows:—

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eyes.

The Grand Trunk Railway authorities have issued revised instructions to their agents regarding the precautions to be observed in the transportation of corpses over this system. Hitherto the attendant physician's certificate as to cause of death has been accepted as sufficient guarantee of safety, but a good deal of difficulty arose from the fact that the certifying is in the hands of so many hundreds of different persons, some of whom might not be too careful. To obviate this an additional certificate is now required from the chief officer of the local Board of Health, also from the undertaker and the station baggage agent. The effect of this revised arrangement will be to centralize responsibility and greatly lessen danger to the general public

Regular Meeting of the Township Council.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Council met. After routine, on motion the collector's bonds were approved. Alex. McFarlane was present requesting to know what action the town will take to cut a ditch through the old Cobourg Railway dump to prevent the flooding of his land and the road. On motion of Messrs. Johnston and Deyell the council agreed to pay one third of the cost of excavating a ditch 30 feet in width at the top and 3 feet wide at the bottom, on condition that Mr. McFarlane pays the remaining two-thirds of the cost. If he does not agree to it, Mr. Weir is authorized to have a ditch dug along the road allowance to the creek deep enough to take the water off the road. Messrs. John Burnham and F. Birdsall were present requesting the council to appoint an arbitrator re school sections laid over from last meeting, E. B. Edwards, Henry and Thos. Humphrie opposing the appointment. After hearing the reasons of the above gentlemen for and against, on motion of Messrs. Johnston and Deyell, no action was taken. A by-law was passed declaring the 16th concession line, from the Keene road south to the marsh, open to public travel. Edward O'Brien was granted $5 for charity. The following accounts were passed: John Hutcheson, 54 rods and 10 feet of wire snow fence, at 25c per rod, $13 65; Wm. Leahey, $1 50 for performing W. McGregor's statute labour to be charged in McGregor's taxes; Andrew McDermott, picking stones of Taylor's hill, $1.00; Jas. Douglas, picking stones off roads, $1.25; James Yourex, cedar, $7.23; A. THE DOOMED SLATE.

It Is Being Discarded in Many Schools in the States.

The Indiana State Board of Health has prohibited the use of slates in its public schools. The reason advanced for this was that the slate, the saliva of the pupil and the slate pencil aided in conducting microbes, bacteria, microcosms and animalculi from one child to another. Hence the prevalence of contagious diseases in Indiana.

Diphtheria is spreading there and typhoid fever has its sway in certain northern sections of that State. Whooping cough is also heard of. The slate and the slate pencil are said to be responsible for this. In Chicago the slate has been banished for a different reason; paper has taken its place. Paper is clean; pencils are cheap. Slates are expensive and awkward in handling. This is why they have been tabooed in Chicago. Thus a cherished necessity of childhood days gone by has commenced to go.

UNLESS THE LAW STEPS IN

And Stops its Destruction the Black Squirrel is Doomed.

The Government stepped in and protected the wild turkey after there were not enough wild turkeys left to make it worth while protecting. The black squirrel is now also doomed unless it is given a chance to breed and multiply unmolested for a few years. In sections of the Midland district there are still a few left, but elsewhere in Ontario the species is nearly extinct. As a consequence sportsmen come to Peterborough county from all sections of Ontario and shoot squirrels by the hundred. The law now protects black squirrels the same as other game, but for the time being, at least, it should go further and prevent the hunting of them at all period of years.

The Great Fire!

G. W. Green's Pump and Windmill Business to be Continued.

I beg to announce to the public that although the distruction of my Factory on Dickson's Race on Sunday evening, has deprived me of premises and machinery for the present, it does not deprive me of my business.

Arrangements will immediately be made for opening up again in another building, which I hope to be able to secure in a short time.

In the meantime the business will be kept going without serious interuption to the public. Orders for Pumps, Windmills, &c, may be sent by mail to my address, Box 862, Peterborough, P.O., which will be filled as promptly as possible, from my Millbrook Factory, where my Peterborough workmen have been sent to assist in turning out the work.

CULL THE FLOCKS.

A Good Time to Make a Change—Prices Are at the Bottom.

A noted Monroe county breeder says in the Country Gentleman that now is a good time to cull the flocks and herds, and to cull them hard. The prices of farm animals are low; hence one has not to let go so much value as he would have to do in better times. Possibly that is a doubtful consolation, but I do not think so. I can part with a slightly inferior animal when it brings only $25 with better grace than when it brings $50? Why? Because a good animal can be got to take its place at a corresponding low price. The change does not cost one so much as it would, were prices good. For example: The brood mare of a certain quality will now sell for $50. Some years ago a brood mare of like quality would have brought $100, and she will possibly command such a price again. It may seem better to hold her until she brings a better price, although she is not as good as one should keep. Not so. Now is the time to get rid of her. For when she sells for $100, it will take $150 to buy a good one to put in her place. Now a good one can be got for $75. Of course I am speaking of good farm chunks. The change can be made now for $25; and when better prices prevail the good mare will be worth $50 more than the inferior one. One has doubled his money, if the prices of some years ago prevail again. Certainly prices cannot go lower, so one cannot lose money. But if the change is not made until the good prices prevail, it will cost $50 to make it, the chances of being able to add to the $50 are poor, and the probabilities are, on the contrary, that when one wishes to sell the better mare he cannot get back all of his $50. Now this rough statement reveals a principle applicable to all horses, and to sheep, cattle and hogs. The most economical and profitable time to cull is when prices are low. Then one can buy good animals to the best advantage, and the chances are good for making a nice profit because of the advance in price. There is good reason for getting rid of poor animals now, rather than when prices are high, although one invests only the same amount that he has received—sells three $50 animals, for example, and buys two $75 animals—for the advance in price will always affect the better animals first and most forcibly. When prices recover from a period of depression, the prices of the best animals always advance before the prices of the poorer animals, and at a greater ratio. Hence the reason for changing from inferior to superior animals now, although one has no bank account to draw on.

Fruit Picker.

Any device which assists in presenting fruit to the market in a perfect, unbruised state greatly enhances the value of such a product. The fruit picker invented and patented by Henry Edgarton, of Shirley, Mass., is so simple and seemingly efficacious that it must interest the fruit grower. It consists of a pole, to the top of which is affixed the storage or receiving sack. From the mouth of the sack wire fingers extend upward, in which the stem of the fruit is engaged, when a slight pull on the string which operates the shears or cutter severs the stem, allowing the fruit to drop into the sack.

A MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philanthrophy Still Exist.

If any man, who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge, the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathise with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-being to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c. silver to cover postage and address, Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich.

THE FORM OF MUTTON SHEEP.

Prof. Thomas Shaw gives in Wool, Mutton and Pork his description of an ideal form of a mutton sheep, and the reasons that he desires this form: He says:—

"Among the leading essentials as to form I may mention, 1, compactness; 2, massiveness of build; 3, cylindrical shape of body; 4, good coat of wool of even quality; and 5, a proud, erect carriage.

"By compactness of form I mean lack of undue length in the neck, the body and the legs. A ram with a long neck is likely to be a hard feeder. When he has a long body, and more especially when it is narrow and flat on the hip, he is deficient in constitution, and also in feeding qualities. When he is long in the leg, he will be restless and will be light in body. Once get a compact sheep and you will have a sheep with a good constitution. But you may have compactness without size and that is objectionable; that is to say, the lack of size is objectionable. However, I would rather choose a small ram with a compact body than a large one lacking in compactness.

"By massiveness of build is meant a strong framework well loaded with flesh. It includes a broad, full, round chest, a broad back and level through all its length, and much weight in proportion to the length of body. A ram may be compact in form and not massive, since he may be small; but he cannot be massive without being compact. But massiveness does not mean coarse or unduly strong in bone. A massive ram will have a head strong rather than fine, but not of necessity coarse and the same is true of the legs. Where we find a massive frame we also have a wide brisket, which keeps the forelegs well apart and a broad hind quarter well filled with meat low down to the parting of the hind legs, which will also be well apart. It is important, too, that the hind quarter be long as well as broad.

"By a cylindrical shape is meant a round body a good deal like a cylinder. The ends, too, will be a little rounded out. It means that the shoulders and hips are well rounded out, and that the ribs are well sprung. A cylindrical rib is the opposite of a flat, straight up and down rib.

"By a good coat of wool is meant a good long fleece, covering well every part of the body, including the belly. The amount of it that should be upon the head will depend upon the breed. Some do not have any and some have the greater portion of the head covered. And the same remark will apply to the legs, though, generally speaking, the legs are bare of wool from the knee and hock downward. The length of the wool also will be largely dependent upon the breed. We should prefer wool as even as possible in length and quality all over the body. When we part it, it should shine or glisten, which it will do when it has plenty of yolk. That is a greasy substance which comes through the skin, and keeps the wool soft and oily. When the wool ceases to be oily, the sheep is not doing well.

"A proud, erect carriage is not very easily described on paper. An animal with a proud carriage carries its head well erect. It has a nice arch of the neck. The eye is bright and lively. The movements are active. The step is light and sure."

DURABLE WAGON JACK.

Its Introduction Makes the Oiling of Wagons Easy.

My wagon jack is made of a piece of scantling 2 by 4 inches by 2 feet in length, a as illustrated. A short slot 6 inches long is made in the top of a at d and a hole is bored half way down through which a bolt passes, at c. The lever or handle, b, is 2 by 4 inches and 2 feet long and the supports, c, is 2 by 3 inches and 2 feet long with notches cut so as to catch on a bolt, f.—A. W. Cooke, in Farm and Home.

Live Stock Notes.

A varied diet of good, clean, sound food, dry and roomy houses, which are kept scrupulously clean, is the key to success in poultry culture. If these things are not properly observed, a proportionate lack of success is sure to follow.

Strictly speaking, it is the ewes that most need to be weaned, the lambs really weaning themselves as the milk of the ewes falls off. The ewes are most in danger at this weaning, especially those which have been giving the most milk. To take the lamb from such ewes as this and leave the ewe to her fate, is mostly to lose some of the best sheep in the flock, for the ewes that rear the best lambs are not only good themselves, but they are reproduced in the lambs. It is not always the case that the shepherd thinks of this. But in truth the character of the ewes in this respect gives the real value to the flock.

It used to be the rule to keep horses from drinking at noon or night after they had been working through the forenoon or afternoon, until they had eaten their feed and had cooled down. This was considered necessary in order to prevent injury from taking cold water while the system is heated. But this is cruel to the horses, as they cannot eat what they should if they are parched with thirst. The better way is to give each horse in the middle of the forenoon a pail of water into which a small quantity of oatmeal has been stirred. This will refresh and invigorate the horse without doing any injury, and will prevent him from being injured by drinking freely at noontime. The drink being nourishing, rallies the strength and enables the animal to do a greater amount of work without failure.

Improvement in Farming.

There has been more improvement in agriculture during the nineteenth century than in any other industry. The breeds of animals have been completely changed and adapted for special purposes and machinery and implements have modified farming in many ways. There are more and better varieties of plants and the proper mode of feeding the soil for plant growth is more generally understood.

A New Hog.

A correspondent of Hog and Corn Journal says: "The litter of six pigs that weighed 96 pounds at 10 days old now weigh 560 pounds, an average gain of thirty-two pounds each for the thirty days. There are forty-two pigs feeding together; other litters are doing as well. They run in a woods pasture, are fed three times a day on slop made of equal parts (by measure) of cornmeal, bran and shorts, mixed with water, warm feed before using. They are making pork at a cost of about two cents per pound, not counting the grass. The growth of my pigs this season averaged about as follows: At one day old, three to four and a half pounds each; at one month, eighteen pounds; two months, thirty-eight pounds; three months, sixty pounds; four months, ninety pounds. We expect a little better than one pound a day after the four months period. We will weigh again in thirty days and give weight and cost of feed if you want it. Even at the low price of hogs there is a profit in feeding a good class of porkers. The mixed feed I am using costs sixty cents per hundred."—Ohio Farmer.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Brought About by the Dissatisfaction of the Summer Boarders.

There was a good deal of suppressed emotion in Elihu Geehaw's voice as he asked for his mail at the village post-office, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Ain't well, be ye?" said the postmaster.

"My body's well 'nuff,' was the reply, "but my feelins is hurt."

"Aint business good?"

"Some ways 'tis an some ways taint. Betwix us two, summer boarders is the durndest cranks that walks."

"Course," was the sententious rejoinder. "They want deer parks an barcelal ruins fur $8 a week."

"Well, we done our best. We thought that as long as we wus goin' ter take boarders we'd tend to that branch o' the bus'ness an' not try ter run too many things ter oncet. So I went in light on gardenin' an' sold the cows. Me an' my wife talked it over an' we short thet we'd better lay out a little money rather 'n hev' 'em go without luxuries like they was usster. I paid the highest price fer a lot o' things, includin' canned tomatusses an' condensed milk thet had sugar already into it, ready for use."

"You didn't git no 'preciation, did ye?"

"Not a bit. I wasn't so much surprised when they didn't pay much 'tention ter the canned tomatusses, fur I don't think they're much better'n the other kind myself, an' I was jes' tryin' ter humor 'em. But when they turned up their noses at the condensed milk thet hed sugar already into it I must say I give in an' got discouraged."

PAINFUL SUSPENSE.

Didn't Feel Him.

He was shaving away at the chin of a customer when the door of his humble shop opened, and a colored boy sneaked in and sat down. The barber looked at him two or three times and then asked what was wanted.

SIMPLE MILK TESTER.

An Australian Invention Superior to the Centrifugal Apparatus.

While the process of testing milk by means of the new centrifugal apparatus is simple enough to be soon mastered by int ligent dairymen, it is sufficiently complicated to lead to frequent mistakes on the part of persons who have no natural capacity for using mechanical appliances. Angus Mackay, professor of agriculture in the technical college, Sydney, has lately devised a testing apparatus which is claimed to be perfectly effective though it is surprisingly simple. According to the description published in an Australian paper, all that is required is a straight piece of glass tube, sealed at one end, and marked off into three divisions of ten cubic centimeters capacity, and a fourth which is graduated. The milk to be tested is poured into the tube, to the line marking the first division. To the milk is added sufficient specially prepared ether to fill the tube to the line marking the second division.

The tube must be then closed perfectly airtight, either by placing the finger firmly on it or with a suitable tightly fitting cork. It should be held horizontally, and well shaken, until the ether and milk are well and thoroughly mixed in the tube. When well mixed, a special prepared re-agent is added sufficient to fill the tube to the line marking the third division. The tube is again corked and held in a horizontal position, and well shaken until the caseine separates from the liquid mixture and forms in flakes. When all the caseine is separated, the tube is stood in water, of a temperature of 104 degrees Fahrenheit, until the fat globules have all risen to the surface. It should then be stood in water of a temperature of 68 degrees Fahrenheit for ten or fifteen minutes, when the extent of the fatty layer can be read off. Lines marked in the fourth division give the volume in one-tenth of a cubic centimeter. Care must be taken not to place the ether near or in close proximity to a flame, as it is very inflammable.

The advantage of this system lies in its simplicity, as anyone can, after a few lessons, without any previous knowledge of the principles of milk-testing, easily master all its technical details. All that is needed is the tubes, and any number of tests desired can be going through the process at the same time. Another most important consideration is the cost of the appliances. The first outlay for tubes and the bottle of ether and re-agent is under one guinea, and each test costs a fraction over 2d. Another great advantage is that the process separates the butter fats, also caseine and water, in such a perfect manner as to leave each element entirely distinct, and in such a position as to leave the ratio of each easily determined; and yet not an iota of either is destroyed. Another recommendation is that there is no risk of generating odors which will taint even in the faintest degree the produce. This is an improvement on the old systems of testing by centrifugal force. Besides, there is no risk of failure during the manipulation or handling of the tubes, as the register can be seen without touching the tube with the hand or removing it from the cold water. There is also no risk of the record being wrong through jerks or defective manipulation during the process of working, as there is no machinery to get out of order or to run too fast or too slow, as the case may be.

Selecting Cheese.

The department of agriculture has issued a very valuable circular on "How to Select Good Cheese." In speaking of the composition of "filled cheese," it says: Instead of the natural fat of milk, or cream, which is extracted for butter-making, there is substituted what is known as "neutral lard," made from the leaf fat of the hog. This article, claimed to be exceptionally pure and good of its kind, is used at the rate of two or three pounds to every 100 pounds of skim milk. The cheese resulting carries about 30 per cent. of (lard) fat, which is rather less than the average of (butter) fat in good whole-milk cheese. The casein and other components of the two are practically the same in kind and proportion. From this statement of composition one can judge for himself whether this filled or lard cheese is a legitimate article of food, whether it is "wholesome," and whether he desires to use it in the diet of himself and family. It is made of comparatively cheap materials, costing from one-half to two-thirds as much as good, full-cream, factory cheese, and its market price, wholesale or retail, should correspond. At its best, this is a cheap, inferior article of cheese; it is almost devoid of flavor, oily or greasy when warm, and never attains the dry, crumbly consistency of a well-cured cheese. It is sold when only a month or two from the press, in imitation of mild, immature cheese. It is claimed that it does not keep well, especially if subjected to a temperature above 60 degrees. There is much of value in the way of advice and suggestion in this little pamphlet, which may be obtained free by addressing the chief of the dairy division, department of agriculture, Washington.

Tar on Serge.

Tar on serge dresses may be removed by this method: Apply with a flannel successive applications of turpentine, naphtha and benzine. If the stains are very old they should be thoroughly rubbed with flannel dipped in salad oil; this softens the tar, which will afterward yield to other treatment.

Tobacco Heart.

Much heart and nerve weakness is caused by undue use of tea, coffee, and tobacco; palpitation, nervousness, irritability, excitability, lack of confidence, etc., are sure symptoms. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills bring ready relief by steadying the nerves and regulating the heart. They are true heart and nerve food.

Good and Bad Temper.

Teach your children the art of cheerfulness. Mothers, insist on cheerfulness in your boys and girls. Fathers, show by an example of cheerfulness that moodiness, dulness and sulks are the worst possible form. Impress on your household, indeed, that on no account will moodiness, dulness and sulks be tolerated.

There is no infectious disease which is more catching than these same selfish moods. Should one of your children be sickening for a bout of sulks, isolate the patient at once. Nothing, we repeat, is more catching than bad temper, however it may manifest itself; and no variant of the disease spreads more rapidly through a family than sulks.

Bicycling and Waists.

The news from Paris that bicycle riding has induced the arbiters of fashion to increase the size of the waist of women's dresses is welcome. The fashion-plate woman is an impossible creature, but, nevertheless, those ladies who are ruled by the orders sent out from Paris have tried to compress their waists as the regulations decree. No other result than serious and permanent detriment to health could follow. But the bicycle has changed all this. It is impossible to ride the wheel without free movement of the lungs; hence the abolition of the fashionable decree in favor of the slender and unnatural waist.

conditions

In some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is rapid. For this reason we put up a 50c. size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children.

In other conditions gain must be slow, sometimes almost imperceptible, health can't be built up in a day. For this Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment, food rather than medicine, food prepared for tired and weak digestions.

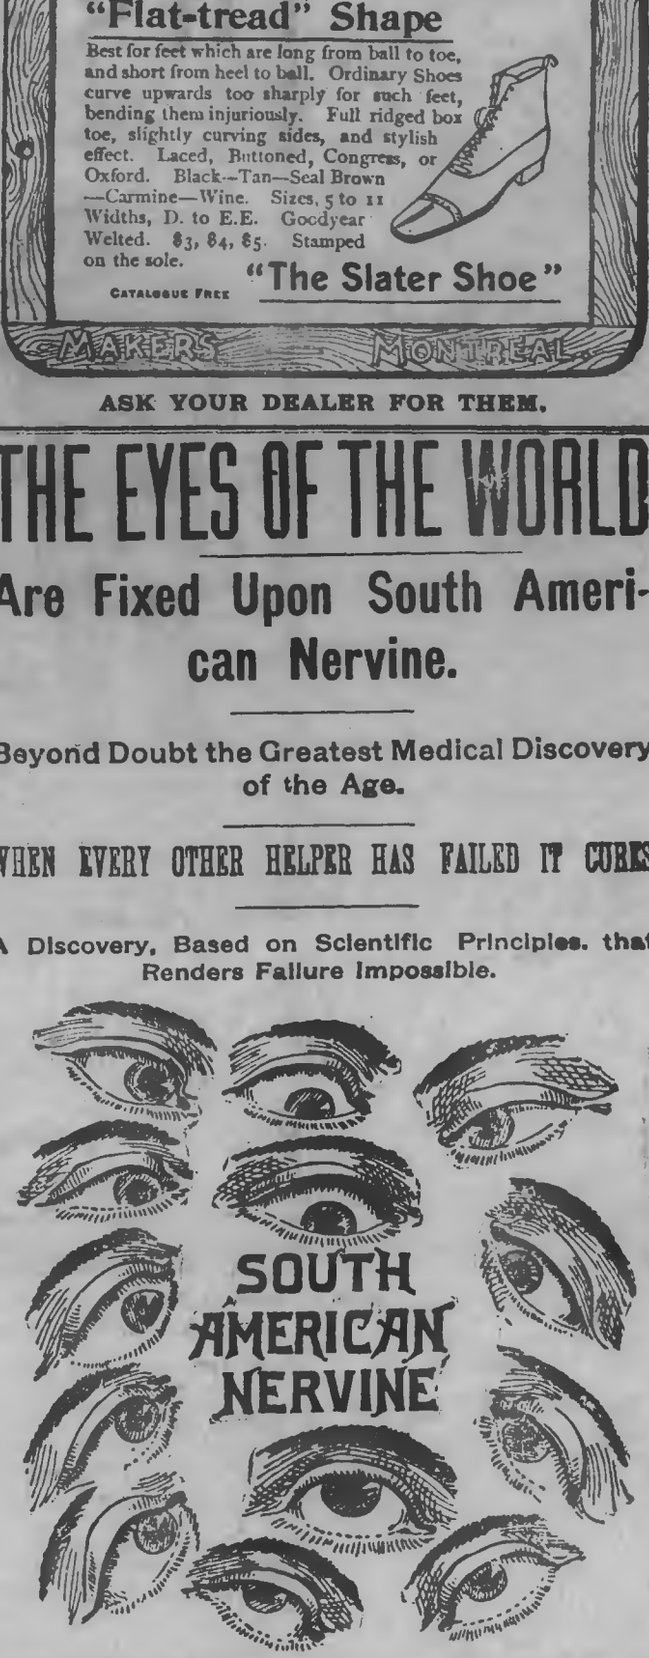
THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.



In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why, should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

OUTRAGEOUS IF TRUE.

A British Subject From Halifax Practically Kidnapped and Held as a Lunatic in New York.

Halifax, Oct. 26.—An evening paper prints a sensational story to-day, in which it is charged that William O'Connor, a British subject, who went to New York from Halifax in 1892, was for four years confined in the Insane Asylum on Ward's Island, though he claims to have been perfectly sane all the time. O'Connor, who has just returned to Halifax, says he secured his release, by persistently insisting that he was not insane, and with the assistance of his friends, with whom he communicated clandestinely, he alleges that letters which he would ask officials to send for him never reached those for whom they were intended. According to the man's story, Rev. Dean Partridge of Fredericton received one of his letters, and on communicating with the chairman of the N.Y. State Lunacy Commission, the latter took measures that resulted in O'Connor's release, with enough money to take him to Canada. O'Connor states that the authorities insisted on him leaving New York State, and gave him $20 to pay expenses. He charges that he was practically kidnapped in New York four years ago, and railroaded to Ward's Island, when he went to Bellevue Hospital to consult a physician about insomnia, from which he was a chronic sufferer. He says there are any number of sane persons in Ward's Island institution, and one of several other statements is that the place is in the hands of a nest of boodlers. O'Connor intends to present his case to the British Government and ask them to demand reparation for what he claims was enforced and wrongful detention. The man was a teacher in a private school in Halifax before he went to New York, where he was engaged in literary work for a publishing house before being sent to Ward's Island.

FIERCE FIGHTING IN CUBA.

Spaniards Claim to Have Repeatedly Whipped the Rebels.

Havana, Oct. 26.—Col. Segura has reported to the Government that his command surprised a body of rebels at Garganta Soroa, Province of Pinar Del Rio, and that in the fighting that followed four of the insurgents were killed. The Spaniards by this victory gained possession of a route to the hills, and started to build trenches to defend their position. While employed in this work the troops were continually fired upon by the rebels, but no losses were sustained. On Oct. 24, Col. Segura left the main body of his command and, with a small force, started to reconnoitre the country. On his way back he learned that the Sumora battalion was engaged with the rebels. He, therefore, hurried to the scene of the fighting and took part in the combat.

The rebels made desperate efforts to carry the Spanish position, and thus open the way for their return to the hills, but were compelled to retreat, closely followed by the Spaniards. A series of bloody fights occurred during the two days of the pursuit. The rebels left 61 dead on the field, but it is believed their losses were much heavier than this. The troops lost a lieutenant and 21 privates killed and 110 wounded, including four captains and two lieutenants.

JAPS CHARGED WITH CRUELTY.

A Claim That They are Massacreing People and Destroying Property.

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—Reports from Formosa, received by the Chinese papers, state that the Island is being laid waste by the Japanese. A private letter from Formosa to The China Mail, published at Hong Kong, says:

"All the villages I passed on the road from Kagee to Hunlim, including the big town of Tow Lak, are entirely destroyed and deserted. There being so few Chinese in the villages, I could not verify all the reports of atrocities. However, in one village, I was told by an eye-witness, an old woman, that her husband, with about 150 innocent people, men, women and children, had been massacred by the Japanese soldiers."

Advices from Hong Kong state that a serious revolt is in progress at Swatow, China. Over 1000 troops have been sent to the scene. The entire district round Swatow is greatly disturbed, owing to a riding among the Hakkas. Over 10,000 rebels are looting and devastating the province. The Mandarin of the district is reported to have decamped and the district is in the hands of the rebels.

The steamer Coptic, from the Orient, brings news that the Yang-tse-Kiang River rose suddenly at Ichang recently to a height of 53 feet and flooded the town. Houses were washed away, and the people were forced to flee to high ground. The roofs of farm houses just appeared above the water. The property loss was great, but as far as known no lives were lost.

OVER A MILLION LOST.

Big Grain Elevators at Chicago Gone Up in Smoke and a Million Bushels of Wheat Burned.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—In less than an hour at noon to-day fire destroyed $1,200,000 worth of property on the north branch of the Chicago River in a dilapidated locality known as Goose Island. The Pacific grain elevators A and B, owned by the Chicago and Pacific Elevator Company, were completely destroyed and several frame dwellings adjoining were swept away. There was more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat stored in the two great elevators. The loss on that is estimated at $861,000, on corn $34,800 and a small loss on oats. The loss on the building and machinery is placed at nearly $300,000. The insurance fully covers the losses. Supt. Perry said the fire started in elevator B, in the south part, and he believes it was caused by sparks from a passing tug in the river. No employe of the company knows anything more definite about the origin of the destruction.

Thousands of spectators gathered and cheered in wonder and admiration at the grand sight, unique in the annals of fire history. Great bins, containing thousands of bushels of dry grain, one above the other, were eaten gradually away by the flames. One bin withstood the destroyer longer than the rest and hung suspended in the air. One side caught fire near the bottom and the heap of grain, released from its confinement, poured to the ground a hundred feet below, to be met by the flames in its descent, the whole forming a picture of a burning Niagara.

Distress in the Back—Disturbed Sleep—Cured by Two Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (Special).—There has occurred here another instance of the wisdom of using Dodd's Kidney Pills in any case of suspected kidney trouble, promptly, at the outset. This was in the case of Mr. A. E. Ferguson, who, on being interviewed, said:—"I had been suffering for some time with distress in the back, nervousness and disturbed sleep. But reading in the paper one day the particulars of a case very much like my own I decided to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured one box. Being helped by the first few doses I continued taking until I had used two boxes, with the happy result of a perfect cure."

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Two Packers in a Powder Factory Killed by an Explosion.

Pittsburg, Oct. 26.—At 8 o'clock this morning the packing department of the Acme Powder Company, located 13 miles from Pittsburg, on the Allegheny River, was totally destroyed and the two packers named Stoffel and Andrews, the only occupants of the building, were blown to atoms. Five hundred or more pounds of dynamite which was being prepared for shipment was in some way unknown exploded. This is the second disastrous explosion at these works within two years.

Her Cargo on Fire.

New York, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Worseley Hall, Captain Cameron, put into this port this morning with her cargo of cotton on fire. She was bound from New Orleans for Havre, and left the former port Oct. 16. An attempt will be made at once to put out the fire.

Over-Churning.

One of the principal causes of butter becoming rancid soon after it is churned is the buttermilk contained in it, and one reason why there is buttermilk in the butter is because it is over-churned. If the churning is continued until the butter is compact no amount of washing will get out all of the buttermilk.

In order to get rid of the buttermilk easily it is very essential that the churning should stop when the butter is in the granular state. If this is done the butter can then be washed comparatively free of buttermilk. Stop the churn as soon as the particles of butter are as large as grains of wheat, pour in pure, fresh water and then draw off. Put in fresh water again, agitate sufficiently to stir the water and milk well together and then draw off; repeat this until the water runs off clear.

THE OTTAWA BUDGET

Some Changes Made in the Indian Department.

OFFENSIVE PARTISANS MUST GO.

Transfer of Officers of the Permanent Corps—Sheep Inspectors Appointed—A Geological Map of the District West of Nipissing—Notes From the Capital.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Several changes in connection with the Indian service have been made by the Government. Dr Secord of Brantford succeeds Dr. Langrell as medical attendant of the Six Nations Indian reserve.

In November last Dr. Langrell resigned his position with the intention of making Hamilton his future residence. He afterwards applied to the Government for six months' leave of absence, went to Hamilton and started to practice there. Although Dr. Langrell removed to Hamilton he after his six months' leave of absence had expired he commenced to make occasional visits to the reserve. In August last the Council of Indians requested the Government to appoint Dr. Secord to the position of medical attendant. The Government have agreed to the request.

W. Reep, Indian interpreter at the same reserve, who is reported to have carried on an active and offensive campaign during the last election, has also been dismissed.

Josiah Hill, secretary of the Six Nations Council and instructor of works, has also been dismissed. He was charged with being a partisan and having acted as secretary of one of the Conservative committees.

Consequent upon the transfer of Capt. Pearse from the R. R. C. I., Toronto, to the R. C. Dragoons, the Militia Department have decided upon certain changes affecting certain officers. Captain Septimus Denison, now at London, will be transferred to Toronto, while Capt. Wadmore of Fredericton will go to London. Capt. Wadmore's place at Fredericton was recently filled by the appointment of Lieut. Eaton of Ottawa.

The officers of the Fisheries Department have been notified that the State authorities of New Jersey have decided to clear carp out of the lakes and waters in that State. This variety of fish is not considered a desirable one. In the past few years the United States Government spent over $100,000 in stocking different waters with this fish, but it is evident they are now repenting of their action. Repeatedly within the past two years Prof. Prince, our Commissioner of Fisheries, has been appealed to by Ontario parties for information looking to the breeding of carp in this Province, but the Commissioner has strongly discouraged any such action.

Not in every case does the spoils system operate in the United States. Under the last Republican regime Col Lay was Consul-General at Ottawa. Four years ago, when the Democrats took office again, Mr. J. B. Riley, a Democrat, was appointed Consul-General, but Mr. Julius Lay, a son of Col. Lay, was made vice-consul here. Now word comes that Mr. Lay, a Republican, has been appointed consul at Windsor by the Cleveland Administration.

The Department of Railways and Canals has awarded the contract for the new bridge across the Rideau Canal at Smith's Falls to Mr. Grant of Ottawa.

The Imperial authorities have transferred to the Customs Department the despatch regarding the seizure of the mud-scow Ruelle by a Canadian cruiser in the Detroit River last year. The Ruelle was discovered dumping garbage into our waters and the captain wants compensation from Canada.

Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, has gone to Halifax to make arrangements for opening the new immigration buildings in that city. Last year the old buildings were destroyed by fire, and the Government has replaced them by a handsome and well-appointed structure, which will afford all necessary accommodation for immigrants arriving during the winter season.

The Minister of Agriculture has appointed a large number of local veterinary officers in different parts of the country for the purpose of inspecting sheep destined for shipment to the United States. The Department is engaged at the present time in sending out instructions to these officers, together with the necessary forms and regulations.

The Geological Survey Department has just published sheet No. 9 of the geological map of Western Ontario, designated as Shebandowan sheet, and including that lake and Lac Des Mille Lacs, with the stretch of country extending from Port Arthur and Fort William for 75 miles westward. This sheet covers the eastern end of the belt of Huronian rocks, with their gold and iron mines, which stretches from the Lake of the Woods region to Lake Superior, a distance of some 250 miles. The greater part of the geological as well as the topographical work embraced by the map is the work of Mr. W. McInnes, B.A., who has in course of preparation a report embracing this and the Seine River sheet, next adjacent on the west. Each full sheet of this series, on the scale of four miles to the inch, includes an area of 3456 square miles, and, as a rule, the country covered requires to be measured and laid down on the map, as well as geologically examined, necessitating, in every case, the expenditure of much time and labor. This applies not only to study of the rocks in the field, but subsequently by means of the microscope and other appliances of precision. The maps in the western part of Ontario so far completed, published by the Geological Survey, are as follows: Lake of the Woods, Northern part; Lake of the Woods, southern part (Rainy River sheet); Rainy Lake sheet, Hunters' Island sheet, and Seine River sheet. Work is now in progress on the Manitou sheet to the north of Rainy Lake.

Col. Lake, Quartermaster-General, returned from England to-day, whither he had been on private business. It will be remembered that the Quartermaster-General was detailed to proceed to England last winter to make arrangements for the purchase of the new rifle for the militia and big guns for the field batteries. As yet none of the guns for the batteries have been received in Canada, but Col. Lake says they may be expected any day. A hitch had occurred in connection with their shipment, but he was enabled to straighten the matter out on his recent visit.

The Supreme Council of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Masonry will hold its annual session here this week, commencing to-morrow, several of the members of the council have already arrived, including Grand Commander J. V. Ellis, M.P., Hugh Murray and J. W. Murton, Hamilton; William Gibson, M.P., Beamsville; I. H. Stearns and A. W. Hooper, Montreal.

Controller Paterson left for Montreal this afternoon.

Prof. Saunders, Director of Experimental Farms, left for Nova Scotia to-day to join Hon. Mr. Fisher on his tour through the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. McMichael, Chief Inspector of Customs, was here to-day on departmental business.

Hon. Mr. Blair and Chief Engineer Schreiber left for Peterboro to-night.

Mr. Christie, M.P., was in town to-day on departmental business.

Mr. E. A. C. Pew of Toronto, who has been in town for a couple of days, leaves for England this week to float a company to build a railway through the Crow's Nest Pass.

The local licensed victuallers held a two-hours' session last evening, discussing the campaign in the approaching plebiscite vote.

In the Supreme Court to-day argument proceeded in Page v. the Attorney-General for Ontario, D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C., appearing as counsel for respondents, in addition to counsel named yesterday.

Hon. Dr. Borden has left for Nova Scotia.

Mr. W. L. Scott to-day received official notification from Toronto of his appointment as Local Master and Deputy Registrar of the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario at the city of Ottawa, and will at once assume charge of the office.

LOOK OUT FOR BOGUS MONEY.

Many Fruit Growers Across the Lake Said to Have Sold Their Produce for Counterfeit Silver Dollars.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—There is a large sized rumor current at this place to-day among interested parties to the effect that a large amount of counterfeit money is in circulation in the town and neighboring vicinity. The money has just been detected, and is found to have been paid out to many of the fruit growers from American buyers. Suspicions were aroused from the number of new silver dollars which were getting into circulation, but further than tracing them to some of the fruit-growers nothing can be learned of their origin. The police claim to know nothing of the matter whatever, but the general opinion is that they are quietly working on it. It has been said that it is a clever crook who avoids the Niagara Falls police, and this was demonstrated to two sorrowful knights of the road last night, when Officer Kimmins captured them at the M.C.R. depot. The two prisoners were caught in a freight car, and will doubtless turn out to be two burglars who are wanted in Detroit. They were dressed in new clothes, hats and gloves, which, though tailor-made, did not fit. At present they are in jail on a charge of trespass, awaiting identification from Detroit.

A. T. Campbell, grocer, has been committed for trial on the charge of defrauding his partner, Alex. Craig, of $300, which Craig, who came here two months ago, from Grimsby, gave Campbell to put into the business, and which the accused promised to deposit in a bank. It transpires, however, that the firm has no account there.

Robbers Missed a Big Wad.

Guthrie, O.T., Oct. 27.—The Sac and Fox Indian Agency was held up by four masked robbers yesterday afternoon. Three stores were robbed and $825 taken. Indian Agent General Thomas has $46,000 at Sac and Fox, annuity money to be paid to Indians next week. This money the robbers were after. Two of the robbers were recognized as being in the Carney hold-up last week.

MAY BE A REACTION.

But There is a Genuine Demand for Wheat.

THE RISE IN PRICE IS JUSTIFIED

Not Enough Wheat at British Ports to Last a Fortnight—The Shortage of Corn and Wheat in India Will Compel Purchase—Over-Speculation.

London, Oct. 27.—Mr. Philip B. Skelton, secretary of the old Corn Exchange in Mark Lane, in an interview with a representative of the United Associated Presses, said in regard to the recent rise in wheat: "I certainly think the demand genuine and the rise justified. A reaction is probable, but it will be only temporary and caused by people having stock on hand being induced to rush to sell. A number of cargoes are already on their way to India. Everybody is waiting. The shortage of corn and wheat in India will compel purchase. The fall in prices to-day was in sympathy with the foreign markets. I believe that there will be wheat enough brought to market in the next six months to supply the necessities of the world. The absence of the surplus of former years has stimulated trade. The statements which have been made that there is a manipulation of the market to support the Presidential candidacy of Bryan in the United States is absolutely nonsense. Indeed, he is sure to characterize the markets until confirmation is received that India and other countries have no reserve as upon former occasions sufficient to feed themselves, this indecision causing a glut in the European markets and a resurgence of prices."

THE SUPPLY IS SHORT

And the Tendency in England is for Higher Prices.

London, Oct. 27.—The Daily Telegraph says of the demand for and the supply of wheat: The stock of foreign wheat at the principal British ports, it is said, would not suffice to feed the country for a fortnight. The slight fall in American exchanges on Saturday gave the English markets a downward tendency, but it is the opinion of one of the best known corn factors in Mark Lane that American wheats will speedily rise with a bang, and that by Christmas prices will be much further enhanced. During the recent excitement business was in comparatively few hands. The operators are reported to have reaped a rich harvest. Speculation both in England and America was carried beyond reasonable bounds. American operations were decidedly intemperate and excessive, but in the market the opinion is positive that at least a portion of the rise will be retained, and that the era of low prices is for the time being ended.

The Evening Standard this afternoon says that the tendency in wheat is for higher prices, adding: The failure in India will divert Californian and Australian wheat from Europe there. Only the tremendous effort in the United States to hurry wheat across the Atlantic to exchange for gold prevented a much greater increase in prices, and when the inrush is past there will be a further rise. At the Baltic this morning business in wheat was very dull, and the tendency was towards easier prices.

Higher at Liverpool.

Liverpool, Oct. 27.—The wheat market opened higher in sympathy with yesterday's closing in America, falling away upon selling orders and poor milling demand. Larger arrivals and a cessation of outside speculation weakened it still further, the weak bulls realizing freely and values declining 2d below the opening. The lower level prices stimulated buying, and towards the close the market rallied 1-2d, finally closing at 1d to 1 1-2d lower. There was an active business, covering 170,000 quarters.

Continental Markets.

London, Oct. 27.—Reports of the continental wheat markets have been received at the London office of the United Associated Presses to-day as follows:

Antwerp—Wheat inactive and nominally unchanged, but there must be lower prices before any business can be done. The demand is poor and consumers and importers are becoming more willing to consider counter offers.

Paris—Flour and wheat opened unchanged, but became weak later in the day.

Sold 15,000,000 Bushels.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 27.—A paper here has compiled information showing that the farmers of Eastern Washington have since the recent rise in wheat sold 15,000,000 bushels at an average price of 60 cents, the crop netting about $3,500,000 more than last year. This season the farmers were enabled to borrow money on warehouse receipts, which enabled them to hold their wheat until the rise.

Probably Killed Himself.

Yonkers, N.Y., Oct. 28.—There were no new developments in the Andrus case to-day. Some boys found a quantity of dynamite in a vacant lot a short distance from the factory, but this discovery is not believed to have any connection with the tragedy. Chief of Police Mangin adheres to his belief that Andrus killed himself. There is considerable indignation over the course of the coroner in promising arrests and his repeated postponements of the inquest.

Election Riots in Hungary.

Buda Pest, Oct. 27.—Serious election riots have taken place in different parts of Hungary. At Tyrnan a detachment of Hussars, while attempting to restore order, was stoned by the mob and one trooper was killed. The Hussars thereupon charged with drawn swords and several of the rioters were wounded. Troops have been sent to the various disturbed districts.

The Report Denied.

London, Oct. 27.—The officials on duty at the Admiralty to-day denied the reports cabled from Halifax of an increase in the strength of the British fleet in American waters.

Cripple

The iron grasp of scrofula has no mercy upon its victims. This demon of the blood is often not satisfied with causing dreadful sores, but racks the body with the pains of rheumatism until Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If wheat keeps on rising a bushel will soon be worth two American silver dollars or one Canadian dollar.

A move in the direction of economy, which is one of the functions of the Dominion Government, is the appointment of Mr. J. B. Charleston, of Ottawa, Supervisor of Public Works. He will form part of the headquarters staff and his duties will consist in part of revising the pay sheets of outside public works and seeing that such frauds as the Curran bridge pay sheets never occur again. Other duties of revision and inspection will be performed by Mr. Charleston, who is thoroughly competent for the work, and whose integrity is beyond question. He will easily save many thousands of dollars to the public treasury, and the need of some such officer has long been felt by those most competent to judge. The office is a temporary one which can be abolished at a day's notice if a future Administration, less scrupulous, does not like it.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The entertainment which was held in the town hall on Friday evening last was a decided success. The hall was filled to the doors, and the programme was one of the best ever given in this section. The proceeds, which amounted to over $20, were in aid of the Y.P.S.C.E. The following was the programme as presented:

Opening selection ..... Choir
Solo ..... Miss Eddie Tully
Recitation ..... Miss Lottie Middleton
Cornet solo ..... Mr H D Williamson
Scotch song ..... Miss Maggie Weddel
Recitation ..... Miss Lillie Pascoe
Song ..... Mr Jas Fowler
Violin solo ..... Miss Mabel Maud
Recitation ..... Miss Aggie Paterson
Quartette ..... Misses Annie and Vina Belleghem and Messrs Skitch and Brown

INTERMISSION.

Song ..... Mr Jas Brown
Recitation ..... Mr Halligan
Song ..... Miss Weddel
Recitation ..... Miss Lillie Pascoe
Duet ..... Miss Metherel and Mr Brown
Reading ..... Mr Fred Galloway
Violin solo ..... Miss Mabel Maud
God Save the Queen.

During the intermission cake and fruit was served.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Simpson, who filled the position in a very acceptable manner.

The only thing that occurred to mar the evening's entertainment, was the disgraceful conduct of three or four young men from town, who amused themselves by throwing small torpedoes against the wall, badly frightening some of the ladies and children. It seems a pity that young men who are old enough to know better, should lower themselves to such inexcusable conduct. We are very sorry they were so unfortunate as to attend the entertainment when there are so many numbers on the programme, which did not please their highly cultivated (?) tastes. They should remember that all well bred persons will conduct themselves at all times and in all places with perfect decorum. They will be found polite, and considerate of the comfort, convenience and wishes of others, and unobtrusive in their behavior. We sincerely hope that these young men have repented of their actions, and that in future occasions of this kind, they may conduct themselves in a manner becoming true gentlemen.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, wornout feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Curry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I know of."

Sold by James Lynch, druggist, 168 Hunter street, Peterborough.

KEEPING COWS CLEAN.

A Simple Device Which Will Accomplish This End.

A simple device for keeping cows clean in the stable is made by fastening a board (A) across the stall over the cow's back just high enough not to touch her when standing at ease. When she voids excrement she arches her back; the board obliges her to step to get the desired position and the excrement falls into the gutter. The board may be padded so as to prevent rubbing off the cow's hair and must be adjusted for each cow, according to her height and length. The plan is effective, cheap and does not interfere with the animal's comfort.—Farm and Home.

Simple Rules for Butter Making.

Simple rules for butter making have been issued in a revised form by the Royal Agricultural Society of England, and are printed as follows in our English contemporaries. They are put in the following forcible manner:—

Prepare the churn, butter-worker, wooden hands and sieve as follows: 1, rinse with cold water; 2, scald with boiling water; 3, rub thoroughly with salt; 4, rinse with cold water.

Always use a correct thermometer. The cream when in the churn to be at a temperature of 56 to 58 degrees in summer, and 60 to 62 degrees in winter. The churn should never be more than half full. Churn at number of revolutions suggested by maker of churn. If none is given, churn at forty or forty-five revolutions per minute. Always churn slowly at first.

Ventilate the churn freely and frequently during churning, until no air rushes out when the vent is opened.

Stop churning immediately when the butter comes. This can be ascertained by the sound; if in doubt, look.

The butter should be like grains of mustard seed. Pour in a small quantity of cold water (1 pint water to 2 quarts cream) to harden the grains, and give a few more turns to the churn, gently. Draw off the buttermilk, giving plenty of time for draining. Use a straining cloth placed over a hair sieve, so as to prevent any loss, and wash the butter in the churn with plenty of cold water; then draw off the water, and repeat the process until the water comes off quite clear.

To brine butter, make a strong brine, 9 or 8 pounds of salt to 1 gallon of water. Place straining cloth over mouth of churn, pour in brine, put lid on churn, turn sharply half a dozen times, and leave from ten to fifteen minutes. Then lift the butter out of churn into sieve, turn butter out on worker, leave a few minutes to drain, and work gently till all superfluous moisture is pressed out.

To dry-salt butter, place butter on worker, let it drain ten to fifteen minutes, then work gently till all the butter comes together. Place it on the scales and weigh; then weigh salt; for slight salting, ¼ ounce; medium, ½ ounce; heavy salting, ¾ ounce to the pound of butter. Roll butter out on worker and sprinkle salt over the surface, a little at a time; roll up and repeat till all the salt is used.

N. B.—Never touch the butter with your hands.

Dairy Notes.

Some cows will not "give down" except when eating a palatable mess. This is the fault of the trainer and is a bad state of affairs.

With good management a butter farm should grow richer and richer. A ton of butter removes only a few cents' worth of fertilising elements.

One of the important items in making dairying most profitable is to weed out all unprofitable parts. The average farmer cannot afford to fool with cows that do not have at least some desirable quality.

The United States department of agriculture has issued a little pamphlet telling how to select cheese. It tells how to detect filled cheese—made of skimmed milk and lard. It is free to all who write for it.

According to the statistics, population in the United States increases more rapidly than dairy cows In this view of the matter, the prices of dairy products should increase rather than decrease, but they have not done so.

The profits in dairying depend on the kind of cow we start with, the subsequent care of her, and attention to manufacturing and marketing her products. If the cows are well-bred and well-fed and the butter is well-made, well-packed and judiciously marketed, the profits will take care of themselves.

It may not be generally known that Irish potatoes are superior to turnips or beets, as a dairy food. The food value per 100 pounds of roots is as follows: Irish potatoes 29c, artichokes 24c, sugar beets 19c, mangle wurzels 14c, rutabagas 15c, carrots 18c, turnips 11c. But if more than half a bushel of potatoes per day be fed, the milk flow will decrease.

One of the chief things to consider in estimating the value of your cow is the amount of feed she will consume at a profit. Some cows will eat comparatively little and be profitable, while another will apparently eat you out of house and home and yet turn it to profit. The only way to find out these things is to weigh the food consumed, estimate its value, deduct the cost from the earning, and the result represents the gain or loss.

A great many have an idea that the principal portion of the butter of the country is made in creameries. According to the last census, the production of farm butter amounts to 16.33 pounds to each inhabitant, while that of the creamery make is 19.94 pounds. The total to each inhabitant, as will be seen, is only 35.57 pounds for the entire year. This is only about one-third the amount consumed by ordinary butter eaters. The remainder must be bull butter.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT.

Presidents of Both Chambers Refer to the Visit of the Czar.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Parliament of France reassembled to-day. The sessions of both Senate and Chamber of Deputies were merely formal. They met at about 3 o'clock and adjourned about 4. The presidents of the two chambers, in their opening addresses, referred in strong and sympathetic terms to the recent visit of the Czar and Czarina to France.

PACIFIC CABLE COMMISSION.

The Appointment of a Third Commissioner for Canada Makes Trouble.

London, Oct. 27.—The Pacific Cable Commission has been summoned to meet Nov. 9. The reported appointment of a third Canadian delegate upon the commission has created a new difficulty, as at present there are only two delegates each, representing Great Britain, Canada and Australia respectively, and the additional Canadian delegate will require the appointment of another for Australia and a third for Great Britain. In the official Canadian circle here it is hoped that the construction of the commission will remain as before. It is believed in the Colonial Office that the commission will finish its work before the end of the year.

Why Waste Money On The Tailors?

We'll Fit You For Less Money

We Caught a Man Who Was

looking for a tailor. He was quite fastidious in his taste. Never bought ready-made suits. Preferred to pay a tailor double the price of the best Suits in the ready-made line so as to get a fit. He supposed he had to. Never had investigated our line. Didn't know that if a suit was made to fit him every way with the exception of a few minor particulars, that we would cut over those particulars and put the suit onto him A PERFECT GARMENT. With his exquisite taste of course he was a poet. At any rate he was a Longfellow. His first question was "can you fit ME?" Our reply was that it made no difference whether he was six feet from crown to toe, or

SIX FEET FROM BACKBONE TO COWCATCHER

We had a "Kast Iron" make that would meet his form everywhere. He looked and was conquered. Sold him a suit he had never got before for less than $18, for $10. Got lots more of them from $3.25 up. Can get 'em at any price up to $15. We never sell anything higher than that. That's the price for the very best Sunday-go-to-meetin', see-yer-best-girl suits. And they are dandies.

Have you seen our frost proof Frieze Ulsters, ranging from $4.95 to $12.00. We have a few snaps left in Boys' Two-Piece Suits that will surprise you. We are giving them away at present for $2.38

VENEZUELA DISPUTE.

The Marquis of Lansdowne's Pointed Remarks.

A REPLY TO SIR EDWARD CLARKE

The Secretary of State for War Maintains That Great Britain's Claims are Well Founded. International Arbitration May Come—Salisbury and U. S. Elections.

London, Oct. 27.—The Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, delivered a speech at Leeds to-night. He took occasion to deprecate the speech recently made at York by Sir Edward Clarke, formerly Solicitor-General, who said that Great Britain's claims in Venezuela were untenable and that no honest or impartial arbitrator or commission could decide in Great Britain's favor on the evidence. Lord Lansdowne declared that Sir Edward's statement was a startling and serious one. Great Britain's claims had been carefully investigated and he believed that most of them could be supported by satisfactory evidence.

Lord Lansdowne added that there was reason to hope that the time was approaching when these questions would be settled by arbitration or an amicable compromise upon suitable conditions. When the time came Great Britain would enter courts, not for a moment believing that every point would be decided in her favor, but confident that her claims would be found to be supported by evidence based upon the established principles of international law.

ARMENIANS ARRESTED.

Men and Women Described as Notorious Revolutionary Armenians.

Constantinople, Oct. 27.—A number of important arrests were made by the Turkish authorities in this city yesterday and to-day. All of the prisoners are described as "notorious revolutionary Armenians." The Governor of the district of Fera declares that one of the persons arrested, a Persian, had in his possession letters showing that he was engaged in a conspiracy against the Government.

The other prisoners included three Armenian men and four women, all Anarchists, and all living in the same house. Six of them had revolvers. The Governor adds that, when the prisoners were searched, five small bombs, intended to be charged with dynamite, were found concealed in the corsage of one of the women.

BISMARCK AND THE DREIBUND.

An Austrian Paper Intimates That the Iron Chancellor Played a Double Game.

Vienna, Oct. 27.—The Neue Freie Presse, in an article commenting on The Hamburg Nachrichten's article, showing that Prince Bismarck, from 1884 to 1890, had, without the knowledge of his partners in the Dreibund, an entente with Russia, which detached that power from France in the event of the latter attacking Germany, and also detached Germany from Austria in the event of Austria making an attack upon Russia, says: "It is now certain that Austria knew nothing of the Russo-German treaty of 1884, until after Prince Bismarck's fall. After the retirement of Bismarck Russia desired to prolong the agreement, but Count Von Caprivi, Prince Bismarck's successor, informed Count Schouvaloff, who was then Russian Ambassador to Germany, that Germany must confine herself strictly to the Dreibund."

Denunciation of the Triple Alliance.

London, Oct. 27.—The Rome correspondent of The Times reports that he is authoritatively informed that the term for the denunciation of the Dreibund ends in May, 1897, and not as formerly reported in 1896. The treaty was renewed in 1892 for 12 years, with power to denounce it in the fifth year; the treaty, if it should be denounced, terminating in 1898.

THOUGHT HE WAS A DYNAMO.

The Superintendent of Bellevue Hospital Says O'Connor, the Halifax Man, Had Curious Hallucinations.

New York, Oct. 27.—Supt. Murphy of Bellevue Hospital said to-day that the story telegraphed from Halifax, N.S., to the effect that William O'Connor, a British subject, had complained that he was unjustly confined in the asylum for the insane on Ward's Island was an effort to make a mountain out of a mole hill. It is true that O'Connor was in the asylum, but he was adjudged insane at the time. He had hallucinations and one of his illusions was that he was a dynamo and that his body was full of electricity, which was constantly flying away in sparks. Supt. Murphy said that the allegation in the despatch from Halifax, on the authority of O'Connor, that O'Connor was kidnapped at Bellevue, where he went to consult a physician for insomnia, and put into the asylum, when he was perfectly sane, was untrue. He was committed in the regular way and discharged in accordance with the rules applicable in his case. It was not necessary for his friends to take unusual or persistent efforts to secure his discharge. There was no irregularity of any kind.

A HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

Evidence That an American Miner Was Buried and Came to Life Afterwards in the Coffin.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27.—Advices from Juneau, Alaska, state that Carlton F. Wells, who left Southern Oregon two years ago for the Arctic gold fields, where it is said he accumulated $20,000, was stricken with heart disease in Juneau last May. When he became ill Wells forwarded the bulk of his little fortune to his wife, now living in Trenton, N.J. He apparently died and was buried. A month ago the undertaker who buried Wells received a letter from his widow asking that the remains be exhumed and shipped East for permanent interment. When the coffin containing Wells' almost decomposed body was opened, inspection showed beyond doubt that Wells had awakened from a deathlike trance after burial. In the skeleton of the right hand was clutched a gutta percha plate bearing three false teeth, which in his agony Wells must have torn from his mouth. Near the place where his right jay lay in the coffin, was also found a plain gold ring, which the dead man had worn. In view of this terrible discovery, the undertaker and doctor who had attended Wells, decided not to send the remains East.

MARK HANNA DEFENDED

Employes of the Republican Boss Affirm That He is Humane and Just as an Employer.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Oct. 27.—At a mass meeting of the employes of the Chapin Mining Company, held yesterday afternoon, the following resolution was adopted:

We, the undersigned, in mass meeting assembled, of our own free will and without any suggestions from our superiors or anybody connected with M. A. Hanna, or the management of the Chapin Mine, where we are employed, wish to make the following statements: That we have not at any time seen or heard of any coercion from the management of the Chapin Mine regarding our politics; that we have not been nor do we believe that any unjust or wilful discrimination against union men exists at the Chapin Mine, and that we have no complaints to make against existing rates of wages, and believe that they are somewhat higher than at other mines; that we, in short, have found M. A. Hanna as an employer of labor humane and just, and the very opposite to what the Democratic papers wish to make him.

Adolf Strandin, Secretary.

SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS.

A Mother and Two Children Slaughtered by an Unknown Assassin.

St. Louis, Oct. 27.—A special from Richmond, Mo., says a triple murder occurred eight miles northeast of that city last night. The victims were the wife and two children of Jesse Winner. Winner works in the mines at Richmond. The victims were evidently killed early last night, but their bodies were not discovered till this morning. All around the house and in the yard were evidences of a terrible struggle. There is no clue to the assassin.

LUCKY FOR MRS. PHINNEY.

Through a Court Official's Oversight the Mutual Life is Out $100,000.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Owing to a court clerk's error, the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York must pay Mrs. Sadie Phinney a judgment of $98,000, with the interest and costs, making over $100,000. Such was the decision rendered by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in this city yesterday. The company refused to pay the life policy of Guy C. Phinney for $98,000, and suit was brought by the widow and judgment given, but the case was appealed. R. S. Hopkins, Clerk of the Court at Washington, failed to properly endorse the writ of error filed with him. Therefore, there is no official record showing that the writ was actually filed. The time allowed within which another appeal might be filed has expired, so the decision is final.

Why Did He Kill Himself?

New York, Oct. 27.—Alexander M. Harris, 51 years old, committed suicide this afternoon in his office on Greene-street. The suicide was a member of the firm of Kahn & Harris, known as the Atlas Skirt Company. No motive for the act is known.

Scheming School.

The parents of a couple of boys were up before the magistrate this morning and were questioned as to the reason why they could not keep their children at school. One of them stated that his boys, when they played truant, remained away from home as well as from school, and sometimes the lads remained away for weeks together. At present one of them was absent from home and his brother was kept from school to look for him. The case stands for judgment until the boy is found.

Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Plan at J. D. Tully's drug store.

TWO YEARS IN THE CENTRAL.

Price Confesses His Guilt and Receives a Heavy Sentence.

Charles L. Price was this morning sentenced to two years, less one day, in the Central Prison on a charge of theft, to which he pleaded guilty.

Price it seems was selling cheap jewelry in company with a local man named J. B. Schriber. They were in Toronto and Price telephoned to Schriber's wife to forward ten dollars, signing Schriber's name to the message. He then watched for the letter and got it from the post office, forging Schriber's name on the receipt book for registered letters.

Schriber learned of the fact only on his arrival home and immediately swore out a warrant for Price's arrest. The man was captured in Toronto and the Star has the following to say of his arrest:

"The career in Toronto of Chas. L. Price was brief, but lively. He is a jewelry fakir and on Monday stood in a buggy at Yonge and Richmond street selling fire-plated chains to a crowd in which were his cappers. He pretended to enclose money in envelopes in which he put chains and caught a number of suckers.

"Finally the crowd saw the game and Price had a lively chase along Richmond street, where he ran into a house and hid behind a furnace in the cellar. His pursuers dragged him outside, but just then Policeman Mackie rescued him from harm.

"Later in the day word came from Peterborough that Price was wanted for defrauding a man of $10. Mackie found him in a York street store, but Price jumped from a second-story window and escaped until later in the day when Detective Burrows found him. He will be taken to Peterborough."

The Chief brought Price to town last night, and he received the above sentence this morning. In sentencing him, the Magistrate remarked that the theft was not the act of a drunken man, but on the contrary was a most deliberately planned scheme to defraud. A forgery had been committed when the telegram was sent, and a fraud had taken place at the post office. The act showed daring and criminality. It was in the interests of the community that such a man should be deprived of his liberty.

HON. J. G. BLAIR ARRIVES.

The Minister of Railways and Canals Received in Peterborough.

Hon. J. G. Blair, accompanied by Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, and H. Corby, M.P., of West Hastings, arrived in town this morning in a private car and were taken in charge by the Reception Committee.

The party first drove to the Locks and afterwards inspected the work on the Trent Valley Canal where the excavations are being made near the Little Lake. They were afterwards joined by a large party and proceeded to drive along the canal to Lakefield, where it was the intention to take a steamer around through the Lakes to Chemong.

Messrs. Geo. A. Cox and Robert Jaffray, of Toronto, arrived from Toronto last night and are with the party.

A banquet takes place this evening at the Oriental Hotel.

REV. J. J. RAE'S DECISION.

SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Now in Session in London—The Peterborough Delegates.

The thirty-first annual convention of the Sabbath School Association of Ontario is in session in London. Peterborough is represented by Mrs. W. C. Beer, Mrs. Miller and Miss Mary Patterson, and there are over five hundred delegates in attendance.

The general secretary, Mr. Alfred Day, in his report, referred to the death of Mr. Alexander Mutchmor, of Ottawa, an ex-president of the association. A resume of the history of the association for the past ten years showed a very satisfactory increase. The increases were as follows:—In 1886 there were 3,977 schools, with 35,149 officers and teachers and 298,746 scholars, while the income of the association was $2,287; in 1896 there were 5,019 schools, with 49,610 officers and teachers and 423,646 scholars, the income of the association being $4,200. This shows at the present time a Sunday school for every 350 of the Protestant population, and nearly 29 per cent. of such population enrolled in these schools. Teachers' meetings exist in every ninth school of the province, and normal classes for every thousand teachers. Special attention has been paid to the primary department with gratifying results. In the matter of county organization little progress has been made, while city organization has been found to be more difficult than might have been expected. At the earliest possible moment after this convention the Executive of each city is to be called to devise plans for more aggressive action in Sabbath school interest. Township organization has been consummated at nine new points in the Province. These have been found to greatly strengthen the county associations.

The following suggestions are offered as calculated to strengthen the association: As to organization—(1) A determination should be made to complete the organization of the Province so far as concerns the counties still out of line, and that additional pressure should be brought to bear upon existing county associations to complete their local organization for more effective work.

(2) The work of city organization should proceed with all possible despatch, and to the extent of our financial warrant. Arrangements should be made to follow up such organization by frequent meetings at different points in the city, which may combine the two objects of a normal institute and a presentation of the work and claims of the Provincial association.

(3) This latter object would, in the judgment of your Secretary, be still further aided by the holding of a Provincial meeting in each of our principal cities at least once a year, where the strongest voices available should be secured to plead our cause; and

(4) There should be appointed some suitable person in each of such cities to canvass regularly, as in Toronto, for school and personal subscriptions,; such service being voluntary or on equitable remuneration as may be found available.

(5) Where from any reason a county or city association fails to establish adequate financial and other relations with the Provincial Executive, opportunity should be sought whereby representives of the Provincial Executive could meet such county or city executive, with the view of mutual co-operation, and failing this, appeal should be made direct to the Sabbath School Convention through local organization, or, if need be, direct to the schools.

The report of the Normal Secretary, Mr. John McEwen, gives a summary of the work done by him during the year. In all 49 institute services were held, 8 sermons preached and 8 schools visited.

The Treasurer's report showed total receipts of $4,290, and disbursements of $4,208. Outstanding liabilities make a deficit of $831.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The steamer North Star arrived in port to-day with a scow load of lumber from Smith's mills, Rice Lake.

—Hickory nuts are scarce this year, and house-keepers have to buy nuts which come from the United States.

—A meeting of St. Andrew's choir is called for this evening after prayer meeting. Every member is urged to be in attendance.

—Repairs have been commenced on the police cells, and the entire interior is being renovated and supplied with sanitary plumbing.

—Rev. G. H. Raley lectures to-night in the George street Methodist church on "Paganism Amongst the Indians of British Columbia."

—Deer hunters are preparing to take to the woods, as Monday next will usher in the shooting season. Sunday is the 1st of November, but of course, the Sabbath will be observed.

—The old unused gas posts which have been standing on the Hunter street bridge since its construction, were removed to-day. The electric light on either side of the bridge is answering the purpose.

—Farmers anticipate a larger make of cheese than usual from the middle of October until the close of the season, as prices of oats and barley are so low that it is more profitable to feed them than to sell them.

—Mr. G. W. Mulligan organized a monster singing class last evening for adults. There were over 125 in attendance. The children's singing class organizes on Friday evening, and about fifty have already sent in their names.

—Mr. E. J. Hartley, who has for several days past been duck shooting in Rice lake, was up yesterday with eighteen brace. He has again returned and will remain there with his friend Mr. "Jack Frost" till they become ice bound.

—Opera House to-night, "Side Tracked," one of the funniest comedy dramas that has ever appeared here, will be the attraction. This company has been playing to packed houses at every performance in Canada, and have given the greatest satisfaction. Don't miss the fun, good singing and dancing. Prices, 50, 35 and 25c.

St. Andrew's Choir Concert.

Mrs. Belle Rose Emslie gave a recitation entitled "The Broken Bowl," which caused roars of laughter. Later in the evening this lady recited "Bairnie Cuddle Doon" with great power, and "The Elf Child," to the delight of the audience, whose applause was heartily given. The lady will doubtless be heard at future Scotch gatherings.—Toronto Mail. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Plan at J. D. Tully's drug store.

A NOTE OF WARNING TO DEER HUNTERS.

A Danger Which the Amended Game Law is Claimed to Emphasize.

A veteran sportsman in conversation with the Examiner this morning spoke of the danger of accident under the amended game law. He said that since water hunting is forbidden the shooting will of course be confined to the woods, and he said that hunters should be warned to take unusual care to prevent the accidental shooting of each other.

Especially inexperienced hunters will be liable to severe attacks of "buck-fever," and a slight rustle in the bushes will provoke a random shot which may bring down a chum instead of a deer. The gentleman mentioned related an instance from his own experience. He was a keen sportsman, and had provided himself with a hair trigger to a rifle specially made for himself. He was out with his brother, also an experienced hunter, stalking for deer. It was arranged that the two should beat around a swamp and meet at a certain point. While passing through the woods, with every sense alert, the gentlemen noticed a movement in a certain direction, and seeing something rise behind a fallen tree that lay about breast high, he drew a head and his responsive trigger sent a bullet home. At the moment of firing it struck him that his brother's head was the undefined object that he had fired at so hastily, and no words can express the agony of his feelings for the next few moments. His knees trembled beneath him and he sank against the trunk of a tree for support. In a short time he roused himself and proceeded to verify or disprove his fear. With an indescribable tumult of feeling of feeling he dragged himself to the fallen log and was naturally overjoyed to see, instead of the body of his brother, a noble buck stretched out dead. It was the buck's muzzle that he had seen rise above the log, and his bullet had entered under the chin and passed out of the head.

Since that time this gentleman said he has felt more than ever convinced of the necessity of caution and care in forest hunting of deer. When an old and cool hand like himself was in danger of making so fatal a mistake, the danger of inexperienced hunters falling into error cannot be too strongly impressed.

Games for Halloween!

According to a popular superstition, which long prevailed, as the evening of the 31st of October closed in, all the elves of Fairyland were afoot. From the borders of those uncanny regions which were so familiar to the dabblers in demonology. The first ceremony on Halloween appears to have been the going out of lad and lassie hand-in-hand to the kail-yard. How the kail-yard suffered, and how it still suffers, on Halloween, is well-known to both old and young. Other mystic rites were the burning of nuts, two and two, and eating of apples, candle in hand, before a looking-glass, etc. As Burn's depicts it:—

"Some merry, friendly countra folks,
Together did convene,
To burn their nuts, and pou their stocks,
An' haud their Hallowe'en."

"Wi' merry sangs and friendly cracks,
I wat they did na weary;
An' unco' tales, and funny jokes,
Their sports were cheap and cheery."

Of late years, however, the popular PARLOUR GAMES have largely taken the place of juvenile pranks at the celebration of Halloween, and The Peterborough Bookstore has anticipated the demand for these delightful amusements, which helps to fill in the long evenings of the coming season:—

Crokinole.

Combination Crokinole, Checkers and Table. Readily taken up, and adapted to old and young of both sexes. A very social game, as it admits of free conversation and furnishes entertainment to any number of spectators as well as the parties playing. Sufficiently fascinating to make home the most attractive place.

Fort.

Purely a game of skill. Everyone present can take part. Played with cue and balls.

Louisa.

Parchesi Revised. Combines chance with moderate skill. Played by the throws of two dice, four men of each player are entered.

Steeple Chase.

A mimic horse race. Horses are entered and moved over the spaces on the race track according to the throws of dice.

Parcheesi.

The back gammon board of India. The Eastern Rajahs are passionately fond of Parcheesi.

Halma.

A magnificent game to while away a pleasant hour. It is for two, three or four players, but even one may play a lone hand and improve the mental faculties by studying its "solitaires."

Go-Bang.

One of the most remarkable games. It is tit-tat-to improved. Yet with all its simplicity it fascinates old as well as young.

Lotto.

A set of cards, laid off in properly numbered squares, and a set of ninety numbered pieces. Well-known and largely played.

OLD MAID,	LOST HEIR,
AUTHORS,	SNAP,
NATIONS,	CHECKERS,

PARENTAL AUTHORITY.

A SERMON PREGNANT WITH GOOD ADVICE BY VEN. ARCHDEACON CASEY.

He Speaks to the Congregation of St. Peter on the Responsibility of the Parents in Allowing Their Children to Grow up Beyond Their Control.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey delivered a powerful sermon on Sunday last in St. Peter's Cathedral on "Parental Authority" in which were many words of good advice, which sank into the hearts of his hearers, as he warned them of the responsibility which was connected with the upbringing of the little ones.

The Gospel of the day contained the text of the sermon, being the 15 21 verses of St. Matthew xxii as follows:

17 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.
16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men.
17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cæsar, or not?
18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny.
20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?
21 They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's, and to God the things that are God's.

THE TWO CLAUSES

on which the speaker laid the strongest emphasis were "Whose image and inscription is this?" and "Render therefore unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's and unto God the things which are God's."

The lesson contained in the Gospel, the speaker explained, arose from the fact that amongst the Jewish people there were those who thought that they should not pay tribute to any, and they came to our Saviour to try and entangle Him. In answering them he declared a great truth, that while we must render under Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, we must also render unto God the things which are God's.

From the very beginning there has been a tendency in Cæsarism to claim for itself the things that were God's.

Referring to the special object of his sermon the Archdeacon stated that one of the evils of the present day was that parents were not fulfilling their duty towards their children. When a child is born in this world we look at it and we say "whose image is this?" It is made in the image and likeness of God, and we are told to "render unto God the things that are God's."

ALMIGHTY GOD

has given to parents their children, and one day they will have to render an account. Parents oftentimes work out their own salvation by working out the salvation of their children.

A child is made in the image and likeness of God, and when baptized there is impressed on it the character which makes it the son of God and the brother of Jesus Christ. Render, my people, unto God the things that are God's.

The first duty of parents towards children is to teach them to be obedient, and many parents fail to do this, through sloth. They are too much inclined to leave them to the care of others.

Often when the children ask anything the parents deny it to them and afterwards allow themselves to grant the request because the child asks and asks again. If the parents had been firm, the child would soon have learned to be satisfied with the first "No." A child soon learns that a parent's refusal means nothing, and that with a little crying and whining it can obtain what it wants, therefore does so.

Parents, said he, be firm with your children. Teach them to understand that when you say NO and they will soon learn that their tears and coaxing will avail nothing, and in this way they will learn to obey cheerfully.

The hearts of children are always accessible to kindness, and they are easily led by the heart strings. It is a duty to teach them, not only by word but by example as well. It is also the duty of the parents to educate their children, both in regard to human knowledge, and the knowledge of their religion, and this duty is incumbent above every other.

The Archdeacon admonished the parents for the weakenness they exhibited in regard to sending excuses to school for their children. A child learned to expect these and remained away from school until behind the others to such an extent as to be ashamed to attend and exhibit their ignorance. They thus acquired a dislike to school, and in after years their parents could be blamed for it.

The necessity was enlarged upon of parents watching their children and knowing of their associates, as the old adage "Evil communications corrupt good morals" was as true as ever. Another point taken up, in concluding, was that of allowing children to roam at large after nightfall. A parents duty is to keep the children at home, allowing them out on no excuse whatever, unless accompanied by themselves.

A LESSON IN THE SCHOOL OF PRAYER.

"Let us learn to give God time. God needs time with us. If we only give Him time, that is, time in the daily fellowship with Himself, for Him to exercise the full influence of His presence on us, and time, day by day, in the course of our being kept waiting, for faith to prove its reality and to fill our whole being, He Himself will lead us from faith to vision: we shall see the glory of God. Let no delay shake our faith. Of faith it holds good; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. Each believing prayer brings a step nearer the final victory. Each believing prayer helps to ripen the fruit and bring us nearer to it; it fills up the measure of prayer and faith known to God alone; it hastens the end. Child of God! give the Father time. He is long-suffering over you. He wants the blessing to be rich, and full, and sure; give him time while you cry day and night.

—REV. ANDREW MURRAY.

A WEEK OF PRAYER FOR ARMENIA.

The Golden Rule says:—"It is right and proper and most appropriate that Christian Endeavourers the world around, with all other followers of the Lord who will do so, unite in observing a week of special prayer in behalf of Armenia. The suggestion came from Endeavourers in Scotland and has been endorsed by Dr. Clark and Secretary Baer. The days set apart for these meetings, Nov. 7 to 15, pray definitely and wisely. Assign special topics of prayer for certain days, or for certain portions of each meeting. Pray above all, that the assassin's hand may be stayed, and that the Turk's bloody carnage may cease. Pray that our brethren in Christ, the Armenians, may be spared from giving "the last full measure of devotion" to our common master. Pray that peace may come, and that right speedily. Pray for the ascendancy of the cross in this land of the crescent. Pray that Christian nations may be aroused to do their duty fearlessly. Pray also, that God may cast down and destroy and overturn the wicked counsels of men, so that life and health may speedily come to this bleeding nation.

LOCAL UNION WORK.

In view of the above call to prayer might it not be well for the Local Union to ask that each society in town devote the meeting on Monday, Nov. 9th, to this subject, and ask the pastors to set apart Wednesday evening for the same topic.

And then again could not all the societies in the county set apart at least one or two evenings in the second week of November for special prayer for Armenia.

"THE SILVER QUESTION," BY J. W. GARVIN, B.A.

At the Meeting of the Fortnightly Club Last Night Mr. Garvin, B.A., Read the Following Paper on the Silver Question.

Democratic National Platform 1896, re Silver: "We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard dollar shall be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts, public and private."

Before considering the arguments for and against this platform, it might be well to clearly define a number of the financial terms which will be used throughout this paper and the subsequent discussions.

1. "16 to 1", for purposes of free coinage, 16 grains, or ounces or lbs. of pure silver shall be made equal in value by statute to 1 grain, or oz. or lb. of pure gold.

2. "Free Coinage"—At present all gold bullion presented at the United States mints is coined free of charge—23 22 grains of pure gold to the dollar. The above platform demands that all silver bullion presented shall also be coined without charge—371¼ grains of pure silver to the dollar.

3. "Standar Gold or Silver"—Coined gold or silver, nine tenths of which is pure metal and the other tenth alloy.

4. "Legal Tender"—Under present laws a creditor, public or private, must accept gold in payment of debts, no matter how large or small the amount of indebtedness, but this is not the case with silver. In Canada a creditor cannot be compelled to accept more than $10 in silver coin and in the United States, if what is called a "Gold Clause" is inserted in the contract, silver is not legal tender at all.

5. "Primary or Redemption Money"—Money that is a commodity or thing of value in itself, such as standard gold, and which under the law is legal tender for every debt for any amount.

6. "Credit Money"—Currency that represents "primary money" and is redeemable in the latter, government and bank bills, notes or certificates, and silver, nickel and copper coins. There are two other lines of "credits" redeemable in primary money—cheques, drafts, bills of exchange, etc., payable on demand, and notes, bonds, mortgages, accounts, insurance policies, etc., payable at some specified future time or upon the happening of some accident or event.

7. "Fiat Money"—Irredeemable paper money (i.e., not redeemable in standard coin) made legal tender by law.

8. "Monometallists and Bimetallists"—The former are those who favour gold only as primary or redemption money; the latter those who desire that silver be given by statute equal rank with gold at a fixed ratio.

9. "Demonetization"—Silver was demonetized when by statute it ceased to be primary money, or to be legal tender in every exchange for any amount.

10. "Appreciation or Depreciation of Gold"—Gold is said to be appreciated or depreciated as it increases or decreases in purchasing power.

11. "Wealth"—Every commodity which has exchange value.

BIMETALLISM SUPPORTED.

1. Primary money only is the measure of values, and prices rise or fall generally, as, per capita, it increases or lessens in quanity.

The case for the Bryanites has this statement as its fundamental principle. If it is true, the demonetization of silver has been fittingly termed the "crime of 1873." Let us consider the proof: Before the French Monetary Conference in 1869 Baron Rothchild, the King of Finance, uttered these words: "The simultaneous employment of the two precious metals is satisfactory and gives rise to no complaint. Whether gold or silver dominates for the time being, it is always true that the two metals concur together in forming the monetary circulation of the world, and it is the general mass of the two metals combined which serves as the measure of the value of things. The suppression of silver would amount to a veritable destruction of values without any compensation."

Quotations were given, expressing the same opinion, from the speeches and writings of Hon. G. J. Goschen, Hon. James G. Blaine and Professors McCulloch and Jevons.

Those are the expressed opinions of five of the most eminent authorities of recent times. It would be easy to quote many others. But the truth of this fundamental principle does not rest on the opinions of great men for its verification. At the Christian era the metallic currency of the civilized world amounted to $1 800,000,000. By the close of the 15th century it had shrunk to $200,000,000. What was the result of the shrinkage throughout the centuries? The Dark Ages with their poverty, misery, ignorance, serfdom and slavery. Dr. Adam Smith tells us that in 1455 the price of wheat in England was two pence a bushel.

The discovery of the new world by Columbus in 1492 and the large quantities of gold and silver subsequently taken from the native peoples and sent to Europe, restored the volume of precious metals, produced rising prices, broke the shackles of feudalism, and ignited and fed the flame of modern civilization.

What has lifted Japan in a few years from semi-serfdom to the proud position she holds to-day? Chiefly the rapid increase in her primary money resulting from her ports being thrown open to the trade of the world. The provinces of China bordering on the sea have also, for a similar reason, made rapid advances; but her inland provinces are still blighted by destitution and barbarism.

Great Britain ranks first among the nations of the earth principally because she has more circulating primary money per capita than any other nation.

Even the Dark Continent is becoming very bright in spots, as trade opens up new channels and the glitter of gold pierces the darkness.

The civilization of the world has risen or fallen as there has been increase or decrease per capita in primary money.

The demonetization of silver in 1873 by the United States and Germany, and in 1394 by France, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and Greece, greatly lessened in quantity the primary money of the world, and as a result gold has since steadily and constantly appreciated and all other property has as steadily and constantly depreciated.

The Lindsay Post says: We are certain of a bonspiel in Lindsay this winter. The Curling Club at its annual meeting were unanimous that the Lindsay club should hold a bonspiel here some time in the early part of the winter. A good strong committee were appointed with full power to go ahead and carry out the decision of the club. Last evening an enthusiastic meeting was held. Mr. A. F. MacGachen was appointed chairman, and Mr. M. W. Kennedy treasurer. Lindsay club has during the past twenty years of its existence taken part in very many bonspiels in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba. It has won many trophies and has made the name of Lindsay known far and wide throughout the Dominion and the neighbouring republic. There is certainly nothing in our town, that is known outside of it so well or to such a wide extent as the Lindsay Curling Club. The object of the committee is to make the bonspiel such an one as should be in keeping with the name and fame of our club. The prizes offered should be liberal enough to induce clubs from all over the province to come to it and compete for them. They feel sure that such a bonspeil can be gotten up as will reflect credit on our club and our town. There is no idea of making money out of it for the club—every dollar that is contributed will be spent on the bonspiel. The committee are enthusiastic, the club are enthusiastic, and all the members will do their share towards defraying the expenses of it, and we feel sure that a great many of our citizens have only to be spoken to and they will readily avail themselves of the opportunity of placing it within the power of the Lindsay Club to make the Lindsay bonspiel of 1897 a grand success.
